I saw and heard speak a gentleman who has acquired a national reputation as an after dinner speaker. It was at a Sunday school session in his native town. I refer to Chauncey M. Depew, the president of the N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R. Mr. Depew is frequently seen on the street and in the places where prominent people meet. He is one of the few men who have refused the U. S. Senatorship of this Empire State for his present office. A rare thing to do, certainly. Always cheerful—a genial wholesouled man. Every speech is full of suggestive ideas, thrown out in the happiest manner imaginable. Mr. Depew is a native of Peekskill. His father a river captain. He graduated from Yale in '56, or thereabouts, and I think made his first political speech in Peekskill during the campaign of 1860. It was for the election of Lincoln that he plead. During the speech, so his townsmen say, his father was heard to remark that he had three sons, two of whom were worth something and one was a fool. This one speaking was the fool. Mr. Depew has made many speeches throughout the state because acquainted with a great many political persons. This acquaintance once served him when he afterward, in the capacity of attorney, urged the legislative enactment of a favorite measure. His success attracted the attention of Commodore Vanderbilt and Mr. Depew became counsel for the Hudson River R. R. From that position he arose to be president of the road. He is now the trustee of the different funds left by Wm. H. for the benefit of his children, and is the trusted adviser of the whole Vanderbilt family. He is, without doubt, the most able railroad lawyer as he is the best all-around speaker in this city.

WANDERER.

SPECIAL SALE

—OF—

PARASOLS

HOSIERY

GLOVES

AND CORSETS

—AT THE—

BOSTON BAZAAR!

Saturday, July 3d.

The only way to form an idea of the many BARGAINS we shall [illegible] on this day will be to visit our store and see the extra [illegible] we shall offer. On this day we shall give [illegible] to "raise the wind" [illegible]

SATURDAY,—JULY THIRD,

With each Pair of Boots, Shoes or Slippers sold, will be given a Japanese Lamp Shade, at

NETTLETON'S.

The summer time table on the N.Y.O. & W. R. R., went into effect last Sunday.

A new Pease furnace has been placed H. C. Giesler's drug store. George Johnson did the work.

The Rev. Charles Hudson Smith will deliver his farewell sermon next Sunday evening in the Presbyterian church. There will be no services in the Methodist or Baptist churches in the evening.

A lady living in Pratt street, and whose name it has been requested not to mention, was recently frightened into hysterics by seeing her own shadow and thinking it was a burglar. She has been confined to her bed for several days from the fright.—[Fulton Correspondent in Syracuse Herald.

Why isn't some care given to the village park? At the present time it presents a neglected appearance. The grass is allowed to grow to extreme length and the band house has been whittled and marked up by miscrants. A little attention and expence would make this a delightful spot.

There is to be a Grand Union Temperance mass meeting Friday evening in the Opera House. Admission Free. No Collection. Father Early, Rev. W. Dempster Chase, Rev. J. C. Breaker and others will address the meeting. The different temperance organizations of Fulton and Oswego Falls will attend in a body.

There will be no services in the Baptist or Methodist churches next Sunday evening. The pastors unite in inviting their congregations to meet with the Presbyterian church as a mark of respect to the Rev. Charles Hudson Smith.

REV. J. C. BREAKER
REV. W. DEMPSTER CHASE.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Campbell from Topeka, Kansas, are drilling a number of juveniles selected from the different organizations in Fulton and Oswego Falls to sing the operetta "Red Riding Hood, or Danger of Disobedience." The chorus will be sung by 200 or more children and will be presented at the Opera House about July 14. Practice has begun in the temperance rooms and will continue each week day between 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. All children who wish to take part must present themselves on or before Friday next.

New Ginghams and Seersucker in all colors at F. E. Bacon's.

Men's Canvas Shoes of all kinds very low at Goodjon's.

All kinds of job printing done on short notice and at reasonable rates at THE TIMES office.

Remember Collins sells the best Ladies $3.00 Shoe. 7tf

Before you put a roof on that building, been it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros. at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 8tf

"Wigwam" sole leather moccasins at [illegible]

[illegible]

THE STREET RAILROAD.

The Cars Ordered—Work to Commence As Soon As the Iron Arrives—The Cars to be Running by August First.

Henry Altman, the contractor who has charge of the construction of the new street railroad, arrived in town yesterday morning and as soon as the iron arrives, which will be in a very few days, ground will be broken. A TIMES reporter was shown a letter yesterday, in which the writer says that "Fulton and Oswego Falls are to have the best street railroad in the world, forthwith." Two cars have been orderd and are to be finished and shipped here, inside of 30 days. The cars are to be built by the John Stephenson Co. Limited, and will be of the latest design. The Metallic Street Railway Supply Co., of Albany, will furnish the materials for the construction of the road. The rail rest on iron boxes and are thorougbly locked and fastened to each other by cross bars of iron under the pavements, which holds them securely in position. The contract specifies that the road must be paved its entire length both inside of the track, and two feet on each side. Across the river and canal bridges a double track will be laid; thus preserving the law of the highway of keeping to the right, and not interfering with other travel. We earnestly hope that the prophecy made last summer by THE TIMES, i. e., that Fultonians would be able to board a "bob-tail car" and ride to Oswego Falls under the glare of the electric light, will by August 1st be fulfilled.

Fourth of July Celebration.

Next Monday, July 5th, the temperance organizations of Fulton and Oswego Falls will unite on a grand celebration on the fair grounds. The day will be ushered in in regular old-fashioned style by firing of guns, ringing of bells, etc. At 9 o'clock there will be a grand parade of temperance societies and the different companies of the fire departments headed by the Fulton band. The address of welcome will be made by Rev. Charles Olmstead and the Declaration of Independence read by Dr. E. Frank Marsh. An oration will be delivered by N. N. Stranahan. During the day an address on temperance will be made by Rev. Father Early. A large variety of field sports will be furnished, consisting of hose, canoe, shell, tub and wheel-barrow races, etc., base ball and shinny and many other games and amusements. In the evening there will be a grand display of fire works on the, grounds, Admission to the grounds free. Refreshments can be procured on the grounds.

A Pleasant Surprise.

A special meeting of the Fire Department was held Monday evening. At the close of the meeting S. B. Mead arose and after a few preliminary remarks, in a neat little speech presented to Chief Engineer Mosher, in behalf of the department, an elegant solid gold badge. The chief was so completely thunderstruck and taken by surprise, that he was obliged to look into his hat to see what his name was. After the hose was turned on him and he came to, he thanked the department in an appropriate speech. The meeting then adjourned with each member present and especially the Chief, feeling that this wasn't such a bad old world after all.

Commendable Step.

After this week the Oswego Falls factories will run sixty hours per week beginning work at 6:30 a. m., and closing at 6:30 p. m., with one hour for dinner, while on Satudays the labor of the employes will end at 11:30 a. m. On and after July 5th no children under the age of thirteen will be employed by the company, while those between the ages of thirteen and sixteen will be required to furnish a certificate to the company stating the date and place of birth. All of which is most heartily endorsed by THE TIMES.

Marital.

Mariried—At the residence of the officiating clergyman, Rev. A. M. Roe, Mr. James Atwell, of this village to Mrs. Jane Thompson of Phœnix.

This evening Mr. Lon Clark of this village, formerly of Buffalo, and Miss Mina Cole of Buffalo will be married at the home of the former on Broadway. They will make Fulton their future home.

F. E. Bacon has received a new lot of Sateens and Lawns this week.

Fruit Jars and Fireworks.

Cheapest in town at Stowell's Bargain store, Opera House Block.

OUR NATAL DAY.

Every Gentleman Should Look Well on That Day by Buying a Suit at Kent & Miller's.

There is probably no day in the calendar that inspires the American citizens with more pride than does our Independence Day, or Fourth of July. Everybody has a desire to appear at his best on that occasion. This happy condition of course, cannot be realized unless a becoming suit of clothes is purchased for the occasion. And even then about the only assurance one has of looking well is to buy clothes at a house which has all the best styles to select from. Kent & Miller, 18 and 20 South Salina street, have a splendid line of these light suits that look so becoming on the day we celebrate. Gentlemen of correct taste, who have a proper regard to their dress should lose no time in looking over the extensive stock at this emporium, for the great day is close at hand. In summer fashions they have an almost infinite variety, both in design and style of materials. [illegible]

W. H. Hannan is having his patent Thill Coupling manufactured in Syracuse.

The question of building a Baptist church in Oswego Falls is still being agitated.

Rev. A. H. Hanscom of Phœnix will preach in Johnson's hall, Oswego Falls, next Sunday afternoon.

Fred Vant, the Mt. Pleasant farmer who was seriously gored by a bull recently is reported as slowly improving.

Members of Post Schenck are requested to meet at the G. A. R. rooms next Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock to join in the parade.

Mrs. Rodney Seymour received last week a pension claim of $3,064.12. The money has been deposited in the Fulton Saving's Bank.

The two hose carts recently purchased by the village authorities, have arrived, and are being thoroughly overhauled and repainted.

About thirty of the leading business men of Fulton are to give a banquet in honor of Dr. W. A. Hall, at the Lewis House, this evening.

The Hannibal News and Reville appeared on June 19th enlarged from a quarto to a folio form which gives it a greatly improved appearance.

We are in receipt of an invitation to attend the celebration of the two-hundredth anniversary of the city of Albany which is to begin on Sunday July 18th.

The electric lights next Saturday night will be put out for ten minutes from 9:30 to 9:40, to show the contrast between brilliantly lighted streets and dark ones.

Married at the residence of Rev. Mr. Hoseo of the M. E. church East Palermo at noon Sunday, Mr. Edward Delany and Miss Cora Halstead both of Oswego Falls.

Mrs. Hackett, who lives about five miles south of Fulton, fell last Monday from a stoop, and broke both bones of the right leg. Dr. N. F. Hall was called and reduced the fracture.

The brickwork of the new depot was finished last week and carpenters are busy at the woodwork. It is expected that the building will be completed and ready for occupation by August 1st.

Messrs Back & Barnes, proprietors of the saloon and restaurant on Second street opposite the N. Y., O. & W. depot will have a grand opening next Saturday evening. The place has been recently fitted up.

At the temperance meeting in the Opera House next Friday evening the gentlemen will furnish the music: J. F. Cooper, first tenor; J. J. Coit, 2d tenor; J. Hoff, 1st bass; N. H. Gilbert 2d base; Fred Pickels, pianist.

A new hose company has been formed on Fourth street. Following are the officers: Pres., Frank Coats; Vice-Pres., A. Goman; sec., Louis Emerick; Foreman, Fred LaPort; 1st ass't., L. Goman; Wardens, Frank Coats and Fred LaPort.

Closing exercises consisting of music, singing, declamations, dialogues, &c., will be held in No. 1 school, next Friday evening, commencing at 7:30 p. m. Refreshments after the exercises. Friends and patrons of the school are cordially invited to attend.

Next Monday evening, July 5th, occurs the ice cream festival of the Johnson running team, in Church's hall. The proceeds are to be used towards procuring new uniforms. The boys are deserving of a liberal patronage and we have no doubt will receive it. Admission to the hall only 10 cents.

Prof. Clapp of Phœnix will probably succeed Prof. Fisher as principal of Fulton Union School, District No. 2. Miss Sarah Warner will take the place of Miss Doubleday who resigns. Mrs. Brockway will take the place of Miss Markham who resigns. Miss Ella Lasher and Miss Eunice Sisson will exchange rooms.

Mr. R. H. Hollenbeck of Fulton brought into our office last Thursday, two quarts of the largest and most exquisitely flavored strawberries we have seen this season. They were of the Sharpless variety and were of extraordinary size, some of them measuring six inches in circumference. From ¼ of an acre, Mr. Hollenbeck said he had picked over 1,400 quarts.

The representative of the electric light company was refused the privilege of hanging the light at the corner of First and Oneida streets, from the cable on which the Cleveland and Hendricks banner was formerly suspended, by a person whose actions are constantly being characterized by a vindictive spirit. He made the statement that if it were used he would certainly cut it down. Another cable has been stretched and is now being used.

Miss Abbie Isaacs of Syrocuse, is visiting Mrs. H. Rosenbloom.

At a special meeting of the Common Council of Watertown last week Tuesday, the Mayor was authorized to ente into a seven years contract with the Watertown Electric Light company, to light the city with seventy-five electric arc lights at sixty-eight dollars per lamp each. The contract is to begin October 22, 1886. After the Electric Light company had made its proposition to the Council, the Watertown Gas company presented a bid for a seven years' contract, which it was claimed, was over $4,000 less than the bid of the Electric Light company. [illegible]

[illegible] invitations were sent out. Of this number over one hundred were able to avail themselves of the hospitalities extended by the hostess. The evening was all that could be desired. The cool breezes coming from the river through the open doors and windows, mingled themselves with the fragrant odors that arose from the tastefully arranged and beautiful flowers and being wafted about, threw their exhilarating influence over the entire company, giving to each and every one the impression that life was indeed worth living. Excellent music was furnished for the occasion by Schelling and Favreau of Oswego and dancing was indulged in and thoroughly enjoyed by a majority of those present. Refreshments that would satiate the most dainty epicure were served. The costumes worn by many of the ladies were simply beautiful, but it is a subject that we dare not enter into in detail, suffice it to say that many were beautiful in design, elegant in appearance and set off to advantage the young ladies of whom Fulton may justly be proud.

The following is a partial list of those who attended: Mr and Mrs McKinstry, Mr and Mrs J F Herrick, Robert Gordon, Miss Fort, Oswego; Mr and Mrs Will Case; Mr and Mrs Geo Kellogg; Mr and Mrs C R Nichols; Mr and Mrs Thos D Lewis; Mr and Mrs Fred Gage; Mr and Mrs N N Stranahan; Mr and Mrs Cameron Benedict; Mr and Mrs A Bristol; Mr and Mrs F Emerick; Mr and Mrs J Case; Mr and Mrs J R Faigrieve; Mr and Mrs Wm Morton; Mr and Mrs Walter Boomer; Miss Fannie Reynolds; Miss Etta Morton; Miss Jennie Kenyon; Miss Carrie Nichols; Miss Gertrude Hait; Mrs Bert Allen; S B Mead; F D VanWagenen; N H Gilbert; Geo Pratt; Will Livingston; Bert Hoff; Ed Wolcott; John Morton; James Morton, Lang Foster; Frank Willard; Jay Harrington; Will Lovejoy; Frank Waterman; Charles Reynolds; Will Royce; Geo Dada; Miss May French; Mr and Mrs H J Case; Mrs Chas Sabin; Mrs Chas Howe; Mrs E H French; Miss Mollie Gasper; Miss Mary Pratt; Miss Mary Johnson; Mrs Tyra Tucker, Baldwinsville; Mrs S F Case; Mrs Dr Livingston; Miss Frank French; Miss Grace Tucker; Miss Allie Waterman; Miss Lizzie Merriam; Miss Jessie Kimball; Miss Allie Stephens; Miss Carrie Jennings; Miss Emma Bennett Miss Georgie Lovejoy; Miss Kate Toppings; Mrs W E Williams; Miss Hattie DeGraw; Miss Carrie Willard; Miss Winnie Carrington.

Closing Exercises.

Quite a number of the friends, relatives and parents of the scholars in the Higher department of School No. 2 assembled in the school house last Friday afternoon to listen to the closing exercises which consisted of music, singing, declamations, recitations and essays. There was no graduating class this year and the mingled feeling of pleasure and sadness that usually prevails on such an occasion seemed to be lacking, but each one that took part in the exercises of the afternoon did credit to themselves, their teachers and their school. The following program was carried out:

Music—Inst. Duet	Misses Elder and Farrell
Recitation—"The Clown's Baby"	Eleanor Goman
Essay—"Base Ball"	Harry Butler
Recitation—"Belshazzar's Downfall,"	May Betts
Declamation—"Spartacus to the Gladiators,"	Edwin McCully
Music—Instrumental Solo,	Miss Pauline Jennings
Essay—"The Race is not to the Swift"	Luella Fullford
Recitation—"May Days"	Kittie Maynard
Music—Vocal Solo	Zuilee Hubbard
Recitation—"A Rail Road Incident"	Georgie Emeny
Declamation—"Toussaint L'ouverture,"	Homer Marsh
Recitation—"Keenan's Charge,"	Nellie Royce
Essay—"The Labor Question"	Louis Emerick
Music—Instrumental Solo,	Miss Bertha Elder

At the close of the above program Prof. Fisher announced that the committee had decided that the prizes of $5 each should be given as follows: for best recitation, Kittie Maynerd; for best declamation, Homer Marsh; for best essay, Carrie Coit. After the prizes were awarded Prof. Fisher, who has resigned his position as principal of the school to accept a position in Syracuse University, in a short speech, thanked the scholars, teachers, parents and trustees for the courtesy and assistance that he had received from them in the discharge of his duties during his short stay here. At the close of his remarks the scholars by a standing vote, unanimously wished him God speed in his new field of labor.

Read H. & A. Rosenbloom's advertisement. It will do you good.

A Close Call for the Barber.

Fulton has a barber who, although financially and morally unquestionably solid, physically is quite light, tipping up the beam at perhaps ninety or a hundred pounds. Last Monday, after mature deliberation, he concluded to tear himself away from the lather-brush and razor and go fishing. The scene of his operations was a deep hole in the river close by the box shop. After getting everything ready, he carefully spit on his bait and waited for developments. They soon came. A sharp tug at the line convinced our fisherman that he had either hooked a whale or the bottom of the river. He pulled in his line far enough to see that he had caught something that to his excited eyes looked about nine feet long. Then commenced a hand to hand struggle between a heavy catfish with blood in his eye, and a light barber with not much hold of the ground. First the fish would drag its hapless victim at the shore end of the line into the water until it seemed to him as if he was fourteen miles out to sea, then the barber would remember his "new hair-tonic, recently discovered, that is warranted, etc," and visions of wealth would roll before his eyes, and by making frantic struggles, and digging tooth and nail into the rocks, he would almost succeed in landing his prey. Then the scene would all be gone over again. Finally his shrill cries for help brought several people, whose combined efforts eventually landed the fish. The barber wanted it weighed on Nelson's hay scales, but was finally induced to submit the question to an ordinary pair. The shark weighed eight pounds.

[illegible]

How Boys Dress To-Day

Who patronize our establishment and you will agree with us that this is indeed a progressive age, and that the art of dress is in no sense a sufferer by comparison with the other sciences. To dress children correctly is truly an art, and with our experience in this branch of our business we recognize no competition.

PEEBLES & COOK

Opposite Opera House.

BIG BARGAINS!

—We will for a few days offer our entire stock of—

Tinware, Glassware, Woodware, Fancy Goods, TOYS, DOLLS, STATIONERY, GLOVES, HOSIERY, HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS, CLOTHES WRINGERS, WASHTUBS, BASKETS &c., &c.

at greatly reduced prices. Remember we will sell at these prices for a few days only as they are less than cost to manufacture. The following are a few prices:

1 Large hand saw (warranted)	25cts.	worth	75cts.
1 10 quart pail	15 "	"	50 "
1 2 " "	7 "	"	12 "
1 Lamp burner	5 "	"	15 "
1 Large dinner pail	19 "	"	45 "
1 Paper good pins	2 "	"	8 "
1 paper first-class needles	2 "	"	8 "
5 Tin basins, (different sizes)	19 "	"	50 "
1 Dust pan	7 "	"	15 "
1 Fine bird cage	48 "	"	75 "
1 Hand lamp	18 "	"	25 "
1 Large doll	19 "	"	35 "
1 Large comb	5 "	"	10 "
1 " dripping pan	16 "	"	25 "

Good writing paper 6 sheets for 1c. worth 1 cent per sheet.

6 Good envelopes for 1 cent worth 1 cent each.

Tumblers 2½cts. worth 5cts.

1 pair good Hose 8cts. worth 15cts.

and all other goods in proportion. This is a chance offered but once in a life time. We positively sell as we advertise.

REMEMBER THE PLACE,

Stowell's 25 Cent and Bargain Store,

Opera House Block, Fulton, N. Y.

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

Hale's Honey the great Cough cure, 25c., 50c. & $1
Glenn's Sulphur Soap heals & beautifies, 25c.
German Corn Remover kills Corns & Bunions
Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye—Black and Brown, 50c.
Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 Minute, 25c
Dean's Rheumatic Pills are a sure cure, 50c.

WORM DESTROYER.

Mrs. Butler's Compound Worm Tonic effectually destroyes worms, naturalizes the stomach and bowels, and acts as a permanent tonic, and is an exceedingly beneficial and certain cure for fever, diarrhea, dry hacking cough and weak, feeble children, as thousands testify Also cures fits and dizziness. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 28y1.

You will save time and money by buying your field and garden seeds in bulk. A large stock just received at D. C. Draper's 15 Oneida street, and for sale at the lowest living rates by the bushel, quart or pound.

If you want the best ice cream go to Miller's the old ice cream dealer on Cayuga street. 51tf

J. C. Tucker has just received a large stock of Crockery, which he is selling very cheap. 46tf

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

MILTON S. PRICE'S

Great Special Offering.

I SHALL OPEN THIS DAY

Best Bargains this Season

Seventy five pieces ARLINGTON FANCY DRESS GOODS, only 20c. and 25c. per yard. Recently sold at 40c. and 50c. per yard.

Fifty Pieces GILBERT'S CELEBRATED SUITINGS, in Mixtures, Silk Wool Fancy Checks and Diagonal Fancies, only 50c. a yard; worth $1.

Ten pieces Extra Quality CASHMERE ROYAL BLACK SILKS, only $1.00 yer yard; elsewhere $1.50.

Twenty Pieces BLACK SATIN RHADAMES, only 75c., 89c., $1.00 $1.25 and $1.50 per yard. All Real Bargains.

Five Cases INDIA CRINKLES, only 6c., worth 12½c.

Ten Cases STANDARD PRINTS, only 4c. per yard.

Five Cases SEERSUCKER GINGHAMS, only 6¼c. per yard, worth 10c.

Ten Cases BEST SPRING STYLES PRINTS, only 5c. per yard.

One hundred and Fifty Pieces NAINSOOK CHECKS, only 4c. and 6¼c. per yard.

Fifty Pieces Spring Tide SATIN PLAIDS AND CHECKS, only 12½c. per yard.

SPECIAL PRICES ON

Parasols and Sun Umbrellas,

NEW ASSORTMENTS

Rich Chantilly and Spanish Guipure Laces Flounces, &c.

Purchasers will find it to their interest to examine these rare bargains at

MILTON S. PRICE'S.

4th

—If you want a—

SUIT OF CLOTHES,

PAIR OF PANTS,

HAT,

Or anything in our line for the 4th, we can please you in Quality, Price and Style:

D. C. MORE & CO.

The Reliable one Priced Dealers, First Street, [illegible] Lewis House, Fulton, N. [illegible]

[illegible] FULTON [illegible]

Wednesday, June 30, 1886.

Worth Knowing.

Don't cut the first crop of clover too short. Leave two or three inches.

It has been proved by thorough experiment that bees do not injure or puncture the skin of fruit.

Some very neat blacksmiths, so called cut away a horses heels, frogs, and hoofs so close that he gradually gets lame.

Mutton tallow or fresh lard rubbed upon the backs of bare young Cochin or Brahma chickens or others Asiatics, will protect them from being sun-blistered.

A man lately cured thoroughly a balky horse by simply hitching him in the field and letting him stay where the load was till he got hungry enough to pull it home. The horse held out thirty-six hours.

The problem of successful farming consists in making the soil increasingly fertile. Profits come of high fertility and excellent tillage.

Cut down the garden to the smallest space consistent for the needs of the family. Then take good care of it.

In plowing under green crops it should be done while the crop is yet green and full of sap, generally before it has attained full growth.

Too long pulls on a muddy road often hurt the wind of a horse. When they begin to breathe heavily it is time to give them a "blow."

Too many fowls have to depend upon the contents of the washtub for drinking water. Dirty soap suds will be sure to cause disease. Give the hens pure water.

Most crops excepting clover, derive their food mainly from the first five or six inches in depth of the soil. If we can keep the surface fertile nothing more is needed. Pulverizing the subsoil by the sub-soil plow is useful mainly to enable it to hold more moisture and to open it so that the roots may go down in search of it.

Don't let the bugs eat up the potato vines before applying Paris green. The leaves are the lungs of the plant, and if these are destroyed the growth of the plant stops. It will pay any farmer to go over his potatoes with a dusting of Paris green and plaster as often as necessary; the freshness and extra growth which the plaster gives to the plants pays for the trouble.

Horse Breeding.

Some of the most remarkable animals in horse history have come out of obscurity and hard work. We once knew a beginner at farming commence operations with a little four-year-old mare of not over 960 pounds weight, and a mate; the mate though 100 pounds the heaviest, proved in nowise to be her equal at the plow or before a load. The mare, named by her owner Queen, used up in turn, several horses that were bought and hooked to the other end of the evener. She raised a family of Queens male or female, and, in succession, two different farms were opened by this mare and her progeny, surplus being sold at sundry times for good prices. Never sick, never with swelled legs or ailing feet; always ready to eat and to work. Always wanted by buyers who want good metal, and can tell it when they see it. A like history has occurred on many a farm and could occur on other farms if judgment were used in selecting and managing. In these days of progress in horse breeding it is not necessary or wise to breed a stock of light weights, for good weights are found conjoined with good material and select breeding; and enterprise is so universal that it premates everywhere, and no farmer, except he is hid away among the hills of an inaccessible locality, need debar himself from that which men of enterprise bring to his own door. Rightly viewed, he can breed and raise as good as any man can raise, and, unlike the modern fattening bullock, if the horse be handled with discretion, he can earn his living as he goes along, until he has developed his form, and giving the farmer unmistakable pointers as to his cash value.—[National Livestock Journal.

The Farm in July.

Our hot sun and dry weather ripen grain and grass—or at least bring it forward so that it is ready for the scythe and the sickle much earlier in the season than in the climate of Europe. July is really the first, and perhaps the most important harvest month. The great grass crop, with which "the early and latter rains" has blessed millions of acres, is to be cut, cured and harvested. Winter grain, over a great part of the country, is to be cut this month, while, at the same time, when from any cause, short crops are anticipated or are to be provided against, it is even now not too late to get in a crop of millet or of corn fodder. July is seed time for plants of the turnip kind. There are, indeed, cold, heavy soils, where Swedes need to be sown in June to make a crop, but generally the former half of this month is early enough, while for those known as English turnips, if sown the latter half, and up to the tenth of August they will give good returns.

There are weedy fields that really need to be thoroughly summer-fallowed before anything is done with them. In these the plow must be kept going, and in light lands the weeds are not destroyed at a sacrifice of nearly all the organic matter, which must be kept replaced in some way. Hence it is almost always better to fallow with a root crop, sowing in drills and giving thorough culture. The fertilizer containing no weed seed, the cleaning of the land may be very complete, and the soil will be improved in fertility.—[American Agriculturist for July.

Remember the progressive rule in farming now is that everything should go to market as soon as it is ready, and [illegible] of the articles that is [illegible] governed by this rule. If [illegible]

[illegible] It is rather [illegible] a large [illegible] of potatoes with Paris green, [illegible] is from a sprinkler by hand. This fact has given rise to the following method for performing this work. It can readily be made at home:

Take two old hind wheels of a wagon and fasten a platform above them. Upon this fix an ordinary water-tight barrel with a cover at the top.

Made a mixture of one pound of Paris green or London purple to forty or fifty gallons of water. At the bottom have a hole with a stopcock. Attach to this a piece of rubber pipe about five feet long, with fine nozzle for spraying at the end. At a convenient distance below and behind the barrel a smaller platform is fixed, for the operator to stand on.

The London purple is cheaper than Paris green, and just as effective. The powder, being a mineral, is heavy and will sink to the bottom, unless frequently stirred. In order to get it thoroughly dissolved make a paste of the powder with a little water before putting it into the whole volume of water. These powders are both arsenical poisons, remember!

The water is put in at the top. Have the hole here large enough to admit a stirrer. With this agitate the mixture from settling to the bottom.

The object of this arrangement is to save both labor and time. The operator can with it spray three rows of potatoes during one drive across a field.

Cutting Meadows for Hay.

Great judgment should be used in this, as some meadows require the grass to be cut as close to the surface as possible, while on the other it must be left of greater length, so that it may be necessary to vary its height from an inch to three inches. Meadows of fine natural grass, like those bordering on the Connecticut river, can be mowed very close, while upland stocked with cultivated grass would be much injured if cut so short, especially if followed by dry weather. A difference also should be observed in the cutting of different kinds of grass, as the finer the culms, or stalks, the closer it can be cut without injury. Red-top or blue-grass, for example, can be mowed considerably closer to the ground than timothy or perhaps, orchard-grass or clover. It is an old adage among farmers that "an inch at the bottom is worth two at the top;" but surely in feeding quality the reverse is the case with the three last mentioned grasses.—[American Agriculturist for July.

Haven't you ever noticed, asks an agricultural writer, that the large farmer usually brags about the number of acres he raises, or the number of cows he keeps, and that the small, thorough farmer usually tells of how many bushels he raises to the acre or of how much money he gets from each cow. There is a pleasure in trebling the crop of grass or potatoes. It is the joy of conquest with no harm done anyone—no bloodshed. It is a pleasure to have your work so concentrated and in hand that you can avoid much of the worry of spread-out farming.

Moralities.

Happiness is no laughing matter.

To live long it is necessary to live slowly.

The only way to have a friend is to be one.

To die well one must first learn to live well.

In this world a man must either be an anvil or hammer.

The plant which is often transplanted does not prosper.

An investment in knowledge always pays the best interest.—[Whitehall Times.

The Truth Every Time.

Every time I borrow a newspaper I do a very small act.

Every time I tell the truth I add to my strength of character.

Every time I oppress a servant I am guilty of a sin against God.

Every time I spend a dollar foolishly I am opening a pauper's grave.

Every time I refuse a drink of liquor I am improving my manhood.

Every time I pay rent I am taking that much away from a home of my own.

Every time I buy an article I am encouraging the manufacturer or producer.

Every time I refrain from speaking in defence of a friend I prove that I am not a friend.

Every time I speak a kind word I am adding a brick to my temple of manhood.

Every time I pay a debt I am doing right, and helping to put money in circulation.

Every time I refuse to do a favor, when I can as well as not, I prove that I am growing mean.

Every time I hire an employe who uses liquor as a beverage I open the door to my own robbery.

Every time I give to distant charities, to the neglect of those at home, I am guilty of giving only for vain glory.

Every time I speak cross and impetuously, I'm weakening my nerve-power, and adding to the misery of some one.—[Pomeroy's Democrat.

BE CAREFUL!

No matter what disease you have. Be sure that the medicine you take is reliable. Such a medicine you will always find Sulphur Bitters. They are not a cheap rum drink, but are made of the choices roots and herbs to be found in the vegetable kingdom.—[Daily Argus.

The British Indian Empire.

Recently published statistics of British India give the entire population at 253,982,595, and the supergcial area at 1,378,044 square miles; 43,549,158 residences were enumerated. The density of the population reaches its maximum in Bengal, where there were 442.8 inhabitants to the square mile; the minimum is found in Central India, with 89.2, and in British Burmah, with 42.8 to each square mile. For every 190 males there are 194 females. The Hindoos and Buddhists include 190,000,000; the Mohammedans 50,000,000; Christians 1,900,000; Parsees 85,000; Jews 12,000 and various other sects with [illegible] numbers. The empire debt [illegible] amounts to $171,[illegible],945. In [illegible]

[illegible]

“Hood's Sarsaparilla takes less time and quantity to show its effect than any other preparation I ever heard of. I would not be without it in the house.” Mrs. C. A. M. Hubbard, North Chili, N. Y. 100 Doses

One Dollar

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, all humors, boils, pimples, general debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney and liver complaints, and all affections caused by impure blood or low condition of the system. Try it.

“I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. I took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured.” C. E. Lovejoy, Lowell, Mass.

“Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. My whole system has been built up and strengthened, my digestion improved, and my head relieved of the bad feeling. I consider it the best medicine I have ever used, and should not know how to do without it.” Mary L. Peele, Salem, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass

100 Doses One Dollar.

THE PRETTIEST LADY in Olean was asked what made her complexion so clear and beutiful She said it was by Gilmore's Aromatic Wine Sold by H. C. Giesler.

ONE OF THE MOST NOTED European physicians said: Neuralgia was the prayer of a diseased nerve for healthy blood. Use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine for the blood. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

MRS. L. LOOMIS, of Elba, N. Y., writes us that she was sick for six months, was induced to try Gilmore's Aromatic Wine and four bottles cured her. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. H. B. EMELL, of Pavillion, N. Y., says of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine: "I believe it to be a most desirable remedy to be placed in every family." Sold by H. C. Giesler.

THE WIFE, MOTHER AND MAID who suffers from Female weakness and Debility, will find Gilmore's Aromatic a positive cure. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC is a great success, therefore we challenge the world to produce its equal as a restorative for woman. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. W. FISK REQUA, of Aurora, Ill., says: "I have used Gilmore's Aromatic Wine and find it an excellent household remedy that none ought to do without. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. HARRIS PECK, of Pavillion, N. Y., says: "I was troubled with Malaria, Bowel Difficulty and sleepless nights, which I found was wearing me out. After taking Aromatic Wine two days I realized great relief, sleeping well and otherwise feeling like a new man. I cheerfully recommend it to suffering humanity." Sold by H. C. GIESLER.

REV. I. M. DERBY, of Linden, N. Y., says: "The Gilmore Aromatic Wine proved a great blessing to my wife." For sale by H. C. Giesler.

A single locomotive on the Louisville, New Orleans & Texas Railway recently pulled into New Orleans a train containing 141 cars. The total weight of the train was over 7,250,000 pounds, and it was nearly a mile long. The distance traversed was 121 miles, and the time consumed twelve hours and forty-six minutes.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guaranteed. 27eow

Of the seventy-six senators, fourteen chew tobacco, and fifty-eight use it in one form or another, while of the 325 members of the House, only a few abstain wholly from tobacco.

BRACE UP.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with Headache, you are fidgetty, nervous and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whisky, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alterative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at R. E. Phillips' drug store.

General Simon Boliver Buckner, who distinguished himself in the Confederate army, will probably be the next Governor of Kentucky.

In order that sufferers may know that Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will always cure them. H. C. Geisler emphatically says that if the Tablets do not relieve every case of Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, &c., &c. he does not want any pay. The physicians say they are the finest combination that can be found. Price 25 cents. 27eow.

Queen Margaret of Italy will summer this year at the charming Villa Petraia near Florence. America's Queen will try Pretty Prospect.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

The last Revolutionary pensioner died at Clarendon, N. Y., in 1866, eighty-four years after the close of the war.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

The richest man in Alabama is H. F. de Bordeleline. He lives at Birmingham, and is worth about $5,000,000.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

Is more reliable as an agent in the cure of Consumption, Chronic Coughs and Emaciation, than any remedy known to medical science. It is so prepared that the potency of these two most valuable specifics is largely increased. It is also very palatable. 5w4

The President gave Pastor Sutherland a draft for $500 for his marriage fee, instead of a $100 greenback, as reported.

[illegible]

Hop Plaster

[illegible]

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, adivce, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping th dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 511

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York.

Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvelous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.50	$1.88	$1.06
Stove	4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
No. 4	4.75	2.50	1.38
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Mixed	4.50	2.38	1.31

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest, Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY

O. [illegible]

CURES QUICKLY, PLEASANT, PURE.

A POWERFUL TONIC.

Kaskine Restores Perfect Health.

In Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful."

In St. Francis Hospital, N. Y. "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Dr. L. R. White, U. S. Examining Surgeon, says: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Gleesner, has cured over 800 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says: "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, M. D., says: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

IS THE ONLY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD THAT DESTROYS THE GERMS OF DISEASE IN THE BLOOD, and permanently cures all diseases arising therefrom, such as Malaria, Fevers, Rheumatism, Billiousness, &c., and IS THE GRANDEST TONIC EVER DISCOVERED. Removes nervous prostration and premature decay by disinfecting the blood, so that the starving nerves are supplied with life giving nourishment, bringing back the VIGOR AND POWER OF YOUTH.

Send for the great list of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine.

Price $1 per bottle. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price. Agents wanted everywhere.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., New York.

The standing army of the United States consists now of only 25,000 men. There are twenty countries which maintain larger armies than ours, though at much smaller proportionate cost. Our army of 25,000 costs us $40,000,000 a year, while Turkey pays but $23,000,000 for an army six times as large; Spain $25,000,000 for the maintanance of her army of 152,000, Great Britain $90,000,000 for 181,000 men, Austria-Hungary only $50,000,000 for 284,000 men; 500,000 men cost France $121,000,000, while Germany maintains her army of 345,000 with an annual expenditure of $64,000,000.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills,

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

An enormous crystal of alum, the largest ever produced in the world has, been sent to the Edingurgh International exhibition from the Manchester and Goole alum works. It weighs over eight tons.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

Of the fourteen cabinet ministers of England, only five are public-school men. Mr. Gladstone was educated at Eton.

MOST EXCELLENT.

J. J. Atkins, Chief of Police, Knoxville, Tenn., writes; "My family and I are beneficiaries of your most excellent medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; having found it to be all that you claim for it, desire to testify to its virtue. My friends to whom I have recommended it, praise it at every opportunity." Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup and every affection of Throat, Chest and Lungs. Trial bottles free at R. E. Phillips' drug store. Large size, $1.00.

It is said that Mrs. Gladstone exerted herself greatly to bring back wavaring Liberals to the support of the home rule bill, but only succeeded in one instance.

Our readers are cautioned about buying medicines which are not endorsed by some well known druggist. H. C. Gisler, has made a thorough study of Blood diseases, and after a careful investigation, and many practical tests, postively asserts that Acker's Blood Elixir will cure all blood disorders, ridding the system of its impurities, and leaving it strong, vigorous and healthy. he will warrent it. It is a certain cure for all skin diseases. 27eow

The congress to be chosen next fall will be the fiftieth and will complete the century under the present constitution. The first congress convened March 4, 1789.

About three years ago the agent for Acker's English Remedy first called at this town and since then the number of testimonials coming to him concerning merits of the Remedy, and the many cures effected surprises, H. C. Giesler wishes it to be thoroughly understood that for colds, hoarseness, asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, all Phthisical troubles he has never known its equal, and positively guarantees it. 27eow

Secretary Bayard is said to be one of the besh horsemen at the capital. He rides frequently on a fine Kentucky thoroughbred.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

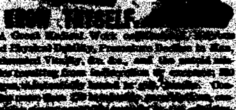
The ladies of Lexington, Va., have undertaken to raise a monument over the grave of Stonewall Jackson.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian ough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

The latest statistical returns show the number of sheep in this country to be 48,300,000, as against more than 50,000,030 in January, 1885. The wool product last year was 308,000,000 pounds.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY,

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



KNOW THYSELF.

[illegible]

[illegible] Three States.

[illegible]

Oh, never go back on the cake,

To the [illegible] great big boom;

And the girl must be but a fancy 'un

Who can eat it and hide its perfume.

—[Fall River Advance.

Want ads—all the newspapers.—[Somerville Journal.

Ingemisca—I have painted a picture of Red Riding Hood and the Wolf. John (looking at it)—Which is the wolf?—[Life.

The man who attends to his own business has a steady job.—[Painesville Democrat.

Marriage makes a man and voomans one, but der tuyful himself coodn't told vhich vas der one.—[Pretzel's National Weekly.

Farmers now put in their crop to put into their crops bye and bye.—[Waterloo Observer.

Some barbers refuse to shave customers during a thunderstorm. They want to hear themselves talk while they work. —[Philadelphia Call.

Speaking of drinking, it may be observed that a man who "can take it or leave it alone" generally takes it.—[Utica Herald.

Contributor—Here is a manuscript I wish to submit—

Editor (waving his hand)—I'm sorry. We are all full just now.

Contributor (blandly)—Very well; I will call again when some of you are sober.—[Boston Courier.

The fashionable young man will be clothed so loudly this season that you can hear his pants in the summer.—[Boston Commercial Bulletin.

White undressed kids are fashionable for the evening.—[Exchange.] They are, and 8 o'clock is about the hour for undressing 'em in well-regulated families,—[Boston Bulletin.

A 25-cent straw hat is a rather common sort of head-covering, but it is sometimes deliriously superior to the head it has to adorn —[Fall River Advance.

"That's what I call hush money" remarked the daddy when he planked down the cash for a bottle of paregoric to take home for use in the infantile portion of the family.—[Toledo American.

Discontented Wife—If I had known that I should have to work so hard after I was married I should have remained single.

Husband—I thought you liked to work, by the way you worked to get me.— —[Rambler.

"This miserable editor! I sent him a poem of 10 verses, saying that the last 4 verses might be omitted without injuring the sense. He returns it with the remark, 'So may the first six.'"—[Fliegende Blatter.

Every man at some period of his life is an egregious fool; but by a wise dispensation of Providence no man knows exactly when the time is.—[National Weekly.

"What d'ye think of me new spring trousers, old chappie?" "Um, well, the stwipe is pwetty loud. To be candid, deah boy, I think they are very stwiking." "Do you, weally? That's all the wage now. These are stwiking times, y'know.—[The Rambler.

A carpet layer who died recently was admitted to heaven and no questions asked, merely because he exhibited the callous spots on his knees.—[St. Paul Herald.

Champoireau is sometimes absent-minded. The other day he had his hair cut, and when the operation was completed he regarded himself in the mirror. "You have got it too short," he said to the barber, and he seated himself again in the chair.—[French Paper.

First Dutchman—Jake, vat you going to gif your son for a birt-day bresent? Second do.—I don'd know; it's purty hard times. I guess I haf some buddons sewed on his clothes. First do.—Yes, dat's so. I guess I haf my boy's hair cut.—[Judge.

"You say the trout weighed ten pounds?" "Yes, sir; it was the biggest trout I ever saw." "And he got away from you?" "Yes." "Will you take an oath to that?" "I'll take no more oaths: I swore enough about it when he got away."—[Yonkers Statesman.

These are the days when the young man puts on knee-breeches and stockings, and mounting a bicycle, starts for a long tour, feeling perfectly happy till a sixteen-year-old country girl, with blue eyes as big as saucers, shouts: "Hey, mister, come here an' I'll lend yer money enough to buy legs for them pants."—[Exchange.

A Commotion.

There was a commotion in the dimly lighted parlor, and a moment later, when Maud's papa entered, Maud was sitting demurely in one corner of the room while Maud's George occupied the other.

"Well, George, how do you come on now-a-days?" greeted the old gentleman, cheerily.

"Oh, I guess I've been holding my own," replied Maud's George with a smile.

"So, so? been holding your own, you sly dog? Assumed proprietorship already, eh? and she was willing to be held, I'll warrant. Well, well, times haven't changed much in twenty-five years it seems," and the old gentleman chuckled, while Maud blushed, and George and the lamp tried to draw out of sight.—[Texas Siftings.

Carl Pretzels Philosophy.

A shirts mit your back vas more varth as dwo in der shtore.

Vhen a feller vants to borrow a tollar of olt Fadder Times, mitout gifin him a bully esquigilance for dot, he vas sure to been fooled about it.

A mans dot lost his eye in a fight mit a feller der odder day, got a glass eye, und on ackound he put it in upside wrong now reads der paper down side up.

One of our prominent banker mans lately got troubled mit a tightness of der chest. He vas stingy like der duce. [illegible]

[illegible] life, [illegible] affecting the glands, often resulting in swellings, enlarged joints, abscesses, thickening of the lips, enlarged neck, sore eyes. A scrofulous condition is often hereditary, but bad diet, too free use of fat meats, bad air, want of sunshine and nourishing food will induce it. Some people are troubled with scrofulous swelling of the glands, and with ulcers and kernels, which may cause very little pain; others may have inward scrofula, scrofula of the lungs, scrofula of the spleen, scrofula of the kidneys, and scrofula of the bones. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS will drive away any case of scrofula and not to appear in another place, for their action on the blood and bowels will carry the disease entirely from the body.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

BLUE PILLS

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately! Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or high-colored?

IT IS Dangerous!

Don't Wait!

Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use

Sulphur Bitters!

Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is

The Invalid's Friend.

The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

Golden Medical Discovery

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic.

25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

NATURE'S CURE FOR CONSTIPATION, Sick-Headache, AND DYSPEPSIA.

PERFECT HEALTH

Is impossible if the Digestion is impaired, the Liver inactive, or the Bowels Constipated.

Tarrant's Effervescent

Seltzer Aperient

will cure Constipation, Sick Headache and Dyspepsia. It regulates the bowels and enables those of feeble digestion to enjoy their food. It reduces Fever, Cools the Blood, is invaluable in Piles and Inflammatory Diseases, and is a justly esteemed Aperient for Children, Economical, Reliable, Elegant. It should be found in every household. Sold by druggists everywhere.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT

Manufactured only by TARRANT & CO., New York.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 961 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure By JOHN H. MCALVIN, Lowell, Mass., 14 years tax collector. Sent free to any address.

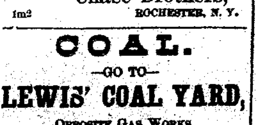
D. J. REILLY & CO.

PRINTERS ROLLERS

324 and 326 Pearl St., New York.

☞ SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

AUBURN STEEL AXLE WAGON.



Made of the best material and fully warranted. 12,000 running in New York State. Agents wanted in all unoccupied territory. Send for circular.

E. D. CLAPP WAGON CO.. Lt'd Auburn, N. Y.

SALESMEN

WANTED

to canvass for the sale of Nursery Stock!

Steady employment guaranteed. SALARY AND EXPENSES PAID. Apply at once, stating age. (Refer to this paper.)

Chase Brothers,

1m2 ROCHESTER, N. Y.

COAL.

—GO TO—

LEWIS' COAL YARD,

OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,

—For the Celebrated—

LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼ton
Stove	$4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
Mix	4.50	2.38	1.31
No. 4	4.75	2.50	1.38
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Pea	[illegible]	1.88	1.06

[illegible]

TERMS OF SURROGATE'S COURT.

[illegible]

[illegible] Monday of each week, except in the month of August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Thursday in each month, except August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, January 3d, and on the third Friday in March, May, June, Sept, Nov. and Dec.

FULTON—At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Tuesday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the third Friday in April, and July, and the fourth Friday in October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 28th and September 29th.

PARISH—At A. N. & J. S. Ladington's law office, April 30th, July 30th and Sept. 30th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New, York, on or before the 19th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 12th. 1886.

CAROLINE L. ALFRED,
Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against F. D. VanWagenen, late of the Village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the office of F. D. VanWagenen, No. 10, First St., Fulton, N. Y., in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 12th day of August, 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1886.

ANN VANWAGENEN, Executrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886.

LUCY K. HUBBARD,
Executrix.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK: By the Grace of God Free and Independent. To Alzina Hubbard, widow, and Friend L. Hubbard, heir at law, both of Granby, N. Y., and Henry C. Howe and Arvin Rice as executors, etc. of Harriet Lampman, deceased, and Lewis H. Hutchins as administrator, etc. of Polly Marvin, deceased, creditors, and to all other creditors of, and all persons interested in the real estate of William Hubbard late of the Town of Granby in the County of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting. You, and each of you, are hereby cited and required personally to be and appear before our Surrogate of the county of Oswego, at the office of C. H. David, in the Village of Fulton, in said county, on the 8th day of July, 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to show cause why a decree should not be made directing the distribution of the surplus money arising on the sale of mortgaged premises under a mortgage given by said William Hubbard, deceased, among the persons entitled thereto.

And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness Francis David, Surrogate of said county, at the village of Phoenix, in said county, the 31st day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

L.S.

L. J. CARRIER,
Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK By the Grace of God Free and Independent. To Alice Hethington, Fulton, N. Y., widow; Nellie E. Sears, Oswego Falls, N. Y.; John A. Judkins, residence unknown, but supposed to be at Chicago, Illinois; Sally Ann Merrill, Downsville, Dunn Co., Wisconsin; Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, and Charlotte Grace Lewis, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Josephine Hethington, whose residence is unknown, heirs at law of William S. Hethington, deceased; James Cole, A. E. Nettleton, Miller & Whitaker, S. O. Woodruff, James McDonough, W. J. Watson, Howe & Rice, R. H. Stowe, R. S. Galt, James Clark and H. O. Woodruff, all of Fulton, N. Y., creditors, and to all other creditors and all persons interested in the real estate of William S. Hethington late of the Village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting. You, and each of you, are hereby cited and required personally, to be and appear before our Surrogate of the County of Oswego, at the office of C. H. David, in the Village of Fulton, in said county, on the 8th day of July, 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to show cause why a decree should not be made directing the disposition of the real property of said decedent, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the payment of his debts and funeral expenses. And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or, if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Francis David, Surrogate of said county, at the village of Phoenix, in said county, the 8th day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

(L. S.)

L. J. CARRIER,
Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

FORECLOSURE SALE.
SUPREME COURT—OSWEGO COUNTY.

The Fulton Savings Bank vs. Letson LaDu and others. By virtue of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action at a Special Term of the Supreme Court held at the Court House, in the city of Syracuse, Onondaga county, N. Y., on the 5th day of June, 1886, and duly filed and entered in the clerk's office of Oswego county on the 7th day of June, 1886, I the undersigned Referee duly appointed in and by said judgment and decree to make such sale will sell at public auction to the highest bidder at the law office of Piper & VanWagenen, in the village of Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y., on the 24th day of July, 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day the mortgaged premises in and by said judgment and decree directed to be sold and described therein as follows, to wit.: all that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Volney, county of Oswego and State of New York upon Lot number seventy-five (75) of the 17th Township of Scriba's Patent, Beginning at the north-west corner of O. Cone's division of 52 34-100 acres and running thence south 2 deg. east along the west line of said Cone's 52 34-100 acres thirty-seven (37) chains ninety-four (94) links to a stake, thence north 89 degrees west parallel to the south line of said Lot 75 fourteen (14) chains fifteen (15) links to a stake, thence north 2 degrees west along a line of marked trees seventeen (17) chains ninety-four (94) links to a stake in south line of Samuel A. Williams' 30 acres laid off from said lot 75, thence south 89 degrees east along said south line eleven (11) chains ninety-three (93) links to the place of beginning, containing 50 acres of land—excepting however from the above described 50 acres a parcel of ten (10) acres from the north end thereof heretofore conveyed to O. Cone and a parcel of 8 8-10 acres from the south end thereof heretofore conveyed to Alfred Hudgin and excepting also a parcel of three (3) acres heretofore released from the operations of said mortgage from the west side of said mortgaged premises and conveyed by said Letson LaDu and wife to Orville Dunsmore by deed recorded in Oswego county clerk's office, in Liber 189 of deeds, at page 224, leaving 28 2-10 acres be the same more or less.

Dated June 7, 1886.

N. N. STRANAHAN,
Referee.

PIPER & VANWAGENEN,
Attys for Plff,
Fulton, N. Y.

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
Mix	4.50	2.38	1.31
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Pea	3.50	1.88	1.06

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK [illegible]

[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 9

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, JULY 7, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

Fourth of July in the City.

The fate of a poor fellow creature please pity,
O, rural sojourners, and heave him a sigh,
Ordained to abide in this tropical city
Through all the wild clamors of Fourth of July;
For me shall no greensward of silvery river,
Or shadowy woodland enrapture the view,
But the brick colored cracker, instead shall deliver
Its endless and infamous rat-tat-tat-too!

How pleasant to know that until the day ceases
All round you are deeds being done to dismay;
Little boys rashly blowing themselves into pieces,
Or fingers and eyes being squandered away;
How pleasant to dream of the lake clear as crystal
The mild mannered cow, or the rich petaled rose;
Then hear the bang, bang of a patriot pistol,
And smell its detestable stench at your nose.

O, wearisome lot, when for rest vainly hunting
You'll readily swear, while your weary head aches,
That your national flag is a mere strip of bunting
And Washington, too, wasn't any "great shakes."
When you're driven to think, in a mode far from blandly,
How certain fine fellows, whom death has made dumb,
Signed away with a flourish, quite gravely and grandly,
The comfort of whole generations to come;

Not to state my opinion in a style too despotic,
I can't but assert that I'd like to know what
One particular portion of love patriotic
Is found in the language of powder and shot.
Or, why, when young urchins, like new sorts of heroes,
Would burn up the town with their horrible tricks,
They imagine they honor those dead and gone heroes
Who fought for our old flag in seventy-six.

Nay, joking aside—if by fate it was ordered
That once more on earth this brave veteran band,
In their three cornered [illegible] of their [illegible] bordered,
Their cutaway coats and their perukes should stand,
They would tell us, I fancy, "[illegible] for your pockets
And more for your country, her rules, her weal;
Keep her Fourth of July less in crackers and rockets
And more in true loyalty, service and zeal."
—[[illegible] Howard.

The Man with the Musket.

(From The Century War Memoranda.)

Soldiers pass on from this rage of renown,
This ant-hill, commotion and strife,
Pass by where the marbles and bronzes look down
With their fast-frozen gestures of life,
On, out to the nameless who lie 'neath the gloom
Of the pitying cypress and pine;
Your man is the man of the sword and the plume,
But the man of the musket is mine.

I knew him! by all that is noble, I knew
This commonplace hero I name!
I've camped with him, marched with him, fought with him, too,
In the swirl of the fierce battle-flame
Laughed with him, cried with him, taken a part
Of his canteen and blanket, and known
That the throb of his chivalrous prairie boy's heart
Was an answering stroke of my own.

I knew him, I tell you! And, also, I knew
When he fell on the battle-swept ridge,
That the poor battered body that lay there in blue
Was only a plank in the bridge
Over which some should pass to a fame
That shall shine while the high stars shall shine
Your hero is known by an echoing name,
But the man of the musket is mine.

I knew him! All through him the good and the bad
Ran together and equally free;
But I judge as I trust Christ will judge the brave lad,
For death made him noble to me!
In the cyclone of war, in the battle's eclipse,
Life shook out its lingering sands,
And he died with the names that he loved on his lips,
His musket still grasped in his hands!
Up close to the flag my soldier went down,
In the salient front of the line:
You may take for your heroes the men of renown.
But the man of the musket is mine!
—[H. S. Taylor.

HO! FOR EUROPE.

The Trip Across the Atlantic.

[Special to THE TIMES.]

TWO friends, H. and V., bid adieu to friends and board the morning train at Sharon, Pa., bound for New York via Washington. After a pleasant stay of two days in the capital city, we again take take the cars and duly arrive in New York, where we meet by arrangement two friends from Sharon, F. and M. all bound for a three month's cycling tour in Europe. Our business is transacted as speedily as possible, engage lodging at the Grand Central Hotel and slumber while Morpheus tells to each a little story about the cradle of the great deep: How on the morrow Neptune without the formality of an introduction will grow familiar, and, like a mother lay us down to rock, and unmindful of all that is "like lillies grow intensely white, wither, but unlike them cannot die."

The following day we board the great steamship "City of Rome," the largest passenger vessel afloat, 586 feet in length, 52½ feet in width, strongly and beautifully constructed, employing 365 men, burning 270 tons of coal per day. Precisely at 10 a. m. the gang-plank was raised and the great floating palace steamed out of the harbor. Waving a good bye to the multitude of friends upon the pier, we turn our faces toward the blue waters of the Atlantic. We pass the foot of the Pedestal of Bartholdi Statue, Coney Island, and drop our pilot off Sandy Hook. We are now upon salt water and our beloved country soon fades out in the distance. Farewell, the dearest spot on earth is now behind the mist. Our attention is now turned to the passengers on board. We are four of eight hundred; most of them are of foreign birth returning to their fatherland. Only a few native born Americans. To us, belonging to the latter class, the ways of some of the would be elite are strangely peculiar. But it is not our purpose in going abroad to criticise foreign dudes or censure customs unlike our own, but we wish to see things as far as possible with unprejudiced eyes, and for a few months sit at the feet of our foreign masters. The accommodations of our boat are [illegible]

The weather is unusually fine and most of the passengers are up on the decks and all seem to enjoy the beginning of the voyage except a few who are suffering from sea-sickness. A sail now a then appears on the horizon, we watch it, determine its course, and at last it sinks down behind the waters. Night comes on and as the stars twinkle above us, we imagine that we are watching them through the old kitchen window at home, and that the whistling of the wind through the rigging of the ship is the moaning of the maple trees. Thus the first day of a sea-faring life is brought to a close. Our party rests well and we rise early and go upon deck. Why is it that we have been spared while dozens with scarcely strength enough to walk have crawled up to get the morning air and lie like dead upon the floor? We can only give them our sympathy, for there is no cure for sea-sickness only to brave it out.

The second day closes like the first and we "turn in" again to sleep. The third day we become more acquainted with each other, and in turn we relate a story or sing a song, frequently singing some Gospel hymn together. Now and then some one attempts to do or say something funny that we may all indulge in a good hearty laugh. Our attention is frequently drawn to the lower deck by an old fiddler who says, "he's been to America to play for weddings and dances." We have listened attentively to him several times and conclude that any who can listen with any degree of patience, the chances are he won't be sea-sick. But honor is due to the most feeble attempt to cheer up [illegible] late on board ship so three cheers for Old Ireland.

Space does not permit of [illegible] length of the many characters [illegible] so for a [illegible] into the [illegible].

It is dinner time and about three hundred persons with cups, tin pans, wash dishes, etc., are waiting for their repast. Great cans of soup, tubs of [illegible] and kettles of potatoes are dealt out [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] a capacity [illegible] for one hundred persons are used for dormitories. Now, imagine, kind reader, three hundred people, Dutchmen, Englishmen, Yankees and others chucked in one above another like mail in a U. S. postoffice, to sleep, and in a room with little air and less light. Do you wonder that passengers are sea-sick? I believe a two-ounce bottle full of this atmosphere would make any respectable American sick fifty miles from salt water. I am growing weaker now and must hasten upon deck. Night comes on and the third day comes to a close. This is the 29th of May and we remember that to-day our friends will scatter flowers upon the graves of the honored dead. We cannot help but think of home and how appropriate it would be if we had a few flowers to decorate the graves of them that sleep beneath the rolling deep. Another day is gone. Sunday is bright and beautiful. We attend church services in the saloon and the pleasure of hearing a sermon by the Rt. Rev. Lord Bishop of Carlisle. This was the event of the day. All quiet at evening. We lie down and wait anxiously for the morrow. It comes, but dark and gloomy. Our spirits are heavy and we are getting tired of sea life. We have counted the hours over and over again. We look at the water and imagine we are making better time, but the sailors warrant us that we will not see land before Wednesday night and that we will not reach Liverpool before Thursday night. We console each other and lie down to sleep. Tuesday morning was cold and cloudy. Passed a vessel of the Cunard Line bound for New York thirty-eight hours out of Queenstown. We take courage and are jubilant and happy. The day passed quietly. At evening a concert is held in the grand saloon. It was a brilliant affair, but space will not permit of commenting upon it, and will merely mention the names of those who participated: Herr F. Sinzig, Miss Jessie Alsop, Mr. Harry Paulton, Signor Carlo Diamondi, Mr. J. G. Hill, the Wood family, Signor A. Tornasi, Nat. C. Goodwin, Mr. T. J. Vivian and A. J. Vickers. The entertainment was to close with the "Star Spangled Banner" and "God Save the Queen." What few Americans were present hadn't the courage to sing the former. The latter met with a hearty response. A collection for the benefit of aged seamen was taken and twenty-six and one-half pounds sterling were the receipts.

Wednesday morning cold and rainy, the heavier, and the sailors are lashing down everthing loose about the decks. We have digested our last square meal, I suppose, for they say that this is a sure sign of a storm, and that the fortunate must soon share the fate of the unfortunate. We are ready, "blow ye your trumpet." Morning, we are still alive, kind Providence in his mercy changed the course of the winds, and the storm has passed around. "Land! Land!" is echoed along the decks, we hasten up, and the rocks of old Ireland loom up in the distance. None but they who have passed over the great waters can put a true estimate on the value of a little real estate. We arrive at Queenstown. Two small boats called tenders meet us some distance from land, and take off mail, passengers and baggage bound for the Emerald Isle. We wave a good bye as our vessel steams majestically up the Channel. We pass Fubor Light house at 11:20, Holly Head, Skerries Rocks, beautiful spots on the sea, and reach harbor at Liverpool at 11 p. m.

VAN DE VENTER.

"Quincy troubled me for twenty years. Since [illegible] using Dr. Thomas' Eclec- [illegible]

THE PROPER THING.

Crepe lisse goods are in favor.

Hair line stripes grow in favor.

Mousquetaire gloves are preferred to all others.

Mikado handkerchiefs are novel summer fancies.

Beautiful effects are produced by uniting corn-color and light blue.

French nainsook and lawn are the materials for infants' best dresses.

Guimpe frocks are in favor for girls over five and under twelve years of age.

The first short dresses for babies are just long enough to reach the ankles.

Jackets falling open from the throat over pleated or gathered waistcoats are very popular.

The latest fancy in ribbon bows is the windmill with four loops sticking out right angles, and a tight strap in the middle.

Summer afghans for an infant carriage or cradle are made of white canvas or scrim with colored ribbons run through the meshes.

Straw is becoming widely popular for all sorts of ornamentation. Hats, bonnets, trimmings for dresses and parasols, and fans are being made of it.

Girls from two to four years of age wear French muslin caps with high Normandy crowns, or the Holland cap with puff around the crown and close fronts.

Sets consisting of a collar, plastron, epaulets, and cuffs of fine black jet beads are sold for dressy accessories of a plain waist, black velvet, silk or satin [illegible].

[illegible] is the favorite material for infants' long cloaks for summer, it is cotton and washes like plain muslin. The cloak is made in Mother Hubbard shape.

A dressy addition to a plain dress waist is made by a collar an inch and a half wide ruby velvet with a pleat of [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] arranged as a [illegible] between the two jabots of white cadora lace which fall together over the bosom.

Description of "Ouida."

Another person whom you would be interested in knowing is "Ouida," the the great novelist. She has lived alone for years in her magnificant villa in the old Etruscan city, with only her servents and her pets for companions. She is an old lady now, but she is a well-known figure in Florence. You know she wove herself and all her associates into her novel called "Friendship," and go into disrepute with all Florence, which promptly shut its doors on her and kept them so. You see, she pictured herself in Etolle, and her former lover, a titled gentleman, in Prince Ioris. Lady Joan and her lord are represented in an English lady and gentleman who live in Florence—a Mr. and Mrs. Ross—and so on down the list of characters; the plot is a true one. Ouida was to have married this nobleman had not the English woman stepped in and bound him to her as well as his lands—a magnificent Italian estate. The novelist took a great revenge when she wrote that story. Good society in Florence refused to recognize her, and the actors in the drama she drew her plot from threatened to have her sued; but they could do nothing, because she had changed the names. She never married, and lives there to this day—a solitary old woman with no other companions save her pets. I thing her descriptions of Italian landscapes are the most accurate and the most beautiful I have ever seen. Her work is, perhaps, not so poetic as that of Washington Irving, but no painter has ever shown Italy in more glowing, life-like colors than she has.—[Preston Power in Denver Tribune.

The Anxiety of a Broker's Life.

It is strange, but never the less true that a broker never loses his anxiety. I have been on this street now twenty years, but the failure to get a telegram, or a letter, or a reply when I should get it, makes me just as nervous as it did during the first year. One would think that a man would become accustomed to it, and accept the inevitable, but it is easier to talk that way than it is to do it; that is to be able to smile on everybody that says "this is an nice day, isn't it?" I have gone through a great many cases of this kind, and have never been hurt much, but I have seen the time when an hour's or even a minute's delay would have cost the profit of a whole year or even more.

Now, the other day I was disappointed in the receipt of a telegram, and I wasn't fit for any other business. It was an important transaction. I had given orders and was relying on them being carried out, and I supposed they were, but still had no knowlepge of it, and there I was; I didn't know what to do, and all on account of what may nine times out of ten be merely a little business negligence. No, sir, a horse may become accustomed to war, but a man's delicate nerves can never be adjusted to the ripsaw tension of this businedss.—[Globe-Democrat Interview.

Where Senators are Born.

Five Senators can never become Presidents as they were foreign-born, Beck having been born in Scotland; Jones of Nevada, in England; Fair, Sewell and Jones of Florida, in Ireland. New York has given birth to more of the present Senators than any other State, the number being eight; Kentucky, Ohio and Virginia can boast of six each, Virginia and West Virginia being considered in this estimate [illegible] Massachusetts and Pennsylvania [illegible] and the remainder [illegible]

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our Regular Correspondent]

WASHINGTON, June 25th, 1886.

The notable event of the week in Congress was the warm tariff fight in the House of Representatives, during which the Democratic leaders, Morrison and Randall locked horns over the party's tariff pledge. The battle unexpectedly sprung from a proposition from the great revenue reformer to pay pensions with a tax on incomes. Several dozen Congressmen took part in the engagement and pungent personalties passed on all sides. The galleries filled up rapidly as the discussion proceeded, and many Senators left the monotonous business of their Chamber to be witnesses of the fray.

Mr. Morrison's resolution providing for an income tax for the payment of all bills for pensions took the legislators completely by surprise. There was deathlike stillness while he was reading it save the whispers from a small ecterie of Republicans who gathered hurridly around the seats of their leaders, Reed and Hiscock. Their consultation was quick and decisive.

When Mr. Morrison had concluded, Mr. Reed arose and characterized the proposition as an invidious distinction against pension legislation. Mr. Hiscock said it was more than this; it was an attempt to evade the responsibility of the defeat of pension legislation by a direct vote. Mr. Cannon of Illinois, in a fit of sarcasm, gave notice that he would move to attach a provision raising revenue to meet the expenditures of river and harbor bills, and bills for the erection of public buildings.

Up to this time the Republicans had had everything their own way. Mr. Randall now came to the defense of Mr. Morrison. He said the remarks of the latter gentleman were so clear and comprehensive that they left little for others to say. He conceded to the Republicans a full measure of patriotism, but he claimed for his own side a like spirit. If Congress granted pensions, it ought to provide the money to pay them, but so far as he knew, there was no member on the floor who was ready to do entire justice to the soldier. Some might differ as to the method or the extent that Congress should go.

More Democratic and more Republican arguments follow, Messrs. McKinley of Ohio, and Hiscock being the next Republican champions. The latter in a triumphant tone, made some assertions about the broken pledges of the party in power, and sat down amid the applause of the Republican side.

The House had now become thoroughly warmed up on the pension issue when Mr. Reed switched it off on the tariff track. He began by taunting the Democratic party with having been unable to get its tariff bill even considered, and Gen. Bragg, of Wis., was the Democratic Representative, who, although he saw a collision ahead, did not hesitate to follow. He is no respecter of persons and when he smites at all strikes with a vengeance. "I am delighted" he said, "Mr. Reed's reference to the failure of this House to consent to the consideration of revenue bills. It shows what sort of contempt the Republicans of the House feel for those who have been recreant to their faith and their pledges." As he finished this sentence with vindictive earnestness, the Hall fairly rang with applause. Gen. Bragg paced the aisle in a dramatic way, pointing to Mr. Randall the time he was arraigning him for voting as he did upon the tariff bill a week ago.

Mr. Randall sat quietly in his chair, never taking his eyes from Bragg until the latter's ten minutes expired. Then he was upon his feet and the Republicans went rushing to the Democratic side, while the Democrats stood up. The faintest whisper was audible when the distinguished Pennsylvanian, with clutched hands raised aloft, stepped quickly from the passageway and turning towards Bragg said, "Neither the gentleman from Wisconsin, nor anyone else dare charge me with deserting my party." He continued at some length in reply to Gen Bragg for whom he said he had a contempt and supposed it was mutual.

But the climax scene was reached when finally the noted protectionist turned his attention to the famous free trader. The two gesticulating gentlemen faced each other at arms-length distance. "Did the Chicago Convention call for free wool?" Mr. Randall asked "It did," Mr. Morrison replied firmly "at least three-fourths of it did." Would Mr. Cleveland have been elected? Mr. Randall asked, "if the Chicago Convention had declared for free raw materials?" He would have gotten more votes than he did," replied Mr. Morrison warmly, and the Democrats applauded.

We Don't Get It All.

Items that should be published are often left out of local papers from no other cause than that the editor fails to hear of them at all until they are old and moss-covered. Quite often some one regrets that certain news items were not in the paper. So does the editor. A minister wanted in some church news, but he did not want it bad enough to go round and say so. Some one has been away on a visit or has made some neat improvement, but does not think it worth while to notify the editor. A gentleman not long ago remarked that he might come and go forever, but the paper would never mention it. The fact is, he is a very clever gentleman when you meet him and draw him out, but he never comes to the office except when he comes to pay his subscription. We are glad that he comes that often, and hence an editor can never mention him unless he happens to find out something. —[Exchange.

The Man Who Advertises.

He's just a bit ecstatic but not a whit rheumatic, and he does it up emphatic when he sends a business "ad."

And he cuts a knowing caper when he says, "Put it in the paper at the top of the highest column, if you want to make me glad.

"Start it with your biggest letter, set it up a little better than that other feller's "ad" across the way.

"I want it fixed up nice at the cheapest price, I'm going to see if advertising doesn't pay.

Now every Spring and Winter he rushes to the printer, and in the time of Summer and the Fall.

And his copy is so plain you can read and come again—Oh! the man that advertses knows it all.

Then the paper man sits down and scratch on his crown and hits his scalp a fearful kind of thud;

He's thinking, as he's winking: "Were columns made all top my business I could drop, be fat and sleek and rich as mud.—[Lynn (Mass.) Item.

Uncle Sam's Income.

Uncle Sam's income last year was a little more than $1,000,000 for each business day. He pays nowadays $1,000,000 a week for interest on the public debt. In 1885 he he paid $3,000,000 a week to the bloated bondholder. Uncle Sam is a great builder, and to-day is erecting eighty fine buildings, some of which will cost over $1,000,000. Uncle Sam is also the largest holder of improved real estate in the country. Thirty-four hundred national banks have been started, but only 2,700 remain to cheer us and shave us.

Calculations.

A statistical expert calculates that if 1,000,000 babies started together in the race of life 150,000 would drop out in the first year, 53,000 in the second and 23,000 in the third year. At the end of 45 years about half of them would be still in the race. Sixty years would see 370,000 gray heads still at it. At the end of eighty years there would be 97,000 remaining on the track; fifteen years later the number would be reduced to 223, and the winner would quit the track forever at the age of 108.

SAVED MY SON'S LIFE.

Rochester, N. Y.

Pardee Medicine Co:

GENTLEMEN:—My son had the rheumatism very badly. The doctor was coming every day and was doing him no good. We then tried your excellent remedy, and in less than twenty-four hours he was greatly improved. I would advise any person who has the Rheumatism, it doesn't matter how badly, to try Dr. Pardee's Remedy, for my own experience says it is a sure cure. Many thanks for saving the life of my son.

Yours very truly,
THOMAS CLARK,
Officer House of Refuge.

Rochester, N. Y.

Pardee Medicine Co:

GENTS:—Last March when you induced me to try "Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy" I did so without faith, and more to please than otherwise. And was astonished to find after taking it that I was entirely cured by its use, and have since felt no symptoms of the disease. It is certainly a wonderful remedy and in my case wrought a complete cure I earnestly advise all who are afflicted with this painful disease to try it.

Respectfully yours,
CHAS. S. CAMPBELL,
Ex-Sheriff Monroe Co., N. Y.

Newfane, Niagara Co., N. Y.

While livingin Grass Lake, Jackson Co. Michigan suffered severely from rheumatism. After taking everything amounting to half a dozen different medicines, witnout relief, my brother sent me by express from Lockport, N. Y., some of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy to try. It helped me at once, and ordering anather small lot which I have used, since which time I have been entirely free from that unpleasant complaint.

W. D. SWICK.

Ask your druggist for Dr. Pardee's Remedy, and take no other. Price, $1 per bottle; six bottles, $5.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

Stephen Gleason of Fall River, is 100 years six months old, attends church every Sunday, walking unaided to and from the church, takes a long walk daily, has excellent sight and hearing and unimpaired memory. Mrs. Gleason is nearly 90 years old and likewise well preserved.

Shillalahs, they say, are never seen in the hands of Irishman now. It is the tourist who swings the stick.

LITERARY.

New Princeton Review.

The New Princeton Review we consider to be at the head of magazines of of this high literary class. Its articles are from the pens of great and brillant writers and is a magazine that every student and thinker should have. The July number is one of especially great interest and considered the very best yet published. The contents are:

Recollections of Carlyle, with Notes Concerning his Reminiscences, Charles Eliot Norton; The Decay of Art, W. J. Stillman; The Sunday Question, Henry C. Potter; The Clergy and the Labor Question, Henry W. Farnam; The Origin of Life, H. W. Conn; Reminiscences of Helen Jackson, Louis Swinburne; In and Around a Despatch Box, Frances Courtenay Baylor; An Episode, Flora L. Shaw; Criticsms, Notes and Reviews—The Home-Rule Rebuff; Education Bills before Congress; Bancroft's Plea for the Constitution; McCosh's Physcology; John Bunyan and His Times. Book Notices.

Following is a portial list of Contributors: Hon. Geo. Bancroft, Hon. James Russell Lowell, Charles Dudley Warner, Edmund C. Stedman, Pres't. Noah Potter, Pres't. Julius H. Seelye, Pres't James McCosh, John Hall, John Bacb, McMaster, Geo. P. Fisher, Wm. M, Taylor, Charles H. Parkhurst, Charles A. Young, Cornelius R. Agnew, William Henry Bishop, Henry W. Farnum, Arthur Hadley, Stanley Hall, J. B. Harrison, T. A. Janvier, Alexander Johnson, T. R. Lounsberry, Allan Marquand, Jas. O. Murray, Charles Eliot Norton, F. N. Zabriskie, Archibald Alexander. Published six times a year with annual index by A. C. Armstrong and Son, 714 Broadway New York. Terms $3 a year.

ST. LICHOLAS.

In the July number of St. Nicholas, Rose Alling's store, "Man's Revolt" has two pictures by Jesse Shepherd that by their novelty and beauty will attract great attention. "Captain Jack's Fourth of July Kite" is timely and well written also beautifully illustrated by Daniel C. Beard. Palmer Cox shows in a unique manner "The Brownies in a Menagerie" while the article on "Boat Building" is designated to teach the boys to prepare for this branch of pleasure. There is much in this number to attract the eye and mind, and it is safe to say that no other publication of the kind can surpass it in illustrative story telling, useful information or general interest.

WIDE AWAKE.

The July number of this delightful magazine is indeed "wide awake" for it gives to the public four articles that are seasonable, well written, and superbly illustrated. They are, "When George the First was King" by E. S. Brooks. "The Minute Men" a beautiful illustrated ballad by Margaret Sidney. "The First Blow for American Liberty" by Mrs. Demeritt and the jolly Fourth of July story by Margaret Emma Dilts, entitled "The Capture of the Hennepin Gun." The three serials continue to increase in interest while the many other articles are instructive and interesting.

The Wide Awake is $3.00 a year, D. Lothrop & Co. Publishers, Boston, Mass.

The cost of some of the big buildings which now so often attract attention in New York city are:

Tribune building	$1,000,000
Drexel building	1,500,000
O. Potter building	2,000,000
Stewart building	2,000,000
Cyrus W. Field building	2,500,000
D. O. Mills building	2,500,000
Produce exchange	3,500,000

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets." They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For sick headache, constipation, impure blood, dizziness, sour eructations from the stomach, bad taste in mouth, billous attacks, pain in region of kidneys, internal fever, bloated feeling about stomach, rush of blood to head, take Dr. Pierce's "Pellets." By druggists.

Before you put a roof on that building, been it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros. at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 31tf

There are $36,293,564.95 deposits in fifty-four of the Maine savings banks.

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phœbe Chesley, Paterson, Clay Co. Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain." Try a bottle, only 50c. at R. E. Phillip's drug store.

HART BROS.,

—DEALERS IN—

Vitrified Glazed Stone Ware

—AND—

PORTLAND CEMENT SEWER PIPE

—AND—

DRAIN TILE,

With all necessary Fittings and connections.

FIRE BRICK, CLAY AND SAND.

Stone Ware, and Cement, Chimneys and Tops.

Just Received at the

NEW PARLOR DRUG STORE

A full line of Harrison Bros. & Co's

READY MIXED PAINTS.

They are noted the world over for durability, ease of application, and firmness of finish. Call and examine them. Select what you need and carry them off at a price that will astonish you. I keep over sixty shades of colors, varying from the tint of a LADIES CHEEK to the appropriate color for a HORSE BARN.

I have further "elevated the standing of the Oswego County drug trade," by adding to my regular line of

Fine Drugs

—AND—

MEDICINES,

a beautiful modern

--SODA FOUNTAIN,--

At a cost of $2,000.00. Put on your spectacles and step in and test it for yourselves. Remember the spot, day and date. ☞"The New Drug Store.☜

H. C. GIESLER.

NEW STORE

NEW GOODS!

NEWELL R. COLE

Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of

Undertaking Goods,

—OF THE—

LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.

And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.

Furniture Rpairing

done on short notice.

Remember the Place.

☞Ladie's Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

Scranton Coal!

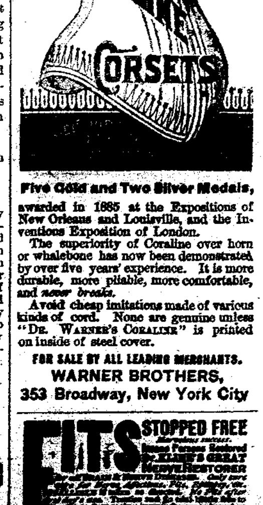
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,

Promptly Delivered!

At the Following Prices:

Stove	$4.50	Grate	4.25
Nut	4.50	Pea	3.50
Egg	4.25	Smith	450
No 4	475	Mixed	450

SCHENCK & FOSTER.



Five Gold and Two Silver Medals,

awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.

The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks.

Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "DR. WARNER'S CORALINE" is printed on inside of steel cover.

FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING MERCHANTS.

WARNER BROTHERS,
353 Broadway, New York City

FITS STOPPED FREE

Marvelous success.

Insane Persons Restored

Dr. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER

for all BRAIN & NERVE DISEASES. Only sure cure for Nerve Affections, Fits, Epilepsy, etc. [illegible] BEWARE OF CHEATING FRAUDS.

DEAFNESS its CAUSES and CURE, by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists of the day with no benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others by same process. A plain, simple and successful home treatment. Address T. S. PAGE, 128 East 26th St. New York City.

JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.

[illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS, Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 3 First street.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y.
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts. Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious, Sample Rooms.

PLUMBING, PLUMBING!

S. C. NORTH,

THE PLUMBER,

has moved his office and shop

Under Collins' Shoe Store

and is now prepared to do all kinds of

PLUMBING,

GAS and STEAM

FITTING.

Give me a call. I will try and please you. I carry a full line of Brass Goods.

Hydrant Hose,
Water Goods

of all kinds. Also a full line of

GAS FIXTURES.

10tf S. C. NORTH.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS

—IN—

Drugs, Patent Medicines,

—AND—

DYE STUFFS

—AT—

R. E. PHILLIPS'

Drug Store.

Prices Below all Competition

On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.

IN DYE STUFFS

I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at

R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.

A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.

No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods—and prices below all Competition.

48m3 R. E. PHILLIPS.

Job Printing.

—:o:—

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at Lowest Prices.

—AT THE—

[illegible]

[illegible] Cents a year in advance. An additional charge of [illegible] for postage on papers going out of Oswego county.
Correspondence must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.
Rates of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.
Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.
Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.
Address all communications, on business or publication, to The Times,
F. D. VanWagenen,
Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[Thackeray.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

About 6,000 persons, the largest crowd that ever assembled at Star Park attended the base ball game in Syracuse Monday afternoon between the Stars and Uticas; the latter won by a score of ten to two.

Secretary Manning accompanied by his wife and daughter, arrived at Washington, from the Hot Springs of Virginia last Saturday, with his health almost restored and in excellent spirits. A reception was given him in Washington and after a conference with the President he continued his journey to New York, where he will remain for a few days and then proceed to his home in Albany.

We have before us a copy of The Luzerne Federalist and Susquehannah Intelligencer, published at Wilkesbarre, Penn., February 18, 1804, which was handed to us by M. J. Gere of this village. A striking contrast in the time of receiving foreign news then and in the present day is manifest. News of the war that was going on between France and Russia and accounts of battles that occurred over three months before are given in this paper as the latest news from foreign ports. The changes brought about by the manipulations of steam and electricity since that time are truly wonderful.

Growth of a Big Book.

When Webster's Unabridged was first published in one small volume, it was a comparatively small book. Some years after, an addition was made of 1,500 Pictorial Illustrations. A Table of Synonyms, and an Appendix of New Words that had come into use. A few years later came an entirely new revised edition of larger size, with 3,000 Pictorial Illustrations, then, after an interval of a few years, a Biographical Dictionary of nearly 10,000 Names, and a supplement of nearly 5,000 New Words were added, and now there has come a new and most valuable edition, a Gazetteer of the World, of over 25,000 Titles. The work is now not only the Dictionary, par excellent, but a Biographical Dictionary, a Gazetteer of the World, and a great many good things in its many valuable tables.

Events on "The Ever Glorious.

The "long-talk" was given by Senator Vance of North Carolina at Tammany hall. He spoke against Civil Service Reform.

A Fourth of July fire occurred in Chicago in which two persons were burned to death and four fireman badly hurt.

There was a Fourth of July session of the House at the National Capital. It adjourned at 5 p. m.

The base ball clubs in the different leagues played two games each. In the International league the Stars lost one and gained one from the Uticas. The Rochesters gained two from the Torontos and the Oswegos lost two to the Binghamtons.

Labor demonstrations and mass meetings to express sympathy with Ireland were held at many of the larger centers notably New York, Philadelphia, Milwaukee, Indianapolis and Newark.

Dispatches to the Associated Press from the principal cities in the union report an entire suspension of business and an enthusiastic observance of the day. Very few accidents are reported.

Twenty-five thousand persons witnessed the rowing regatta on the Charles river, Boston. The professional single scull race was contested by Hosmer, Lee, Ross, Ten Eyck, McKay, Conley, Plaisted, Casey, Vail and Kennedy. McKay won, Ten Eyck second and Ross third. Edward Hanlan gave an exhibition of scientific sculling. Ross and mate won the three-mile professional scull race.

The celebration at Sackets Harbor was carried out on an extensive scale. There was a grand parade of national guards and regular troops, speeches by Gen. Wilcox, Rev. Dr. Fisk, John F. Seymour and others.

The celebration at Herkimer was a real old-time Independance day racket. Hose races, a balloon ascension, oration, bicycle races, fireworks, &c.

Twenty thousand workmen marched to Union Square in New York and listened to speeches by Henry George and others in advocacy of home rule for Ireland.

Over 5,000 people witnessed the sham battle which was given at the driving park in Rochester for the benefit of the Monroe county soldiers and sailors monument fund. The sixty-fifth regiment of Buffalo took part in the contest which represented the engagement between the Union and Confederate forces. The amount realized was over $5,000.

The sports in Hampden Park, Springfield, Mass., under the auspices of the Caledonians were attended by deputations from the Caledonian clubs of Albany, Toronto, Hartford, New York, Boston, Worcester, and [illegible]. In the bicycle race George M. [illegible] broke the world's amateur half mile [illegible] time 1:18 2-5, and [illegible]

[illegible]

Prudent people—People who value money for what it will bring—People who of necessity, are obliged to make a little money go a long way, can save money by an examination of our stock and the SPECIAL PRICES in all departments before making purchases of any description of

DRY GOODS OR CLOTHING

This reads rather stereotyped—cut and dried, but it's true all the same in these days of over-heated advertising, when the papers are filled with accounts of bankrupt stock, tons of goods, millions of dollars worth of goods etc., it must be difficult for the public to form any opinion as to the truth of each assertion. Our advice to all is to investigate personally and believe their own eyes and senses. With this advice uppermost in our minds we ask you to come here To-Morrow and see the bargains in our

DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT

All Lines of Dress Goods, Summer Shawls, Wraps Parasols, Corsets, Gloves, Hosiery Laces and Window Draperies of all description.

OIL CLOTHS, &C. &C.

IN OUR CLOTHING DEPARTMENT

We have some rattling good bargains. Come and judge for yourselves who does and who does not give the best goods for the least money. We mean business.

H. & A. ROSENBLOOM.

COUNTY NEWS.

Strawberry picking can now be said to be finished in the county.

Mexico celebrated on Saturday in an appropriate manner. They had the advantage of a much cooler day for their demonstrations.

One hundred crates of berries were shipped from New Haven Saturday and fifty on Monday. Up to that date 6,415 crates had been shipped.

Miss Anna Brewster, a grand-daughter of the late Judge Brewster, who resides at the old Brewster farm in the town of Oswego, was on Thursday taken to Mexico insane asylum by Superintendent Spencer.

About five o'clock Saturday morning the largest building connected with M. Beeman's incubating establishment at Hastings Centre burned to the ground, destroying incubating machines and five hundred capon roosters. It is thought that the fire originated by the explosion of a lamp in an incubator. The loss is estimated at $7,000; insurance $5,000. Mr. Beeman has been very unfortunate—about a year ago his residence burned.

The executive committee of the Old Settlers' association of Oswego county met at B. B. Burt's office in Oswego, Saturday afternoon and voted unanimously to hold the next annual meeting at Mexico, August 19. The members of the committee were all present; Schuyler Rhodes, Scriba; J. C. Wells, Granby; S. H. Read, New Haven; Sterling Newell Mexico, and George Gurley, for W. H Gray, Pulaski.

As reports of a derogatory nature are circulating in this locality we publish by request the following from the Menominee, (Mich.) Democrat of May 15th: "Mrs. Ada G. Coates is the newly appointed postmistress of Stephenson, vice H. S. Coates gone to another state. Mrs. C. is deserving of the office, and will give satisfaction in performing the duties."

GILBERTS MILLS.

Mrs. G. Kelley is visiting J. J. Coit and other friends in Fulton.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Blodgett spent the Fourth with friends at Hannibal and Sterling.

Almon Mason and daughter, Mrs. N. J. Blodgett have spent the last two weeks with S. P. Mason in Oswego. They are now at Sterling stopping with Mrs Almon Bidwell.

Potatoes are doing well but large crops of bugs compel constant watching

The mowing machine is now heard in the fields, the farmers are busy getting in hay.

The young people attended a picnic at Pleasant Point last week. They had a pleasant time and everything passed off nicely.

The Ladies Aid society meet next at Mr. Littlefield's.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Mason have returned from a week's visit with their children and grandchildren in Rochester.

Mrs. S. Taylor of Bernherd's Bay has been the guest of Mrs. Nelson Gardner, during the past week.

X. A. Willard had a photograph of his dwelling &c., taken last week. Well done for X. A.

Rev. O. H. Denney attended the Baptist yearly meeting last week.

LITERARY.

Our Little Ones and the Nursery for July is on our table, filled with bright gems and beautiful engravings for the the little ones. This number contains ten short articles and five poems all of which are artistically illustrated. We have often spoken in high terms of this magazine and will continue to do so while the present high standard is maintained. Subscribe for it for the children. $1.50 per year, Russell Publishing Company, Boston, Mass.

THE CENTURY.

Articles of entertainment and of serious interest share equally the space of the July Century. The frontispiece is a profile portrait of Frank R. Stockton, the famous author. "Cross-Country Riding" "Homing Pigeons," "A Day in Surrey with William Morris," and the third paper on "American Dwellings," are articles of great interest and of untold value to those interested in the subjects of which they treat. As usual the war papers are profusely illustrated. "In the Wake of Battle," "Incidents of the Occupation of New Orleans" and "Gen. George H. Thomas at Chattanooga," [illegible]

NEW YORK LETTER.

(Special to The Times.)

To the average American, Independence Day is full of patriotism—except the citizen of New York. There was a time in the history of this city, and that time, by the way, is largely associated with the good old times of the "fire laddies" and neighborly front stoop gossip, when the glorious Fourth was celebrated with much pomp and ceremony. This is all changed, so much so is this changed that the Harlem celebration is an exceptional thing. The average workingman regards the Fourth as a short surcease from toil and labor, and the naturalized citizen don't fully measure up to what the day means, so he takes his family and celebrates much after the fete day fashion of his native land. I ought not to say that the Fourth of these later days is barren of celebration so far as this city goes, for is there not the great Tammany Society, with its great wigwam and its Fourth celebration(?) Certainly. Then its annual jollification ought to count for something. And it does. Each year they get some Congressman or Senator or some other disciple of Jeffersonionism and the way the Eagle screams and scratches his claws is a caution. To-day Speaker Carlisle will orate and the local sachems will join in the "big talk." I have thought a retrospect of the Tammany society would be interesting.

Tammany Society or the Columbian Order has had an existence nearly as long as the federal government itself. They got the name from Tameneuind, the great chief of the Delaware tribe of Indians who inhabited the valley of the Susquehanna and Delaware rivers, chiefly, however, in the state of Pennsylvania. It was with these Indians that Penn made his famous treaty. Reference is made to this chief by Cooper the novelist, in his "Last of the Mohicans." Tamaneund was noted for his wisdom and honesty, dignity and sobriety. The Tammany society, taking polity for its system of government was organized first as a sort of social order of social club. Better, perhaps, to say as a secret order of a benevolent nature. It had its braves, its sachems, its wiskinskis and grand chief. These titles and other regulations followed Indian customs. For a number of years, it continued in this line. Somewhere about 1820 or '25 it began to be of interested in politics. This interest increased till its culmination in 1868, when it controlled absolutely all the offices of the city government. So extensive was the control that it secured by fraud the election of John T. Hoffman Governor in that year. The voting strength of the Tammany society in this city is about 50,000 to 60,000, and its usefulness in the state would muster a very considerable portion of the Democratic party. Contemporary with Tammany was the Empire Club whose destinies were at the beck of Capt. Rynders, and it was his chief delight to boast of the fact that this club had made the defeat of Henry Clay for President possible.

⁂

The tendancy to questionable deals is one of the most apparent things in this city. I occasionally see the evidence of this just now, a big scheme is on foot to place the telegraph wires under ground. The Common Council has ordered it, and the Legislature has sanctioned it. A commission has been formed and recently reported in favor of some patented process that means the benefit of some patentee who has liberally fed and watered "the powers that be" in his favor. It is the funniest thing that whenever anything that requires a specialty of knowledge is started it falls to the lot of the prominent politicians to father it. This buying of the telegraph and telephone wires confirms this. The commission consists of a politician, Jake Hess, a theatre man, Mr. Moss, a banker, Mr. Flower, the candidate for Lieutenant Governor last fall. These three who so far as their knowledge of the needs of the telegraph service is concerned know very little, have this matter to decide. Recently Mr. Flower brought in a report favoring the conduct made of Asphaltum. They have performed a semblance of duties, brought a report and drawn a comfortable salary.

⁂

Boycotting is a thing of the past. Members of labor societies will hesitate greatly before they prevent a man transacting his legitimate business when by so doing Sing Sing portals become open to them. Two or three years sentence at hard labor is not a pleasant thing to think of. This is the penalty of [illegible]

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our Regular Correspondent]

Washington, July 2d, 1886.

Congress has been wrestling with appropriation bills this week, hoping to hasten an adjournment, but that event is still far off. No matter how urgent their work, however, our law-makers can always find time to stray off into irrelevlant paths in the midst of any debate. No matter how important the question under consideration, not a day passes but that both legeslative halls of the Capitol are scenes of undignified assaults of members upon each other, partisan thrusts, and and acrimonious personalties.

While looking down at the representatives of fifty millions of people, your correspondent is often grieved at the affrontery of our legislators who turn from the mighty responsibility and pressure of public business to waste time over their petty wrangles and personal animosities. The present week has been unusually prolific in quarrels of this kind, and in the revival of little feuds. One of the most ludicious scenes took place between Congressmen Cabb and Laird. Hot words passed between them for several minutes, and flat contradictions and threats followed, when both jumped up threatningly told the other that he had better not threaten.

And no matter how great the urgency of public business, Congressmen take time for a little pleasantry whenever an opportunity is presented. To-day the fun may be at the expense of one of the National Capital's monuments. To-morrow it may be a Cabinet officer who is placed in a ridiculous light. Yesterday it was the new Pension Building that was assailed with the battery of ridicule. Representative Durham put it mildly by calling it an architectual monstrosity. Representative Rogers referred to it as a cross between a car stable and a union depot. Mr. Springer thought it was ugly enough to be blown up with dynamite, while Mr. Cannon admired the structure very much and Mr. McMillan said he rather liked it.

Senator Ingalls of Kansas predicts that the Senate will undo some of the work recently done by the House when that grave and Augnst body gets a chance. He referred to the bill passed by the House, prohibiting pool-selling, book-making, betting on sports, elections, or other events, and gambling of all kinds in the District of Columbia

There was a spirited debate in the House at the time. Representative Hemphill, of South Carolina, said that every state had a law of that kind, and and as we were a Christian nation, the people of the District of Columbia should receive as much moral help as people elsewhere. Representative Adams, of New York, who undertook to point out the fatality of such laws, asked if they were not uniformly evaded in every state. The South Carolinian was not prepared to deny the allegation, but contended that the law was good, and that because people were bad enough to break it was no reason why it should not be made.

Representative Barbour, of Virginia, was also opposed to placing legislative restrictions upon horse-racing and other such pastimes. He held that it was of national importance, that he wanted to cultivate the noble animal—the horse. "But is this bill against horse-racing, or against betting?' asked Mr. Weaver, of Iowa. "Oh, every-body knows," said Mr. Barbour, "that you can't keep up horse-racing without the interest that betting gives." But the House passed the bill against such sports, and that is the one that Senator Ingalls says the Senate will kill when it comes before it. We are inclined to be very wicked on the Senate side of the Capitol, said he, and the Pruitanical ideas that seek to take root in Washington will not be fostered much by our treatment. He holds that people have a right to do as they please with their money, it is to be hoped that he is mistakened as to the sentiment of the Senate on this subject.

So many interesting and important events have occurred in Washington, and so many distinguished people have lived and died here, that it is at last suggested that houses and spots of historical interest be designated in some way. It is rather strange that the City Fathers have not attended to this before. It would add greatly to the interest and pleasure of visitors to Washington if tablets were placed upon the walls of [illegible]

Consumption.

Notwithstanding the great number who yearly succumb to this terrible and fatal disease, which is daily winding its fatal coils around thousands who are unconscious of its deadly presence, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery" will cleanse and purify the blood of scrofulous impurities, and cure tubercular consumption (which is only scrofulous disease of the lungs). Send 10 cents in stamps and get Dr. Pierce's complete treatise on consumption and kindred afflictions, with numerous testimonials of cures. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

CHEESE MARKETS.

[From the Utica Herald.]

Utica, July 5.

The market to-day, was dull and uninteresting, salesmen being few in number and prices being about ⅛c. lower than last week. The extreme heat, and the fifth of July, combined with the weaker tone of the market to keep salesmen at home. There was enough, however, to make a large total of sales, counting the cheese engaged outside during last week on the basis of the Utica market. Milk is shrinking now quite rapidly, hough probably no more than it ought to at this season of the year. Quite a large number of factories were not represented at all to-day, while most of the others made small shipments. The fancy factories all sold a part of their regular offerings, and rumors of something a little higher than any quotations were current on the board. Sales were as follows; 13 lots, 1,170 boxes, at 6¾c.; 61 lots, 6,165 boxes, at 6⅞c.; 20 lots, 1,927 boxes, at 7c.; 12 lots, 1,538 boxes, at 7⅛c.; 15 lots, 1,609 boxes, at 7¼c.; 200 boxes, at p. t. Sales, 12,609 boxes; commissions, 722 boxes; total, 13,391 boxes, Ruling price 6⅞c. Transactions of corresponding day last year, 12,684 boxes, ruling price 7⅜c. Two years ago, 13,812 boxes, ruling price 8¼c.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

Little Falls, July 5.

A holiday market is not usually a very brisk one, and ours to-day has been no exception to the rule. The extremely hot weather also had a depressing effect and prices were about ½c. lower. The offerings were not large for July, neither were buyers anxious to secure large purchases. But nearly all stock offered was taken as follows:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
44	3,382	6¾ cents
54	4,093	7 cents
6	370	com.
104	7,845
Farm dairy	1 531
Total	8,376

Farm dairy—There were sales of 531 boxes of farm dairy cheese at 6½c. to 7¼c.; bulk 7c.

Butter—Forty-one packages butter sold at 15 to 16c.; bulk at 15½c.

AT FULTON.

Twenty factories were represented at at this market Monday night, with about 2,000 boxes. Of this number only about 800 were sold at the ruling, 6⅞c., the balance being held over.

OVER WORKED Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

T C & Co

CLOTHING

The "T, C. & CO." clothing FITS Nicely, has a CUSTOM FINISH and is MADE TO WEAR. It is FAMOUS for being the BEST and CHEAPEST, and is made in ALL GRADES, ALL SIZES, ALL SHAPES and for ALL AGES.

These Goods may be known by the above trade mark on the tickets. Don't buy any more clothing until you have seen some of the T. C. & Co. brand.

Sold by Peebles & Cook, Fulton.

We Have Just Received

ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF

Ladies' Kid Button Shoes

"Hand Made."

Best Fitting, Best Wearing and Cheapest Shoe

in the county.

[illegible]

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.

Time Table Taking Effect Feb. 1st, 1886.

NORTHWARD. 5	3	1	9	STATIONS.	SOUTHWARD. 6	4	2	10
p m	p m	a m	a m	Leave Arrive	a m	a m	p m	p m
5 15	3 55	8 50	6 00	Jay St., N. Y.	9 40	1100	7 50	1120
5 45	4 15	9 20	6 20	42nd St., N. Y.	9 25	1045	7 35	1110
7 38	6 00	1110	9 30	Cornwall	7 40	9 00	5 47	6 18
8 20	6 35	1142	1028	Campbell Hall	7 11	8 30	5 13	7 10
8 45	7 00	1210	1240	Middletown	6 55	8 15	4 55	6 30
†902	7 21	1229	1 10	Winterton	†633	7 58	†431	5 50
†906	7 27	1236	1 25	Bloom'ngb'rgh	†628	7 47	4 25	5 40
†912	7 32	1241	1 30	Wurtsboro	†624	7 43	*421	5 30
9 18	7 40	1250	1 40	Summitville	6 17	7 35	4 13	5 20
....	8 00	1 20	....	Ellenville	....	7 15	3 40	....
*936	p m	1 11	2 10	Mountain Dale	*600	a m	3 54	4 55
*943	....	1 20	2 22	Centerville	*553	....	3 47	4 40
*953	....	1 32	2 35	Fallsburgh	*545	....	3 38	4 25
1000	....	1 40	2 50	Hurley	*537	....	3 30	4 10
1012	Pass & Fr't	1 54	3 18	Liberty Falls	*525	....	3 18	3 47
1016		2 00	3 37	Liberty	5 20	....	3 13	3 37
1030		2 15	4 00	Parksville	*508	Mixed	2 59	3 18
1042		2 45	4 25	L'v'gst'n Man'r	4 55		2 45	2 50
1055		3 00	4 43	Rockland	4 40		2 32	2 17
1107		3 12	4 57	Cook's Falls	*428		2 20	2 08
1130		3 33	5 25	East Branch	4 05		1 58	1 35
....	13	*343	5 35	Fish's Eddy	....	14	*149	1 22
1150	a m	3 55	5 50	Hancock	3 43	p m	1 38	1 03
1240	6 40	4 40	6 45	Walton	2 55	4 20	1255	1155
9 00	5 35	5 50	p m	Delhi	....	5 50	1040	a m
1 20	7 40	5 15	Oswego Exp.	Franklin	2 15	3 30	1205	Pass & Fr't
†123	7 52	5 22		Sidney Centre	†205	3 15	1157
1 45	8 55	5 40		Sidney [Depart	1 45	2 45	1140
....	....	7 30		New Berlin	....	....	7 00
....	9 30	†555		Guilford Centr	....	1 50	1122
2 08	9 40	5 59		Guilford	1 20	1 40	1119
2 24	1005	6 13		Oxford	1 03	1 15	1104
2 45	1030	6 30	31	Norwich	1240	1245	1045	50
....	47	....	....		....	32	....	....
	a m		a m			p m	a m	p m
2 50	2 15	6 33	7 30	Norwich	1230	7 20	1040	8 20
†302	2 32	*645	7 43	North Norwich	....	7 08	1029	6 00
†314	2 55	6 58	7 57	Smyrna	1208	6 58	1018	5 40
3 28	3 08	7 05	8 06	Earlville	1200	6 46	1011	5 15
3 32	3 30	7 13	8 15	Randallsville	1150	6 38	1003	4 45
†345	3 50	7 25	8 27	Eaton	1140	6 29	9 55	4 20
*350	4 03	7 30	8 32	Morrisville	1133	6 22	9 48	4 03
†404	4 30	7 43	8 45	Munnsville	1117	6 05	9 33	3 10
†415	4 55	*755	8 57	Community	1103	5 50	*921	2 20
4 21	5 06	8 00	9 08	Oneida Castle	1057	5 45	9 14	2 08
4 29	5 10	8 05	9 15	Oneida	1055	5 40	9 12	2 00
†433	p m	*810	*920	Durhamville	....	*512	*853	1248
*450	....	*827	9 38	North Bay	1027	4 54	8 35	1210
*505	....	8 42	9 53	Cleveland	1013	4 37	8 21	1140
*512	....	*847	1000	B'rnhard's Bay	1007	4 31	*814	1111
5 22	....	8 55	1007	Constantia	1000	4 24	8 07	1100
5 42	....	9 12	1024	Central Square	9 43	4 08	7 49	1024
†549	....	9 18	1031	Caughdenoy	9 35	*400	†741	9 50
5 57	....	9 28	1038	Pennellville	9 28	3 54	7 34	9 40
6 18	....	9 47	1058	Fulton	9 10	3 35	7 15	8 50
6 50	....	1010	1125	Oswego	8 45	3 10	6 50	7 30
a m	p m	p m	a m	Arrive Depart	p m	p m	a m	a m

Train 1—Stops at Wurtsboro on signal, and at Winterton for New York passengers only.
Train 2—Stops at Guilford Centre for New York passengers only, and at North Norwich on signal.
Train 5—Stops at Hurley, Liberty Falls, Parksville and Cook's Falls on signal.
Train 31—Stops at Caughdenoy on signal.
Train 6—Stops at Morrisville, North Bay and Cleveland on signal; at Smyrna, Earlville, Eaton, Munnsville, Community and Bernhard's Bay for New York passengers only.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING SOUTH.

WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED

With or without Patent Index.

WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED DICTIONARY — A LIBRARY IN ITSELF

The Attention of School Officers, and others, is invited to the fact that in purchasing the latest issue of this work, they get

A DICTIONARY

containing 3000 more words and nearly 2000 more illustrations than any other American Dictionary.

A GAZETTEER OF THE WORLD

containing over 25,000 Titles, with their pronunciation and a vast amount of other information, (just added, 1885) and

A BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY

giving pronunciation of names and brief facts concerning nearly 10,000 Noted Persons; also various tables giving valuable information.

ALL IN ONE BOOK.

Webster's Unabridged Dictionary is recommended by the State Superintendents of Schools in 30 States, and by leading College Presidents of the United States and Canada. It is Standard Authority with the United States Supreme Court, and in the Government Printing Office. It has been selected in every case where State Purchases have been made for Schools, and is the Dictionary upon which nearly all the school books are based.

GET THE LATEST AND BEST.

It is an invaluable companion in every School and at every Fireside.

G. & C. MERRIAM & CO., Pub'rs, Springfield, Mass.

Real Estate and Insurance AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 94 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y.

☞ Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at Fulton, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

[illegible]

--LUMBER YARD!--

—WE HAVE IN STOCK A—

Complete Assortment

—OF—

Lumber, Lath, Shingles &c.

—And in fact everything pertaining to a—

FIRST-CLASS YARD.

We are prepared to furnish thoroughly seasoned lumber at the Lowest Rates. Call and be convinced.

BOOMER & LOOMIS.
Corner Broadway and First Sts.

CALL ON

GEORGE JOHNSTON,

On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of

STOVES AND RANGES,

Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND, ART UNIVERSAL, DENMARK, PRINCESS ALADDIN, and ACORN, Parlor Stoves.	THE MAGEES MYSTIC, GRAND UNIVERSAL, HAPPY THOUGHT, HAPPY HOME, and DUCHESS Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the

Howe Ventilating Stove,

which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.

Yours Respectfully,

GEO. JOHNSTON.

—THE—

Howe Ventilating Stove,

A NEW STOVE.
ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE.
AN EXCELLENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE.
A PERFECT VENTILA[illegible]

☞ A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys, burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person [illegible] The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It [illegible] lates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken [illegible] Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes [illegible] Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while [illegible] impure air being heavier than fresh, pipe heated air drops down to [illegible] forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe [illegible] pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE

Howe Ventilating Stove Company, [illegible]

FULTON BUS

[illegible]

[illegible] Proprietors

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express.......... 8:16 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express....11:47 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express....... 3:47 p. m
Freight and Accommodation.......... 6:15 p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express..... 8:15 p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express....8:16 a. m.
Day Express..........12:18 p. m.
Day Express..........2:48 p. m.
Freight and Accommodation ....6:15 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express.....7:18 p. m.

The 8:16 a. m., and 6:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. Schwarz, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express..........7:13 a. m
Freight and Accommodation..........8:40 a. m
Norwich Express..........3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express..........9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express..........6:24 a. m
Oswego Express..........11:27 a. m.
Freight and accommodation..........5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express..........9:57 p. m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:21	2:10	5:21
For Oswego,	9:10	12:54	8:24	6:30

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS.

J. J. Stephens of Washington is in town.

Miss Hattie Royce is home from Chicago.

Mrs. A. F. Buell of Syracuse, has been in town for a few days.

Miss Mamie Clark of Oswego, spent Sunday and Monday in town.

Walter Rust and Hiram Barnes of Cortland are in town this week.

Miss Alice Shute of Syracuse, has been spending a few days in town.

Miss Hattie Proudfoot of Seneca Falls, has been visiting friends in town.

Miss Lolla Hatch has gone for an extended visit with friends in Cazenovia.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan McLane of Toronto, Can., are visiting friends in Fulton.

Mr. and Mrs. George. E. Weaver of East Syracuse, spent Sunday with M. B. Buell.

Mrs. Knight of Fulton is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. K. Leitch.—[Skaneateles Free Press.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart of Syracuse, were in town Monday, guests of M. A. Stewart.

Miss Minnie Inman and Miss Anna Morley, have returned from Weedsport, for a few days.

M. B. Schenck of New Haven, Conn., formerly of this village, has been in town for a few days.

Prof Robert Simpson of Hornelsville, a former principal of Fulton Union school, was in town Monday.

Charles Carner of Syracuse, spent Sunday and Monday in town, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Baker.

Miss Rebecca Stewart returned last Thursday from Syracuse, where she has been visiting friends a short time.

Mrs. Sandford Adams and Miss Fannie Adams, of Rome, N. Y., have been visiting here, guests of Mrs. R. K. Harris.

Mrs. J. W. Crosby of Lower Oswego Falls, who has been visiting in Syracuse and Baldwinsville, returned last week.

W. D. Robinson, who has been sojourning in Fulton for a week or two among friends, has returned to his home in Buffalo.

Rev. H. B. Goodyear leaves to-morrow for a two week's visit at his home in Springfield, Mass. Rev. Mr. Robinson of Cortland, will officiate at Zion church during the absence of Mr. Goodyear.

Dr. I. C. Curtis left last Friday night for a six week's trip to Cuba for the benefit of his health. During his absence Dr. E. C. VanDusen of Cato, formerly of this village, will be in the Office and attend to all callers.

Cabbage plants, the best variety. For sale at L. K. Wilbur's, Fay street. 6w2

Buy the Underhill Opera Slipper of Goodjon. The best made.

Gents' Bal. Button and Congress Shoes in the latest tip of the style, only $1.50 at COLLINS'. 7tf

Keep your eyes open for bargains in Boots and Shoes at GOODJON'S.

☞ You will always find reliable Shoes at the Lowest Prices at Collins'. 7tf

To Buyers of Carpets, Furniture and Curtains.

Never before have we been in position to show such a large and elegant stock of Stylish Carpets and Furniture as now and at such extremely Low Prices. We feel confident that it will pay you to call and examine our immense stock before buying elsewhere.

A. A. Graff & Co.
61 & 63 South Salina St.,
Syracuse, N. Y.

N. B. We pay freight on goods purchased from us.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

IMPORTANT TO INVALIDS.
MRS. E. G. [illegible], M. D. of [illegible]
[illegible]

[illegible] York as before, but upon the "Queen City." Starting from Omaha the trip west is very interesting, and now with the Rocky mountains in sight I am delighted to see what's on the other side. I stopped at three or four large places in Nebraska, but Omaha, the metropolis, and Lincoln, the capital, are of the most interest.

Omaha is a clean wide awake town, full of business, and growing rapidly. They claim 75,000 people, and since the first house was built there in 1851, the "Gate City" has pushed right ahead. It is just half way between New York and SanFrancisco, and is a great railroad centre. The streets are wide and paved with granite. Buildings are substantial, and highly ornamental. Omaha as a society town is fast coming to the front. Lincoln is the next largest city in Nebraska, and 30,000 people claim it as their home. The streets are not paved as yet, but they are not as bad as they might be. The public buildings, and schools are the finest I have seen anywhere, and do credit to the public spirit of the Lincoln people. The suburbs are made up of small cottages and villas and present the most home-like mass of buildings I have ever seen. Queen Ann has not reached this town yet, and so the small, plain, wide porticoed homes take the place of thos distorted monstrosities that have been placed to Queen Ann's credit. The young ladies affect short hair, and are decidedly unique in dress, but they are independent. The rest of the towns through Nebraska are small, and not of much interest. The ride through the state, and into Colorado was a little monotonous. Nothing to look at. Land flat, and slightly rolling, with not a bit of shrubbery. Occasionally we would pass a herd of cattle attended by cow-boys, or see them corralled for a rest. The homestead claims are held down by a shanty 10x20 usually or a small sod house. They look out of place, for they are built away back from everything, and stand alone in their glory. A man thinks himself lucky if he has a neighbor within two miles. Just think of living out there alone, and away from civilization and everything that tends to civilize. Nothing to look at but the sky and flat country. No comforts, and hardly the necessities of life. Game is abundant, especially jack rabbits and chickens. The rabbits are very large and the way they can cover the ground is a caution.

The first view I got of the mountains was when we were approaching Denver. The sun was shining through a break in some heavy clouds, and the reflections from the snow capped hills were but a few rods away. In a better light the foot hills grow darker, and the silver of of the ones above, changes to slate color. Denver is indeed a Queen city. With its 75,000 people it is much ahead of Omaha in everything, and reminds one of New York in a great many ways. Electric lights—both arc and incandescent—brighten the streets at night, and flash from tall towers in various places.

Tabor's hotel and opera house is an elegant building, and the court house here is a model. To-day I witnessed a trial of the fire department, quick time, hose laying and ladder climbing. The streets are macademized, and water is kept running through all the gutters. Everything looks so clean about the streets that you can but think that some one is going around with a big broom, all the time. From a sanitary point the valve of this irrigation can't be computed. Dirt changes hands mighty quick here, sometimes, and every change made enhances the value of the real estate. Some of the transactions make a tenderfoots head swim. So it is all through this country, from the Missouri to the coast. They gamble in town sights holes in the ground, and inflated town lots, instead of the cotton and wheat future's and slippery stocks of the east. Gambling is conducted openly here, but they do not work as much in the light as do the card shufflers in some of the Dakota and Iowa towns I have been in. Policy, and pools on ball games though have full swing. The street talk of course is strongly flavored with the mines, and you hear about stamp-mills, repeaters, flumes etc., on every corner.

I went down to the Grand Union depot to look at the narrow guage cars that go out each day toward the Pacific. Funny little things they look compared with their eastern associates. Engines look as though you could pick them up. I look at the cars, and wonder if they will carry one over the great divide. If I do go I will have something to write about. And as I gaze up the track, and then into the mountains I wonder if there is not some Fulton people up there who used to know the Wandering Jew.

Entertainment at No. 1.

The upper room in No. 1 school was completely filled last Friday evening by parents and friends of the scholars, who had assembled to witness the closing exercises. The room was nicely decorated with evergreens and flags and a platform had been erected in the east end of the room from which the exercises took place. The entertainment was of a pleasing nature throughout and scholars from all departments took part, all of whom did nicely and some of them remarkably so, showing the excellent drill that they had received from their teachers. The following was the program:

1 Scene; "Ho, ho, Vacation Days are Here," School
2 Recitation, "Barney did It," Lena Richistine
3 Recitation, "The Bachelor's Button," Mabel Wybron
4 Scene; "Mill May." Primary pupils
5 Recitation; "The Newsboy's Debt," Addie Hulett
6 Recitation; "Three Little Mushrooms."
7 "Why Don't They Propose," Anna Hate
8 Song; "Colleen Avarra,"
9 Recitation; "At the Windows," Ida Kelly
10 Recitation, "Little Midgets" Fred Flaxington, Lydia Scouton
11 Dialogue; "Aunt Doleful's Visit."
12 Song; "Swinging neath the old Apple tree" Primary Department
13 Recitation; "Jesus Lover of my Soul," Carrie Porter
14 Recitation; Flora Redd
15 Scene; "The Children of the Year."
17 "Address to the Dude."
18 "What is It?"
19 Doll Drill. Primary pupils

[illegible]

One Hundred and Fifty [illegible] Boys' and Youths' C[illegible]vas Ball Shoes. To be sold at manufacturer's prices until closed out, at,

NETTLETON'S.

How is it that we had no rain on the Fourth?

Morrill Bros. have received their new paper cutter and press.

Post Schenck will give during the last week in July, an excursion to Sylvan Beach.

Monday, Tuesday and to-day have been the three warmest days of the season thus far.

The Times is indebted to Mrs. C. E. Sackett for two large, breezy palm leaf fans. They are very acceptable these hot days.

A new time table went into effect on the N. Y. O. & W. and S. P. & O. railroads last Monday. The corrected time table will be found in another column

Oren Miller, proprietor of the opera house restaurant on Thursday last caught 37 pounds of black bass in Lake Neatahwanta. The largest weighed 4¾ pounds.

A game of ball was played on Saturday in the park between clubs from Foster Brothers' and Taylor Brothers' Knife factories. It resulted in favor of Foster Brother's nine, with a score of 36 to 33.

One of the handsomest row boats on the river this season is the "Idlewild," owned by W. C. Tucker and F. E. Sutherland. The boat was made by Powell & Douglass of Waukegan, Ill., and is elegantly upholstered in plush and handsomely painted.

Rev. A. H. Hanscom of Phœnix, will preach next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Johnston's hall, Oswego Falls. Mr. Hanscom is spoken of as a very able speaker and his sermon next Sunday will be unusually interesting. The public are cordially invited.

G. W. Ostrum, Mayor of Trenton, Ont., and O. H. Bouter, T. H. James, F. Cornwall and George Ballinger, councilmen of the same city were in Fulton last Friday, looking over the hydraulic race. They contemplate building a similar one in Trenton.

Fire was discovered Sunday evening in the house occupied by Louis Goman on Erie street. An alarm was given and the department responded, but before their arrival the flames had been extinguished by pails of water. Goman's household goods were considerably damaged by smoke and water.

The Phœnix races opened on Monday with a large attendance. There were three events billed for the opening day, two trots for the three minute class and the 2:29 class and a pacing race. In the three minute class there was six starters—Anson E. Alvord's speedy mare, Lady Whitefoot, being a great favorite in the betting. She won the race handily. Henry Kelsoe's black gelding, Grattan, won the 2:29 race and John Eastman's side-wheeler, Emerald, won the pacing race. There was also a large attendance at the second day's racing. The 2:33 class race was won by Cady with Bessie E. second. Lysander Belle won the 2:45 race with Lady Dennis second.

The Line Road Scandal.

Mrs. Liza Gates, from accounts which we have received has lead a somewhat checkered life. She is the adopted daughter of Joshua Lake who lives on the line road between Schrœppel and Volney and for whom she has been keeping house some time. About five weeks ago Lake found it necessary to come to Fulton and on his return home he found that his cherished(?) daughter had departed, taking with her in some unaccountable way, furniture, dishes, bedding, milk pans, spoons, etc., to the amount of $75 or more. Mr. Lake was at first opposed to taking any legal steps in the matter, but it is said he has now placed the affair in the hands of the authorities of the town of Schrœppel. Mrs. Gates is reported to us as having already lived with three men. Indications now seem to point to the fact that she is living with a fourth with no great outlay for household goods.

Men's Canvas Shoes of all kinds very low at Goodjon's.

Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares, two years ago, and find it very durable and economical.

Hart Bros.

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets. Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expediously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. 7tf

For the next 10 days Specia Bargains in Calf Boots at GOODJON'S.

Draper has reduced the price on all holiday goods, fancy crockery, gloves and mittens, [illegible], &c., to 10 per cent. less than cost, he is bound to close them all out instead of holding them for next fall's trade.

HARPOON FORKS
for $1.00
—at—
Snow & Loomis' Hardware,
and
Horse Rakes,
Hand Rakes,
Pitch Forks,
Pulley Blocks,
Rope and
Haying Tools,
at equally low prices.

More About the Electric Lights.

Representatives of the Thomson-Houston Electric Company are in town looking over the ground carefully and will probably be able to make a proposition to our village fathers at their meeting this evening as to what can be done toward the introduction of the lights. To a Times reporter they said that Auburn was lighted by this system cheaper than any city they knew of—that the price paid was $100 per light, per year, and that although Fulton was much smaller than Auburn and less lights would be used they would probably be able to offer the same terms. The company have developed and are introducing a system of Incandescent Electric Lighting by which incandescent lights can be successfully and economically run from the same circuit with arc lights. Eight of these, giving a light of fifteen candle power each, can be run at the same expense as one arc light. Now by a judicious selection and placing of arc and incandescent lights it seems that the cost might be brought sufficiently low to guarantee its introduction. We offer the following to our readers as points where lights could be placed to excellent advantage. At the corner of First and Oneida; First and Cayuga; on First between Rochester and Broadway; First and Pratt; First and Division; Second and Seneca; Second and Rochester; Second and Broadway: Third and Erie; Third and Cayuga; Third and Buffalo; Third and Highland; Fourth and Utica; Fourth and Academy; Fourth and State; Fifth and Buffalo; Sixth and Oneida; with Incandescent lights at Second and Academy, Third and Oneida; Park and Broadway; Fourth and Division; Fifth and Erie; Fifth and Oneida; Fifth and Highland; Fifth and Broadway.

Temperance Meeting.

The announcement that a temperance mass meeting would be held in the Opera House last Friday evening filled the building to overflowing. The speakers were Father Early, Rev. W. Dempster Chase, Rev. J. C. Beaker, and others. At 8 o'clock the meeting was opened by electing D. W. Gardner, chairman. After a few remarks by Mr. Gardner, the glee club, consisting of Messrs. Cooper, Coit, Hoff and Gilbert, was introduced and sang an appropriate selection. Father Early was then introduced by the chairman and for a short time spoke in his impassioned, eloquent way, frequently being interrupted by applause. Declamations by Alfred LaPort and Master Ellis Gray were well delivered and loudly applauded. Rev. W. Dempster Chase made a very able address, as did Rev. J. C. Breaker.

A song by Miss Althouse was finely rendered and well received. The house was very handsomely trimmed with flags and elicited much favorable comment. The Father Matthew organizations of Oswego Falls and Fulton were present in a body and occupied the orchestra chairs in front of the stage which was reserved for them. Seated upon thes tage were several of the clergy, a number of prominent citizens, representatives of the Oswego Falls Observer, Fulton Patriot and others.

Marital.

Thomas A. Barker and Miss Addie Bache, both of this village, were married last Wedneseay evening at the Catholic church, Rev. Father Kearney officiating. The newly wedded pair left Monday night for Nashville, Tenn., where they will make their future home.

Last Wednesday evening at the home of the groom on Broadway, Alonzo H. Clark of Fulton, and Miss Mina A. Cole of West Troy, were married by Rev. J. C. Breaker.

At the residence of the officiating clergyman, J. C. Breaker, on Third St., Mr. Franklin J. VanDeLinder and Miss Nettie Barnhart were married last Wednesday.

Frank E. Spencer and Miss Carrie Blasier, both of this village, were married last Sunday by the Rev. Mr. Darling of Oswego. They will reside in Fulton.

Married—Saturday, July 3d, by the Rev. J. C. Breaker, at the home of the bride on Utica street, Mr. John Auringer of Phœnix, and Miss Hattie Redhead of Fulton.

The Street Railroad.

Half of the iron and material for the new street railroad will be shipped tomorrow and as soon as it arrives work will commence. The balance of the iron will be shipped inside of three days according to the contract. All contracts are to be completed by July 15th, and it is confidently expected that soon after that day the road will be in active operation. Mr. Altman will be in town to-morrow to purchase the horses and complete other necessary arrangements.

Held for the Grand Jury.

Cyrus Mead of this village, who was arrested recently on a warrant sworn out by G. A. Salladin has been held in the sum of $200 to await the action of the grand jury. It appeared from the evidence that a week ago Sunday Mead entered Salladin's house, during the absence of the family and was there found by Deputy Sheriff Poole. Mead claimed that he was looking for a pet cat. Immediately upon Salladin's return he was acquainted with the facts and a warrant was sworn out.

THE SPORTING LIFE,
The Leading Sporting Paper in the [illegible]
[illegible]

The Chief desires to thank Miss Frankie Coats for bouquets furnished to the Fire Department last Monday.

The Sunday schools of Trinity and First M. E. churches of Oswego, will hold their annual excursion on the fair grounds to-morrow.

The Stars have taken fourth position in the International League race. The Torontos are first, the Rochesters second anp and Uticas third.

The school at upper Oswego Falls, closed Friday. An ice cream festival was given by Miss Shea to the pupils of her department on that day.

We can imagine the look of contentment and grim satisfaction that now beams on the countenance of the hotel proprietors of the summer resorts.

The speed of trains running through the village have been limited to "six miles per hour." Two posts have been erected at the village limits bearing that legend. A very commendable move.

In an article on the commencement exercises of the Fairport, N. Y. Union school, the Monroe County Mail speaks very highly of Mrs. Jennie Elder's original and nicely read essay on "The Universe."

The grand Juvenile Operetta "Little Red Riding Hood's Rescue or the Danger of Disobedience" is to be presented at the opera house next Wednesday evening, July 14th. Tickets on sale at Watson's drug store.

Mr. D. J. Freese, of Melvin, Ill., who has exchanged property with W. R. Hamilton, will occupy Mr. Hamilton's old stand in Miller's hat store. Mr. Freese is an experienced jeweler and will no doubt receive the share of the patronage he deserves.

A 7-year-old son of Dennis Rairdon, who lives about two miles up the river, fell from a horse Monday and suffered a dislocation and fracture of the left arm at the elbow. Dr. Loomis of this village was called and made the little sufferer as comfortable as possible.

A disgraceful fight occurred Sunday in the park between John Farrell and Thomas McCormick. The latter received a severe pounding. Both parties had been drinking freely. A warrant was sworn out, the parties were arrested and fined $7.00 each.

There were no services at the Methodist and Baptist churches and at the Congregational church of Oswego Falls last Sunday evening, the pastors of these churches uniting with the Presbyterian in a union service in which Rev. Chas. Hudson Smith preached his last sermon as pastor of that church.

The attention of our readers is called to the manufacturer's sale of fine watches, clocks, jewelry, etc., at Blount's auction and commission rooms on First street. The auction sale continues every evening with private sales during the day. The stock of goods is very large and complete and will be sold at your own price.

To advertise well, a merchant should give as much care to his newspaper space as he does to any other department of his business. As a general thing a merchant can well afford to spend in newspaper advertising from one-third to one-fifth the amount of all his other expenses. If a man in business talks as earnestly through his newsprper when he is addressing thousands of readers, simultaneously, as when he is talking to one customer, he cannot fail to make a success of newspaper advertising.—[Exchange.

From an exchange we take the following concerning the operetta which is to be rendered at the opera house next Wednesday evening:

> "Little Red Ridtng Hood's Rescue" was played here last Friday and Saturday evenings by some 50 children and young ladies and gentlemen of our city. The training for the play was done by the Campbell family, and to say that it was a success would be putting it mildly. The rendition of the parts played by the younger portion of the troupe was as well done as that done by many professionals, and reflects much credit upon the ability of the children, as well as their teachers. The house was well filled both evenings, and all appreciated the excellence of the entertainment.

CARD OF THANKS.

I desire to express the sincere thanks of myself and family for the loving aid and sympathy so generously bestowed by friends and neighbors during the illness, death and burial of my late wife Margaret.

Jas. Gilhooley.

AUCTION! AUCTION!

The Eastern trade sale at C. W. Blount's auction store has one of the largest stocks of watches, clocks, jewelry and silverware in this part of the State. These are surplus stocks of manufactures and will be sold for just what they will bring. Every article is guaranteed to be first-class and just as represented. Private sale for ladies during the day, auction in the evening.

B. H. Wade, Manager
F. P. Morris, Auctioneer.

An extra stock of Ladies Fine Shoes at wholesale prices just in at Goodjon's.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery

Capt. Coleman, schr. Weymouth, plying between Atlantic City and New York, had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his breast. [illegible]

[illegible] smart boys had been for several nights silently confiscating all the obtainable dry goods boxes, etc., with the intention of having a rousing big fire. The fire was built on First street near the canal bridge and for a short time the electric lights looked quite pale and insignificant. As the fire waned and the huge pile of boxes, barrels, etc. became ashes, the enthusiasm seemed to increase until it reached fever heat. Soon after another alarm from the fire bell was heard and a bright light on the flats gave evidence that the patriotism of Young America was fairly bubbling over. The department responded to the alarm and it was found that an old house on the flats had been offered up as a sacrifice to the spirit of '76. No effort was made to save the property by the firemen, they evidently thinking that it was "good riddance to bad rubbish." All night long the small boy yelled and fired firecrackers, and blowed horns and when morning dawned, instead of being in the least exhausted by their night's work, they seemed refreshed and invigorated and began the new day with increased enthusiasm.

About 9 o'clock Monday morning the procession, consisting of the Father Mathew organizations, the two hose companies of Oswego Falls, Post Schenck, G. A. R. and part of the Fulton fire department formed in line in First street and after a short march through the village wended its way to the fair ground. Immediately after the arrival of the procession, the following program was carried out: Address of welcome, Rev. Chas. Olmstead; music under the direction of Prof. James Cooper; reading of declaration of independence, Dr. E. Frank Marsh; music; oration, N. N. Stranahan; music; address Rev. Father Early. Dr. W. L. Woodbury, Rev. J. C. Breaker and Rev. Charles Hudson Smith made short but stirring addresses on the temperance question. Attorney Stranahan did himself honor in his oration and its spirited delivery. He received merited applause. The address lasted about half an hour and was listened to with marked attention. All day long the air was hot and sultry as the breath of an oven, but in spite of this, crowds of people visited the grounds faintly hoping that a cool breeze would be wafted from the lake, and coupled with the shade on the pleasant shore, make life at least endurable. In this they were disappointed, but, making the best of a bad matter, they strolled through the woods, dabbled in the water, lay in the shade, and panted and sweltered. Palm leaf fans, ice cream, lemonade and cold water were at a premium.

About 1 o'clock the field sports commenced with the exciting spectacle of a crowd of boys chasing a fleet footed pig well coated with grease. The pig soon became exhausted, and, crawling into the arms of one of his pursuers, laid down to rest. Then came another contest of muscle vs. grease. A 20 foot pole thoroughly coated with lard had been erected, a purse of $3.00 placed at the top, and the battle began. After repeated failures the goal was reached and the prize secured. Then came hose races, a game of ball and other sports. The hose race was won by Johnson hose company, who defeated their competitors—so the judges said—by 7¾ seconds.

NOTES.

Sixty dollars was the amount set aside for the pyrotechnical display.

It was a mistake in not having the band present at the park in the evening.

A very pleasant feature of the day was the noticeable absence of drunkenness.

A number of people visited Oswego and Syracuse and witnessed the ball games.

The music furnished by the Fulton band was greatly enjoyed and highly spoken of.

A number of Fultonians took boats, hammocks, fans, bottles of lemonade, etc., and spent a very pleasant day on the shady banks of the river.

Several residences in the village were handsomely decorated and illuminated, among the most noticeable being F. E. Goodjon's, E. R. Redhead's, and James Coats.

Why didn't the Doctor attach a crank to the pin wheels and turn them? Some of them were fastened at an angle of about forty-five degrees and did nothing but sizzle.

In the evening a display of fireworks occurred on the park, which was witnessed by a large crowd of people. The fireworks were in charge of W. L. Woodbury Chas. Blount and N. R. Cole.

The Baker hose company of Upper Oswego Falls and the E. J. Cronyn hose company of the Lower Falls were resplendant in their new uniforms and their appearance elicited much favorable comment. The ladies of Oswego Falls are entitled to much credit for the very handsome manner in which the hose carts were trimmed.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Margaret Gilhooley, wife of James Gilhooley, died last Sunday at her home in Granby after but a week's illness, aged 49 years. Mrs. Gilhooley was well-known in Fulton and Granby and was loved and respected by all with whom she came in contact. She leaves a husband and four children to mourn her loss. The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the Catholic church and was very largely attended. High mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Early, Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery.

"Wigwam" sole leather moccasins at Goodjon's $1 pair.

Draper, 15 Oneida street, will not be undersold on [illegible]

[illegible]

Why Meditate ?

I must have a New Suit. My friends all say I can get as go fit, and equally as good material at about one-half the pri price I usually pay for Custom Work, at

PEEBLES & COOK
Opposite Opera House.

A GREAT CUT!

ALL KINDS OF GOO

Almost Given Away!

—WE HAVE JUST OPENED ANOTHER LOT OF—
Tinware, Glassware, Woodware, Fancy Goods,
TOYS, DOLLS, STATIONERY, GLOVES, HOSIERY,
HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS, CLOTHES WRINGERS, WASHTUBS, BASKETS &c., &c.

Bargains in Every Department.

Everything must be sold.

Call and Secure Bargains.

REMEMBER THE PLACE,
Stowell's 25 Cent and Bargain Store,
Opera House Block, Fulton, N. Y.

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

Hale's Honey the great Cough cure, 25c., 50c. & $1
Glenn's Sulphur Soap heals & beautifies, 25c.
German Corn Remover kills Corns & Bunions
Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye—Black and Brown, 50c.
Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 Minute, 25c
Dean's Rheumatic Pills are a sure cure, 50c.

WORM DESTROYER.

Mrs. Butler's Compound Worm Tonic effectually destroyes worms, naturalizes the stomach and bowels, and acts as a permanent tonic, and is an exceedingly beneficial and certain cure for fever, diarrhea, dry hacking cough and weak, feeble children, as thousands testify. Also cures fits and dizziness. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 28y1.

You will save time and money by buying your field and garden seeds in bulk. A large stock just received at D. C. Draper's 15 Oneida street, and for sale at the lowest living rates by the bushel, quart or pound.

If you want the best ice cream go to Miller's the old ice cream dealer on Cayuga street. 51tf

J. C. Tucker has just received a large stock of Crockery, which he is selling very cheap. 46tf

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

MILTON S. PRICE'S

Great Special Offering.

I SHALL OPEN THIS DAY

Best Bargains this Season

Seventy five pieces ARLINGTON FANCY DRESS GOODS, only 10c. and 20c. per yard. Recently sold at 40c. and 50c. per yard.

Fifty Pieces GILBERT'S CELEBRATED SUITINGS, in Mixtures, Silk Wool Fancy Checks and Diagonal Fancies, only 50c. a yard; worth $1.

Ten pieces Extra Quality CASHMERE ROYAL BLACK SILKS, only $1.00 per yard; elsewhere $1.50.

Twenty Pieces BLACK SATIN RHADAMES, only 75c., 90c., $1.00 $1.25 and $1.50 per yard. All Real Bargains.

Five Cases INDIA CRINKLES, only 8c., worth 12½c.

Ten Cases STANDARD PRINTS, only 4c. per yard.

Ten Cases SEERSUCKER GINGHAMS, only 6½c. per yard, worth 10c.

Ten Cases BEST SPRING STYLES PRINTS, only 6c. per yard.

One hundred and Fifty Pieces NAINSOOK CHECKS, only 6c. and 6½c. per yard.

Fifty Pieces Spring Tide SATIN PLAIDS AND CHECKS, only 12½c. per yard.

SPECIAL PRICES ON
Parasols and Sun Umbrellas.
NEW ASSORTMENTS
Rich Chantilly and Spanish Guipure Laces Flounces, &c.

Purchasers will find it to their interest to examine these rare bargains at

MILTON S. PRICE'S.

—If you want a—

SUIT OF CLOTHES,

PAIR OF PANTS,

HAT,

Or anything in our line we can please you in Qualit Price and Style.

D. C. MORE &

[illegible] SHOWING.

[illegible] Experimental Station [illegible] determined that feeding tim[illegible] much clover had a ten[illegible] the flow of milk in winter.

[illegible] estimated that twenty-five acres [illegible] land are necessary to keep an [illegible] the year round in Arizona. The [illegible] of the Territory is about [illegible]

[illegible] said that calves begin to form [illegible] and ruminate as soon as they are [illegible] on the pasture, but three [illegible] is soon enough to do so or the [illegible] will be scours.

It is said that the best mode of using [illegible] about plants, in order to destroy [illegible], is to sprinkle it on the ground [illegible] a warm day, when it will pr[illegible] [illegible] without injuring the pl[illegible] [illegible] the experiment this ye[illegible] [illegible] hay or straw over the [illegible] of scat[illegible] and burning it over [illegible] strawberry [illegible] season is over [illegible] as soon as the [illegible], "as old b[illegible]," says the Fruit [illegible] as new in t[illegible] ads can be made as good cor[illegible] this way."

[illegible] ndition powder for fowls is [illegible]: One pound each of ground [illegible] dried meat, linseed meal and fen[illegible]eek; an ounce each of sulphur, ginger, pepper and copperas. Give a small quantity once a day mixed with soft feed. But do not feed condition powders to hens unless ailing.

A farmer ought to have vaseline about the barn for wounds, sores, inflammations, etc. I know of no salve so healing and antiseptic, or so agreeable to handle as this. It is not a mysterious mixture, sold as a great animal specific, yet it has many virtues, and farmers would do well to use it often in cases where one hesitates as to what can be best used. It is perfectly harmless.

Professor Blount does not advise sowing timothy and red clover together, since they do not ripen together, but advises the mammoth variety as ripening nearer with the red clover. It must be remembered, however, that the mammoth clover is relished by stock, except hogs, on account of the size [illegible] stalks. It has come to be [illegible] east of the Mississippi.

A good hint for growing cucumbers, squashes or similar plants is to put old saw dust or rotten wood about them. Those who have never [illegible] on strong, bushy stakes like pea sticks will be surprised to note how they enjoy it. Tomatoes do better trained to stout sticks than in any other way. The raspberry, gooseberry and currant, especially the latter, thrive with applications of rotten wood.

Every season produces its new bug. This year the potato bug and the rose bug have not been so active, but there has appeared the onion grub, which seems to prefer the onion to any known vegetable. It is invisible by daylight, doing its work by night. On the famous onion meadows of Orange county men and women are seen with lanterns busily engaged in killing the grubs. Last year the advanced grub appeared, but this year the number of bugs is a serious menace to the redolent vegetable.

When the comb of a fowl is large and bright-colored, showing it to be full of blood, and shaking with every activity of the bird, she is in a healthy laying condition. With this condition of the comb you will discover the utmost activity in your fowls, starting at every sound or motion. The movements are not like a nervous jump, but with an elastic spring, showing a condition of vigorous health. On the contrary, if the edges of the comb and wattles are a purplish red and the movements sluggish there is disease and danger.

Hay Barracks.

Timothy meadow will produce more timothy hay to have one-third of the crop clover. The latter keeps the soil loose, mellow and damp, and the timothy makes heavier crop. Sheds or barracks can be made cheaply to store such hay. One twenty feet square, and twenty feet high, with a movable roof will do very well without boarded sides. Such a barrack will hold twenty tons, of hay, and with a horse fork can be easily filled twenty feet high.

The cost of a hay barrack of this kind will be paid for the first year by the better keeping of twenty tons of hay. The roof should be made as light as possible, so that it can be raised of lowered, as it is filled or emptied. It should be light enough so that one man can raise or lower a corner at a time, at his convenience. Without this it will have to be boarded up, as the rain and snow would blow under the roof. But if the roof is raised as it is filled, in haying a load can be put up at any time, as it is in a barn, and then it is safe.

Great care and good judgment have to be exercised to have the hay cured just right, and when it is right it should go immediately to the barn or shed, as mixed hay cannot be saved successfully in cock in a rain. So it is all important to have a place where hay can be stored just as soon as it is ready. Nearly half of all hay cut when it is stacked is spoiled. Where clover is, the water will run in—it will will spoil in [illegible] all over the stack, and a considerable of a layer at the bottom is worthless. And when a stack is opened in winter or summer to feed it is at the mercy of the weather, which is always of the worst character at the wrong time.

Or, if you do not like the barracks, make sheds with stationary roofs. They can be twenty feet wide and as long as desired. It should be sloped all one way, and if covered with boards, made pretty steep. It is best to have the highest side face the east, and if covered with boards, made pretty steep. It is best to have the highest side face the [illegible], as the heavy, dashing showers [illegible] come from that direction. If the [illegible] after putting in, it would be [illegible] to put on boards extending from [illegible] to the hay to protect it. [illegible]

[illegible] in Congress have [illegible]

[illegible] cows [illegible] treat them kindly and keep them docile and quiet. When about to calve, place the cow in a separate stall and leave her loose. Feed no grain or stimulating food for a month before calving. When the calf arrives, remove it to a pen at a distance where it can be kept quiet and comfortable. It will never know what it is to be with its mother, and much trouble afterwards will be spared. In three or four hours milk the cow, and give the milk to the calf, teaching it to drink. W[illegible] patient skill the [illegible] may be [illegible] taught to drink in [illegible]son. Milk the cow four times a day, and feed the milk to the calf until [illegible] the fourth day, when the cow is ret[illegible]rned to the stable and the milk is [illegible] saved for skimming. The calf gets [illegible] only skimmed milk after this—three quarts at a feed twice a day, and warmed up to eighty degrees. The feed is gradually increased as the calf grows, and when it is two months old it is taught to take a little mixed ground corn and oats, and have a small quantity with the warmed skimmed milk until it it is six or eight months old. This enables the calf to make a fine growth, and brings it up in gentleness and docility. These qualities are improved by a daily brushing and carding, and by using it to the halter and to lead, while it is being fed in the pen. Continual handling in this way prevents the contracting of of the common vices, and when the calf becomes a cow, it is in an excellent state of dicipline and gives no trouble. This method, well carried out, is the main step toward an improved herd, which will be of very great value, and one gained at a very small cost.—[American Agriculturist for July.

Cow Suggestions.

We know of so many instances where butter dairies have been improved by the use of Jersey bulls, that it seems very queer that farmers who intend to make butter, will not avail themselves of the advantages of this intensified butter blood. The breeders of common stock do not realize how much improvement may be made by the use of a thorough bred blood. [illegible] The lambs of the Merino ewes last year which were sired by an Oxforddown ram [illegible] animals which will convert his grass [illegible] quality that it will sell at the best prices. The more he can make the better. There must be a propensity for growth, and this certain breeds possess more than others; and then again, other breeds of cattle have a stronger inclination, or a more natural and extensive development of glands and other organs for the formation and secretion of milk in abundance, as, for instance, the Holland cattle.

It is folly to ignore these facts and go on in the same old cow-path hard and bare, when there are better ways in which we may tread with pleasure and profit. Thorough-bred bulls were never cheaper, and the needs of making all we can out of our stock are apparent.—[Our Country Home.

THERE is sometimes a difference between what a thing was in the past and what it is at the present time, but the press does not always elucidate the two periods in the same article. The following is an illustration:

New York, by her canal system, has become the greatest, richest and most powerful states of the Union. She made the fertile West accessible to immigration and settlement, and has her reward for her enterprise in her splendid growth in all material prosperity. Her constitutional canals have not only paid for themselves, but have actually a surplus of $42,000,000 to their credit. The Erie alone has paid to the state the vast sum of $121,000,000 in tolls, and surely such a property is too valuable to be permitted to fall into ruin.—[Buffalo Courier.

It is hardly worth while to indulge in sentimental talk about the canals. They have been valuable sources of revenue to the state but are so no longer. They are not paying property now, so far as the state government is concerned. On the contrary, they cost the state about three-quarters of a million for their maintenance and operation every year. As state property they are not valuable. But they serve a good purpose by affording a channel of cheap transportation for heavy freight, the profits going mainly to the elevator monopolists at Buffalo and New York. If the profits were shared in fair proportion by the boatmen the canals would be much more popular and do greater good than is possible under the tribute-levying system which now prevails at their termini.—[Troy Times.

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

The people, as a whole, seldom make mistakes, and the unanimous voice of praise which comes from those who have used Hood's Sarsaprrilla fully justifies the claims of the proprietors of this great medicine. Indeed, these very claims are based entirely on what the people say Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for them. Read the abundant evidence of its curative power, and give it a fair, honest trial.

An Iowa cattle grower thinks that horns of cattle do $1,000,000 worth of damage annually in Iowa alone.

"A Perfect Flood of Sunshine" will fill the heart of every suffering woman if she will only persist in the use of Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription." It will cure the most excruciating periodical pains, and relieve you of all irregularities and give healthy action. It will positively cure internal inflamation and ulceration, misplacement and all kindred disorders. Price reduced to one dollar. By druggists.

Queen Victoria's personal household, in which there are 1,000 persons, costs nearly $2,000,000 a year.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery

Capt. Coleman, schr. Weymouth, plying between Atlantic City and New York, had been troubled with a cough [illegible]

[illegible] It is an [illegible] Hood's Sarsaparilla [illegible] It is [illegible] Hood's Sarsaparilla has done [illegible] will do for you. [illegible] the pains and [illegible] of rheumatism, give this popular remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. WOOD, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BALCOM, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. PROUDFOOT, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge, to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

THE PRETTIEST LADY in Olean was asked what made her complexion so clear and beutiful She said it was by Gilmore's Aromatic Wine Sold by H. C. Giesler.

ONE OF THE MOST NOTED European physicians said: Neuralgia was the prayer of a diseased nerve for healthy blood. Use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine for the blood. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

MRS. L. LOOMIS, of Elba, N. Y., writes us that she was sick for six months, was induced to try Gilmore's Aromatic Wine and four bottles cured her. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. H. B. EMELL, of Pavillion, N. Y., says of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine: "I believe it to be a most desirable remedy to be placed in every family." Sold by H. C. Giesler.

THE WIFE, MOTHER AND MAID who suffers from Female weakness and Debility, will find Gilmore's Aromatic a positive cure. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC is a great success, therefore we challenge the world to produce its equal as a restorative for women. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. W. FISK REQUA, of Aurora, Ill., says: "I have used Gilmore's Aromatic Wine and find it an excellent household remedy that none ought to do without. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. HARRIS PECK, of Pavilion, N. Y., says: "I was troubled with Malaria, Bowel Difficulty and sleepless nights, which I found was wearing me out. After taking Aromatic Wine two days I realized great relief, sleeping well and otherwise feeling like a new man. I cheerfully recommend it to suffering humanity." Sold by H. C. GIESLER.

REV. I. M. DERBY, of Linden, N. Y., says: "The Gilmore Aromatic Wine proved a great blessing to my wife." For sale by H. C. Giesler.

The marriage certificate of Grover Cleveland and Frances Folsom shows that the former is forty-nine years old and the latter twenty-one years. As we all know, "figures do not lie," and, as we have learned from the alchemists, the figure 7 is particularly lucky. Now, if one reflect that the bride's age is 3 times 7 and that the groom's age is 7 times 7, and that the difference between them is 4 times 7, he will see how lucky they ought to be.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guarantaneed. 27eow

The smallest newspaper on this continent is published at Guadalajara, capita of the Mexican state of Jalisco. It is called El Telegrama, and is a four-page weekly, five by three inches in size, and is a marvel in the way of condensation The motto of the paper is "Little straw and much wheat." The price is one cent per copy.

In order that sufferers may know that Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will always cure them, H. C. Geisler emphatically says that if the Tablets do not relieve every case of Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, &c., &c. he does not want any pay. The physicians say they are the finest combination that can be found. Price 25 cents. 27eow.

During the year 1884, 1,657 divorces and 3,821 separations were pronounced in France. During the same year 289,555 mariages were celebrated.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

There are eight female physicians in Philadelphia who are said to have an income of $10,000, and twenty-two who have an income of $5,000 or over.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

The circulation of the silver dollar reached high water mark in June when there were $53,000,000 of them in use, the largest amount ever out of the treasury.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

Is more reliable as an agent in the cure of Consumption, Chronic Coughs and Emaciation, than any remedy known to medical science. It is so prepared that the potency of these two most valuable specifics is largely increased. It is also very palatable. 5w4

Madame Patti's receipts during her tour in Spain and Portugal amounted to $80,000.

BE CAREFUL!

No matter what disease you have. Be sure that the medicine you take is reliable. Such a medicine you will always find Sulphur Bitters. They are not a cheap rum drink, but are made of the choicest roots and herbs to be found in the vegetable kingdom.—[Daily Argus.

A boat nineteen feet long, with a crew of two men, has sailed from the Clyde for New York.

[illegible]

[illegible] Caveats, Trade Marks [illegible] obtained [illegible] Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

JAMES COLE,
The Old Reliable
UNDERTAKER
AND
FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

George Fassell
DEALER IN
Marble and Granite
MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

[illegible]

JAS. McDONOUGH,
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.

☞ Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

ADVERTISERS
can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

SCOTT'S EMULSION
OF PURE COD LIVER OIL
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.50	$1.88	$1.06
Stove	4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
No. 4	4.75	2.50	1.38
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Mixed	4.50	2.38	1.31

Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest, Cleanest, Best.
FOR SALE BY
Q. RUST.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼ton
Stove	$4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
Mix	4.50	2.38	1.31
No. 4	4.75	2.50	1.38
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
[illegible]	[illegible]	1.88	1.06

[illegible]

KASKINE

[illegible]

A POWERFUL TONIC.
Kaskine Restores Perfect Health.

In Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful."

In St. Francis Hospital, N. Y. { "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Dr. L. R. White, U. S. Examining Surgeon, says: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Giesmer, has cured over 300 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says: "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, M. D., says: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

IS THE ONLY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD THAT DESTROYS THE GERMS OF DISEASE IN THE BLOOD, and permanently cures all diseases arising therefrom, such as Malaria, Fevers, Rheumatism, Billiousness, &c., and IS THE GRANDEST TONIC EVER DISCOVERED. Removes nervous prostration and premature decay by disinfecting the blood, so that the starving nerves are supplied with life giving nourishment, bringing back the VIGOR AND POWER OF YOUTH.

Send for the great list of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine.

Price $1 per bottle. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price. Agents wanted everywhere.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., New York.

Of the Chicago policemen hurt at the socialistic riot, seven are dead, four are yet in a critical condition and thirty-eight are yet suffering. It is now thought that the bomb may have been poisoned.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

The income of the people of this country averages forty cents per day for everyone, men, women and children, and yet there are some who don't quite get half of their forty cents.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment is guaranteed to cure or money refunded—internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50 cts. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

A German inventor is building a balloon which is 500 feet in length and will be operated by steam. It will cost $125,000 and he has already been offered $150,000 for his patent.

Our readers are cautioned about buying medicines which are not endorsed by some well known druggist. H. C. Gisler, has made a thorough study of Blood diseases, and after a careful investigation, and many practical tests, postively asserts that Acker's Blood Elixir will cure all blood disorders, ridding the system of its impurities, and eaving it strong, vigorous and healthy. he will warrent it. It is a certain cure or all skin diseases. 27eow

The New York Central is now making arrangements to have its trains of a uniform color. All coaches painted at the West Albany works have a brownish red bo ly with yellow lettering, etc.

About three years ago the agent for Acker's English Remedy first called at this town and since then the number o testimonials coming to him concerning merits of the Remedy, and the many cures effected surprises, H. C. Giesler wishes it to be thoroughly understood that for colds, hoarseness, asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, all Phthisical troubles he has never known its equal, and positively guarantees it. 27eow

The four most important towns of Australasia are now Melbourne, population 282,947; Sidney, 224,211; Adelaide, 103,864, and Auckland, 60,000.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

The Prince of Wales' stables cost him over $80,000 a year. The Princess loves dogs. She has over eighty.

Woman and Her Diseases.

is the title of an interesting illustrated treaties (160 pages) sent post-paid, for 10 cents in stamps. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Forepaugh has leased the Madison Square Garden, New York, and will try to crowd out Barnum next year.

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

Send for Pamphlet on Female Diseases mailed free, securely sealed. Dr. J. B Marchisi, Utica, N. Y. 20tf.

STOP AND THINK

How much money you have thrown away buying worthless medicines, prepared by unprincipled parties, who care not what harm they do to your system. You can depend on every bottle of Sulphur Bitters as being a reliable medicine. It searches and cleanses from the blood all impure matter, and makes you feel like a new person.—[Boston Daily Globe.

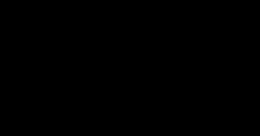
Mrs. Langtry has become the possessor of one of the finest sets of Russian sable in the world. It took ten years to collect and it is valued at £1,200.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian ough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

Upward of 28,000 persons registered as visitors to Bunker Hill monument the past year.

The cost of investigation of the charges against the New York Board of Alderman was $48,000, the fee of Mr. Conkling as counsel being $20,000 and that of Clarence A. Seward $21,000.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY,
ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



[illegible]

[illegible]
When came [illegible] Ill., for to know
If N. Y. person he could do.

"O," cried the maid (for scared was she),
"Do you Ind. Tenn. to murder Me.?"

"La.," cried the doctor, "I Kan. save
You from a most untimely grave;
If you let me Conn. your case,
And hang this liver pad in place."

"Am I a. fool?" the patient cried;
"I cannot Del." the man replied;
"But no one can be long time Ill.
Who Tex. a patent blue Mass. pill."

"Ark!" shrieked the girl, "I'll hear no Mo.,
Your nostrums are N. J.—No go."
[Utica Observer.

BIS SHAKERS.

The honey-dealer robs his B.
The fisherman despoils the C.
The pugalist will black your I.
The billiard player chalks his Q.
The grocer adulterates his T.
—[Boston Com. Bulletin.

The southern watermelon has appeared in our midst. That is what ails our midst.—[Philadelphia Press.

"Say, I've got the hiccoughs. Frighten me, won't you?" "Lend me a five?" "Thanks, it's all over now."—[Burlington Free Press.

Those two southern revivalists might be called in Yankee dialect "pSam sing, ers."—[Boston Post.

We see a lengthy article going the rounds of the papers headed "How to Manage a Wife." We didn't read it; no use;—[Kentucky State Journal.

He (tenderly)—And what do you think of the engagement ring I sent you, Jennie? She (delightedly)—Oh! it is beautiful, in fact, the handsomest one I ever had given me.—[Boston Courier.

Many a man doesn't realize that he has had a swell time at the evening party until he tries to put his hat on the next morning.—[N. Y. Graphic.

A book of etiquette tells "how to tell a man larger than yourself that he is a liar." The best way is to tell him through the telephone and then go out into the country for a few days.—[Evansville Tribune News.

Eastern drummer (to St. Louis merchant)—That was a pretty bad failure of Isaac Stein's? Merchant—Bad? Vell, you vas right it vas. It vas de vorst failure of de season. He [illegible] made him bay seventy-[illegible] cents on de dollar. It is petter to [illegible] to fail like dot.—[Puck.

Capt. Crasse of the German army has come to this country to inspect American defenses. He will employ eleven months in discovering where the defenses are and a couple of days in inspecting them.—[Pittsburgh Chronicle.

At the earnest request of the students of Harvard College compulsory prayers in that institution have been abandoned. This will give the students more time to devote to base ball, English history, boat rowing and other brain work.—[Norristown Herald.

"Did you mail that letter I gave you this morning, dear?" "Y-e-s, no, what if I did? I shouldn't wonder, come to think, why, to be sure, certainly, of course. What have you got for dinner?" —[N. Y. Journal.

It is reported that on one occasion last winter, while Sarah Bernhardt was out sleighriding, she was accidentally thrown from the cutter, whereupon a small boy cried out, "Hey, mister, you've lost your whip."—[Rambler.

"What do you go to Floaida for, Dennis?" "Well, we have a variety of reasons, the girls go for the orange groves, wife goes for her lungs, the boys go for the alligator shooting and I go for about $950 for the season."—[Burdette.

Reporter—Are you going to work today, Pat—Sure, I dunno. Me old woman says she'll break me head if I don't, and the union men will break me head if I do. Sure, these are hard times for decint men. I think I'll take me chances with the old woman.—[New York Times.

Mr. Spinks—I had such a beautiful dream last night, Miss Briggs. I thought I was in the Garden of Eden. Miss Briggs (with simplicity)—And did Eve appear as she is general represented. Mr. Spinks—I—I—I—I didn't look.—[London Punch.

The Cussedness of Things.

Your new shoes will pinch you with might and main, as though in retaliation for some wrong done them. They will untie themselves when you are in a hurry; they will break their buttons off, run over at the heels to throw you, and finally split open at a time when you don't feel that you can afford to buy another pair. And one will wear completely out, while the other is as good as new.

Your scarf will not stay the way you want it; it will work around until the pin is directly under your ear. Five minutes after you have fixed it, it will be as much out of position as ever. If you put it with the pin under your ear intentionally, it would probably work to the back of your neck.

Although it is said to be extremely uncomfortable to stand on one's head, it is a matter of fact that a tack will stand on its head on the floor all day to catch you as you walk across the room.

The last match you have in your pocket is the one that is sure to go out when you light it outdoor when you start a cigar.

The train will always make it a point to shake so that it is impossible for you to read the article in which you are interested and have no other time to read.

Your ink will always give out when you have a number of letters to write, or else the bottle will be accidentially knocked off the table, and its contents spilled on something that is costly and snow white.

Your clock will get its internals out of kelter and go all wrong, that you may fail to catch a train to keep an important appointment.

Your night key will quietly steal down through a hole in your vest pocket and hides itself in the lining, and fill its aperture with cotton to the muzzle, so that after you find it at midnight—if you do at all—you have the extreme felicity of cleaning it out with a pin—providing you have a pin at this particular time, which in all probability you will not.

From all of which it would seem that pretty much all the cussedness we encounter in this life comes from objects [illegible]

For Neuralgia
For Neuralgia
For Neuralgia
For Neuralgia
For Rheumatism
For Rheumatism
For Rheumatism
For Rheumatism
For a Lame Back
For a Lame Back
For a Lame Back
For a Lame Back
Doctor Thomas' Eclectric Oil
Doctor Thomas' Eclectric Oil
Doctor Thomas' Eclectric Oil
Doctor Thomas' Eclectric Oil

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS
PRICE 50c. and $1.00.
FOSTER, MILBURN & CO., Prop's, BUFFALO, N. Y.

SULPHUR BITTERS
THE GREAT
German Remedy.
TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Billous Spells, depend on SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.

The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using SULPHUR BITTERS.

Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.

General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use SULPHUR BITTERS, and you will not be troubled.

Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.

Ladies in delicate health, who are all run down, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.

$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.

Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.

SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.

SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

Golden Medical Discovery.

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic.
25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

NATURE'S CURE FOR CONSTIPATION, Sick-Headache, AND DYSPEPSIA.

PERFECT HEALTH

Is impossible if the Digestion is impaired, the Liver inactive, or the Bowels Constipated.

Tarrant's Effervescent
Seltzer Aperient

will cure Constipation, Sick Headache and Dyspepsia. It regulates the bowels and enables those of feeble digestion to enjoy their food. It reduces Fever, Cools the Blood, is invaluable in Piles and Inflammatory Diseases, and is a justly esteemed Aperient for Children. Economical, Reliable, Elegant. It should be found in every household. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Manufactured only by TARRANT & CO., New York.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 981 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

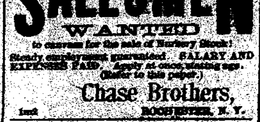
DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure By JOHN H. MCALVIN, Lowell, Mass., 14 years tax collector. Sent free to any address.

MOTH-WAX
KILLS THE MOTH
and the old Moth Miller. Sample cake by mail 6 cents. W. H. H. CHILDS, 73 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

DO NO MORE WHITEWASHING
NOT WHEN
PLASTIC PAINT
Can be had so cheap. Send for pamphlet and color card, and learn its merits.
MAXWELL HAZLETT & CO.
109 McElderry's Wharf, Baltimore, Md., and 606 Washington Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

G. J. REILLY & CO.
PRINTERS ROLLERS
324 and 326 Pearl St., New York.
☞ SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

AUBURN STEEL AXLE WAGON.



Made of the best material and fully warranted. 12,000 running in New York State. Agents wanted in all unoccupied territory. Send for circular.
E. D. CLAPP WAGON CO., Ld. Auburn, N. Y.

SALESMEN
WANTED
to canvass for the sale of Nursery Stock! Steady employment guaranteed. SALARY AND EXPENSES PAID. Apply at once, stating age. (Refer to this paper.)
Chase Brothers,
ROCHESTER, N. Y.

FRENCH'S HOTEL.
CITY HALL SQUARE, NEW YORK.
[illegible]

LEGAL.

SURROGATE'S COURT.

During the year 1886, terms of the Surrogate court in Oswego county will be held as follows

PHOENIX—At the Surrogate's office in Phoenix on Monday of each week, except in the month of August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Thursday in each month, except August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, January 22d, and on the third Friday in March, May, June, Sept., Nov. and Dec.

FULTON—At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Tuesday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the third Friday in April, and July, and the fourth Friday in October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 29th and September 29th.

PARISH—At A. N. & J. S. Ladington's law office, April 30th, July 30th and Sept. 30th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 19th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 19th 1886.

CAROLINE L. ALFRED,
Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against F. D. VanWagenen, late of the Village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the office of F. D. VanWagenen, No. 10, First St., Fulton, N. Y., in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 12th day of August, 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1886.

ANN VANWAGENEN, Executrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886.

LUCY K. HUBBARD,
Executrix.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK: By the Grace of God Free and Independent. To Alzina Hubbard, widow, and Friend L. Hubbard, heir at law, both of Granby, N. Y., and Henry C. Howe and Arvin Rice as executors, etc. of Harriet Lampman, deceased, and Lewis H. Hutchins as administrator, etc. of Polly Marvin, deceased, creditors, and to all other creditors of, and all persons interested in the real estate of William Hubbard late of the Town of Granby in the County of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting. You, and each of you, are hereby cited and required personally to be and appear before our Surrogate of the county of Oswego, at the office of C. H. David, in the Village of Fulton, in said county, on the 8th day of July, 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to show cause why a decree should not be made directing the distribution of the surplus money arising on the sale of mortgaged premises under a mortgage given by said William Hubbard, deceased, among the persons entitled thereto.

And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness Francis David, Surrogate of said county, at the village of Phoenix, in said county, the 31st day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

L. S.

L. J. CARRIER,
Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK By the Grace of God Free and Independent.

To Alice Hethington, Fulton, N. Y., widow; Nellie E. Sears, Oswego Falls, N. Y.; John A. Judkins, residence unknown, but supposed to be at Chicago, Illinois; Sally Ann Merrill, Downsville, Dunn Co., Wisconsin; Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, and Charlotte Grace Lewis, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Josephine Hethington, whose residence is unknown, heirs at law of William S. Hethington, deceased; James Cole, A. L. Nettleton, Miller & Whitaker, S. O. Woodruff, James McDonough, W. J. Watson, Howe & Rice, R. H. Stowe, R. S. Galt, James Clark and H. O. Woodruff, all of Fulton, N. Y., creditors, and to all other creditors and all persons interested in the real estate of William S. Hethington late of the Village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting. You, and each of you, are hereby cited and required personally, to be and appear before our Surrogate of the County of Oswego, at the office of C. H. David, in the Village of Fulton, in said county, on the 8th day of July, 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to show cause why a decree should not be made directing the disposition of the real property of said decedent, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the payment of his debts and funeral expenses. And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or, if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Francis (L. S.) David, Surrogate of said county, at the village of Phœnix, in said county, the 8th day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

L. J. CARRIER,
Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

FORECLOSURE SALE.
SUPREME COURT—OSWEGO COUNTY.

The Fulton Savings Bank vs. Letson LaDu and others. By virtue of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action at a Special Term of the Supreme Court held at the Court House, in the city of Syracuse, Onondaga county, N. Y., on the 5th day of June, 1886, and duly filed and entered in the clerk's office of Oswego county on the 7th day of June, 1886. I the undersigned Referee duly appointed in and by said judgment and decree to make such sale will sell at public auction to the highest bidder at the law office of Piper & VanWagenen, in the village of Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y., on the 24th day of July, 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day the mortgaged premises in and by said judgment and decree directed to be sold and described therein as follows, to wit.: all that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Volney, county of Oswego and State of New York upon Lot number seventy-five (75) of the 17th Township of Scriba's Patent, Beginning at the north-west corner of O. Cone's division of 52 31-100 acres and running thence south 2 deg. east along the west line of said Cone's 52 31-100 acres thirty-seven (37) chains ninety-four (94) links to a stake, thence north 89 degrees west parallel to the south line of said Lot 75 fourteen (14) chains fifteen (15) links to a stake, thence north 2 degrees west along a line of marked trees seventeen (17) chains ninety-four (94) links to a stake in south line of Samuel A. Williams' 30 acres laid off from said lot 75, thence south 89 degrees east along said south line eleven (11) chains ninety-three (93) links to the place of beginning, containing 50 acres of land—excepting however from the above described 50 acres a parcel of ten (10) acres from the north end thereof heretofore conveyed to O. Cone and a parcel of 8 8-10 acres from the south end thereof heretofore conveyed to Alfred Hudgin and excepting also a parcel of three (3) acres heretofore released from the operations of said mortgage from the west side of said mortgaged premises and conveyed by said Letson LaDu and wife to Orville Dunsmore by deed recorded in Oswego county clerk's office, in Liber 189 of deeds, at page 224, leaving 28 2-10 acres be the same more or less.

Dated June 7, 1886.

N. N. STRANAHAN,
Referee.

PIPER & VANWAGENEN,
Attys for Plff,
Fulton, N. Y.

—COAL.—

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's.
Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.
The Best in the Market. Present prices:.

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
Mix	4.50	2.38	1.31
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Pea	3.50	1.88	1.06

Yard and Office Upper Landing.
Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.
J. MORE & Co,

LUMBER! LUMBER!
I have the Largest Assortment of
Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER
In this county. Also PINE, HEMLOCK and SPRUCE
[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 10

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, JULY 14, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

Der Shpider Und Der Fly.

I reade in Yawcob's shtory book,
A couple veeks ago,
Von fine rude boem, vot I dinks
Der beoples all should know.
I'd ask dis goot conundrum, too,
Vich ve should brofit by,
"Vill you indo mine parlor valk?"
Says der shpider off der fly."

Dot set me dinking, righdt away,
Und vhen, von afternoon,
A shbeculator he coems in
Und dells me, pooty soon;
He haf a silfer mine to sell,
Und ask me eef I puy,
I dink off der exberience
Off dat plue pottle fly.

Der oder day, vhen on der cars
I vent by Nie Yorck oudt,
I meets a fraulein on der train,
Who told me, mit a pout,
She likes der Dutscher shentlemans,
Und dells me sit peside her—
I says, "Mine friendt, I vas no fly,
Eef you vas peen a shpider."

I vent indo der shmoking car,
Vhere dhey vas blaying boker,
Und also haf somedings dhey calls
Der funny "leedle joker."
Some money id vas shanging hands,
Dhey vanted me to try—
I says! "You vas to brevious,
I don'd vas been a fly!"

On Central Park a shmardt young man
Says: "Strauss, how vas you peen!"
Und take me kindtly py der hand,
Und ask off mine Katrine.
He vants to shange a feefty bill,
Und say hees name vas Schneider—
Maype, perhaps, he vas all right;
More like he vas a shpider.

Moad efry day some shwindling chap
He dries hees leedle game;
I cuts me oudt dot shpider piece
Und poot id in a frame;
Righdt in mine shtore I hangs it oup,
Und near id, on der shly,
I geeps a glub, to send gvick oudt
Dhose shpiders, "on der fly."

—[Charles Follen Adams, in N. Y. World.

A Beautiful Girl.

POSITIVE.

A beautiful girl is a beautiful thing,
Sweet as the blossoms that open in spring.

Fair as the roses that gladden the May,
Bright as the sunshine that wakens the day.

NEGATIVE.

Sunshine will fade at the close of the day,
Roses but blossom to wither away.

Vain are the treasures we dote on below,
Beauty is only skin deep, as we know.

POSITIVE.

A beautiful girl is a beautiful thing,
Strange fascination around her doth cling.

Shedding a brightness wherever she goes,
Gladness and beauty around her she throws.

NEGATIVE.

Woman should ne'er of her beauty be vain,
Oft 'tis the cause of much trouble and pain.

Fleeting as pleasure, soon wither it must,
Beauty, alas! is but ashes and dust!

—[Boston Record.

Exactly So!

The dude now wears a red-striped shirt,
A collar white as snow,
Immense necktie, a tiny pin,
A vest that's cut so low.
His pants (oh, my!) they are so wide
That you could put two dudes inside.

The dudine wears a plaited skirt,
A collar standing high,
A tall, tall hat with feathers on't,
A-reaching towards the sky.
Her hair cut short, her necktie bright!
Ah, isn't she a gallant sight!

If Darwin was to come to life
And chance these two to meet,
He'd think he had the missing link
To make the chain complete.
And would you blame him when you see What apes this dude and "ine" can be?

—[N. Kay, in New York World.

OVER AN ENGLISH RAILWAY.

The Potteries—The Home of James Brindley, Etc.

[Special to The Times.]

EARLY in the morning of June 4th we walked down the gang plank and stood once more upon dry land. The custom house officers were there to meet us, and as soon as our wheels and baggage were handed up from the hold of the ship, we presented ourselves for examination. They were kind and gentlemanly in performing their duty and were soon assured that we carried no tobacco, liquor or jewelry. We were then ready to move toward the interior.

But we must first arrange for the journey, so we put our heads together and as we were laying our plans we were addressed by a gentleman who inquired if we were wheelmen from America? We told him we were and gave him our names. He then introduced himself and brother as Messrs. Thos. and Samuel Farr, of Tunstall. Imagine our surprise when we found that they were two relatives of one of us, H. F., that we were planning to visit. They had received letters concerning our prospective tour and the boat we were to sail upon, and had been two days waiting for the arrival of our vessel.

We unreluctantly gave ourselves into their charge and were escorted to what they called a "public house," took dinner, and then went out to do some shopping before taking the train.

We visited "Sewiss," a great merchant of Liverpool, who has recently rented the steamship "Great Eastern," for eight thousand pounds for six months and was using her as an advertisement for his business. She was lying a short distance from the main landing beautifully decorated, and filled with all manner of attractions. One shilling admitted a person upon a small vessel which conveyed him to the great [illegible], to a concert and other entertainments upon board, and landed him. [illegible] his great show, but [illegible] no admission [illegible]. [illegible] seating capacity, and was fearful that we would have to be divided, but found that the carriage would accommodate us. Some of the boys inquired if we were all that could be carried in our coach. With some astonishment they informed us that there were two other compartments similar to ours, second and third class, that would hold eight or ten apiece. Our wheels and baggage were lifted into the van, (baggage car), and we were ready to ride over an English railway. Bump, bump, goes the cars and we stick our heads out of the window to learn the trouble.

Something they call an engine has taken hold of us, and away we go like the wind, through tunnels, over rivers, winding through the country, beautiful with the verdure of spring. Yes, to us it was attractive, so odd, so strange.

"But what do you do for a fire in the winter-time?" one of us inquired.

We were informed that water was heated in long pans at various stations along the road, and pushed in at the door when needed, and used in the same manner as we use slabs for feet warming. We of course couldn't help but compare our beautiful coaches, so comfortable and convenient. But we were with Britishers and were reminded that we must adopt ourselves to their ways.

Hence we concluded that English cars ran just as fast and probably faster on short runs, and that they rode as easy, but could not persuade ourselves that they would answer for our country and quite likely ours would not do for them.

We arrive safely at Tunstall, where we stay a week visiting friends and place of interest.

Among the most importand were the Potteries of that section of country. It is here, they tell me, that most of the finest chinaware in the world is manufactured.

In the early part of the last century it was discovered that there was fire-clay of unsurpassable quality and in great abundance not far below the surface. Josiah Wedgwood, a gentleman of no small ability, sought to utilize it and experimented for thirty years, and to him is given the honor for discovering many of the improved processes in the manufacture of chinaware. At Burslem an institute has been reared to his memory, and we have seen his marble figure in a number of public places throughout the potteries. The most extensive factory that we visited was Minton's at Stoke on Trent.

We are sorry that we cannot give a detailed account of our visit, for to us it was extremely interesting, having had the pleasure of seeing the wares made through all the different processes, and to those who have a special love for the beautiful and anticipate a trip abroad, we say make it convenient to visit these works, for since the world was made we have no record of pottery so exquisitely beautiful as that produced here. Copeland's well-known pottery is located at this place.

We also visited the home of James Brindley, a man whose memory all England is proud to honor. He was born in 1716, of poor and humble parentage, and by his own personal efforts became one of the first engineers of his time. He planned and superintended the work of the first successful canal built between Worsley and Manchester. He engineered and managed the construction of several others, and in the hands of monied gentlemen was the means of opening up the vast wealth that now exists in the interior of England. He died September 27, 1772, during the construction of the Trent and Mursay canals, and was interred in the burying ground at New Chapel, near Tunstall.

We visited his old home and made a sketch of his study and the lock he built as an experiment, which still remains in the garden preserved as a monument to his genius.

We have had several pleasant rides upon our wheels, but two of our number are waiting to purchase at Birmingham. The roads to an American are grand, but they tell us to just wait until we get started toward London.

I believe that I attract the most attention of any man in all England that rides a wheel—for a "Star," it being the peculiar machine that I manage, is a wonder to all. Wherever I stop they swarm around like bees to see how it is constructed. They are all anxious to see it run and I endeavor to the best of my ability to show it up and many funny remarks are passed, but they are forced at last to admire American genius.

We arrive in Birmingham at 12 m. June 11, and wend our way up the busy streets to a hotel that had been recommended. We intend to remain here and in the vicinity until after the Whitsuntide Holidays are over, which occur next week.

J. W. V.

"That tired feeling" from which you suffer so much, particularly in the morning, is entirely thrown off by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

An inhabitant of London consumes in a year thirty-two times as much fish as an inhabitant of Berlin, and Paris with her 2,000,000 inhabitants, consumes more fish than the whole of Germany with a population of 47,000,000.

Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" is a most powerful restorative tonic, and combines the most valuable nervine properties; especially adapted to the wants of debilitated ladies suffering from weak back, inward fever, congestion, inflammation, or ulceration, or from nervousness or neuralgic pains. By druggists.

[illegible] are supplanting [illegible] in England. In 18[illegible] there were [illegible]

A LAY SERMON.

"Bob" Burdette Preaches One that Won't Hurt Some People to Read.

How quiet the house is at midnight. The people who talk and laugh and sing in it every day are asleep and the people who fell asleep in it long ago come back into it. Every house has these two classes of tenants. Do we love best those with whom we can laugh and talk and sing, or the dear silent ones who come so noiselessly to our side and whisper to us in faint, sweet, far-away whispers that have no sound, so that we hear only their very stillness.

I am not tired, but my pen is weary. It falls from my fingers and I raise my head. I start to leave the table and my eyes fall upon a little book lying on the floor. It is a little "First Reader." He left it there this afternoon. I remember just how I was impatient because he could not read the simple little lesson—such an easy lesson—and I told him it was a waste of my time to teach him, and pushed him away from me. I remember now. I see the flush come into the little tired face, the brave, cheerful look in his eyes—his mother's brave, patient cheeriness, struggling with his disappointment and pain. I see him lie down on the floor, and the little face bend over the troublesome little lesson, such a simple, easy lesson, and baby might read it. Then, after a little struggle alone, it has to be given up, and the baffled little soldier, with one more appealing look toward me for reinforcements, sighs and goes away from the lesson he cannot read to the play that comforts him. And there lies the little book, just as he left it. Ah, me, I could kneel down and kiss it now as though it were alive and loving.

Why, what was my time worth to me to-day? What was there in the book I wanted to read one-half so precious to me as one cooing word from the prattling lips that quivered when I turned away. I hate the book I read. I will never look at it again. Were it the last book in the world I think I would burn it. All its gracious words are lies. I say to you, though all men praise the book and though an hour ago I thought it excellent, I say to you that there is poison in its hateful pages. Why, what can I learn from books that baby lips cannot teach me? Do you know I want to go to the door of his room and listen; the house is so still; maybe he is not breathing. Why, if between my book and my boy I choose my book, why should not God leave me with my books! My hateful books.

But I was not harsh, I was only a little impatient. Because, you see, his lesson was so easy, so simple. Ah, me, there was two of us trying to read this afternoon. They were two easy, simple lessons. Mine was such a very simple, easy, pleasant, loving one to learn. Just a line, just a little throb of patience, of gentleness, of love that would have made my own heart glow and laugh and sing. The letters were so large and plain, the words so easy and the sentences so short. And I! Oh, pity me, I missed every word. I did not read one line aright. See, here is my copy now, all blurred and blistered with tears and heartache, all marred and misspelled and blotted. I am ashamed to show it to the master. And yet I know he will be patient with me; I know how loving and gentle he will be. Why, how patiently and lovingly all these years he has been teaching me this simple lesson I failed upon to-day. But when my little pupil stumbled on a single word—is my time, then, so much more precious than the master's that I cannot teach the little lesson more than once?

Ah, friend, we do waste time when we plait scourges for ourselves. These hurrying days, these busy, anxious, shrewd ambitious times of ours are wasted when they take our hearts away from patient gentleness and give us fame for love and gold for kisses. Some day, then, when our hungry souls will seek for bread, our selfish god will give us a stone. Life is not a deep, profound, proplexing problem. It is a simple, easy lesson, such as any child may read. You cannot find its solution in the ponderous tones of the old fathers, the philosophers, the investigators, the theorists. It is not on your bookshelves. But in the warmest corner of the most unlettered heart it glows in letters that the blind may read; a sweet, plain, simple, easy, loving lesson. And when you have learned it, brother of mine, the world will be better and happier.

THE HOT WEATHER

Of mid-summer has a weakening effect, both upon body and mind. You feel absolutely incapable of doing any arduous work, and even light duties are performed languidly and unwillingly. This low state of the system causes even greater infirmity, and gives opportunity for serious disease to gain a foot-hold. In this condition the system is quick to respond to the quickening and strengthening effects of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies the blood, regulates the digestive organs, and infuses fresh life and vigor into every portion of the body. People who have taken it write us saying: "It puts new life right into me." "It makes me young again." Reader if you suffer from summer weakness, try Hood's Sarsaparilla. 100 Doses $1.

George Alfred Townsend says that he has written an average of 30,000 words a week for the last twenty five years. This would aggregate 39,000,000 words, or about 25,000 columns of newspaper matter. It would make 150 volumes of 400 or seven hundred pages each—a library in itself.

[illegible]

Analyzing Baking Powder.

Under the direction of the New York State Board of Health, eighty-four different kinds of baking powders, embracing all the brands that would be found for sale in the State, were submitted to examination and analysis by Prof. C. F. Chandler, a Member of the State Board and President of the New York City Board of Health, assisted by Prof. Edward G. Love, the well-known late United States Government chemist.

The official report shows that a large number of the powders examined were found to contain alum or lime; many of them to such an extent as to render them seriously objectional for use in the preparation of human food.

Alum was found in twenty-nine samples. This drug is employed in baking powders to cheapen their cost. The presence of lime is attributed to the impure cream of tartar of commerce used in their manufacture. Such cream of Tartar was analyzed, and found to contain lime and other impurities; in some samples to the extent of 93 per cent of their entire weight.

All the baking powders of the market with the single exception of "Royal" (not including the alum and phosphate powders, which were long since discarded as unsafe or inefficient by prudent housekeepers) are made from the impure cream of tartar of commerce, and consequently contain lime to a corresponding extent.

The only baking powder yet found by chemical analysis to be entirely free from lime and absolutely pure is the "Royal." This perfect purity results from the exclusive use of cream of tartar specially refined and prepared by patent process of the N. Y. Tartar Co., which totally remove the tartrate of lime and other impuiities. The cost of this chemically pure cream of tartar is much greater than any other, and on account of this greater cost is used in no baking powder but the "Royal;"

Prof. Love who made the analysis of baking powders for the New York State Board of Health as well as for the government, says of the purity and wholesomeness of "Royal:"

"I have tested a package of 'Royal Baking Powder' which I purchased in the open market and find it composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder of a high degree of merit, and does not contain either alum or phosphates or any injurious substances.

E. G. Love, Ph. D."

THE PROPER THING.

White wool dresses are the favorite for the seaside.

Velvet neck-bands with throat bows are much worn.

Velvet will be used on some of the most elegant summer costumes.

White flannels and serge of light quality are used for tennis dresses.

Woven tucks in woolen robes are among the novelties of the season.

Gauze ribbons in fancy designs are among the most elegant bonnet trimmings.

The white chuddah shawls are still the most luxurious of extra wraps for summer.

The old-time summer silks are being used again in stripes, checks, bars and blocks.

Turbands will worn throughout the season. The new shapes are graceful and becoming.

White or canary-colored pique vests are very popular, and are worn alike with dressy promenade or house costumes.

Too much neck dressing meets with little favor; the neat, high collar effect is preferred by those who know how to dress.

The magpie style of dress is in high vogue, black and white toilets being everywhere noted in costumes for nearly every occasion.

Veils are of red or blue tissue with small dots. They are put on in scarf shape. Face veils are much longer than they have been of late, and extend to the tip of the chin.

The full corsages are especially liked for the summer foulards, muslins, surahs, and lace dresses, and in some of these an effort is made to hide the lengthwise seams as much as possible.

Just now the favorite shades of color are geranium-red, Opheila-purple, almond-green and a pretty tint called "leather," which is very convenient to wear and looks well with any other

Dainty little morning wrappers for warm weather are made of cheese cloth at three cents a yard, and have Watteau backs and yokes. They wash nicely and will be found very comfortable.

The "robin-redbreast" plastron is very popular with young and slender ladies. It is made of dull red silk, as nearly the color of the robin-redbreast's plumage as the shade can be found, and is allowed to fall full below the the waist.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery

Capt. Coleman, schr. Weymouth, plying between Atlantic City and New York, had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner. Free trial bottles of this standard remedy at R. Phillips' drug store.

[illegible]

Fun That Farmers Have.

There is a popular belief that newspaper men are not posted on farm matters. But this is a snare and a delusion. If you doubt it, read this from the Atchison Globe:

It is a frequent saying that in the winter a farmer has nothing to do but enjoy himself; that when the blizzards send in their cards he can draw up his chair to the stove, put his feet in the oven, and spend the day reading the Globe and Church Herald, and other moral works. According to tradition, this occupation is only disturbed when he adjourns to the table, and banquets on mince pie and divers meats. This is all a mistake. A close observer will see the industrious farmer crawl out of bed four hours before daylight, soften his boots with a hammer, and commence his days work with a lantern in one hand and a bucket of frozen slop in the other. He has from one to a thousand hogs, which shove their noses in his face, and tip the contents of his bucket on him, where it freezes until he looks like a skating rink. When he escapes from the hog-pen, he hunts up six or seven buckets, and crawls through a wire fence to milk twenty-seven cows. These animals wait until he has the bucket nearly filled, when they kick it over, aiming so that the contents will kalsomine such parts of his clothing as the hogs spared. Now and then they vary the monotony by kicking him instead of the bucket, which makes him feel tired and homesick. When the cows have been milked he goes to feed the horses and finds the sorrel mare doubled up in the manger with the colic. He then has to mix up a lot of aconite and water, which he attempts to pour down the animal's mouth when it hits him on the teeth with its front feet and makes him wish he had never been born. He works around all the morning with the old mare and then proceeds to curry the dun mules, which try to see which can kick the hardest, and by the time he is through he feels as though he had been run through a corn-sheller. When he has fed the hens and watered the cattle and hunted three hours for a twenty cent pig, and chopped half a cord of elm for the house, and carried forty buckets of waters to the horses, and shelled three bushels of corn by hand, and shoveled a road through ten feet of snow, and milked the cows, and curried the mules, and doctored the old mare again in the evening, he goes to bed, and gets up again in the morning four hours before daylight and commences the whole thing over again.

TWENTY YEARS A SUFFERER.

Jordan, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—I have been afflicted with Rheumatism for the past twenty years, and have been laid up with it regularly for the past ten years. A short time ago I was confined to my bed with it, and sent for a bottle of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and when I had used the first bottle, went after the second bottle myself. I have tried so many good things, with no good results, that I can recommend this, in the highest terms, as I believe your remedy is the best in existence.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. MARY DOCKSTADER,
Farmer's Hotel.

Black Rock, N. Y.

Dear Sirs:—This is to certify that I have been afflicted with rheumatism and Neuralgia for the past twenty-five year and at times so bad that I was not expected to live. I have used Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and have never used anything in all my experience that has helped me so much. I can recommend it to all afflicted with the above disease.

MRS. MARY MAGUIRE,
1437 Niagara Street.

Syracuse, N. Y.

Gents:—For the past five months I have been troubled with Rheumatism, at times very badly. I procured some of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy of your agent, and in a few days was entirely free from all pain, and continuing its use for several weeks I am entirely cured and take pleasure in recommending it to all who are troubled with Rheumatism or general debility.

Yours truly,
MRS. E. S. HINKLEY,
203 East Genesee St.

Ask your druggist for Dr. Pardee's Remedy, and take no other. Price, $1 per bottle; six bottles, $5.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

The deepest well in the world is at Homewood, Penn., and is 6,600 feet below the surface.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES.
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

CLOTHING.
The "T. C. [illegible]

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. Royal Baking Powder Co., 106 Wall St.

TAINTOR'S
GUIDE-BOOKS
Reliable and Complete.
Illustrated with Maps and Wood Cuts.
Price 25 Cents Each, by Mail.

CITY OF NEW YORK.
Containing a description of and directions for visiting the Public Buildings, etc. Street Directory, Travelers' Directory, and map of New York.

SEASIDE RESORTS.
Atlantic Coast from the St. Lawrence to the Gulf

HUDSON RIVER ROUTE.
New York to West Point, Catskill Mountains, Albany, Troy, Saratoga Springs, Lake George, Lake Champlain, Adirondacks, Montreal and Quebec.

SARATOGA ILLUSTRATED.
Guide to Saratoga Springs, with maps and woot cuts.

ERIE RAILWAY ROUTE.
New York to Ithaca, Havana, Watkins Glen, Rochester, Dunkirk, Buffalo and Niagara Falls, via Erie Railway.

NEW YORK TO SARATOGA, BUFFALO AND NIAGARA FALLS.
Via Hudson River and New York Central Railroad.

NEWPORT ROUTE.
New York to Boston, via Newport and Fall River. Descriptions of Newport and Narraganset Bay.

NEW YORK TO WHITE MOUNTAINS.
Via N. Y. & New Haven and Connecticut River R. R.

NORTHERN RESORTS.
White Mountains, Lake Memphremagog, Green Mountains, Lake Champlain, Sheldon, Montreal and Thousand Islands.

PENNA COAL REGIONS.
New York and Philadelphia to Easton, Bethlehem, Delaware, Water Gap, Manunka Chunk, Scranton, Harrisburg, Williamsport and Elmira.

NEW YORK TO PHILADELPHIA, BALTIMORE AND WASHINGTON.

SARATOGA MINERAL WATERS.
Directions for Using: by W. O. Stillman, M. D.

Above Guides sent, postpaid, on receipt of 25c. each
For sale by Newsdealers and Booksellers.
Published by
TAINTOR BROTHERS & COMPANY,
18 and 20 Astor Place, New York.

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.
Time Table Taking Effect Feb. 1st, 1886.

NORTHWARD.					SOUTHWARD.
5	3	1	9	STATIONS.	6	4	2	10
p m	p m	a m	a m	Leave Arrive	a m	a m	p m	p m
5 15	3 55	8 50	6 00	Jay St., N. Y.	9 40	1100	7 50	1120
5 45	4 15	9 20	6 20	42nd St., N. Y.	9 25	1045	7 35	1110
7 38	6 00	1110	9 30	Cornwall	7 40	9 00	5 47	8 18
8 20	6 35	1142	1028	Campbell Hall	7 11	8 30	5 13	7 10
8 45	7 00	1210	1240	Middletown	6 55	8 15	4 55	6 30
†902	7 21	1229	1 10	Winterton	†633	7 58	†431	5 50
†908	7 27	1236	1 25	Bloom'ngb'rgh	†628	7 47	4 26	5 40
†912	7 33	1241	1 30	Wurtsboro	†624	7 43	*421	5 30
9 18	7 40	1250	1 40	Summitville	6 17	7 35	4 13	5 20
....	8 00	1 20	....	Ellenville	....	7 15	3 40	....
*936	p m	1 11	2 10	Mountain Dale	*600	a m	3 54	4 55
*948	....	1 20	2 22	Centerville	*553	....	3 47	4 40
*953	....	1 32	2 35	Fallsburgh	*545	....	3 38	4 26
1000	....	1 40	2 50	Hurley	*537	....	3 30	4 10
1012	Pass. & Fr't	1 54	3 18	Liberty Falls	*525	....	3 18	3 47
1016		2 00	3 37	Liberty	5 20	....	3 13	3 37
1030		2 15	4 00	Parksville	*508	....	2 59	3 18
1042		2 45	4 25	L'v'gst'n Man'r	4 55	Mixed	2 45	2 50
1055		3 00	4 43	Rockland	4 40		2 33	2 17
1107		3 12	4 57	Cook's Falls	*428		2 20	2 02
1130		3 32	5 25	East Branch	4 05		1 56	1 35
....	13	*343	5 35	Fish's Eddy	....	14	*149	1 22
1150	a m	3 55	5 50	Hancock	3 43	p m	1 38	1 08
1240	6 40	4 40	6 45	Walton	2 55	4 20	1255	1155
9 00	5 35	5 50	p m	Delhi	....	5 50	1040	a m
1 20	7 40	5 15	Oswego Exp.	Franklin	2 15	3 30	1205	Pass. & Fr't
†128	7 59	5 22		Sidney Centre	†205	3 15	1157
1 45	8 55	5 40		Sidney [Depart	1 45	2 45	1140
....	....	7 30		New Berlin	....	....	7 00
....	9 30	†555		Guilford Centr	....	1 50	1122
2 06	9 40	5 59		Guilford	1 20	1 40	1119
2 24	1005	6 18		Oxford	1 03	1 15	1104
2 45	1030	6 30	31	Norwich	1240	1245	1045	50
....	47	....	....		....	32	....	....
....	a m	....	a m		....	p m	a m	p m
2 50	3 15	6 33	7 30	Norwich	1230	7 20	1040	6 20
†302	3 32	*645	7 43	North Norwich	....	7 08	1029	6 00
†314	3 55	6 58	7 57	Smyrna	1208	6 58	1018	5 40
3 28	3 08	7 03	8 05	Earlville	1200	6 46	1011	5 15
3 32	3 30	7 13	8 15	Randallsville	1150	6 36	1003	4 45
†345	3 50	7 25	8 27	Eaton	1140	6 29	9 55	4 20
*350	4 03	7 30	8 32	Morrisville	1133	6 22	9 48	4 08
†404	4 30	7 43	8 45	Munnsville	1117	6 06	9 33	3 10
†415	4 55	*755	8 57	Community	1103	5 50	*921	2 30
4 21	5 06	8 00	9 08	Oneida Castle	1057	5 45	9 14	2 08
4 23	5 10	8 05	9 15	Oneida	1055	5 40	9 12	2 00
†433	p m	*810	*930	Durhamville	....	*512	*858	1248
*450	....	*821	9 38	North Bay	1027	4 54	8 35	1210
*505	....	8 42	9 53	Cleveland	1018	4 37	8 21	1140
*512	....	*847	1000	B'rnhard's Bay	1007	4 31	*814	1111
5 22	....	8 55	1007	Constantia	1000	4 24	8 07	1100
5 42	....	9 12	1024	Central Square	9 48	4 06	7 49	1024
5 49	....	9 18	1031	Caughdenoy	9 38	*400	*741	9 50
5 57	....	9 28	1038	Pennellville	9 28	3 54	7 34	9 40
6 12	....	9 47	1056	Fulton	9 10	3 35	7 15	8 50
6 50	....	1010	1125	Oswego	8 45	3 10	6 50	7 30
a m	p m	p m	a m	Arrive Depart	p m	p m	a m	a m

Train 1—Stops at Wurtsboro on signal, and at Winterton for New York passengers only.
Train 2—Stops at Guilford Centre for New York passengers only, and at North Norwich on signal.
Train 3—Stops at Hurley, Liberty Falls, Parksville and Cook's Falls on signal.
Train 31—Stops at Caughdenoy on signal.
Train 6—Stops at Morrisville, North Bay and Cleveland on signal; at Smyrna, Earlville, Eaton, Munnsville, Community and Bernhard's Bay for New York passengers only.
ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING SOUTH.

HART BROS.,
—DEALERS IN—
Vitrified Glazed Stone Ware
—AND—
PORTLAND CEMENT SEWER PIPE
—AND—
DRAIN TILE,
With all necessary Fittings and connections.
FIRE BRICK, CLAY AND SAND.
Stone Ware, and Cement,
Chimneys and Tops.
Fire Bricks of [illegible] furnished on application.
[illegible]

Just Received at the
NEW PARLOR RUG STORE
A full line of Harrison Bros. & Co's
READY MIXED PAINTS.
They are noted the world over for durability, ease of application, and firmness of finish. Call and examine them. Select what you need and carry them off at a price that will astonish you. I keep over sixty shades of colors, varying from the tint of a Ladies Cheek to the appropriate color for a Horse Barn.
I have further "elevated the standing of the Oswego County drug trade," by adding to my regular line of Fine Drugs
—AND—
MEDICINES,
a beautiful modern
--SODA FOUNTAIN,--
At a cost of $2,000.00. Put on your spectacles and step in and test it for yourselves.
Remember the spot, day and date.
☞ The New Drug Store. ☜
H. C. GIESLER.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
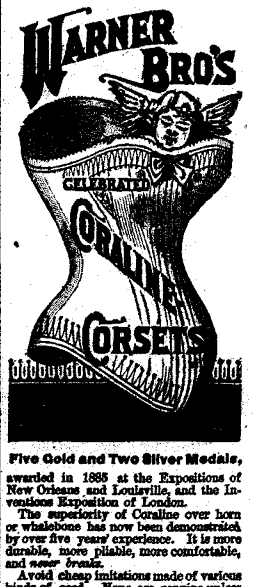
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
☞ Ladie's Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

Scranton Coal!
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,
Promptly Delivered!
At the Following Prices:
Stove $4.50 Grate 4.25
Nut 4.50 Pea 3.50
Egg 4.25 Smith 450
No 4 475 Mixed 450
SCHENCK & FOSTER.



Five Gold and Two Silver Medals,
awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.
The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks.
Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "Dr. Warner's Coraline" is printed on inside of steel cover.
FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING MERCHANTS.
WARNER BROTHERS,
353 Broadway, New York City

FITS STOPPED FREE
[illegible] BEWARE OF IMITATING FRAUDS.

JUST THE THING!
CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.
Save time and labor! Neat and Compact.
Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and [illegible] General as the "best device of the kind that [illegible]
[illegible] OFFICE.

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS, Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters, etc. No 46 and 48 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 3 First street.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y.
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts. Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious Sample Rooms.

PLUMBING, PLUMBING!
S. C. NORTH,
THE PLUMBER,
has moved his office and shop
Under Collins' Shoe Store
and is now prepared to do all kinds of PLUMBING,
GAS and STEAM
FITTING.
Give me a call. I will try and please you. I carry a full line of Brass Goods.
Hydrant Hose,
Water Goods
of all kinds. Also a full line of
GAS FIXTURES.
10tf S. C. North.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.
Prices Below all Competition
On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.
IN DYE STUFFS
I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at
R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.
A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.
No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.
Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods—and prices below all Competition.
48m3 R. E. PHILLIPS.

Job Printing.
—:o:—
We are prepared to do all kinds of
Job Printing
with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.
PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.
All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices.

[illegible] accompanied by a [illegible] private guarantee of good [illegible]

Advertising made known on application [illegible]

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly [illegible] reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES.

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

WATERTOWN has come forward with a bid for the new insane asylum.

CHICAGO and Brooklyn are nearly together in the matter of population. The former city claims 750,000, the latter 785,000.

NIGULL CHACON, the young Cuban who killed his paramour, Mrs. Williams while attempting to shoot her husband, was hanged in the yard of the Tombs prison; New York, last Friday morning.

REV. HENRY WARD BEECHER preached to a large congregation in Union Chapel, Islington, London, last Sunday, taking his text from John XVII, 20, 22 and 23, "Christian Unity by loves power."

DELESSEPS has issued a circular claiming that only $120,000,000 is now required to complete the Panama Canal in 1889 and despite all obsticles he will march right on until the work is finished.

REV. FATHER AUGUSTUS FULTON the first and only colored Catholic priest in this country celebrated mass in the church of St. Benedict the Moor, New York city on Sunday for the first time.

REV. W. W. DOWNS, the preacher of Boston, whose name has been so prominently before the public as one of the principals in the Tabor-Downs suit, is again under arrest this time on a warrant issued by a young woman of Boston, who pronounces him to be the father of her illegitimate child, which was born about four months ago.

MR. JAMES CONNOLY, the factory inspector, started out on a tour of investigation last Monday, of all the factories in this State. The new labor law prohibits the employment, in any capacity, of children under 13 years of age, and provides that females under 21 shall not be employed more than sixty hours per week. Mr. Connolly, who is to see that this law is enforced, began his work in Cohoes.

A MOST remarkable case of long fasting occurred in Mottville, Onondaga county, which terminated in death last Wednesday evening. Mrs. Harmon B. Benedict on the 15th of last May began refusing to take food of any description. No medicine was given her by their family physician, Dr. Brown, as there was not the slightest indication of disease. She gave no reason for refusing to eat and for fifty-three days she lay upon her bed, being taken from it only when a change of bed clothes was necessary. Thus she lingered along until last Wednesday, the 53d day of her fast when she died. The case is a wonderful one and shows how long the human system can endure without food.

DESPITE the predictions to the contrary, C. D. Graham, the Philadelphia cooper, went over the whirlpool rapids at Niagara Falls last Sunday at about four o'clock in the afternoon, Graham with the cask in which he was to make the journey, was taken out into the river and he started on his perilous voyage feeling confident that he would accomplish that great feat which a few years ago cost Capt. Webb his life. At first the barrel moved slowly along, then faster and faster until the mad current dashed it on with its full force. The cask bounded up and down over the great waves and several times turned a complete sumersault, but generally speaking the wider portion remained uppermost, although it twirled around like a top. The cask kept pretty well in the center of the river until it reached the whirlpool, when it struck a strong side current and was carried swiftly through, reaching the waters beyond in safety. From here the journey was comparitively quiet. The cask floated on towards Lewiston right side up and all danger was passed. It was picked up at Lewiston, about five miles below the starting point and Graham crawled out of the barrel uninjured with the exception of a slight bruise on one arm which he received while passing through the whirlpool. He remarked:

"When I struck the eddy it was one continued round of jerks, but I am not hurt a bit."

Graham is 33 years of age and said to be a poor, hard-working man. He did not make a cent out of the operation and bore all the expenses himself, seeming to be glad of the privilege of being allowed to make the attempt.

The cask is 7 feet long, 33 inches in diameter at the widest portion, twenty-three inches at the top and 18 inches at the bottom. It is bound around with [illegible] hoops which weigh 250 pounds. [illegible] ballast, which was attached to the [illegible] keep it in position weighs 240 [illegible]. Graham will probably re[illegible] the trip. He says he will yet go over the Horseshoe falls.

LITERARY.

A choice illustrated edition of Paul H. Hayne's complete poems will be issued immediately by D. Lothrop & Co., Boston.

The midsummer (Aug.) Wide Awake [illegible] its beautiful new [illegible]

[illegible] 1887 it will [illegible]

Governor [illegible] will deliver an oration at the [illegible] county fair, to be held at [illegible] in September.

Near Orange Lake, Orange county, last Thursday, John Clark, a New York merchant in spices and coffee, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a sickle and pocket knife.

Ex-Alderman Waite of New York, the alleged bribe-giver, has been committed to the house of detention as a witness.

The trial of Salt Superintendent P. J. Brumelknap, on charges of malfeasance in office preferred by Armstrong Maltby was begun in Syracuse, Friday, before Judge Frank Rice of Canandaigua as referee.

The G. A. R. Posts of Northern New York have planned to hold an encampment at Prospect Park, near Clayton, to commence on Aug. 23d, and close on the 30th. Preparations are being made for a large gathering, and Col. Henry E. Turner, of Lowville, has the affair especially in hand.

An analysis of the Salmon river water made by a Syracuse chemist shows that it contains to each one hundred parts, solids, 0.8: organic and volatile matter, 7.4 probably inorganic residue, lime, 2.4; sulphates, the merest trace, free ammonia, .0085; albuminoid ammonia, .0215; hardness, Clark's scale, 351.

About noon last Sunday, George Dell, aged 42 years, living at Herkimer and Franklin streets, Albany, cut his throat with a pair of shears and stabbed himself in the left chest and abdomen three times. Shortly after he jumped from the second story window, striking on his head, injuring but not fracturing his skull. He had had domestic troubles and was several years ago an inmate of an insane asylum. He will probably die.

There is a serious damage being done the hop crop of Central New York by vermin and the blight known as honey dew. The hops are not yet in the blow and the full extent of the damage cannot yet be told. Growers are considerably alarmed, however, and the price of old hops, of which there are a good many in store, has doubled within the past six weeks.

The mystery enveloping the fate of Alexander F. Oakey, the artist, who disappeared from his home September 19, 1885, was solved Friday, when Oakey was found living under a false name in Newark, N. J. It is stated that Oakey recently wrote to his wife, who is now living with her children in Buffalo, proposing that they should again live together. This Mrs. Oakey declined to do and it is said she will soon apply for a divorce on the ground of desertion.

COUNTY NEWS.

Carpenters are said to be in great demand at Parish.

Richard P. Burghart has been been appointed postmaster at Caughdenoy.

The Pulaski cornet band assisted in the celebration in that village, July 5th.

The next annual meeting of the Old Settler's association will be held in Mexico, August 19th.

Rev. Father Kelly, the former pastor of St. Paul's church, Oswego, died at Mount Hope, Md., last Sunday.

Oswego has organized a company, with $15,000 capital, for the purpose of manufacturing coffins and caskets.

The Pulaski Democrat speaks in the highest terms of Hon. D. E. Ainsworth's Fourth of July address in that village.

The necessary legal steps are being taken to reduce the capital stock of the Phœnix Bank from $50,000 to $35,000.

The Central Square News states that Mr. Brenan, of Hastings Center, has 3,000 chicks this season. Next season he expects to have 10,000 chicks and 3,000 ducks.

About 2 o'clock Monday morniog the barnes belonging to Mr. Gardener Briggs of Seneca Hill were destroyed by fire. The barns with their contents were valued at $2,000. Insurance $800. The fire was of incendiary origin.

A ball is to be given by the Fire company recently organized and composed of the employees of the Minetto Shade Cloth Company to-morrow evening. Supper is to be served at the Riverside hotel. The proceeds are to be used for the purchase of a new hose cart.

Russell Avery of Sand Bank, aged about 40 years, was taken sick a short time ago which slightly affected his mind. On last week Tuesday he wandered away from home while in a deranged condition causing great anxiety to his relatives and friends. He was found on Saturday, near Lorraine Huddle, Jefferson Co., wandering about and was taken home. Dr. E. F. Kelly, of Pulaski, called on him Saturday and said with proper treatment at home he would recover.

Last January, Marchall Rima of Richland, was at work at Keene's station, St. Lawrence county, for the Rossie Iron company. At the time he was seriously injured while engaged in the company's interest. One of his legs sustained a compound fracture and a part of his foot had to be amputated. Mr. Rima has recently been able to return to his home in that town. About two weeks since he brought an action in the Supreme court against the company charging negligence on their part and claiming $15,000 damages. The case will be tried at Watertown in September.

The band tournament at Hannibal for the benefit of the brass band, on Saturday evening was a grand success, 8 bands from surrounding towns being in attendance. People flocked in from the surrounding country till it was estimated that there were twenty-five hundred people in the place. Hannibal has never seen such a crowd since 1865. The object of the tournament was to assist the Brewster Band at Hannibal to raise money to replace their instruments destroyed by the fire. Refreshments were [illegible]

[illegible]

Sweeney, the new pitcher of the Stars, played this season with the St. Louis league club.

Schomberg of the Utica club who was considered the best first baseman in the International league has been engaged by the Pittsburg club.

Sweeney, the new Star pitcher, gets $1,400 for the remainder of the season.

The Syracuse and Buffalo clubs have not been whitewashed as yet this season.

The Detroits will play no more exhibition games until the championship season is over.

There is a hard struggle in the league championship race between Detroit Chicago and New York.

The Stars have been strengthened by the addition of Sweeney, Dickinson, and Harbidge all of whom are "old timers."

The Oswegos play in Syracuse to-day. The Stars will probably use their new battery, Sweeney and Householder.

The Chicagos won three straight games from the Detroits last week.

Oswego, Washington and Baltimore close up the rear in their respective leagues, while Detroit, Toronto and Pittsburg lead.

The Stars play the Hamiltons Thursday and Friday. The Torontos on Saturday.

The Stars played in their old form Saturday and defeated the Uticas by a score of 7 to 4.

Olin seems to be doing the best work for the Stars both at the bat and in the field.

New York outranks Chicago in batting and fielding averages, and yet is below the Chicago club in the pennant race.

Up to July 3, inclusive, the League players scored 103 home runs; the Boston have made 10, Chicagoes 20, Detroits 21, Kansas City 3, New York 8, Philadelphia 15, St Louis 11, Washington 10.

Ferguson has been Philadelphia's winning pitcher, McCormick for Chicago, Radbourn for Boston, Baldwin for Detroit, Keefe for New York, Shaw for Washington, Weidman for Kansas City, and Boyle for St. Louis.

South Granby.

Mrs. Charles Stewart of Kansas, is visiting friends in this place.

The old Gifford house is being remodeled inside and new windows taking the place of old ones. The outside is also being newly covered.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Baker of Hannibal, called on friends here last Saturday.

H. Sperbeck our station agent is building a new grocery store.

Thunder snowers prevailed here about all of last Friday night and were greatly welcomed by all as the ground was getting very dry.

Tobacco is looking splendidly and we don't think it could improve much faster than it does. There are so many good pieces in this section we will not undertake to name the best for fear we would not do all justice, but all have good pieces.

Potatoe bugs are very plenty these hot days but with the use of Paris green pretty freely we keep them thinned out some.

South Scriba.

The Grammar school closes next Friday with a picnic in Phineas Bartlett's orchard.

Rev. F. J. Rathburn of Mt. Pleasant, preaches every Friday evening in this place at the G. A. R. Hall.

It is reported that a two year old boy of this place a few days since kept running into the house and asking his mother for something to eat, after doing this three or four times the mother's curiosity was aroused and following the child into the yard was thunderstruck on discovering a large milk snake, with its head elevated, swallowing the food that the child was giving it. The snake was afterward killed and it was found to be over three feet in length.

Pennellville.

Frank Gibbs is home for a few days.

Brooks Heffron was home over Sunday.

C. P. Kimball and and family of Phœnix, spent the Sabbath with his parents.

Mrs. Munsell and Mrs. Sherwood visited Leroy Owen at Battle Island Saturday.

Mrs. A. Gregg was not quite so well last week.

Mr. Sherwood has his barn nearly enclosed.

Considerable rye is now ready for harvest. Emory Johnson has a self binding reaper and Ira Betts expects one in a few days. Mr. Betts has about sixty acres of rye standing. Haying is well under way. A number of farmers in this vicinity are using new mowing machines.

Hannibal.

The new band stand in the public square of this village will make quite an improvement when it is completed.

The interior of the Presbyterian church is to be repaired soon.

The M. E. society of this place will hold a lawn festival on Tuesday evening July 20th.

Dr. Bassett and bride are on a visit at the home of R. Bassett.

Unknown burglars entered the depot at this place Sunday night and gave it a thorough overhauling. They were disappointed however, as there was nothing of value in the building. They obtained entrance through the south window.

[illegible]

[illegible] comes to Washington from some place praying for the passage of a bill to make Washington habitable and reasonably safe for women and girls and children to live in. During the present session of Congress, several bills implying the same terrible state of immorality in this city, have been introduced in both Houses of Congress. Within the present week quite a series of such bills was introduced in the senate by Mr. Ingalls. The bills all originate outside of Congress with good people who fancy that Washingtonians need their interference. When a Senator or Representative introduces such a bill at the request of the author that is the last of it. No Senator or Representative thinks of framing such a bill on his own account, and no committee of Congress thinks of acting upon any such bill. The numerous petitions from without arrive in stereotyped form, provided by the good missionaries of morality, and though they be many, nobody, except perhaps the missionaries, pay any attention to them. In seeking an explanation of this extraordinary solicitude of the outside world in the morals of the capital city, a Senator remarked reflectively that "These people must think that Washington is made up of Congressmen."

Yesterday a bright smiling young lady, in a pretty white dress and broad brimmed hat, sat by the side of Representative Hatch on the floor of the House. Ladies are hardly ever seen on the floor while the House is in session, which made this instance more conspicuous and remarkable. Children—little boys and girls—are sometimes admitted to the floor in charge of a member. Mr. Hatch's visitor was admitted as a little girl. Before bringing his visitor in he went to Speaker Carlisle, and being rather scrupulous himself about such matters, asked the Speaker what was the maximum limit of age at which little boys and girls could be admitted. The Speaker noticing that Mr. Hatch's heart was throbbing with anxiety to gratify his visitor, gave a liberal interpretation to the rule "for this occasion only," and told Mr. Hatch that if the young lady would admit that she was a little girl she could enter. The young lady was admitted, and soon the eyes of all the House were upon her as she sat and chatted with the genial gentleman who is oleomargarine's greatest enemy.

The appearance of the Senate chamber varies very much with the fluctuations of the thermometer. It has now assumed its most summery aspect. Senators Mitchell of Oregon and Butler of South Carolina have donned canary colored coats; Senators Miller, Allison, Sherman, and Vance, white waistcoats, and Conger a pink one. Gibson, Manderson, and MaPherson are arrayed in steel color, and vest in something approaching "crushed strawberry." Senator Ingalls has assumed a linen suit fearfully and wonderfully made. Alpaca garments are numerous, and most of the Senators look cool. Ingalls, Manderson, Payne and Vance resort to the palm leaf fan for relief.

To-day—Friday, a lively time is expected in the House, as an attempt will be made to over-ride some of the President's recent vetoes. The action of the democrats in the House concerning the vetoed pension bills indicates very clearly that the party intends to stand by the President, and that there is no chance to pass any of the bills over his veto. Yesterday an attempt was made, and nearly the whole day was occupied in fighting over the question, the yeas and nays being called frequently. The votes followed party lines, and the effort to get the bill up for consideration failed each time.

Mrs. Cleveland's mid-day reception, held on Tuesdays and Thursdays, lasting an hour, has become the leading event of the season. The White House is so cool, and the manner of conducting affairs there is so agreeable to every one, that the occasion grows more and more in favor every day. Mrs. Cleveland's callers enjoy the perfect freedom of the drawing rooms, and have no more restraint upon them than they would in the parlor of any private person. The new lady receives without assistance now, and is very gracious and affable. She is careful to shake hands with all the little children who accompany her callers. At her Tuesday's reception I noticed a little urchin who was straggling by without a handshake The hostess bent forward extended her hand quite beyond the usual distance to greet the little fellow, but he instantly drew himself to one side and refused the courtesy. Mrs. Cleveland uttered a hearty little laugh at the snubbing she had received, and turned to the visitor next in line.

Survival of the Fittest.

For some time past the question of purity in baking powders, has formed quite a feature of newspaper duscussion, and eminent doctors of philosophy have given opinious as to the ingredients which compose many of the articles sold under that name. The investigations have narrowed down to the limit which awards the Royal Baking Powder the palm of purity, and several of the most distinguished scientists have testified to their conviction that no extraneous or deleterious matter enters into its composition. The Royal Baking Powder Company has received a world-wide reputation for the success which has marked their preparation of cream of tartar for baking purposes. It is indisputably shown that they have eliminated all elements of tartarate of lime, alum or other impurities, and present to the public a healthful and chemically pure article. Such widely known chemists as Henry Morton, E. G. Love, [illegible] and others have [illegible] its superiority over other manufactures, and testified through [illegible] to its excellence. [illegible]

Two of the choicest and most famous books in modern literature, Washington Irving's "The Sketch Book," and "Knickerbocker's History of New York," are just published in style worthy of this most widely celebrated and universally honored of American authors. The two books together form one of the nine volumes of his works also just published. The type is large, leaded, beautiful; the two volumes bound in one comprise 693 pages; the binding is half morocco, marbled edges. The only other edition in the market that at all compares with this or rivals it, is advertised by the publisher at $3 00 per volume.

Mr. Alden's price when sold in sets of nine volumes, is a little less than $1.00 per volume. He now offers this single specimen volume until September 1, 1886, for the price (if it can be called a price) of 50 cents by mail, postage paid.

This offer is without restriction or condition; if there are a hundred thousand, or half a million of those who take pleasure in the works of Washington Irving, who want the volume, he says he will fill their orders as fast as his printers and binders can turn them out.

If you want to complete your set after you have received this volume, you can, of course do so by paying the additional price for the set. The object of this extraordinary "Coup D'Etat" is of course advertising; except for this consideration the price would be ridiculous and ruinous. Mr. Alden sends his complete Condensed Catalogue of standard books free to any applicant, or his illgstrated catalogue, 132 pages, for four cents. Address, John B. Alden, Publisher, 393 Pearl Street, New York.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., July 7, 1886.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, the President and Trustee More, Chase, Bradford, Johnson, and Kendrick.

Minutes of last meeting read and adopted.

The Finance Committee reported the following bills correct and the same were audited at the amounts claimed.

Geo. F. Sharp, Street Commissioner,	$142.20
J. J. Stephens, rent of Court Room	4.33
Willard Curtis, special police	4.00
Edward Jones, special police	4.00
H. H. Kendrick, labor and materials for hose house on Fourth street	35.56
John Cavanaugh, lamp lighting	38.67
E. E. Hart, freight on tile	8.60
FULTON TIMES, printing proceedings	14.70
Fulton gas Light Company, gas for streets	60.75
" " " " jail,	1.50
Willard Johnson, lumber	13.97

S. B. Mead appeared for the "Fulton & Oswego Falls Street Railroad Co." asking the Board to establish a grade for First Street. The matter was referred to the Street Committee and the President.

Trustee Pardee came in.

Mr. F. H. Leonard, Jr. representing the "Thompson-Houston Electric Co," of Boston appeared and presented a proposal to light the village with electric light. The proposal was referred to the committee on finance to report at the next meeting.

Mr. N. N. Stranahan, representing the "Schuyler Electric Light Co., of Hartford, Conn., appeared and asked permission to erect poles and exhibit their light in the streets of the village.

The privilege was granted to cover 30 days.

On motion action on letting the lighting of the street lamps was postponed two weeks.

The matter of painting the two hose carts lately purchased was referred to Trustees Pardee and Kendrick and the Chief Engineer.

On motion the Board adjourned to Saturday, evening July 10th, 1886, at 7½ o'clock.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

CHEESE MARKETS.

[From the Utica Herald.]

UTICA, July 12.

The market to-day has been the most satisfactory to salesmen of any market this season. The advance of ⅜c. is no greater than took place two weeks ago, but it carries cheese ⅜c. higher, and the indications for the future are better. No one seems able to explain such a considerable advance fully, but it seems to be the impression that the foreign demand is sufficient to take care of all that is likely to go forward to New York, even at the better range of prices now established. England is in the midst of harvesting, and at this time of year she can use a good sized hunk of cheese. But whatever may be the reason, the fact remains that the market is doing better. June cheese is now pretty well cleared up, although there is an occasional lot that runs back a few days into that month.

Transactions for the day are as follows: 100 boxes at 7c.; 12 lots, 1,600 boxes, at 7½c.; 67 lots 6,434 boxes, at 7⅝c.; 19 lots, 1,849 boxes, at 7⅞c.; 11 lots, 2,106 boxes, at 8c.; 3 lots, 500 boxes at p.t. 2,849 boxes 7¾c. Sales 15,018 boxes; com. 852 boxes; total 15,870 boxes. Ruling price 7⅝c. Transactions one year ago, 14,689 boxes, at 7⅝c.; two years ago, 14,749 boxes, at 9c.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, July 12.

CHEESE—There has been more activity in the cheese market to-day than was shown a week ago and prices have advanced fully one-half cent. The large number of variations indicate the close competition, and buyers were quite as anxious to keep the ruling down as salesmen were to push it up. Many profess to see a brighter outlook for the future, and believe that the advance conceded today will be a permanent one, while others express grave doubts upon that question. The offering today is considerably in excess of that of a week ago, while for the corresponding week last year, a thousand more boxes were sold, and the ruling price was 7¾ cents, with a few choice lots selling as high as 8¼ cents. Transactions to-day were as follows:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
1	86	7 cents
12	731	7¼ cents
17	1,333	7½ cents
49	4,118	7¾ cents
3	308	7⅝ cents
22	1,014	7¾ cents
1	82	7⅞ cents
2	210	8 cents
2	273	p. t.
16	1,096	com.
125	10,209
Farm dairy	836
Total	11,045

FARM DAIRY—The sales of Farm dairy cheese amount to 836 boxes, and the prices range from 7 to 7¾ cents, with the bulk at 7¼.

BUTTER—About 50 packages of butter sold at 14 to 16 cents, the bulk at the latter price.

AT FULTON.

The advance of ¾ of a cent above last week made business decidedly brisk at this market Monday night. Twenty-six factories were represented with about 3,900 boxes, the majority of which readily sold at 7¼ to 7⅝c., Utica ruling.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.50	$1.88	$1.06
Stove	4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
No. 4	4.75	2.50	1.38
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Mixed	4.50	2.38	1.31

Buy while it is Cheap!

[illegible]

Name	Res.	What for				Amt.
H Fralick	Ph'nix	Lock t'nder	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
L Henry	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
H Howe	Fulton	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
L Terry	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
C Sardam	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
G Darling	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
T Sweeney	Os'ego	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
C Connors	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
A Dingman	Bin'vll	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
L Montague	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
Wm Quinn	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
O Crow	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
W Patterson	Fulton	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
H Lappin	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
M Miller	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
Ed Harvey	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
W T Church	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
R H Stow	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
W Althouse	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
S Perry	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
S Storrs	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
Chas Dodge	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
J Knapp	SenHil	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
G Doyle	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
W Sereves	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
J Grautier	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
J Sheridan	Os'ego	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
B Cavellier	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
C Bough	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
J Murphy	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
J Daly	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
T O'Hara	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
V'nValkenburg	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
H Halstead	"	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
C Buxton	C'ng'y	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
A McArthur	Elucid	"	1	m	[illegible]	[illegible]
Peter Conley	Fulton	"	1	m	1000	10 00
						940.00

STATE SHOP CHECK ROLL.

John Boardman	Fult'n	Foreman	39½d	240	78 00
Walter Bradley	"	Carpenter	39½d	180	58 50
			65 d		136.50

The above labor was performed as follows:

40 days making lock gates	84.00
10 days repairing bridges	21.00
7½ days Battle Island dam	15.75
7½ days small boat	15 75
65	136.50

Fulton Times Co., publishing abstract 5 25

STATE SCOW CHECK ROLL

E Richardson	Fulton	Foreman	1	m	50 00	50 00
Geo Barrett	"	C Labor	1	m	35 00	35 00
F Garrison	"	"	1	m	35 00	35 00
J Gilhooly	"	"	1	m	35 00	35 00
J O Lee	Ph'nix	"	1	m	35 00	35 00
M Connors	Fulton	"	1	m	85 00	35 00
Ed Sayles	"	"	1	m	35 00	35 00
J Hayden	"	"	1	m	35 00	35 00
W LaFount'n	"	Team	1	m	75 00	75 00
F Hayden	"	Cook	1	m	15 00	15 00
						38.50

The above labor was performed as follows:

20 days repairing sluces	29.61
100 days repairing locks	146.07
30 days repairing bridges	44.43
70 days laying docking	103.65
40 days bracketing dams	59.24
	385.00
Total	$1,466.75

STATE OF NEW YORK, } s s:
Oswego County. }

L. T. Richardson, Superintendant of canal repairs, and having charge of the line of canal specified in the above abstract being duly sworn, doth depose and say that the foregoing abstract, amounting to the sum of $1,466.72, is a true abstract of all vouchers taken by him, as such superintendent, during the month of June, '86.

Subscribed and sworn to before me }
this 14th day of July, 1886. }
L. T. RICHARDSON
Superintendent.
H. C. GARDNER
Notary Public.

C. S. EGGLESTON,

—DEALER IN—

BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES.
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

3,000 AGENTS WANTED for the NEW WORK.
GLADSTONE—PARNELL
AND THE GREAT IRISH STRUGGLE.

By the eminent author, HON. T. P. O'CONNOR, M. P. for Liverpool, and R. M. MCWADE, Esq. Endorsed by HON. C. S. PARNELL. A thrilling history of Irish oppression and the mighty struggle for Home Rule that is rocking the British Empire to its centre; also Biographies of the leaders. An entirely new work from high authority, of all absorbing interest, richly illustrated, and an immense demand. ☞Apply quickly to
W. A. HOUGHTON & CO.,
12 East 14th St., New York.

We Have Just Received

ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF

Ladies' Kid Button Shoes

"Hand Made."

Best Fitting, Best Wearing and Cheapest Shoe

IN THE COUNTY.

CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE

SALMON SHOE STORE,

OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 94 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y.

☞Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at FULTON, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

HART BROS.,

—DEALERS IN—

Vitrified Glazed Stone Ware

—AND—

PORTLAND CEMENT SEWER PIPE

—AND—

DRAIN TILE,

With all necessary Fittings and connections.

FIRE BRICK, CLAY AND SAND.

Stone Ware, and Cement, Chimneys and Tops.

[illegible]

LUMBER YARD!

—WE HAVE IN STOCK A—

Complete Assortment

—OF—

Lumber, Lath, Shingles &c.

—And in fact everything pertaining to a—

FIRST-CLASS YARD.

We are prepared to furnish thoroughly seasoned lumber at the Lowest Rates. Call and be convinced.

BOOMER & LOOMIS.
Corner Broadway and First Sts.

—CALL ON—

GEORGE JOHNSTON,

On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of

STOVES AND RANGES,

Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,
ART UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,
and ACORN,
Parlor Stoves.

THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
GRAND UNIVERSAL,
HAPPY THOUGHT,
HAPPY HOME,
aud DUCHESS Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the

Howe Ventilating Stove,

which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special barguins in them at my new store.

Yours Respectfully,

GEO. JOHNSTON.

—THE—

Howe Ventilating Stove.

A NEW STOVE. ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.

A HANDSOME STOVE. AN EXCELLENT HEATER.

AN ECONOMICAL STOVE. A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

☞A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE

Howe Ventilating Stove Company, Fulton, N.Y.

F.G. WEEKS, President,
E. R. REDHEAD, Vice-President.
A.LMON BRISTOL, Sec'y & Treas.
E.L. MESSENGER, Gen. Manager.

GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent
FULTON, N.Y.

Job Printing.

—:o:—

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,

—AT THE—

FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

OVER WORKED Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00. A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

VICK'S Floral [illegible]

Flowers and [illegible]

[illegible]

DEL. L'K'WA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING NORTH.

Day Express.....6:18 a. m
[illegible].....11:37 a. m
[illegible].....3:47 p. m
[illegible] and Accommodation.....6:15 p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express.....9:25 p. m

GOING SOUTH.

New York and Philadelphia Express.....6:16 a. m.
Day [illegible].....12:18 p. m.
Day [illegible].....1:46 p. m.
[illegible].....6:15 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express.....7:18 p. m.

The 8:18 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. Schwarz, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express.....7:13 a. m
Freight and Accommodation.....8:40 a. m
Norwich Express.....3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express.....9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express.....6:24 a. m
Oswego Express.....11:27 a. m.
Freight and accommodation.....5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express.....9:57 p.m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:21	2:16	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	12:54	3:34	6:39

☞Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 5 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS.

Coley Haven, a former Fulton boy, is home for a visit.

Miss Frankie Spaythe is visiting friends in Parish.

Mrs. Ella Turner nee Heckey of Philadelphia is visiting in town.

Marlon Brando of Providence has been in town for a few days.

Herm Lang of Syracuse, spent Sunday in town with his parents.

Dr. J. J. Stephens returned to his home in Washington Sunday.

Miss Grace Smith of Phœnix, has been visiting in town for a few days.

Mrs. Job Bennett and children are visiting in Oswego for a short time.

J. H. Cavanaugh left Monday for Chicago, where he intends locating.

Harry Comstock left Monday for a short trip to Boston and other places.

J. E. Nugent of Nugent & Gleason's Metropolitans, was in Fulton Saturday.

W. S. Hale of Skaneateles Falls, spent Sunday in town the guest of Thomas Carr.

Richard Carr of Skaneateles Falls spent Sunday at his home in this village.

Mrs. H. E. Moore and sister, Miss May King, are spending a few weeks in Vermont.

Orin L. Horton or Lincoln, Neb., formerly of this place, is in Fulton for a short time.

Miss Lottie M. Merrill of Rochester, is visiting here the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bennett.

Mrs. James Barrett of Cazenovia, returned home Saturday after a month's visit in town.

John Swan, who has been spending the past week here, returned last night to Binghamton.

Mrs. Dr. M. B. Ingalls of Cortland, is spending a few days in town, the guest of Mrs. J. E. Cary.

Putnam Allen, who has been visiting friends in Pennsylvania for some time, returned home Monday.

Miss Ida Bennett of Lyons, N. Y., who has been visiting her brother, Fred Bennett for a short time, returned home last Saturday.

Miss Lillie Daley of Schenectady, and Miss Lizzie Hale of Skaneateles Falls are visiting in town the guests of Miss Nellie Fairgrieve.

Arthur Emerick of Cazenovia, N. Y., has been visiting friends and relatives in Fulton, his former home. He returned Monday.

J. H. Emerick of New York, superintendant of the Postal Telegraph company, is enjoying a short visit among friends in this village.

Sumner McDonough, who has been in New York for some time, returned home last Sunday. He will spend a couple of weeks here among friends.

Mrs. R. Redman, formerly of Oswego Falls, who has been visiting in town for a few weeks, left yesterday for Humboldt, Iowa, where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. D. A. Ray.

Professor McClure, wife and children, of Newark, N. J., are among the recent arrivals in town. They are accompanied by Prof. William A. Dougall and family, who will remain during the summer.

¾ Three-Fourths their value ¾ To-Morrow, Next day and Saturday great sale of the balance of our light Worsted Dress Goods, and we shall "chink in" a few other kinds of goods to make it spicy, as F. E. BACON'S.

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter jars, Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots, &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by 10tf J. Cooley Tucker.

Gents' Bal. Button and Congress Shoes in the latest up of the style, only $1.50 at COLLINS'. 7tf

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets. Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work [illegible] his business [illegible] [illegible] 7tf

[illegible]

[illegible] [illegible] Co. [illegible] Western Union [illegible] [illegible] a synopsis of the case. After eight weeks of [illegible] during the hottest weather, the case has come to an end, and the verdict of $240,000 damages with costs in favor of the B. & M. Co., gives very general satisfaction. Not the mere matter of dollars and cents causes this rejoicing, but the fact that the great monopoly has been defeated. Rare indeed is is that such an array of learned counsel is present in court. Ex-Senator Conkling and Col. Ingersoll against Ex-Judge Dillon, Joseph Choate, Aaron Vanderpool was the way the case stood. It is a little singular that in nearly all, if not all, the cases Mr. Conkling has had, his opponent has been Joseph Choate.

It is seldom one hears the orator, pure and simple in the courts, but for a masterly oration the closing address of Ex-Senator Conkling in this case was without doubt the best your correspondent ever had the fortune to hear. The sarcasm, the admirable imitation of Jay Gould's supposable testimony, the knowledge of the different bits of testimony, the logical chain of evidence showed that the Senator had not lost any of his old time ability and eloquence. Yet Senator Conkling of ten years ago as the writer saw and heard him then, and the attorney as he is now, seem not to be the same. Tall, broad shouldered, deep chested he is yet, but his hair is white, still that old air of conscious superiority and delightful courtesy is all there. Those eyes are just as expressive and his voice has all the ring as of yore. Yet there is something different. Making money he is, and plenty of it too. I am creditably informed that his retainers amount to $100,000 per year. He is definitely out of politics but there are men not a few who would be glad to see him back in the U. S. Senate.

I have reason to believe that the present owner of the B. & M., Mr. Stokes, means to make his line a connection of one of the Atlantic cables. Mr. Stokes is the proprietor of the Hoffman. Mr. J. W. Mackey, the Bonanza King, makes that his headquarters when in this city. Mr. Mackay is a part owner in the Bennett cables, otherwise known as the Commercial Cable Co. There is a strong friendship between the two and it would not be difficult to arrange it satisfactorily. In that case the B. & M with its Cable Co. could compete with the Western Union, and furnish what it did furnish cheap telegraphic communication.

⁂

The published valuation of the city contains some interesting facts. In round numbers, the city is worth $1,421,000,000—a seventh of which is personal property. This represents a valuation greater than many states of the Union and about one half of the assessed value of this state. The increase in real estate valuation during the year is $36,000,000. This sum may be considered to represent the amount of new buildings in the shape of new structures or additions that has been done during the year. Alongside of the valuation, the debt statement has a place. The debt of the city exceeds $150,000,000, thrice greater than it ought to be and four times greater pro rata than any other city in the United States. $40,000,000 are the running expenses of the city, and with a new acqueduct at a cost of a score of millions, it is quite easy to understand why rents are so high and living expenses so great. Gigantic and stupendous robbery has marked the city's existence for the last 25 years or more.

⁂

In the literary world, the Scribners have a new enterprise in preparation. Twenty years ago they began the publication of Scribner's Monthly, with Dr. Holland as editor. The monthly was a success from the start, and the generous rivalry between the Scribners and the Harpers lead to a class of wood engravings that could not be surpassed. In fact, it was a revolution in the art of wood engraving. In 1881, they sold out to the Century Co., and their magazine was then published under the title of the Century. The Scribners are now about to undertake the publishing of another. This will be called Scribner's Magazine. Mr. E. Burlingame, son of Anson Burlingame, of the Chinese treaty fame, will be editor. The same excellence in wood engravings will be maintained, and the effort will be toward a first-class monthly.

Little is known outside the immediate trade of the care and expense attached to publishing a first-class magazine such as the Century or Harpers. There are pages in either of these publications that cost the management from $100 to $500 to illustrate. Only a first-class printing office can print the edition of the Century. Imagine having ready every month 150,000 copies of a book bound and illustrated, so that every illustration looks like a fine steel engraving. This new departure in wood engraving has brought new talent into the work and there are those whose salaries rank very nearly with those of bank presidents.

⁂

Well, the Broadway R. R. muddle is at last near its close. The Broadway & Seventh Ave. Co., the one that leased the Broadway road; has recognised the right of Receiver O'Brien, and pays $100 per day for the use of the tracks. Mr. Jake Sharp has been brought to terms and his road must pay $15 per day for the same purpose. This will bring into the hands of the Receiver $40,000 per year. The Attorney General has brought a general suit in which the constitutionality of the annulling act will be passed on by the courts. Till that time comes the Receiver will hold the rental, and the same will in time be paid to the "innocent sufferers" of the amendment.

I was down to Castle Garden the other [illegible] a ship load of emigrants [illegible] Salt Lake [illegible] as Mormons, and are professedly opposed to the government; because that is the tendency of Mormon faith. They are treasonably inclined before hand and hence ought not to be landed. If a pauper can't land, why should a Mormon? The testimony of the Mormon woman before the Washington committee shows that the endowment house oaths are treasonable. These deluded people must take them. Would it not prevent any additions to their number?

[illegible]

[illegible] vas Bal Shoes. To be sold at [illegible] prices until [illegible] closed out, at NETTLETON'S.

⁂

The exodus to the seashore and the mountains, to Saratoga and Long Branch, has been greater this year than last. Whole blocks of residences uptown and on Murray Hill are deserted. Newport is well favored. The Goelets, Astors, Vanderbilts, Townsends, Evarts, Mortons, are at Newport. The theatrical fraternity go to Long Branch. There is quite a colony of them at that place.

⁂

Among the jolly things this week was the dinner of the——well, in plain English—the Fish Club at Fish Commissioner E. G. Blackford's. They had all sorts of fish diet, from angle worm soup to spider crab salad. It is wonderful the possibilities of fish when the Fish Club has its dinner. Among the guests were Spencer Baird of the U. S. Fish Commission and James W. Husted, the Bald Eagle of Westchester, now conceded to be the next U. S. Senator in place of Warner Miller.

I am positively informed that gambling in that seductive game called poker is very common at the seaside resorts. Nor is this confined to the men. A gentleman quite prominent in society has a wife whose losses at poker are somewhat startling. He, poor man, takes it as a necessary evil.

At the races in the vicinity of New York, the most noisy in their denunciations of the police interference were the ladies. Nor do these ladies belong to the "fast" class either. They move in the most respectable society; but betting on races is a very exciting pastime, and the stories of Wall street excitement fills them with a determination to try the same in race course betting.

Wanderer.

"Red Riding Hood" at the Opera house this evening.

The sworn statement of the Syracuse Sunday Times for last Sunday was $10,656.

Miss Blanche Boomer is the star in Operetta" of "Red Riding Hood" this evening.

The lawn tennis club will have a meeting next Friday evening at the residence of Dr. C. M. Lee.

President Sharp of the village of Fulton acted as one of the judges in Tuesday's races.—[Phœnix Register.

Rev. A. H. Hanscom of Phœnix will again preach at Johnson's hall, Oswego Falls, next Sunday at 2.30 p. m.

Mrs. James Gilmour, accompanied by her daughter Anna and son Andrew, sailed last Saturday from New York on the steamer Circassia of the Anchor line for a year's trip in Europe.

The ice cream festival given last evening for the benefit of the E. J. Cronyn hose company of Lower Oswego Falls, was very largely attended, and netted the company about $80. Over 120 quarts of cream were sold.

Yesterday a special train left Rome with 700 children from New York sent out by the managers of the Tribune fresh air fund. They are to be taken care of for two weeks by families in various villages of Jefferson and St. Lawrence counties.

We are in receipt of a copy of The Thousand Island Park Journal, published by the Thousand Island Park association of which we notice that F. G. Weeks Esq. is first Vice-President and one of the trustees. The program for the summer meeting of 1886 presents an array of speakers of great ability.

The two-hundreth Anniversary of the founding of Albany will be appropriately celebrated in that city, on July 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st, and 22d. The Ontario & Western via. the West Shore railroad will sell excursion tickets at low rates, and run special trains at suitable hours to accommodate those desiring to attend the Centennial. For particulars see small bills and posters.

The village of Lyons has made a contract with the new Water Works Co., of that village, for 30 hydrants at $40 each per year, and as many in addition at the same price as they may desire in the future. The village of Fulton pays $50 per hydrant for 33, with the privilege of more at the same rate. The village of Baldwinsville has been offered 40 hydrauts at 37.50 each per year, with the same privilege of more at the same rate.—[Baldwinsville Gazette.

The inhabitants of Hannibal were again aroused from their slumbers by fire on last Wednesday morning. The barns on the premises of Riley Wormer were completely destroyed and other buildings in that locality were several times ignited and with difficulty saved from the same fate. The Hannibal News calls upon the Village Fathers to awake from their lethargy, and secure some appliances with which to combat the firey element. This is advice well worth heeding.

W. C. Kellogg of New York, who has been in Oswego for the past two or three weeks, is now stopping at the Lewis house. Mr. Kellogg is introducing the new system of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] F. R. [illegible] W. P. [illegible]

Fulton Trotting Association.

The first meeting of this association was held yesterday afternoon and was well attended.

In the three minute class "William S.," owned by W. S. Snyder of Clyde; "Major B." owned by J. W. Torey of Smithville and "Robbie," each won a heat. In the 2:29 class there were three started V. O. Hunt, Natural Bridge, "Shooting Star" and "N. Brogan," Syracuse. "Henry Gratton," won one heat each the other being a dead heat between these horses. Only three heats were trotted in each. The meeting adjourned until 1 p. m. to-day, when the remaining heats in those two classes will be trotted off, also the second day's races of the 2:45 and 2:33 classes. All of these are for uniform purses of $250.

Third Day—Thursday, July 15. No. 5—Purse $250.00; 2:37 class. No. 6—Purse $350.00; free for all. There will be a special purse for a pacing race. Ladies will be admitted free.

Later—To-day's races have been postponed on account of rain until to-morrow afternoon at 1 p. m. The unfinished races of yesterday will be the first on the program.

A Serious Runaway.

Saturday afternoon a team belonging to J. F. Gere, of South Granby, which was hitched to a heavy wagon and hayrack became freightened and started near the corner of First and Oneida streets and after turning the corner ran up Oneida street. About opposite the post office they collided with a carriage in which was seated Mrs. A. R. Bowering of Martville. She was thrown out and the carriage sadly demolished. The runaways continued up the street and when near the M. E. church, overtook a farmer contentedly driving along and tipped his turnout over but doing no serious damage. Mrs. Bowering was carried into Williams' drug store and Dr. Lake was called, who upon examination, decided that her foot was seriously bruised and sprained, though no bones were broken. She was able to be taken home later on.

Convicted of Petit Larceny.

James N. Clark of this village, held the office of street commissioner during the year of 1885. When a new commissioner was appointed, Mr. Clark refused to deliver up the book containing the poll list to his successor. Friday the president John Sharp, swore out a warrant, charging Clark with petit larceny in refusing to give up the book. Clark was arrested and on Monday was tried by a jury before Justice of the Peace Hulett. The jury was out about an hour when a verdict of guilty was rendered. Sentencing the prisoner was suspended until yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, at which time he was sentenced to pay a fine of $10.00 or stand committed in the county jail not to exceed 10 days. Mr. Clark told a Times reporter yesterday that he would appeal.

Do you want a Worsted Dress Cheap? If so, step into Frank Bacon's, Thursday, Friday or Saturday of this week. He will close out the balance of his light Worsted Dress Goods at 3-4 their value.

For Sale.—A new milch cow 3 years old, part Jersey. Enquire at this office.

THE "SHIPMAN,"

is the engine of to-day. Any party desiring light power (from 1 to 4 H. P.) are invited to call and see one in operation. They are the simplest, cheapest, and safest steam engine known. Being automatic in Fire and Water attendance, they require less attention than any other, and it is practically impossible to explode one. Send card for testimonials or call on the undersigned and satisfy yourselves of its merits.

D. A. Waterman, Agt.
Cor. 2d and Buffalo sts.
10w2 Fulton, N. Y.

We have a splendid stocking for children from 4 to 15 years of age, both in black and colors for 15 cents. F. E. BACON.

COLLECTOR'S NOTICE.

I, the undersigned collector for the village of Fulton N. Y, have received my warrant for the collecting of village taxes and will sit at G. C. Lathrop's store on First street, opposite the Lewis House, on and after the 13th instant to receive taxes at 1 per cent, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m., for the next thirty days.

P. O'Grady,
July 12, 1886. Collector.

If you want quite a good gauze Wrapper for 25 cents step in and get it at F. E. BACON'S.

HARPOON FORKS
for $1.00
—at—
Snow & Loomis' Hardware,
and
Horse Rakes,
Hand Rakes,
Pitch Forks,
Pulley Blocks,
Rope and
Haying Tools,
at equally low prices.

Draper has reduced the price on all holiday goods, fancy crockery, gloves and mittens, dolls, &c., to 10 per cent. less than cost, he is bound to close them all out instead of holding them for next fall's trade.

JUST THE THING!

[illegible]

[illegible]

Corn is growing rapidly.

Beatiful moonlight nights.

It is about time to think of camping out.

Dog days now. Cholera morbus days will soon follow.

Black raspberries and red cherries have taken the place of strawberries.

Another temperance mass meeting is is be held soon in Johnson's hall, Oswego Falls.

The Baldwinsville Era had a narrow escape during the fire last week Tuesday in that village.

E. C. Fralick of Fulton spent several days with friends here during this week.—[Phœnix Register.

E. A. Cook of the firm of Peebles & Cook, left this morning for Mexico, where he will sojourn for a week or two.

This is the season of the year in which a man arises from his bed to hurl a boot-jack at the cat on a neighboring roof.

Electric lights have been placed in W. J. Watson's drug store, in Jas. Elder's restaurant and H. C. Giesler's drug store.

There have been ten deaths in the town of Parish during the first half of this year—five males and five females, says the Mirror.

There are seventeen G. A. R. Posts in this county. Arrangements are being made for a reunion to be held in the latter part of July or August.

The new hose company recently organized on Fourth street near the school house has been named the "John Sharp Hose company, No. 3."

Miss Mila Terry gave a birthday party to her friends last Wednesday afternoon at her home on Erie street. The young people thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Everyone in Phœnix seems to regret that the academy is to lose its best teachers, says the Chronicle. Bear up neighbors, what is Phœnix's loss in this instance is probably Fulton's gain.

An examination of candidates for the scholarship to which Oswego county is entitled in Cornell university, will be held at the Pulaski academy on Monday, Aug. 2, 1886, commencing at 9 a. m.

The Post Office Department has reduced the price of domestic money orders, and on and after July 26th. Sums not exceeding $5 can be sent for five cents. Over $5 and not exceeding $10, 8 cents. The price of money orders for all sums over this remains the same as heretofore.

Mrs. O. E. Green of this village, who has officiated as organist at Zion church for several months was the surprised recipient of an elegant hymn and prayer book last Wednesday evening from the members of the choir. The choir visited Mrs. Green's residence and passed a very pleasant evening.

The next session of the Northern New York Conference will be held in Little Falls, the committee having decided to accept the invitation given by the citizens of that place. The Antwarp people tried hard to have the next session held in their village but it was considered best by the committee to hold it in a larger village.

In our last issue in an article referring to the creditable manner in which the Monroe County Mail referred to Miss Jennie Elder's essay, at the recent commencement exercises of Fairport Union school, we used the word "Mrs." instead of Miss. We humbly beg the lady's pardon and hasten to make all the reparation possible.

The Baldwinsville papers claim that the board of directors of the D. L. & W. R. R. are endeavoring to kill if possible the project of a new railroad into that village. It looks as though it would not be killed however, and the new Syracuse & Baldwinsville R. R. seems to have the support of the citizens. It is announced that the new company will build a suitable and convenient depot in the heart of the village.

Competition is of great advantage to a community. The Schuyler Electric Light Co. are to put up lights to compete with the Thomson-Houston system which is now exhibited in the village. If this new company can produce a light that is superior in brilliancy or steadiness and at an expense not to exceed what the present company will light our village for, it is the light we want. We want our streets lighted properly, we must have them. The candle gave away to kerosene, kerosene to gas and gas is fast giving away to electricity. Let us display our energy and enterprise by keeping up with the times.

We received an interesting and encouraging letter Monday from Nathan Hodgson Esq., of Yeadon, England, who is well known in this village, being formerly connected with the Oswego Falls Mills. Mr. Hodgson came to this country in the Servia last month and is now stopping in Patterson, N. J. He will probably not return to England until the latter part of the year. In speaking of Fulton and its people he says: "The remembrance of Fulton's pleasant scenery and the many kind friends I had there, is always a green spot in my memory," and concerning The Times he writes: "I can congratulate you on keeping up a very creditable paper, well edited and compiled."

J. Cooley Tucker has the sole agency [illegible]

[illegible] cares of [illegible] aside for the time being and this evening given to social enjoyment. The rooms and grounds were tastefully arranged and the occasion thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Music was furnished by Schilling & Feversen of Oswego. Among those from out of town we noticed Mr. and Mrs. McKinstry; Mr. and Mrs. Herrick; Miss Hubbard and Miss North of Oswego; Mrs. Allen of Mexico; Mr. A. E. Nettleton of Syracuse; Mr. Wells and Mrs. Tyra Tucker of Baldwinsville.

May the Best Win.

F. O. Rusling, a representative of the Schuyler Electric Light Company of Hartford, Ct., has been in town for several days. At the last meeting of the Board permission was granted to this company to erect poles, wires, etc., for the purpose of exhibiting their lights in competition with the Thompson-Houston system, which has been running here the past two weeks. In conversation with a Times reporter last Monday, Mr. Rusling said that inside of ten days or two weeks he would have about thirty lights erected in different parts of the village. Three miles of wire had been ordered, the machines, lamps, etc., had been shipped, and in a few days men would be here, when the poles would be erected, and the work would be rapidly pushed forward. Power will be supplied from Foster Bros., knife factory in Lower Oswego Falls.

Marital.

Last Thursday afternoon at the residence of the bride's mother in Utica, Mr. H. J. Peebles of this village was married to Miss Annie E. Longley. Rev. Dr. A. B. Goodrich performed the ceremony. Only a few friends of the interested parties were present. A large number of useful and valuable presents were received by the happy couple. Shortly after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Peebles went West for a short trip. They will make their future home in Fulton. Mr. Peebles has been located here only a few months and during that time has made many warm friends who extend congratulations and trust that the matrimonial union of these newly espoused will be a long and happy one. With many others The Times offers congratulations.

The Street Railroad.

The work of building the Fulton and Oswego Falls Street Railroad has at last commenced. Part of the material has arrived and active work has begun at the Oswego Falls terminus. Stone for paving has been distributed along the route and the iron boxes on which the rails rest, cross ties, frogs for switches, etc., have arrived. No rails have as yet been received, thus delaying the work several days. Ground was broken yesterday for the barn. It is to be located on the south side of Broadway, just east of the D. L. & W. railroad. Immediately upon receipt of the rails a large force of men will be put at work laying them and the new road will soon be opened to the public.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Alma Sanborn, wife of Rev. John W. Sanborn of Albion, N. Y., died at her home in that place, last Sunday, of typhoid pneumonia. She was the daughter of Rev. W.S. Titus formerly of this village. The remains were brought here for interment this afternoon and buried in Mt. Adnah.

Lily, the wife of Alonzo Laws, and daughter of C. H. Craver of this village, died at her residence Saturday July 10, aged 22 years. She had been sick but five short weeks, bearing her sufferings patiently and was willing and ready for the Lord to call her home. This young lady was married but one year ago and it seems hard for so young a person to leave this world when life was so sweet to her. She was a true christian and a young lady that made many friends by her truthfulness, and we can say "All is well." She leaves a large circle of friends to mourn her death.

Darling Lilly we will miss you,
And your loss we deeply feel;
But in heaven we'll try and meet you
Over in the golden field.

Her Dearest Friend.

To make the Dry Goods Trade "Jingle" a little in Fulton these warm days we shall place on our counters Thursday, Friday and Saturday, of this week, certain goods at prices which by Saturday will wake the people up. F. E. BACON.

A good milch cow for sale cheap. Enquire at Wilcox's meat market on Cayuga street.

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. Cooley Tucker. 10tf

Before you put a roof on that building, been it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros, at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 3tf

To-Morrow we will sell a splendid Hose for Ladies, in black and colors, full regular made under price at 25 cts. F. E. BACON.

Draper, 15 Oneida street, will not be undersold in groceries, crockery, glass and plated ware, table and hanging lamps. Call and get prices.

You will always find reliable Shoes at the Lowest Prices at Collins'. 7tf

IMPORTANT TO INVALIDS.

MRS. E. G. DODGE, M. D.
of Oswego,
Clairvoyant and Eclectic Physician, will be at the Johnson House, in Fulton, Saturday, July 31, where she can be consulted upon the various diseases the human family is afflicted with. All [illegible] a specialty. 3tf

Commencing

Saturday, July 17th, '86,

We shall give away Tickets for the County Fair. With every sale that amounts to $8 one Season Ticket, to $2 one admittance Ticket.

PEEBLES & COOK,
THE CLOTHIERS,
Opposite Opera House.

A GREAT CUT!

ALL KINDS OF GOODS

Almost Given Away!

—WE HAVE JUST OPENED ANOTHER LOT OF—

Tinware, Glassware, Woodware, Fancy Goods,
TOYS, DOLLS, STATIONERY, GLOVES, HOSIERY,
HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS, CLOTHES WRINGERS, WASHTUBS, BASKETS &c., &c.

Bargains in Every Department.

Everything must be sold.

Call and Secure Bargains.

REMEMBER THE PLACE,

Stowell's 25 Cent and Bargain Store,
Opera House Block, Fulton, N. Y.

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

Hale's Honey the great Cough cure, 25c., 50c. & $1
Glenn's Sulphur Soap heals & beautifies, 25c.
German Corn Remover kills Corns & Bunions
Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye—Black and Brown, 50c.
Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 Minute, 25c
Dean's Rheumatic Pills are a sure cure, 50c.

WORM DESTROYER.

Mrs. Butler's Compound Worm Tonic effectually destroyes worms, naturalizes the stomach and bowels, and acts as a permanent tonic, and is an exceedingly beneficial and certain cure for fever, diarrhea, dry hacking cough and weak, feeble children, as thousands testify. Also cures fits and dizziness. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 28y1.

You will save time and money by buying your field and garden seeds in bulk. A large stock just received at D. C. Draper's 15 Oneida street, and for sale at the lowest living rates by the bushel, quart or pound.

If you want the best ice cream go to Miller's the old ice cream dealer on Cayuga street. 51tf

J. C. Tucker has just received a large stock of Crockery, which he is selling very cheap. 46tf

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

MILTON S. PRICE'S

Great Special Offering.

I SHALL OPEN THIS DAY

Best Bargains this Season

Seventy five pieces ARLINGTON FANCY DRESS GOODS, only 20c. and 25c. per yard. Recently sold at 40c. and 50c. per yard.

Fifty Pieces GILBERT'S CELEBRATED SUITINGS, in Mixtures, Silk Wool Fancy Checks and Diagonal Fancies, only 50c. a yard; worth $1.

Ten pieces Extra Quality CASHMERE ROYAL BLACK SILKS, only $1.00 yer yard; elsewhere $1.50.

Twenty Pieces BLACK SATIN RHADAMES, only 75c., 80c., $1.00 $1.25 and $1.50 per yard. All Real Bargains.

Five Cases INDIA CRINKLES, only 6c., worth 12½c.

Ten Cases STANDARD PRINTS, only 4c. per yard.

Five Cases SEERSUCKER GINGHAMS, only 6¼c. per yard, worth 10c.

Ten Cases BEST SPRING STYLES PRINTS, only 5c. per yard.

One hundred and Fifty Pieces NAINSOOK CHECKS, only 4c. and 6¼c. per yard.

Fifty Pieces Spring Tide SATIN PLAIDS AND CHECKS, only 12½c. per yard.

SPECIAL PRICES ON
Parasols and Sun Umbrellas.
NEW ASSORTMENTS
Rich Chantilly and Spanish Guipure Laces Flounces, &c.

Purchasers will find it to their interest to examine these rare bargains at

MILTON S. PRICE'S,

HOTTER THAN ——

Consequently we have a large stock of Seersucker Coats and Vests, Alpaca Coats &c., and a full line of Men's Gauze Undershirts and Drawers in all sizes, and can dress you up so comfortably that you will not mind the extreme heat or the slight expense.

We still have a large stock of Men's and Boys' Suits that we shall sell very low to close out. Call and see the bargains we are offering.

D. C. MORE & CO.

The Reliable one Priced Dealers, [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] drinking water for cows makes [illegible]

[illegible] your farm in ten-acre lots, [illegible] your buildings in the center.

[illegible] potash in some form [illegible] of old pear trees will [illegible].

On smooth land always tend corn with the cultivator, instead of the plow. It saves time and labor.

One thing remember: Don't breed to scrub horses and cattle.

Plymouth Rocks are the best chickens in the south, and probably in the north.

Bread costs as much in this country now as it did when wheat was $1 a bushel.

If moss grows in your pasture it is a sign that the field is two wet and and should be drained.

Pay no attention to advertisements offering to help farmers in need of assistance. They are swindles.

There will be an immense crop of wheat this year. It is in excellent condition, and the spring and winter crop together, it is estimated will reach 460,000,000 bushels. There is twice as much winter as spring wheat.

A Wisconsin farmer, who always grows smooth, fine potatoes, gives as a reason that he never uses a potato for seed that has a "nub" on it, is crocked or out of shape.

Bathe the horse's shoulders with cold water or brine as quick as the collar comes off, before the sweat begins to dry, and rub off the collar and saddle pieces with a moist cloth. This will prevent sore shoulders.

In setting posts a farmer states that great solidity is required, gravel and small stones should be thrown in the hole after the posts are in position, and lime and sand mortar poured in on the stones, which protects the posts as well as keeps them firm.

Notwithstanding the low and discouraging prices for dairy products, farmers must bear in mind that there has been a severe depression in all other classes of farm produce. Dairymen can not expect that their goods are to maintain former prices if everything else is lower.

Quite a number of experiments were tried last season in the planting of Hubbard squashes among potatoes. It was determined that the squash vines were a benefit to the potatoes, as they kept the ground moist during the weeks of drought, besides a large and paying crop of squashes was gathered with only the cultivation necessary for potatoes.

The Sharpless and Downing varieties of strawberry have proved the best that have been brought to the city markets this season. They are not extremely early, but sweet and tender. The Sharpless is immense, and so sweet that it can be eaten off the stem, without sugar, like the Scotch and English berries.

Summer Care of Work Horses.

The grooming—as it is called—of horses, is quite as important as the feeding, and in summer time when the teams are worked hard, it is indispensable to their welfare. When a horse is working, the excretion from the skin is profuse, and pours from it in the form of prespiration. When this dries on the skin it leaves a quantity of impure matter adhering to it, which is apt to close the prespiration. This produces disorder, in the form of congestion of the myriads of capillary vessels which form a close net-work near the surface of the body, and the excretion and secretions being stopped, the skin becomes harsh, dry, contracted and diseased. The impure matter—being unable to escape—gathers in places and forms pimples, blotches or tumors and, if it is not removed, there is danger of poisoning the blood, and, with the appearance of farcy and glanders, and finally death. All this may be prevented by careful attention to the skin, by occasional washing, regular currying and brushing and propper care to avoid galling by the rubbing of ill fitting harness. As prevention is the best cure, it is well that owners of horses should exercise all possible precautions to avoid the frequent disorders which result from neglect in the direction pointed out, and thus save much annoyance and loss.—[American Agriculturist for July.

Draining.

Some farmers say: "I cannot afford to buy tile; I cannot afford to hire a man to dig the ditch"—thinking, of course, that no one but a professional can dig a ditch. They should look the land over and find the natural course for the water to run; then take a team and plow once up or down; then set the wheel up and go again in the same furrow. If the wheel is in the way at last, take it off entirely. Of course you cannot dig the whole ditch with the plow, but one man and a team with a plow at the start, can do more work in two hours than two men can do in two days. Level up the bottom of your ditch. If the ground is pretty dry, wait for a rain, which may show some points which should be cut out a little more to let the water off. Put in good round tile if you can. If not, use stone. Lay your small stone each side of the ditch, cover with larger ones, and then put on a good covering of sod.

Run your plow up and down the ditch three or four hours (run a drag over it), and next spring you will find that you can plant corn or sow oats about two weeks ahead of your neighbor who has put his money in the bank instead of in his farm. If you cannot [illegible] tile and have no stone, but have [illegible] into the woods and cut green [illegible] (soft maple is the best); [illegible] your children have [illegible] and ten.—Mich. Cor. [illegible]

[illegible] of the potato [illegible] month of July or first part of August. It can be readily detected on the foliage, as it appears in the shape of very dark blotches on the upper side of the leaves. These blotches are almost as black as ink, and have sharply marked outlines. The green color appears to begin immediately where the dark spots terminate. The blotch on the under side of the foliage is of a lighter color, gradually blending into the green color surrounding it, and generally appears to the naked eye as if it were thinly dusted with fine flour. When the foliage is very wet, there is but little difference in the color of the upper and under side of the leaves, and the dust-like, whitish coloring is not plainly visible. The smallest of the blotches are about the size of the end of the little finger, the most of them being considerably larger. The spores of this disease are very diminutive, and are easily transported long distances by the wind or through the aid of insects, and deposited upon the foliage of the potato plants. In this manner it often spreads over an entire field in a very short space of time, and it is therefore generally considered useless to attempt to check its spreading on the leaves of the plants. The most that can be done after the blight has appeared on the foliage is to protect the tubers from disease. This can be done by throwing up the soil over the row, in the form of a sharp ridge, sufficiently to cover the tubers with from four to six inches of earth. The spores fall from the foliage to the ground, and are carried by the rain into the soil to the tubers. By having the tubers covered with five inches of soil, the spores die before they reach them. Mr. J. L. Jensen, a Danish gentleman, who has experimented with this disease for a long term of years, has conclusively proved that this high hilling will effectually prevent the attack of the fungus upon the tubers. When the spores lodge upon the potatoes, they germinate and the thread-like mycelia of the fugus penetrates through the skin, and if there is sufficient moisture present will soon break down the cellular tissues of the tuber, rendering it a putrid mass. The spores will retain their vitality for a long time provided they are kept dry, and they can be subjected to a high temperature without destroying their germinating power. Moisture and high temperature favor the growth of the fugus; consequently, if the tubers are protected by four or five inches of soil, the rain that washes the spores into the soil will cause them to germinate before they reach the tubers, and having nothing to nourish them, starve to death. For this reason, potatoes should not be dug until after the rains have carried the spores into the soil and they have had ample time to germinate and perish. If they are dug soon after the vines are destroyed, the tubers are apt to come in contact with the spores.—[Our Country Home.

He Could do It.

A stone cutter, whose office adjoined his stone yard, was seated in his office when a friend called upon him, and they discussed several topics together, among them the question as to what extent lager beer was an intoxicant. The stonecutter maintained that beer was not intoxicating, while his friend maintained the opposite. The stonecutter said, there is a man at work in the yard (pointing to a brawny-chested German) who could drink a bucket (three gallons) of beer at one sitting and feel none the worse for it. The friend doubted, and a wager was made and the workman called, who when asked if he could drink that bucket, (pointing to a large watter bucket)full of beer at one sitting, replied. "Vell, I don't know; I let you know after a vile." The German went away, and after remaining about fifteen minutes, returned and said, "Yes, I can trink dot peer." The bucket of beer was procured and placed before the German who very soon absorbed the last drop, and arose from his seat, wiping his mouth with his sleeve, and was walking away with a firm step, when his employer recalled and said to him. "See here, my friend and I have some curiosity to know why you did not drink the beer when you were asked." The German replied, "Vell, I dond'd know dot I could trink it, so I vent out und trink a bucked, den I know I could do it."—[Harpers Magazine.

A Bit of History.

John Kelly thought Tilden to old and frail to run a second time as president. John Kelly is dead. The stalwart Chandler wrested the presidency from Tilden. Chandler is dead. Grant, it is said, would have arrested and imprisoned Tilden if he had attempted to claim the office he had been elected to. Grant is dead. Hancock was chosen as a more likely man to live through the presidency than Tilden. Hancock is dead. Hendricks seemed to have a long life ahead of him as compared with the man at the ticket. Hendricks is dead. Seymour, McClellan, all the old candidates are dead. Meanwhile Tilden thinks there is nothing so invigorating as working away before the mast on his yacht.—[Jacksonville (Fla.) Herald.

A Little Mistake.

Little Effie, three years old, went to a strange city with her mamma, to visit an uncle, and the next morning was occupied in flattening her nose against the window pane and satisfying her childish curiosity by gazing at the unusual scenes.

"Oh, Aunty! Do see this awful homely man!"

"Hush, child. That is Mr. Lord, the mayor. You must not talk that way. He is a very nice man."

Mister Lord? and the little nose presses closer against the glass, while Effie watches him clear out of sight. "My!" with a toss of her little head. "I know he never made me!"—[Lynn Union.

The Family Almanac.

Webster's Unabridged Dictionary is a [illegible]

[illegible]

A Positive Cure.

"I was [illegible] I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. Wood, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. Balcom, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. Proudfoot, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge, to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

THE PRETTIEST LADY in Olean was asked what made her complexion so clear and beutiful She said it was by Gilmore's Aromatic Wine Sold by H. C. Giesler.

ONE OF THE MOST NOTED European physicians said: Neuralgia was the prayer of a diseased nerve for healthy blood. Use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine for the blood. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

MRS. L. LOOMIS, of Elba, N. Y., writes us that she was sick for six months, was induced to try Gilmore's Aromatic Wine and four bottles cured her. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. H. B. EMELL, of Pavillion, N. Y., says of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine: "I believe it to be a most desirable remedy to be placed in every family." Sold by H. C. Giesler.

THE WIFE, MOTHER AND MAID who suffers from Female weakness and Debility, will find Gilmore's Aromatic a positive cure. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC is a great success, therefore we challenge the world to produce its equal as a restorative for woman. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. W. FISK REQUA, of Aurora, Ill., says: "I have used Gilmore's Aromatic Wine and find it an excellent household remedy that none ought to do without. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. HARRIS PECK, of Pavillion, N. Y., says: "I was troubled with Malaria, Bowel Difficulty and sleepless nights, which I found was wearing me out. After taking Aromatic Wine two days I realized great relief, sleeping well and otherwise feeling like a new man. I cheerfully recommend it to suffering humanity." Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. I. M. DERBY, of Linden, N. Y., says: "The Gilmore Aromatic Wine proved a great blessing to my wife." For sale by H. C. Giesler.

Mrs. Catherine Waggner, aged 111, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Rebecca Waggner, aged 109 years, live within sight of each other, near Bartersville, Ky. They have never seen a railroad, and each has had for fifty years a silk dress laid away in which to be buried.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guaranteed. 27eow

Dr. Newman Hall has nineteen Sunday schools in connection with his church in London, in which there are 5,000 people.

In order that sufferers may know that Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will always cure them. H. C. Geisler emphatically says that if the Tablets do not relieve every case of Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, &c., &c. he does not want any pay. The physicians say they are the finest combination that can be found. Price 25 cents. 27eow.

Mrs. Charles S. Woerishoffer since her husband's death takes rank among the wealthiest women in the world. Her fortune is estimated at $10,000,000.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

R. G. Dun & Co. state that for the first six months of 1886 the failures amounted in number to 5,166 as against 6,004 for the first six months of 1885.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

Two races of men must soon become extinct—the Maoris of New Zealand, now reduced to less than 45,000, and the Laplanders, who number 30,000.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

Is more reliable as an agent in the cure of Consumption, Chronic Coughs and Emaciation, than any remedy known to medical science. It is so prepared that the potency of these two most valuable specifics is largely increased. It is also very palatable. 5w4

In England and Wales there are 600,000 Sunday school teachers and 5,200,000 scholars, which is about one fifth of the whole population.

BE CAREFUL!

No matter what disease you have. Be sure that the medicine you take is reliable. Such a medicine you will always find Sulphur Bitters. They are not a cheap rum drink, but are made of the choices roots and herbs to be found in the vegetable kingdom.—[Daily Argus.

Mrs. George B. McClellan will lead a quiet life in Europe, resting after the turmoil and sadness of the eventful past.

Never neglect a constipated condition of the bowels, or serious results surely follow, such as piles, impure blood, and many chronic complaints. Burdock Blood Bitters.

Corn eight feet high is reported from the southern counties of Kansas.

[illegible]

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,
The Old Reliable
UNDERTAKER
AND
FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St. the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 5lt

George Fassell
DEALER IN
Marble and Granite
MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH,
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York. Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

SCOTT'S EMULSION
OF PURE COD LIVER OIL,
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda
Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvelous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.50	$1.88	$1.06
Stove	4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
No. 4	4.75	2.50	1.38
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Mixed	4.50	2.38	1.31

Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest Cleanest, Best,
FOR SALE BY
Q. RUST.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered	per ton	½ton	¼ton
Stove	$4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
Mix	4.50	2.38	1.31
No. 4	4.75	2.50	1.38
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Pea	3.50	1.88	1.06

CURES QUICKLY. PLEASANT, PURE.

A POWERFUL TONIC.

Kaskine Restores Perfect Health.

In Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful."

In St. Francis Hospital, N. Y. "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Dr. L. R. White, U. S. Examining Surgeon, says: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Gleessner, has cured over 200 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says: "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, M. D., says: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

IS THE ONLY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD THAT DESTROYS THE GERMS OF DISEASE IN THE BLOOD, and permanently cures all diseases arising therefrom, such as Malaria, Fevers, Rheumatism, Billiousness, &c., and IS THE GRANDEST TONIC EVER DISCOVERED. Removes nervous prostration and premature decay by disinfecting the blood, so that the starving nerves are supplied with life giving nourishment, bringing back the VIGOR AND POWER OF YOUTH.

Send for the great list of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine.

Price $1 per bottle. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price. Agents wanted everywhere.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., New York.

For Sale by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y.

Ben Butler is said to bank annually from $75,000 to $125,000 as the net proceeds of his law practice.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

The population of Chicago, as indicated by the new directory, is over 750,000.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

There are 60,000 volumes in the Boston state library, and not one novel among them.

Our readers are cautioned about buying medicines which are not endorsed by some well known druggist. H. C. Gisler, has made a thorough study of Blood diseases, and after a careful investigation, and many practical tests, postively asserts that Acker's Blood Elixir will cure all blood disorders, ridding the system of its impurities, and eaving it strong, vigorous and healthy. he will warrent it. It is a certain cure or all skin diseases. 27eow

It is estimated that since 1882 Egypt has cost the British taxpayer not less than $175,000,000.

About three years ago the agent for Acker's English Remedy first called at this town and since then the number of testimonials coming to him concerning merits of the Remedy, and the many cures effected surprises, H. C. Giesler wishes it to be thoroughly understood that for colds, hoarseness, asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, all Phthisical troubles he has never known its equal, and positively guarantees it. 27eow

The two great staples of the United States, wheat and cotton, promise to be very plentiful this year.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

The Irish National League of America has sent about $225,000 to Ireland since the Boston convention.

Woman and Her Diseases.

is the title of an interesting illustrated treaties (160 pages) sent post-paid, for 10 cents in stamps. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Two translations of Gen. Grant's book are announced in the papers of Tokio, Japan.

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

Send for Pamphlet on Female Diseases mailed free, securely sealed. Dr. J. B Marchisi, Utica, N. Y. 20tf.

Iowa has paid out $1,188,955 in the support of her soldier's orphans.

STOP AND THINK

How much money you have thrown away buying worthless medicines, prepared by unprincipled parties, who care not what harm they do to your system. You can depend on every bottle of Sulphur Bitters as being a reliable medicine. It searches and cleanses from the blood all impure matter, and makes you feel like a new person.—[Boston Daily Globe.

The church of Mr. Spurgeon of London has a membership of 5,214.

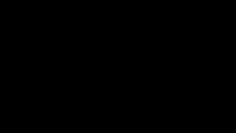
Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Paterson, Clay Co. Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain." Try a bottle, only 50c. at R. E. Phillip's drug store.

The oldest man in Congress is John T. Wait of Connecticut. He is 77 years old, and after filling five terms he is again a candidate for re-election.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian ough and Con sumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

EXHAUSTED VITALITY,
ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



[illegible]

[illegible] —Boston Courier.

HIS SHAKERS.

Two Periods.

AT FIRST.

He sat and twisted his blond mustache;
She toyed with a straying curl,
And silently thought of her other beau
And he of his other girl.

AT LAST.

She stood with her head on his shoulder laid:
He toyed with the straying curl;
She had no thought of her other beau,
Nor he of his other girl.
—[Hartford Sunday Journal.

The great woman question: "What did she have on?—[Lynn Union."

A homely woman has some advantages over a beautiful one. It is impossible for other women to love her.—[New Haven News.

Mr. Faintheart—"Do you think it would be safe for me to approach your pa on the subject?"

Miss Fair Lady—Oh, perfectly he has the gout again.—[Chicago Herald.

Fond Father—"Don't you think I ought to have my daughter's voice cultivated?"

Tortured guest (impressively)—I think you ought to have something done with it.—[The Judge.

She—"And that scar Major. Did you get it during an engagement?" He (absently)—"Engagement? No; the first week of our honeymoon."—[Peck's Sun.

"A Thousand and One Words" is the name of a new novel. We presume it is a description of the parting of two women at the railroad depot.—[Yonkers Statesman.

"Another cold wave," said the young man, when his two sisters and three cousins standing in front of an ice cream saloon beckoned him to come over.—[Chicago Mail.

"Say, bub, is that your mother sitting on the front steps?" "Naw; that's the hired hirl, Jenny." "Can I see your mother?" "Easy 'nough; go round to the kitchen door."

It beats all creation how many girls there are being poisoned this summer by eating ice cream. The young man who offers ice cream to a girl is as much to be suspected nowadays as the one who doesn't.—[Philadelphia Press.

"Papa," said a five-year-old pointing to a turkey gobbler strutting around in a neighbor's yard, ain't that red-nosed chicken got an awful big bustle?"—[Chicago Rambler.

Extract from a young Newport swell's note to a friend: "Sorry I Can't bee introduced Two Your sister This afternoon, mi Valett left mi three o'clock Suit in New York an i kouldent Go out in a Checked Suit Then. Orfully sorry. Faithfully yours, Algernon Berty Silly.—[N. Y. Mail.

Dakota Justice.

"No, sir!" said a Dakota justice of the peace, during a trial, "the court must overrule the motion of the attorney for the prosecution that the testimony of this witness be thrown out, from the fact that the attorney for the defense was seen to hand him a chew of terbacker after he took the stand. The supreme court has held, and this court believes rightly, that an ordinary chew cannot be construed as a bribe. If the attorney for the defense will please hand the plug of terbacker now under consideration to the court it will take a bite, and the extracting of testimony from this 'ere witness will continue."—[Estelline (D. T.) Bell.

Vassar Graduates.

Once in a while some man has courage enough to marry a Vassar graduate; but as a rule the girls don't step off very well. Out of nearly 700 graduates only about 200 have been drawn in the nuptial noose. The full-blown buds have taken up various callings. There are 17 physicians, 2 organists, 10 book-keepers, 5 chemists, 15 school principals, 2 farmers, 1 census clerk, 2 insurance agents, 230 teachers, 6 artists, 1 law clerk, 5 librarians, 1 copyist, 12 music teachers, 3 astronomical assistants, 3 journalists, 3 gymnastic teachers, 2 missionaries, 3 public readers and 4 authors.

Appropriate Dress.

For a roller skater—A fall suit.
For the watchmaker—A spring overcoat.
For the exhausted—Pants.
For the bad boy—Cuffs.
For the angry man—Choler.
For the milk man—Pumps.
For the extravagant—A waist.
For the carpenter—A sash.
For the busy—Bustle.
For the burglar—A sack.
For the dude—Dol-man.—[Rambler.

She Never Told Her Age.

Sunday-school teacher to class—"Now this man Methuselah was a very good and pious man, and therefore the lord allowed him to grow very old."

Precocious girl—"When did he live?"

"Oh, my dear, ever so long ago."

Little girl eyeing her with an air of mental arithmetic—"Did you know him?"—[Wilmington Star.

WHY IS IT

That the sale of Hood's Sarsaparilla continues at such a rapidly increasing rate? It is,— 1st: Because of the positive curative value of Hood's Sarsaparilla itself.

2d: Because of the conclusive evidence of remarkable cures effected by it, unsurpassed and seldom equalled by any other medicine. Send to C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass., for book containing many statements of cures.

Largest of the Egyptian Pyramids.

The largest of the Egyptian pyramids is 540 feet high, 693 feet on the sides and its base covers eleven acres. The layers of stone are 208 in number; many stones are 30 feet long, 4 feet broad and 3 feet thick.—[Chicago Journal.

Miss May McClellan, the daughter of the late General McClellan, is said to love strange pets, and is sometimes seen at the opera and theatre with white mice on her shoulders.

[illegible]

[illegible] through the Kidneys flow the waste fluids of the body, containing poisonous matter taken out of the system. If the Kidneys do not act properly this matter is retained, the whole system becomes disordered and the following symptoms will follow: Headache, weakness, pain in the small of back and loins, flushes of heat, chills, with disordered stomach and bowels. You can thoroughly protect the Kidneys by BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS, and when any of these symptoms manifest themselves you can quickly rid yourself of them by this best of all medicines for the Kidneys. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS are sold everywhere at $1 per bottle, and one bottle will prove their efficacy.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take BLUE PILLS or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately. Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or high-colored? IT IS Dangerous!

Don't Wait. Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use Sulphur Bitters! Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is The Invalid's Friend. The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow, Try a Bottle To-Day! Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

Golden Medical Discovery.

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established. Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS,

$10 FOR 50 CENTS—Peerless Silk Hat Polish. Send 50c. for a Box. Agents' circular for stamp. PEERLESS HAT POLISH CO., 15 Bond St., N. Y. City.

ANTICHRIST!

ST. John wrote "Ye have heard that Antichrist shall come." The prophecies on that mysterious subject in the book of Revelation and in Daniel are fully explained in a commentary entitled "CHRIST ON THE THRONE OF POWER AND ANTICHRIST." The old interpretation is followed, except that the vast progress of modern times enables us to see farther into prophecy than formerly. Now can be seen signs of the coming of that formidable "Army of 200,000 thousands breathing out of their mouths smoke, fire and brimstone." No ago before this has made such use of the mouth in teaching, lecturing and telephoning; nor of the press, in newspapers, books and pamphlets, for weal or woe. A few more explosions of dynamite like that in Chicago and a farther exposure of the hidden depravity of the Anarchists, may enable men to see signs of the speedy coming of "The Man of Sin" to whom John gave the name of Antichrist. It is a book of 267 pages octavo, in large type, sent by mail for $1.25. An Agent Wanted in every Town. Address REV. F. C. BROWN, Rochester, New York.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE
BEST IN THE WORLD
☞ Get the Genuine. Sold Everywhere.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 961 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO. 10 Spruce St., N. Y

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ASTHMA AND CATARRH. Dr. H. W. Reed's Celebrated Asthma and Catarrh Relief, the most effectual and sure cure yet discovered. Samples sent free to all who ask. Fifty cent and dollar boxes sent by mail. A. ETHRIDGE, Proprietor, Rome, N. Y.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure. By JOHN H. McALVIN, Lowell, Mass., 14 years tax collector. Sent free to any address.

MOTH-WAX
KILLS THE MOTH
and the old Moth Miller. Sample cake by mail 6 cents. W. H. H. CHILDS, 73 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

DO NO MORE WHITEWASHING
NOW WHEN
PLASTIC PAINT
Can be had so cheap. Send for pamphlet and color card, and learn its merits. MAXWELL HAZLETT & CO. 109 McElderry's Wharf, Baltimore, Md., and 606 Washington Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

324 [illegible] New York. OR SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

AUBURN STEEL AXLE WAGON.

[illegible]

SURROGATE'S COURT.

[illegible]

Fulton—At the Surrogate's office in [illegible]

Oswego—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Tuesday in each month except August.

Pulaski—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, January 2d, and on the third Friday in March, May, July, Sept. and Nov.

Fulton—At the office of C. R. Davis, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Tuesday in January, April, July and October.

Mexico—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the third Friday in April, and [illegible]

Central Square—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 20th and September 20th.

Parish—At A. N. & J. S. Ladington's law office, April 30th, July 30th and Sept. 30th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 19th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.
Dated May 18th, 1886.
CAROLINE L. ALFRED, Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against F. D. VanWagenen, late of the Village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the office of F. D. VanWagenen, No. 10, First St., Fulton, N. Y., in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 19th day of August, 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.
Dated Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1886.
ANN VANWAGENEN, Executrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.
Dated June 2, 1886.
LUCY K. HUBBARD, Executrix.

FORECLOSURE SALE.
SUPREME COURT—OSWEGO COUNTY.

The Fulton Savings Bank vs. Letson LaDu and others. By virtue of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action at a Special Term of the Supreme Court held at the Court House, in the city of Syracuse, Onondaga county, N. Y., on the 5th day of June, 1886, and duly filed and entered in the clerk's office of Oswego county on the 7th day of June, 1886, I the undersigned Referee duly appointed in and by said judgment and decree to make such sale will sell at public auction to the highest bidder at the law office of Piper & VanWagenen, in the village of Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y., on the 24th day of July, 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day the mortgaged premises in and by said judgment and decree directed to be sold and described therein as follows, to wit.: all that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Volney, county of Oswego and State of New York upon Lot number seventy-five (75) of the 17th Township of Scriba's Patent, Beginning at the north-west corner of O. Cone's division of 52 34-100 acres and running thence south 2 deg. east along the west line of said Cone's 52 34-100 acres thirty-seven (37) chains ninety-four (94) links to a stake, thence north 89 degrees west parallel to the south line of said Lot 75 fourteen (14) chains fifteen (15) links to a stake, thence north 2 degrees west along a line of marked trees seventeen (17) chains ninety-four (94) links to a stake in south line of Samuel A. Williams' 30 acres laid off from said lot 75, thence south 89 degrees east along said south line eleven (11) chains ninety-three (93) links to the place of beginning, containing 50 acres of land—excepting however from the above described 50 acres a parcel of ten (10) acres from the north end thereof heretofore conveyed to O. Cone and a parcel of 8 8-10 acres from the south end thereof heretofore conveyed to Alfred Hudgin and excepting also a parcel of three (3) acres heretofore released from the operations of said mortgage from the west side of said mortgaged premises and conveyed by said Letson LaDu and wife to Orville Dunsmore by deed recorded in Oswego county clerk's office, in Liber 189 of deeds, at page 224, leaving 28 2-10 acres be the same more or less.
Dated June 7, 1886.
N. N. STRANAHAN, Referee.
PIPER & VANWAGENEN, Attys for Plff, Fulton, N. Y.

—COAL.—

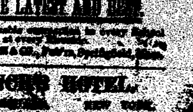
The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.
The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
Mix	4.50	2.38	1.31
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Pea	3.50	1.88	1.06

Yard and Office Upper Landing.
Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.
J. MORE & Co,

LUMBER! LUMBER!
I have the Largest Assortment of
Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER
In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE
SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c,
Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere
Q. RUST.
37tf

WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED
With or without Patent Index.



The Attention of School Officers, and others, is invited to the fact that in purchasing the latest issue of this work, they get

A DICTIONARY containing 3000 more words and nearly 2000 more illustrations than any other American Dictionary.

A GAZETTEER OF THE WORLD containing over 25,000 Titles, with their pronunciation and a vast amount of other information, (Just added, 1885) and

A BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY giving pronunciation of names and brief facts concerning nearly 10,000 Noted Persons; also various tables giving valuable information.

ALL IN ONE BOOK.

[illegible]

GET THE LATEST AND BEST.

[illegible]

FRENCH'S HOTEL.

CITY HALL [illegible]

European Plan.

THE FULTON TIMES.

[illegible]TEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features. Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 11

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, JULY 21, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

[illegible]

WHAT IS YOUR [illegible]?

A rare compound of oddity, frolic and fun,
To relish a joke and rejoice in a pun.
—[Goldsmith.

That of the epicure, who, serenely full, may say,
Fate cannot harm me; I have dined to-day.
—[Swift.

Luxurious, avaricious, false, deceitful,
Sullen, malicious, smacking of every sin that has a name.
—[Shakespeare.

WHAT IS YOUR CHIEF ATTRACTION?

Thou hast the sweetest face I ever looked on.
—[Shakespeare.

Good sense which only is the gift of Heaven,
And though no science, fairly worth the seven.
—[Pope.

A form so fair, that like the air
'Tis less of earth than Heaven.
—[E. E. Pinkney.

He is so full of pleasant anecdote,
So rich, so gay, so poignant in his wit;
Time vanishes before him as he speaks,
And ruddy morning through the lattice peeps.
—[Joanna Baillie.

WHAT DO YOU LIKE BEST?

That all softening, overpowering knell,
The tocsin of the soul—the dinner bell.
—[Byron.

A slight flirtation by the light of a chandelier,
With music to play in the pauses,
And nobody very near.
—[Willis.

Gold! Gold! Gold! Gold! Gold!
Bright and yellow, hard and cold.
—[Hood.

Give me kisses! all is waste save the luxury of the taste,
And for kissing—kisses live only when we take or give,
Kiss me, then,
Every moment—and again.
—[J. G. Saxe.

WHAT DO YOU DISLIKE MOST?

Of every bore,
If to the list you add a score,
Are not so bad, upon my life,
As that one scourge, a scolding wife.
—[Berni.

Drunkenness, whose vile incontinence
Takes both away, the reason and the sense,
It drowns the better parts, making the name
To foes a laughter, to friends a shame.
—[Randolph.

Coarse speech, bad grammer, swearing,
Drinking, vice.
—[Holmes.

Home-made physic that sickens the sick,
Thick for thin and thin for thick.
—[Hood.

WHAT IS YOUR HIGHEST AMBITION?

To go to to church to-day,
To look devout and seem to pray,
And ere to-morrow's sun goes down
Be dealing slander through the town.
—[Mrs. Sigourney.

To dress as the nobles dress,
In cloth of silver and gold,
With silk and satin and costly furs
In many an ample fold.
—[Hood.

O grant me heaven, a middle state,
Neither too humble nor too great,
More than enough for nature's ends,
With something left to treat my friends.
—[Mallet.

O gie me the the lass that hae acres of charms;
O gie me lass wie the weel stockit farm!
—[Burns.

Then let me get money as bees lay up honey;
I'll build new hives and store each cell,
The sight of my treasure will yield me great pleasure,
I'll count it, and chink it, and jingle it well.
—[Dr. Franklin.

WHAT IS YOUR FAVORITE FLOWER?

Magnificent calla, in mantle of milk.
—[Mrs. Sigourney.

The chaste camellia's pure and spotless bloom,
That boasts no fragrance and conceals no thorn.
—[William Roscoe.

And faith that a thousand ills can brave
Speaks in thy blue leaves, "forget-me-not."
—[Percival.

Rose, thou art the sweetest flower.
—[Burns.

WHO IS YOUR INTENDED?

A perfect woman nobly planned,
To warn, to comfort, and command,
And yet a spirit still and bright,
With something of an angel's light.
—[Wordsworth.

A judge, a man so learned,
So full of equity, so noble—envy
Itself cannot accuse, or malice vitiate.
—[Chapman and Shirley.

A hungry, lean-faced villian,
A mere anatomy, a mountebank,
A thread-bare juggler, and a fortune-teller,
A needy, hollow-eyed, sharp-looking wretch.
—[Shakespeare.

A rosebud set with willful thorns
As sweet as English air can make her.
—[Tennyson.

WHAT IS THE CHARACTER OF YOUR INTENDED?

She takes the most delight
In music, instruments and poetry.
—[Shakespeare.

The solemn fop, significant and budge,
A fool with judges, and among fools a judge.
—[Cowper.

She has read her father's well filled library with profit,
And can talk charmingly; she can sing
And play, too, passably, and dance with spirit;
She is knowing in all needle-work;
And shines in kitchen as well as parlor.
—[J. N. Barker.

He is a scholar, and a ripe and good one,
Exceedingly wise, fair spoken and persuading.
—[Shakespeare.

She Never Gossips.

I hate this gossiping about
Folks who have gone astray;
I always hold my tongue unless
I've something good to say.
Now there's the case of Peter Snell
(What, have you never heard?):
He had some money left in trust
To him, and stole a third.
Oh dear! how fast the news did spread
Of that poor fellow's fall;
But I just said, "He's not so bad;
He might have stole it all."

And when Jane Ann McDonaldson
(What, really don't you know?)
She that is Mrs. Jackson now,
Ran off with Patsy Rowe,
Her first—he died soon after—who
Was but a peddling lad.
(And you had better b'lieve her pa
And ma were awful mad),
Her friends all cried, "How shocking! who'd
Have thought it of Jane Ann?"
I only said, "She might have been
A [illegible] man."

And [illegible] who drinks a pint
[illegible]

BIRMINGHAM AND OUR TRIP TO LONDON.

[Special to The Times.]

BIRMINGHAM is a beautiful city of over four hundred thousand inhabitants and one of the greatest manufacturing places in England, its chief productions being hardware and firearms. Of the latter it is said that an average of a gun per minute is made during the entire year.

We wheel out to Darlaston, nine miles distant and spend the Sabbath with friends. After visiting Wolverhamton, five miles beyond, we return to Birmingham, Tuesday, June 15, to enjoy a Whitsuntide holiday.

We visit the art gallery and museum. The structure without is magnificent and within the walls are beautifully decorated with paintings mostly by English artists. A great number of curiosities interested us, among them the first locomotive steam engine built by Wm. Murdock in 1781, and was first tried on a road in 1784. It was a small affair and hadn't the slightest resemblance to anything intended for a locomotive of to-day. We naturally compared it with one of our great American railroad engines and remembered that "great oaks from little acorns grow."

Later in the day we visit Aston Hall and Parks. The hall is an old structure dating back several centuries. In 1643, Oliver Cromwell stormed the premises and traces of several cannon shots are distinctly seen about the buildings. The hall is filled with old paintings and relics, some of great antiquity. Dr. Johnson was a frequent guest at this house during his day, and in the room where he usually sat may be seen the the first edition of his dictionary. A painting of St Sebastian by Guido did not escape our notice.

At 9:30 occurred the great event of our lives, the great open air picture, "The eruption of Vesuvius, or the last days of Pompeii," a gigantic painting several hundred feet in length by Hart, of London. It is constructed in sections showing Mt. Vesuvius in the distance, with Herculaneum nestling closely at the foot. Pompeii is at the left and in the foreground at the center is a flight of broad steps leading to the temple of Isis, at the right the market place. The whole picture is a scene of bustling activity. Representatives of all the professions, trades and denominations then known under the Roman Empire are arrayed in groups requiring several hundred performers. Thus begins the first tableau.

A scene is shifted and the ampitheater or arena is in view crowded with an excited populace witnessing the different sports common to that people. Soon rumblings like thunder is heard, the earth quakes, buildings totter and fall, Vesuvius smokes, and soon the whole heavens are filled with fire and ashes. The people are frantic with terror. A few are conveyed out into the bay in boats and are saved. The scene closes and where Pompeii stood is now a heap of ashes, and for nearly 2,000 years the city of the dead is forgotten. It was the first presentation of this great picture and was exhibited at a cost of $15,000. The entertainment closed with some brilliant fireworks, including a portrait of the Queen.

Wednesday morning we wheel to Coventry, eighteen miles distant, the place where centuries ago lived the far-famed Lady Godiva, wife of the Saxon Leofric, who to obtain the freedom of Coventry from taxation, rode through the city on horseback naked, the inhabitants having all except one, retired from observation, and he, wicked wight, was punished for his prying curiosity by the loss of sight. An effigy called "Peeping Tom," is still exhibited at the corner of Hertford street.

We have letters of introduction to Prof. Wyles of Allesly College, two and one-half miles from the city, and in the afterpart of the day we spin out to his home, a delightful place in the country. We find him absent, but are cordially welcomed by his daughter, who prepares tea for us and kindly guides us about the premises.

After a short but pleasant visit we wheel to Kenilworth, seven miles away, and arrive there at sunset. We are anxious to catch a glimpse of the old castle before dark and draw near just in time to catch the few sun rays that linger around the old ivy mantled tower. The birds are swarming into their different places of abode, and as we watch them we are reminded that this was once the abiding place of Geoffroi de Clinton, Robert Dudley, Cromwell's commissioner, De Montfort's son, Edward the Second (a prisoner), Mortimer, John of Gaunt, time-honored Lancaster, Harry the Eighth, Charles the First and his brother, associating with these names their histories and the tales of Sir Walter Scott.

Thursday morning we make sketches and wheel to Warwick, eight miles. We stop on the way and watch for a moment the quiet river Avon and catch a glimpse of the last home of the great Guy Earl of Warwick, who, it is claimed was nine feet in height. We ride on a mile farther, buy our tickets and enter the gateway leading to the castle of Warwick, which was begun by Ethelred, Earl of Mercia, in the year 913.

Passing through the gateway called the Porter's Lodge, we enter a fine road deeply cut through the solid rock, the ample branches of foliage forming a canopy above, while beneath the moss and [illegible] diameter, and reaching to a height of 128 feet. On the left is the venerable Caesar's Tower, said to be coeval with the Norman Congress, and although it has braved the ravages of time, and the depredations of man for nearly 800 years, it still continues as firm as the rock on which it is founded. But we have not time to further describe it. We pass through another great archway into an inner court, thence into the interior of the Castle, which is still in a fine state of preservation. Everything is magnificent. The walls are crowded with paintings, many by the old masters, and relics of antiquity thousands of years old.

In the greenhouse we saw the celebrated Antique vase. It is of white marble, designed and executed in the purest Grecian taste and is one of the finest specimens of ancient sculpture at present known. It was found at the bottom of a lake at Adrian's Villa near Trivoli by Sir William Hamilton, then ambassador at the coust of Naples, by whom it was presented to the father of the late Earl of Warwick, conveyed to England and placed in its present position. Its shape is circular and it is ten feet across and the top capable of holding 136 gallons. It is a wonderful piece of carving and is supposed to be more than 2,000 years.

But we must hasten, so we leave the Castle and Warwick, and wheel to Stratford-on-Avon, eight miles distant. We arrive early in the evening and visit the birth-place of Shakespeare. The house has been preserved, and does not seem to look the worse for age.

Friday morning we visited the church where Shakespeare and a number of the family are buried. At nine o'clock we bid farewell to this beautiful little city, and wheel to Oxford for dinner, forty miles. We spend the afternoon at sight seeing, for there is much here to please an American.

Every school boy can tell something about Oxford, for more than a thousand years it has been a city of colleges, and for centuries B. C. it was a seat of learning. Some of the buildings are crumbling with age, and the walls are green with ivy, but time has not worn away their grandeur.

Saturday morning we oil our wheels, strap on our baggage and start toward London, and soon the spires of Oxford are behind the hills. We pass through a beautiful stretch of country and several charming villages, and reach the metropolis at 5 p. m., a delightful trip of fifty-eight miles. We roll slowly up the crowded streets to the First Avenue Hotel and engage lodging.

VAN.

The Mascotte.

Of all the professions that have their little superstitions, base ball players are probably the only ones frank enough to acknowledge them. One player may wear a snake skin around his waist, another put a pebble under the base bag he is guarding, and so on, but all these talismans are told about and the press spreads the story. So it is about Wille Hahn, the "mascotte" of the Chicago club. Few followers of this club's career among newspaper readers have not read of him. He is now 7 years of age, this is his second season with the club. Last summer he came into prominence when in the close contest for the championship he was always on hand cheering the home nine. He was dubbed the "mascotte" because the boys began to believe that through him came their good fortune. His acquaintance with the club began in the summer, when he used to sit for hours watching the game. His bright, wistful face, as he stood watching the players as they went in and out of the gate when the grounds were opened for practice, attracted the attention of Williamson and Kelly, who invited him in one morning out of kindness to satisfy his curiosity. He has never missed a game since he was accepted as an indisputable adjunct to the success of the club, and in the recent battle with the Detroits his club carried him to that city, and in their opinion it was his charmed presence that brought them victory.

How to Avoid Premature Old Age.

The following advice is given by Dr. Benjamin Ward Richardson:

To subsist on light but nutritious diet, with milk as the standard food, but varied according to the season.

To take food in moderate quantity, four times in the day, including a light meal before going to bed.

To clothe warmly but lightly, so that the body may in all cases maintain its equal temperature.

To keep the body in fair exercises, and the mind active and cheerful.

To maintain an interest in what is going on in the world, and to take part in reasonable labors and pleasures, as though old age were not present.

To take plenty of sleep during sleeping hours. To spend nine hours in bed at least, and to take care during cold weather that the temperature of the bed-room is maintained at sixty degrees Fahrenheit.

To avoid passion, excitment, luxury.

Interesting Figures.

Some interesting figures about the amount of farm, forest and waste land are given in the lately published report of the proceedings of the American Forestry Congress held a few months ago in Boston. From this it appears that Illinois has the greatest number of acres under cultivation 26,500,000. She is followed in order by Iowa, with 20,000,000; Ohio, [illegible]; New York, [illegible]; Missouri, 17,000,000; Indiana, 14,000,000; Pennsylvania, [illegible]; Texas, [illegible]; Kentucky, California and Kansas, [illegible] [illegible]

THE PROPER THING.

Serges are in high favor.

Mutton-leg sleeves are coming into fashion.

The rosary beads, now somewhat passe, are utilized as buttons.

Cotton crape cloth is almost as effective as the millinery crape.

Belted waists are liked for the lace dresses worn by young ladies.

White dresses for home wear are in general use by persons in mourning.

Neckties and scarfs for ladies to wear with tailor suits are shown in great variety.

Flowered foulard and plaided and checked summer silks are made up into little girl's frocks.

Navy blue flannels or serges that do not hold much water are favorite materials for bathing suits.

Some of the new gowns have full overskirts shirred on the long bodice, which is pointed front and back.

Broad white ties of Mull or French lawn, daintily embroidered on the ends, are very fashionable for neck wear.

Double bias folds of china crape or of silk mull, white, blue or red, are worn inside the neck and sleeves of lace or silk dresses.

Black lace mitts coming far up on the arm, and terminating in scalloped tops in open-work meshes, are run through with narrow colored velvet ribbon.

Pink chambray morning dresses, trimmed with rows of white cotton braid, and cut with narrow Wautteau pleat down the back, are very becoming both to blondes and brunettes.

Vests of white pique may be made at home at a trifling expense. A yard of the material will make four. Narrow white tape is fastened at the top and bottom to hold the vest in place about the waist and neck.

A Five-Cent Piece.

A man may have a hundred dollars in one pocket and a punched five-cent nickel in the other, and he will never think of the hundred dollars once, but will think of the nickel all the time. Of course he can't remember where he got it. That he will never know. But he wonders how he can get rid of it. He tries to pass it on various people by turning the worst side down; but he fails, and feels awfully mean and mortified at being caught. He would be willing to buy something he doesn't need at all to get rid of it, but no one will take it. He will sit in his office, and take it out and look at it, and turn it over carefully and thoughtfully, and reflect on the prospects of disposing of it. And, after he has worried over it for a long time, he presents it to a bootblack as though it were a farm. And that night on the way home in the bobtail car, it strikes him that he might get rid of it in the box, if he only had it; and then a mean sensation steals over him, and he feels like clubbing himself all around the car, as he staggers up and drops a new five-cent piece in the box.—[Puck.

A Wonderful Resemblance.

Guibollard takes a promenade in a salon, in company with a young painter who has a picture on exhibition, which has been commended by the committee.

"Show me," said the former, "your picture that has secured honorable mention."

"There it is," said the artist—"portrait of a woman."

"Very, very fine as to the execution," said Guibollard, "but how the devil did you come to choose so ugly a model?"

"Indeed, sir, this is my mother," replied the artist, coloring quickly.

"Your mother!" exclaimed Guibollard with confusion. "Pardon, monsieur. I am stupid. I ought to have perceived it at a glance. You are as alike as two peas!"—[French Fun.

His Sister Said, "Rats."

He was waiting in the parlor for the for the young lady to come down and was improving his time talking to her little brother.

"I say, Jawnie," he drawled, "did you, aw, tell yoah sistah that it was almst time faw the opewa?"

"Yes, I did," replied Johnnie.

"Did you tell her I was, aw, waiting faw her?"

"Yes, I did."

"Awnd what did she say, don't you know?"

"She said, 'Rats!'"

She came in too late to hear the conversation, and wondered all the evening what made Mr. De Limbs so crusty.—[Washington Critic.

Chicago School Census.

Chicago has just concluded its school census, and the showing of nationalities of the children is a curious one. According to the classification of the scholars the residents of the city are divided as follows: Germans, 296,000; Americans 154,000; Irish, 120,000: Slavonic, 55,000: Scandinavian, 33,000; English, 3,000; Latin, 16,000; Negroes, 8,000; Canadian, 4,000, and all others, 9,000—making the total population 650,000. Thus it seems native Americans form a small minority. There are more Irish than in any city in Ireland save Dublin and Belfast, and more Germans than in Munich, Dresden or Cologne. Yet we have the word of Chicago papers for it that the town is "the most American city on the continent.

Politeness in Childhood.

The polite child is the latest in the juvenile world. She was strolling around the neighborhood on a tour of observation when she came across a [illegible] [illegible]

How to Succeed.

Don't worry. Don't overwork.

Don't make the field too broad.

Make friends, but don't encourage favorites.

Keep down expenses, but don't be penurious.

Keep a high vitality. Sleep well, eat well, enjoy life.

Stick to your chosen pursuit, but not to chosen methods.

Don't tell what you are going to do—till you have done it.

Make plans for a little way ahead, but don't cast them in iron.

Be content with small beginnings—and be sure to develop them.

Don't take fresh risks to retrieve your losses. Cut them off short.

Be cautious; but when you make a bargain, make it quietly and boldly.

A regular system of sending out bills and statements is more effective than spasmotic dunning.

Have a proper division of work, and neither interfere nor permit interference with your employes.

It is better for your credit to postpone payment squarely than to pretend to pay by giving a check dated ahead.

Three of 'em Worth Four Millions.

At the opera the other night was a young newspaper man who knows a great many people. He sat in a free seat attired in a borrowed suit, and with barely enough cash in his pockets to pay the ice cream and street car fare for the elegant young lady of good family and fine accomplishments who had accepted his escort. Between the acts he begged to be excused, and retired for a few moments to the foyer, where he was seen in conversation with a large plain-looking man and a handsome man with a brown mustache.

"I don't like to speak of such things," he said to the young lady on returning to his seat, "as I think that boasting of one's wealth is about the most vulgar thing out. But it is a singular coincidence that while I was standing in the foyer just now two gentlemen came up and entered into conversation with me. As we were talking I happened to think that the three of us were worth four million and a half dollars."

"Indeed?" quered the young lady, who had not known him long.

"Yes. Marshall Field is worth three millions, George Pullman one million, and I think I could scare up the other half dollar myself."—Chicago Herald.

TWENTY YEARS A SUFFERER.

Jordan, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—I have been afflicted with Rheumatism for the past twenty years, and have been laid up with it regularly for the past ten years. A short time ago I was confined to my bed with it, and sent for a bottle of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and when I had used the first bottle, went after the second bottle myself. I have tried so many good things, with no good results, that I can recommend this, in the highest terms, as I believe your remedy is the best in existence.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. MARY DOCKSTADER,
Farmer's Hotel.

Black Rock, N. Y.

DEAR SIRS:—This is to certify that I have been afflicted with rheumatism and Neuralgia for the past twenty-five year and at times so bad that I was not expected to live. I have used Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and have never used anything in all my experience that has helped me so much. I can recommend it to all afflicted with the above disease.

MRS. MARY MAGUIRE,
1437 Niagara Street.

Syracuse, N.Y.

GENTS:—For the past five months I have been troubled with Rheumatism, at times very badly. I procured some of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy of your agent, and in a few days was entirely free from all pain, and continuing its use for several weeks I am entirely cured and take pleasure in recommending it to all who are troubled with Rheumatism or general debility.

Yours truly,
MRS. E. S. HINKLEY,
203 East Genesee St.

Ask your druggist for Dr. Pardee's Remedy, and take no other. Price, $1 per bottle; six bottles, $5.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

T. F. Crockford, the traveling tinware merchant, carries a fine line of tinware, wooden ware, agate ware wrapping paper, etc., which he is offering in exchange or rags. Trade with him. 21tf

There are no newsboys in the City of Mexico. The papers are sold by women, who hold them out to passersby, but never say a word.

General Whitaker and the Spent Ball.

A spent ball, striking with a dull thud like a stone, often cause more pain to the man struck, and more commotion in the ranks than a bullet that tore through a man's leg or arm. It always came when you least expected it, from an unlooked-for direction, and struck a part of the body not expecting to be hit. So it always produced a stunning effect. At Chickamauga, General Whitaker, storming forward at the head of his brigade, was struck in the abdomen by one of these spent balls. Deathly sick and faint he called to General Granger:

"General, I am hit in a bad place. Who'll take charge of my boys?"

Granger replied: "I'll do it myself;" and sorrowfully sent his favorite brigadier to the rear. Whitaker riding rearward, concluded to see the extent of his wound. Unbottoning his coat he found no blood. Uuderclothing was not stained or punctured. There was no wound in the flesh. Realizing that he had been hit by a spent ball, Whitaker wheeled his horse, and in a towering rage galloped back to the scene of battle. Dashing up to the commander of the reserve, he roared, "I'm not wounded worth a—; I'll run this brigade myself;" and he did.—[Inter Ocean.

THE LARGEST BOOK PUBLISHED.—The latest edition of Webster's Unabridged, in the quantity of matter it contains, is believed to be the largest volume published. It will surprise many to know that by printer's careful reckoning it contains eight times the amount of matter that is in the Bible, being sufficient to make 75 12mo. volumes such at usually sell for $1.25 each.

There Shall be no Alps.

When Napoleon talked of invading Italy one of his officers said: "But, sire, remember the Alps." To an ordinary man these would have seemed simply insurmountable, but Napoleon responded eagerly: "There shall be no Alps." So the famous Simplon pass was made. Disease, like a mountain, stands in the way of fame, fortune and honor to many who by Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" might be healed and so the mountain would disappear. It is specific for all blood, chronic lung and liver diseases, such as consumption (which is scrofula of the lungs), pimples, blotches, eruptions, tumors, swellings, fever-sores, and kindred complaints.

Last year 279,000,000 stamped envelopes were sold by the government. They were worth $5,778,000. Envelopes, which in 1869 cost $4.80 per 1,000, can now be sold for $1.80 per 1,000, and the extra letter size that then cost $6, are now sold for $2.40.

TAINTOR'S
GUIDE-BOOKS
RELIABLE AND COMPLETE.
Illustrated with Maps and Wood Cuts.
Price 25 Cents Each, by Mail.

CITY OF NEW YORK.
Containing a description of and directions for visiting the Public Buildings, etc. Street Directory, Travelers' Directory, and map of New York.

SEASIDE RESORTS.
Atlantic Coast from the St. Lawrence to the Gulf

HUDSON RIVER ROUTE.
New York to West Point, Catskill Mountains, Albany, Troy, Saratoga Springs, Lake George, Lake Champlain, Adirondacks, Montreal and Quebec.

SARATOGA ILLUSTRATED.
Guide to Saratoga Springs, with maps and woot cuts.

ERIE RAILWAY ROUTE.
New York to Ithaca, Havana, Watkins Glen, Rochester, Dunkirk, Buffalo and Niagara Falls, via Erie Railway.

NEW YORK TO SARATOGA, BUFFALO AND NIAGARA FALLS.
Via Hudson River and New York Central Railroad.

NEWPORT ROUTE.
New York to Boston, via Newport and Fall River. Descriptions of Newport and Narraganset Bay.

NEW YORK TO WHITE MOUNTAINS.
Via N. Y. & New Haven and Connecticut River R. R.

NORTHERN RESORTS.
White Mountains, Lake Memphremagog, Green Mountains, Lake Champlain, Sheldon, Montreal and Thousand Islands.

PENNA COAL REGIONS.
New York and Philadelphia to Easton, Bethlehem, Delaware, Water Gap, Manunka Chunk, Scranton, Harrisburg, Williamsport and Elmira.

NEW YORK TO PHILADELPHIA, BALTIMORE AND WASHINGTON.

SARATOGA MINERAL WATERS.
DIRECTIONS FOR USING: BY W. O. STILLMAN, M. D.
Above Guides sent, postpaid, on receipt of 25c. each
For sale by Newsdealers and Booksellers.
Published by
TAINTOR BROTHERS & COMPANY,
18 and 20 Astor Place, New York.

CLOTHING

The "T, C. & CO." clothing FITS Nicely, has a CUSTOM FINISH and is MADE TO WEAR. It is FAMOUS for being the BEST and CHEAPEST, and is made in ALL GRADES, ALL SIZES, ALL SHAPES and for ALL AGES.

These Goods may be known by the above trade mark on the tickets. Don't buy any more clothing until you have seen some of the T, C. & Co. brand.

Sold by Peebles & Cook, Fulton.

HART BROS.,
—DEALERS IN—
Vitrified Glazed Stone Ware
—AND—
PORTLAND CEMENT SEWER PIPE
—AND—
DRAIN TILE,
With all necessary Fittings and connections.
FIRE BRICK, CLAY AND SAND.
Stone Ware, and Cement,
Chimneys and Tops.
[illegible]

Just Received at the
NEW PARLOR DRUG STORE

A full line of Harrison Bros. & Co's

READY MIXED PAINTS.

They are noted the world over for durability, ease of application, and firmness of finish. Call and examine them. Select what you need and carry them off at a price that will astonish you. I keep over sixty shades of colors, varying from the tint of a LADIES CHEEK to the appropriate color for a HORSE BARN.

I have further "elevated the standing of the Oswego County drug trade," by adding to my regular line of

Fine Drugs
—AND—
MEDICINES,
a beautiful modern
--SODA FOUNTAIN,--

At a cost of $2,000.00. Put on your spectacles and step in and test it for yourselves.
Remember the spot, day and date.
☞The New Drug Store.☜
H. C. GIESLER.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
☞Ladie's Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

Scranton Coal!
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,
Promptly Delivered!
At the Following Prices:

Stove	$4.50	Grate	4.25
Nut	4.50	Pea	3.50
Egg	4.25	Smith	450
No 4	475	Mixed	450

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

WARNER BRO'S
CELEBRATED
CORALINE
CORSETS

Five Gold and Two Silver Medals,
awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.

The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks.

Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "DR. WARNER'S CORALINE" is printed on inside of steel cover.

FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING MERCHANTS.
WARNER BROTHERS,
353 Broadway, New York City

2,000 AGENTS WANTED for the NEW WORK.
GLADSTONE—PARNELL
AND THE GREAT IRISH STRUGGLE.
By the eminent author, HON. T. P. O'CONNOR, M. P. for Liverpool, and R. M. MCWADE, Esq. Endorsed by HON. C. S. PARNELL. A thrilling history of Irish oppression and the mighty struggle for Home Rule that is rocking the British Empire to its centre; also Biographies of the leaders. An entirely new work from high authority, of all absorbing interest, richly illustrated, and an immense demand. ☞Apply quickly to
W. A. HOUGHTON & CO.,
18 East 14th St., New York.

DEAFNESS its CAUSES and CURE, by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists of the day with no benefit. [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS. Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 3 First street.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y.
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts. Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious Sample Rooms.

PLUMBING, PLUMBING!

S. C. NORTH,
THE PLUMBER,
has moved his office and shop
Under Collins' Shoe Store
and is now prepared to do all kinds of PLUMBING,
GAS and STEAM
FITTING.
Give me a call. I will try and please you. I carry a full line of Brass Goods.
Hydrant Hose,
Water Goods
of all kinds. Also a full line of
GAS FIXTURES.
10tf S. C. NORTH.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.
Prices Below all Competition
On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.
IN DYE STUFFS
I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at
R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.
A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.
No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.
Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods—and prices below all Competition.
48m3 R. E. PHILLIPS.

Job Printing.
—:o:—
We are prepared to do all kinds of
Job Printing
with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.
PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.
All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices.

[illegible] Dollar and Twenty-five Cents a [illegible] in advance. An additional charge of ten cents for postage on papers going out of Oswego [illegible].

Communications must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES.

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

THE Gladstone ministry sent its resignation to the Queen yesterday.

JAMES G. BLAINE opens the Republican campaign in Maine on August 18, at Portland.

A STATUE to the brave German, Baron DeKalb, of Revolutionary fame is to be unveiled at Annapolis, Md., August 16.

GLADSTONE, having been defeated in his masterly efforts for the benefit of Ireland, announces his intention of resigning. The "grand old man" will be heard from again.

IT is said that Col. Gilder is more determined than ever to go to the North Pole. No doubt of it. A colder climate is what he needs. This country has been made altogether too hot for him.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND accompanied by Secretaries Bayard and Whitney, and private Secretary Lamont leave Washington for Albany this afternoon. They will be the guests of Governor Hill to-morrow.

ON last Friday four persons suffered the extreme penalty of the law, in the South. At Donaldsonville, La., Lampson Roland and George Solomon (colored) and at Valdosta, Ga., Richard Townsend, (colored), suffered the same fate.

IN the case of the people against the Broadway surface railroad company, of New York city, Judge Landon at Schenectady yesterday, made permanent his injunction in the matter and denied the motion for a change of venue. The case was argued before him last Saturday.

THE bi-centennial period of Albany's existance began with religious observance on Sunday. The city is open to the world and thousands are taking advantage of it. The city has been alive, thus far, with processions and bright with decorations. To-morrow evening is set aside as the time for the grand display of fireworks.

THE emigration to Canada continues The last person headed in that direction and who is now probably with the army of bank cashiers and embezzlers, who are so rapidly increasing the population of the Dominion, is Samuel K. Gay, chief clerk in the Pittsburg, Pa., pension office who has forged and embezzled to the amount of $15,000 or $20,000.

SOMETHING remarkable occurred in Baltimore last week. Courtney, the Union Springs oarsman, won a race, but on the following day he, with his mate, Teemer, were defeated in a double scull race. As usual Courtney gave his quota of excuses, claiming that Teemer sold the race, and in this instance his statements seem to be verified. If there ever was a day of honest boat-racing, it is now past.

EDWARD Z. C. JUDSON, familiarly known as Ned Buntline, the story writer, who died in Stamford, Delaware county, last Friday, was during the war a chief of scouts in the Union army. While acting in this capacity and during other vicissitudes of his roaming life he probably received more wounds than any other American, carrying to his grave no less than thirteen scars. He always refused to apply for a pension, saying that he had no desire to be a government pauper.

A DISGRACEFUL scene, worthy only of Texas cowboys or degenerated pugilists, occurred in Congress last Friday when Representative Laird of Nebraska called Representative Cobb of Indiana a "d—— old liar," Mr. Cobb retorted by calling Mr. Laird a perjurer, whereupon the latter struck the Representative from Indiana in the face with his clinched fist, drawing blood. Members interfered before further damage could be done, although both wanted to retire to the lobby and continue their disgraceful exhibition.

The Senate was also the scene of a personal encounter Monday when Senator Miller of N. Y., and Senator Ingalls of Kansas showered unadulterated abuse upon each other and used words so sulphurous that they would make "Bob" Ingersoll blush. Both Houses had better adjourn at once.

The nervous, brain-working type of people, such as lawyers, clergymen, business men and students are the principal victims of hay fever. Sufferers may be certain that hay fever does not arise from an impure state of the blood. A local treatment is the only way to cure it. Judging from results, Ely's Cream Balm is the only specific yet discovered. 11w4

Before you put a roof on that building, been it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros, at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 8tf

IMPORTANT TO INVALIDS.
MRS. S. G. DODGE, M. D.
of Oswego,
[illegible] and [illegible] Physician,
[illegible] House, in Fulton, [illegible] where she can be [illegible] All [illegible]

[illegible]

This is the [illegible] building season in and about [illegible] since [illegible]. Eleven new [illegible] are going up.

To-morrow, the [illegible] annual games of the Syracuse Caledonian Club will be held at Frenchman's Island.

About 1,400 immigrants were landed at Castle Garden, Sunday, of whom 18 were Icelanders, converts to the Mormon faith.

The Antwerp Union Agricultural society holds its annual fair on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, August 25, 26 and 27.

A severe hail storm prevailed at Nyack, N. Y., Sunday. Hail stones as large as hen's eggs fell. No serious damage was done.

At Albany, Sunday, William Strain, aged 32, attempted to climb into a row boat attached to a small steamer. The boat was upset, and Strain, being unable to swim, was drowned.

Hon. R. P. Flower gives the one hundred and twenty-five New York children brought to Watertown by the fresh air fund, an excursion to the Thousand Islands next Thursday.

Of the 800 prisoners in the penitentiary on Blackwell's Island, New York City, only three refuse to go to church. These are Herr Most, the Socialist, and his companions, Braunsweig and Schenck.

Oswego, Lewis, Jefferson and St. Lawrence counties will soon be visited by commissioners appointed by Governor Hill, to select a site for the new insane asylum proposed for Northern New York.

Skaneateles not only claims the oldest resident of the county in the person of Thaddeus Edwards, but the oldest Free Mason, Mr. Ezra L. Stiles, of that place became a member of a lodge in Oneida county, in September, 1817.

The river and harbor bill as scaled by the senate makes the appropriation for improving Ogdensburg harbor, $7,500; for Oswego harbor, $71,250, of which $56,250 is to be used for repairs. In all there are twenty New York points considered in the bill.

The department of public works at Albany on Thursday opened bids and awarded contracts for the enlargement of five locks on the Erie canal, under the law passed last winter appropriating $200,000. There were forty bids from sixteen bidders. The lowest bidders were Hughes brothers of Syracuse, who were awarded the contract for the gross sum of $105,518. The bids on the three Oswego locks are yet to be made.

Prof. Brooks of the Redhouse observatory Phelps, has just been awarded the Warner prize for his discovery of the first, second and third comets of the present year. These three comets were discovered by Professor Brooks in less than one month, which, with the two Brooks comets of 1885, makes five comets discovered by this astronomer within a period of nine months, a record unparalled in the history of astronomy.

The will of the late David M. Osborne, the manufacturer of harvesting machinery, was probated at Auburn on Friday. Specific legacies were made as follows: To two surviving sisters, $10,000 each; to four nieces, $3,500 each; to his son, Thomas M., $10,000; to his daughter Helen, certain lands in Auburn, and to his wife all of the household paraphanalia. His wife, daughters, Emily Harris of Springfield, Mass., and Helen Osborne and son, Thomas M. Osborne, are the residuary legatees of his immense fortune.

COUNTY NEWS.

Pulaski will probably have water works soon.

F. W. Squires of Dempster furnishes the following list of old people in this county:

Mrs. Wattie Clarke, the oldest person in Oswego county, died at her home in Oswego last week Tuesday, aged 114 years.

The new census of Oswego which has just been completed shows an increase in population during the last six years of 130, the number now being 21,246.

Arthur W. Wilsie, of Hannibal, was present at the recent examination for state certificates held at Rochester and was a successful candidate.

Rev. G. F. Montgomery of Phoenix, will preach his farewell sermon on the first Sunday in August and will leave Phoenix about the 8th of that month.

The baby show to be had at the coming Sandy Creek fair, promises to be a drawing card. The judges are happy, too, because it is weight and not beauty that wins.

A sixteen-horse power engine is now engaged in drawing lumber from Redfield to Sandy Creek by way of Smartville, Six thousand feet is brought down each trip.

An examination of candidates for the scholarship to which Oswego county is entitled in Cornell University, will be held at Pulaski Academy, Monday, Aug. 2d, 1886, commencing at 9 o'clock a. m.

Syracuse is making an effort to secure her water supply from Salmon river, Oswego county, and a company has been formed. The water will have to be carried thirty-five miles in a 40-inch pipe. The fall is about 500 feet. It is proposed to build a dam 1,600 feet long and 500 feet high.

Prof. Bugbee received word from Albany on Wednesday that the application for an Academic department to Parish Union Free School had been approved and accepted by the Board of Regents. The first Regent's examination will take place here during the second week in November.—[Parish Mirror.

Mrs. Henrietta Post, of Oswego, 103 years old; Mrs. Mary Perkins, Oswego Town, 102; Mrs. Carrie Williams, of Scriba 99; Mrs. Susannah Davis, Palermo, 99; Mrs. Betsy Corey, Sandy Creek, 98; Mrs. Elizabeth Kehoe, Scriba, 98; Mrs. Dinah Keeler, (colored) Hastings, 98; Mrs. Alice Mellen, Richland, 98; Mrs. Clarissa Hadley, Sandy Creek, 96; [illegible] Hastings, 96; Mrs. [illegible] Parish, 96. [illegible] persons in the county, 100 years of age [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] is four years older than his mother-in-law.

Queen Victoria will visit the Edinburg exhibition August 18.

Henry Ward Beecher has had a most cordial reception in England.

Walt Whitman's forthcoming volume is to be called "November Boughs."

General Grant's family will visit Mount McGregor next Friday, the anniversary of his death.

Rubinstein, the pianist, made $35,000 during his recent visit in London. He gave only eight concerts.

Rear Admiral Stephen B. Luce, United States Navy, has assumed command of the North Atlantic Squadron.

Mrs. Marina Wright of Addison, Vt., is over 102 years old, and has lived in her present residence over 99 years.

"Ned Buntline" (E. C. Z. Judson), the love-and-murder romance-writer, died yesterday at Stamford, Delaware county.

Montgomery Blair, son of Montgomery, and G. B. McClellan, son of "Little Mac," are Princeton graduates this year.

The Archduke Otto, nephew of Emperor Francis Joseph, has been betrothed to Princess Marie Josepha, niece of King Albert Frederick of Saxony.

Sidney H. Morse, the sculptor, has just completed the modeling of three remarkable busts—Emerson, Carlyle and John Brown.

Some people are just beginning to realize the fact that there is a wide difference between a statesman and a politician.—[Worcester Reporter.

Since Oscar Wilde's marriage his dress has steadily become less striking, while his wife has taken to wearing robes of an outlandish if not ridiculous kind.

Mrs. Mary Grant Cramer, sister of Gen. Grant, is lecturing in Massachusetts under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Charles Mitchell, the pugilist, sailed for England Thursday. He came to this country three years ago without a cent and had $23,500 when he departed.

There is no live issue between the two political organizations. Neither of them is solid for or against the silver bill, upon the tariff question, indeed upon any other matter that relates to the public welfare.—[Gen Butler.

The present position of the parties in Great Britian is as follows: Conservatives, 315; Unionists, 72; Gladstonians, 191; Parnellites, 83. The Conservatives and Unionists have polled 1,485,179 votes and the Gladstonians and Parnelites 1,416,612.

Parish.

Our new Type Writer factory is rapidly approaching completion. The machiuery is being placed in the factory, and it is expected that in a few weeks some of the type writers will be made. The building has an imposing appearance.

The petition of our Board of Education, sent to the regents of the university, asking that our school be admitted to the visitation of the regents, has been granted. We have purchased a new and well assorted library and apparatus, so we shall have one of the best in the county. We have also engaged Miss Mary E. Stone, an accomplished lady, and a graduate of the higher course of the Cortland normal school to be our preceptress.

Crops look well, except grass on old meadows.

Palermo.

Mrs. George Hicks was arrested last week on a warrent sworn out by Perry Holden. She was put under bonds to keep the peace.

The school at Palermo Center is to close in three weeks. It is being taught by Miss Mattie Sampson of Mexico. She is teaching a very good school.

Sidney Easton is very sick. He is attended by Dr. Loomis of Fulton.

Hiram Bracy who has lived in town for long time, and received a pension a short time ago, is going to move West in about a week.

An ice cream and lawn festival will be held to-morrow evening for the benefit of the church.

Hannibal.

Notwithstanding the profuse blossoming of the fruit trees the apple crop will be almost a failure, so many are dropping off.

Frank Clute, our carriage builder, is doing more business than on any prior season.

Robert Jenkins has the finest vineyard of Niagara grapes in the county, and has several acres in Ohio black caps. He runs a fruit evaporator and a diary and carries on the business largely within his own family which since Monday numbers fourteen. The last on the roll call is a boy.

The hay crop in this locality is about up to the average.

James A. Barrett who was arrested some time ago on a body execution and was allowed to go on the limits went before Judge Churchill of Oswego at a special term held Monday morning and after examination was discharged.

Quite a number of delegates from out of town including eight or nine from Oswego attended the quarterly gathering at this place, of the temperance women of the county, last Friday. The afternoon session was pleasant and profitable, being spent in the discussion and perfection of plans for county temperance work. The evening session was addressed by Rev. Mr. MacFarlane of Hannibal and others.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.
As a remedy for Pulmonary Affections and Scrofulous Diseases.

DR. IRA M. LANG, prominent physician in New York, says:—I am greatly pleased with your Emulsion. [illegible]

[illegible] Detroit more than any other [illegible].

The Oswegos beat the Trentons yesterday 8 to 2.

Oswego has new uniforms even if it is the tailender.

Wood and Schell have been released by the Oswegos.

Old Joe Start has been retired by the Washington Club.

Ten home runs were made in the League games July 5.

Last year it was Welch and Clarkson, this year it is Keefe and McCormick.

O'Rourke has supplanted Mike Kelly as the chief run-getter of the League.

Dan Brothers is sick with malaria, he recently missed his first game this season.

Hanlon and Richardson are away ahead of the other Detroits in base stealing.

Deacon White is stealing bases with the alacrity of a bank cashier headed for Canada.

McCormick is the "funny man" of the Chicagos. His mine of good stories is inexhaustible.

One great feature of O'Rourke's catching is that he never has anything to say when at work.

Roseman is the only player in the American Association who has a perfect fielding average.

Syracuse tried to buy Norman Baker from Nashville. The latter refused to sell at any price.

To-day and to-morrow the Buffalos play at Oswego and the Hamiltons on Friday and Saturday.

Upward of 172,000 persons saw the games of the six principal base ball organizations on July 5.

Anson is the richest man actively engaged in the profession. His wealth is estimated at 40,000.

With Ganzel and Decker to relieve Bennett, Rowe will become a fixture at Detroit's short field.

Sam Wise, of Boston, made two home runs off McCormick's delivery recently. How Mac's eyes must have bulged.

Rochester beat Toronto twice on July 5, and every player of the Rochesters was presented with a five dollar note by the management.

One very sensible thing about the New York management is that it never complains that the umpire has robbed it. The loss of a game is charged to bad luck.

Latham's recent marriage has had anything but a soothing effect upon him. He is more frisky and fresh than ever.

Corcoran has become a great favorite with the Washington public, and has proved himself a valuable man to the Washington Club.

The complaint by Manager Watkins that the Detroits lost the three games recently to the Chicago Club owing to the poor decisions of the umpire is very childish, indeed.

Hines, of Washington, and Rowe and Richardson, of Detroit, are the only men in the League who have batted for a total of ten bases in one game.

The beauty of Detroit's team is that its best fielders are its best batsmen, and even its crack batteries hold one or more of its most effective willow wielders.

All of the Chicago players dress well off the field, but Clarkson is the bright particular dude of the team. He is very scrupulous about his dress, and there is considerable of the English about his style.

The individual who said a man couldn't get married and play ball the same season is put to the blush this season by Nicol, Richardson, Brouthers, Rowe, Latham, Serad, Burns and many others. Clarkson's case is unique, and don't count.

The heavy batters of the National league appear to be having a great strife for the honor of making their 100th base hit. To July 20th six had made 80 hits or more. For Detroit Brouthers comes first with 91, Richardson 89, and Thompson 81. For New York, Connor has 83, O'Rourke 82. For Chicago, Anson 86. Hines leads the batting for Washington, McKinnon for St. Louis, Wise for Boston, Andrews for Philadelphia and Myers for Kansas City.

The standing of the National league to July 20th is as follows:

	won	lost		won	lost
Detroit	47	13	Boston	22	36
Chicago	44	15	St. Louis	20	41
New York	40	19	Kas. City	13	41
Phila.	32	21	Wash'ton	10	44

The International league standing up to July 20th was as follows:

	won	lost		won	lost
Toronto	33	18	Stars	27	21
Rochester	29	17	Buffalo	22	29
Utica	28	17	Bingh'ton	16	35
Hamilton	28	21	Oswego	11	36

The Rochester play in Syracuse to-day and to-morrow. The Buffalos on Friday and Saturday.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., July 10, 1886.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, the President and Trustees More, Chase, Bradford, Johnson, and Pardee.

Minutes of last meeting read and adopted.

On motion of the Committee on streets, together with the President were authorized to employ G. D. Ball, surveyor, to assist in fixing a grade on First street, for the Fulton & Oswego Falls Street Railway Co.

On motion the Board adjourned to Monday next, July 12th, 1886, at 7½ o'clock, p. m.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

FULTON, N. Y., Monday, July 12, 1886.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, a full board, except Trustee Chase.

The reading of the minutes of last meeting was dispensed with.

In the matter of fixing a grade for First street, the Street Committee reported progress and presented a profile of First street, from G. H. Case's south line to the south line of Broadway, showing different plans for grading.

After a discussion of the matter pro and con by members of the board [illegible]

[illegible] Clerk.

[illegible] as much as the Presidency. The popular idea is that the President is a very extraordinary personage. Scarcely any one who has never seen a real, live President expects to meet a plain, prosy, ordinary mortal. Yet the very work of the Chief Magistrate makes him to some extent a common-place man. He arbitrates in petty political affairs of the whole country so far as they relate to Federal offices, and this requires contact with all classes of people.

Some irate Congressmen were talking about a centralization of power in connection with Mr. Cleveland's recent vigorous exercise of his veto power. There can be little danger, however, of imperialism, or the drifting away of the Executive from the masses, so long as the functions of the Presidency are administered as at present. Nothwithstanding this compulsory contact with all kinds of people, the present Executive commits himself to his business callers only to the extent he thinks proper. It is really amusing sometimes to see how he manages to evade the direct questions and requests of office-seekers and politicians.

For instance, when the Virginia Congressional delegation called upon him in behalf of Mr. Goode, whom the Senate rejected for Solicitor General, although each one took occasion to express the the hope that he would renominate this gentleman, nothing could be extracted from Mr. Cleveland as to what he would do in the matter. He was sorry the Senate had rejected Mr. Goode, he hoped it would consider its action, he liked Mr. Goode very much, etc.; but that was all the encouragement given the delegation. The President long since learned, as all Presidents must, to act before he speaks. In regard to Mr. Goode's disappointment, it may be said that he need not yet lose hope. A former candidate for the Solicitor-Generalship, whose nomination the Senate rejected, rose, afterwards, to be Secretary of the Navy.

President Cleveland continues to come down into the East Room three times a week to shake hands with the people who are awaiting the honor. Yesterday he was confronted by about two hundred callers, most of whom were excursionists from New Orleans. There were also a number of colored people in the party, and their pleasure at shaking hands with a real live President was plainly manifest. One old auntie shaped like a balloon, waddled up to Mr. Cleveland and drew off her white cotton glove to order to "take a grip with my-bar han", as she expressed it. Several of the excursionists took occasion to say to the incumbent of the White House that he might rely on their votes when another election day rolled around.

Government clerks are no longer backward about taking vacations. At this time last year they were rather timid about asking for their month's leave. They probably feared that the new Administration might find out that their services could be dispensed with if they were absent, and so they preferred to stay close to their desks. At any rate that was the practical result until quite late in the summer, and the departments had their full quota through the torrid weather. "Now the leaves are falling quite rapidly in all the departments," said an appointment clerk. The feeling that a Democrat would slip into his place if left vacant for even one day, does not haunt the clerk as it once did. Of course all apprehension on this score has not died out, but it is no worse than the chronic condition of mind of nearly every one in the Government service. The thirty days leave, however, is not so common now as formerly, because under the new regime, the time that a clerk is absent on account of sickness or from any other cause is detracted from the usual vacation period.

Women stand very little chance of being appointed to positions in the Executive Departments here now. One of the Executive officials remarked that there are ten men sent for by the Department officials to every one woman. He mentioned a lady who had just been appointed to a place in the Post-Office Department, whose standing was very high in every branch, yet she had been on their list for a long time, while men whose standing was ten per cent on an average below hers, had long since secured positions.

In reply to a question asking the reason of this state of things he said there was no real cause for it. It was more a matter of prejudice than anything else. Perhaps some chief of Bureau or other officer has an incompetent woman in his office who is troublesome, and he is unwilling to try another. Then there is a feeling that a woman is harder to get rid of if she is incompetent than a man. It is hard to tell a woman that she is unsatisfactory. The chiefs feel that a man will take such information like a man, but they fear the women will make a fuss about it and shed tears.

THE CUCKOO'S EGG.

The fact of the cuckoo's egg being found in another bird's nest—indeed, of the cuckoo having no nest of its own—was known in very early times. It laid its eggs in other birds' nests. But then came this difficulty; some of these nests were too small to admit the cuckoo, and in many cases her egg was found in a nest to which the only opening was at the side. It was a puzzle to naturalists; but the puzzle was solved. There are two or three stories that one reads in all the books. Macgillivary is the chronicler of one. In June, 1838, two sons of a farmer near Cromnir saw a cuckoo in very suspicious circumstances, which led them to watch it. The bird deliberately picked up an egg in its bill, looked around cautiously to see whether it was observed, and then hopped off with its burden. It followed its instinct in this matter, and the boys followed theirs. In fact, they followed the cuckoo till at last they saw it rise and fly away. Going to the place, they found a titlark's nest protected by a canopy of stunted heather twigs, and in that nest was a cuckoo's egg. With the assistance of a telescope, a farmer of the name of [illegible] watched the proceedings of [illegible]

[illegible] July 19.

[illegible] market [illegible] to-day [illegible] with considerable [illegible] the last of June [illegible] along [illegible] three days in July. The New York market [illegible] by all the [illegible] cheese was sold at 8c., or produce a little less. The decreased quantity of offerings does not arise from holding back, as everything was sold that was ready to go. If other parts of the country are equally short, there will not be over 20,000 to 25,000 boxes in New York this week and the market will be solid. The arrivals now-days are showing the shortness of the make this season most unmistakably. And when we come to July make there will certainly be no increase, but probably a still further decrease.

The transactions of the day are as follows: Ten lots, 900 boxes, at 7¾c.; 35 lots, 6,254 boxes, at 7¾.; 9 lots, 892 boxes, at 7⅝c.; 17 lots, 1,708 boxes, at 7¾c.; 4 lots, 360 boxes, at 7¾c.; 11 lots, 1,081 boxes, at 8c.; and 128 boxes at p. t. Sales 12,183 boxes; commission, 971 boxes; total, 13,154 boxes. Ruling price 7¾c. Year before 14,183 at 8¾c.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, July 19.

CHEESE.—There are several opinions as to the result of the advance to day. Many buyers believe that as a year ago to-day prices went up, and the following week went off again three-quarters of a cent, so now there will be a reaction, and next week we shall see that prices are too high to-day. Others claim that the city markets are so well cleaned out and the weather is so favorable, that the advance this week will be sustained next week The sales were considerably lighter than a year ago at this time, resulting probably from the fact that larger lots were put in on account of prices paid. Following are the transactions:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
1	80	7¼ cents
45	3,071	7½ cents
9	600	7¾ cents
40	3,918	7¾ cents
2	161	7⅞ cents
7	552	8 cents
6	686	8¼ cents
7	570	com.
117	9,638
Farm dairy	781
Total	10,419

Farm Dairies—There were sales of 781 boxe of farm dairy cheese at 7 to 8c.; bulk at 7¾c.

Butter.—Thirty-eight packages butter sold at 14½ to 15c.; bulk at 16c.

AT FULTON.

About twenty factories were represented at this market Monday nigh with 2,000 boxes, of which the majority were sold at 7½c. to 7½c., Utica ruling.

LOOL AT HIM!

A year ago he was not expected to live. Liver complaint almost killed him. He got great relief from three bottles Sulphur Bitters, and six bottles cured him. —[Editor Weekly Sun.

FORECLOSURE SALE.
SUPREME COURT—OSWEGO COUNTY.

The Fulton Savings Bank vs. Letson LaDu and others. By virtue of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action at a Special Term of the Supreme Court held at the Court House, in the city of Syracuse, Onondaga county, N. Y., on the 5th day of June, 1886, and duly filed and entered in the clerk's office of Oswego county on the 7th day of June, 1886, I the undersigned Referee duly appointed in and by said judgment and decree to make such sale will sell at public auction to the highest bidder at the law office of Piper & VanWagenen, in the village of Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y., on the 4th day of Sept., 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day the mortgaged premises in and by said judgment and decree directed to be sold and described therein as follows, to wit.: all that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Volney, county of Oswego and State of New York upon Lot number seventy-five (75) of the 17th Township of Scriba's Patent, Beginning at the north-west corner of O. Cone's division of 52 34-100 acres and running thence south 2 deg. east along the west line of said Cone's 52 34-100 acres thirty-seven (37) chains ninety-four (94) links to a stake, thence north 89 degrees west parallel to the south line of said Lot 75 fourteen (14) chains, fifteen (15) links to a stake, thence north 2 degrees west along a line of marked trees seventeen (17) chains ninety-four (94) links to a stake in south line of Samuel A. Williams' 30 acres laid off from said lot 75, thence south 89 degrees east along the south line of said Williams' 30 acres two (2) chains sixty-three (63) links to a stake at the south-east corner of said Williams' 30 acres; thence north 2 degrees west along the east line of said Williams' 30 acres twenty (20) chains to a stake on the north line of said lot 75; thence south 89° east along said north line eleven (11) chains ninety-three (93) links to the place of beginning, containing 50 acres of land—excepting however from the above described 50 acres a parcel of ten (10) acres from the north end thereof heretofore conveyed to O. Cone and a parcel of 8 8-10 acres from the south end thereof heretofore conveyed to Alfred Hudgin and excepting also a parcel of three (3) acres heretofore released from the operations of said mortgage from the west side of said mortgaged premises and conveyed by said Letson LaDu and wife to Orville Dunsmore by deed recorded in Oswego county clerk's office, in Liber 189 of deeds, at page 224, leaving 28 2-10 acres be the same more or less.

Dated July 20, 1886.

N. N. STRANAHAN,
Referee.

PIPER & VANWAGENEN,
Attys for Plff,
Fulton, N. Y.

C. S. EGGLESTON.
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES.
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF
Ladies' Kid Button Shoes
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing
and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE
SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 94 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y.

☞ Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at FULTON, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

JUST THE THING!
CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.
[illegible]

—LUMBER YARD!—
—WE HAVE IN STOCK A—
Complete Assortment
—OF—
Lumber, Lath, Shingles &c.
—And in fact everything pertaining to a—
FIRST-CLASS YARD.
We are prepared to furnish thoroughly seasoned lumber at the Lowest Rates. Call and be convinced.
BOOMER & LOOMIS.
Corner Broadway and First Sts.

—CALL ON—
GEORGE JOHNSTON,
On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of
STOVES AND RANGES,
Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,	THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
ART UNIVERSAL,	GRAND UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,	HAPPY THOUGHT,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,	HAPPY HOME,
and ACORN,	aud DUCHESS
Parlor Stoves.	Ranges.

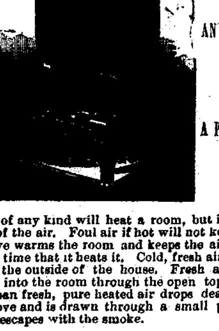
Among his other Attractions will be found the
Howe Ventilating Stove,
which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.
Yours Respectfully,
GEO. JOHNSTON.

—THE—
Howe Ventilating Stove.

A NEW STOVE. ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.

A HANDSOME STOVE. AN EXCELLENT HEATER.

AN ECONOMICAL STOVE. A PERFECT VENTILATOR.



☞ A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE
Howe Ventilating Stove Company, Fulton, N. Y.

F. G. WEEKS, President.
E. R. REDHEAD, Vice-President.
ALMON BRISTOL, Sec'y & Treas.
E. L. MESSENGER, Gen. Manager.

GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent
FULTON, N. Y.

HAY FEVER is attended by an inflamed condition of the lining membrane of the nostrils, tearducts and throat. An acrid mucous is secreted, accompanied with a burning sensation severe spasms of sneezing, frequent attacks of headache, watery and inflamed eyes. Cream Balm can be depended upon to give relief at once and cures.

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. Circulars free.
ELY BROTHERS,
Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

FRENCH'S HOTEL.
CITY HALL SQUARE, NEW YORK.
Opposite City Hall and the Post Office.
This Hotel is one of the most complete in its appointments and furniture of ANY HOUSE in New York City and is conducted on the European Plan.
Rooms only One Dollar per day. Half minute's walk from Brooklyn Bridge and Elevated R. R. All lines of cars pass the door. [illegible]

[illegible]

SULPHUR BITTERS
THE GREAT
German Remedy.
TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.
[illegible]

FULTON BUS

[illegible]

Leonard & Wilson, Proprietors

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express	8:19 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express	11:20 a. m.
Binghamton and Elmira Express	3:28 p. m
Freight and Accommodation	6:15 p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express	8:15 p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express	6:19 a. m.
Day Express	12:19 p. m.
Day Express	3:48 p. m.
Freight and Accommodation	6:15 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express	7:10 p. m.

The 8:19 a. m., and 6:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. Schwarz, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:18 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
Norwich Express	3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:24 a. m
Oswego Express	11:27 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	9:57 p. m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:21	2:16	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	12:54	3:34	6:39

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS.

C. H. David, wife and daughter are visiting friends in Parish.

Robert H. Gere of the Syracuse Herald made us a pleasant call Monday.

F. A. Emerick returned this morning from a ten day's trip to Canada.

Bert Hoff left Monday for a two week's visit with friends in Kingston, Ont.

Dr. W. A. Hall was in town yesterday as a witness in the Lee—Hill case.

Mrs. T. D. Lewis and children have gone to Canandaigua to visit Mrs. Foster.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Potter, of Syracuse, were guests of G. M. Case Monday.

Miss Lizzie Hall of New York, formerly of this village is visiting friends here.

John Norton of Syracuse, formerly of this village has been in town for a few days.

Mrs. D. C. More is spending a short time with her parents in Chenango Forks, N. Y.

Chas. Lathrop of the Syracuse Standard, has been visiting his parents in town for a few days.

Master Roy and Amos McCully of Fulton are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Amos Farnham.—[Hannibal News.

Rev C. H. Smith, formerly of this village, preached last Sunday in the Presbyterian church in Auburn.

Miss Gertrude Stephens, of Auburn, who was home spending her vacation, has gone to Hempstead, L. I.

It is expected that Dr. A. C. Shaw, a former pastor, will preach in the Presbyterian church next Sunday.

Miss Fannie VanBuren, who has been spending several months with friends in Westfield, Mass., has returned home.

George Sylvester leaves to-night for a few week's visit at Ocean Grove, N. J., for the benefit of his health.

The wife and son of Bishop W. X. Ninde of Topeka, Kan., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Schenck, of Lower Oswego Falls.

Miss. J. M. Hart, who has been visiting friends in St. Catherines, Ont., for several weeks, returned home last week.

Mrs. J. E. Cary, who has been visiting her parents here the past few weeks, returned Friday to her home in Cortland. She was accompanied by Mrs. Dr. M. B. Ingalls, of Cortland who has been spending a few days in town.

Daniel E. Kellogg of Chittenango is in town the guest of his uncle, George Kellogg. Mr. Kellogg graduated from Amherst college at the recent commencement, winning the Hyde Oratorical prize of $100. He was also the orator of his class.

The Dress Goods that were let over from last week's sale will be let out the remaining part of this week. F. E. BACON.

J. Cooley Tucker has the sole agency for the celebrated granulated wheat, a food prepared from the best white winter wheat, unleavened, ready cooked for immediate use. It is the best food for invalids and children. As a diet for cases of nervous prostration and debility, constipation and dyspepsia, it is unequaled. It is used in Health Institutions extensively. 10tf

Remember Collins sells the best Ladies $2.00 Shoe. 7tf

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter jars, Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots, &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by

10tf J. Cooley Tucker.

Gents' Bal. Button and Congress Shoes in the latest tip of the style, only $1.50 at COLLINS'. 7tf

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets. Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expeditiously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. 7tf

To Buyers of Carpets, Furniture and Curtains.

Never before have we been in position to show such a large and elegant stock of Stylish Carpets and Furniture as now [illegible] Low Prices. We [illegible] that it will pay you to [illegible] our immense stock [illegible]

[illegible] Shaw & Co.

[illegible] South Salina St.,

[illegible] N. Y.

[illegible] on goods pur-

[illegible] the prince [illegible] father of the fine canal system in this State, once said in my hearing that the circumpolar regions had greater fascinations than any other region on the face of the earth. This view has found favor because of the ardent longings of those who have once paid a visit to the cold north to again revisit it. Capt. Hall and Melville of the ill-fated Jeannette, were enthusiastic on this subject and now comes Col. Gilden with and equal desire for a greater experience. Col. Gilden was the companion of Lieut. Schwatka in his British North American experiences with the Arctic circle, and was with him in the recent explorations on the Yukon in Alaska. This experience has given Col. Gilden some taste of the dangers to be encountered in seeking the North Pole. He proposed recently to go with two or three companions to Greenland, and these start for Fort Conger in the northern part of that dreary land; but when on the eve of his departure he was arrested by the amateur swimmer, Miss Dolly Adams for hypothecating a bond she loaned him. So this expedition hangs fired.

Col. Gilden is a brother of the editor of the Century Magazine. He has seen service in the late war and has pluck and endurance for the dangerous journey he proposes.

Apropos to this subject, mention of the distinguished honor paid to one of the members of the Greely Expedition would not be out of place. It will be remembered that Lieut. Lockwood and Sergt. Brainerd reached the point nearest the Pole—within some 300 miles—ever made by man. Lieut. Lockwood perished. Sergt. Brainerd resides in this city and recently received the gold medal of the Royal Geographical Society and the certificate accompanying the same, signed by Lord Lorne.

This city in this particular has contributed handsomely toward solving this polar mystery. Moses H. Grinell contributed the funds for Kane's Expedition in the fifties, and for Dr. Hayes' just before the war. James Gordon Bennett was to the expense of the unfortunate DeLong Expedition, while the the general government has done something for the same end.

⁂

The demand for clean streets and the removal of offensive and health-destroying odors has led to the removal of slaughter houses from the city to the suburban towns on the other side of the North and the East rivers. This conditions of things leads to the forwarding of dressed beef from Chicago in refrigerator cars. This in turn has developed the killing of city beef on the ranches of the West and forwarding the same to this city. The company having this new departure under its control, have three stores in operation whose run of custom is something remarkable. Good meat and low price meat, this movement and its popularity among the rich and the poor is surprising.

The sequel of this business lies in the improved means of cold storage both during transportation and on its arrival here. The proper degree of coldness in transit maintained by ice placed in suitable receptacles in the cars at different points along the line of the railroad; but on its arrival in this city, special machinery has been devised for refrigeration. Nor is the application of machinery restricted to storage houses. There is an apartment house whose rooms are either warmed in winter or cooled in summer by a sort of radiator placed in some part of the room. When your feet are cold in winter you turn on the steam and when your head is hot in summer you turn on the cold air and you are enabled to follow that famous health maxim of the eccentric Dr. Abernethy, "Keep your head cool and your feet warm." All this is effected by an arrangement similar to the ice machines used in warm climates for the manufacture of ice. Theatres are cooled by artificial means and thus some of them like the Bijou and Madison Square are kept open the year through.

⁂

There is every prospect of an underground railroad. The Legislature last winter authorized its construction, and a company has been formed with Ex-President Arthur at the head of the concern. This company will build a tunnel under Broadway and other streets so as to connect the lower part of the city with the Grand Central depot. The cost will be from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 per mile. I have every reason from what I hear to believe that the New York Central railroad is largely interested in this scheme; and the recent departure of Mr. Depew to Europe ostensibly to recuperate his health and perfect an acquaintance made some years ago with Gladstone and Bismarck, means the enlistment of foreign capitalists in the scheme. Even should the road cost a hundred million which is not impossible the rapid growth of the city would insure a handsome return. If the elevated and horse railroads, on a capitalization and bonded indebtedness of nearly the cost of this new road can pay 8 per cent., this ought to pay something. I am glad for the ex-President's sake that he is at the head of the thing. It is a place worthy of his ability and he won't feel quite so melancholly now he has something to do.

⁂

The floral needs of fashionable society have for some years past been under the care of Klunder. He was the manager of the ladies horticultural show last spring. Whether the departure of so many of his customers has depleted his treasury, I don't know, but he has failed. To be indebted to the amount of $30,000 or $40,000 will give some idea of the expensive tastes of his patrons. Klunder claimed to know just the state of the state of the Cupidian thermometor in fashionable circles. When Algernon DeJones ordered something expensive in the floral line to be sent to some Murray Hill belle, he knew the mercury was raising. Klunder in this very well knew the tender relations of all Murray Hill—a knowledge too that the society journals could not obtain.

⁂

The press of New York, especially the Tribune and the World are reaping a harvest of golden opinions [illegible] The Tribune [illegible]

One Hundred and Fifty Pairs of Men's, Boys' and Youths' Canvas Ball Shoes. To be sold at manufacturer's prices until closed out, at

NETTLETON'S.

to take their children in the country, are sent to various parts of the country within 500 miles of this city, and among the farmers spend the only two weeks of their fifty-two, and perhaps their whole life in the country.

The World on the other hand pays directly for a steamer, band and luncheon and gives these to the poor working people of the city for an excursion. It is a noble charity and the people appreciate these efforts in their behalf by buying these papers. This may account for the enormous circulation of the latter paper which just reached 210,000 copies daily.

⁂

The nearness of Coney Island and other seaside resorts to the metropolis will lead me to give you some of my impressions while wandering among them.

Wanderer.

We are indebted to Hon. A. S. Draper for the Report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction for 1886.

The Times is indebted to Mr. Thos. Keogh, formerly of this village for copies of Springfield, O., papers.

Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Emens to-day celebrate the eighteenth anniversary of their marriage by a picnic at High Banks. A large number of friends will attend.

A son of Edward Laycock came very near losing his foot recently by its being caught in a wool picker in his father's factory. The foot was torn, some bones broken, but it is thought that the limb will be saved. Dr. D. Pardee attends him.

The "operetta "Red Riding Hood" was produced at the opera house last Wednesday evening before a large audience and was well received. The children doing very nicely. It was repeated before a small audience on Saturday evening.

A team of cricketers, made up of players from Oswego Falls, went to Syracuse last Saturday and played a game against a Syracuse eleven at O. D. A. park. In the first inning Syracuse secured 30, and Oswego Falls secured 41. In the second Oswego Falls secured 38 and Syracuse did not have time on account of darkness to play a second inning. The game was accordingly given to Oswego Falls by a score of 41 to 30.

The following article, taken from the Springfield, Ohio, Daily Gazette, will be of interest to Fultonians, referring as it does to a former well-known citizen of this village:

Mr. E. W. Ross, who for the past two years has carried on an extensive manufacturing of paper mill and some kinds of farm machinery, in the steel mill building leased to him by the East street shop proprietors, has just purchased four acres of ground from B. H. Warden, just east of the new Lagonda shops and lying along the C. C. & I. Railroad, for the purpose of erecting a large factory for the manufacture of the above named machinery and to employ at least five hundred hands. The reason of the move is that the East street shops folks will use the steel works building to manufacture their own iron and steel and use the surroundings to extend their shops to a much larger capacity than at present to meet the growing demand for Springfield harvesting machinery. It is understood to be the intention to also make the twine used in the binder, and eventually even the paint used to beautify the machines. The East street shops are now running full capacity, showing up a wonderful hive of industry, and even this is to be materially added to for the future seasons by larger shops, more machinery and more men. Mr. Ross came here from Fulton, N. Y., backed by the most ample means, and has done so well that he naturally desires to stay in Springfield. All our manufacturers have given him a warm welcome, having unbounded confidence in his sterling qualities as a citizen, business man and manufacturer. With nearly 34,000 people and such an excellent industrial outlook for this city, she can confidentially look forward to a solid, steady prosperity which very few cities in the country can equal.

The Street Railroad.

The work of building the street rail way is progressing as rapidly as possible. A large gang of laborers are engaged in laying the track and paving the street. The track has been laid from the D. L. & W. railroad nearly to First street on the Oswego Falls side. It is very evident that someone is trying to hinder the construction of the road as much as possible as last night some miscreants threw one of the iron frogs on the upper bridge into the river. It is to be hoped that the scoundrels can be detected and punished as they deserve.

The ball is whirling at Bacon's. Dry Goods are cheap. Never cheaper. Let us keep cutting them away.

THE "SHIPMAN."

is the engine of to-day. Any party desiring light power (from 1 to 4 H. P.) are invited to call and see one in operation. They are the simplest, cheapest, and safest steam engine known. Being automatic in Fire and Water attendance, they require less attention than any other, and it is practically impossible to explode one. Send card for testimonials or call on the undersigned and satisfy yourselves of its merits.

D. A. Waterman, Agt.

Cor. 3d and Buffalo sts.

10w2 Fulton, N. Y.

Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares, two years ago, and find it very durable and economical.

Hart Bros.

HARPOON FORKS

for $1.00

—at—

Snow & Loomis' Hardware,

and

Horse Rakes,

Hand Rakes,

Pitch Forks,

[illegible]

Last Week's Races.

The rains of last week compelled a postponement of the races of the Fulton Trotting Association until Friday, when the unfinished races of Tuesday were trotted. In the 2:29 class "Shooting Star," took two straight heats and thereby won the race. In the three minute class on Tuesday, "William S," "Major B," and "Robin" each took a heat. "William S," took the first heat Friday. The next two heats were taken by "Robin," who thereby won the race.

In the 2:45 class, A. J. Feek's "Lysander Belle" took three straight heats, M. E. Cornell's "Bessie L," second, and Frank Matty's "Ned" third.

In the races on Saturday "Bessie L," entered by M. E. Cornell of Syracuse, won the 2:37 class, taking the third, fourth and sixth heats. The best time was 2:37½. Emerald won the pacing race, taking the first, fourth and fifth heats; best time 2:40. The free to all race was not trotted.

On Friday in the three minute race considerable excitement was occasioned by the run away of "Volunteer Maid." the sulky was demolished and the driver considerably hurt. "William S," also became freightened and ran away, he ran into "Robin," who got away from his driver and the two latter horses for a short time had the track to themselves. All three of the horses were more or less injured.

Burglars at Work.

For the past few weeks the announcement of burglaries in the country villages of this county have been quite frequent, but in every instance the booty secured has been small. The last of these was in the village of Cleveland, last Sunday morning when it was found that the general store of Garritt Smith had been entered and his new 1,000 pound safe blown open during the night with dynamite, a fifty cent piece was all the safe contained, this with a few coppers in the drawers was all that the burglars secured. Mr. Smith loses considerable by damage to the safe, a quantity of cloth that was used to cover the safe to deaden the sound was also burned in the explosion.

The whole work shows the hand of an expert and is attributed to a suspicious stranger who called at the store on Saturday and made two or three trifling purchases on different sides of the store, presumably to locate the money drawers.

The Thomson-Houston System.

This system of electric lights is continuing to give most excellent satisfaction and all speak very highly of its steadiness, brilliancy and penetrating power. Watson's and Giesler's drug stores, Elder's restaurant, Holden's and Wilcox's markets are now lighted by arc lights of this system. The Schuyler company will have to produce unusually fine lights to surpass these in either of the qualities mentioned. The incandescent lights which this company propose to furnish for houses, stores, &c., if their system should be accepted by the village, is of twenty candle power, or several candle power stronger than an ordinary gas jet and of a superior quality. The price at present set on this is three cents per light per night.

Very Profuse Thanks.

The New York Sun of last Saturday has the following item, which refers to a former well-known Fultonian:

Joseph Francis of 115 Congress street, Brooklyn, picked up a red morocco pocketbook yesterday afternoon in Exchange place and New street. He shoved it into his coat pocket and started up the street to Broadway. At the same time five men emerged from an office. One man was apparently much excited. He rushed up the street and stopped three men to ask them if they had found a pocketbook, and when he overtook Francis he tapped him on the shoulder and repeated the question. Francis replied that he had, and at the same time handed over the fat morocco pocketbook. The man opened the pocketbook and, after running his fingers over fifty-one crisp $100 bills, said sarcastically;

"I didn't know but that you might have dropped one."

Then he elbowed his way through the crowd that had gathered and disappeared down the street.

"They Never Would be Missed."

Harry Mack, who with his wife a short time since opened an establishment for making ladies' head-dress in Oswego Falls and whose propensities for drink compelled him to leave there, now appears in Buffalo as the friend of George White, the tonsorial humbug, who announced his intention of swimming through the Niagara whirlpool in a cork suit. Mack deserted his wife in Oswego last week and on Saturday his household goods were attached for rent. It would be a good plan for Mack and White to bind themselves together and swim the rapids.

Taken to Carthage.

Wm. W. Pitcher, driver of the horse "Shooting Star," was arrested Friday by Officer Pool on a telegram from P. W. Lyman, chief of police of Carthage, N. Y., on a charge of grand larceny. The trouble is said to be about the purchase price of a sulky. Chief Lyman arrived in town Saturday morning. Pitcher meanwhile had been admitted to bail, H. B. Hart, owner of the horse, becoming his bondsman. Pitcher was taken to Carthage Saturday evening in charge of Chief Lyman.

New Music.

"Echoes from Lake George" is the title of a new Waltz, for the piano which we have just received from the Publishers, H. M. Brainard & Co., Cleveland O. It is a beautiful composition, well arranged, melodious, and one of those Waltzes which everyone falls in love with. The title page is embellished with a [illegible] of Lake George, one of the most beautiful [illegible]

May the best light win.

The days are getting shorter.

It rained every day last week.

A few tents are pitched at High Banks.

There is great activity among fishermen.

Success is the outcome of judicious advertising.

The rain last week did great good to the tobacco crop.

There were no services in the Presbyterian church last Sunday.

Everybody who can afford it are off for river, lake, mountain, springs or seaside.

Father Early is to give a temperance address at Granby Centre next Saturday evening.

Edward Mack of Syracuse formerly of Fulton rejoices over the arrival of a nine pound boy

The Granby Center band attended the Father Matthew festival at Oswego Falls last Monday evening.

We want one of our churches lighted with electricity. No arrangement as yet seems to be made for this.

The Sherman Post G. A. R. of Vermillion will hold a festival and camp fire at New Haven on August 3d.

The Congregational Sunday-school of Oswego Falls will have a picnic at Three River Point some day next week.

James Clark, who was recently convicted of petit larceny and fined $10, has filed a notice of appeal in the county clerk's office.

A new time table went into effect last Monday on the D. L. & W. railroad. The corrected table will be found in another column.

From the accounts, that the Chronicle gives we would infer that the village Board at Phœnix are having lively times at their meetings.

There will be about forty electric lights burning next week. We ought then to be able to find an honest man without the aid of a lantern.

The firm of Leonard & Wilson has been dissolved. Mr. Leonard will take charge of the Lewis house, and, Mr. Wilson assumes charge of the livery and 'buss line.

Oswego yesterday retired the Torontos from the International league race. Rochester is first now with a percentage of .638, and Toronto second with a percentage of .635.

The recent rains have swollen the Little Salmon river in this county to such an extent that the two new mill dams—one at Mexico and another one mile above—have been carried away.

To-day the Rochesters play the Stars at Syracuse,. One of the biggest crowds of the season is expected. A band of 600 excursionists will come from Rochester. Parsons will pitch for the Rochesters.

Prof. Robb, late Supertendent of the schools of Cohoes, has been engaged as Principal of Phœnix Academy; Miss Root has also been engaged as preceptress and a daughter of Prof. Robb will fill one of the subordinate positions.

Peebles & Cook, the Cayuga street clothiers, are giving with every cash purchase of $2 or over, an admission ticket to the Oswego Falls fair. With each purchase of $8 or over, a season ticket will be given.

The new depot of the N. Y. O. & W. railroad is fast nearing completion. The roof has been put on and a number of carpenters and painters are at work. It is expected that it will be ready for occupancy about August 1st.

The annual excursion and picnic of the Hop Growers Association will be held next Saturday, at Sylvan Beach. A special train will be run over the N. Y. O. & W. railroad leaving Fulton at 7:22 a. m. Kingsford's band has been engaged to furnish music. It is expected that eight or ten thousand people will attend. Fare for the round trip from Fulton, $1.00.

A lady's bustle adorns a telegraph pole on First street near Bacon's store. The first thought of the observer is that it is an advertisement of Bacon's, but inquiry develops the fact that a young lady lost the article while walking along the streets Monday night, and some one, evidently thinking that she would return and claim her property, hung it on the pole.

Living Pictures.

The beautiful specimens of Mr. Kellogg's new method of water coloring are attracting considerable attention in Bacon's and in Rosenbloom's show windows. The paintings are executed by the use of the celebrated Acme Water colors which are endorsed everywhere for their brilliancy and permanency and should not be confounded with the old process of painting on glass. The work must be seen to be appreciated and the ladies of Fulton are especially invited to call at the Lewis House and confer with Mrs. Kellogg with regard to the work.

Go into Bacon's and get a Lawn Dress at 8cts. per yard.

COLLECTOR'S NOTICE.

I, the undersigned collector for the village of Fulton N. Y, have received my warrant for the collecting of village taxes and will sit at G. G. Lathrop's store on First street, opposite the Lewis House, on and after the [illegible] to receive [illegible] [illegible] the hours of [illegible] for the [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] this suit was brought by Dr. C. M. Lee against James Hill, to recover payment for services rendered, laying his claim at about $100. Mr. Hill puts in a counter-claim in the sum of $300 for malpractice. The facts of the case are substantially as follows: In the latter part of April, 1884, James Hill, a resident of this village, fell in his canal boat, just below the village, and suffered an oblique fracture of the thigh bone of the left leg. He was taken to his home on Fifth street, and Dr. C. M. Lee of this village, was called, who reduced the fracture, bandaged the leg and applied a temporary splint. He called several times after, and prescribed medicine etc., for the patient. Mr. Hill eventually recovered, and his leg was found to be 2⅝ inches shorter than his right one. Last winter Dr. Lee sued Mr. Hill for the services rendered, claiming about $100. This suit was tried in Phœnix and the jury disagreeing, no settlement was reached. Last Monday the case was again tried here before Justice of the Peace Hulett. Dr. Lee's attorneys were Howe & Rice and W. C. Stephens. The defendant was represented by Ex-County Judge Avery of Phœnix, Mead & Stranahan and G. S. Piper. R. B. McCully, D. E. Mason, H. Rosenbloom, W. McCully A. Emerick and Adelbert Tucker constituted the jury. The first witness called was Dr. Lee, who testified to the facts substantially as set forth above. The plaintiff then rested. The defense then opened by calling James Hill, who testified that after three weeks had passed there were no signs of union between the ends of the bone and repeatedly told the doctor that his leg was growing shorter and that something ought to be done to prevent this. At the end of about three weeks the treatment was changed and the patient was put upon what is called the double inclined plane. The purposes of this treatment is to prevent a shortening of the broken bone. The witness further said that both upon the inside and outside of his leg were large prominences. Several doctors were placed upon the stand and swore that they had examined Mr. Hill and had found the leg about 2½ inches shorter, and had also noticed the lateral deformity, i. e., the excresences upon the leg. During Mr. Hill's testimony the fact was disclosed that a few months previous to April, 1884, he fell and broke the same bone that he fractured in April. This accident occurred near Cresent, N. Y., and the leg was shortened by this first break about half an inch. The taking of evidence consumed Monday afternoon and until Tuesday evening when the case was adjourned until Friday morning at 9:30, when it will be continued.

The Schuyler System.

Mr. F. O. Rusling, the representative of the Schuyler Electric Light Company left town Monday, having perfected his arrangements for lighting the streets and various stores by this system. There will will be thirty lights distributed, and will be burning by the last of this or first of next week. The wire, machines, lamps, &c., have arrived, poles are being placed in position and the work of stretching the wire will begin to-morrow. The lights will be distributed as follows:

First between Oneida and Cayuga; corner First and Rochester; midway between Rochester and Broadway on First; corner First and Broadway; corner Third and Broadway; south-west corner of the Park; northwest corner of the Park; corner of Rochester and Fourth; corner of Sixth or Seventh and Oneida; corner of Third and Oneida.

Arc lights will be placed in the following places of business: Bacon's, Rosenbloom's, "Bee Hive," Post Office, Nettleton's, Lewis House, Clark House, Snow & Loomis', Peebles & Cook's, Watson's, Geisler's, Johnston's, Collins & Co's, Wright's and Morrow & Co's. The Lewis House and possibly two or three other business houses will be lighted by the incandescent system.

When You Come to Syracuse

We wish you to remember that for the best goods at the lowest prices THE CENTRAL CITY CLOTHING CO., 20 East Genesee St., Syracuse, N. Y. takes the lead. Since the 15th of May, when we first opened our doors to the public our store has steadily advanced in popular esteem. Our firm has seven stores in as many different cities, and buying our goods in immense quantities straight from first hands gives our customers the benefit of the very closest prices, as well as the largest stock to select from. In our Clothing Department for instance we can offer Men's working suits Heavy weight at $3.00, Men's Business suits at $5.00, Men's all wool Cassimere Suits at $7.50, Men's all wool black and brown, Diagonal Suits at $10.00. Well made suits for boys at $1.50, 2.00, 2.50, 3.00 and 4.00. Freeman's celebrated Overalls and Jackets at 38c., the price of same, the world over is 50cts. Working Shirts 25c. Saxony wool Hats, black and colors, 39cts., ordinary price 75cts. Fine Wool Stiff Hats, latest shapes, 75 and 90cts., worth $1.00 and $1.50. Keep your eye on us this fall as we have in process of manufacture, the most colossal stock ever exhibited in the city, and at prices that will confirm the reputation we made this spring of being the people's "Favorite Bargain House" of Central New York. When you visit Syracuse, no matter where you have been in the habit of trading, do not omit to look through our different departments, and convince yourselves that what we advertise is strictly true.

CENTRAL CITY CLOTHING CO.,

20 E. Genesee St., Syracuse, N. Y.

Sign C. C. C. C. 4 C's and do not be mislead.

A good milch cow for sale cheap. Enquire at Wilcox's meat market on Cayuga street.

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc., on credit at wholesale prices. J. Cooley Tucker. 10tf

[illegible]

Commencing

Saturday, July 17th, '86,

We shall give away Tickets for the Oswego Falls Fair. With every sale that amounts to $8 one Season Ticket, to $2 one admittance Ticket.

PEEBLES & COOK

THE CLOTHIERS,

Opposite Opera House.

JUST OPENED!

—A LARGE LINE OF—

Tinware, Woodenware,

Glassware, Crockery,

TOYS, DOLLS, STATIONERY, GLOVES, HOSIERY, HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS, CLOTHES WRINGERS, WASHTUBS, BASKETS &c., &c.

To be sold at prices that will surprise you. We positively will not be undersold.

Call and be Convinced.

Stowell's 25 Cent and Bargain Store,

Opera House Block, Fulton, N. Y.

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

Hale's Honey the great Cough cure, 25c., 50c. & $1
Glenn's Sulphur Soap heals & beautifies, 25c.
German Corn Remover kills Corns & Bunions
Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye—Black and Brown, 50c.
Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 Minute, 25c
Dean's Rheumatic Pills are a sure cure, 50c.

WORM DESTROYER.

Mrs. Butler's Compound Worm Tonic effectually destroyes worms, naturalizes the stomach and bowels, and acts as a permanent tonic, and is an exceedingly beneficial and certain cure for fever, diarrhea, dry hacking cough and weak, feeble children, as thousands testify Also cures fits and dizziness. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 28y1.

You will save time and money by buying your field and garden seeds in bulk. A large stock just received at D. C. Draper's 15 Oneida street, and for sale at the lowest living rates by the bushel, quart or pound.

If you want the best ice cream go to Miller's the old ice cream dealer on Cayuga street. 51tf

You will always find reliable Shoes at the Lowest Prices at Collins'. 7tf

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

MILTON S. PRICE'S

Great Special Offering.

I SHALL OPEN THIS DAY

Best Bargains this Season

Seventy five pieces ARLINGTON FANCY DRESS GOODS, only 20c. and 25c. per yard. Recently sold at 40c. and 50c. per yard.

Fifty Pieces GILBERT'S CELEBRATED SUITINGS, in Mixtures, Silk Wool Fancy Checks and Diagonal Fancies, only 50c. a yard; worth $1.

Ten pieces Extra Quality CASHMERE ROYAL BLACK SILKS, only $1.00 per yard; elsewhere $1.50.

Twenty Pieces BLACK SATIN RHADAMES, only 75c., 89c., $1.00 $1.25 and $1.50 per yard. All Real Bargains.

Five Cases INDIA CRINKLES, only 6c., worth 12½c.

Ten Cases STANDARD PRINTS, only 4c. per yard.

Five Cases SEERSUCKER GINGHAMS, only 6¼c. per yard, worth 10c.

Ten Cases BEST SPRING STYLES PRINTS, only 5c. per yard.

One hundred and Fifty Pieces NAINSOOK CHECKS, only 4c. and 6¼c. per yard.

Fifty Pieces Spring Tide SATIN PLAIDS AND CHECKS, only 12½c. per yard.

SPECIAL PRICES ON

Parasols and Sun Umbrellas.

NEW ASSORTMENTS

Rich Chantilly and Spanish Guipure Laces Flounces, &c.

Purchasers will find it to their interest to examine these rare bargains at

MILTON S. PRICE'S,

HOTTER THAN ___!*

Consequently we have a large stock of Seersucker Coats and Vests, Alpaca Coats &c., and a full line of Men's Gauze Undershirts and Drawers in all sizes, and can dress you up so comfortably that you will not mind the extreme heat or the slight expense.

We still have a large stock of Men's and Boys' Suits that we shall sell very low to close out. Call and see the bargains we are offering.

D. C. MORE & CO.

The Reliable one Priced Dealers, First Street, Opp. Lewis House, Fulton, N.Y.

[illegible] FULTON TIMES.

Wednesday, July 21, 1886.

[illegible] KNOWING.

The white Brahma is said to be the most trustworthy breed in the garden

The Kansas Farmer says that five times as much corn is being listed in that state this season than ever before.

Now is an excellent time to push young pigs, as they grow very very rapidly after the weather commences to become warm.

It is estimated that about 2,000,000 acres in Kansas have been added to the cultivated area during the past two years.

The best bred stock cost the most money but its produce brings a great deal more than the produce of that which is badly bred.

The advice, to put a cow before calving on short rations to prevent hay fever, is bad. The food should be regular, not forced.

In feeding you want to notice that some animals are more dainty as to their choice than others. Their likes should be respected.

Calves kept gaining vigorously through the first year are worth at the end twice as much as others that have been retarded in growth.

Irregularity in salting will not conduce to the laying on the flesh. Especially in dairying will irregularity in salting show in the milk.

Vigorous growth of plants is the best protection against insect enemies, and timely cultivation comes in as a most effective auxiliary force.

Holland dairymen have to pay $36 annual for land in which to keep cows, and they make money at that. There a good cow is valued at $150.

The free use of clover seed and keeping of farm stock enables farmers to maintain land in good condition for ordinary cropping without purchasing commercial manures.

Cow manure water spattered over melon, squash and cucumber vines at sunrise will destroy the stripped bug. Spatter with an old brush or broom.

A soil but five inches deep cannot be worth as much as another that gives free scope to the roots of plants to whatever depth they may penetrate in search of nutriment.

A number of Black Javas have been carried to England. The breed attracts some little attention there. The Plymouth Rock has been very popular on the other side of the water.

A new form of mowing machine has been devised and recently perfected, which the inventor hopes will prove a great saver of power, and accomplish results more economically than any of the other machines. The distinctive peculiarity of the machine consists in the cutters, which are arranged on an endless belt. This moves around the cutter bar in a continuous motion, and is claimed to save the loss arising from the backward and forward movement in other impliments of this kind. It will be readily understood that with this principal the knives will cut with only one edge, and hence their shape differs from those in common use.

Keep Farm Stock Clean.

Keeping the pores of farm animals open is as essential to their thrift as bathing is to our health. The skin performs an office more essential to life and health than even digestion; and it is even more important that the horse be thoroughly groomed than that he be fed. Thorough grooming does not mean only the removal of mud and manure from the hair with the comb; it means thorough brushing and rubbing which will clean the hide, removing all obstruction from the pores. It is more necessary to groom the horse than any other farm animal, because he is the last to groom himself. Cattle will groom themselves to a certain extent; yet there can be no more profitable work than brushing and rubbing them, though it is so rarely done. The hog, reputed to be the dirtiest of all farm animals, is really the most cleanly, and if allowed to do so will keep his hide clean. This he does by first putting on a coat of mud. This he scratches off and with it removes the impurities which have adhered to to his hide and which the wet earth has loosened. Wallowing not only contributes to the comfort of the swine, but it is of the utmost importance to their health.—[American Agriculturist for July.

Late Cabbage.

There are a large number of farmers as well as market gardeners who grow large quantities of late cabbage. The profit from a crop of late cabbage will compare favorably with that from a crop of tobacco. In a favorable season the plants can be set upon good soil as late as July 10, and mature before cold weather stops their growth. The best time to set plants and be certain that they will mature, however, is from June 15th to July 1st. Most any good corn land will produce good cabbage, provided it is not too sandy. A heavy sand loam is best adapted to that crop. The soil should be deeply plowed, not less than eight inches deep, after the soil has been thoroughly pulverized mark it into rows three and one-half feet one way and two feet apart the other. A small handful of some kind of fertilizer dropped where each plant is to be set will greatly improve the corp. The plants should be set just before a rain if possible. In setting the plants care should be taken to firm the soil about the roots.

The Day of Small Things

Observing Little Girl—"Mamma, who is that young man on the other side of of the car?"

Mamma—"I don't know dear, why?"

Observing Little Girl—"He looks so queer; he has three eyebrows."

Mamma—"How do you make that out?"

Observing Little Girl—"He has one over each eye and one over his mouth.

The young man had important business to transact in the first barber shop he [illegible], and all the passengers wondered why he got on just to ride one [illegible]

[illegible] and comfort [illegible]

A [illegible] LIBERTY.

[illegible] Lydia Pinkham and a Middle-Aged Wet-Nurse.

People who have been waiting for Bartholdi's female to be unpacked have expected to see a young face of a girl something like the one on the silver dollar, or like the picture of liberty, or justice, that are familiar to all. They have been prepared to see a face like one of these beautiful variety actresses, who sings patriotic songs and waves the flag of all nations on the stage. Instead of giving us a female "Liberty" such as we have been accustomed to, Mr. Bartholdi has sculped out a crors between Lydia Pinkham and a middle-aged wet-nurse in a foundling asylum. Mr. Bartholdj may be a very nice gentleman, but he is evidently unacquainted with the American idea of a she Liberty. There is an expression of pain on the face of this Liberty, as though she had suffered but had found temporary relief by taking a few dozen bottles of Warner's cast iron burglar proof time lock safe liver medicine. The woman actually looks cross, as though the milk brought to the founding asylum where she was nurse was sour. No one wants Liberty to look cross, as though her corn pained her. Her mouth is drawn down at the corners as though she had been chewing gum and the gum had loosened the filling in her teeth. She looks right straight in front as though some masher had winked at her, and she wanted to show him that she was not that kind of a girl. Her nose is so straight that she couldn't hold a pair of spectacles on it to save her. She has got a double-chin that makes her look to be over forty years old, the mother of a family of grown up children. Of course the country is under obligations to the people of France for the present, but it doubts their judgment in hiring a man to do the sculping who would play a grandmother off onto us to represent young Liberty. This French nurse may look well enough a mile or so away, during a fog in New York bay, or at night by the aid of a lantern, but what we have wanted on that expensive pedestal is a young woman with some get-up-and-get to her, that would make us feel proud. Grandmothers are the noblest work of nature, but it does seem as though there ought to be a granddaughter holding a candle for New Yorkers to go to bed by. "Liberty lightening the world" should have a sort of come-in-out-of-the-wet look on her face, or a wink to her eye as much as to say to the beholder, "I am a daisy, and don't you forget." But the expression on the face of Mr. Bartholdi's wet nurse is as though she would say to a flock of children, "Come up here, one at a time, and be spanked, you little devils." When this Liberty gets her brass clothes on and her head dress and toes all screwed on, and she is ready to hold up the electric light and be unveiled, she may look different, but if the face in the illustrated papers is the one she is going to wear through all the ages, she is not going to give satisfaction. As a keeper of an apple-stand that face would draw custom, or as a lecturer on woman's rights, or a she Mormon lobbyist in Congress, she might do, but she is too old a back number to represent a young republic that goes a good deal on shape.—[Peck's Sun.

Immense Business.

Armour & Co's sales last year about $50,000,000, nearly a million a week, and yet I am told by one of the heads of departments, who probably knows what he is talking about, that the net profits were a little less than $1,550,000. That is a large sum, but it is a small sum to represent a year's profit of a business so vast. Did you ever stop to think that there is a butcher shop in Chicago whose sales are larger every year than the gross income of the greatest railway in the country? The earnings of the New York Central are only $30,000,000. Our great western reads crowd the Central pretty close, with $27,000,000 for Burlington, $25,000,000 for Northwestern and $24,000,000 for St. Paul. In point of gross receipts this big butcher shop leads them all, but there is a vast difference in profits. As statements, these figures are interesting, but as comparisons they amount to nothing. To earn its $30,000,000 gross and $8,000,000, net per annum the New York Central employs an invested capital of $165,000,000, exclusive of the West Shore. The Lake Shore earns $15,000,000 gross and $6,000,000 net per annum and employs an invested capital of $100,000,000. The St. Paul earns $24,000,000 gross and $9,000,000 net per annum and employs an invested capital of $150,000,000, and so on through the list. The capital employed to earn $50,000,000 gross and $1,500,000 net per annum in the dressed meat business is insignificant in camparison with these enormous figures.—[Chicago Herald.

Entirely to Late.

There was an exultant smile on his as he walked into the office of a well-know capitalist, and there was a proud ring in his voice as he said:

"For twenty years I have lived from hand to mouth, waiting for something to turn up. It has finally come. I have made a discovery which, if you will back it with a few hundred dollars, will give us both fortunes."

"State your case."

"Well, sir, I have discovered that banana peelings can be utilized for all kinds of table jellies. A peck of old peelings can be made to bring forth twelve tumblers of the finest currant jell, and the profit is——"

"Hold on right there," interrupted the capitalist; "you are just two years two late. A chap in Chicago not only discovered that, but he found a way to work in apple rinds and cores and orange peel, and we can't infringe on his patent."

"But——"

"It's no use. I'd like to see you get along, but you must drop that. Don't be discouraged, however. Perhaps you can discover a way to make pressed corn beef out of old boot legs. All you want is a machine to run in the streaks of fat."—[Detroit Free Press.

For Colds, Croup, Asthma, Bronchitis, and Sore Throat, use Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and get the genuine.

The hides of about 1,000 horses and [illegible]

[illegible]

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. Wood, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. Balcom, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. Proudfoot, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

THE PRETTIEST LADY in Olean was asked what made her complexion so clear and bentiful She said it was by Gilmore's Aromatic Wine Sold by H. C. Giesler.

ONE OF THE MOST NOTED European physicians said: Neuralgia was the prayer of a diseased nerve for healthy blood. Use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine for the blood. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

MRS. L. LOOMIS, of Elba, N. Y., writes us that she was sick for six months, was induced to try Gilmore's Aromatic Wine and four bottles cured her. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. H. B. EMELL, of Pavillion, N. Y., says of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine: "I believe it to be a most desirable remedy to be placed in every family." Sold by H. C. Giesler.

THE WIFE, MOTHER AND MAID who suffers from Female weakness and Debility, will find Gilmore's Aromatic a positive cure. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC is a great success, therefore we challenge the world to produce its equal as a restorative for woman. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. W. FISK REQUA, of Aurora, Ill., says: "I have used Gilmore's Aromatic Wine and find it an excellent household remedy that none ought to do without. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. HARRIS PECK, of Pavillion, N. Y., says: "I was troubled with Malaria, Bowel Difficulty and sleepless nights, which I found was wearing me out. After taking Aromatic Wine two days I realized great relief, sleeping well and otherwise feeling like a new man. I cheerfully recommend it to suffering humanity." Sold by H. C. Giesler.

REV. I. M. DERBY, of Linden, N. Y., says: "The Gilmore Aromatic Wine proved a great blessing to my wife." For sale by H. C. Giesler.

In the past twelve years the state of Aakansas has increased in population from 484,471 to a million, It had less than 500 miles of railroad in 1874 and now it has nearly 2,000 miles. In the same period its assessed valuation has risen from 87,000,000 to 130,000,000.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guaranteed. 27eow

If banished from Paris Prince Jerome Boneparte, it is said will come the United States. He served two years on General McClellan's staff and has many friends in this country.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

The first time the halls of Congress were illuminated with gas was during the Polk administration.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia. Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

Members of the Grant family will visit Mt. McGregor, July 23, the anniversary of the death of General Grant.

AN END TO BONE SCRAPING.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well." Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklin's Arnica Salve at 25c. per box by R. E. Phillips.

California's wheat crop is estimated at 70,000,000 bushels, with 60,000,000 to export.

THE TERRIBLE DRAIN

Which scrofula has upon the system must be arrested, and the blood must be purified, or serious consequences will ensue. For purifying and vitalizing effects, Hood's Sarsaparilla has been found superior to any other preparation. It expels every trace of impurity from the blood, and bestows new life and vigor upon every function of the body, enabling it to entirely overcome disease.

A new post office in New Jersey has been christened Gladstone.

LOOL AT HIM!

A year ago he was not expected to live. Liver complaint almost killed him. He got great relief from three bottles Sulphur Bitters, and six bottles cured him. —[Editor Weekly Sun.

The college of this country contains 18,000 female students.

TAKE WARNING

And don't let the germ of the vile disease, catarrh, take root and flourish in your system. Sulphur Bitters will prevent this and make you strong and healthy.—[Editor Weekly Press.

The White Mountain hotels have decided to boycott student waiters.

[illegible]

PATENTS [illegible] Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights [illegible] U. S. Patent Office [illegible] Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping th dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 5tf

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.

☞ Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York. Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL,

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

COAL.

—GO TO—

LEWIS' COAL YARD,

OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,

—For the Celebrated—

LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼ton
Stove	$4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
Mix	4.50	2.38	1.31
No. 4	4.75	2.50	1.38
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Pea	2.50	1.88	1.06

☞ Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.

☞ Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.

THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

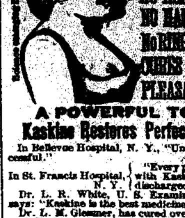
COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.50	$1.88	$1.06
Stove	4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
No. 4	4.75	2.50	1.38
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Mixed	4.50	2.38	1.31

Buy while it is Cheap!

Perfect, Cleanest, Best.

[illegible]



[illegible] NO BAD EFFECT. NO HEADACHE. NO NAUSEA. NO RINGING EARS. CURES QUICKLY. PLEASANT, PURE.

A POWERFUL TONIC.

Kaskine Restores Perfect Health.

In Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful."

In St. Francis Hospital, N. Y. "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Dr. L. R. White, U. S. Examining Surgeon, says: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Gleesner, has cured over 200 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says: "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, M. D., says: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

IS THE ONLY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD THAT DESTROYS THE GERMS OF DISEASE IN THE BLOOD, and permanently cures all diseases arising therefrom, such as Malaria, Fevers, Rheumatism, Billiousness, &c., and IS THE GRANDEST TONIC EVER DISCOVERED. Removes nervous prostration and premature decay by disinfecting the blood, so that the starving nerves are supplied with life giving nourishment, bringing back the VIGOR AND POWER OF YOUTH.

Send for the great list of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine.

Price $1 per bottle. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price. Agents wanted everywhere.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., New York.

For Sale by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y.

The newspapers of the world, according to statistics given by the German secretary of state, number 34,000, with an aggregate distribution of 592,000,000 copies; 19,000 are printed in Europe, 12,000 in North America, 775 in Asia, 809 in South America; 16,500 are in English, 7,800 in German, 3,850 in French and 1,000 in Spanish.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

More than 30,000,000 acres of land in the United States are owned by foreign individuals or corporations. In Texas 3,000,000, acres are owned, and in New Mexico 4,500,000 acres.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Oinment emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

One factory in New Jersey keeps 200 men in steady employment the year round making Roman candles.

In order that sufferers may know that Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will always cure them. H. C. Geisler emphatically says that if the Tablets do not relieve every case of Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, &c., &c. he does not want any pay. The physicians say they are the finest combination that can be found. Price 25 cents. 27eow.

Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe has announced to her intimate friends her permanent retirement from the literary world. She is 75 years of age.

Our readers are cautioned about buying medicines which are not endorsed by some well known druggist. H. C Gisler, has made a thorough study of Blood diseases, and after a careful investigation, and many practical tests, postively asserts that Acker's Blood Elixir will cure all blood disorders, ridding the system of its impurities, and leaving it strong, vigorous and healthy. he will warrent it. It is a certain cure or all skin diseases. 27eow

Captain Ericsson, of Monitor fame, though long past 80 years of age, spends an hour or two each day in gymnastic exercises.

About three years ago the agent for Acker's English Remedy first called at this town and since then the number of testimonials coming to him concerning merits of the Remedy, and the many cures effected surprises, H. C. Giesler wishes it to be thoroughly understood that for colds, hoarseness, asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, all Phthisical troubles he has never known its equal, and positively guarantees it. 27eow

Last week Switzerland celebrated the five hundreth anniversary of its establishment as as republic.

Woman and Her Diseases.

is the title of an interesting illustrated treaties (160 pages) sent post-paid, for 10 cents in stamps. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Spain will try to sell $60,000,000 worth of forests and build a navy with the money.

GOOD RESULTS IN EVERY CASE.

D. A. Bradford, wholesale paper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes that he was seriously afflicted with a severe cold that settled on his lungs; had tried many remedies without benefit. Being induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, did so and was entirely cured by use of a few bottles. Since which time he has used it in his family for all Coughs and Colds with best results. This is the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this Wonderful Discovery. Trial Bottles free at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

Buffalo claims a population 230,604 by its directory canvass just completed.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Cough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

There are 4,000 women in the government department at Washington.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

[illegible]

[illegible] and then there were nine.

[illegible]—

[illegible], and then there were eight.

Eight little fingers pointing to heaven—

Roman candle busted and then there were seven.

Seven little fingers punk and powder mix—

Punk was ignited and then there was six.

Six little fingers for a "sizzer" strive—

One went off with it and then there were five.

Five little fingers loading for a roar—

Boom! went the canon, and then there were four.

Four little fingers with a pack made free—

Crash! went a cracker, and then there were three.

Three little fingers found the fuse burned blue—

Bombshell too previous, and then there were two.

Two little fingers having lots of fun—

Pistol exploded, and then there was one.

One little finger fooling with a gun—

Didn't know it was loaded, and then there was none.

—[Detroit Free Press.

RIB SHAKERS.

With fiery eye looks down the sun
At summer watering places
And freckles now are seen upon
Most pretty maidens' faces.
—[Boston Courier.

The common council is well named. The counsel that we get from it is certainly commen enough.—[Boston Post.

Collars and cuffs are now worn very limp by some of our best people.—[Philadelphia Call.

President Cleveland is making a collection of newspaper sayings about his wedding. Evidently the President has a strong stomach.—[Boston Transcript.

There is some hope that the climate of New York may finish John L. Sullivan. It has just killed a rhinocerous.—[Boston Commercial Bulletin.

"Pa," said a young hopeful, "I know what a man who has seen better days is!" "Well, my son, what is he?" "He is a man who makes you tired talking about himself."—[New Orleans Picayune.

We don't don't wish to be understood as finding fault with nature, but we do wish from the bottom of our hearts, that the luminous end of the fire-fly had been hitched to the mosquito.—[Puck.

"What's the matter, Chawlie; you look tired, old chappie, and you don't seem quite yourself, you know?"

"Don't say a word, my deah boy. I am in agony. I am bweaking in a new pair of cawsets for sistaw Sue, and she is wearing mine."—[Newark Sunday Call.

Bobby has spent the greater part of Sunday afternoon committing to memory the Lord's prayer.

As he knelt at his mother's knee at bed-time, he looked up to her and said:

"Mamma, won't God be surprised when he finds I can say two prayers?"—[Puck.

"What," asked a Galveston Sunday school teacher, "is that invisible power that prevents the wicked man from sleeping, and causes him to toss upon his pillow."

"Skeeters!" shouted the bad boy at the foot of the class.—[Texas Siftings.

A New York girl while lisping her childish prayer at her mother's knee before retiring, stopped in the midst of devotions and said, "O Lord, please wait a minute until I scratch my toe."—[York, Pa., News.

The original boy cott—Cains little crib.—[Albany Argus. Its Adam shame to get off so many jokes at Cain's expense.—[Saratoga Eagle. It is not everybody who is Able to do it.—[Chenor Gazette. Now raise the club.—[National Weekly.

"Women are forging to the front as inventors. I noticed by the Scientific American that no less than ten patents were lately allowed——"

"I'll tell you one thing a woman didn't invent, my dear."

"What, Mr. Dusenberry?"

"The dumb waiter. Nor a camp-stool —for that shuts up."—[Philadelphia Call.

Editor (measuredly—"In making up the list showing the steady increase in our circulation, you had better add 100 to each of the small towns." Clerk (obsequiously)—"As you say, sir; but I think the increase had better be given to the large cities. We already claim a circulation of three copies to each family in the small towns."—[Harper's Bazar.

"Mr. Jones," said the end man with the insinuating voice for which he ceased to be famous some time during the reign of Elizabeth, "can you tell me how to invest money so that it will go the farthest?" "No, Mr. Thompson, I am not aware that I can. How do you invest money so that it will go the farthest." "Why, you buy postage stamps to be sure." The orchestra played and Bones sang "Why is our Grover's vest cut low?"—[Tid-Bits.

"One more question, Mr. Parks," said a counsel to a witness, who happened to be a tailor. "You have known the defendant a long time. What are his habits—loose or otherwise?" "The one he's got on now, I think, is rather tight under the arms, and too short waisted for the fashion." replied Parks. "Stand down," said the counsel.—[N. Y. Telegram.

She Did It Herself.

There were five of us in in the stage riding out to Mammoth Cave from Cave city, and one of the number was a young lady. As she was good-looking and attractive it was no wonder that all of us men folks slicked up our hair, wiped off our chin, and sought to entertain her. She didn't ask any of us whether he was married or single, but just chattered away with one and another like a sensible girl. We had gone about a mile when the harness broke and we had to wait for half an hour while the driver made repairs. During this interval the young lady produced a small book of poems and interested herself. Pretty soon the Major asked her to read a few poems aloud for our delectation. She blushed and hesitated, but finally complied. She was a fair reader, and it read like fair poetry, but she had scarcely finished the first poem when the Major spoke up:

"Ah! it's Burns! I recognize him by his false syntax, lame metres and wishy-washy rhymes. Dear me, but I hope he is not your standard."

"These are not Burns' poems," she quietly replied.

"Not Burns? Who then?"

"I—I wrote them myself, sir!"

The Major slid out to see about the [illegible]

THAT [illegible] deal with rheumatic twinges or the pangs of neuralgia is no reason why you should continue to suffer. Experiment with a good medicine. Try Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Recollect it is GUARANTEED by every druggist. Neuralgia and Rheumatism never stood before it.

SHOW us a man or women, if you can, afflicted with toothache, earache, headache, backache, any ache, that has sought relief in Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil to no advantage, and in return we will refer you to thousands similiarly affected whom this medicine has restored and cured completely.

FOSTER, MILBURN & CO., Prop's.

BUFFALO, N. Y.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

BLUE PILLS

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately! Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy or high-colored?

IT IS Dangerous

Don't Wait

Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use Sulphur Bitters!

Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is

The Invalid's Friend.

The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

OVER WORKED Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

$10 FOR 50 CENTS—Peerless Silk Hat Polish. Send 50c. for a Box. Agents' circular for stamp. PEERLESS HAT POLISH CO., 15 Bond St., N. Y. City.

ANTICHRIST!

ST. John wrote "Ye have heard that Antichrist shall come." The prophecies on that mysterious subject in the book of Revelation and in Daniel are fully explained in a commentary entitled "CHRIST ON THE THRONE OF POWER AND ANTICHRIST." The old interpretation is followed, except that the vast progress of modern times enables us to see farther into prophecy than formerly. Now can be seen signs of the coming of that formidable "Army of 200,000 thousands breathing out of their mouths smoke, fire and brimstone." No age before this has made such use of the mouth in teaching, lecturing and telephoning; nor of the press, in newspapers, books and pamphlets, for weal or woe. A few more explosions of dynamite like that in Chicago and a farther exposure of the hidden depravity of the Anarchists, may enable men to see signs of the speedy coming of "The Man of Sin" to whom John gave the name of Antichrist. It is a book of 267 pages octavo, in large type, sent by mail for $1.25. An Agent Wanted in every Town. Address,

REV. F. U. BROWN,
Rochester, New York.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE

BEST IN THE WORLD

☞ Get the Genuine. Sold Everywhere.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 981 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ASTHMA AND CATARRH. Dr. H. W. Reed's Celebrated Asthma and Catarrh Relief, the most effectual and sure cure yet discovered. Samples sent free to all who ask. Fifty cent and dollar boxes sent by mail. A. ETHRIDGE, Proprietor, Rome, N. Y.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure By JOHN H. MCALVIN, Lowell, Mass., 14 years tax collector. Sent free to any address.

MOTH-WAX

KILLS THE MOTH

and the old Moth Miller. Sample cake by mail 6 cents. W. H. H. CHILDS, 73 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

DO NO MORE WHITEWASHING NOT WHEN

PLASTIC PAINT

Can be had so cheap. Send for pamphlet and color card, and learn its merits.

MAXWELL HAZLETT & CO.

109 McElderry's Wharf, Baltimore, Md., and 606 Washington Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

324 and 326 Pearl St., New York.

☞ SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

AUBURN STEEL AXLE WAGON.

[illegible] Auburn, N. Y.

LEGAL.

SURROGATE'S COURT.

During the year 1886, terms of the Surrogate court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

PHOENIX—At the Surrogate's office in Phoenix on Monday of each week, except in the month of August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Thursday in each month, except August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, January 23d, and on the third Friday in March, May, June, Sept., Nov. and Dec.

FULTON—At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Tuesday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the third Friday in April, and July, and the fourth Friday in October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 29th and September 29th.

PARISH—At A. N. & J. S. Ludington's law office, April 30th, July 30th and Sept. 30th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 19th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 19th, 1886.

CAROLINE L. ALFRED,
Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against F. D. VanWagenen, late of the Village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the office of F. D. VanWagenen, No. 10, First St., Fulton, N. Y., in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 12th day of August, 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1886.

ANN VANWAGENEN, Executrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886. LUCY K. HUBBARD, Executrix.

FORECLOSURE SALE.
SUPREME COURT—OSWEGO COUNTY.

The Fulton Savings Bank vs. Letson LaDu and others. By virtue of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action at a Special Term of the Supreme Court held at the Court House, in the city of Syracuse, Onondaga county, N. Y., on the 5th day of June, 1886, and duly filed and entered in the clerk's office of Oswego county on the 7th day of June, 1886, I the undersigned Referee duly appointed in and by said judgment and decree to make such sale will sell at public auction to the highest bidder at the law office of Piper & VanWagenen, in the village of Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y., on the 24th day of July, 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day the mortgaged premises in and by said judgment and decree directed to be sold and described therein as follows, to wit.: all that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Volney, county of Oswego and State of New York upon Lot number seventy-five (75) of the 17th Township of Scriba's Patent, Beginning at the north-west corner of O. Cone's division of 52 34-100 acres and running thence south 2 deg. east along the west line of said Cone's 52 34-100 acres thirty-seven (37) chains ninety-four (94) links to a stake, thence north 89 degrees west parallel to the south line of said Lot 75 fourteen (14) chains fifteen (15) links to a stake, thence north 2 degrees west along a line of marked trees seventeen (17) chains ninety-four (94) links to a stake in south line of Samuel A. Williams' 30 acres laid off from said lot 75, thence south 89 degrees east along said south line eleven (11) chains ninety-three (93) links to the place of beginning, containing 50 acres of land—excepting however from the above described 50 acres a parcel of ten (10) acres from the north end thereof heretofore conveyed to O. Cone and a parcel of 8 8-10 acres from the south end thereof heretofore conveyed to Alfred Hudgin and excepting also a parcel of three (3) acres heretofore released from the operations of said mortgage from the west side of said mortgaged premises and conveyed by said Letson LaDu and wife to Orville Dunsmore by deed recorded in Oswego county clerk's office, in Liber 189 of deeds, at page 224, leaving 38 2-10 acres be the same more or less.

Dated June 7, 1886.

N. N. STRANAHAN,
Referee.

PIPER & VANWAGENEN,
Attys for Plff,
Fulton, N. Y.

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
Mix	4.50	2.38	1.31
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Pea	3.50	1.88	1.06

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

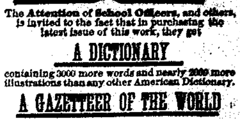
&c. &c,

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

Q. RUST. 37tf

WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED

With or without Patent Index.



The Attention of School Officers, and others, is invited to the fact that in purchasing the latest issue of this work, they get

A DICTIONARY

containing 3000 more words and nearly 2000 more illustrations than any other American Dictionary.

A GAZETTEER OF THE WORLD

containing over 25,000 Titles, with their pronunciation and a vast amount of other information, (just added, 1885) and

A BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY

giving pronunciation of names and brief facts concerning nearly 10,000 Noted Persons; also various tables giving valuable information.

ALL IN ONE BOOK.

Webster's Unabridged Dictionary is recommended by the State Superintendents of Schools in 36 States, and by leading College Presidents of the United States and Canada. It is Standard Authority with the United States Supreme Court, and in the Government Printing Office. It has been selected in every case where State Purchases have been made for Schools, and is the Dictionary upon which nearly all the school books are based.

GET THE LATEST AND BEST.

It is an invaluable companion in every School and at every Fireside.

G. & C. MERRIAM & CO., Pub'rs, Springfield, Mass.

FRENCH'S HOTEL,

CITY HALL SQUARE, NEW YORK.

Opposite City Hall and the Post Office.

This Hotel is one of the most complete in its appointments and furniture of ANY HOUSE in New York City and is conducted on the European Plan.

[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features. Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 12

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, JULY 28, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

A Bundle of Briars.

BY HENRY PETERSON.

BRIARS.

The brier has its uses,
To guard lest the sweet vine be torn;
Wherever you find the rich roses,
You are certain to find the sharp thorn.

THE INFINITE.

What mortals think they know of God,
A thousand times rehearse;
What mortals do not know of God,
Fills all the universe.

CHURCHES.

The rich sit near the pulpit fine,
The poor sit—any place.
'Tis fit that those who need it most
Should have most means of grace.

"SWEETNESS AND LIGHT."

A pretty phrase, that men might deem
Would lead us all aright;
But arsenic, they say, is sweet,
And gas is full of light.

THE POET.

He is the harp by the winds kissed,
Through which the breath of God doth play.
The breath of God! oh egotist,
That breath wings worlds upon their way,
What cares it for thy little day?

THE IGNORANT HEATHEN.

"The heathen in their blindness
Bow down to wood and stone."
If they were wise as Christians,
They'd bow to god alone.

"MAKING MONEY."

Who bravely toils at useful trade,
"Makes money," as I take it.
Whose work is naught, or overpaid,
Gets money, does not make it.

CHRISTIAN HARMONY.

Why should not Christians nowadays
In loving tolerance dwell,
Since they all worship the same lord,
And spell Go'd with an "I"?

PHILANTHROPHY.

"Philanthrophy," my worthy friend,
I'm skeptical, you see;
Be fair and just, and you will need Little Philanthrophy.

MAGAZINE POETRY.

"Why is it that such weekly growths are seen
So often in the monthly magazine?"
Perhaps the editors, those cunning elves,
Like nothing stronger than they write themselves.

August.

"No more shall violets linger in the dell,
Or purple orchis variegate the plain,
Till Spring again shall call forth every bell,
And dress with hurried hands her wreaths again."

CHARLOTTE SMITH.

Why?

J. A. WALDRON IN THE JUDGE

In spring, when all the streams are high
And rain falls day by day,
"It's too durn wet!" the farmers cry,
"We're boun' to lose our hay."

In August, when the sun comes out
And shines with might and main,
"The crops are spilt by this 'ere drought,"
The farmer sings again.

In autumn, when the crops are in
And great barns overflow
The farmer makes another din,
"The market is too low."

Thus, when he journeys cityward
To swap and scheme and plan,
You don't endeavor to retard
The blithesome bunco man.

Seasonable Rhymes.

I.

Now the apothecary
Doth deem it necessary
To closely scan the men who soda drink, drink, drink,
So that he may not stir up
Their wrath by giving syrup
Entirely inconsistent with a wink, wink, wink.

II.

The small boy goes in swimming
With very little trimming
Or ornament to deck his bathing suit, suit, suit.
In fact quite unhampered
As Adam when he tampered
In Eden with the interdicted fruit, fruit, fruit.
—[Boston Courier.

AT THE SEASIDE.

"IS he very handsome, Nonie?" The voice was languid, and touched with a slight, a very slight society drawl; but it was cultured and sweet as the sweetest music; besides it just matched the fair, delicate face of the speaker—a face which made one think of the frail, waxen Narcissus, it was so white and so beautiful and so like a poetical dream; a face with flexible, dainty lips, of vivid crimson, and eyes as blue as an Italian lake when the blue of the sky is deepened on its placid breast; eyes that had driven one man to madness and another to death and kept their luster undimmed; eyes that now held a touch of cold scorn for the flush her words had brought to the cheek of the girl beside her.

"You still blush, child." The red lips curled a little as they asked this second question: "Surely you are not committing the folly of falling in love with this youth, who has been your father's pupil, and who is coming here to-night?"

Nonie Blake looked up with startled eyes, and her face grew rosier. She was a pretty, brown-eyed, brown-haired girl, scarcely a year younger than her companion, but with all worldly knowledge still to come to her; a distant cousin of beautiful Leah Holmes, whose father was a not-too-well paid clergyman in a remote country village; she had been sent by him to this fashionable seaside for the summer in the party to which Leah belonged. Save this, she had seen little of the world beyond the little village where her home nestled under the shadow of the ancient church, and the villagers loved her as their minister's daughter. Mr. Blake sometimes took a pupil, and three years before he had prepared a young man named Gerald Alton for his last college course, and it was Gerald Alton who would arrive at the hotel that night.

"Please do not talk in that way to me," [illegible] pleadingly. "Gerald [illegible] friends—the best of [illegible] with us. I will [illegible] him, and papa [illegible] this place, he [illegible] puss, my Nonie. But tell me of this—friend."

"He is handsome," Nonie answered softly. "Oh, very handsome, Leah! And he is so true a gentleman, so brave, so noble. I am glad he is coming, for I want to see him."

The blue eyes turned an instant on the speaker, and a shade of ironical amusement was in them. "If she means that, what a little fool she is!" went through her brain, under that shining wealth of golden braids.

"Let me understand it all, Nonie," she said aloud. "Are you looking for a friend only, to-night, or is this Gerald Alton anything more to you?"

The pretty, girlish face grew suddenly hot and uncomfortable under those blue eyes, and Nonie stooped forward until it was hidden in her hands.

"Don't ask me to put my dream into words," she said slowly; "it is very sweet to me, and yet may be folly—the wildest of folly, after all."

"I understand it all," The lids fell languidly over the flower-like eyes, and lashes that were like gold lay lightly on the beautiful, colorless cheeks. "I quite understand, Nonie." To herself she said cynically:

"He has taught her this dream—she expects a lover."

Five minutes later, spent by her cousin in watching the swell of the waters below them and wishing that the color would leave her cheeks; five minutes, during which the fair face of the beauty had been calm as though she slept, and then her slow, sweet voice broke the silence:

"Is Mr. Gerald Alton poor, Nonie?"

"He is very wealthy, Leah."

"Wear your prettiest dress, then, to-night, cousin," and smiling in her own indolent, calm manner, Miss Holmes again allowed the lashes to droop over those wondrous eyes which had taught one man madness and another death.

* * * * * * *

Gerald Alton did not arrive in time to dine with the other guests at the hotel, but he was in time for the hop, which was at its height when he went down from his room, meeting a couple of his old acquaintances in the corridor and joining them as they went toward the great parlors, from which strains of music were floating out 'till they mingled with the low lullaby sung by the sea below, where it softly laved the sands.

"Let us have a look around before we go further," young Munson said, detaining Gerald just after they had crossed the threshold. "I know everybody here and can get you introductions in any quarter you desire. Of course you'll want to be presented to Miss Holmes; they all do, once they have seen her—belle, you know, and beauty. Know her?"

"No." Gerald smiled indulgently at the lisping exquisite; "I'm not sure I will trouble you, however. I am looking for a friend who is here. Ah," as he caught sight of Nonie Blake sitting quietly with her aunt, far down the room, "I see her. Will see you after a time, Munson," and he made his way to the minister's daughter, who was even then wondering why he did not come.

He was beside her before she knew of his presence, and a red wave, which she could not keep back, flowed over her young face as he spoke to her.

"You have not forgotten me?" he questioned, holding the hand she had given him, and the girl grew slightly pale, remembering how impossible it would be for her ever to forget him, wondering if a time would come when she would pray passionately for forgetfulness of him, and of her tender, girlish dream, which had been cherished by her fondly for the past three years.

"Papa wrote me you were coming," she said, simply; and then she presented him to her aunt, Mrs. Holmes; then he was leading her away, and presently they were circling about among the dancers, keeping time with the music, which was so soft and sweet by the ocean; then he had found her a wrap—white and soft, and very becoming to the girlish face about which it was gathered, and they went out into the moonlight, the calm of the sleeping world, to walk together on the sands, where many figures were already promenading, as though the music of the waters wooed them from the dancers.

"I was at your home, as you have learned from your father, Nonie;—let me call you so to-night, at least. Did Mr. Blake tell you what my errand was?"

"To see your old tutor?" she laughed, looking up with shy, happy eyes, to the handsome face above her so earnest in the moonlight. "How pleased papa must have been to see you! He was so fond of you when you were with us; it is so kind of you to remember."

"Did you think I was likely to forget? He was fond of me you say, my little friend. I was very fond of somebody else in those days; in fact, my fondness for my tutor's daughter somewhat interfered with my studies, and made me often appear very stupid, and I remember that, Nonie, as I remember nothing else. It was because I remembered it that I went to your father. It is because I will never forget it that I am here. Nonie, your father bade me 'Godspeed,' dear. He knows what I have come to ask you, what to offer. Can you love me a little in return for my great love, my brown-eyed darling? I have wanted to ask you this for the last three years, and I could not come before. Now I am waiting for your answer, and I know it will be frank and honest; make it loving, too, if you can, Nonie."

She was thrilling from head to foot; her dream had become a dazzling, blinding reality; the joy upon her was almost pain in its intensity.

"Nonie, say a word. Promise to be [illegible] your love in the first hour of my absolute freedom! Nonie, what is it?"

"I hoped—I know," she said whisperingly. "Oh, here is Leah," as the latter came up with them, where they had paused, just where the waters met the sand.

Leah was alone. Her head and shoulders and arms were uncovered. The gold of her hair, the whiteness of her face, the soft shimmer of her snowy satin, made her dangerously fair to the youth to whom Nonie presented her.

Miss Holmes was thorough in her knowledge of the power her beauty gave her; and one glance at this stranger—whom her cousin had looked for as a lover—convinced her that he was but human after all and her loveliness had struck upon him potently; she smiled a little, but the smile was a languid one, touched with chill.

"I grew weary of dancing, and the music made my head ache," she said, indolently; "and I wanted you, Nonie, so I stole away from them all, and came out here to find you. Were you walking by the sea? Then allow me to walk with you."

"But without a wrap?" Gerald questioned, with a glance at the shoulders and arms, perfect and white as the arms and shoulders of a Venus de Milo.

"I am in no danger," she smiled; "I never take cold. When I feel at all chilled I will go in."

"She is like a spirit—a white, pure soul," Gerald thought, even with Nonie's hand on his arm, as they walked along the sand.

"He is very handsome, and—not poor Nonie will lose her lover, I am afraid," went through the gold-crowned head. And then, sweeter than the siren voices of old, sweeter than the undertone of the sea, her voice arose in a low, tender ballad which scarcely broke the silence, but to which both Nonie and Gerald listened as if bound by a spell. It was a song sung by sailors when far from the land.

Was that a beginning? Well, following it came heartache and bitter anguish for the girl who daily saw the love that had been offered her that night drifting from her life; who strove to cling to a faith that was hourly breaking; who sat long hours at her window, unthought of, uncared for by the two who roamed the sands or rode softly along beside the blue waters, seemingly forgetting all the world, content that they were together. And who can tell the desolation that crept coldly over Nonie Blake's young heart, young heart, blighting it, as such things can, while we are very young and have not lost those beautiful ideas which when, they lie dead in our sight, seem to bear to their graves as cerements, the warmth of our hearts and the strength of our souls!

Gerald was kind to her; he sent her flowers, he asked her to accompany him occasionally but he was no longer her lover. And after long hours of agony, she wrote her father at last, begging him to come to her. And when the letter had gone she she wrote another—brief, gentle, womanly, but breaking all bond between them—to Gerald.

He was out driving with Leah when Mr. Blake arrived, and found Nonie ready, nay, anxious to leave the seaside. She had said good-bye to her aunt and a few others, and was going down the hall arrayed in a traveling dress, when the light phaeton in which Gerald and Leah had gone driving spun over the sand and paused at the varanda. Mr. Blake when out and met the two, who were crossing the varanda, understood all. But he gave his hand to Gerald and bent his head to Leah, for all that.

"You did not tell me you were leaving," Gerald said to Nonie. She smiled a little.

"It would not have interested you," she said quietly. Then with an effort, "there is a letter for you which you need not answer, and remember, I never reproached you, Gerald."

"Why are you going?" Leah put in her slow tones, not liking this conversation, which she could not hear. Her cousin turned towards her with a new dignity on her young face.

"I told you I was dreaming," she said, "and you kindly waked me. I have learned much in my stay here; I am going back with papa to make use of my knowledge. Good-bye." Then she had gone, and a servant came out to Gerald and handed him her letter, which he read there in the sunlight with a pair of indolent blue eyes upon him, reading through to his very soul; a pair of blue eyes growing cold in their scorn of him as his face flushed and his hand trembled.

That very night he offered her his heart and hand, and while the waters rolled over the sands to their feet, and the stars shone tranquilly above him—she rejected him! Her reasons? A new arrival at the hotel, reputed to be the owner of millions, and the fact that he was fast becoming a bore to her with all his infatuated devotion.

"And it was for this!" he told himself bitterly, thinking of Nonie's letter and Nonie herself, whose love he had not cherished; and, as he watched the unbroken calm of the face before him with all its wondrous beauty, he could have found it in his heart to curse the hour in which he saw it first.

But he led her in to where her mother waited; bent his handsome head, and left her—forever! For the morning found him far on his way to Nonie.

Did she forgive him? Yes, at once, but she would not renew the engagement; in fact, it was a year later that she did so, and then Leah was far away over the ocean, reigning in the salons of Paris, the wife of a millionaire, who has since found how worthless a creature his money has purchased him as a life's companion.—[Philadelphia Call.

[illegible]

WHY THEY MARRIED.

Reasons Given by a Number of Benedicts in a New York Town.

We lately sent out postal cards to the the married men of a small town in western New York with the inquiry, "Why did you marry?" We give a few of the responses:

"That's what I've been trying for eleven years to find out. X."

"Married to get even with her mother, but never have. W."

"Because I was too lazy to work." I. V.

"Because Sarah told me that five other young men had proposed to her." C."

"The old man thought eight years courtin' was almost long enough. B."

"I was lonesome and melancholy, and wanted some one to make me lively. N. B.—She makes me very lively. D."

"I was tired of buying ice cream and candies and going to theaters and church, and wanted a rest. Have saved money. J. C."

"Please don't stir me up, J."

"Because I thought she was one among a thousand; now I sometimes think she is a thousand among one. E."

"I think it was because I cross-eyed; now I am afflicted with two pairs of cross-eyes daily. PETER."

"Because I did not have the experience I have now. G."

"The governor was going to give me his foot, so I took his daughter's hand. H."

"I thought it would be cheaper than a breach of promise suit. A. C."

"That's the same fool question that my friends and neighbors asked me. C. H."

"Because I had more money than I knew what to do with. Now I have more to do than I have money with. B. D."

"I wanted a companion of the opposite sex. P. S.—She is still opposite. A."

"Don't mention it. F."

"Had difficulty unlocking the door at night and wanted somebody to let me in. BOB."

"I was embarrassed, and gave my wife the benefit of my name, so that I could take the benefit of her name signed to a check. SCROGGS."

"Because it is just my luck. P. J."

"I didn't intent to do it. S."

"I yearned for company. We now have it all the time. KARL."

"Have exhausted all the figures in the arithmetic to figure out on answer to your question; between multiplication and division in the family and distraction, in addition, the answer is hard to arrive at. OLD MAN."

"I Married to get the best wife in the world. SIMON."

"Because I asked her if she'd have me. She said she would. I think she's got me. BLIVINS."

—[From Tid-Bits.

Broken Vows.

1620—Pilgrim fathers to Indians: Give us a little foothold here, dear Indian.

1650—P. F. to I.: More room please. Go a little west, Indian.

1700—P. F. to I.; Just a colony or two further west, Indian.

1750—P. F. to I.: Please stay on your side of the Catskill mountains, Indians.

1790—White man to Indian: Indian, you are in the way. Go farther west.

1795—Daniel Boone to Indian: Injun, clar out of Kentucky.

1800—American eagle to Indian: "No pent up Utica contracts our powers. The whole unbounded continent is ours." Injun, quit Ohio.

1820—A. E. to I.: Injun, step on the other side of the Mississippi. You're in the way of civilization and progress.

1840—A. E. to I.: Injun, get over the Rocky mountains. You're a nuisance.

1850—A. E. to I.: Injun, we want all the land. Why can't you quit being an Injun? Be a white man. Sell us the land fairly. Tangle it up with deeds, quit claims, mortgages, liens, and all sorts of things as we do. Injun, now do try and be civilized.

1860—A. E. to I.: Injun, you're in the way anywhere. Do git out. Go north. Go south. Go anywhere! Go to the——. Only go!

1870—A. E. on locomotive to Indian: Scat! Git! Clear the track! Scatter! This is no place for you here anyway.

But as that only brings the story down to 1870, a supplement is necessary, which the Dallas Herald supplies:

1874—A. E. to I.: There is gold in these Black hills. Indian got no use for it. Get away from here or I'll kill you. That treaty I made with you don't count, as gold is found in this country.

1879—See here, Mr. Indian, you have some reservations in Oregon and Colorado that the whites think we had better take, so you move on a little. What? You won't? Well, you'd better make up your mind to do it while we go home and run some bullets, you bloodthirsty savages, you!—[Council Fire.

Try It.

Girls of a marriageable age do not like to tell how old they are, but you can find out by following the subjoined instructions, the young lady doing the figuring: Tell her to put down the number of the month in which she was born; then to multiply it by 2; then to add 5; then to multiply it by 50; then to add her age; then to subtract 365; then to add 115; then tell her to tell you the amount she has left. The two figures to the right will denote her age and remainder the month of her birth. For example the amount is [illegible], she is [illegible] years old, and was born in the eighth month [illegible]

Whence Come our Great Fortunes?

Most of the great fortunes of the United States, those that are unduly great, are ascribed to the rapid development of the means of transportation and the facility with which those means have been centered in comparatively few hands. The general sense of the nation is that this concentration of power, of wealth is an evil, and that it would be much better if we could have had the development of the transportation interests that we have had with a greater diffusion of the power and wealth that have attended them. The founders of our republic thought they were establishing civil institutions where enormous fortunes were comparatively unknown. A hundred years have hardly passed—certainly not a long time in national life—when the largest individual fortune of the world is accredited to the United States, and there are others that approximate this in magnitude, and many of them dating back to less than one fifth of a century. In the matter of private wealth, we have clearly departed from the ideas of our fathers. In this departure is there adherence to the stern principles of republicanism with which our country started out, and have these growths been fortuitous, exceptional, easily swallowed up in the general growth and prosperity of the country, so that the spirit of our institutions is unchanged, and are these fortunes to be dissipated in an early succeeding generation and not be replaced by others of equal or greater magnitude or greater in number? The instincts of the nation are that danger lurks in any other solution of these inquiries than in the line of suppression of causes that have made these fortunes possible. Nor can the subject be dismissed on the ground that, in the development of the use of the physical forces of steam and electricity that this generation has seen, there is inherent this aggregation of wealth in few hands. The disproof of this is that in European countries that have enjoyed a like favorable development with ourselves in wealth, barring that which came from our virgin territory, such developments of the physical forces in their administration and the accompanying emoluments have not been centralized upon a few.—[Popular Science Monthly.

TWENTY YEARS A SUFFERER.

Jordan, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—I have been afflicted with Rheumatism for the past twenty years, and have been laid up with it regularly for the past ten years. A short time ago I was confined to my bed with it, and sent for a bottle of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and when I had used the first bottle, went after the second bottle myself. I have tried so many good things, with no good results, that I can recommend this, in the highest terms, as I believe your remedy is the best in existence.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. MARY DOCKSTADER,
Farmer's Hotel.

Black Rock, N. Y.

DEAR SIRS:—This is to certify that I have been afflicted with rheumatism and Neuralgia for the past twenty-five year and at times so bad that I was not expected to live. I have used Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and have never used anything in all my experience that has helped me so much. I can recommend it to all afflicted with the above disease.

MRS. MARY MAGUIRE,
1437 Niagara Street.

Syracuse, N. Y.

GENTS:—For the past five months I have been troubled with Rheumatism, at times very badly. I procured some of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy of your agent, and in a few days was entirely free from all pain, and continuing its use for several weeks I am entirely cured and take pleasure in recommending it to all who are troubled with Rheumatism or general debility.

Yours truly,
MRS. E. S. HINKLEY,
203 East Genesee St.

Ask your druggist for Dr. Pardee's Remedy, and take no other. Price, $1 per bottle; six bottles, $5.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

A recent investigation shows that the existing navy of Great Britain has cost $210,000,000, and that at its present value, after making allowances for ships that have become obsolete, does not exceed $60,000,000, showing a total loss of $150,000,000.

Uncle Sam welcomes into his domain from Maine to Alaska 3,200 babies a day, not counting those who come by sea.

"Basswood" honey is hereafter to be known in Canada as "Linden" honey.

THE PROPER THING.

Low walking shoes are more used than they have been.

Watered silk combined with black lace makes a dressy toilet.

There is not the slightest diminution in the use of lace as a garnature

Graceful yoke waists are liked upon toilets of muslin and chambery.

The pin checked or striped stockings of black and white are very neat.

Many of the new bodices are edged with silk ball trimming or with lace quillings.

The fashion of wearing ornaments in the hair is steadily becoming more pronounced.

A solitaire pearl set in a dark blue enamel ring is the most fashionable engagement ring.

Epaulets are the latest style in trimming jaunty jackets. These are of jets or soutache passementerie.

A copper velvet vest, collar and cuffs, are handsome in a jacket of Havana brown or lighter ecru cloth.

A substitute for whalebones, especially commended for wash dresses, is called feather bone, and made of quills.

Wool dresses will remain popular for general wear during the next season, and velvet will be the favorite for full-dress toilettes.

The jackets that fall open from the throat over waistcoats have several doubles or flat folds of the material at the edge, and frequently a flat fold of velvet in contrasting color placed between two of the same.

Dark blue sateen, figured with small red designs, combined with plain dark blue sateen, makes a very stylish demi-toilet for summer. The collar, cuffs, and one fold of the cutaway jacket should be of dark red velvet or velveteen, as well as the waistcoat.

President Polk's papers have been put in shape and shortly will be published.

The Words of George Elliot.

When did Adam first use a walking stick? When Eve presented him with a little Cain.

The extreme height of misery is a small boy with a new pair of boots and no mud-puddle.

When Death, the great reconciler, has come, it is never our tenderness that we repent of but our severity.

Trouble is appointed for us all here below, and there comes a time when we need more comfort than and help than the things of this life can give.

It is more than a woman's love that moves us in woman's eyes—it seems to be a far-off, mighty love that has come near to us and made speech for itself there.

It is well-known to all experienced minds that our firmest convictions are often dependent on some subtile impressions, for which words are quite too coarse a medium.

But we get accustomed to mental as well as bodily pain, losing our sensibility to it; but it becomes a habit of our lives, and we cease to imagine a condition of perfect ease as possible to us.

Let us rather be thankful that our sorrow lives in us as an indestructible force, only changing its form, as forces do, and passing from pain into sympathy—the one poor word which includes all our best insight and our best love.

Every day adds to the great amount of evidence as to the curative powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Letters are continually being received from all sections of the country, telling of benefits derived from this great medicine. It is unequalled for general debility, and as a blood purifier, expelling every trace of scrofula or other impurity. Now is the time to take it. Made by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all druggists.

The coal combination's output for August will be 2,500,000 tons.

LOOL AT HIM!

A year ago he was not expected to live. Liver complaint almost killed him. He got great relief from three bottles Sulphur Bitters, and six bottles cured him. —[Editor Weekly Sun.

Miss Mary Anderson, the actress, will remain in Europe, where she now is, for four years.

The nervous, brain-working type of people, such as lawyers, clergymen, business men and students are the principal victims of hay fever. Sufferers may be certain that hay fever does not arise from an impure state of the blood. A local treatment is the only way to cure it. Judging from results, Ely's Cream Balm is the only specific yet discovered. 11w4

It takes 630,000 bushels of wheat to supply the mills of Minneapolis for one week.

A poultry journal in San Francisco is called The California Cackler.

HART BROS.,

—DEALERS IN—

Vitrified Glazed Stone Ware

—AND—

PORTLAND CEMENT SEWER PIPE

—AND—

DRAIN TILE,

With all necessary Fittings and connections.

FIRE BRICK, CLAY AND SAND.

Stone Ware, and Cement,
Chimneys and Tops.

[illegible]

Just Received at the

NEW PARLOR DRUG STORE

A full line of Harrison Bros. & Co's

READY MIXED PAINTS.

They are noted the world over for durability, ease of application, and firmness of finish. Call and examine them. Select what you need and carry them off at a price that will astonish you. I keep over sixty shades of colors, varying from the tint of a LADIES CHEEK to the appropriate color for a HORSE BARN.

I have further "elevated the standing of the Oswego County drug trade," by adding to my regular line of

Fine Drugs

—AND—

MEDICINES,

a beautiful modern

--SODA FOUNTAIN,--

At a cost of $2,000.00. Put on your spectacles and step in and test it for yourselves. Remember the spot, day and date.

☞The New Drug Store.☜

H. C. GIESLER.

NEW STORE

NEW GOODS!

NEWELL R. COLE

Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of

Undertaking Goods,

—OF THE—

LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.

And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.

Furniture Rpairing

done on short notice.

Remember the Place.

☞Ladie's Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

Scranton Coal!

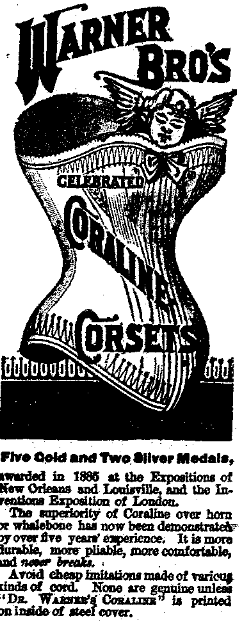
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,

Promptly Delivered!

At the Following Prices:

Stove	$4.50	Grate	4.25
Nut	4.50	Pea	3.50
Egg	4.25	Smith	450
No 4	475	Mixed	450

SCHENCK & FOSTER.



Five Gold and Two Silver Medals,

awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.

The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks.

Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "DR. WARNER'S CORALINE" is printed on inside of steel cover.

FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING MERCHANTS.

WARNER BROTHERS,

353 Broadway, New York City

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c.

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

Q. RUST.

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS, Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 3 First street.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON

Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y.
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.

Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts. Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious Sample Rooms.

PLUMBING, PLUMBING!

S. C. NORTH,

THE PLUMBER,

has moved his office and shop

Under Collins' Shoe Store

and is now prepared to do all kinds of

PLUMBING,
GAS and STEAM
FITTING.

Give me a call. I will try and please you. I carry a full line of Brass Goods.

Hydrant Hose,
Water Goods

of all kinds. Also a full line of

GAS FIXTURES.

10tf S. C. NORTH.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS

—IN—

Drugs, Patent Medicines,

—AND—

DYE STUFFS

—AT—

R. E. PHILLIPS'

Drug Store.

Prices Below all Competition

On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.

IN DYE STUFFS

I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at

R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.

A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.

No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods—and prices below all Competition.

48m3 R. E. PHILLIPS.

TAINTOR'S

GUIDE-BOOKS

RELIABLE AND COMPLETE.

Illustrated with Maps and Wood Cuts.
Price 25 Cents Each, by Mail.

CITY OF NEW YORK.

Containing a description of and directions for visiting the Public Buildings, etc. Street Directory, Travelers' Directory, and map of New York.

SEASIDE RESORTS.

Atlantic Coast from the St. Lawrence to the Gulf,

HUDSON RIVER ROUTE.

New York to West Point, Catskill Mountains, Albany, Troy, Saratoga Springs, Lake George, Lake Champlain, Adirondacks, Montreal and Quebec.

SARATOGA ILLUSTRATED.

Guide to Saratoga Springs, with maps and woot cuts.

ERIE RAILWAY ROUTE.

New York to Ithaca, Havana, Watkins Glen, Rochester, Dunkirk, Buffalo and Niagara Falls, via Erie Railway,

NEW YORK TO SARATOGA, BUFFALO AND NIAGARA FALLS.

Via Hudson River and New York Central Railroad.

NEWPORT ROUTE.

New York to Boston, via Newport and Fall River. Descriptions of Newport and Narragansett Bay.

NEW YORK TO WHITE MOUNTAINS.

Via N. Y. & New Haven and Connecticut River R. R.

NORTHERN RESORTS.

White Mountains, Lake Memphremagog, Green Mountains, Lake Champlain, Sheldon, Montreal and Thousand Islands.

PENNA COAL REGIONS.

New York and Philadelphia to Boston, Bethlehem, Delaware, Water Gap, Mauch Chunk, Scranton, Harrisburg, Williamsport and Elmira.

NEW YORK TO PHILADELPHIA, BALTIMORE AND WASHINGTON.

SARATOGA MINERAL WATERS.

[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES
AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER
ISSUED EVERY WEDNESDAY
Office: Second Floor, Sanderson Block, First Street—Opposite Lewis House.

TERMS—One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents a year in advance. An additional charge of ten cents for postage on papers going out of Oswego county.

Correspondence must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES.

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

HERBERT O. THOMPSON, a noted politician and leader of the New York county democracy was found dead in his bed at the Worth house, New York city, last Monday morning. The immediate cause of his death was cerebral apoplexy. Mr. Thompson was born in Boston, about 40 years ago. His parents moved to New York during his infancy and he resided there until his death. For the past ten years he has been a Wall street broker and since 1871 has taken an active part in politics, having held the offices of deputy commissioner of public works, county clerk, and commissioner of public works. In manner and conversation Mr. Thompson was noted for his politeness, and even in the midst of the fiercest political discussions, he would never depart from the appearance of calm restraint. It is said that he would scruple at nothing which promised success to his faction or party; that he controlled men by promises of reward or threats of punishment and that none followed him from love or respect. In his view, public office was a party trust given to the holder to make the best use of for the advantage of his party.

THE condition of the worthy laboring class is slowly but steadily improving. In many instances the change for the better has been so slow and gradual that it is scarcely noticeable as the various changes occur, but if we consider their condition as it was thirty or even twenty years ago and then look at it as it is to-day a marked difference will be noticed. The following on this subject written by Grace D. Norcross is well worthy of perusal:

"Oh Socrates, if those old Athenian judges could have looked into the future, when they gave to you the cup of hemlock, thinking that when your heart ceased to beat your teaching would die too, what a lesson they would have learned of the vitality and perpetuity of truth!

No one can doubt that the condition of the laboring man is to-day much better than it was years ago; but to whom does he owe this improvement in his condition? He owes it to those who, seeing the position that he would occupy in the future if capital held undisputed sway, decided to devote their time and talents to the uplifting of the laboring people. True it is that the first workmen for this cause seldom saw their wishes fulfilled. And, although, one by one, they left their unfinished work, willing hands took it up, pursuing it just as earnestly as they would have done. And so the work devoted to the interest of the worthy laboring man has been carried on until the question of labor and capital is one of the leading questions of the day. And already some of the brightest hopes of the early workmen in the cause have blossomed and are now bearing fruit. This question is being agitated in every State in the Union, and as the agitation goes on, better means are being devised by which the laborer may be benefited. Nor will this work for the elevation of the laboring people now cease. But it will still be carried on in the future by those who, seeing the mistakes of the past and profiting by them, will bring this great work of uplifting, not only the laboring class, but the whole of humanity, nearer the goal of perfection."

THERE is just at present an ardent desire among cranks to accomplish some feat that has never before been attempted or if attempted not successfully accomplished. Graham by going through the whirlpool rapids in his barrel has set the ball rolling, and these foolhardy attempts will probably continue until one of the "half-baked" aspirants meets his doom. Captain Webb's unsuccessful attempt to swim the rapids and Odlum's death, caused by jumping from the Brooklyn bridge, put a damper on futile attempts of this kind for some time. They have now broken out with renewed vigor. On Friday Stephen Brodie, who has previously had a taste of notriety in pedestrian contests, leaped from the Brooklyn bridge and escaped with no serious injuries. He was arrested on a charge of attempted suicide and released on $1,000 bail until to-day, when his trial will take place. He has made an engagement to enter a dime museum where he will have a seat between a fat woman and a trained monkey, though it seems rather mean to compel them to keep such company. Another crank, named Sweeney, not to be outdone by Brodie, attempted to jump from the bridge Sunday but was seized and prevented. A charge of intoxication was preferred against him and he has been sent to jail for sixty days. White, the Oswego barber, was hanging around Niagara Falls about a week ago, exhibiting a cork suit with which he claimed that he was going to swim the rapids, but that was all wind. He had better return to his profession there that particular element is expected to be found. Another party, whose brain seems to be utterly void of "gray matter" proposes to jump into the rapids and have persons draw him up through the whirlpool with a rope. He had better jump from the Washington monument or if he likes his own way of doing things best, let someone go to the top of the monument and draw him up with a rope—by the neck. Graham now says that he is going to go over Niagara Falls in a barrel that he is constructing and is making experiments with his old one. Why would it not be a benefit if some philanthrophist would found an asylum for these idiotic asperants for renown?

E. F. Crockford, the traveling tinware [illegible], carries a fine line of tinware, wooden ware, [illegible] wrapping paper, [illegible] in exchange [illegible] with him. 3tf

Personal and Political.

Salisbury is England's new Premier.

The Marquis of Salisbury arrived in London on Friday. He was heartily welcomed.

Jay Gould's residence at Irvington, N. Y., is assessed at $85,000, although said to be worth $1,500,000.

D. L. Moody has with him at Mount Hermon about 225 young men, whom he is instructing in the study of the scriptures.

All indications, in Col. Lamont's opinion, now point to Secretary Manning's resuming charge of the treasury portfolio in October

Miss Rose Cleveland's connection with the editorial management of the Chicago Literary Life promises rich financial returns to the publisher.

The highest salary received by a woman Government clerk in Washington is $1,800, less than a score get $1,600, and the larger number receive a salary of $1,000.

The monument for the grave of Josh Billings, the humorist, which will be placed in the cemetery at Lanesboro, Mass., will bear only the inscription, "Josh Billings."

Henry Bergh has declared war upon inoculation in every form. He calls for the arrest of Dr. Valentine Mott and rails savagely at small-pox vaccination.

Whitelaw Reid has gone to California, where he will not only have an opportunity of beholding the wonders of nature but also of viewing some of the productive property belonging to his father-in-law, D. O. Mills.

Austin Corbin, the magnate of the Coney Island road and also of Manhattan beach improvements, is suffering from ill health, and has undertaken a tour to the far West with his family, having a special car for this purpose.

E. P. Roe has a very lovely residence at Cornwall, where he occasionally invites his literary acquaintances. Among his recent guests were Editor Clark of the St. Nicholas, Howard Crosby and William Carey of the Century.

Editor Pulitzer of the World calls Editor Dorsheimer of the Star "a Brobdignagian mass of obesity." Editor Dorsheimer of the Star thus describes Editor Pulitzer of the World: "A deep Charybdis yawns beneath his ragged beard, and from the fanged and lurid chasm comes a clammy hiss such as the horned frog utters when at bay."

Samuel Sloan and his family have just sailed on an extended foreign tour. He has held the presidency of the Delaware Lackawanna and Western railroad during some of its severest years of trial, and has seen its stock advance more than $100 a share since the pressure of 1877. His success in the management of this immense corporation is shown by the fact that it is now a trunk road, and has won its share of the western patronage.

COUNTY NEWS.

The Fall term of Parish Union School opens on August 23d.

Charles Hines of South Scriba on Monday took a quantity of ripe pears into the Oswego market, the first of the season.

The funeral of Thankful G., wife of Robert C. Jenkins, a lady highly esteemed by all who knew her, took place from her home in the Town of Oswego, Monday forenoon.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Canastota Glass Company, held at their office July 20th, R. H. Avery was elected President; S. Seeber, Vice-President; M. Delano, treasurer; O. E. Frazee, secretary, and T. N. Jarvis, S. K. Bemis, W. L. VanAman, G. F. Ballou, Wm. Hurlbut, F. W. Doolittle and Wm. Leoffler, directors.

Two swindlers have just done a rich man of Granby out of $5,000. They engaged in a game of cards in his presence, and the one who had previously been talking business with him lost. He asked for revenge, and swindler number two said he would not play unless the other put up $5,000. Number one did not have it and offered the Granby man $100 for the use of $5,000 for a day. The victim bit and produced the money, and then the sharpers grabbed the $100 interest money and fled with the boodle. —[Syracuse Sunday Times.

About one o'clock Saturday afternoon, Edward Storrs of Hinmansville, a steersman on the freight packet Onondaga, was drowned in the canal at a point about two miles east of Utica. McMullin, the driver, heard a splash and looking around saw Storrs in the canal. He was not a swimmer and before a rope could be thrown him he was drowned. One of the crew dove several times but was unable to find him. The matter was reported to the coroner and the canal was dragged. The body was found about 4:30 p. m. Storrs was about 35 years old and leaves a wife and one child.

A man who lately discontinued taking the Times, because he preferred a city weekly, called yesterday and laid before us a little matter concerning his own affairs, which he wished to have published in our columns. As it does not appear in these columns, probably our readers can find it in the columns of some city weekly paper. Cheek is a commodity which God has lavishly bestowed upon the multitude.—[Whitehall Times.

Advice to Newspaper Readers.

Never borrow a paper. This is important.

Never believe anything you read in a newspaper that doesn't agree with what you think. This saves wear and tear on your convictions.

Always speak slightingly of the newspaper you happen to read. This impresses people who don't know you with an idea that you are a very superior sort of a person.

When a newspaper opposes your candidate always accuse the editor with having a personal spite against him. That is the way you would act if you were the editor, you know.

When you finish reading the paper throw it down contemptuously and remark loudly and impressively that "there's nothing in the papers nowadays." This carries weight with those people who overhear you and are unable to read themselves.

Tell every one that newspapers ought to be [illegible]. [illegible]

The [illegible] of the Oswego Falls Agricultural [illegible] will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 21st, 22nd, and 23d, 1886.

OFFICERS.

President—H. H. Marriam, Oswego Falls.
Vice-Presidents—W. B. Phelps and Willard Johnson.
Secretary—Arvin Rice.
Treasurer—Charles R. Nichols.

TRUSTEES AND EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

O. Henderson, Fulton.
A. Gregg, Pennellville.
L. L. Kenyon, Oswego.
T. G. Somers, Oswego Falls.
Isaac R. Osborne, Ira.
Fred Vant, Volney.
Marshall—Ambrose Gregg.
Chief of Police—D. H. Gilbert.

SUPERINTENDENTS.

Horses—Jacob Poucher, Thomas G. Somers.
Cattle—Isaac R. Osborne.
Sheep and Swine—Fred Vant.
Mechanical—Smith Straushan.
Poultry—N. H. Haviland.
Tickets—H. S. Gardner.
Gen'l Supt. in Buildings—O. Henderson.
Grand Stand—Willard Johnson.
Fruit and Vegetables—J. H. Langdon.
Domestic Dept.—Mrs. H. S. Gardner, Florence Gregg.
Floral Dept.—Mrs. May Darling.

The following is a list of the JUDGES:

Working Cattle—Sullivan Williams, Granby; George Littlefield, Volney; Willis Jennings, Palermo.

Bulls—W. H. Tompkins, Granby; Levi Wormuth, Ira; I. H. Peckham, Hannibal.

Cows—Subdivision No. 1—E. S. Tallman, Hannibal; Fitch Lansing, Palermo; S. D. Gardner, South Hannibal.

Subdivision No. 2—D. H. Trimble, Palermo; H. A. Cornish, Oswego; Richard Carter, Constantia.

Heifers.—Subdivision No. 1—J. S. Markham, Volney; L. Brackett, Hannibal Centre; R. Sutton, Pennellville.

Subdivision No. 2—W. H. Owen, Volney; John Talmage, Ira; J. J. Coit, Fulton.

Fat Cattle, Sheep and Swine—William Fulton; T. J. Reeves, Oswego; John Norris, Oswego.

Clydesdale Stallions—P. Morgan, Mexico; R. Parsons, Cazenovia; A. Northrup, Lysander; J. Parkinson, Oswego.

Mares and Colts—P. Tracy, Phœnix; S. Stranahan, Granby; E. S. Tallman, Hannibal; W. S. Turner, Oswego.

Colts 3 and 4 years old—R. Walpole, Oswego; M. M. Poucher, Oswego; Marvin Thompson, Oswego Falls.

Matched and Single Horses—F. A. Gage, Fulton; Birney Clark, Fulton; T. P. Kingsford, Oswego; Walter Pendergast, Phœnix.

Mules—John Blake, South Hannibal; H. W. Smith, Fulton; J. C. Wells, Granby.

Fine Wooled Sheep—J. J. Fort, Bowens Corners; Wm. F. Ingall, Volney; —— Place, New Haven.

Swine—Z. B. Austin, Volney; Willard Stewart, Garnby; A. A. Rowlee, Volney.

Poultry—James Hoff, Fulton; James Stevens, Oswego Falls; Frederick Petrie, Granby.

Plants and Flowers—Mrs. A. Emerick, Fulton; Mrs. C. K. Howe, Fulton; Mrs. Wm. McClure, Granby.

Fruits and Wines—Hugh McKeirnan, Fulton; A. C. Mattoon, Oswego; C. S. Rust, Fulton.

Grain, Seeds, &c.—L. C. Seymour, Fulton; A. G. Gilbert, Fulton; D. M. Perine, Fulton.

Dairy Products—A. E. Emerick; Fulton; L. T. Miller, Fulton; A. P. Tucker, Fulton.

Palermo.

Wm. and F. J. Lansing of Clifford, had a valuable horse die near Oswego one day last week.

The Sunday school at Palermo Center on Sunday was the scene of a disgraceful proceeding. The Supervisor of the town was present and called the superintendent of the Sunday school a liar and shook his fist in his face. In the course of his harrangue he made the statement that all the people there except three families were heathens.

S. P. Wood and wife of Oswego Falls were in town on Sunday.

South Scriba.

William P. Lawton of this place, recently found his horse in the pasture with its leg broken. It is supposed that it was kicked by another horse.

Geo. Shefield had a horse break his leg while running in the lot recently. The animal was killed.

Miss Lena Parker of Fulton is spending a few days with friends here.

Mrs. Ira Parker of Waterford, N. Y., is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Ed. Potter.

Haying is nearly finished in this vicinity. There has been a good crop.

Mrs. Linus Parker of this place, is seriously ill at the Hamilton House, Oswego. She is with her daughter, Mrs. H. D. Hubbard.

H. D. Hubbard is at Thousand Islands.

Mrs. Dr. Phelps is seriously ill and fears are entertained for her recovery.

South Granby.

Washington Lampson an old and respected citizen of this town, died at his home last Thursday morning. Funeral services were held Sunday at one o'clock at the house, Rev. Mr. Olmstead of Oswego Falls officiating. The remains were interred in Jacksonville cemetery.

Justice Hulett and wife of Fulton called on friends here Sunday.

Oats are turning fast and soon will be ready for the reaper.

Henry Fuller has commenced laying the brick walls for his new home. C. V. Lewis does the mason work.

Farmers are working hard to fight the potato bugs on these warm days. They are more numerous than on previous years.

J. Dolbear and wife of Palermo called on their sons at the cheese factory Sunday.

[illegible]

[illegible]

WASHINGTON, July 26th, 1886.

What is the matter with our legislators? Is it the hot weather? Last week there were blows and bloodshed between two discordant members of the lower House, and a vicious battle of words between two Presidential candidates in the Senate. The present week opened with a violent scene of passion in the upper House, such as has not been witnessed in that august, dignified body for years, and had the dispute occurred outside the Senate Chamber, there probably would have been a repetition of the Cobb-Laird incident.

And it was all about oleomargarine and butter, or as Senator Vance would say, all about "grease." He characterized the Oleomargarine bill as protection gone to seed. Any business that came to Congress and invoked the arm of the law to keep it alive at the expense of other business was unfit to live. He charged that the supporters of the bill were influenced by political considerations; that butter, like conscience, made cow-herds of them all. The necessity of "grease" to carry the State of New York two years hence was what affected them.

But I will return to the subject of Senatorial courtesies. While Senator Ingalls was making a speech in opposition to oleomargarine, he found in his desk material for a satirical little speech which he directed against Mr. Edmunds. He pulled forth from some mysterious recess a small vial containing coloring matter—manufactured at Burlington, Vt., the residence of Mr. Edmunds—which was warranted to add five cents to the value of every pound of butter with which it was used. The Kansas Senator then sarcastically referred to the innocent, bucolic farmer who jumped upon oleomargarine as a fraud that should be stamped out, while he doctored up his own pale faced butter with extracts that looked like iodine, until it put on a rich, creamy hue, and added a nickel a pound to its market price.

Somehow Senator Warner Miller, of New York, who lives on a farm when at home, felt attacked by this sally. His face grew red and white with anger during the talk, and when he arose to speak his voice was fairly quivering with passion. It took two or three minutes for him to repress the temptation to pounce upon the Senator from Kansas. "He charges me with being directly interested in this measure," shouted Mr. Miller. "It is true I live on a farm and keep a few cows and horses, and at some periods of the year I make butter and cheese. But for every dollar that I have received from my cattle I have paid out ten, and in no sense am I directly interested in the pending legislation." Burst into a frenzied rage he defied Mr. Ingalls, shook his fist in his face, stigmatized the charge against himself as malicious and untrue, called him a coward for protecting himself behind the parliamentary usages of the Senate, and more than intimated that he would never have dared to say what he had outside the Senate Chamber. He also described Ingalls as a circus peddler, and told him if he failed as U. S. Senator he could probably make a living by manipulating bogus jewelry.

The Senator from Kansas, who was now thoroughly angry himself, disclaimed having had any reference to Mr. Miller in his remarks, but retorted that he was now going to be personal some himself. He has a limitless vindictive vocabulary, and he drew liberally upon his resources. He proceeded to say that it was a national indecency and impropriety for Mr. Miller, who was a dairy farmer, and personally interested in what the cow did for mankind, to be chairman of the committee which brought forward a bill to head off all competition with the cow.

The Senate listened breathlessly to this quarrel between two Republican Senators, and Mr. Butler of South Carolina expressed the hope that the comedy of the little bottle of coloring matter would not end with a gory tragedy. It probably will not, but the Senate has reached the record of the House for breeches of dignity, and it would not be safe to say what it might not be guilty of. The demoralizing effect of a session prolonged into the dog days is quite apparent, and it is evident that it is time for Congress to adjourn. In case the tempers of Senators and Members continue to fail them as the summer advances, it has been suggested that a special committee of honor be appointed to consider these personal encounters. "You dare not say that outside," has become the watch-word of both Houses,—and most of them do not.

As if apologizing for wasting the little remaining time of the session in private controversies, a bright light may be seen these nights shining from the dome of the capitol. It means that Congress is in session, and some of the members are trying to work. The attendance at night sessions is not full usually, but bills are passed more easily than if the full quota of members were there to wrangle and waste time.

There are 671 artists' models in Paris, of whom about one half are Italians, 120 French, 80 German, 60 Swiss, 50 Spanish, Belgian, 45 English, 30 American and 1 Irish. Of the 671, 130 have passed their majority; all the rest are young girls between 16 and 20 years of age.

Twenty thousand dollars worth of pears are sent to London every year from the small town of Looz in Belgium.

Eighteen bumblebees, twenty-two wasps or thirty-eight ordinary honeybees contain enough poison to kill an adult.

Before you put a roof on that building, been it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros. at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 3tf

The wealth of the Vanderbilt family is estimated at about $200,000,000; of the Astor family, $150,000,000; of the Stewart's estate, $100,000,000; of Jay Gould, $100,000,000; of Rockefeller, $90,000,000; of the several California millionaires, [illegible]

The [illegible] convention of the [illegible] of the State of New York, to be held in this city next month, will without doubt be the largest and most successful in the history of the organization. Nearly one hundred companies have already signified their intention to be present and participate in the grand parade on the twentieth of August. Among them will be Liberty Steam Fire Engine Company 5 of Reading, Pa., which will be accompanied by the celebrated Ringgold band, the winner of the band contest at the centennial exhibition in Philadelphia in 1876.

Harry Howard, the well-known ex-chief of the old New York Volunteer Fire Department, whose name was for many years as well known throughout the country as that of any other man, and another favorably known old veteran, ex-Chief John G. Decker, also of New York City, have promised to attend the convention and participate in the parade.

The Exempts of this city are hard at work arranging for the entertainment of their guests, and the citizens of Buffalo, whose generous hospitality is so well known, will do all in their power to make the visit of the volunteer firemen of the state a memorable one. It will be one of the greatest weeks ever known in the history of this city, and thousands of strangers, it is anticipated, will be here. The hotel accommodations are nearly all secured, and it is to be hoped that the response for generous subscriptions to aid the Exempts will be prompt.

The meeting of the State Association can never again be held in this city, because Buffalo has a paid department, and it was agreed to hold the meeting here this year as a compliment to the past record and services of the old volunteers.

The entire fire service of the state is interested in the subject and promise to show to the citizens of Buffalo a fine body of men. The prize drills, hose races and engine contest, will all be well worth seeing and will add greatly to the attractions of the week. The prizes, a list of which has already been published, are large and generous. Individual and special prizes are to be offered. It is desired if there are any companies who propose to participate and have failed to notify the Exempts of that fact that they will do so at once. —[Buffalo Courier July 17.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., July 16, 1886.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, a full board, except Trustee Kendrick.

A petition was presented signed by Lucy A. Nelson and other residents of First street, asking that the "Fulton and Oswego Falls Street Railway Co." be required to construct their roadway on the extreme west side of First street, from Rochester street, to the French property on said street.

On motion the prayer of the petetioners was denied.

Board adjourned to Monday evening next at 7½ o'clock.
M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

FULTON, N. Y., Monday, July 19, 1886.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, a full board.

No business transacted.

Adjourned to Wednesday evening, July 21st, at at 7½ o'clock.
M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

FULTON, N. Y., July 21st, 1886.

Board met pursuant to adjournment

Present, the President and Trustees More, Chase, Bradford, Johnson and Pardee.

Minutes of last three meetings read and adopted.

The Finance Committee reported the following bills correct and the same were audited at the amounts claimed.

Geo. F. Sharp, Street Commissioner,	$60.80
D. Pardee, 2 hose carts,	60.00
Thos. Nelligan, special police,	4.00
"Fulton Water Works Co." setting drinking fountains as per contract,	50.00
Labor and material putting water in engine house,	33.97
Myron Havens, services as assessor,	26.00
J. N. Sharp, Pres't. cost in suit of the village vs. J. N. Clark,	8.00
Mary J. Hornibrook, rent of barn ¼ year,	6.25
W. D. Patterson, whitewashing and setting glass in jail,	2.25
Hugh McKiernan, assessor,	15.00

The bill of B. J. Kimball, for services as assessor and measuring water mains, amounting to $74, was audited at $50.

The bill of Marcus F. Crahan for kalsomining and painting at engine house of $62.40 was audited at $25.

Trustee Kendrick came in.

The matter of grading First street was then taken up, and after discussion Trustee Kendrick made a motion which was seconded by Trustee More, that the said street be graded to a line from the north line of Mrs. Marcia B. Keeler's lot to the south line of Broadway, the Messrs. Gage, agreeing to give $100 toward the expense.

Trustees More, Kendrick and Pardee voted aye, and Trustees Chase and Johnson voted nay. The resolution was declared lost, four trustees not concurring. The following resolution was then adopted.

Resolved, That First street be graded as follows: Beginning at Mrs. Marcia B. Keeler's south line, running southerly on a line to the north line of Broadway, by the following vote, Trustees More, Bradford, Kendrick, Johnson and Pardee voting aye, and Trustee Chase voting nay. It being agreed by the Messrs. Gage to remove all the dirt necessary, and to give $50 toward the expense of restoring the said street to good condition.

It was moved and carried that an order for $300 be given W. J. Lovejoy, Treasurer of the "Fulton Fire Department."

Mr. S. B. Mead asked permission to pave First street in front of his premises from the curb to the street railway track. Granted.

The President and Trustees Bradford, and Kendrick were designated a committee to superintend the grading of First street, and the laying of the Railway track through the same.

On motion the Board adjourned to Wednesday, Aug. 4th, 1886, at 7½ o'clock, p. m.
M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

CHEESE MARKETS.

[From the Utica Herald.]

UTICA, July 26.

There is little to be said about the cheese market to day. Buyers were not particularly anxious for stock, and sellers were not forcing their cheese on the market. On the whole there was not a full shipment made, as there is no desire to swamp prices or to embarrass the trade. Some factories report further shrinkage, while others report a slight improvement on account of the recent rains. It will be noted that the ruling price is only ⅛c. lower than last week, but the extreme is ¼c. lower. The sales also are about 1,200 boxes less than last week. It is believed by many that if the receipts in New York continue to show such a decrease as they have done for the last year, it will be impossible for prices to decline to any great extent. Instead of 158,000 boxes shipped from New York and Montreal as as there were last year, we sent out only 114,000 boxes last week, or 44,000 boxes less. Such a fact ought to help toward sustaining the price.

Transactions for the day were as follows: 16 lots, 1,624 boxes, at 7¼c.; 46 lots, 4,310 boxes at 7⅜c.; 21 lots, 2,055 boxes, at 7¼c.; 17 lots, 2,075 boxes, at 7⅜c.; 5 lots, 808 boxes, at 7⅜c. Sales 10,872 boxes: consignments 1,046 boxes; total 11,918 boxes. Ruling price 7⅜c. Transactions last year 13,166 boxes, at ruling of 7c. Year before they were 12,083 boxes, ruling 8⅛c.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, July 26

CHEESE—Those who last week predicted lower prices for to-day, had the opportunity to say "We told you so." Indeed the market is very near a reputation of that of a year ago to-day, except that the decline is not so great. The change in the weather was unfavorable, and the offerings were not large. Figures could not be obtained until a late hour, just in time to secure them for report, and can only give, therefore, a simple report of the transactions, as follows:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
4	800	7 cents
37	2,285	7¼ cents
51	3,154	7⅜ cents
1	70	7¾ cents
4	180	¼ above ruling.
13	1,004	...com.
110	6,983
Farm dairy	376
Total	7,359

FARM DAIRIES.—The sales of farm dairy cheese were large, amounting to 376 boxes at 6½c. to 7⅛c. bulk at 7c.

BUTTER.—Sales of 10 packages of butter at 14c. to 16½c.; bulk at 15c.

AT [illegible]

[illegible] some [illegible] for such [illegible] young folks, who are spending their vacations by the sea, among the mountains, or in country homes. The frontispiece, by Mary Hallock Foote, gives us a bright glimpse of child-life at the seaside, while the opening article, "A Rocky Mountain Hermit," by Alfred Terry Bacon, is a delightful account of a Robinson Crusoe summer spent among the birds, the beasts, and the mountains of Wyoming.

Ripley Hitchcock, who wrote last month about "Fly-fishing for Trout," contributes, in "A Royal Fish," a description of the methods and the joys of salmon fishing, which is freely illustrated by anecdotes, and with pictures by W. L. Sheppard, Henry Sandham, and others. "On the Willey-Brook Trestle" is an exciting vacation story of the White Mountains by Willis Boyd Allen. A new and original outdoor game, called "Regatta," is described by Frank Bellew. In spite of its nautical name, it is played ashore, though it has a strong sea flavor. The "Work and Play" department is also of an amphibious character this month, and contains "A Rope Yarn Spun by an Old Sailor," C. W. Miller who describes some of the most useful knots and splices employed by mariners, but applicable to terrestrial purposes.

Of the serials, "Little Lord Fauntleroy," is continued in an installment in which the plot against the hero is still further developed; Rose Lattimore Alling carries "Nan's Revolt" forward in two clever chapters; "The Kelp-gatherers" find strange things cast up by the sea; Horace E. Scudder takes "George Washington" through the year 1783, when he became once more a private citizen; and Henry Eckford, in "Wonders of the Alphabet," tells about some curious ancient and modern letter-systems. There are poems, jingles, and pictures, by W. H. Hayne, Aunt Fanny, Margaret Vandegrift, Laura E. Richards, Oliver Herford, Frederick J. Hibbert, Culmer Barnes, and others.

WIDE AWAKE.

The midsummer number of this magazine appears with a new and beautiful cover, which differs radically from that of its precedents and is, we think, a great improvement. Its design is purely decorative, rich in rose color and gold, on pale tea-green antique-finished paper. The Ballad of the number is "Sir Walter's Honor" with seven full-page illustrations and commemorates a touching incident in the life of Sir Walter Raleigh. Anna Katherine Greene, author of "The Levenworth Case" contributes a humorous paper. "In the Canon of the Tennessee" is a true and intensely interesting mountain story, by John Willis Hays. The serials "Pamela's Fortune," "Peggy and her Family" and "The Crew of the Casabianca" are delightfully entertaining. The above are a few of the many good articles that the August number contains.

Spain can boast of four living Queens and five Kings. The former are ex-Queen Isabella II., the Regent Maria Christine, widow of Alfonso XII.; Beatrix d'Este, wife of John III., who "abdicated" in favor of his son Don Carlos, and Marguerita, wife of Don Carlos. The Kings are Alfonso III.; Francis d'Assisi, the husband of Isabella; John III., Don Carlos, and lastly, the half-forgotten ex-King Aamadeus I.

* Delicate diseases of either sex, however induced, speedily cured. Book of particulars 10 cents in stamps. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Saratoga races commenced July 24th, and will continue every available day up to and including, August 20th.

C. S. EGGLESTON.
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY.
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES.
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF
Ladies' Kid Button Shoes
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE
SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2¼ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 94 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y.

☞ Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at FULTON, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

JUST THE THING!
CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.
Save time and labor! Neat and Compact [illegible]

LUMBER YARD!
—WE HAVE IN STOCK A—
Complete Assortment
—OF—
Lumber, Lath, Shingles &c.
—And in fact everything pertaining to a—
FIRST-CLASS YARD.
We are prepared to furnish thoroughly seasoned lumber at the Lowest Rates. Call and be convinced.
BOOMER & LOOMIS.
Corner Broadway and First Sts.

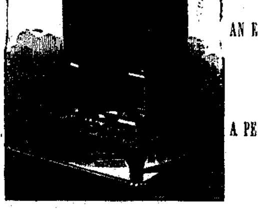
—CALL ON—
GEORGE JOHNSTON,
On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of
STOVES AND RANGES,
Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,	THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
ART UNIVERSAL,	GRAND UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,	HAPPY THOUGHT,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,	HAPPY HOME,
and ACORN,	and DUCHESS
Parlor Stoves.	Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the
Howe Ventilating Stove,
which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.
Yours Respectfully,
GEO. JOHNSTON.

—THE—
Howe Ventilating Stove.

A NEW STOVE. ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE. AN EXCELENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE. A PERFECT VENTILATOR.



☞ A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE
Howe Ventilating Stove Company, Fulton, N. Y.
F. G. WEEKS, President.
E. R. REDHEAD, Vice-President.
A. LMON BRISTOL, Sec'y & Treas.
E. L. MESSENGER, Gen. Manager.
GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent
FULTON, N.Y.

A Leading Popular Rochester Business University Commercial School.
By reason of the superiority of its facilities for imparting a thoroughly practical knowledge of commercial matters, and for promoting the substantial welfare of its pupils, this has become one of the largest and most conspicuous schools of its kind on the continent. Catalogue Free.
F. E. ROGERS, Secretary. L. L. WILLIAMS, President.
12w6

Job Printing.
—:o:—
We are prepared to do all kinds of
Job Printing
with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.
PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.
All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,
—AT THE—
[illegible]

CONSTIPATION!
There is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by Constipation, and there is no other ill flesh is hair to more apt to be neglected, from the fact material inconvenience may not be immediately felt from irregular action of the bowels. When there is not regular action the retention of decayed and effete matter, with its poisonous gases, soon poisons the whole system by being absorbed into it, causing piles, fistula, headache, impure blood and many other serious affections. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS will immediately relieve, and one bottle positively cure or relieve any case of Constipation.
"Was troubled for a year with torpid liver and indigestion, and after trying everything imaginable, [illegible] BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS. [illegible] first bottle revived me and [illegible] cured me entirely."—J. S. W[illegible], Rochester, N. Y.

[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES
FRED B. HIGHRITER, Local Editor

FULTON 'BUS

The Fulton Omnibus will leave the Lewis House for trains on the Oswego & Syracuse Railroad by the following time table:

	A.M.	A.M.	P.M.	P.M.	P.M.
For Syracuse	7:55	11:00	3:29	5:20	7:25
For Oswego	7:55	12:00m.	3:25	5:20	6:50

Tickets to Oswego, including 'Bus fare, 40 cents or sale on the Omnibus.
F. D. WILSON, Proprietor.

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express	6:18 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express	11:22 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express	3:52 p. m
Freight and Accommodation	6:15 p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express	8:15 p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express	8:18 a. m.
Day Express	12:19 p. m.
Day Express	2:48 p. m.
Freight and Accommodation	6:15 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express	7:10 p. m.

The 8:18 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.
Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.
A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:13 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
Norwich Express	3:06 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:21 a. m
Oswego Express	11:27 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	9:57 p.m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:21	2:16	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	12:54	3:24	6:29

Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS.

A. C. Nettleton of Scranton, Pa., was in town last week.

Miss Laura McCordy of Oswego, spent Sunday with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Herrick of Oswego, were in town over Sunday.

Mrs. H. W. Dyson of Fall River, Mass., is visiting Mrs. Thomas Poole.

Miss Allie Adams of Boston, is spending her vacation with relatives in town.

Mrs. William Morton and son leave to-day for a two week's visit in Mexico.

Rev. Warren C. Hubbard of Brooklyn, is visiting in town the guest of C. H. David.

Miss May Loomis of Rome, formerly of this place, is in town for a short time.

Mrs. J. W. McClennan and Miss Jessie Miller of Frankford, are visiting friends in town.

Mrs. Duhamel of Flint, Mich., is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. N. Goman on Erie street.

Miss Cora LeSage has returned from Buffalo, where she has been visiting her sister Lizzie.

Mrs. Martin Schenck and family, of New Haven, Conn., are visiting relatives in town.

Master Harry Howe has gone to Cincinnati Ohio., to spend a month or two with his uncle.

Eli Derusha and W. P. Hillick are at Peekskill, N. Y., in attendance at the State camp.

Bruce Kennedy of Syracuse, has been a guest of A. Howe and family for several days.

E. A. Cook, who has been spending the past week at Mexico Point, has returned home.

Mrs. George Glines of Waterville, Oneida county is visiting her daughter, Mrs. T. C. Giroux.

Miss Lena Cooper of Lansing, Mich. is in town, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Warner.

Thomas Alvord of Fargo, Dak., who has been in town for some time, returned home Monday.

A. W. Farnham and B. E. Gaiden of Hannibal are occupying a cottage at Thousand Island Park.

Rev. H. B. Goodyear returned last Friday from a two week's visit at his home in Springfield, Mass.

W. F. Buck returned Monday from a three week's visit in Missouri. He reports a very pleasant trip.

Mrs. J. C. Highriter leaves to-day for an extended visit to her children in Scranton, Pa., and New York.

Rev. W. F. Markham and family are now occupy their cottage on Lookout avenue, Thousand Island Park.

Mrs. Wm. Hornibrook and her children, who have been visiting in Syracuse, returned home last Friday.

Miss Anna Wells of Rochester, a teacher in the high school of that city, is visiting her aunt, Miss Ruth Wells.

Mrs. George Berzee, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. E. Cary of Cortland, returned home last Friday.

Mrs. Robert McCully of Fulton spent a few days with her sister Mrs. A. W. Farnham this week.—[Hannibal News.

Samuel Taylor and family and Miss Dora Cooper formerly of this village are visiting at Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Warner's.

George Parker and Miss Nellie Sharp of Oswego, and W. Headdin of Syracuse, were guests of Miss Matie VanBuren last Monday.

Miss Maud Remington, daughter of J. D. Remington, Supt. of the R. W. & O. railroad is visiting at H. C. Gardner's in Lower Oswego Falls,

W. C. Kellogg, who has been engaged in painting pictures by the acme water color system for the past two weeks, returned to his home in New York, Monday.

President W. P. Fowler, General Manager J. E. Childs and others went over the Ontario & Western railroad last week on a tour of inspection. They were in Fulton on Wednesday.

The wife and children of Bishop W. X. Ninde of Topeka, Kan., who have been visiting at G. F. Schenck's in Lower Oswego Falls, left Friday for Chautauqua where they will spend the summer.

Miss Louise Pomeroy, the divorced wife of "Brick" Pomeroy, who has been filling an engagement at the Casino opera house in Oswego, recently, was in town yesterday. She is spending a few weeks at Mrs. Vincents, near Battle Island.

[illegible]

NEW YORK LETTER.

(Special to THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, July 26, 1886.

No city presents greater facilities for cheap excursions than this. I observed, and was most profoundly impressed by this when visiting Coney Island and kindred resorts on Long Island's south shore. There are, perhaps, 200,000 people who make an annual exodus to the summer resorts that are more or less fashionable. It leaves, therefore, 800,000 or so of people who must have some recreation, some outing, and this Coney Island provides. I remember when Coney Island was a mere sand dune, having a small hotel at its western extremity and visited by excursions of the baser sort. The excursion that went to Coney usually wound up with a brawl or a free fight, and the Island became the synonym for a "dive" of the worst sort. Now, thank fortune, this is changed. Coney as I saw it recently, and as it has been for the last seven years, is a seaside resort of no mean order either for a day's visit or a month's or season's sojourn. It may be properly divided into five distinct parts. There is its extreme eastern end with its aristocratic Oriental hotel, then Manhattan Beach, controlled by Austin Corbin, whom somebody has called the Savior of Long Island, next Brighton, West Brighton, and fartherest west of all, Norton's Point, so named from that worthy and highly useful citizen, Ex-Senator Mike Norton—the same being the Jolly Boniface of the Norton house. There is a strong tinge of Puritanism about the East and while the West end hoists the flag of social freedom. In fact it is cosmopolitan. The east end with its two hotels revels in the music of Gilmore and delights in the pyrotechnical displays of Joseph Pain. All the same you seem to see the word "Don't" written on every pillar and post. The bathing pavilion is carefully screened from the hotel, and so-called modesty is supposed to reign supreme. The west end, on the other hand has, its Elephant, its skating rink, its dancing pavilion, its—in short, you imagine yourself at a sort of grand fete where people give themselves up entirely to the enjoyment of what is before them. Then there are those great iron piers, stretching their network of iron 800 feet seaward. This part of Coney teems with life these holidays, and the serf is full of animated humanity intent on getting the most out of their few hours of respite. It's an interesting picture, this surf bathing. The cosmopolitan character of the place puts away any Long Branch fashion in bathing suits, and the bathers take what they can get. Ludicrous, indeed, when the small man gets the big man's suit, but still more laughable when the same event happens to some woman. There is a freedom that is modest and a friendliness that is courteous. Oh, it's intensely human at the iron piers of Coney Island. Then there's the Elephant! Do you really "go to see the Elephant" here? Certainly. Only he is a huge hotel in the shape of that animal. Its legs have within the spiral staircases that lead you to the dining hall and rooms in its body, while from the howdah on its back—130 feet from the sand, you get magnificent views of the land and ocean enclosed by a circle whose radius would be twenty or more miles. Coney Island needs to be seen to be appreciated. Its various sections cater to the different tastes of its visitors—the east end for the fastidious, the west for the otherwise.

I can't presume to say why this south shore with its Island, its fashionable Long Beach and its more popular and less-etiquettical Rockaway, should be the most favored, but such is the case and the tide of popular favor is rising higher. This popularity has been a godsend to Long Island. It is barely possible that crime has increased, but, on the other hand, there is the increase in valuation in property. The resurrection of the Long Island R. R. dates from the revival of Coney Island, and now numerous railroads have stretched around Brooklyn having their terminus at some one of these south side resorts. Coney Island that sold 20 years ago for less than $2,000 could not now be bought for a hundred times that sum.

⁂

Insurance circles as well as political centres are excited over the recent dismissal of assistant chief McCabe from the Fire Department. Politics and politics alone are answerable for this move, and that, too, in a department of the city government the farthereast removed from that evil. The trouble is something like this. Mr. Purroy, the head of the Fire Department commission has a relative who is in the line of promotion to the head of the force. In order to bring this promotion about, somebody must be removed and some pretext must be found. It has so happened that on the fifth of July, a fire occurred in McCabe's district. He, knowing the flammable character of the locality, called out the whole department above 14th and 37th streets. This Mr. Purroy considered unnecessary, and for this so-called overzealousness he is sacrificed that this relative may be advanced. These jealousies and wirepullings were the reasons for the disbandment of the old volunteer force, and now, if politics is to denominate this most important branch of the government, we are not much better off than before. What particularly excites the insurance circles is the testimony of Battalion Chief Bonner to the effect that he would permit four blocks of Harlem property to burn before he would do what McCabe did. The officials of the department look with disgust on Harlem proverty and this evidence is what alarms insurance men and not they only but the property holders at large of Harlem. The courts will be asked to reinstate McCabe, and we venture the prediction that he will be reinstated. The fact that McCabe is a Republican with strong backing and thus is opposed to Purroy, may be considered as the true animus of the whole matter.

⁂

Another foolhardy enterprise which must be classed with those of Sam Patch, Odlum, Captains Webb and Boynton, and the barrel man of Niagara occurred last week in the dropping of Steve Brodie from the East River bridge. He performed safely the feat that Prof. (?) Odlum sacrificed his life in attempting. This Brodie has the reputation of being a shiftless, good-for-nothing. He was one of Soto's filibustering adventurers, did nothing for a living, was supported by [illegible] is now the hero (in their eyes) of all the rapscallions who come from that delectable region of the city. He is under arrest for violation of the Penal Code, and Alderman Divver has advanced his political prospects by bailing this constituent out.

What next? With feats of human endurance on one side, and foolhardy escapades on the other, your correspondent is not surprised at anything.

⁂

Young ladies appear on the street in costumes very masculine. Recently on Broadway, I saw a rather bright looking young miss attired in a cutaway jacket, demi-vest, collar, necktie and what is technically termed a pousure. She looked very mannish. But what attracted my attention was a row of medals on the left side of her jacket front. One of my good female friends who knew the lady let me into the secret. This bright young miss is a famous tennis player and an admirable skater, and these medals represent her triumphs. Since the day of that particular stroll, I have noticed that this decoration of medals is very common, and those who are so fortunate as to have won any either at school, lawn tennis, archery, or rinks, hang them in the regulation position. Sweet sixteen is thus decidedly metallic with her bangle bracelets, broach and medals.

WANDERER.

One Hundred and Fifty Pairs of Men's, Boys' and Youths' Canvas Ball Shoes. To be sold at manufacturer's prices until closed out, at NETTLETON'S.

The price of hops still goes up.

A total eclipse of the sun will occur August 29th.

Last week was an excellent one for haying and harvesting.

Blackberries have now taken the place of raspberries in our markets.

Bear in mind that you can get Job Work at THE TIMES office at reasonable prices.

Many villages are compelling all owners of dogs to muzzle them during this hot weather.

Both our New York and Washington letters are of unusual interest this week. Don't fail to read them.

W. P. Hillick intends disposing of his business here and removing to Syracuse, where he will locate.

The contract has been signed by which Phœnix will have a water system that will protect every part of the village. The annual rental is to be $1,100

The Baldwinsville Gazette has a Stonemetz Folding Machine added to its office. By the aid of this machine 25 papers per minute are cut, pasted and folded ready for mailing.

Sam Jones says: "There is something wrong when a preacher gets $400 and a base ball pitcher gets $5,000." A base ball enthusiast suggests that perhaps the preacher has a poor delivery.

The Rev. J. F. Grumbine of Syracuse will preach in the Universalist church next Sunday morning and evening Aug. 1st. Subject for morning, "Is church attendance a thing of convenience or duty." All are invited.

An action has been commenced in the Supreme Court by Mrs. "Ed" Oliver against the village of Sherburne, N. Y., to recover $25,000 for injuries received by her in February, 1885, by being tipped out of her cutter. Mrs. Oliver formerly lived in this village.

A new tower is being built on the Episcopal church, in which the bell will be placed. It is thought that it will be finished by August 5th, and on the following day, which is the 50th anniversary of the laying of the corner stone, the tower and bell will be dedicated with appropriate exercises.

Garret Smith of Cleveland, whose store was broken into last week, having heard that some burglars were arrested in Oneida and lodged in Morrisville jail, went to see them. One of them was easily recognized as the man who made the purchases in the store, and on his feet were the shoes which were stolen at the time the safe was cracked.

C. C. C. C.

Stands for Central City Clothing Company, the new Bargain House that opened at 20 East Genesee street, Syracuse on June 1st. Since their opening day their store has been crowded with customers.

"If your local paper," writes an old journalist now long out of the business, "happens to tread on your toes a little in performing its mission, don't get your back up and abuse the editor, but stop and take a good breath and think for a season, and see if you can't remember some of the favors and kindnesses it has shown you in the past. Then reflect that it may not be long before you may want some favor again."

A fine line of Boys' Button and Lace Shoes very low at Collins'. 12tf

Wanted—To rent—Unfurnished rooms for gentleman and his wife, convenient to the Clark house. Address,
GEO. E. TRUE,
12w3 P. O. Drawer 33.

J. Cooley Tucker has the sole agency for the celebrated grandulated wheat, a food prepared from the best white winter wheat, unleavened, ready cooked for immediate use. It is the best food for invalids and children. As a diet for cases of nervous prostration and debility, constipation and dyspepsia, it is unequaled. It is used in Health Institutions extensively. 10tf

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets. Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expeditiously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. 7tf

Dr. Emens' Yacht Burned.

Shortly before 2 o'clock this morning Night-watchman Poole discovered a bright light in the northern part of the village and immediately sounded the alarm. The fire proved to be the boat house of G. V. Emens, together with his new steam yacht, "Edith." The doctor had been using the boat yesterday, having gone to Three River Point to the picnic. He returned about nine o'clock and put the boat in the house, the fire had been out some time the engine cooler than it has been many times when he has left it. The boat was a new one built this season and was a very handsome little craft. No expense had been spared by Mr. Emens in fitting up the boat, and the fact that he had just begun to enjoy it makes the loss seem greater. The doctor estimates his loss about $400. There was no insurance. Mr. Emens feels positive that the fire did not catch from the engine and can account for it in no way unless it was of incendiary origin.

Snakes! Snakes!

Joseph Meyers, who lives in Scriba, four miles from Oswego, tells the Times-Express that on Thursday his neighbor, David Stone, started to cross the railroad at that place, when he met a monster snake. He attacked the snake and before he knew it he was completed surrounded by the reptiles. He laid about him vigorously with the hoe handle and succeeded in disposing of 142 snakes of five kinds. He then obtained the assistance of Meyers and the two returned to the spot, where there was a ledge of rocks, and pitched into the snake family with all their might and slaughtered them by hundreds.

The Band Tournament.

The band tournament at Granby Center last Saturday evening was very largely attended and was a pronounced success. Four bands were present and discoursed some very fine music. An address was made by Rev. Father Early of this village, which was listened to with close attention. A large number of Fultonians and people from the surrounding country were in attendance. The Baker Hose Co., of Upper Oswego Falls and the Cronyn Hose Co. of Lower Oswego Falls were present in uniform. The tournament netted the Granby Center band a round sum.

The Street Railroad.

The pleasant weather of the past week has enabled the work of laying the track for the street railroad to be rapidly pushed forward. The road is almost finished from the western terminus to the east end of the upper bridge. The work of grading First street below Broadway will be finished by the time the track layers reach that point. The cars are expected to arrive daily and at the outside but a few days will elapse before the "Fulton & Oswego Falls street railway" will be in active operation.

You Must C.

Our signs when you come to Syracuse to trade. Our building is covered with C. C. C. C. We are the only house in Syracuse that sells Clothing, Hats, Caps and Furnishing Goods, and we ask you to look over our low prices. Our number is 20 East Genesee St.

A Temperance Lecture.

Three years ago Dr. Thomas G. Hull of Binghamton went to Port Jarvis in the best of health and strength with plenty of money in his pocket, a host of friends at his back, a loving father and mother, a wife whom he had recently wedded, and with every prospect before him of a long, useful and happy life. Recently he left the depot in charge of an officer on his way to Albany penitentiary having been adjudged a common vagrant. Whiskey did it.

C. W. Blount has just placed in his store one of Lumbard's Improved Steam Feather Renovators and Oilers, something entirely new. The great trouble with all former Renovators was the fact, that by heating them it removes all natural oil and leaves them dry and brittle. This new process removes all impurities and by the oiling process leaves them in their natural state and just as good as new. All are invited to call and examine this new invention.
C. W. BLOUNT,
34 First St. Fulton, N. Y.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Giroux desire to return their heartfelt thanks to the friends and neighbors, who so kindly assisted them during the illness and subsequent death of their son, George.

HARPOON FORKS
for $1.00
—at—
Snow & Loomis' Hardware,
and
Horse Rakes,
Hand Rakes,
Pitch Forks,
Pulley Blocks,
Rope and
Haying Tools,
at equally low prices.

Draper has reduced the price on all holiday goods, fancy crockery, gloves and mittens, sleds, &c., to 10 per cent. less than cost, he is bound to close them all out instead of holding them for next fall's trade.

IMPORTANT TO INVALIDS.
MRS. E. G. DODGE, M. D.
of Oswego,
Clairvoyant and Eclectic Physician,
will be at the Johnson House, in Fulton, Saturday, July 31, where she can be consulted upon the various diseases the human family is afflicted with. All Female Diseases made a specialty.
Consultation Free. 3tf

Boyd's Directory of the City of Syracuse, [illegible]

We have seen nothing of the "fresh air" children.

The Stars beat Oswego yesterday, nine to two.

A telephone has been placed in Lewis' coal office, also one at the coal yard.

The front of J. C. Tucker's store and Snow & Loomis's store have been repainted.

The Rev. James Lamb of Cardillac, Mich., will preach next Sunday in the Presbyterian church.

The Salvation Army of Phœnix have detached themselves from the regular organization and founded an independent corps.

W. C. Clark of Constantia is in town working in the interest of the canal convention which is to be held in Syracuse on August 25th.

Our Washington correspondent is taking a vacation of a few weeks. No more letters from this source will probably be received before the middle of next month.

Chief F. C. Mosher has been elected by the council as a delegate to represent the Fulton fire department to the Firemen's convention in Buffalo, which will be held next month.

Our foreman, who has two "fresh air children" in his household, found the fruits of his onion bed formed into a bouquet as a surprise for him one day last week.—[Adams Journal.

An examination of candidates for the scholarship to which Oswego County is entitled in Cornell University will be held at Pulaski Academy on next Monday, commencing at 9 a. m.

It is expected that Rev. R. H. Pullman formerly pastor of the Universalist church in this village, will occupy the pulpit in that church for a few Sundays during the month of August.

The ladies of the Universalist society will give an ice cream social at the church next Tuesday evening, Aug. 3, on which occassion the quilt will be disposed of. All are cordially invited to be present.

At Oswego Falls, last Saturday a shooting match occurred between the Oswego Falls and Onondaga gun clubs. Each member shot at fifteen Peoria black birds. The Onondaga club won by a score of 100 to 78.

About 10,000 people attended the hop-growers picnic at Sylvan Beach last Saturday. Ninety cars were required to take the multitude to and from the resort and large numbers went also by carriage and on foot.

The work of building 291 feet of apron at Battle Island dam, three miles below this village, began this morning. The work will be done under the direction of L. T. Richardson, superintendent and John Boardman, master mechanic.

The electors of the Prohibition party hold a county convention at Oswego today for the purpose of electing delegates to the congressional convention, to nominate county officers, two assemblymen and to transact other business that may come before the meeting.

The Presbyterian, Methodist, and Baptist Sunday schools united in a picnic to Three River Point yesterday. Although lowery in the morning, the day proved to be an excellent one. The grounds were in good condition and all spent a most enjoyable day. About 400 attended.

The suit between Dr. C. M. Lee and James Hill, which attracted considerable interest in Justice court last week, was concluded Friday evening and a verdict rendered giving the doctor a judgment of $91.00, the amount of his bill. Mr. Hill did not succeed in showing a case of malpractice.

A game of base ball is to be played on the Oswego Falls Fair Grounds Thursday, August 5, between the Oneidas and Fultons. Game called at 2 p. m. The Oneidas are second in the Central New York league. The Fultons have some excellent players and will put a nine in the field that the professionals will have hard work to beat.

Fred Allen of North Volney was arrested yesterday by officer Jones and brought before Police Justice VanWagenen last evening on the charge of having entered the house and stolen a watch from William Vanderveer at North Volney on the night of June 21st last. Allen was elected to give bail to appear before the grand jury. Bail was fixed at $1,000.

The examination of Henry Kennedy, the man who is charged with outraging little Sattie Green in Oswego, last Wednesday, was concluded yesterday. Recorder Bulger of Oswego, before whom the case was tried, said there was evidence enough to hold the prisoner and he was accordingly held, bail being fixed at $5,000. He will probably be obliged to lie in jail until his trial.

The dynamo which is to generate the electricity for the Schuyler system of lights was placed in the upper story of Foster Bros'. knife factory yesterday. The representatives of this company expected to have their lights in operation the early part of the week, but they have been unavoidably delayed. Mr. Rusling, who is here superintending the work, said yesterday that unless something entirely unforeseen occurred, all the lights would be in operation next Saturday evening.

Just received a full line of fruit cans, which we will sell very cheap. Also remember this is the place to buy tinware, crockery, glassware, hosiery, fancy goods etc.
R. A. STOWELL & Co.,
Opera House Block.

Collins & Co. are making great preparations for the fall trade in Boots and Shoes. 12tf

[illegible] of the old Time [illegible] the familiar signs "Positively No Admittance" conspicuously displayed on the doors of the Howe Ventilating Stove Works. A TIMES reporter who dropped into the enterprising manufacturing establishment yesterday was led to believe that either no enforcement of the rule was made or that he was a privileged character, as his welcome was as cordial and the visit made as pleasant as could have been wished for. The interior of the buildings have recently undergone some important changes and improvement, greatly facilitating work in several departments. The moulding room has been enlarged to over double its former capacity and a large new cupola is nearly finished having a capacity of 30,000 pounds of iron a day. Some new machinery has been recently added, among which is a machine to clean castings. This machine alone cost nearly $500. As the reporter stood in the door of the nickel-plating room, intentedly looking at the the men and boys hurrying hither and thither with arms full of the white, glittering pieces of metal, the gentlemanly foreman, Mr. I. T. Capron, with a smile of welcome and extended hand came toward him. Vaguely wondering "if that black would come off" the reporter crossed the threshold and was soon hopelessly lost in the different processes of polishing, nickle-plating, buffing, etc. One of the buffing wheels which had the appearance, as it rapidly revolved of a solid emery wheel, proved when it came to a stand-still, to be composed of layers of soft muslin fastened upon a hub. While the wheel was standing still, the layers of cloth could be opened like the leaves of a book. When in rapid motion, the centrifugal force keeps the layers rigid, giving it the appearance and enabling it to do the work of a solid wheel. The idea that one's finger would make an impression on this wheel while it was making 1,600 revolutions per minute, was, upon trial found to be entirely wrong. The only impression made was upon the end of the finger.

The new model of stoves which are being manufactured at present, are much handsomer than those of last winter. Several new features have been introduced, giving the stove a much better appearance. It is expected that when the works reach their full capacity, that nearly double the number of stoves will be turned out. Wherever the Howe stove has been used unlimited praise has been accorded it, and it is said that sales the coming fall and winter will far exceed those of last season.

Our New Principal.

Prof. Clapp and family are preparing to remove to Fulton, where as we have before announced, he will assume the management of the Fulton graded school. Their departure from Phœnix is much regretted by the community at large, and more especially by the students and patrons of the academy. During a residence of nearly twenty years he has labored assiduously to promote the best interest of the school and has seen it advance until it now ranks among the best. Scattered far and wide are its graduates, many of them filling positions of trust and responsibility with credit to themselves and the institution that sent them forth. With loyal pride they turn to their Alma Mater and render honor to whom honor is due. Prof. and Mrs. Clapp have been happy in their social relations; their home has been a pleasant one, and their receptions the most enjoyable. The M. E. church and Sunday school, where for years they have been efficient members, feel that a wide void will be made in their society—that an element of strength and wisdom will be missed from their councils, and a genial spirit from their festivities. The best wishes of the community go with Prof. Clapp and family to their new home which is to be reared in the pleasant village of Fulton.[Phœnix Register.

Marital.

Cards are out announcing the marriage next Wednesday evening of Fred Gardner of this village and Miss Nettie Stevenson of Upper Oswego Falls. The ceremony will be performed at the home of the lady's parents. THE TIMES offers congratulation in advance.

Frederick Aker of Oswego Falls and Miss Rosa Levi of Fulton were married Monday evening at the residence of the officiating clergyman, Rev. H. B. Goodyear.

A Great Concern.

The proprietor of the 4 C's, E. Samuel & Son, have seven large Clothing houses under their control at Chicago, St. Louis, Rochester, and Syracuse. They buy their goods by the car load and thus undersell all small concerns. When you go to Syracuse call on the C. C. C. C. Clothiers, Hatters, and Furnishers 20 East Genesee St.

OBITUARY.

George Giroux, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Giroux, died Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, after a long and painful illness, aged 7 years. Funeral services were held from the house, Rev. H. B. Goodyear officiating. The remains were interred in Mt. Adnah.

Oswego Falls.

Miss Bertha Lawrence now sings in the Congregational church choir.

William Grigson is having a fine house built for himself on Hannibal street.

Ovid Taft of this place won the Richardson medal, valued at $25, which was shot for at the picnic of the Oswego County Leatherstocking Club at Mexico Point, last Wednesday.

The Congregational Sunday school hold a picnic at Three River Point next Saturday. Full fare for the round trip is 25 cents, for children 15 cents.

The last issue of the Observer contains a strong article, showing the need of a better police force and the open violation of the law in selling liquor on Sunday in the village.

G. J. Emeny has the contract to build a brick block adjoining Geo. Johnston's on the east, for Mr. Fitchett of Canada. It will be a three story brick building similar to the Johnston block with a store below, living rooms on the second floor and a hall above.—Observer.

[illegible]

Commencing
Saturday, July 17th, '86,
We shall give away Tickets for the Oswego Falls Fair. With every sale that amounts to $8 one Season Ticket, to $2 one admittance Ticket.
PEEBLES & COOK
THE CLOTHIERS,
Opposite Opera House.

JUST OPENED!
—A LARGE LINE OF—
Tinware, Woodenware,
Glassware, Crockery,
TOYS, DOLLS, STATIONERY, GLOVES, HOSIERY, HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS, CLOTHES WRINGERS, WASHTUBS, BASKETS &c., &c.
To be sold at prices that will surprise you. We positively will not be undersold.
Call and be Convinced.
Stowell's 25 Cent and Bargain Store,
Opera House Block, Fulton, N. Y.

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

Hale's Honey the great Cough cure, 25c., 50c. & $1
Glenn's Sulphur Soap heals & beautifies, 25c.
German Corn Remover kills Corns & Bunions
Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye—Black and Brown, 50c.
Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 Minute, 25c
Dean's Rheumatic Pills are a sure cure, 50c.

WORM DESTROYER.

Mrs. Butler's Compound Worm Tonic effectually destroyes worms, naturalizes the stomach and bowels, and acts as a permanent tonic, and is an exceedingly beneficial and certain cure for fever, diarrhea, dry hacking cough and weak, feeble children, as thousands testify Also cures fits and dizziness. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 28y1.

You will save time and money by buying your field and garden seeds in bulk. A large stock just received at D. C. Draper's 15 Oneida street, and for sale at the lowest living rates by the bushel, quart or pound.

Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares. two years ago, and find it very durable and economical.
HART BROS.

The trial of the Anarchists is going on in Chicago.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

MILTON S. PRICE'S
Great Special Offering.
I SHALL OPEN THIS DAY
Best Bargains this Season.

Seventy five pieces ARLINGTON FANCY DRESS GOODS, only 20c. and 25c. per yard. Recently sold at 40c. and 50c. per yard.

Fifty Pieces GILBERT'S CELEBRATED SUITINGS, in Mixtures, Silk Wool Fancy Checks and Diagonal Fancies, only 50c. a yard; worth $1.

Ten pieces Extra Quality CASHMERE ROYAL BLACK SILKS, only $1.00 per yard; elsewhere $1.50.

Twenty Pieces BLACK SATIN RHADAMES, only 75c., 89c., $1.00 $1.25 and $1.50 per yard. All Real Bargains.

Five Cases INDIA CRINKLES, only 6c., worth 12½c.

Ten Cases STANDARD PRINTS, only 4c. per yard.

Five Cases SEERSUCKER GINGHAMS, only 6¼c. per yard, worth 10c.

Ten Cases BEST SPRING STYLES PRINTS, only 4c. per yard.

One hundred and Fifty Pieces NAINSOOK CHECKS, only 4c. and 6¼c. per yard.

Fifty Pieces Spring Tide SATIN PLAIDS AND CHECKS, only 12½c. per yard.

SPECIAL PRICES ON
Parasols and Sun Umbrellas.
NEW ASSORTMENTS
Rich Chantilly and Spanish Guipure Laces Flounces, &c.
Purchasers will find it to their interest to examine these rare bargains at MILTON S. PRICE'S.

HOTTER THAN ——!*
Consequently we have a large stock of Seersucker Coats and Vests, Alpaca Coats &c., and a full line of Men's Gauze Undershirts and Drawers in all sizes, and can dress you up so comfortably that you will not mind the extreme heat or the slight expense.
We still have a large stock of Men's and Boys' Suits that we shall sell very low to close out. Call and see the bargains we are offering.
D. C. MORE & CO.
The Reliable one Priced Dealers, First Street, Opp. Lewis House, Fulton, N. Y.
* To be supplied by the reader.

[illegible] FULTON TIMES

Wednesday, July 28, 1886.

WORTH KNOWING.

On smooth land always tend corn with the cultivator, instead of the plow. It saves time and labor.

The farmers of the country are said to have sold $20,000,000,000 worth of products during the last twenty years.

More sleep and less stimulant will make haying and harvesting go easier. Boycott bottles and jugs.

The following are said to be symptoms of hog cholera: Drooping ears, low-hanging head, diarrhœa, vomiting, rapid breath and an aversion to light.

In using Paris green on potatoes and other plants keep the poultry confined, as the Paris green is poisonous to fowls, the smallest quantity often proving fatal.

A nurseryman can often tell what he can do himself, but it is hard to go bonds for a tree that somebody else is going to handle.

Mr. Rushington, a Hendricks county, Ind., farmer, will have to pay $225 for writing his address on a paper in order to let an agent know to whom he should ship ten gallons of paint at $2 25 a gallon.

Keep the strawberry runners pinched off and manure well, if you expect large berries next year. No grass or weeds must be allowed among them, and frequent cultivation should be bestowed.

The best mode of treating grape vines that do not grow is to cut them off near the ground and allow new shoots to spring up, which may be trained the same as new vines and which will be productive.

Fences cost, on most farms, each year, more than taxes, and they are becoming more and more costly as material gets scarce. The true policy is to take up interior fences so far as practicable.

Unless butter be kept in a moist atmosphere the water of the brine will evaporate, leaving the salt on the outside. Any good butter, says Mr. Alvord, will show this dry salt if exposed long enough in very dry air.

No doubt the orchard is a good paymaster, but while the unjust should not expect more than six per cent interest the just may receive six hundred. Let the grower do his duty the trees will do their's, and more.

The grape is a prolific bearer and quite apt to suffer injury from over-bearing. Care is necessary in the treatment of young vines. It may be no harm to leave a bunch, or even two, when the vine is in its second year.

Any kind of grass is suited to hogs, although they prefer clover, and in this they agree with most other animals, and teach by their good sense or instict the scientific fact that it is the best-balanced forage plant within our reach.

The person of resources is the person of strength. The successful farmer is one who is rich in experience, in hope, in energy, and in that quiet assurance which enables him to deal on even terms with men of every condition.

The greatest curse to farming in the south is the custom of putting a mortgage upon growing crops.

Kill venomous snakes, but not harmless ones. These destroy insects and worms, and much small vermin that is hurtful to the crops.

The Florida Agriculturist tells about an enterprising farmer in that state who proposes to gather four crops from the same piece of ground in one year. First he raised and harvested garden peas, then he put in onions, and they have just been gathered and sweet potatoes set out. The latter will be ready to dig in November, when the ground will be sown with oats for forage.

Farm Notes for August.

August may be a very busy month, yet there is no month in the year when farmers can better take a play spell, and make a journey to the mountains, or to the seaside with their families, tarrying on the way to visit friends, or famous stock farms, or dairies or cheese factories, or other objects of interest. Summer crops are "laid by," the turnip crop is in, winter grains are safe in stack or mow, spring grains may be ready to cut, and as soon as this is done, comes the farmer's holiday. How much good it does the family, you can be spared from the superintendence of the house, the farm, and the diary, to take such a vacation. All should have their turn, though they can go but one or two at a time; and no one should be more sure to go than she whom it is so hard to persuade to leave, even for one day, the daily round of home duties—the good house mother. Turnips will make a good crop, sown the first week in August; even Swenes do well on light, rich land, and the small roots is big around as a pint cup, are more marketable than bigger ones. After the rains have softened the sward, we may plow for wheat, and in some sections it is a great advantage to sow early and seed to grass. In some sections the practice of early seeding to grass, without the intervention of a grain crop, is successfully followed. This only abstracts value from the soil which would otherwise be appropriated by the grass. Early plowing is a great advantage to land intended for winter grain, especially if weedy, or if somewhat stiff; repeated working mellows the soil, makes sure of a good catch of grass seed and defends against winter killing. In case the season is dry—and it generally is, over a great part of the country—no more favorable time can be selected for digging drains with a view to improving swamps. If the actual reclaiming cannot now be pushed, the land may easily be dried, so that it can be grubbed and further ditched during the autumn and winter.—[American Agriculturist.

Large Cities.

According to the latest general censuses and estimates at hand to the common date of 1881, the number of cities in the world of at least 200,000 inhabitants is ninety-six. Of these the United States has ten, the United Kingdom eleven, Germany proper five, Italy five, France four, Russia four, and the rest of Europe ten. Africa boasts only two, [illegible] two, and Mexico one. China [illegible] by these authorities with [illegible] cities of the class [illegible] seven, Japan four, and [illegible] a total for Asia of [illegible]

[illegible]

It is the first duty of a woman to be a lady. Good breeding is good sense. Bad manners in women is immorality. Awkwardness may be ineradicable. Bashfulness is constitutional. Ignorance of etiquette is the result of circumstances. All can be abandoned, and do not banish man or woman from the amenities of their kind. But self-possession, unshrinking and aggressive coarseness of demeanor may be reckoned as a state prison offense, and certainly merits that mild form of restraint called imprisonment for life. It is a shame for women to be lectured on their manners. It is a bitter shame that they need it. Women are umpires of society. It is they to whom all mooted points should be referred. To be a lady is more than to be a prince. A lady is always in her right inalienably worthy of respect. To a lady prince and peasant alike bow. Do not be restrained. Do not have impulses that need restraint. Do not wish to dance with the prince unsought; feel differently. Be such that you confer your honor. Carry yourself so loftily that men shall look up to you for reward, not at you in rebuke. The natural sentiment of man toward woman is reverence. He loses a large means of grace when he is obliged to account her a being to be trained into propriety. A man's ideal is not wounded when a woman fails in worldly wisdom; but if in grace, in tact, in sentiment, in delicacy, in kindness, she should be found wanting, he receives an inward hurt.

How to Treat Boys.

Get hold of the boy's heart. Yonder locomotive comes like a whirlwind down the track, and a regiment of armed men might seek to arrest it in vain. It would crush them and unheeding them plunge on. But there is a little lever in its mechanism that, at the pressure of a man's hand, will slacken its speed and bring it panting and still like a whipped spaniel at your feet. By a similar little lever is the vast steamer guided hither and yonder upon the ocean in spite of the wind and tide. That sensitive and responsive spot by which a boy's life is controlled is his heart. With your grasp gently and firmly on that helm, you may pilot him whither you will. Bad and wilful boys very often have the tenderest hearts, hidden away somewhere beneath the incrustations of sin or behind barricades of pride. It is your business to get at that heart; to keep hold of it by sympathy, confiding in him, manifestly working only for his good; by little indirect kindnesses to those he loves, or even to his pet dog. If you meet him on the street recognize him, shake his hand, show that you have some interest in him. Provide him some little pleasure; set him at some little service of trust for you; love him; love him practically. Any way and every way rule him through his heart. His love will be your reward.—[Baptist Weekly.

Method of Printing Postage Stamps.

The mode of printing postage stamps is slow and tedious. The design is engraved on steel and plates are made for 200 stamps. This number forms a sheet and no larger number is ever printed at one impression. The colored inks are now placed on the plates and a hand press completes the printing process. The gum, a preparation of powdered vegetables and water, is put on the sheets and steam is used until thoroughly dry. The sheets are cut into halves, 100 stamps each, by hand, and the paper between the stamps is perforated in the same manner. The stamps are pressed and packed ready for sale. The sheets are counted after each step of completion, and should one stamp on a sheet be mutilated or imperfect the whole 200 are destroyed. It was found that there was more destruction of stamps when machinery was used than when the work was done by hand. Five hundred thousand stamps were sometimes destroyed in a week.—[Detroit Free Press.

Wilkins' Star Proverbs.

*Idle and lazy men catch the devil.

*The sequel to a fortune is to seek well.

*The road to economy is a prudent byway.

*He is truly unfortunate whose ambition outdistances his ability.

*There may be no law against one's being sick but it is ill legal.

*The utterances of men are quoted even though the authors are not quoted.

*Froth on beer is like the husks on the ear—to be peeled off before consuming.

*Not a sparrow falls, but that some hunter lays claim to having shot a partridge.—[Whitehall Times.

Machinery for the Panama Canal.

Some interesting figures have been put together showing the enormous extent to which the Palama Canal company has been the purchasers of machinery. There at the present at work en route, or in course of construction, no less than 200 European locomotives of 19,200-horse power, 60 American locomotives of 4,800-horse power, 116 excavators, 28 large tugs, 144 steam pumps, 67 traction engines, and a vast number of other steam appliances, amounting in all to 57,400-horse power.

Thirty Years' Gold Coinage.

Between 1850 and 1880 the world minted £1,022,000,000 of gold, yet the stock of gold coin in the latter year exceeded that of 1850 by only £490,000,000; the money had been twice minted in thirty years. During that interval the average coinage of the world had been £34,000,000 per annum, of which £18,000,000 consisted of gold coin and the remaining £16,000,000 were made up partly from the mines, partly from old candlesticks, snuff-boxes, etc., from the last generation.

Various Cakes.

For the creditor—Short cake.
For the singer—Do(ugh) cake.
For the sailor—Currant cake.
For the tramp—Sponge cake.
For the drunkard—Drop cake.
For the farmer—Hoe cake.
For the cowboy—Plain cake.
For the man with bunions—Corn cake.
For the house-builder—Raisin' cake.
—[Exchange.

"My physicians said I could not live. My liver out of order, frequently vomited greenish mucous, skin yellow, small dry humors on face, [illegible]

One [illegible] and it is in [illegible] the strength and [illegible] great [illegible] of roots, herbs, barks, [illegible] and [illegible] known for their power in purifying the blood; and in combination, proportion, and process, Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself.

"For economy and comfort we use Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. C. BREWSTER, Buffalo.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla takes less time and quantity to show its effect than any other preparation I ever heard of. I would not be without it in the house." MRS. C. A. M. HUBBARD, North Chili, N. Y. 100 Doses

One Dollar

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, all humors, boils, pimples, general debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney and liver complaints, and all affections caused by impure blood or low condition of the system. Try it.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. I took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. My whole system has been built up and strengthened, my digestion improved, and my head relieved of the bad feeling. I consider it the best medicine I have ever used, and should not know how to do without it." MARY L. PEELE, Salem, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass

100 Doses One Dollar.

REV. DR. FREELAND, of Fowlerville, N. Y. writes us that two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine cured his wife of nervousness and sleeplessness. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

IMPOTENCY IN MAN OR WOMAN quickly cured by Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is the great remedy for women and children. 128 doses for $1.00. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

REV. E. J. WHITNEY, of Clarkson, N. Y., says: Gilmore's Wine for Female Weakness stands without a rival. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

WANTED. A case of Female Weakness, General Debility or Nervous Exhaustion that Gilmore's Aromatic Wine will not cure. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MIDDLE AGE MEN who lack vigor and vitality should use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. It gives nutriment to the brain and is a tonic to the physical system. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MRS. I. H. McINTIRE, of Daggetts Mills, Pa., says: "My daughter, aged sixteen, has been declining some time. She used two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. She is now well. I would advise all mothers having girls not to be one day without it. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

LADIES, use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine, it will cure you. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE makes a lady beautiful, because it gives her good, rich blood.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is a positive cure for all those painful complaints so common to all our best female population. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, the Postmaster General made 176 appointments by increase, 437 resignations took effect and 459 removals were made, including 227 for partisanship. The total number of appointments made during the year was 1,327, and since March 4th, 1885, 2,030.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guaranteed. 27eow

There is talk about nominating T. V. Powderly for governor of Pennsylvania on the Democratic ticket. He is also mentioned as a candidate for Congress in the twelfth district of his state.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

They say that Attorney General Garland laughs a loud derisive laugh every time he hears any talk about his resigning.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

The acting secretary of the treasury has issued a call for $4,000,000 of the three per cent. loan of 1882.

AN END TO BONE SCRAPING.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well." Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklin's Arnica Salve at 25c. per box by R. E. Phillips.

Philadelphia shows on increase in the valuation of its real estate this year over last of upward of fourteen millions.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

As a remedy for Pulmonary Afflictions and Scrofulous Diseases.

Dr. IRA M. LANG—a prominent physician in New York, says:—I am greatly pleased with your Emulsion. Have found it very serviceable in above diseases, and it is easily administered on account of its palatableness. 11w4

During the year ending June 30, 328,927 immigrants arrived in the United States, as compared with 349,030 the previous year.

If you experience a bad taste in the mouth, sallowness or yellow color of skin, feel stupid and drowsy, appetite unsteady, frequent headache or dizziness, you are "bilious," and nothing will arouse your liver to action and strengthen up your system like Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." By druggists.

The President of the Cambridge, Mass. Fire Ins. Co., recommends Hoods Sarsaparilla, as a building up and strengthening remedy.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. [illegible] United States. [illegible] bottle. [illegible] Soothing Syrup. [illegible]

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights Obtained, and all other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES. Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,
The Old Reliable
UNDERTAKER
AND
FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best.

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 5tf

George Fassell
DEALER IN
Marble and Granite
MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH,
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.
Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium
Stock Lager.

☞ Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

SCOTT'S EMULSION
OF PURE COD LIVER OIL
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda
Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼ton
Stove	$4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
Mix	4.50	2.38	1.31
No. 4	4.75	2.50	1.38
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Pea	2.50	1.88	1.06

☞ Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.

☞ Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.

THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

COAL WAY DOWN !

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.50	$1.88	$1.06
Stove	4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
No. 4	4.75	2.50	1.38
Egg	4 25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Mixed	4.50	2.38	1.31

Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest Cleanest, Best.
FOR SALE BY
O. [illegible]

KASKINE [illegible]
NO BAD EFFECT.
NO HEADACHE.
NO NAUSEA.
No RINGING EARS.
CURES QUICKLY.
PLEASANT, PURE.

A POWERFUL TONIC.
Kaskine Restores Perfect Health.

In Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful."

In St. Francis Hospital, N. Y., "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Dr. L. R. White, U. S. Examining Surgeon, says: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Glessner, has cured over 220 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says: "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, M. D., says: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

IS THE ONLY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD THAT DESTROYS THE GERMS OF DISEASE IN THE BLOOD, and permanently cures all diseases arising therefrom, such as Malaria, Fevers, Rheumatism, Billiousness, &c., and IS THE GRANDEST TONIC EVER DISCOVERED. Removes nervous prostration and premature decay by disinfecting the blood, so that the starving nerves are supplied with life giving nourishment, bringing back the VIGOR AND POWER OF YOUTH.

Send for the great list of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine.

Price $1 per bottle. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price. Agents wanted everywhere.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., New York.

For Sale by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y.

George LaBlanche, the Boston prize fighter, told a Buffalo reporter that less than four years ago he was a conductor on the New York Central railroad, between Syracuse and Buffalo, He said he was also a marine at the Charlestown barracks. Hence his name "The Marine."

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

Send for Pamphlet on Female Diseases mailed free, securely sealed. Dr. J. B Marchisi, Utica, N. Y. 20tf.

Boston has 83 miles of streets, and pays $150,000 a year to keep them clean. New York has 350 miles of thoroughfare, and pays $1,200,000 for cleaning them. Philadelphia claims to have 800 miles of streets, and yet only allows $200,000 a year for cleaning them.

TAKE WARNING

And don't let the germ of the vile disease, catarrh, take root and flourish in your system. Sulphur Bitters will prevent this and make you strong and healthy.—[Editor Weekly Press.

Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, says that Portland is one of the wealthiest cities in the United States. It has at least twelve millionaires and a large number of men who are worth over half a million.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

The gift of a cardinal's hat will cost Archbishop Gibbons of Baltimore from $20,000 to $25,000, part of which will go to pay the expenses of the official who brought it over.

Our readers are cautioned about buying medicines which are not endorsed by some well known druggist. H. C Gisler, has made a thorough study of Blood diseases, and after a careful investigation, and many practical tests, postively asserts that Acker's Blood Elixir will cure all blood disorders, ridding the system of its impurities, and leaving it strong, vigorous and healthy. he will warrent it. It is a certain cure or all skin diseases. 27eow Money issued in 1778 and 1779 by Congress has no value save for curiosity hunters. After a certain date it was not redeemable.

Woman and Her Diseases.

is the title of an interesting illustrated treaties (160 pages) sent post-paid, for 10 cents in stamps. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Superintendent Murray of the New York police, has forbidden the grinding of band-organs before 9 o'clock in the morning and after 9 at night.

GOOD RESULTS IN EVERY CASE.

D. A. Bradford, wholesale paper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes that he was seriously afflicted with a severe cold that settled on his lungs; had tried many remedies without benefit. Being induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, did so and was entirely cured by use of a few bottles. Since which time he has used it in his family for all Coughs and Colds with best results. This is the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this Wonderful Discovery. Trial Bottles free at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

Roses seventeen and eighteen inches in circumference are common products of Southern California.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian ough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

Experience has shown that 130 feet is the greatest depth to which divers may safely descend.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St, Phila., Pa. 42y1

The King of Siam's new-born son is named George Washington.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Oiniment emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.
ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopœia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is [illegible]

[illegible]
And the Katydid
In the leaves is hid,
And out of the cherry tree the kid
Comes a-tumbling down
On his scraggy crown,
And would a saw-mill's racket drown.
—[Puck.

HIS SHAKERS.

SHE'S FOOLING HIM.

On country fare
In country air,
Now Mabel spends the summer days;
She rides to mart
Upon a cart—
Gets tanned beneath the sun's hot rays;
And, just for sport,
Lets Reuben court
Her, love upon his face all brown;
But like a flash
His heart she'll slash,
And fool him when she gets to town :
—[Tid-Bits.

The biggest thing on ice—the price.—[Puck.

Give a tramp ten cents for car fare and he will take a schooner.—[New Orleans Picayune.

Poet—And you will print my poem? Editor—Yes, sir; in the puzzle department.—[Tid-Bits.

The "bored of trade,"—dry goods clerks waiting on lady customers who "only come to see."—[Goodall's Sun.

"Where is the best place to get fat?" asked a thin housekeeper of a neighbor. "All over," was the unexpected reply.—[Pittsburg Chronicle.

The woman seems to be getting further and further ahead of the bustle.—[Puck.

People going on excursions are so happy to get home that they are glad they went.—[New Orleans Picayune.

Some philosopher says: "Walk as if your body had a man in it." That would apply very well to a cannibal when he had finished his missionary stew.—[Texas Siftings.

Butcher (to young housekeeper)—I have nothing left, mum, but a hindquarter of lamb and liver. Young housekeeper—Very well. You may send a small hindquarter of liver.—[Life.

At the club: Breakfast time. "Waitaw." "Yessir." "Give me, aw, some oatmeal, a tomataw salad, a woll and a pint of St. Julien." "Yessir. And a nice little steak or a chop, sir?" "Steak! Chop! Cuss it! Do you think I am a twuck dwivar?"—[Town Topics.

Smith—I saw you carrying home a couple of nice-looking watermelons last night, Brown. What did they cost you? Brown—I don't know yet. The doctor is up at the house now.—[Life.

"Have you heard Miss Simpson sing since she returned from Europe?" "Several times." "Do you think she has improved?" "Very much." "In what particular?" "She doesn't sing so much as she used to."—[Musical Journal.

Boy—"Father wants three pounds of steak, and I will bring the money around to-morrow." Butcher—"Wait until to morrow comes, bub, and then you won't have to make two trips."—[Judge.

"Anybody that knows a thing before it happens is called a reporter," was the definition written on the slate of an eight-year old boy in one of the public schools yesterday.—[Boston Journal.

"Brown, I say, that dinner was immense. By George, sir, your wife's a treasure!" "You have hit it right, Robby my boy," (somewhat sadly,) "but I do sometimes think I would like to lay up my treasure in Heaven."—[Lynn Union.

"Economy is wealth." If the person who invented the proverb will call at this office any afternoon, we will present him a goodly supply of economy for half its face value in wealth. We have more economy than we really need.—[Palmer Journal.

"Are you feeling better, Mr. Featherly?" asked Bobby at the dinner table.

"Feeling better? I haven't been sick, Bobby."

"I didn't know," said Bobby, indifferently. "Ma an' pa were talking about your genealogy last night, and ma said it couldn't be much worse. I supposed you were sick."—[New York Times.

"Mamie," said a young man in an ice cream saloon, toying with his check: "Do you know that a chemist has discovered tyrotoxicon in ice cream?" "Has he, though" answered Mamie, manifesting pleasurable surprise. "I wondered what made it taste so good. I could eat another plate of it." And the young man mentally cursed the lamentable failure of his scheme.—[Norristown Herald.

The Walking is Good.

"How much vhas a ticket to Lansing?" he asked at the Third street depot yesterday.

"Two forty."

"Make him $2."

"No, sir."

"But I like to go oudt undt see my brudder."

"The price is two forty, sir."

"How far was he?"

"Eighty-six miles."

"I gif you $2, und mebbe I go oudt again next fall."

"No, sir."

"You don't take him?"

"No sir."

"My frendt, dot vhas all right. I like to see my brudder, but now I doan' go oudt."

"Can't help that."

"Mebbe you think my brudder comes in to see me und gifs you two forty. You vhas off. He valks eafery shtep of der way, und you doan' get so much as one look mit his coat-tails! My frendt, good-day?"

"isn't that Mrs. Holmes? I thought the doctors gave her up. She looks well now."

"She is well. After the doctors gave up her case she tried Dr. Pierce's 'Favorite Prescription' and began to get better right away. I heard her say not long ago, that she hadn't felt so well in twenty years. She does her own work and says that life seems worth living, at last. 'Why,' said she, 'I feel as if I had been raised from the dead, almost.'" Thus do thousands attest the marvelous efficacy of this God-given remedy for female weakness, prolapsus, ulceration, leucorrhœa, morning sickness, weakness of stomach, tendency to cancerous disease, nervous prostration, general debility and kindred affections.

Pretty little Alice Freeman, the President of Wellesley College, is only twenty-eight, but they say, she has at her tongue's end and almost perfect mastery of [illegible]

[illegible]

WHAT IS IT?

A strictly vegetable preparation, composed of a choice and skillful combination of Nature's best remedies. The discoverer does not claim it a cure for all the ills, but boldly warrants it cures every form of disease arising from a torpid liver, impure blood, disordered kidneys, and where there is a broken down condition of the System, requiring a prompt and permanent tonic, it never fails to restore the sufferer. Such is BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS. Sold by all druggists, who are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the price to any purchaser who is not benefited by their use.

PRICE, $1.00.

FOSTER, MILBURN & CO., Preps.,

BUFFALO, NEW YORK.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take BLUE PILLS or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately. Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or high-colored?

IT IS Dangerous!

Don't Wait! Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use Sulphur Bitters! Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is The Invalid's Friend. The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

Golden Medical Discovery.

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ANTICHRIST!

ST. John wrote "Ye have heard that Antichrist shall come." The prophecies on that mysterious subject in the book of Revelation and in Daniel are fully explained in a commentary entitled "CHRIST ON THE THRONE OF POWER AND ANTICHRIST." The old interpretation is followed, except that the vast progress of modern times enables us to see farther into prophecy than formerly. Now can be seen signs of the coming of that formidable "Army of 200,000 thousands breathing out of their mouths smoke, fire and brimstone." No age before this has made such use of the mouth in teaching, lecturing and telephoning; nor of the press, in newspapers, books and pamphlets, for weal or woe. A few more explosions of dynamite like that in Chicago and a farther exposure of the hidden depravity of the Anarchists, may enable men to see signs of the speedy coming of "The Man of Sin" to whom John gave the name of Antichrist. It is a book of 267 pages octavo, in large type, sent by mail for $1.25. An Agent Wanted in every Town. Address

REV. F. C. BROWN,
Rochester, New York.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE
BEST IN THE WORLD
☞ Get the Genuine. Sold Everywhere.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 981 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ASTHMA AND CATARRH. Dr. H. W. Read's Celebrated Asthma and Catarrh Relief, the most effectual and sure cure yet discovered. Samples sent free to all who ask. Fifty cent and dollar boxes sent by mail. A. ETHRIDGE, Proprietor, Rome, N. Y.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure. By JOHN H. McALVIN, Lowell, Mass. 14 years tax collector. Sent free to any address.

MOTH-WAX
KILLS THE MOTH

and the old Moth Miller. Sample cake by mail 6 cents. W. H. H. CHILDS, 73 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

FRENCH'S HOTEL.

CITY HALL SQUARE, NEW YORK,
Opposite City Hall and the Post Office.

This Hotel is one of the most complete in its appointments and furniture of ANY HOUSE in New York City and is conducted on the European Plan.

Rooms only One Dollar per day. Half minute's walk from Brooklyn Bridge and Elevated R. R. All lines of cars pass the door. Most convenient Hotel in New York for Merchants to stop at. Dining Rooms, Cafes and Lunch Counter replete with all the luxuries at moderate prices. 8y1

WRITE TO N. A. MILLER, Elmira, N. Y. President of the Elmira School of Commerce and ALLEN BUSINESS COLLEGE, for a catalogue of the Leading Business Training Institution of America. Gold Prize $50.

2,000 AGENTS WANTED for the NEW WORK.

GLADSTONE—PARNELL AND THE GREAT IRISH STRUGGLE.

By the eminent author, HON. T. P. O'CONNOR, M. P. for Liverpool, and R. M. McWADE, Esq. Endorsed by HON. C. S. PARNELL. A thrilling history of Irish oppression and the mighty struggle for Home Rule that is rocking the British Empire to its centre; also Biographies of the leaders. An entirely new work from high authority, of all absorbing interest, richly illustrated, and an immense demand. ☞ Apply quickly to

W. A. HOUGHTON & CO.,
18 East 14th St., New York.

$100 PER WEEK to good salesmen Exclusive territory Write for particulars. IMPERIAL FIRE EXTINGUISHER CO., Stewart Building, N. Y.

[illegible]

LEGAL.

SURROGATE'S COURT.

During the year 1886, terms of the Surrogate court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

PHOENIX—At the Surrogate's office in Phoenix on Monday of each week, except in the month of August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Thursday in each month, except August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, January 22d, and on the third Friday in March, May, June, Sept., Nov. and Dec.

FULTON—At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Tuesday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the third Friday in April, and July, and the fourth Friday in October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 29th and September 30th.

PARISH—At A. N. & J. S. Ladington's law office, April 30th, July 30th and Sept. 30th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 19th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 12th, 1886.

CAROLINE L. ALFRED,
Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against F. D. VanWagenen, late of the Village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the office of F. D. VanWagenen, No. 16, First St., Fulton, N. Y., in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 12th day of August, 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1886.

ANN VANWAGENEN, Executrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886.

LUCY K. HUBBARD,
Executrix.

FORECLOSURE SALE.

SUPREME COURT—OSWEGO COUNTY.

The Fulton Savings Bank vs. Letson LaDu and others. By virtue of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action at a Special Term of the Supreme Court held at the Court House, in the city of Syracuse, Onondaga county, N. Y., on the 5th day of June, 1886, and duly filed and entered in the clerk's office of Oswego county on the 7th day of June, 1886, I the undersigned Referee duly appointed in and by said judgment and decree to make such sale will sell at public auction to the highest bidder at the law office of Piper & VanWagenen, in the village of Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y., on the 4th day of Sept., 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day the mortgaged premises in and by said judgment and decree directed to be sold and described therein as follows, to wit: all that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Volney, county of Oswego and State of New York upon Lot number seventy-five (75) of the 17th Township of Scriba's Patent, Beginning at the north-west corner of O. Cone's division of 52 31-100 acres and running thence south 2 deg. east along the west line of said Cone's 52 31-100 acres thirty-seven (37) chains ninety-four (94) links to a stake, thence north 89 degrees west parallel to the south line of said Lot 75 fourteen (14) chains, fifteen (15) links to a stake, thence north 2 degrees west along a line of marked trees seventeen (17) chains ninety-four (94) links to a stake in south line of Samuel A. Williams' 30 acres laid off from said lot 75, thence south 89 degrees east along the south line of said Williams' 30 acres two (2) chains sixty-three (63) links to a stake at the south-east corner of said Williams' 30 acres; thence north 2 degrees west along the east line of said Williams 30 acres twenty (20) chains to a stake on the north line of said lot 75; thence south 89° east along said north line eleven (11) chains ninety-three (93) links to the place of beginning, containing 50 acres of land—excepting however from the above described 50 acres a parcel of ten (10) acres from the north end thereof heretofore conveyed to O. Cone and a parcel of 8 8-10 acres from the south end thereof heretofore conveyed to Alfred Hudgin and excepting also a parcel of three (3) acres heretofore released from the operations of said mortgage from the west side of said mortgaged premises and conveyed by said Letson LaDu and wife to Orville Dunsmore by deed recorded in Oswego county clerk's office, in Liber 189 of deeds, at page 224, leaving 23 2-10 acres be the same more or less.

Dated July 20, 1886.

N. N. STRANAHAN,
Referee.

PIPER & VANWAGENEN,
Attys for Plff,
Fulton, N. Y.

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

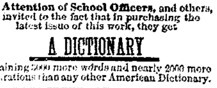
Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
Mix	4.50	2.38	1.31
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Pea	3.50	1.88	1.06

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

WEBSTER'S
UNABRIDGED
With or without Patent Index.



The Attention of School Officers, and others, is invited to the fact that in purchasing the latest issue of this work, they get

A DICTIONARY

containing 3000 more words and nearly 2000 more illustrations than any other American Dictionary.

A GAZETTEER OF THE WORLD

containing over 25,000 Titles, with their pronunciation and a vast amount of other information, (just added, 1885) and

A BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY

giving pronunciation of names and brief facts concerning nearly 10,000 Noted Persons; also various tables giving valuable information.

ALL IN ONE BOOK.

Webster's Unabridged Dictionary is recommended by the State Superintendents of Schools in 36 States, and by leading College Presidents of the United States and Canada. It is Standard Authority with the United States Supreme Court, and in the Government Printing Office. It has been selected in every case where State Purchases have been made for Schools, and is the Dictionary upon which nearly all the school books are based.

GET THE LATEST AND BEST.

It is an invaluable companion in every School and at every Fireside.

G. & C. MERRIAM & CO., Pub'rs, Springfield, Mass.

CATARRH

HAY FEVER is attended by an inflamed condition of the lining membrane of the nostrils, teardnets and throat. An acrid mucous is secreted, accompanied with a burning sensation severe spasms of sneezing, frequent attacks of headache, watery and inflamed eyes.

HAY-FEVER

Cream Balm can be depended upon to give relief at once and cures.

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. Circulars free.

ELY BROTHERS,
Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

ADVERTISERS or others, who wish to examine this paper, or obtain estimates on advertising space when in Chicago, will find it on file at 45 to 49 Randolph St., the Advertising Agency of LORD & THOMAS.

DO NO MORE WHITEWASHING
[illegible] WHEN
PLASTIC PAINT
Can be had [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 13

$1,25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 4, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

The Dead Worker.

Poor hands! fold them over her breast,
So hard, so brown, so cold!
They have done their work and have won their rest,
Though they won no gold.
Theirs was a battle for bread,
How they struggled and grappled and bled!

Poor hands! fold them gently, for they
Once lay in a mother's breast
All dimpled and pink and cosily
As birds in a nest,
And a mother's heart once leapt
As into her bosom they crept.

Poor hands! give them flowers to carry
Down into the grave, for they
Were too work-worn and to world weary
To pause by the way
And pluck them; bring lillies and roses
And fill the stiff fingers with posies.

Poor feet! when the way was cold
And winding and nettle strewn,
We passed them by with only a sigh
For the blood-prints under the moon;
Now that the life blood is froze
Bring the warm gaiters and hose.

Poor eyes! close them too—how they stare
Nay! place no gold on that brow,
It was lack of that made the furrows there,
She needs none now.
She goes to the mansion whose floor
Is paved with the costliest ore.

Poor eyes! no leisure they had
To look up at the sky
And see if 'twas blue, as the poets said,
But now they see.
To-day they are not so dim
But that they will open on Him.
—[Orella Key Bell.

The European Trip.

When the festive Knickerbocker for the country packs his grip,
With a notice on the knocker of an European trip;
O'er the vista soft and hazy he will tread his sultry way,
With a twenty-summer daisy on a forced bucolic stay—
In these underhanded capers by economy entailed,
How they chuckle when the papers tells the boat by which they sailed.
But they trot the meadows over in a listless sort of way,
And pretend they like the clover as it's turning into hay;
He will view the sunburn blended with the pallor of his face,
As a proof of trip extended, o'er the sea in foreign place.
She will wonder what cosmetic takes the freckles from the skin,
And with rubbings energetic nearly wear its texture thin.
Then to town they'll amble later and continue in the fraud,
Telling how they saw the crater and the palaces abroad.
—[Texas Siftings.

A RAMBLE THROUGH LONDON.

[Special to The Times.]

TO attempt to describe all that we have seen of London in one short letter is like trying to crowd its teeming population into an English railway carriage—an impossibility—and in our rambles we will briefly mention only the things that impressed us the most.

On the Sabbath following the day of our arrival, we attempted to attend St. Paul's cathedral, but it happened to be a special day, none being admitted without tickets. Thousands of people thronged the streets and thousands filled the cathedral, yet all was calm and peaceful. Not knowing the cause of the immense gathering, we inquired, and were informed that the church was celebrating the advent of the 50th year of the reign of her Majesty, Queen Victoria. The day throughout seemed extremely quiet to us, and we concluded that England acknowledges the supremacy of a God and remembers to keep his day holy—a good plan for some of our American cities to adopt.

On Monday early, we learn that the Prince of Wales would lay the corner stone of the Tower Bridge at 3 o'clock p. m. We take the underground railroad for Cannon street, and find it densely packed with people as far as we can see, banners and flags of all nations being promiscuously flying above the anxious throng, and just over our heads floated the ensign of our own beloved country, and if ever in our lives we felt proud of it, it was then. At a few minutes past the appointed time, the guards of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, appeared in the distance followed by the Prince and Princess of Wales, Louise Victoria, Prince Albert Victor, the Duke of Cambridge, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and Mary, Duchess of Teck, the Duke of Teck and the Lord Mayor of London.

We did not go to the bridge to witness the ceremonies, but took the cars again for the zoological gardens, where we spent a few pleasant hours. Three thousand animals are on exhibition, but we will not take the time to tell you how we lingered in the monkey house, or how the elephants teased for crackers. We spent the remainder of the evening at Madame Tussaud's gallery of wax figures. The Napoleon rooms were the most interesting to us, containing beside the wax display many relics, most of them belonging to Napoleon the First.

About the center of the main room is the figure of the great general, wonderfully lifelike, representing him lying in state upon his camp bedstead, used by him during nearly six years as a state prisoner at St. Helens, with the mattresses and pillow on which he died. He is dressed in his Chasseur uniform, covered with the cloak he wore at the famous battle of Marengo in 1800, left expressly by will to his son, the King of Rome. "In it he lay in a soldier's glory" and it served as his pall to the grave. For the bed alone the proprietors paid £450, (authenticated.)

The likeness of the Emperor is from the original cast from his face by Antommarchi, an Italian physician, sent out to St. Helena to attend Napoleon after the recall of Barry O'Meara. A [illegible] to the left stands the celebrated [illegible] of the Emperor Napoleon, in which he made the campaign of Russia [illegible] was captured on the evening [illegible] of Waterloo. We were al- [illegible] to this great man's character, we felt somewhat honored, and as we looked out of the windows in front, we fancied that we lived in other years, that the long, dreary march to Moscow was before us and that we ride defeated from the great battle of Leipsic, and at Waterloo we witness the last desperate charge of Marshall Ney baffled, his last hopes frustrated, and the star of his glory goes down forever. Other attractions we will not mention.

"The Chamber of Horrors" was the next and last room we visited where we saw one of the most extraordinary relics in the world. A melancholy relic of the first French revolution. The original knife and lunette, the identical instrument that decapitated 22,000 persons, among whom were the unfortunate Louis XVI., Marie Antoinette, Madame Elizabeth, the Duke of Orleans, Robespiere, and shed the best and worst blood of France; bought by Madame Tussand and sons from M. Sanson, the grandson of the original executioner.

Tuesday we visit the National Art Gallery. Saw many paintings by the old masters and many by those of modern schools. Turner did not meet our expectations by a long way. Perhaps our eyes were too young. Landseer was all that we had imagined. We examined the foreign collection by ancient and modern artists and we hardly knew how to express ourselves, but the works of Raphael, Rubens, Murillo, Titian, Leonardo, Davinci and Michael Angelo seemed to interest us most. But we are frank to confess that we can't see wherein the ancients excel our modern artists.

From the National Gallery we visit the Dore Gallery. We do not profess to be art critics, but to our minds M. Gustave Dore is without a rival either in ancient or modern schools. The two pictures that attract the most attention are "Christ Leaving the Pretorium," and "The Vale of Tears." The rich fertility of imagination, the power of drawing and the glow of color displayed in this masterpiece, we will not even attempt to describe. It is wonderful.

Wednesday we visit Cleopatra's Needle, Houses of Parliament, Westminster Abbey, Buckingham Palace, the Indian and Colonial Exhibition. At the Abbey we took great pleasure in visiting the tombs of the illustious dead, and the beautiful monuments reared in memory of many whose remains rest elsewhere. The statue of our beloved Longfellow did not escape our notice, and we are glad to know that England not only acknowledged his genius, but so loved him that they have built a monument and given it a place among their own honored dead. At the exhibition we were much pleased with the extensive and artistic display of exhibits. Those of Canada, Australia and India were particularly interesting.

Thursday we visit the British Museum, and the Royal Academy of Art, and concerning these we are compelled to repeat what we have so often said—they are wonderfully interesting. Friday we wheel out to Crystal Palace, seven miles, and I have about concluded that I won't ride again until I ride out of the city for good.

Saturday we visit London Tower. The present buildings are mainly of the Norman period, but architecture of almost all the styles which have flourished in England may be found within the walls. We are admitted to the room containing the crown jewels. Tradition says that this room was formerly used by Henry VI for his devotions when a prisoner in the Tower, and was here murdered.

In the center in a large double case are arranged the splendid objects which form the English Regalia. The following are the most remarkable: 1st, the crown of Queen Victoria. It was constructed in 1838 for Her Majesty's coronation, the principal jewels being taken from older crowns and the royal collection. The crown contains about 2,700 diamonds and many other jewels, and weighs thirty-eight ounces and five pennyweights. 2d, the crown made for the coronation of Mary of Madena, the wife of James II. 3d, the crown made for Queen Mary II, for her coronation with William III. 4th, St. Edward's crown. 5th, Prince of Wales' coronet. We visited the different towers and armories and other places of interest, but will not write more concerning them.

Sunday we attend church at Spurgeon's Tabernacle and hear a discourse by the distinguished divine. Monday we leave London and wheel toward Brighton. VAN.

Scared only by Century War Stories.

Boy (to father)—"Why did you ride at the head of the parade to-day?"

Father—"Because I belong to the Grand Army of the Republic."

Boy—"Did you go with the army?"

Father (proudly)—"Yes."

Boy—"And did the rebels shoot at you?"

Father—"They would if they had had a chance."

Boy—"Why didn't they have a chance?"

Father—"Because I was a sutler."

Boy—"And didn't you fight?"

Father—"Oh, yes, I fought."

Boy—"How?"

Father—"Keeping fellows out of my tent. Run along now. Papa must prepare a speech thanking his fellow-citizens for nominating him for Governor."—[Arkansaw Traveler.

Some Wonderful Acting.

She (after a private theatrical entertainment)—"How clever the parts of Romeo and Juliet were played, Mr. Smith."

He—"Very; almost equal to professional work."

She—"Did you know that the gentleman and lady who played the parts are husband and wife?"

He—[illegible]

Getting Ahead of the Tramps.

"Great time we have with tramps," said the freight brakeman, cutting a chip off the corner of black plug. "They are pretty sleek, these chaps are what like to ride and not pay the company. We don't care much for the company or its earnings, but it is a matter of professional pride with us not to be beat by a deadhead. One of the sleekest games I ever knew of was played on us one morning last week. A pair of tramps were beating their way west, and I'll bet it would take you a month of Sundays to guess where they were ridin'. In the train was a flat car loaded with iron water pipe, and into these pipes the old duffers had crawled. It was a right snug berth. They had plenty of ventilation, the pipes bein' open at both ends and laid lengthwise of the car, and the sun couldn't bake 'em in the day nor the dews of night fall on 'em.

"We could'nt git at 'em, nuther, and that was the worst of it. If we crawled in after 'em the only thing we could do was to crawl out agin, 'cause no man could pull another out of a water pipe. We tried to poke them out with fence rails, but they were too short. The tramps they cussed us an' called us all the names they could lay their dirty tongues to, an' that made us mad an' we swore we'd have 'em out o'there if we had to dump that car of water pipe off into some river. Just then our conductor struck an idea. 'Wait till we get up to Galesburg,' says he, 'an' then we'll fix 'em.' And we did. At Galesburg there's a switch ingine fixed up with a pump and hose to throw water, an' we got hold o' that ingine and turned her nozzle on them tramps. Never had such fun in my life. It made me think of the time when we used to drown woodchucks out o' their holes when I was a boy. I wouldn't have missed that picnic for a month's salary."—[Chicago Herald "Train Talk."

Pay For Congressmen.

When a member dies his pay ceases on the day of his death. The salary of the successor commences the day after the decease of the former member, though the election may not occur for several months. The new member, in other words draws pay for time he never served.

A member is allowed twenty cents milage each way, or forty cents a mile one way, and he can check for the full amount each way when he takes his seat. He is allowed $125 a year for stationary. The most of this sum is pocketed.

The members draw their money in different ways. There are probably twenty of the present House who let their salaries run into nest eggs. Among these are Scott and Everhart of Pennsylvania; Powell, of Illinois; Boutelle, of Maine; Henley, of California; Jones, Stewart and Regan, of Texas; Ellsbury, of Ohio; Stone of Massachusetts, and Wakefield, of Minnesota. Scott has over a year's salary owing him—about $6,000. The other members mentioned have from $1,000 to $3,000 to their credit. There are a couple of dozen of members who always overdraw, or, rather, borrow from the head of the bank. They borrow or get in advance sums ranging from $10 to $300, and at the end of the month they have nothing. The great majority of the members draw all that is coming to them at the end of each month, particularly those who have their families with them. Some never see an outside bank, but let their monthly salary remain and draw it out in small sums. Others take out their salaries and place them in other banks. But this is not done as much as formerly. A number of them got caught in the Middleton Bank that broke some time ago.

Most of the members do all their financial business over the counter of the Congressional bank, and some of them pile checks up as high as $60,000 in a single session.

Clasped Across the Bloody Chasm.

The Detroit Free Press man has been making a southern trip, in the course of which he picked up this incident as illustrating the manner hands are being clasped across the bloody chasm.

While we were tramping over the battle fields around Marietta, Ga., the young man from Connecticut grew sweet on the pretty daughter of the widow with whom he boarded. It was love at first sight and they went in heavy. Our guide had been an old reb soldier, and when he saw how things were going, winked the girl to a seat on the wash bench behind the house and said: "Now Lucy, this 'ere orter stop." "What 'ere?" "In love with that feller." "Hain't I right?" "No, Gal. Me'n your old father sarved in the ranks together, and together we cum home, calkerlatin' to hate 'em as long as we lived. 'Twouldn't be right for you to go back on your dad that way.' "Jim Skuce," she replied, as she stood up to wave her arm, "mebbe ye never heard nuthin' 'bout bridgin' the bloody chasm and shakin' hands across the last ditch. I know pap was a fighter, but after he'd been home a year or two 'long came a Yank one day looking for land. He had a bottle o'whisky, and he and pap sat down on this very bench and fit them old fights over until both got drunk and fell in a heap. When they woke up they begun to shake and bridge, and they kept it up till the Yank hurrahed for Gineral Lee and pap hollered for Gineral Grant. Now you shut! If you don't want to bridge you can stub around with your nose stuck up and your knees out to the weather, but don't you go to interferin' with me! Dad bridged, mam's bridged and I'm going to climb out of the last ditch and hustle for a Yankee husband!" They were engaged before we left.

ALMOST KILLED.

I was almost killed by the doctors, [illegible]

The Newspaper Reporter.

I don't think the public at large has ever had a proper idea or just appreciation of the reporter. The popular opinion of this hard-working and generally under-valued individual is considerably varied, but nobody seems to understand him, or, in the vernacular of the day, "size him up" to his true level. Some people have the opinion that the reporter is a sort of a Paul Pry, who goes about nosing into everybody's business in order to lay bare the foibles and idiosyncrasies of mankind, and break down closet doors to expose ghastly family skeletons to the public gaze. This is a fallacy of the most pronounced description. Nothing could be further from the truth. As a matter of fact, the reporter—that is the reputable man who has a right to the title—is always lenient in dealing with the shortcomings of his fellow-man, and, as proof of this fact, it is well known that he becomes as useful to his paper by means of the things which he knows and does not publish as through the results of his labors that are given out broadcast for the public information.

But I did not start out to tell the public how to deal with reporters. A long and varied experience in the profession has taught me the futility of any such endeavor. To the end of time the reporter will exist, and he will be treated kindly, bluffed, chaffed, insulted, sometimes even assaulted—though it must be said that the latter is of unfrequent occurrence. Sometimes a man wants to talk to a reporter—then he wants to cultivate the scribe—opens wine and brings forth his choicest cigars. The wise reporter does not pay any attention to these allurements, but alas! the reporter is no wiser than his generation, hence he often smokes and imbibes by invitation of the individual who uses the convivial bait to make his desired haul. But does he make the catch? I'll venture to say that nine times out of ten the man who fancies that he has caught on to the reporter through his liberality in the line I have just indicated awakes to a realizing sense of his folly when he finds that the reporter, notwithstanding the champagne and cigars, shrewdly drew his own conclusions and published them, without regard to the chaff that he was compelled to gather with his harvest of news wheat. Trust the reporter as a rule not to be imposed upon. He's not that kind of a man.

I don't suppose that the outside world has noticed what a big man the reporter is getting to be nowadays. Folks in the newspaper business are beginning to recognize his importance, however, and the step between the reporter and the editor is by no means as long as it used to be. All newspaper readers were impressed with the extraordinary detail which accompanied the account of the circumstances surrounding the President's marriage, which recently filled columns of the various journals all over the country. All the work of the reporter! Did you notice the skillfully interwoven editorial comment in hundreds and hundreds of the stories, which the editors had simply to repeat in rewritten articles in the editorial columns. That's where the reporter is gaining in importance. Day by day he grows more and more of an essayist; his news is interlarded with opinion, and he can't help it either, for the day has come when the readers of the public journals desire the news "dressed up," and dressing up means comment.—[Philadelphia Call.

He Didn't Say Grace.

There's a sad and mournful air about the landlady of a boarding house up town. She is a most estimable woman, and she is very particular about her boarders.

"I'm so glad," she said one day before dinner; "I've let my front room upstairs to such a nice man."

"What is he like?" asked an old maid in ringlets, with great curiosity.

"Well he's very quiet."

"How old is he?"

"About forty, I suppose."

"What is he?"

"I haven't asked him, but I think he is a minister."

The dinner was just about to begin when the new boarder came in. He was most unquestionably a clerical gentleman. His face, dress and demeanor all showed it. He was quiet, solemn and subdued, and the usual ribaldry of the irreverent meal-destroyers was hushed. They took their seats at the table in solemn silence.

"Before we dine," said the landlady to the clerical gentleman, "will you say grace?"

"What did you say?" he asked.

"Will you say grace?"

"I beg your pardon."

"I would like you to say grace."

"You must excuse me, but I'm so d——d deaf I can't hear a word."

And the dinner went on without grace.—[San Francisco Chronicle.

They Both Fainted.

Ponsonby—"Good heavens Awthair, I have just noticed that your necktie is under your ear."

"De Twirliger—"Merciful Gladstone! Have I been wolking two squares in that shocking manner?"

Ponsonby—"I'm sorry my dear boy, but——

De Twirlger—"And your suspender, dear Gus, is protruding beneath your sack."

Ponsonby—Ww—aw!

(Both faint and are carried into a drug store for repairs.)—[Philadelphia Call.

BANKERS,

Doctors, Lawyers, Carpenters, Druggists, Engineers, Mechanics, in fact we have recommendations from people in all stations in life, testifying to the wonderful cures that Sulphur Bitters have effected. Send for testimonials. See another column.

[illegible]

THE PROPER THING.

Pink toilets are in high favor.

Large Gainsborough hats are again in vogue.

Very little jewelry is worn with summer toilets.

Perfumed reticules and pockets are among late fancy novelties.

The coat sleeve is still much worn for dresses, but not exclusively so.

The London turban is the favorite for seaside, mountain and travel wear.

Gathered panels take the place of plaited ones on summer wash fabric dresses.

Black jerseys with white corduroy and fancy waistcoats buttoned in, are popular.

Pongee combined with plaid surah makes a pretty and inexpensive summer dress.

Small shoulder capes formed of flounces of chantilly lace about one finger in width, are pretty and stylish.

Double-breasted jackets of plaid wool in shades of ecru or brown are worn with black or colored dresses.

Among the effective summer dresses are those of regular old-fashioned Dolly Varden patterned organdie lawn.

There is an effort to revive narrow ruffles on summer dresses they must be gathered and may be either straight or bias.

There is a fancy for making the basques and over skirts of white dresses of alternate stripes of white nuns' veiling and stripes of Valenciennes insertion.

Morning robes of veiling in any color and any shade from pure white and cream to black, are trimmed tastefully with cascades and falls of Egyptian lace.

Foulard dresses, very cool and pleasant to wear in this season, are made blouse fashion, or with a long polonaise draped over a short plaided or gathered skirt.

Irish batiste in soft shades of dove gray, cream, apricot, turquoise blue, cameo, and sea green are among the list of popular cotton fabrics for mid-summer wear.

Modern Maxims.

If you are not satisfied with your neighbor's call, return it.—[Goodall's Sun.

Honesty is a hermit and often gets lonesome for want of company.—[Danville Breeze.

There are bogus white elephants in every private zoological collection.—[National Weekly.

The man who never says a foolish thing was never known to utter a wise remark.—[Whitehall Times.

Bide your time, young man; you may want the earth but you will have to take it by degrees.—[Tid-Bits.

Little things is mo' ter be feered den big ones. It's de little bird dat whups the hawk.—[Arkansaw Traveler.

Hope is a guideboard that is always pointing to a pleasant pathway through grove and meadow.—[Chicago Ledger.

The man who goes on a strike has frequently to keep striking his friends for money.—[Philadelphia Herald.

Those who are blessed with abundant joys and deprived of trouble are very apt to borrow some of the latter.—[Whitehall Times.

If happiness could be bought for a contemptable sum, human preversity would leave us without a desire to buy it.—[Philidelphia Call.

Nothing Remarkable About It.

"Here's a story about a coin which a man marked with his initials coming back to him after an absence of twenty-three years. Queer wasn't it?"

"Oh, I don't know, Bromley. I passed a coin in a bazaar at Constantinople thirty years ago, and——"

"It came back to you——"

"The same afternoon, Bromley. It was a counterfeit."—[Philadelphia Call.

TWENTY YEARS A SUFFERER.

Jordan, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—I have been afflicted with Rheumatism for the past twenty years, and have been laid up with it regularly for the past ten years. A short time ago I was confined to my bed with it, and sent for a bottle of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and when I had used the first bottle, went after the second bottle myself. I have tried so many good things, with no good results, that I can recommend this, in the highest terms, as I believe your remedy is the best in existence.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. MARY DOCKSTADER,
Farmer's Hotel.

Black Rock, N. Y.

DEAR SIRS:—This is to certify that I have been afflicted with rheumatism and Neuralgia for the past twenty-five year and at times so bad that I was not expected to live. I have used Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and have never used anything in all my experience that has helped me so much. I can recommend it to all afflicted with the above disease.

MRS. MARY MAGUIRE,
1437 Niagara Street.

Syracuse, N. Y.

GENTS:—For the past five months I have been troubled with Rheumatism, at times very badly. I procured some of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy of your agent, and in a few days was entirely free from all pain, and continuing its use for several weeks I am entirely cured and take pleasure in recommending it to all who are troubled with Rheumatism or general debility.

Yours truly,
MRS. E. R. HINKLEY,
[illegible] East Genesee St.

[illegible]

Peculiarities of Base Ball.

The strange freaks of fortune are nowhere more strikingly illustrated than in base ball. Even the best clubs in the country will get beaten by large scores by the weakest opponents sometimes. These freaks are hard to understand and seem entirely beyond the comprehension of many people who can't get it through their thick skulls that a club may be able to win three games out of four, or nine out of ten, or nineteen out of twenty, and then lose the twentieth game, and lose it honestly. But such is the fact. The days of "throwing" games in base ball are over, and it can be safely asserted that a game has not been purposely lost in either of the two leading associations during the last four or five years. It may seem very funny that a club can one day go in and beat another by a score of fourteen to two, and on the next day, with perhaps the very same batteries, be beaten to the tune of twelve to nothing; but such is not an unusual occurrence, and it is one which is a legitimate outcome of the chances and circumstances which surround the game. People who fail to believe this are simply not well enough acquainted with the game, and refuse to believe what seems to them, theoretically, so inexplicable.—[Sporting Life.

He'll Keep an Eye On Him.

"Daniel," remarked the president this morning in a thoughtful tone.

"Yes, sire," responded Daniel.

"Where has Manning gone for the summer?"

"He has gone to Watch Hill, sire."

"Where, Daniel?" questioned the president, rousing from his reverie for a moment, only to relapse again.

"To Watch Hill, sire."

"Um-um," soliloquized the president in an almost inaudible voice, "that's kind of Manning. "I'm going to watch Hill myself this summer, and next winter and next summer, too."—[Washington Critic.

Green Turtles Brought to New York.

From 5,000 to 8,000 green turtles are annually brought to New York, and they sell at an average of fifteen cents per pound, gross weight. They come from Florida, the West Indias and the shores of the Spanish main. Occasionally one is caught as far north as Long Island. They are caught in nets, and and also on the beach when they come up to lay their eggs. They do not bite or snap. Their food is green stuffs. In warm weather, with an occasional bath, they will live six weeks without food.—[Inter-Ocean.

Human Calves.

An exchange says:—"Nine-tenths of the unhappy marriages result from human calves being allowed to run at large in society pastures." Nine-tenths of the chronic or lingering diseases of to-day originate in impure blood, liver complaint or billiousness, resulting in scrofula, consumption (which is but scrofula of the lungs), sores ulcers, skin diseases and kindred affections. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" cures all these. Of Druggists.

Mrs Mark Hopkins, the millionaire widow, has for her factotum a young colored man, who manages much of her business and conducts a part of her correspondence.

ACTIVE, PUSHING AND RELIABLE

R. E. Phillips can always be relied upon to carry in stock the purest and best goods, and sustain the reputation of being active, pushing and reliable, by recommending articles with well established merit and such as are popular. Having the agency for the celebrated Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, colds and coughs, will sell it on a positive guarantee. It will surely cure any and every affection of throat, lungs or chest, and in order to prove our claim we ask you to call and get a Trial Bottle Free.

John L. Sullivan has made more money out of the prize ring than any dozen men who ever lived, his share of gate receipts footing up to $100,000. But he has literally thrown it away.

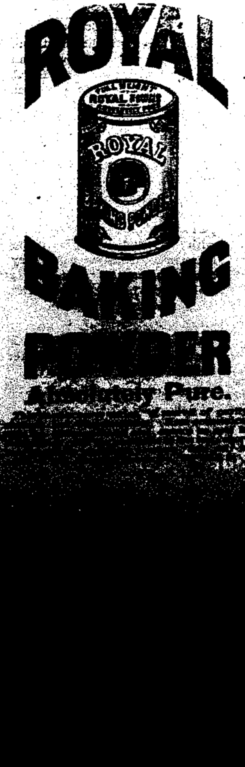
TIRED, LANGUID, DULL

Exactly express the condition of thousands of people at this season. The depressive effects of warm weather, and the weak condition of the body, can only be corrected by the use of a reliable tonic and blood purifier like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Why suffer longer when a remedy is so close at hand? Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now. It will give you untold wealth in health, strength, and energy.

Over 15,163 chattel mortgages were filed in New York city during the first six months of the year.

"100 Doses One Dollar" is true only of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it is an unanswerable argument as to strength and economy.

About 80,000 barrels of oil are produced daily by the wells of Pennsylvania.



Just Received at the

NEW PARLOR DRUG STORE

A full line of Harrison Bros. & Co's

READY MIXED PAINTS.

They are noted the world over for durability, ease of application, and firmness of finish. Call and examine them. Select what you need and carry them off at a price that will astonish you. I keep over sixty shades of colors, varying from the tint of a LADIES CHEEK to the appropriate color for a HORSE BARN.

I have further "elevated the standing of the Oswego County drug trade," by adding to my regular line of

Fine Drugs
—AND—
MEDICINES,

a beautiful modern

--SODA FOUNTAIN,--

At a cost of $2,000.00. Put on your spectacles and step in and test it for yourselves. Remember the spot, day and date.
The New Drug Store.

H. C. GIESLER.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE

Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of

Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.

And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.

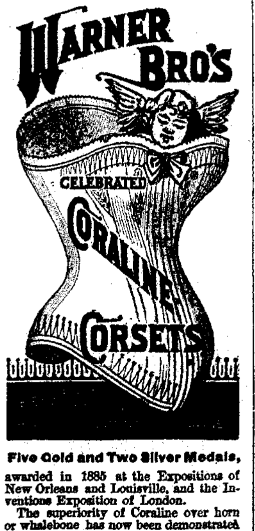
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.

Ladie's Friend Carpet Sweepers repaired and for sale.

Scranton Coal!
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,
Promptly Delivered!
At the Following Prices:

Stove	$4.50	Grate	4.25
Nut	4.50	Pea	3.50
Egg	4.25	Smith	450
No 4	475	Mixed	450

SCHENCK & FOSTER.



Five Gold and Two Silver Medals,

awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.

The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks.

Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "DR. WARNER'S CORALINE" is printed on inside of steel cover.

FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING MERCHANTS.
WARNER BROTHERS,
353 Broadway, New York City

LUMBER! LUMBER!
I have the Largest Assortment of
Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER
In this county. Also PINE, HEMLOCK and SPRUCE
SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c.
Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere
Q. RUST.

WANTED—LADY Active and intelligent [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS. Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables, Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters, etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 3 First street.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y.
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts. Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious Sample Rooms.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.

Prices Below all Competition
On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.

IN DYE STUFFS
I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at
R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.

A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.

No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods—and prices below all Competition.

R. E. PHILLIPS.

TAINTOR'S
GUIDE-BOOKS
[illegible]
Illustrated with Maps and Wood Cuts.
Price [illegible] Each, by Mail.

CITY OF NEW YORK.
Containing a description of and directions for visiting the Public Buildings, etc., Street Directory, Travelers' Directory, and Map of New York.

SEASIDE RESORTS.
Atlantic Coast from [illegible] to the Gulf.

HUDSON RIVER ROUTE.
New York to West Point, Catskill Mountains, Albany, Troy, Saratoga Springs, Lake George, Lake Champlain, Adirondacks, Montreal and Quebec.

SARATOGA ILLUSTRATED.
Guide to Saratoga Springs, with maps and wood cuts.

ERIE RAILWAY ROUTE.
New York to Ithaca, Havana, Watkins Glen, Rochester, Dunkirk, Buffalo and Niagara Falls, via Erie Railway.

NEW YORK TO SARATOGA, BUFFALO AND NIAGARA FALLS.
Via Hudson River and New York Central Railroad.

NEWPORT ROUTE.
New York to Boston, via Newport and Fall River. Descriptions of Newport and Narragansett Bay.

NEW YORK TO WHITE MOUNTAINS.
Via N. Y. & New Haven and Connecticut River R. R.

NORTHERN RESORTS.
White Mountains, Lake Memphremagog, Green Mountains, Lake Champlain, Sheldon, Montreal and Thousand Islands.

PENNA COAL REGIONS.
New York and Philadelphia to Easton, Bethlehem, Delaware Water Gap, Mauch Chunk, Scranton, Harrisburg, Williamsport and Elmira.

NEW YORK TO PHILADELPHIA, BALTIMORE AND WASHINGTON.

SARATOGA MINERAL WATERS.
DIRECTIONS FOR USING: BY W. O. STILLMAN, M. D.

Above Guides sent, postpaid, on receipt of 25c each.
For sale by Newsdealers and Booksellers.
Published by
TAINTOR BROTHERS & COMPANY,
18 and 20 Astor Place, New York.

HART BROS.,
—DEALERS IN—
Vitrified Glazed Stone Ware
—AND—
PORTLAND CEMENT SEWER PIPE
—AND—
DRAIN TILE,
With all necessary Fittings and connections.
FIRE BRICK, CLAY AND SAND.
Stone Ware, and Cement,
Chimneys and Tops.
Fire Bricks of desired shapes, furnished on application.
STONEWARE WATER FILTERS A SPECIALTY.
Also Agents for Stewart's Ready Roofing.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
the popular favorite for dressing the hair, Restoring color when gray, and preventing Dandruff. It cleanses the scalp, stops the hair falling, and is sure to please. [illegible]

HINDERCORNS.
[illegible]

DEAFNESS [illegible]

[illegible]

Correspondence must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES.

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

THE net earnings of Sing Sing prison for July were $5,000.

IT is estimated that the public debt was reduced $8,600,000 in July.

BLOODY riots have been going on in the streets of Belfast, Ireland since last Sunday.

THE population of Detroit, Mich., increased over 12,000 during the last twelve months.

Two wives have laid claim to the estate of E. Z. C. Judson, better known as "Ned Buntline."

THE election in Alabama occurred Monday. The Democratic State ticket was elected by about 50,000 majority.

TAYLOR, Vint, Hart, Noremac and others are engaged in a six days walking contest, at Patterson, N. J., this week.

EDWARD HANLAN, the oarsman, will attempt to break the single scull three mile record on lake Quinsigomond, August 12.

TERRIFIC cyclones have done great damage to property in Ohio, Connecticut and Massachusets during the past week.

ELI PERKINS, who was a class mate of Ex-President Arthur in Union College, visited him last week and reports his health as very bad. The Troy Times says: "This is the most conclusive evidence we have yet received that Gen. Arthur is a well man.

THE celebration of the 100th anniversary of Onondaga county seems to have died. The failure, it seems, is due to the fact that citizens have not been sufficiently enthusiastic and liberal in their subscriptions. Something may yet arise to give it new life.

W. B. FLYNN, who is said to have made an agreement with Commissioner of Public Works Squire of New York city by which the latter should run the department in Flynn's interest, was expelled from the County Democracy Monday night.

IT is announced that Andrew D. White, ex-President of Cornell University will be made the Republican candidate for Congress in the Twenty-eighth district. The district embraces the counties of Chemung, Seneca, Tompkins and Schuyler. It is understood that Mr. Arnot, the present incumbent who was elected by the Democrats, is determined not to run again.

THE President has withdrawn the nomination of Henry Stowell to be postmaster of Seneca Falls at the solicitation of the Veteran's Rights Union, G. A. R. Charges, made by this organization against Stowell, were that he published and uttered disloyal sentiments during the war; that he removed the Union flag from above his building, and said when he was asked what he had done with it; "I've torn the dirty rag down."

THE first session of the Forty-ninth Congress, which will close this week, has lasted a little over eight months. During this period 12,867 bills and 208 joint resolutions have introduced in both houses. Of this immense number only about 150 bills (other than pension and other private bills) have become laws 642 private laws have been enacted. President Cleveland vetoed six of the public bills and 101 of the private acts that were passed.

THE formation of the new Tory ministry of England is: Prime Minister, Lord Salisbury; Home Secretary, Lord George Hamilton; Chief Secretary for Ireland, Sir Michael Hicksbeach; Secretary for Foreign Affairs, Lord Iddesleigh; Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, The Marquis of Londonderry; Chancellor of the Exchequer, Lord Randolph Churchill; Secretary of War, Right Hon. Wm. Henry Smith; First Lord of the Admiralty, Lord George Hamilton; Lord High Chancellor, Lord Halsbury; Secretary of India, Right Hon. Frederick Stanley; Lord President of the Council, Viscount Cranbrook; President of the Local Government Board, Right Hon. Henry Chapin; President of the Board of Trade, Right Hon. Edward Stanhope; Postmaster-General, Lord John Manners; First Commissioner of Work, Right Hon. David Plunket; Attorney-General, Sir R. E. Webster; Lord Chancellor of Ireland, Lord Ashbourne; Lord Chamberlain, Earl of Latham; Judge Advocate General, Right Hon. W. T. Marriott.

THE anarchists, who have caused so much trouble and destruction of life in Chicago by their diabolical schemes, have constantly been shadowed by members of Pinkerton's detective agency. Superintendent Cornish of this agency says that he was present on one occasion when a meeting was held by some leading anarchists, when the following devilish scheme for getting rid of wealthy citizens of Chicago was offered by Spies:

"Let every man arm himself with a little [illegible] large enough to be concealed in the hand. The point of the syringe should be as small and fine as that of a needle, so that it can [illegible]

[illegible] struck by a locomotive on the West Shore road at Syracuse Sunday evening, and died soon afterward.

Jake Kilrain and Jake Ashton, pugilists, fought eight hard rounds with soft gloves in Brooklyn last Saturday afternoon. Kilrain was declared the winner.

Early Saturday morning fire totally destroyed the carriage works of Orville H. Short in Syracuse, the most extensive in the city. The paints and oils made a very hot and dangerous conflagation. About 1,000 wagons and much valuable machinery was destroyed. Estimated loss $70,000 insured for $60,000.

The annual meeting of the Missionary Union will commence at Thousand Island Park to-day, and continue until August 11. Rev. J. T. Gracey, D. D., of Rochester is President. It is expected that it will be the largest meeting ever held at Thousand Island Park. Many noted devines and missionaries are among the speakers.

COUNTY NEWS.

A G. A. R. Post with seventeen members was recently organized at Parish.

D. P. Mead of Boylston, recently had eighteen sheep killed and many others badly injured by dogs.

Miss Maud Rich of Rome, who was badly burned at Knoxboro a short time since, is dead. She formerly lived in Sand Bank.

Collector I. B. Poucher of the Oswego customs district, Oswego, Fair Haven and Sodus, has completed his report of the business done during the year ending June 30, 1886. It shows in receipts a falling off of last year of $35,000, but a decrease in expenses of $7,000.

The Sandy Creek, Richland, Orwell and Boylston Agricultural Society's Fair is to be held on the 1st, 2nd and 3d of September. The following are the officers of the society; Henry Stevens, president, Lacona; William H. Grennell, vice-president, Pierrepont Manor; Gilbert N. Hardin, secretery, Lacona; Leurenpus J. Jones, treasurer, Sandy Creek; C. W. Colony, general superintendent, Sandy Creek.

On last week Tuesday while Mr. Erwin Snyder of Gilberts Mills was employed in drawing hay to the barn, he met with a serious and possibly fatal accident. Mr. Snyder was driving the team and as the load entered the barn he was caught opposite the chest between the door post and rack and fearfully crushed. An examination disclosed that four ribs on the right side were wrenched from the spinal column and also from the sternum.

Personal and Political.

It is over a year since Gen. Grant died.

Congress will probably adjourn to-day or to-morrow.

Abbe Franz Liszt, the renowned pianist, died last Saturday.

Nathan A. R. Dawson has been nominated by the president to be commissioner of education.

Henry Irving and Ellen Terry and daughter are on a yatching cruse along the Atlantic coast.

Gen. Robert N. McLaren, one of Minnesota's pioneers, died Friday night at his home in St. Paul from heart disease.

Mr. Patrick Ford of the New York Irish World, spent several hours with Mr. James G. Blaine, in Augusta, Me., on Thursday.

Hon. Carl Schurz will take the editorial helm of the Chicago Illustrated News, the leading illustrated journal of the West.

Judge Homer A. Nelson of Poughkeepsie was badly injured Monday by being thrown from his carriage.

Congressman Beach, who has been seriously ill at Newburg, is slowly improving.

General McCook, secretary of the Senate, and wife have left Washington for Europe.

Parson W. W. Downes of Boston, is preaching a series of sensational discourses in his own defense. He, Sunday, adduced evidence of immoral conduct on the part of Deacon Strong of his flock, who was expelled for his offense.

A statute of General Thomas Francis Meagher was unveiled at Waterford, Ireland, on Sunday, with grand demonstrations.

Commander-in-Chief Burdett of the G. A. R., and staff, Sunday reached San Francisco. General Logan and party arrived Monday.

Ex-Governor Warmouth of Louisiana, is visiting his boyhood's home at Salem, Ill. It is said that he now has more than $1,000,000 invested in sugar interests.

Governer Hill, accompanied by Colonel Judson, has been on a three day's cruise on Long Island Sound. They were the guests of the Larchmont Yacht Club.

Colonel D. S. Lamont and family have been at Cortland, for their summer vacation. Mr. Lamont has been under the care of a physician for a renewal of his old malarial trouble.

L. K. Wilber is to have an eating stand near the grove during the camp meeting. Candies, nuts, small drinks, &c., for sale. He will also be prepared to accomodate a large number with hay, oats and stabling. 18w2

Brigadier-General Phillip H. G. Cook (retired) has filed charges at the war department against General Fitz John Porter, growing out of a report made by the latter in regard to the conduct of the former at Gaines Mills.

Before you put a roof on that building, been it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros. at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and [illegible]

Do not Walk, but Ride. We shall give to every purchaser in our

DRY GOODS OR

CLOTHING DEPARTMENTS

A FREE TICKET

For a Ride on the New Street Railway.

Commencing on Saturday, August 7th, and continuing every day until the Opening Day of the Road, Wednesday, Aug. 11. During these days we shall also offer Special Bargains in all departments.

H. & A. ROSENBLOOM.

BASE BALL.

Devine is again pitching for the Stars.

Detroit has not been whitewashed this season.

Alcott was released from the Stars Monday.

The Stars beat the Buffalos and the Oswegos the Rochesters on Monday.

Detroit was defeated by Philadelphia and Chicago by New York on Monday.

Oswego has released Collins.

Crothers is the winning pitcher for the Stars.

Syracuse was whitewashed last week for the first time. Detroit is now the only professional team left.

Simons makes the finest running catches in the International league.

Richardson was the second to make 100 base hits.

Buckley the Syracuse catcher is said to be the most accurate thrower in the International league.

But two men, Anson and Brouthers, have led the league batsmen for more than one season.

Brouthers was the first to make 100 base hits this season.

The Western league clubs are now making their second eastern tour.

The Stars play at Toronto to-day and to-morrow and at Hamilton Friday and Saturday.

Gladman of the Washington's is playing 3d base for the Stars and making a favorable impression.

Dunn of the Buffalos now leads the International league in batting. Olin of the Stars is fourth on the list.

Sweeney will go to his home in San Francisco, and rest his arm during the winter. He expects to be as effective as he ever was next season.

The Stars and Oswegoes will play the championship game scheduled for Syracuse, September 14, in Lowville the first day of the fair there.

Of the leading 33 batsmen of the International league, the Uticas have 8, Buffalo 4, Stars 4, Toronto 5, Oswego 5, Hamilton 6, Rochester 7, Binghamton 4.

Detroit, Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, Boston, St. Louis, Kansas City and Washington is now the order of clubs in the National league race.

The Stars are negotiating for two members of the Hartford club. If they are secured the Stars will be greatly strengthened and may again force their way to the head.

Puck says: "It is bad enough when a young man's sister takes his high hat when going for a horseback ride, but when she calmly appropriates his base ball mask for a bustle, she trifles with a brother's love."

Oswego Falls

James Stevens is at work on his new tenement house. It is to be for two families and will be finished about September 1st.

Mrs. John Keefe is quite sick. She is being treated by Dr. Pardee.

Mrs. T. R. Wright's night blooming cereus was in blossom last Sunday evening. The occasion was the source of much pleasure to her visitors who sat up to see it.

Mrs. John Perchway is very sick.

Why are there not some sidewalks repaired or built in this village? Many are in a wretched condition.

James Campbell died last Wednesday afternoon about five o'clock. He was sixty-four years of age, a Scotchman by birth, having come to this country about twenty years ago. He was employed for many years in the factory, but recently started a peanut and candy stand. He was taken sick about two week's before his death. A wife survives him.

South Scriba.

Last Thursday night about one hundred friends and neighbors assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Hale. The occasion being the ninth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Hale's marriage. At about eleven o'clock the party was invited into the dining room where two large tables were fairly groaning under the load of good things, showing the skill and good taste of the "bride." After ample justice had been done to the viands, the party were invited into the parlor where they were entertained with music and singing until the small hours in the morning when they went [illegible]

County Prohibition Convention.

The county Prohibition Convention was held in Oswego last Wednesday with M. A. Dumas as chairman. The following nominations were made:

For member of assembly, 1st district, M. A. Dumas, Hannibal; 2d district, Wm. H. Austin, Richland; county treasurer, O. M. Bond, Oswego; special county surrogate, T. Coles, Granby; justice of sessions, C. Sairs, Oswego town; coroners, R. B. McCully, Fulton; J. W. Richards, Richland.

The following were elected delegates to the congressional convention to be held at Weedsport, next Friday:

First district—I. G. Jenkins, Oswego; James Haskins, Hannibal; R. B. McCully, Fulton; Jonah Chapman, Granby; E. C. Pasco, Oswego Town. Alternates—O. M. Bond, Oswego; M. A. Dumas, Hannibal; Wm. Blakeman, Volney; Thomas Coles, Granby; J. C. Rowe, Oswego Town.

Second district—A. J. Potter, Orwell; Edwin Soule, Sandy Creek; G. L. Sherwood, Richland; G. W. Barnes, Mexico; Frank Mason, Schrœppel. Alternates—R. W. Pratt, Orwell; H. S. Barlow, Sandy Creek; W. H. Dunwick, Richland; W. C. Johnson, Mexico; Charles Burleigh, Schrœppel.

There were very heavy thunder storms in the vicinity of Troy and Albany last Friday night and much damage was done by lightning. One person, Charles D. Miller lost $10,000 by the burning of his barn, which was filled to overflowing with recently gathered crops.

O. C. Breed last week sold his farm situated in the eastern portion of the village of Phœnix to J. I. VanDoren. Consideration understood to be $4,700.

A new school law, passed by the Legislature of this year, gives to district school trustees the right to purchase books, maps, apparatus &c., to the amount of fifteen dollars. Heretofore a vote of the district was necessary.

The vacation season is now at its height.

An Abstract of Expenditures

By L. T. Richardson Superintendent of Repairs upon the Oswego canal, and having charge of 23 miles of said canal extending from Oswego to Three River Point also the Oneida river improvement 20 miles.

FOR THE MONTH OF JULY 1886.

Name	Res.	What for	Time.	Price	amt.
H Fralick	Ph'nix	Lock t'ding	1 m	2500	25 00
L Merry	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
H Howe	Fulton	"	1 m	2500	25 00
L Torry	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
C Surdam	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
S Darling	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
T Sweeney	Os'ego	"	1 m	3500	35 00
E Connors	"	"	1 m	3500	35 00
A Dingman	Hin'vil	"	1 m	2500	25 00
L Montague	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
D Quinn	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
O Cross	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
W Patterson	Fulton	"	1 m	2500	25 00
H Lappin	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
N Miller	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
Ed Harvey	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
W T Church	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
R H Stow	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
W Althouse	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
S Perry	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
S Storrs	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
Chas Dodge	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
J Knapp	SenHil	"	1 m	3000	30 00
G Doyle	"	"	1 m	3000	30 00
W Sereves	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
J Grautier	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
J Sheridan	Os'ego	"	1 m	2500	25 00
B Cavellier	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
C Bough	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
J Murphy	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
J Daly	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
T O'Hara	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
V'nValkenburg	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
H Halstead	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
C Buxton	C'ug'y	"	1 m	2500	25 00
A McArthur	Elucid	"	1 m	2500	25 00
Peter Conley	Fulton	"	1 m	1000	10 00
					940.00

STATE SHOP CHECK ROLL

Name	Res.	What for	Time	Price	amt.
John Boardman	Fult'n	Foreman	33¼d	2 40	81 00
Walter Bradley	"	Carpenter	33¼d	1 80	60 75
			67½d		141.75

The above labor was performed as follows:

57¼ days apron Battle Island dam	120.75
5 daas repairing State shop	10.50
5 days making lock gates	10.50
67¼	141.75
Fulton Times Co., publishing abstract	4 27

STATE SCOW CHECK ROLL

Name	Res.	What for	Time	Price	amt.
E Richardson	Fulton	Foreman	1 m	50 00	50 00
Geo Barrett	"	C Labor	1 m	35 00	35 00
F Garrison	"	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
J Gilhooly	"	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
J O Lee	Ph'nix	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
M Connors	Fulton	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
Ed Sayles	"	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
J Hayden	"	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
W LaFount'in	"	Team	1 m	75 00	75 00
F Hayden	"	Cook	1 m	15 00	15 00
					335.00

The above labor was performed as follows:

29 days repairing bridges	26.50
170 days apron Battle Island dam	242.40
10 days bracketing dam	14.27
[illegible] days repairing locks	71.30
20 days repairing tow path	26.53
320	385.00
Total	$1,471.02

State of New York, Oswego County. L. T. Richardson, Superintendent of canal repairs, [illegible]

LITERARY

The Century.

The August Century is the "midsummer holiday" number and is noticeable for its richly illustrated articles and fiction. "Alyiers and its Suburbs" is the opening paper, which is an entertaining discription of this historic place. A picturesque account of University of Heidelburg, which is to celebrate its five hundredth anniversary next October is contributed by Lucy M. Mitchell. "Sea Birds at the Furne Islands" is profusely illustrated by the author. "The Western Art Movement" is ably shown by Ripley Hitchcock. The number contains full page portraits of John Burroughs and the famous Charlotte Cooper. Julian Hawthorne has a short story and Frank R. Stockton contributes the first part of a novelette. War articles are found from the pens of Gen. James Longstreet, Gen. D. N. Couch, Gen. W. F. Smith, Gen. R. C. Hawkins and Major J. H. Lacy.

Dr. Washington Gladden writes of the question, "Is it Peace or War?" as regards the relations of capital and labor, and states the situation on both sides with great force and fairness. The first editorial in "Topics of the Time," entitled "The Falsehood of Extremes," also deals with the labor troubles; and in "Open Letters" Alfred Bishop Mason writes of "A Dutch Success in Cooperation."

The poems of the number are contributed by James B. Kenyon, George Edgar Montgomery, Mrs. Francis Hodgson Burnett, and in "Bric-a-Brac" by Robertson Trowbridge, Julia K. Wetherill, James T. McKay, Margaret Vandegrift, and Wallace Peck.

New Music.

"Echoes from Lake George" is the title of a new Waltz, for piano, which we have just received from the Publishers, H. M. BRAINARD & Co., Cleveland, O. It is a beautiful composition, well arranged, melodious, and one of those Waltzes which every one falls in love with. The title-page is embellished with a fine lithograph of Lake George, one of the most beautiful lakes in the world. Send 50 cents to H. M. BRAINARD & Co., Cleveland, O., and receive copy by return mail.

A Wonderful Book.

We should judge, by the wording of the advertisement in another column of this paper, that the new book entitled, "THE WORLD'S WONDERS," is indeed a wonderful book. It will pay the curious, as well as those seeking employment, to read the advertisement. The Historical Publishing Co. offers to give standard books free to persons who will send the names of book agents. They also offer to start people without capital in a business that will pay from $15 to $50 a day—a pretty good income for these hard times. Read the advertisement. 13w1

CHEESE MARKETS.

[From the Utica Herald.]

UTICA, Aug 2.

The market to-day was a repetition of the one a week ago in prices, but the sales are about 1,400 boxes more. Shipments to-day were very general, and they take cheese off on an average to July 12. We hear no complaint of any further shrinkage, and it seems probable that the make from the first of July out will even up the shortage of the early part of the season. Cool weather promises well for the arrival of cheese in New York, and a favorable week is anticipated. Much more stock was sold at 7¾c. to-day than a week ago and yet one of our heaviest buyers reported none at that price. Transactions were as follows: 12 lots, 1,036 Boxes, a at 7¼c.; 15 lots, 1,442 boxes, at 7½c.; 4 lots, 510 boxes, at 7⅝c.; and 20 lots, 2,788 boxes, at 7¾c. Sales, 12,339 boxes; commissions, 1,017 boxes; total, 13,356 boxes; ruling price, 6⅝c. Two years ago transactions were 10,915 boxes, ruling 9¾c. With the price one dollar a hundred better than last year, our dairymen have cause to feel more cheerful.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, Aug. 2.

The predictions that the advancing prices of two weeks ago were carried too high and that the reaction would be continued for a long time, is hardly sustained, the market to-day showing a firmer tone and a slight advance. The offerings and sales were considerably larger than last week, or than those of a year ago at this time. The New York market claimed to be in a healthy condition, and it is not believed that lower prices will prevail during the rest of the season. To-day's table is as follows:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
2	170	7 cents
9	619	7¼ cents
72	5,772	7½ cents
19	1,311	7¾ cents
9	640	com.
111	8,518
Farm dairy	824
Total	9,342

Farm dairies—Eight hundred and twenty-four boxes of dairy cheese sold at 7 to 7¾c., bulk at 7½c.

Butter—Prices advanced slightly. Sales of 20 packages farm dairy at 14 to 16½c., 25 packages creamery at 18 to 17½c.

AT FULTON.

Twenty-six factories were represented at [illegible] Monday night with about [illegible] boxes, which brought from 7½c. [illegible]

AGENTS WANTED! FOR THE GREAT NEW BOOK, "The Worlds Wonders." By J. W. BUEL.

The most successful subscription book ever published. Over half a million copies were sold the past eight months, and it is selling three times as fast now as ever before. Regular canvassers clear from $15 to $25, $40 and $50 per day. Nothing like it was ever known in the history of book puplishing. Proofs sent free on application. No experience needed to insure success. We help persons without means to do a large business; no capital needed. Write for particulars. Salaries guaranteed to persons who do not wish to canvass on commission. We mean business, and want live agents in every township. It will cost you nothing to write for terms and full descriptions of our plans of doing business. We also give away standard books to persons who send us names of book agents. Write for our list of free standard books. HISTORICAL PUBLISHING CO., 120 & 122 N. 7th St., Philadelphia, Pa. 13w4.

Our Little Ones.

This monthly, published exclusively for the little folks, comes to us this month filled with interesting and instructive short stories, delightful poems for the young, and beautiful engravings, The publishers spare no expense in making it a model magazine. Every parent should subscribe for it for their little ones. $1.50 per year. Russell Publishing Company, Boston, Mass.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES.
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

OSWEGO COUNTY COURT APPOINTMENTS.

It is hereby ordered that the terms of the County Court and Court of Sessions of the County of Oswego, be held, and the same are hereby appointed to be held, until further order, at the time and places below stated:

Second Monday of March, Court House, Pulaski.
First " " May, " " Oswego.
First " " Sept., " " Pulaski.
First " " Dec., " " Oswego.

Trial jurors are required to attend each term, but no Grand Jury is required to attend.

Dated at Mexico, Oswego Co., N. Y., July 27, 1886.
M. L. WRIGHT,
Oswego County Judge.

—:LIVINGSTON COUNTY NURSERIES:—

MEN WANTED! TO SALL FIRST CLASS
Fruit and Ornamental Trees, Shrubs, Roses,
GRAPE VINES and SMALL FRUITS.
PERMANENT EMPLOYMENT on the most favorable terms. Complete outfit furnished free of expense to salesmen. Address
J. M. EDWARDS, Nurseryman, Dansville, N. Y.
13w4

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF
Ladies' Kid Button Shoes
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing
and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE
SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jas. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 84 Oneida St., place needs to be [illegible] Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y.

Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are advised to call on [illegible]

—WE HAVE IN STOCK A—Complete Assortment
—OF—
Lumber, Lath, Shingles &c.
—And in fact everything pertaining to a—
FIRST-CLASS YARD.
We are prepared to furnish thoroughly seasoned lumber at the Lowest Rates. Call and be convinced.
BOOMER & LOOMIS.
Corner Broadway and First Sts.

—CALL ON—
GEORGE JOHNSTON,
On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of
STOVES AND RANGES,
Where can be seen
THE ART GARLAND, ART UNIVERSAL, DENMARK, PRINCESS ALADDIN, and ACORN, Parlor Stoves.
THE MAGEES MYSTIC, GRAND UNIVERSAL, HAPPY THOUGHT, HAPPY HOME, and DUCHESS Ranges.
Among his other Attractions will be found the
Howe Ventilating Stove,
which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.
Yours Respectfully,
GEO. JOHNSTON.

—THE—
Howe Ventilating Stove.

A NEW STOVE.
ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE.
AN EXCELENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE.
A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

☞ A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE
Howe Ventilating Stove Company, Fulton, N. Y.
F .G. WEEKS, President.
E R. REDHEAD, Vice-President.
A .LMON BRISTOL, Sec'y & Treas.
E .L. MESSENGER, Gen. Manager.
GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent
FULTON, N.Y.

A Leading Popular Rochester Business University Commercial School,
By reason of the superiority of its facilities for imparting a thoroughly practical knowledge of commercial matters, and for promoting the substantial welfare of its pupils, this has become one of the largest and most conspicuous schools of its kind on the continent. Catalogue Free.
F. E. ROGERS, Secretary.
L. L. WILLIAMS, President.
12w6

THE GREAT APERIENT
ROGERS'
GRAPOLINE
CURES DYSPEPSIA, [illegible] | A. H. ROGERS & CO., [illegible] N. Y.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

BEST IN THE WORLD.
MARLIN Magazine Rifle.
[illegible]
BALLARD GALLERY, SPORTING AND TARGET RIFLES, [illegible]
MARLIN FIRE ARMS CO., New Haven, Conn.

PRESERVE YOUR HEALTH [illegible]
ROGERS' G[illegible]

FULTON 'BUS

[illegible]

Fare to Oswego, including 'Bus fare, 40 cents; for sale on the Omnibus.
F. D. Wilson, Proprietor.

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express	8:18 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express	11:29 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express	3:26 p. m
Freight and Accommodation	6:15 p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express	8:15 p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express	8:18 a. m.
Day Express	12:19 p. m.
Day Express	2:48 p. m.
Freight and Accommodation	6:15 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express	7:10 p. m.

The 8:18 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. Schwarz, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:13 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
Norwich Express	3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:24 a. m
Oswego Express	11:27 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	9:57 p. m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:21	2:16	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	12:54	3:24	6:29

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS.

Rev. H. M. Danforth has been in town for a day or two.

E. C. Fralick has returned from a ten day's visit in New York.

Miss Ella Terworth of Schenectady, is visiting friends in town.

Miss Lizzie Chown, of Kingston, Ont., is visiting Mrs. R. N. Hoff.

Miss Satie McKay has returned from a six week's visit in Canada.

George Harris of Cazenovia, is visiting at Mr. and Mrs. Birney Buell's.

Geo. S. Hanna is spending a few days with friends in Williamston, N. Y.

Miss Carrie Jennings has gone to Cleveland, Ohio, for a six week's visit.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Warner have been visiting relatives in town for several days.

Rev. W. Dempster Chase started for the North Woods Monday on a three week's vacation.

Mrs. E. W. Ross, of Springfield, Ohio, has been visiting in town the guest of Miss Mary Johnson.

Edward L. Morse of Providence, R. I., is visiting here the present week, a guest of P. S. Fuller.

Mrs. Marsh of Joliet, Ill., and Mrs. Betts of Syracuse, have been visiting in town, the guests of Mrs. A. Howe.

Brother Bradt of the Oswego Falls Observer is taking a week's vacation at the Thousand Islands and other resorts.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Goodell and children of Auburn, who have been spending a few days in Fulton have returned to their home.

Mrs. E. F. Jacobs and daughter, who have been visiting friends and relatives here for some time, returned to their home in Boston last Friday.

Rev. Warren C. Hubbard has gone to Wisconsin to spend his vacation. He will return here before resuming his pastorial duties in Brooklyn.

Mr. E. U. Howland of Rome and Wayne D. VanValkenburg of Albany, have been visiting at Mr. and Mrs. H. Baldry's on Oneida street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Richardson of Fulton, spent a part of last week and this week in town, the guests of A. J. Richardson and family.—[Central Square News.

Created A Big Sensation.

Ever since our opening in Syracuse we have created more excitement with our grand bargains, than any similar store ever created before. When we tell you that we are making up for the fall trade the biggest and the best line of Men's, Boys' and Children's Clothing ever shown in this part of the state, and our prices will be so much lower than other houses, it will pay you to come a distance of anywhere within fifty miles of Syracuse to trade with us. Remember we are the only house in Central New York where you can dress a man, child or boy up from head to foot, with the exception of boots and shoes. Remember we do not depend alone on Hats and Caps for our bread and butter, same as the Hatters but by getting small profits on the different articles we sell, and the large quantities we buy at one time. It's no secret why we undersell all other houses. Don't take our word for it; come and look us over. The great Bargain Clothiers, Hatters and Furnishers, Central City Clothing Co., 20 East Genesee St., Syracuse, N. Y. Look for the 4 C's. C. C. C. C.

All purchasers at the Bee Hive next Saturday and Monday will receive a ticket good for one ride on the street railway. Bennett & Stewart.

To Rent—A suit of rooms. One dollar per week. Enquire of, 12w2 C. W. Streeter.

Collins & Co. are making great preparations for the fall trade in Boots and Shoes. 12tf

J. Cooley Tucker has the sole agency for the celebrated granulated wheat, a food prepared from the best white winter wheat, unleavened, ready cooked for immediate use. It is the best food for invalids and children. As a diet for cases of nervous prostration and debility, constipation and dyspepsia, it is unequaled. It is used in Health Institutions extensively. 10tf

Second hand Gas Pipe for sale at McCully's planing mill, from ⅜ inch up to 3 inches in diameter. 12tf

A fine line of Boys' Knitting and Lace [illegible] 12tf

[illegible] the Mayor (and this is the way city politicians express themselves) is to promise fealty to the giver. In other words, the expression attributed to Jackson, but belonging to Wm. L. Marcy, "To the Victors belong the Spoils" is the sum total of an official's creed. No office in the gift of the Mayor has so much patronage at command as that of Commissioner of Public Works. An army of employes is under this official's supervision. More than 3,000 men are on this department's pay rolls. Some of these men are affected by the Local Civil Service rules, but, by some strange means, this amounts to nothing when the appointment is to be made. Party service is the measure of fitness.

Just now the political circles are excited over the trouble in the above mentioned department. The trouble is something like this.

In 1884, when the year was near its close, the Tammany and County Democracy were at loggerheads. The Mayor had the appointment of several important officers, and among them the Commissioner of Public Works. Several of his appointees were rejected, till finally the name of Rollin M. Squire was proposed and strange to say confirmed. This man was wholly unknown, and the excuse the Mayor, Franklin Edson, gave was that of old acquaintance or college chums. There were rumors of deals and all that sort of thing. The new Mayor, Wm. M. Grace, who, by the way, became naturalized but one day before his election, declared war against Squire. This has culminated in the Mayor preferring charges against Squires on the grounds, among other things, of violating the Civil Service rules. The precise political relation that Squire held to the two branches of the Democracy was not understood till he discharged some of Hubert O. Thompson's friends. This brought him into open hostility with the County Democracy generally and Maurice B. Flynn in particular who thereupon permitted a letter of Squire's to reach the Mayor's hands. This letter was a promise on the part of Squire that if he was confirmed through Flynn's help, he (Squire) would be the figurehead of the department, acting only as Flynn directed.

Maurice B. Flynn is a heavy contractor and is the surety of many other contractors. So it can readily be seen how advantageous to his interests this arrangement would be. It is said, too, that Square also wrote his letter of resignation and placed it in Flynn's hands; so that in case of any defection on his part he could get rid of him.

These disclosures only prove what was told me not very long ago. Some time just before the close of 1884, Theodore Moss, Squire and Flynn sat together in a Broadway cafe. This Aldermanic difficulty was spoken of and the plan was then formed that Squire should be made Commissioner, Moss should be on the new Subway Telegraph Commission and Flynn should have the exclusive patronage of the two offices. This bargain was made and the way in which it has been carried out is outlined above.

⁂

The city government is rotten; the political machinery is rotten; the police department is rotten; and the only institution that has any semblance of sound growth is that of public education, and even that has a defect when it must be remembered that the Mayor has more pressure brought to bear upon him in appointing a School Commissioner who recives no salary than a Police Justice who receives $8,000 per year.

Among the officers to be voted for are a Mayor and a Supreme Court Justice. We here venture the prediction that the former candidate will be bled to the tune of $10,000, while the latter will think himself fortunate if he gets of with $6,000 or $8,000. Yet there are many aspirants for the places.

⁂

Of course the death of Thompson has left a wide gap in the council of the Counties, but so did the death of Kelly and of Low also affect Tammany. With these two factions without their old-time leaders, the Republicans hope for success. They talk of running Levi M. Bates, formerly of the firm of Bates, Reed & Cooley, now interested in electric lighting for Mayor. It may seem strange that though the election is three months distant the political caldron should begin to boil, but it must be remembered that the election machinery begins to work about the first of August. So do the politicians.

⁂

Every indication points toward the completion of Bartholdi's statue by the appointed date. Already the framework is in position and the plates that form her dress are rivited up to the height of the knee. Three hundred feet above tide water is the height of her hand. The island on which the statue stands was formerly called Bedloe's island; but now that the statue is there the name has been changed to Liberty Island. A pleasant place it is to visit, when the surroundings are arranged, and old Fort Wool put in repair, it will be a charming place for an afternoon's stroll.

⁂

Sad as it may appear, it is no less true that Riverside Park is the resort now for that class of sickly sentimentalists who overflow with morbid curiosity. The reason is that General Grant's tomb is there. Two years ago I went up to Riverside and was told that it was not a popular place. Many, very many of the taxpayer's dollars had been spent apparently for nothing. The death of the lamented Gen. Grant was a Godsend to the Park Department and the only reason why the city offered the family a burial place was to popularize Riverside Park. The place is not fit for the last resting place of this great man. I was up there the other day. I thought of Tennyson's lines on "The Charge of the Light Brigade" only I [illegible] watched his tomb since then until two weeks ago. Now it is in charge of the "sparrow" police. A fresh bouquet of flowers comes to the grave every morning from Mrs. Grant. The family have lived in the city during the winter and spring; now, however, they occupy their Long Branch cottage. There exists nowhere in America a more strongly united family than the Grant family. The example of such family fealty is worthy of imitation in these days.

⁂

Fashion has dictated everything, even religion. Hence, fashion has hitherto demanded the closing of the churhes during the summer months. If they are open the service is conducted by, and the less fortunate parishoners are left to the spiritual direction of a divinity student. Indeed so prevalent has this custom become that the churches, now are trying to throw off the the odium of the summer closing movement, are compelled to advertise. On a wealthy Fifth avenue church, you may read the sign "Open all Summer."

The Fifth avenue and other aristocratic congregations expect their minister to go to some fashionable summer resort. The thing has reached the point of a fashionable pastor or nothing. The result is that the poorer portion of the congregations refrain finally from church service enterely. Perhaps this is the thing aimed at.

One church now open offers as a special inducement that during July and August seats are free to visitors. It is a good bid; strange to say nobody is tempted. Wanderer.

[illegible] Shoes. To be [illegible] closed out, at NETTLETON'S.

Ho! For a Ride.

No one one can get or sell or give away street car tickets before Saturday. That is the day Bacon gives them away to his customers. Go to Frank Bacon's for your Dry Goods and Millinery.

"Here's a Pretty How-De-Do."

In our last issue we published an article from our regular correspondent at Palermo concerning some difficulty that had occurred in the Palermo Center Sunday school in which the Supervisor of that town had taken a prominent part. On Monday evening the Supervisor appeared in person at our office with a paper signed by W. J. Loomis, superintendent of the Sunday school, A. W. Green, Leander Scudder, O. P. Jennings and Fred Scudder, stating that the article was utterly false, without a word of truth in it. We have also received a note from our correspondent saying that he had given the true statement of facts, and was prepared to prove it by a large number of persons who were present. In considering the matter carefully we have come to the conclusion that the whole affair is a political wrangle, in which we have no desire to participate.

Free ride on the street cars: Bennett & Stewart will give each and every purchaser next Saturday and Monday a free car ticket.

How to Put Up Fruits, Etc.

For economy, cleanliness and simplicity in preparing fruits and vegetables for future consumption, nothing has yet been proposed equal in value to that which is now in the hands of one of our lady citizens for introduction in Oswego county, a system or process which does away with boiling and spoiling and gives perfect fruit, etc as the net result of minimum trouble and expense. From a critical examination of specimens, we can heartily recommend the subject to those who are now trying to solve this interesting problem.

Elegant stock of Seasonable Dry Goods at F. E. BACON'S.

Remember the base ball game on the Oswego Falls fair grounds to-morrow.

Rev. J. T. Rathbun, of Volney, will preach in the M. E. church next Sunday.

The Ontario & Western Railroad are having a very successful season of business.

The Antwerp fair will be the first of the season. It is to be held August 25th, 26th and 27th.

There will be no preaching service at the Baptist church next Sunday. Sabbath school at 12 o'clock.

Rev. Mr. Montgomery preached his farewell sermon in the Congregational church at Phoenix last Sunday.

The rosy cheeked apple, the deceptive cucumber, the pestiferous fly and the musical mosquito are abroad. Look out for them.

Three blossoms of Mrs. C. H. David's night-blooming cereus were in full bloom last Sunday evening. Many friends and neighbors went to see this beautiful flower.

Thomas Fitzgerald of Oswego, was arrested in that city by constable Parker of this village, charged with defrauding a boarding house keeper out of a $16 board bill. He was brought here last night.

L. D. Spooner, the Oneida street druggist, was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him with violating his license in selling liquor on Sunday. He was arraigned before Police Justice VanWagenen and through his counsel, H. C. Howe, pleaded not guilty and demanded a jury trial, which was set down for Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock. He was bailed in the sum of $100, his counsel becoming his bondsman.

To all our customers who are in to trade [illegible]

OPENING OF THE STREET R. R.

The Road to Be Opened next Wednesday—A Mammoth Picnic and Free Clam Bake on the Fair Grounds. Everybody Invited.

The Fulton and Oswego Falls Street Railway will open for business on Wednesday, August 11th. The formal opening will occur at 10 o'clock a. m. when the officers and directors of the road accompanied by the Village Boards of Fulton and Oswego Falls, and invited guests, will make the first trip over the road from Fulton, escorted by the Fulton Amateur Band, after which cars will leave the Fulton and Oswego Falls termini every fifteen minutes, carrying passengers. A mammoth basket picnic and clam bake will be held on the Oswego Falls Fair grounds, commencing at 1 o'clock p. m. Fifty barrels of clams will be baked by experts from New York and furnished free to all. Addresses will be delivered by leading citizens of the county. All manner of field sports and boat racing will be contested during the afternoon, for appropriate prizes. Admission to the grounds free. Everybody is invited to be present.

Fire in Oswego Falls.

About half past four o'clock Saturday afternoon the barn in the rear of Stoddard's hotel in Upper Oswego Falls was discovered to be on fire, and before the flames could be checked, was burned to the ground. The horses in the building were saved. The fire is supposed to have been set by boys who were playing with matches. There was an insurance of about $200. Immediately after the alarm was sounded, the Baker Hose Company found that their hose and hose cart was locked up and the foreman, with the key in his possession, had gone out of town. Before the building could be broken into and the cart liberated, the fire was nearly out. An alarm was sent to Lower Oswego Falls and the Cronyn hose company started immediately and were on the ground and had a stream on the fire nearly if not quite as soon as the home company. The roof of an adjoining house caught fire from a cinder but was extinguished before much damage was done.

1836—1886.

On Friday, Aug. 6, Zion church will celebrate the Fiftieth Anniversary of the laying of the corner stone.

The parish was organized June 15, 1834. The corner stone was laid on the 6th of August, 1836, by the Rev. J. McCarty of Oswego. The church was consecrated by the Rt. Rev. Bishop DeLancey, Aug. 4th, 1843. The first Wardens and Vestrymen were the following gentlemen: Wardens—Anson Sackett and Zachariah Eddy. Vestrymen—Richard D. Hubbard, John C. Highriter, John O'Neil, Henry C. Moody, Elbert Holmes, John Eddy, David H. Highriter and Robert Hubbell. On account of the small number of churchmen at that time, the church could not be consecrated for a number of years on account of the debt incurred in its erection.

A most devoted churchman, Captain John Wilson, for many years a vestryman, went on numerous begging expeditions for the church and with good success.

The first Priest settled over this parish was the Rev. G. B. Engle. He was succeeded in 1842 by the Rev. A. C. Treadway. His successor in the Rectorship was the Rev. O. P. Holcomb, who remained until 1848. The Rev. G. S. Porter then took charge. In 1849, the Rev. T. M. Bishop became Rector and remained until 1857. Mr. Bishop was ordained Priest in Zion church. He was succeeded by the Rev. William Atwill who remained about a year. His successor, the Rev. L. D. Ferguson, formerly came to us from the Methodist society and after a short time went back to his first love.

In 1861, the Rev. Mr. Bishop was recalled to the rectorship and remained until 1868. Mr. Bishop thus served the parish for a little more than fifteen years during his two rectorships. He was succeeded by Dr. Whiting. The Rev. Mr. Moyses was called to the Rectorship in 1872. He remained until 1883. The Rev. Mr. Beaubien succeeded him, staying only a short time. Mr. Clarke, Lay Reader and Catechist, did good service in the few months in which he served.

The parish has had some very faithful laymen, among whom none stand higher than John C. Highriter, Capt. Bradway and John Woodin, all of these "having finished their course in Faith, do now rest from their labors."

At the services on Friday one of the old Rectors and one beloved by many outside the circle of his own pastoral family, the Rev. Theodore M. Bishop of Honeoye Falls, will be present, assisting in the morning at the Holy Communion and preaching in the evening at 7:30.

Go to Frank Bacon's to trade and he will give you a free ride home on the New Street Cars.

Anniversary Services.

There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at Zion church Friday at 10 o'clock. Evening prayer and sermon by the Rev. T. M. Bishop. The choir will be assisted by cornet accompaniment.

A free ride on the New Street Railroad. All persons making a purchase at Frank Bacon's on Saturday or Monday next, will receive a car ticket free.

Spiritualists' Grove Meeting.

The annual Spiritualists' Grove meeting will be held on the Oswego Falls Fair Grounds, on Sunday, August 15. [illegible]

"Dog days" began July 31 and terminate August 31.

The fall term of No. 3 school opens Monday, August 30th.

The latest comet is traveling at the rate of 968,000 miles an hour.

The price of coal advanced 15 cents per ton on all grades last Monday.

A new sidewalk has been laid in front of the Kenyon block on First street.

August 11th is the last day in which you can pay your corporation tax at one per cent.

Rev. Thomas Nichols of Pittston, Pa., will preach next Sunday in the Presbyterian church.

H. & A. Rosenbloom have an advertisement in another column which will pay you to read.

The annual school meeting in all the district schools of this state occurs this year on August 31.

Rev. Mr. Grumbine of Syracuse will again occupy the pulpit at the Universalist church on next Sunday.

Miss Jennie M. Mathews, formerly preceptress of No. 1 school, has accepted a position in a private school at Altoona, Pa.

The Congregationalist picnic to Three River Point last Saturday was very largely attended, over 550 tickets being sold.

A game of base ball will soon be played on the Oswego Falls fair grounds between the Fultons and a nine from Oswego.

D. J. Freeze of this village is wearing a large smile. A responsibility weighing ten pounds has been added to his household. It is a boy.

The Free Methodists hold their annual camp meeting in Wilber's grove on Fay st. this year commencing August 11th and continuing for a week or ten days.

The sheriff on Saturday seized the stock of groceries of D. S. Mead of Minetto on an execution issued in favor of N. M. Andrews. It will be sold August 9.

The water was let out of the race Monday to enable some repairs to be made in Hoff's mill. It is thought that the water can be let in by to-morrow night or Friday morning.

The John Sharp hose company will have their meetings on the first Friday of each month and the fire bell will be rung on these evenings, as well as the first Tuesdays, as heretofore.

A meeting of the "Lawn Tennis" club will be held at the residence of Miss May French on Wednesday, Aug. 11, at 8 o'clock p. m. All members are requested to pay their annual dues on or before that date or forfeit their membership to the club.

A game of base ball will be played tomorrow afternoon on the fair ground betwween the Oneidas and the Fultons. The game will be called at 2 o'clock. Ladies and carriages admitted to the grounds free. An interesting game may be looked for.

A wrestling and sparring match occurred at the Sullivan place on First street last Saturday evening. "Foss" Peters and Charles Fairbanks were present from Syracuse. Several local sparrers also appeared and some terrific "slugging" was indulged in.

Several important changes and improvements are being made in No. 2 school. The seats in the main room up stairs have been changed so that they face the north instead of the east. Water has recently been introduced into building.

On Sunday people almost melted in the shade with the thermometer at about ninety. On Monday and Tuesday the same persons might be found with their coats tightly buttoned and hands in their pockets. The thermometer registered as low as fifty-six. A difference of thirty-four degrees is quite a change at this season of the year.

The new depot of the N. Y. O. & W. railroad is nearly completed, and although somewhat small, is a very handsome structure. It is expected to be ready for use in a few days. The work of tearing down the old depot for the erection of the new freight house will begin as soon as the building is vacated.

Bennett and Stewart will give a free street car ticket to all purchasers next Saturday and Monday.

Mrs. VanBuren has just been granted a divorce from her husband, James VanBuren, by the Supreme court.—[Truckee (Cal.) Republican, July 21.

Both are well known in this village, the former being the adopted daughter of William Hill and the latter the son of Mrs. James VanBuren.

A prominent citizen of Fulton who held a share of the Fulton & Oswego Falls street railroad, some time ago was offered $2.00 for it. Thinking that he would be two dollars ahead if he sold it he did so. The purchaser recently sold the share for $125. Whether the original owner has ceased kicking himself we have not learned.

At a meeting of Johnson Hose Company No. 3 held at their rooms last evening, it was decided if possible, to attend and take part in the hose race at the Annual Fireman's Convention, which is to be held in Buffalo on the 17, 18, 19, 20 of this month. Members of the company are out with subscription papers for the purpose of getting money to enable them to meet expenses. It is hoped the citizens will assist them liberally.

[illegible] al. On last week notices were posted in the factory announcing that on and after the 2d of August there would be a reduction averaging ten per cent. Thereupon universal dissatisfaction prevailed and things assumed a threatening aspect. We understand that over a hundred became Knights of Labor last week after hearing of the reduction, and that papers were circulated to secure names of those that would take part in a general strike on Monday morning. Wiser counsel seems to have prevailed however, and the strike was averted. Father Early, who has done so much good in the temperance field, took a new departure Sunday, and spoke in most eloquent terms to his congregation against the thought of any such thing as a strike. The Times will use its best efforts for the benefit of the laboring class and will strive with them to gain and maintain by honorable means that which is their just due. A strike would be injudicious and foolhardy and would undoubtedly prove injurious to all who took part in it and to hundreds of others who were not directly concerned. The reduction was made from necessity on the company's part and when business will permit, it will undoubtedly be restored.

Trustees' Reports.

The registers and blanks for trustees' reports are now being delivered by the town clerks with the following circular.

To Trustees and Friends of the Schools: Meetings of the trustees and friends of the schools in the First District of Oswego county will be held in the several towns comprising this district at the following places at 2 o'clock p. m. of the days for which they are called:

Oswego—At Oswego Centre, Friday, August 6th, 1886.

Hannibal—At Hannibal Village, Saturday, August 7th, 1886.

Scriba—At Scriba Centre, Tuesday, August 10th, 1886.

New Haven—At New Haven, Wednesday, August 11th, 1886.

Granby—At Lower Oswego Falls, School House in District No. 2, Friday, August 13th, 1886.

Volney—At Fulton, School House in District No. 3, Saturday, August 14th, 1886.

The matters for consideration at these meetings are the Making of Trustees Reports; the Grading and Classification of our Schools; more uniformity in Terms, Methods of Teaching and Text Books therein, and in a word anything tending to promote the efficiency and usefulness of our schools. The importance of these meetings cannot be overestimated. Schools whose Trustees attended last year have shown improvement in many ways as a result. All who have an interest in our schools are invited to attent and Trustees are requested to not fail to be present.

D. D. Metcalf, Com.

Dated July 26th, 1886.

Notice.

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Fulton & Oswego Falls Street Railway Co., for the election of seven Directors and three Inspectors for the ensuing year and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting will be held at the office of the Company in the village of Fulton, Oswego Co., N. Y., on the 21st day of Sept., 1886, at 12 o'clock noon. Transfer books will close on the 11th day of Sept., and re-open on the 22nd day of Sept., 1886.

Charles Lyman, Secretary.

The following By-Laws regulate the manner of holding such election:

The annual meeting of the Stockholders shall be held on the third Tuesday in September, in each year at the office of the Company in the Village of Fulton, Oswego Co., N. Y., at 12 o'clock noon, at which time an election by ballot for seven Directors and three Inspectors of election for the next year shall take place and such other business shall be transacted as the Stockholders may deem necessary. Polls open at 12 o'clock noon, and close at 1 p. m.

Charles Lyman, Secretary.

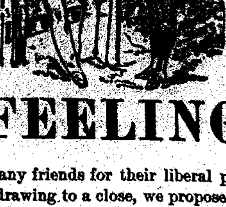
A Reported Abduction.

A correspondent informs us that last Friday two well-known female characters from Oswego drove out to the town line of Volney to the home of a man named Lampman, who lives with his two daughters aged eleven and twelve. During the absence of the father one of the girls was enticed by the women to get into the carriage. After they had gone, the remaining sister attracted with her cries the attention of two women living across the road, who started across lots to head the party off. Five men who were met by the rescuers refused to accompany them and the brave women started on alone, soon heading off the party and succeeding in capturing the girl. No motive is given for the abduction.

If any man wishes quite a good Gauze Wrapper for 19 cents step into Bacon's and get it and he will give you a free ticket home to put it on.

The Electric Lights.

The four Thompson-Houston electric lights continue to throw their clear and steady rays along the streets over which they are suspended, while the lights from the Schuyler system remain as yet a thing to be seen. We had confidently expected that before this issue went to press the lights of this system would be in operation and an opportunity would have been given of comparing the two, but from a lack of proper shafting to run their dynamo and want of a sufficient length of wire this has not yet been accomplished. The thirty days granted to the latter company by the village board for establishing their lights expires on Friday [illegible]



FEELING

Indebted to our many friends for their liberal patronage during the season now drawing to a close, we propose to give away tickets for the Oswego Falls Fair. With every sale of $2.00 and over one Admittance Ticket. With every sale of $8.00 or over, one season ticket.

PEEBLES & COOK

THE CLOTHIERS,

Opposite Opera House.

JUST OPENED

—A LARGE LINE OF—

Tinware, Woodenware, Glassware, Crockery,

TOYS, DOLLS, STATIONERY, GLOVES, HOSIERY, HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS, CLOTHES WRINGERS, WASHTUBS, BASKETS &c., &c.

To be sold at prices that will surprise you. We positively will not be undersold.

Call and be Convinced.

Stowell's 25 Cent and Bargain Store,
Opera House Block, Fulton, N. Y.

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

Hale's Honey the great Cough cure, 25c., 50c. & $1
Glenn's Sulphur Soap heals & beautifies, 25c.
German Corn Remover kills Corns & Bunions
Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye—Black and Brown, 50c.
Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 Minute, 25c
Dean's Rheumatic Pills are a sure cure, 50c.

WORM DESTROYER.

Mrs. Butler's Compound Worm Tonic effectually destroyes worms, naturalizes the stomach and bowels, and acts as a permanent tonic, and is an exceedingly beneficial and certain cure for fever, diarrhea, dry hacking cough and weak, feeble children, as thousands testify Also cures fits and dizziness. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 28y1.

You will save time and money by buying your field and garden seeds in bulk. A large stock just received at D. C. Draper's 15 Oneida street, and for sale at the lowest living rates by the bushel, quart or pound.

Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares, two years ago, and find it very durable and economical.
Hart Bros.

The trial of the Anarchists is going on in Chicago.

Vermont proposes to establish a state institution for the criminally insane.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

HARPOON FORKS
for $1.00
—at—
Snow & Loomis' Hardware,
and
Horse Rakes,
Hand Rakes,
Pitch Forks,
Pulley Blocks,
Rope and
Haying Tools,
at equally low prices.

Draper has reduced the price on all holiday goods, fancy crockery, gloves and mittens, sleds, &c., to 10 per cent. less than cost, he is bound to close them all out instead of holding them for next fall's trade.

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets. Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expediously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. 7tf

Draper, 15 Oneida street, will not be undersold in groceries, crockery, glass and plated ware, table and hanging amps. Call and get prices.

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter jars, Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots, &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by 10tf J. Cooley Tucker.

FOR SALE. A Model Farm of 33 acres; the first east of the village of Fulton, on the Fay road. Soil stoneless, clay loom, well drained, fruited and fenced. Good buildings, hennery, &c.. Nine acres newly seeded, good pasture, never failing creek and chestnut grove. Will leave stock, (pure and gray Jersey), crops and implements if desired. Enquire of
Joseph Baggs,
13w4 Fulton, N. Y.
Chestnut Posts for sale from 5cts. up.

TO RENT—A 7 roomed house, eligibly situated, immediate possession. [illegible]
S. W. Cor. Oneida and Fourth Sts.

Greatest Bargains
—IN—
CLOTHING
Ever Offered in Oswego County!

—To close out our Summer Stock a large stock of—

Boys' and Children's Clothing

Will be sold very low. Now is your time.

D. C. MORE & CO.

The Reliable one Priced Dealers, [illegible] Lewis House, Fulton, [illegible]

[illegible] strawberry crop is an abundant one this season.

Profits amounting to $400 per acre are often realized from strawberries.

Things the farmer raises to sell appear to be tending upward in price all around.

Twenty thousand dollars worth of peas are sent to London every year from the small town of Looze in Belgium.

One of the best uses for poultry manure at this season is to apply it to the cucumber vines.

Cows like cabbage leaves, but it is better to feed them just after milking, otherwise they will flavor the milk.

Road dust may be gathered easily now and stored for use in poultry houses, stables and out-houses, where it will be worth much more than it cost.

A blockhead, armed with a saw and pruning shears, is as destructive in an orchard as a bull in a china store. Get a careful, experienced hand for a day or two, and take lessons of him.

The orange crop of Southern California is estimated at about 500,000 boxes. The crop of Florida was estimated, before the freeze, at 1,800,000 boxes. The foreign crop received in the Western States is likely to reach 2,000,000 boxes.

Early gardening lengthens the growing season and permits at times of two crops on the same land, as turnips may follow peas, and time is thereby gained for putting in late crops.

Cellars are usually damp because the walls are cooler than the air which causes condensation of moisture. To prevent this condensation of moisture it is recommended that the windows and doors of the cellars be closed during the day and opened at night.

The Home and Farm gives the following novel method of making cabbage head. It says that "when the plants are about eight inches high, and formed woody stalks, make incisions in the stalks with the small blade of a penknife insert small pieces of wood of the size of a match and break them off. This checks the growth, and hard heads will be formed."

Care of Animals in Summer.

The American Humane Association presents the following suggestions relative to the care of animals during the heated term.

Provide water—fresh, pure water. Think, reader how you are refreshed by a drink of cool water on a hot day. The lower animals are equally in need of the means of quenching thirst.

The active dog requires drink frequently during the hot day, as also does the cat; and a dish of fresh water should stand where they can have access to it. Undoubtedly many a dog is driven to madness through lack of water; and the testimony is that hydrophobia is almost unknown in those localities where dogs can drink when they wish.

Every city, village and country town should be liberally supplied with drinking fountains for animals, and they should be so constructed that even the smallest dogs can drink from them. No gift to a people confers a greater pleasure than a fountain, and that person, who turns aside a stream of water from the field and gives a watering trough to to the roadside, or provides a fountain at which man and beast can drink pure water is truly a public benefactor.

Give the horse frequent opportunity to quench thirst at times when not too much over-heated, and before eating. To drink freely immediately after eating prevents a favorable digestion of food.

Provide shade. How instinctively we seek the shadow when the sun is pouring its hot rays on the dry and parching earth. If the pasture is not provided with shade trees, in a convenient locality set four, six or eight supports, across which place straw or grass, and thus, in a brief time and with little labor make a shade in which animals can rest from the heat of the sun, to the great comfort of themselves and benefit to their owners.

Remove the harness from the horse in the hot day whenever you desire to give them a full, free rest, and once during the day, preferably at night, a thorough currying and grooming will not only give rest, but will do about as much towards improving the animal's condition as will the oats.

Examine the harness on your working team, and you will discover that blinds, check-reins and cruppers are simply contrivences of torture, serving no useful purpose. Take them all off for the convenience of yourselves and the comfort of the horses. Keep the stable well ventilated and free from the strong ammonia, which is injurious to the eye. Assist the animals to protect themselves from flies, feed regularly, hitch in the shade, and remember that the care which will give comfort to the lower animals will make them doubly profitable to their owners, aside from the humane bearing upon the subject.

Farms in America.

The farms of America equal the entire territory of the United Kingdom France, Belgium, Germany, Austria, Hungary, and Portugal. The corn fields equal the extent of England, Scotland, and Belgium, while the grain fields generally would over-lap Spain. The cotton fields cover an area larger than Holland and twice as large as Belgium. The rice fields, sugar and tobacco plantations would also form kingdoms of no insignificant size, and such is the stage of advancement reached by American agriculturists that it is estimated that a farmer with a field of wheat covering 100 square miles, can raise as much grain with 400 farm servants as 5,000 peasant proprietors in France.

She Must Have Noticed Her Mouth.

"Do you know, Charlie," remarked a [illegible] young lady who was intent [illegible] the young man's breast with [illegible]

[illegible] spring [illegible] after that, [illegible] when sows are too young to breed to farrow in the spring, it is good policy to breed for fall pigs. But to make them as good as spring pigs they must have good shelter and the equivalent of green food. Swine shelters are more likely to be made too warm than otherwise. The swine lie close together, and their bodies are compact, hence they require rather open shelters. Sheltered swine usually suffer more from foul air than from cold. Good ventilation is the first essential of a swine shelter. This must not be forgotten when constructing shelters for fall pigs, for because they are small, the shelter is likely to be made warmer than for mature swine, which is saying that it will be altogether too warm. They should have no litter if the shelter will keep them dry and protect them from winds. The equivalent of green is easily provided, and is not a more expensive food than grain. Turnips can be grown after a crop of early potatoes or sweet corn has been removed from the land, or even on stubble ground. The small potatoes may be gathered up and boiled. A patch of rye will give green food until covered by the snow and intervals during the winter. The vegetable scraps may be saved, and thus the pigs be kept thriving through the winter.—[American Agriculturist for August.

Old and New Haying.

Securing the hay crop was formerly one of the most laborious jobs of the year. But so much is now done by horse power that on smooth farms riding is about the hardest labor required. It is also possible to get hay in better condition now than formerly, when everything had to be done by hand, and of course slowly. Much hay is still spoiled; but a larger area is put in this crop than it was possible formerly, and on an average it is saved in better condition. It is doubtful, however, whether the signal service observations prognosticate coming storms more reliably than many old farmers have learned to do from years of observation and experience.

Characters in Cigars.

A nervous man, who fumbles his cigar a great deal, is a sort of popinjay among men.

The man that smokes a bit, rests a bit and fumbles the cigar more or less is easily affected by circumstances.

The fop stands his cigar on end, and an experienced smoker points it straight ahead, or almost at right angles with his face.

Beware of the man who never releases his grip on his cigar, and is indifferent whether it burns or not. He is cool, calculating and exacting.

To hold fast half of the cigar in the mouth and smoke indifferently is a lazy man's habit. They are generally of little force and their characters are not of the highest strata.

If a man smokes his cigar only enough to keep it lighted and relishes taking it from his mouth to cast a look at the curl of smoke in the air, set him down as an easy going man.

If the cigar goes out frequently the man has a whole-souled disposition, is a devil-may care sort of a fellow, with a lively brain, a glib tongue and generally a fine fund of anecdotes.

Holding the cigar constantly between the teeth, chewing it occasionally, and not caring if it is lighted at all, are the characteristics of men who have the tenacity of bulldogs.—[Mail and Express.

It Doesn't Pay to Worry.

If you would keep a book and every day put down the things that worry you, and see what becomes of them, it would be a benefit to you. You allow a thing to annoy you just as you allow a fly to settle on you and plague you, and you lose your temper and you justify your self in being thrown off your balance by causes which you do not trace out. But if you would see what it was that threw you off your balance, and put it down in your little book, and follow it out and see what becomes of it, you would see what a fool you were in the matter. The art of forgetting is a blessed art, but the art of overlooking is quite as important. And if we should take time to write down the origin, progress and outcome of a few of our troubles, it would make us ashamed of the fuss we made over them, and we should be glad to drop such things and bury them at once in eternal forgetfulness. Life is too short to be worn out in petty worries, frettings, hatreds and vexations. Let us think only on whatsoever things are pure and lovely and gentle and of good report.—[Forward.

An Editor's Vacation.

Times being rather hard we are going to take our wife to the home of our mother-in-law next week for a short visit, and we will give our readers a little vacation by not issuing any paper. They won't lose much; for there is little news going just now, and we print this week an editorial on the tariff which would have appeared next week. The only thing we have had to leave out on this account is Bill Jones' ad. about a farm for sale, but that is of no consequence, as he hasn't paid us anything for it yet. Brethren, white paper is to blamed dear to fool it away when our mother-in-law will keep us a week for nothing.—[Dakota Thunderer.

Invention of a Deadly Electric Sword.

A gentleman of Shanghai has, after considerable experimenting, invented a new and deadly weapon. It is an electric sword, which, when the point touches the party attacked, sends a powerful shock through him, and if not immediately killing will at least put him hors de combat. The sword is an ordinary military sabre, but along its whole length is let in a fine [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. Wood, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. Balcom, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. Proudfoot, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge, to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

REV. DR. FREELAND, of Fowlerville, N. Y. writes us that two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine cured his wife of nervousness and sleeplessness. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

IMPOTENCY IN MAN OR WOMAN quickly cured by Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is the great remedy for women and children. 128 doses for $1.00. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

REV. E. J. WHITNEY, of Clarkson, N. Y., says: Gilmore's Wine for Female Weakness stands without a rival. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

WANTED. A case of Female Weakness, General Debility or Nervous Exhaustion that Gilmore's Aromatic Wine will not cure. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MIDDLE AGE MEN who lack vigor and vitality should use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. It gives nutriment to the brain and is a tonic to the physical system. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MRS. I. H. McINTIRE, of Daggetts Mills, Pa., says: "My daughter, aged sixteen, has been declining some time. She used two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. She is now well. I would advise all mothers having girls not to be one day without it. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

LADIES, use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine, it will cure you. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE makes a lady beautiful, because it gives her good, rich blood.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is a positive cure for all those painful complaints so common to all our best female population. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

Elevators in certain New York buildings are run from 450 to 500 feet a minute. The latter figure is the present Chicago rate. Pittsburg is going to have one to beat the record at 850 feet a minute.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guaranteed. 27eow

The growth of religious interests in Germany may be seen in the fact that in Prussia alone 2,553 men are studying theology in the universities.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

The clerk who clipped the July cupons from Vanderbilt's $80,000,000 of government bonds was locked in a vault for a week.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

Sam Jones and Sam Small will conduct services at Round lake camp meet-meeting, August 18-27.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

As a remedy for Pulmonary Affliections and Scrofulous Diseases.

Dr. Ira M. Lang—a prominent physician in New York, says:—I am greatly pleased with your Emulsion. Have found it very serviceable in above diseases, and it is easily administered on account of its palatableness. 11w4

It is now estimated that the total cost ot Albany's great celebration will reach $35,000.

AT THE SEASIDE.

The nervous, brain-working type of people, such as lawyers, clergymen, business men and students are the principal victims of hay fever. Sufferers may be certain that hay fever does not arise from an impure state of the blood. A local treatment is the only way to cure it. Judging from results, Ely's Cream Balm is the only specific yet discovered. 11w4

Francis Murphy and his son have obtained 60,000 temperance pledges in Ohio since last September.

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

Send for Pamphlet on Female Diseases mailed free, securely sealed. Dr. J. B Marchisi, Utica, N. Y. 20tf.

Prescott Evarts, a son of the Senator, has been ordained a priest of the Protestant Episcopal church.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

There is not a single savings bank in the whole of North Carolina.

[illegible]

[illegible]

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,
The Old Reliable
UNDERTAKER
AND
FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 5t1

George Fassell
DEALER IN
Marble and Granite
MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH,
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium
Stock Lager.

☞"Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

ADVERTISERS
can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing
Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,
Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

SCOTT'S
EMULSION
OF PURE COD LIVER OIL
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼ton
Stove	$4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
Mix	4.50	2.38	1.31
No. 4	4.75	2.50	1.38
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Pea	2.50	1.88	1.06

☞Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.

☞Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.

THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.50	$1.88	$1.06
Stove	4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
No. 4	4.75	2.50	1.38
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Mixed	4.50	2.38	1.31

Buy while it is Cheap!

[illegible]
Kaskine Restores Perfect Health.

In Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Uniformly successful."

In St. Francis Hospital, N. Y. { "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Dr. L. R. White, U. S. Examining Surgeon, says: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Gleason, has cured over 290 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says: "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, M. D., says: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

IS THE ONLY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD THAT DESTROYS THE GERMS OF DISEASE IN THE BLOOD, and permanently cures all diseases arising therefrom, such as Malaria, Fevers, Rheumatism, Billiousness, &c., and IS THE GRANDEST TONIC EVER DISCOVERED. Removes nervous prostration and premature decay by disinfecting the blood, so that the starving nerves are supplied with life giving nourishment, bringing back the VIGOR AND POWER OF YOUTH.

Send for the great list of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine.

Price $1 per bottle. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price. Agents wanted everywhere.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., New York.

For Sale by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y.

The publishers of story papers have nothing to complain of. Mr. Bonner has made about $1,000,000 from the Ledger; the Munros are millionaires; Street & Smith made several hundred thousand; Alverson of Philadelphia is said to be worth $2,000,000; Frank Tousley is pretty much in the same condition, and Moses A. Dow of Boston had a plethoric bank account.

How Women Differ from Men.

At least three men on the average jury are bound to disagree with the rest just to show that they've got minds of their own; but there is no disagreement among the women as to the merits of Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription." They are all unanimous in pronouncing it the best remedy in the world for all those chronic diseases, weaknesses and complaints peculiar to the sex. It transforms the pale, haggard, dispirited woman, into one of sparkling health, and the ringing laugh again "reigns supreme" in the happy household.

With a taxable valuation of $130,000,000 Arkansas expended last year $729,168 for the salaries of teachers and other current expenses of its free public schools, built more than twenty new school-houses at a cost of from $3,000 to $20,000 each, and then had $469,837 left in the school fund.

Our readers are cautioned about buying medicines which are not endorsed by some well known druggist. H. C Gisler, has made a thorough study of Blood diseases, and after a careful investigation, and many practical tests, positively asserts that Acker's Blood Elixir will cure all blood disorders, ridding the system of its impurities, and leaving it strong, vigorous and healthy. he will warrent it. It is a certain cure or all skin diseases. 27eow

To promote economy the French government has established savings banks in connection with the public schools. There are no less than 24,000 of these banks, and the 500,000 boys whose names are on the books have an average of $5 each to their credit.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Cough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

Great Britain consumed last year $116,313,800 worth of liquors beer etc., an average of $102 50 for each family in the kingdom, and more than was spent for bread butter and cheese.

Woman and Her Diseases.

is the title of an interesting illustrated treaties (160 pages) sent post-paid, for 10 cents in stamps. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

In Plymouth, Mass., a woman was lately appointed from among an army of applicants, fifty of them men, to the position of principal of the high school with a salary of $1,400 per annum.

WONDERFUL CURES.

J. J. Atkins, Chief of Police, Knoxville, Tenn., writes: "My family and I are beneficiaries of your most excellent medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; having found it to be all that you claim for it, desire to testify to its virtue. My friends to whom I have recommended it, praise it at every opportunity." Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption is guaranteed to cure coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma, croup and every affection of throat chest and lungs. Trial bottles free at R. E. Phillips drug store. Large size $1.00.

The cigaret is going rapidly. During the last fiscal year the number consumed was 1,310,556,212, an increase of 225,212,112 over the previous year.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

According to the Interior, the Presbyterian church ought to give $10,000,000 a year for missions.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

Over 200 varieties of potatoes were raised on the farm of a Connecticut man this year.

"Have used Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for croup and colds, and declare it a positive cure." Contributed by Wm. Kay, 570 Plymouth Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY,
ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

[illegible] New Haven News.

Fate.

He took her album, and he wrote
A tender, sentimental stanza,
That seemed like a whispered note
From some delicious old romance;
And then he turned the perfumed leaf,
And straight his countenance grew yellow;
The same face made him wild with grief,
There written by another fellow.—[Tid-Bits.

A Troy Times reader furnishes the following epitaph copied from a tombstone in a Pennsylvania cemetery:

Here lies a man who died of late,
While angels for his soul did wait
With outstretched arms and wings of love,
To waft him to the heavens above,
But while disputing o'er their prize,
As who should carry him to the skies,
In popped the devil like a weasel
And off to h—— took poor old Peazel.

RIB SHAKERS.

Sweetness Soured.

'Tis sweet to wander on the sand,
And hear the music of the band,
To fish remote from vulgar view,
Catch minnows and pneumonia too,
To have your biceps firmly placed
About a pretty maiden's waist,
In short, to have a jolier time
Than can be writ in prose or rhyme.
But hopes are sadly rent asunder,
For the whole business costs like thunder!
—[Tid-Bits.

Clara, (Bobby's big sister)—"I heard father calling you a little while ago, Bobby."

Bobby—"Did he say Robert or Bobby?"

Clara—"He said Robert."

Bobby—(with a serious look in his eyes)—"Then I guess I had better see what he wants.—[Harper's Bazar.

Wanted—The man who can address a Sunday school without beginning his speech with, "When I was a little boy."—[New York Journal. How would Dr. Mary Walker fill the bill?—Whitehall Times.

What a fly time we are having now. See the joke?—[Palmer (Mass.) Journal.

Little Lil—"I 'ish I was as big as Cora Merritt. "You should not have such a wich as that, baby; you want to keep young as long as you can. Little Lil—(not so sure): "I don't know about that. If I was as big as sister Clara I'd wear a bustle, and then ma couldn't spank me any more.—[Judge.

What is more pathetic than to see the simple faith with which a baldheaded man will buy an infallible hair restorative from a baldheaded barber?—[Detroit Free Press.

At a recent meeting of Texas editors the proprietor of a brewery sent a written invitation to them to come over and inspect his establishment. Ten seconds after it was read a light dust might have been seen settling on the empty chairs in the hall—if there had been anybody there to have seen it.—[Estelline Bell.

Of course it is none of our business anyway, but we can't help wondering sometimes whether Dr. Mary Walker gets a Walterbury watch with every pair, too.—[Somerville Journal.

Music teacher—"Your daughter, Mrs. Jones, has real music talent. She ought to have thorough training." Mrs. Jones—"That's just what I was telling Mr. Jones to-day, and we have agreed to hire a competent teacher for her after she has finished this quarter with you.—[Song Friend."

Tommy—(who has just received a severe scolding)—Am I really so bad, mamma? Mamma—Yes. Tommy (reflectively)—Well, anyway, mamma, I think you ought to be real darn glad I ain't twins!—[Harper's Weekly.

The jury brought in a verdict of "not guilty." His honor said admonishingly to the prisoner: "After this you ought to keep away from bad company." "Yes, your honor, you will not see me here again in a hurry."—[Texas Siftings.

A pious old lady recently sent as wedding presents a pair of flatirons, a rolling-pin and a motto worked on card-board reading: "Fight On."—[Bangor Commercial.

Water is selling at fifty cents a barrel in Galveston, Texas. The inhabitants think it is a new kind of summer drink.—[New Haven News.

A young fellow wearing a blithesome smile and a seersucker coat came out of the St. Nicholas at Cincinnati yesterday afternoon, and rushing up to a professional-looking gentleman passing by, said: "Why, doctor, I'm deuced glad to see you. I want to thank you for that medicine you prescribed for me." "It helped you, did it? the old gentleman beamingly inquired. "It helped me wonderfully." "How many bottles did you find it necessary to take?" "Oh, I didn't take any of it. My uncle took one bottle, and I am his sole heir."—[Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

She Didn't Want Him to Die.

"And you say you would die for me, George?"

"Die for you! Yes, a thousand deaths."

"You are a noble man, George."

"My darling, do you not know me yet?"

"Well, dearest, I do not wish you to die for me, but I will tell you what you can do to show your affection."

"What is it darling? Shall I pluck the stars from the cerulean dome? Shall I say to the sea, ha! ha! cease to flow, for my love wills it? Shall I tell you bright and inconstant moon that is glinting the hill tops with her light, that she must not shine on thy face too roughly—ha!"

"No, George, no," she smilingly said, "I do not wish you to attempt such impossibilities. All I ask of you is this"—

"Yes, my darling."

"All I ask is this—don't call again."—[Boston Courier.

Didn't Blame Them.

The new baby had proved itself the possessor of extraordinary vocal powers, and had exercised them much to Johnny's annoyance.

[illegible] he said to his mother:

"Ma, little brother came from heaven, didn't he?"

[illegible]

[illegible] OUT OF 100
Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil
CURES
A Cold or a Rheumatism.
19 TIMES OUT OF 20
Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil
CURES
Asthma and Diphtheria.
49 TIMES OUT OF 50
Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil
CURES
Croup and Affections of the Throat.
Price 50 cents and $1.00.
SOLD EVERYWHERE.

SULPHUR BITTERS
THE GREAT
German Remedy.
TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells, depend on SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.

Ladies in delicate health, who are all run down, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.

The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using SULPHUR BITTERS.

$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.

Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.

Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.

General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use SULPHUR BITTERS, and you will not be troubled.

SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.

Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.

SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

OVER WORKED Women.

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ANTICHRIST!

St. John wrote "Ye have heard that Antichrist shall come." The prophecies on that mysterious subject in the book of Revelation and in Daniel are fully explained in a commentary entitled "CHRIST ON THE THRONE OF POWER AND ANTICHRIST." The old interpretation is followed, except that the vast progress of modern times enables us to see farther into prophecy than formerly. Now can be seen signs of the coming of that formidable "Army of 200,000 thousands breathing out of their mouths smoke, fire and brimstone." No age before this has made such use of the mouth in teaching, lecturing and telephoning; nor of the press, in newspapers, books and pamphlets, for weal or woe. A few more explosions of dynamite like that in Chicago and a farther exposure of the hidden depravity of the Anarchists, may enable men to see signs of the speedy coming of "The Man of Sin" to whom John gave the name of Antichrist. It is a book of 307 pages octavo, in large type, sent by mail for $1.25. An Agent Wanted in every Town. Address

REV. E. G. BROWN,
Rochester, New York.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE
BEST IN THE WORLD
☞Get the Genuine. Sold Everywhere.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 981 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ASTHMA AND CATARRH.

Dr. H. W. Reed's Celebrated Asthma and Catarrh Relief, the most effectual and sure cure yet discovered. Samples sent free to all who ask. Fifty cent and dollar boxes sent by mail. A. ETHRIDGE, Proprietor, Rome, N. Y.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure. By JOHN H. McALVIN, Lowell, Mass., 14 years tax collector. Sent free to any address.

MOTH-WAX
KILLS THE MOTH
and the old Moth Miller. Sample cake by mail 6 cents.
W. H. H. CHILDS,
73 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

FRENCH'S HOTEL,
CITY HALL SQUARE, NEW YORK.
Opposite City Hall and the Post Office.

This Hotel is one of the most complete in its appointments and furniture of ANY HOUSE in New York City and is conducted on the European Plan.

Rooms only One Dollar per day. Half minute's walk from Brooklyn Bridge and Elevated R. R. All lines of cars pass the door. Most convenient Hotel in New York for Merchants to stop at. Dining Rooms, Cafes and Lunch Counter replete with all the luxuries at moderate prices. 8y1

WRITE TO N. A. MILLER, Elmira, N. Y. President of the Elmira School of Commerce and ALLEN BUSINESS COLLEGE, for a catalogue of the Leading Business Training Institution in America. [illegible]

1,000 AGENTS WANTED for the NEW WORK,
GLADSTONE—PARNELL
AND THE GREAT IRISH STRUGGLE.
[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]—At [illegible]

PHOENIX—At the law office of [illegible] in Phoenix, [illegible]

FULTON—At the office of F. D. VanWagenen, in Fulton, on the second [illegible] July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of [illegible] in Mexico, on the third Friday in [illegible] and the fourth Friday in October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the [illegible] Central Square, on April [illegible]

PARISH—At A. H. & J. E. [illegible] April 30th, July 30th and Sept. 30th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 12th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 12th, 1886.

CAROLINE L. ALFRED,
Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against F. D. VanWagenen, late of the Village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the office of F. D. VanWagenen, No. 10, First St., Fulton, N. Y., in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 12th day of August, 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1886.

ANN VANWAGENEN, Executrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886.

LUCY K. HUBBARD,
Executrix.

FORECLOSURE SALE. SUPREME COURT—OSWEGO COUNTY. The Fulton Savings Bank vs. Letson Lalu and others. By virtue of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action at a Special Term of the Supreme Court held at the Court House, in the city of Syracuse, Onondaga county, N. Y., on the 5th day of June, 1886, and duly filed and entered in the clerk's office of Oswego county on the 7th day of June, 1886, I the undersigned Referee duly appointed in and by said judgment and decree to make such sale will sell at public auction to the highest bidder at the law office of Piper & VanWagenen, in the village of Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y., on the 4th day of Sept., 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day the mortgaged premises in and by said judgment and decree directed to be sold and described therein as follows, to wit.: all that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Volney, county of Oswego and State of New York upon Lot number seventy-five (75) of the 17th Township of Scriba's Patent, Beginning at the north-west corner of O. Cone's division of 52 34-100 acres and running thence south 2 deg. east along the west line of said Cone's 52 34-100 acres thirty-seven (37) chains ninety-four (94) links to a stake, thence north 89 degrees west parallel to the south line of said Lot 75 fourteen (14) chains, fifteen (15) links to a stake, thence north 2 degrees west along a line of marked trees seventeen (17) chains ninety-four (94) links to a stake in south line of Samuel A. Williams' 30 acres laid off from said lot 75, thence south 89 degrees east along the south line of said Williams' 30 acres two (2) chains sixty-three (63) links to a stake at the south-east corner of said Williams' 30 acres; thence north 2 degrees west along the east line of said Williams' 30 acres twenty (20) chains to a stake on the north line of said lot 75; thence south 89° east along said north line eleven (11) chains ninety-three (93) links to the place of beginning, containing 50 acres of land—excepting however from the above described 50 acres a parcel of ten (10) acres from the south end thereof heretofore conveyed to O. Cone and a parcel of 8 8-10 acres from the south end thereof heretofore conveyed to Alfred Hodgin and excepting also a parcel of three (3) acres heretofore released from the operations of said mortgage from the west side of said mortgaged premises and conveyed by said Letson Lalu and wife to Orville Dunsmore by deed recorded in Oswego county clerk's office, in Liber 189 of deeds, at page 224, leaving 28 2-10 acres be the same more or less.

Dated July 20, 1886.

N. N. STRANAHAN,
Referee.

PIPER & VANWAGENEN,
Att'ys for Pl'ff,
Fulton, N. Y.

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.50	2.38	1.31
Nut	4.50	2.38	1.31
Mix	4.50	2.38	1.31
Egg	4.25	2.25	1.25
Grate	4.25	2.25	1.25
Pea	3.50	1.88	1.06

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co.

WEBSTER'S
UNABRIDGED
With or without Patent Index.

WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED DICTIONARY — A LIBRARY IN ITSELF

The Attention of School Officers, and others, is invited to the fact that in purchasing the latest issue of this work, they get

A DICTIONARY

containing 3000 more words and nearly 2000 more illustrations than any other American Dictionary.

A GAZETTEER OF THE WORLD

containing over 25,000 Titles, with their pronunciation and a vast amount of other information, (just added, 1885) and

A BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY

giving pronunciation of names and brief facts concerning nearly 10,000 Noted Persons; also various tables giving valuable information.

ALL IN ONE BOOK.

Webster's Unabridged Dictionary is recommended by the State Superintendents of Schools in 36 States, and by leading College Presidents of the United States and Canada. It is Standard Authority with the United States Supreme Court, and in the Government Printing Office. It has been selected in every case where State Purchases have been made for Schools, and is the Dictionary upon which nearly all the school books are based.

GET THE LATEST AND BEST.

It is an invaluable companion in every School and at every Fireside.

G. & C. MERRIAM & CO., Pub'rs, Springfield, Mass.

CATARRH
ELY'S CREAM BALM
HAY FEVER is attended by an inflamed condition of the lining membrane of the nostrils, tear-ducts and throat. An acrid mucus is secreted, accompanied with a burning sensation. [illegible] severe spasms of sneezing, [illegible]
HAY-FEVER [illegible] inflamed eyes.
Cream Balm can be depended upon to give relief at once and cure.
A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price 50 cts. [illegible] by mail, registered, 60 cts. [illegible]

ADVERTISERS [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 14

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 11, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

A Mystery.

Life held in her hands a measure,
And swung it, lightly and low;
And she said: I will see if my pleasure
Do not outweigh my woe.
And she gathered all stingless laughter,
All loves that were lasting and sure,
All joys that left memories after,
All wealth that was wingless and pure;
She gathered all sunlight and starlight,
All thornless and fadeless flowers;
She gathered the faint light and fair light
Of pangless and perfect hours:
She gathered all glimpses elysian
That never had blasted the soul,
All hopes that had held to fruition;
All talents that won to the goal,
All wisdom that never had saddened,
All truths that never had lied,
All ambitions that never had maddened,
All beauty that satisfied.

And she flung them all, all in her measure,
But they nothing outbalanced the pain;
And she said: I must add yet a treasure,
The kindest and best in my train.
And she reached out and took Death, and laid it,
All restful and calm, on the scale;
Yet pain, as before, still outweighed it;
And she sighed as she said: Could this fail?
Then she reached up to merciful heavens,
Took down, and flung over earth's strife,
A little pale hope, all unproven—
The hope of a measureless life;
Flung it down with a doubting and wonder,
With question and touch of disdain,
When lo! swift the light scale went under;
Life's woe was outweighed by life's gain!

Oh! strange! Oh! most strange! If the measure
Of all mortal days be but woe,
Compared with their acme of pleasure
(Life mused as she hung the scale low),
Why, then, should it lessen earth's sorrow?
Why magnify Death's consequence
To believe in a timeless to-morrow?
And Life held the scale in suspense.
—[New York Independent.

A Hammock Song.

Swaying, swaying, softly swaying in the seaweed scented breeze,
Gazing at the sunlight, flinging golden glances through the trees,
Listening to the drowsy droning of the never tired bees.

There's some magic in the motion, some strange spell we do not know,
A weird power it has to conjecture visions up from long ago,
By its swinging cradle motion, slowly, softly to and fro.

All the world of work and wisdom fades behind us, it is naught,
Clear before our charmed vision, Spanish castles rise unsought,
And the shadow land is round us, and the realm of dreamy thought.

What is this strange power that holds us? 'Tis some silent, subtle spell,
Born of swaying, ever swaying, like the tolling of a bell,
Or the rocking of the ocean, and the salty sea weed smell.

Lying lazily, we linger in the land of day dreams bright,
Drinking deep from fancy's fountain, draughts of quiet, calm delight,
Till the eastward lengthening shadows warn us of the coming night.

Still we linger, scarcely heeding how the happy moments go,
What care we for time that passes? We are swinging to and fro,
With that magic cradle motion, swaying, swaying soft and slow.
—["K. M. M.," in N. Y. Mail and Express.

DOROTHY'S TOBACCO.

"NO" said Dorothy Mallard, "I won't run the farm with any man on shares! I've seen enough of that in father's time. It was always the man that got rich, and father that lost."

"You won't, eh?" said Silas Green, reddening angrily.

"No," said Dorothy, "I won't!"

"Then I guess you and the children will starve," growled Silas. "Anyhow, I guess nobody'll feel sorry for you."

"It's very well to talk about sympathy and help, and all that sort of thing," said Dorothy Mallard. "But when it comes to actual business, I've observed that every man's hand is for himself."

"But no woman ever made a farm pay," said Silas Green, sullenly biting the end of a burnt match."

"Well, anyway, I mean to try it," said Dorothy.

She was not quite twenty, the positive young female—a tall, well-made woman, with bright, gray-blue eyes, a healthy red-and-white complexion and very dark brown hair, brushed straight away from her forehead.

She was no city damsel whose ideas of life are limited to six button kids gloves, opera matinees and walks on the sunny side of Upper Broadway, but a straightforward, business girl, who knew every detail of farm life, and could tell just when rye ought to go in and carrots come out.

Her father had been "complaining," as the country folk phrased it, for years, and now that he was dead, Dorothy felt a new avalanche of care descending on her. For there were four wistful-eyed little girls and one delicate boy to be provided for.

Silas Green and Dorothy Mallard had never been regularly engaged, but it was an understood thing in the community that they belonged to each other.

They had "kept company" ever since Dorothy put up her hair behind a comb. And Silas had perhaps learned to domineer a little in a good humored way. Consequently he did not approve of this new out-cropping of Dorothy's independence.

"I'd marry her in a minute if she'd hear to my way of doing things," said he. "Of course the little girls are old enough to be bound out. I know plenty of good, sensible women who would give them their board and clothes for the work they would do. And as for the little boy, we wouldn't quarrel about him. There's lots of odd chores a boy like that would be useful for."

But Dorothy's eyes had flashed indignantly when Silas had hinted at some such [illegible].

[illegible] she said bitterly. "Good little [illegible]

"It's no use my thinking of wheat, rye, potatoes and that sort of thing," said she. "It would require too much capital and too many hands. Besides, father used to say that the market was overstocked. I'll put the big corn lot into tobacco. That's a crop that a woman can handle. Old Jubal will help me about the curing for a mere trifle; and I'll put some grape-vines up them rocky terraces by the south woods, and the big strawberry field is coming into fine bearing this year. I'm glad I set out the young plants last June, and watered 'em through the drought. And then there's the young chickens. We never did have such a fine lot before. And Polly, Chatty, Bess and Bell are old enough to help a deal; and I hope that little Able can at least weed strawberries and help pick worms off the tocacco leaves, child though he is. He'll like to think he's helping, too. There's a deal of ambition in that lad."

Old Jubal was a rheumatic old colored man who traveled around the country, mending tinware and recaning chairs.

His laziness was a proverb through the whole neighborhood, but, nevetheless Dorothy Mallard contrived to get some good heavy work out of him.

"If dar's anyfing dis chile un'erstan's, it's de car ob tobacco" said old Jubal. "Doan you fret, Miss Dawthy; I'll gar-antee de crop turns out fust best."

And so old Jubal took up his residence in the barn chamber, where he smoked himself into stupefaction of an evening, and told ghost stories that made little Abel's flaxen hair stand on end, between the pipe lightings.

"An old nigger of seventy and a child of seven!" jeered Silas Green. "We'll see what sort of farming that is."

Dorothy turned short around upon him.

"I believe," said she, with glittering eyes, "that you must be pleased, Silas—yes actually pleased if I was to fail in that enterprise of mine."

"Well, I calculate it would teach you a pretty good lesson said he, disagreeably.

But as time went on, the young chickens grew as fat as if they had been in Dorothy's confidence, and were secretly preparing themselves for the gridiron and the spit; the ripening strawberries crimsoned all the field; the young grape-roots stretched their green tendrils sunward; and the tobacco waived its monster leaves as if it fancied itself down in Old Virginia instead of growing on a rocky Rhode Island farm.

Dorothy Mallard worked late and early. She herself took her crops into town with a borrowed wagon and the old blind pony which having been turned out into the world to die by a heartless clam-vender, had been led home and fed on juicy grass by Abel and Chatty, and who had actually developed into a sort of Indian summer of usefulness under the unwonted stimulus of plenty of food and bedding and kind treatment.

And the tobacco field won such renown throughout the neighborhood that a gentleman from Providence—a famous cigar manufacturer—drove up one afternoon to look at it.

"Pretty nice 'backer, sah," chuckled old Jubal, who in his ragged, working-suit was working in the little plantation, with an occasional pull at a clean clay pipe.

"A fine crop," said Mr. Mayhew. "Your own raising, my man?"

"Me an' Miss Dawthy," said old Jubal. "Ef dar's anyfing we understan' it is tobacker."

"What will you take for it," said Mr. Mayhew, "as it stands?"

"Mus' ask Miss Dawthy," said the old man, slowly shaking his head. "Miss Dawthy's de boss. Old Jubal dunno nofin'."

"Where is this Miss Dawthy of yours?"

"She's done took a load ob eggs an' poultry into town," said Jubal. "Massa mus' wait."

"Who owns the farm?" Mr. Mayhew asked.

"Miss Dawthy," said Jubal.

"Who works it?"

"Miss Dawthy."

"She must be a smart woman," observed Mr. Mayhew, carelessly.

"Dat she jus' is!" said old Jubal. "As smart as de best steel-trap in Providence."

Mr. Mayhew naturally prepared himself to behold a raw-boned elderly female, with a hide-and-leather complexion, elbows as sharp as the angle of a Virginia fence. His surprise at the appearance of pretty Dorothy Mallard can easily be imagined.

At the end of the season Dorathy balanced her accounts.

"Well, said Silas Green, who had strolled up in the frosty starlight, with the inevitable burnt match in his mouth, "how much have you lost?"

"I don't know that it's any of your business," said she with some spirit.

"I only asked as a friend," remarked Silas, somewhat discomfitted."

"Oh, is that it? I thought it sounded exactly as if you were asking 'as an enemy,'" dryly observed Dorothy. "Well, of course, if that is the case, I don't object to answering. I haven't lost anything."

"Just made matters meet, eh?"

Plus one hundred dollars!" triumphantly responded Dorothy.

"Great Scott!" shouted Silas. "There ain't many farmers in Glengowe hev made more money than this year. I suppose it's the tobacco crop."

"That and other things," said Dorothy. "The strawberries have done splendidly, and I could have sold twice as many [illegible] and fresh eggs if I had had them. But I don't deny that the [illegible] my mind to let by gones be bygones, and marry you after all."

"Marry me?" said Dorothy.

Silas Green nodded his head benevolently.

"Oh, no I don't think you will," said she.

"I've decided to let you take care of the children just as you please," said Silas. "Though I still think it would be better to bind 'em out to trades. For there's no denying that you're a smart girl. Dorothy, I somehow can't get you out of my head. I—"

"Don't go on, please!" faltered Dorothy. "I mustn't listen to it, Silas. I am ever so much obliged to you, but I am engaged to another man!"

"Hal-lo!" said Silas.

He took up his hat and went precipitately home.

"I wonder who it can be," said he to himself. There ain't a man in Glengowe half good enough for Dorothy Mallard!"

But the next Sunday, with all the roads covered with the first pearl-white snow of the season, a cutter dashed by as he plodded along toward the old stone church.

"It's Dorothy!" said he, stopping to stare after it. "And that's Mr. Mayhew, the cigar-manufacturer from Providence that bought in her tobacco crop. I see it all now! I—see—it—all!"

As for old Jubal, he rejoiced greatly.

"Derighteous is allays cared for," said he. "I'se to sweep out the warehouse an' feed the engine fires. I'se allays hankered after a warm place. And I'se to have all de waste chewing shog I wants. Ef dar's any better place dan dat, I wishes dey'd jes' let me know!'—[Hellen Forrest Graves.

THE PROPER THING.

Biscuit color is a favorite for wraps this season.

Dotted muslins are much worn by girls in their teens.

Velvet ribbon makes a pretty addition to challi dresses.

The inexpensive wool challis make useful and pretty dresses.

Corsage bouquets are now worn in the center of the bosom or waist.

Lace cuffs on children's dresses are always turned back over the sleeves.

It is prophesied that black will be in supreme favor for the coming autumn season.

For women of fair complexion and dark hair and eyes, pink makes a very becoming toilet.

Little girls' parasols are red, blue, terra cotta, pink, and ecru, are unlined and very small.

The Spanish combination of black and scarlet plays an important part in tennis costumes.

Seersuckers and ginghams are made up precisely as stuff dresses are, but without linings.

Turkish crape dresses of crinkled sheer cotton with all over patterns of vines and flowers are attractive and inexpensive.

High-necked guimpes with long sleeves are worn by little girls under bodices that consists mostly of wide bretelles laced across the front and back and fastened with a long looped epaulet bow of ribbon on each shoulder.

The Russian bang and the basket coil are the fashionable features of hair dressing. The Russian bang is pointed in the middle and is short on the temples. The basket coil is made of fine braids wound close to the head to make a flat coil.

Easy Mathematics.

A farmer spends $13 per year for tobacco, and his wife spends $2 per year for shoes. How much more do her shoes cost than his tobacco?

It is twenty-eight feet from a certain kitchen door to a wood-pile, and 2,358 from the same door to a corner grocery. How much longer will it take a man to walk to the wood-pile than to the grocery, estimating that he walks three feet per second?

If it takes a boy twenty-five minutes to cut three sticks of wood to get supper with, how long will it take him next morning to walk three miles in the country to meet a circus coming to town?

A cook hires out at $3 per week, and when Saturday comes she has broken $4.80 worth of dishes. How much is due her, and how on earth did the mistress find out that she had broken anything?

A young lady who is out with her beau drinks four glasses of soda water at five cents each; two glasses of ginger ale at five cents each; eats three dishes of ice cream at ten cents each; four pieces of cake valued at thirty cents, and throws out a hint for a box of candy worth fifty cents. What does she cost him in all?

A tramp tackles a farm house, and a dog tackles the tramp. The tramp passes over thirty-two rods of ground per minute, while the dog passes over forty-eight rods. How long will it take the dog to overhaul him?

Four boys who are on a visit to their aunt discover a cake of maple sugar weighing five pounds and eleven ounces. What will each boy's share be if equally divided?

If a saddle-horse has caused the death of four different ladies who are advised by their doctors to try the saddle for exercise, how many ladies could have been decently killed in half the time by riding over rail-fences in buck-boards?

John has an orange, and six boys lick their chops and want him to divide. He eats it by himself, seeds, rind and all. How many pieces would he divide the orange [illegible]

Uncle Esek's Wisdom.

All political parties are made up of foxes and geese—about 5,000 geese to one fox.

The great beauty of charity is privacy; there is a sweet force even in an anonymous penny.

There is nothing so valuable, and yet so cheap, as civility; you can almost buy land with it.

There are many comfortable people in the world, but to call any man perfectly happy is an insult.

My dear boy if you must part your hair in the middle, get it even, if you have to split a hair to do it.

I know of nothing that will test a man's true inwardness better than to feel like the devil, and be obliged to act like a saint.

The great mass of mankind can only gaze and wonder; if they undertake to think they grow listless and soon tire out.

Independence is a name for what no man possesses; nothing in the animate or inanimate world, is more dependent than man.

All conservatives have once been radicals, and their virtue consists in having found out that half a loaf is better than no bread.

I am an uncompromising radical up to date, but when I reach the other world I can be a conservative, if it is the best thing to do.

Men of great genius should not forget that their failings, or vices, are more apt to be noticed, and even admired, than their virtues.—[Century.

Lippincott's.

The August number of Lippincott's Monthly Magazine is pre-eminently an out-of-doors number. John Burroughs contributes a paper upon Gilbert White's Natural History of Selborne, which has all his charm of manner, his pleasant humor, his minute observation of nature. The scene of "Lolita," a brilliant short story by Mary Agnes Tincker, is laid in Spain, and the incidents revolve around a bull fight, which is described with extraordinary power. In the ever-popular Experience Meetings, John Habberton, under the title of "Paddling for Pleasure," tells about his experiences as a canoeist, John M. Ward, the famous captain of the New York Base-ball Club, gives a frank, straightforward and very interesting account of his career as a base-ball player, and L. E. Myers, the short-distance runner, contributes some "Confessions of a Champion Athlete." A timely article, in view of the coming banker's convention at Boston is "The Banks in 1861," by A. S. Bolles, which throws some new light upon the patriotic services of the banks in upholding the national credit at the beginning of the war. The anonymous American serial "Taken by Siege," which has provoked so much discussion and curiosity, is approaching completion. "A Bachelor's Blunder" is as bright and clever as ever. The reader is now beginning to see the blunder which the bachelor committed. In the monthly Gossip, E. F. W. has a caustic attack upon Howells' new serial "The Minister's Charge," and other writers discuss other subjects of current interest. There are some excellent poems, including a vigorous, breezy celebration of the glories of "The West," by Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

Wonders of the Sea.

The sea occupies three fifths of the earth's surface. At the depth of about 3,500 feet, waves are not felt. The temperature is the same, varying only a trifle from the ice at the poles to the burning sun of the equator. A mile down the water has a pressure of over a ton to the square inch. If a box six feet deep were filled with sea water and allowed to evaporate under the sun, there would be two inches of salt left on the bottom. Taking the average depth of the ocean to be three miles, there would be a layer of salt 230 feet thick on the bed of the Atlantic. The water is colder at the bottom than at the surface. In the many bays on the coast of Norway, the water often freezes at the bottom before it does above.

Waves are very deceptive. To look at them in a storm, one would think the water traveled. The water stays in the same place, but the motion goes on. Sometimes in storms these waves are forty feet high and travel fifty miles an hour—more than twice as fast as the swiftest steamer. The distance from valley to valley is generally fifteen times the height, hence a wave five feet high extends over seventy-five feet of water. The force of the sea dashing on Bell Rock is said to be seventeen tons for each square yard. Evaporation is a wonderful power in drawing the water from the sea. Every year a layer of the entire sea fourteen feet thick is taken up into the clouds. The winds bear their burden into the land, and the water comes down in rain upon the fields, to flow back at last through rivers. The depth of the sea presents an interesting problem. If the Atlantic were lowered 6,564 feet, the distance from shore to shore would be half as great, 1,600 miles. If lowered a little more than three miles, say 19,680 feet, there would be road of dry land from Newfoundland to Ireland. This is the plane on which the great Atlantic cables were laid. The Mediterranean is comparatively shallow. A drying up of 660 feet would leave three different seas and Africa would be joined with Italy. The British channel is more like a pond, which accounts for its choppy waves.

[illegible]

Is inseparably connected with Hood's Sarsaparilla, and is true of no other medicine. It is an unanswerable argument [illegible]

Reading a Dime Novel.

A chap of a bootblack who had made his stake for the day sat down in the shade on the Postoffice steps the other day and pulled a dime novel from his pocket with a grin of great satisfaction. It was a novel about a terrible Western desperado, who was pictured on the cover with his hands full of revolvers and his mouth filled with bowie-knives. The boy was thrilled at the sight of the wood cut and he made haste to begin his reading. He had read only half a page, holding the book in his left hand, when he suddenly clinched his right fist. The medicine was beginning to work.

He read to the bottom of the page and a look of exultation crept over his face. The hero had probably killed a couple of men and barricaded himself in a saloon.

During the reading of the next page the boy passed from perfect satisfaction to the deepest anxiety, and he couldn't keep his feet still. The hero was being surrounded by the town's people who ment to send up the mercury for him.

Page third was so exciting that the boy began to breathe hard and grow pale and chew on his quid of gum for all he was worth. The hero was probably loading up his weapon, filled up with benzine, and getting ready to perish or die.

Page four was a screamer. The boy got up and sat down three different times, and half way down the page he swallowed his quid slick and clean. At the end of the page it was painfully evident that his collar band chocked him, for his neck was growing very red.

Page five related how the hero shot down four or five men and made a dash out of town, firing over his shoulders as he ran. The boy slapped his leg and grinned as if he had found a dollar.

Being afraid that the hero would stub his toe and be overtaken, the boy skipped the next seven or eight pages and caught the hero at bay in the presence of a dozen Indians. His eyes began to bulge out and sweat to appear, and it was evident that he expected the fur to fly.

The next page was full of bullets and war-whoops. The boy held up his right arm as if sighting a revolver, dodged three arrows and a tomahawk and was just panting for breath when the Indians, or as many of them as were left alive, kindly consented to withdraw and go off after some other sort of mutton.

Again the boy turned over half a dozen leaves, and as he settled down again he gave a start of surprise. The hero had just leaped off a 200-foot precipice and landed safely on his cheek. Then came a look of proud satisfaction as the desperado knifed a couple of grizzlies and kicked a panther into insensibility.

The next page was a corker. It was made up of avalanches, cyclones, rattlesnakes, mountain lions, redskins, road-agents, Danites and chain-lightening, and after suppressing three yells, four groans, and seven shivers of horror, the boy sprang up, pocketed the novel, and muttered to himself as he wiped his damp brow on his elbow:

"By gum! but I can't wait no longer! I've got to go off and steal a banana or lick a boy or sass a policeman!"—[Exchange.

Characteristics of Clay and Webster.

Clay was a political genius; Webster the incarnation of an intellect. One, the natural leader of political action; the other, the selected representative of a new England constituency. One, ardent and constructive; the other, cold, logical, and analytic. One inspired affection; the other, awe of his mental strength. One chose the field for a political fight; the other led on the charge of the heavy dragoons. One carried his friends on his shoulders, and the other was carried on the shoulders of his friends.—[Chas. H. Peck in Magazine of American History.

TWENTY YEARS A SUFFERRE.

Jordan, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—I have been afflicted with Rheumatism for the past twenty years, and have been laid up with it regularly for the past ten years. A short time ago I was confined to my bed with it, and sent for a bottle of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and when I had used the first bottle, went after the second bottle myself. I have tried so many good things, with no good results, that I can recommend this, in the highest terms, as I believe your remedy is the best in existence.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. MARY DOCKSTADER,
Farmer's Hotel.

Black Rock, N. Y.

DEAR SIRS:—This is to certify that I have been afflicted with rheumatism and Neuralgia for the past twenty-five year and at times so bad that I was not expected to live. I have used Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and have never used anything in all my experience that has helped me so much. I can recommend it to all afflicted with the above disease.

MRS. MARY MAGUIRE,
1437 Niagara Street.

Syracuse, N.Y.

GENTS:—For the past five months I have been troubled with Rheumatism, at times very badly. I procured some of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy of your agent, and in a few days was entirely free from all pain, and continuing its use for several weeks I am entirely cured and take pleasure in recommending it to all who are troubled with Rheumatism or general debility.

Yours truly,
[illegible]

He Knew It From the First.

When Mark Twain arrived in this city from the Sagebrush State he was in his, at that time, chronic state of impecuniosity. He had furnished some correspondence to the Call, and at once made a rade on the office for funds for immediate use and for a position on the local staff. He wore a ragged felt hat, a blue soldier's overcoat, pants which had formed a passing acquaintance with the tops of his boots, and the latter were guileless of a knowledge of even the name of a blacking-brush. George Barnes, who was at the time city editor of the Call, told him to come to work the next day, and gave him an order on the business office for money enough to make himself look respectable. The next day Twain took possession of his chair, and for six weary months Barnes tried to get some work out of him.

At the end of that time, in his good-natured way, he tried to let Mark down and out easily and politely, by saying to him: "Mark don't you think you are wasting your time and talents in doing local work."

"What do you mean?" said Mark.

"Why, I think with your style and talent you could make more money writing for first class magazines than in such work as you are doing now."

"That means you don't want me any more, I suppose," and he put his feet on the desk and smiling blandly at Barnes.

"Well, I think you are better fitted for that class of work."

"The fact is you have come to the conclusion that I am not the kind of a you want."

Well, if you will have it said Barnes, "you are not. You are the laziest, most shiftless, good-for-nothing specimen that I ever saw around a printing office. I have tried for six months to get some hard work out of you and failed and I have come to the conclusion that it is useless to keep you any longer."

"Barnes," replied Twain, in his most placid manner, "you are not as smart a man as I thought you were. You have been six months in finding that out, and I knew it the day I came to work. Give us an order on the office for three days' pay and I'll git.—[San Francisco Call.

Scrofula diseases manifest themselves in the warm weather. Hood's Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood and removes every taint of scrofula.

Famous Gold Mines.

Nevada county is the chief of all the mining counties in the state of California. It has a middle situation in the state, but it is generally ranked as a northern county. The summit of the Sierra Nevada runs through the county, the towns of Truckee and Boca being east of those mountains, and within Nevada county.

The chief industry is mining although farming is carried on with profit in the western part of Nevada county. No equal area in the world has produced more gold than has Nevada county, and no region known has the promise of an equal mining permanency. The gold is found in both quartz ledges and gravel beds.

The great gold gravel region of the county is in the townships of Bridgeport, Bloomfield, Eureka, Little York and Washington. These are of immense extent and of incalculable richness. These beds are worked by the hydraulic process for the most part, and enormous values of gold were washed out of them. The hydraulic process of working mines is now under the ban of the law, but doubtless a way will be found for lawfully taking the gold from those rich gravel beds. There are some gravel mines in Nevada, Grass Valley and Rough and Ready townships, but they are not extensive, excepting at Mooney Flat, in Rough and Ready, where is the extension of the famous gravel leads of Timbuctoo, Smartville, and Sucker Flat.

The most famous of the present active quartz mines are the Providence and Wyoming, of Nevada City district, and the Idaho, Empire, North Star and Crown Point, of Grass Valley District.—[Grass Valley Tidings.

BETTER THAN A VACATION.

This is pre-eminently the vacation month, when thousands seek rest and recreation. But to those who suffer the depressing effects of summer debility, the disagreeable symptoms of scrofula, the tortures of billiousness, dyspepsia or sick headache, there is more pain than pleasure in leaving home. To such we say, give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial. It will purify your blood, tone up and strengthen your body, expel every trace of scrofula, correct billiousness, and positively cure dyspepsia or sick headache. Take it before you go, and you will enjoy your vacation a thousand fold.

Just Received at the

NEW PARLOR DRUG STORE

A full line of Harrison Bros. & Co's

READY MIXED PAINTS.

They are noted the world over for durability, ease of application, and firmness of finish. Call and examine them. Select what you need and carry them off at a price that will astonish you. I keep over sixty shades of colors, varying from the tint of a LADIES CHEEK to the appropriate color for a HORSE BARN.

I have further "elevated the standing of the Oswego County drug trade," by adding to my regular line of

Fine Drugs
—AND—
MEDICINES,
a beautiful modern
--SODA FOUNTAIN,--

At a cost of $2,000.00. Put on your spectacles and step in and test it for yourselves. Remember the spot, day and date.
☞The New Drug Store.☜
H. C. GIESLER.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE

Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of

Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.

And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.

Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.

☞Ladies'. Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

Scranton Coal!
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,
Promptly Delivered!
At the Following Prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

LUMBER! LUMBER!
I have the Largest Assortment of
Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER
In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE
SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c,
Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere
Q. RUST.
37tf

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest Cleanest, Best,
FOR SALE BY
Q. RUST.

HART BROS.,
—DEALERS IN—
Vitrified Glazed Stone Ware
—AND—
PORTLAND CEMENT SEWER PIPE
—AND—
DRAIN TILE,
With all necessary Fittings and connections.
FIRE BRICK, CLAY AND SAND.
Stone Ware, and Cement,
Chimneys and Tops.
[illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS., Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables, Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 3 First street.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y.
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts. Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious Sample Rooms.

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.

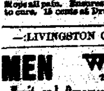
Time Table Taking Effect July 4th, 1886.

NORTHWARD.					SOUTHWARD.
5	3	1	9	STATIONS.	6	4	2	10
p m	p m	a m	a m	Leave Arrive	a m	a m	p m	p m
5 15	3 00	8 50	6 20	Jay St., N. Y.	9 40	1100	7 50	1130
5 30	3 15	9 10	6 35	42nd St., N. Y.	9 25	1045	7 35	1110
7 46	5 17	1112	9 42	West Cornwall	7 33	8 58	6 40	8 15
8 13	5 47	1136	1026	Campbell Hall	7 10	8 30	5 18	7 10
8 30	6 07	1201	1100	M't'n Main St.	6 53	8 15	5 05	6 57
8 46	6 20	1220	1123	Middletown	6 50	8 13	4 58	6 13
9 01	6 38	1236	1 00	Winterton	6 18	7 48	4 25	5 45
9 08	6 43	1243	1 15	Bloom'ngb'rgh	6 12	7 37	4 15	5 35
9 12	6 47	1248	1 20	Wurtsboro	6 08	7 32	4 11	5 33
9 18	7 00	1258	1 30	Summitville	6 00	7 25	4 06	5 15
....	7 15	1 30	....	Ellenville	....	7 08	3 40	....
9 36	7 19	1 19	2 00	Mountain Dale	5 42	7 06	3 46	4 56
9 43	7 27	1 28	2 12	Centerville	5 35	6 55	3 36	4 35
9 53	7 35	1 39	2 25	Fallsburgh	5 27	6 48	3 30	4 20
1000	7 43	1 46	2 40	Hurley	5 20	6 41	3 23	4 05
1012	7 55	2 00	3 10	Liberty Falls	5 09	6 30	3 10	3 40
1016	8 00	2 05	3 30	Liberty	5 04	6 26	3 05	3 30
1030	8 13	2 20	3 50	Parksville	4 53	6 13	2 53	3 06
1042	8 25	2 40	4 10	L'v'gst'n Man'r	4 40	6 00	2 40	2 46
1055	p m	2 55	4 27	Rockland	4 28	a m	2 27	2 10
1107	....	3 08	4 42	Cook's Falls	4 17	....	2 16	1 55
1130	....	3 31	5 10	East Branch	3 55	....	1 55	1 35
....	13	3 41	5 22	Fish's Eddy	3 45	14	1 46	1 12
1150	a m	3 54	5 36	Hancock	3 33	p m	1 35	1255
1240	7 45	4 40	6 30	Walton	2 50	3 40	1250	1155
9 00	7 00	5 40	p m	Delhi	....	9 55	1040	a m
1 20	8 30	5 15	Oswego Exp	Franklin	2 10	8 06	1205	Pass. & Frt.
1 28	8 40	5 22		Sidney Centre	1208	7 56	1157
1 45	9 10	5 40		Sidney (Depart	1 45	7 40	1140
....	....	8 30		New Berlin	....	....	7 30
....	....	5 55		Guilford Centr	....	....	1122
2 08	9 29	6 00		Guilford	1 20	7 18	1119
2 24	*944	6 13		Oxford	1 08	6 59	1104
2 45	1000	6 30	31	Norwich	1240	6 40	1045	50
....	39	....	....		....	32	....	....
....	a m	....	a m		....	p m	....	p m
2 50	2 15	6 35	7 30	Norwich	1230	7 20	1040	5 05
....	2 32	*645	7 43	North Norwich	....	7 08	1030	5 48
3 14	2 55	6 58	7 57	Smyrna	1206	6 58	1018	5 26
*323	3 08	7 05	8 06	Earlville	1200	6 45	1010	5 10
3 32	3 25	7 18	8 15	Randallsville	1151	6 38	1003	4 45
3 45	3 40	7 25	8 27	Eaton	1140	6 20	9 55	4 20
*350	4 00	7 30	8 32	Morrisville	1133	6 10	9 49	4 00
4 04	4 31	7 43	8 45	Munnsville	1117	5 48	9 31	3 10
4 15	5 00	*755	8 57	Community	1103	5 29	*916	2 20
4 21	5 18	8 00	9 10	Oneida Castle	1057	5 20	9 10	2 08
4 29	5 28	8 10	9 18	Oneida	1055	5 10	9 03	2 00
4 53	p m	8 35	9 50	Sylvan Beach	1032	*545	8 36	1210
*458	....	*838	9 54	North Bay	1023	4 31	8 26	1155
*518	....	8 53	1010	Cleveland	1010	4 15	8 12	1125
*520	....	*858	1016	B'rnhard's Bay	1004	4 06	*806	1038
5 28	....	9 05	1027	Constantia	9 58	4 00	8 00	1027
5 46	....	9 22	1048	Central Square	9 48	3 40	7 48	9 48
*554	....	9 35	1050	Caughdenoy	9 35	*332	*736	9 25
6 03	....	9 40	1100	Pennellville	9 28	3 35	7 30	9 15
6 24	....	9 57	1127	Fulton	9 10	3 05	7 18	8 46
6 50	....	1020	1150	Oswego	8 45	2 40	6 50	7 20
a m	p m	p m	a m	Arrive Depart	p m	p m	a m	a m

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.

Prices Below all Competition
On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.

IN DYE STUFFS
I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at
R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.
A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.
No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.
Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods—and prices below all Competition.
48tf R. E. PHILLIPS.



PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
the popular favorite for dressing the hair, Restoring color when gray, and preventing Dandruff. It cleanses the scalp, stops the hair falling, and is sure to please. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

HINDERCORNS.
The safest, surest and best cure for Corns, Bunions, &c. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. Never fails to cure. 15 cents at Druggists. HISCOX & Co., N. Y.

—:LIVINGSTON COUNTY NURSERIES:—
MEN WANTED!
TO SELL FIRST CLASS
Fruit and Ornamental Trees, Shrubs, Roses,
GRAPE VINES and SMALL FRUITS.
PERMANENT EMPLOYMENT on the most favorable terms. Complete outfit furnished free of expense to salesmen. Address
J. M. EDWARDS, Nurseryman, Dansville, N. Y.
18w4

JUST THE THING!
CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.
Save time and labor! Neat and Compact.
Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General as the "best device of the kind he has ever seen."
—To be had only at the—
FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.

[illegible] Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.
Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.
Address all communications, on business or publication, to The Times.
F. D. VanWagenen,
Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.
[Thackeray.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

THE appropriations made during the last session of Congress beat the record by $45,000,000. An abundance of money was appropriated, if the number of bills passed was small.

THIS fall a representative in Congress, a member of Assembly, an associate judge of the court of appeals, a county treasurer and other minor officers are to be elected. It is the duty of every citizen to see that clean and representative men are nominated and elected to these offices. The people will also vote on the question of a consaitutional convention.

THE late Samuel J. Tildon has bequeathed more than $8,000,000 for a free library in New York city. He also provided for free public libraries and reading rooms in Yonkers and New Lebanon. When we remember that the amount given by John Jacob Astor to found the Astor library was $400,000, the munificence of Mr. Tilden's bequest for a similar purpose is seen. While he willed the bulk of his property to public uses, he was not unmindful of his relatives and each one is liberally provided for.

IT is no longer much of a feat to go through the whirlpool rapids, in fact it is possible that it may soon become a popular pastime and tourists be carried through at fifty cents a head. Two Buffalo coppers, William Potts and George Hazlitt, imitated Graham Sunday, and went through together in a barrel. No less than 15,000 people witnessed the feat. About half the time the barrel was submerged, but while it was circumscribing the outer circle of the whirlpool the top was wholly out of water. The occupants thrust their heads out of opening at the top and one of them smoked a cigar.

THE case of Editor Cutting, which has been tried before Mexican authorities has assumed a threatening aspect between the peaceful relations of this country and Mexico. Cutting has been convicted and sentenced to one year's imprisonment and a fine of $600. The case has been appealed to a higher court. Mexico claims in Cutting's case the right to try an American citizen for an offence committed in the United States and Cutting has been convicted and sentenced for publishing an alleged libel in Texas. The United States authorities have demanded Cutting's release but the Mexican government have not granted it.

Secretary of State Bayard is very decided in his views and and his articles which are termed by many newspapers "War-Talk" are received with favor in Texas and other states of the South-west. The "hot-heads" of these states are ready to rush to arms. Today there are reported movements of United States war vessels and munitions.

EX-GOVERNOR SAMUEL J. TILDEN died at his country home "Graystone," near Yonkers last Wednesday morning, By his death the last nominee of the Democratic party for President with the exception of President Cleveland has passed away. Within the past year, four of these nominees—the most honored and greatest leaders of this party,—McClellan, Hancock, Seymour and Tilden, have been laid to rest. The immediate cause of Mr. Tilden's death was a cold which attacked the bowels and brought on diarrhoca. In his weakened condition his physicians could do nothing for him, but his last hours were painless and peaceful. The funeral services were held at "Graystone" last Saturday when a touching tribute was paid to the dead statesman by the Rev. Dr. Tucker. The remains were then taken to New Lebanon, Columbia county, and laid to rest in the

by the Rev. Dr. Tucker. The remains were then taken to New Lebanon, Columbia county, and laid to rest in the Tilden plot in that villag. President Cleveland, Governor Hill and hundreds of other distinguished persons attended the funeral to pay the last rites to the illustrious dead.

Resolutions of Respect.

A informal meeting of Democratic citizens of Fulton was held at the office of Giles S. Piper August 5, to take appropriate action upon the death of Samuel J. Tilden, and was organized by electing W. S. Nelson as chairman and George A. Barsee, as secretary. The following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, Death has removed Samuel J. Tilden by which the nation has lost a great statesman, the state one of the most faithful servants and patriotic citizens, and the Democratic party one of its greatest leaders and wisest counselors, and society an honest man.

Resolved, That we learn the sad news with profound sorrow and deeply deplore the loss to the Nation, State and society and to the party of which he was the acknowledged leader.

Resolved, That we cherish his memory as a man firm in his conviction of right though yielding personal ambition for the welfare of the Nation and his friends, possessed of the best ability, honor and integrity unquestioned, and a true and consistent Democrat.

We are in receipt of a large and very carefully executed engraving of the new Standard Oil Company Building, 26 Broadway, New York, which is [illegible]

[illegible] house. In 1790 Mr. Tilden's grandfather, John Tilden, removed to New Lebanon, Columbia Co., N. Y. His father, Elam Tilden, was a farmer and merchant of the same place. It was here that Mr. Tilden was born and passed his boyhood. He entered Yale college in 1833, but on account of ill health remained there for less than a year. Afterwards he entered New York University and graduated from that institution with conspicuous honors.

The first political venture of young Tilden was when he was less than 19 years of age. When Jackson and VanBuren were the Democratic nominees, he formulated his ideas in an "Address to the People," which was issued over the signature of a dozen leading Democrats. He received credit for aiding in the victory that followed.

He was admitted to the New York bar in 1841 and at once began the practice of law in that city. He was always interested in politics and early in life devoted much time to the study of political questions. In 1844 he was instrumental in establishing the Morning News, a New York daily, to which was attributed James K. Polk's election to the Presidency. In 1846 and 1872 he was a member of the state assembly. In 1846 and 1867 he was a member of the constitutional conventions.

In 1855, when the Democratic party was divided, he was nominated by the "Softs" for Attorney General, but was defeated. In 1869 he became thoroughly interested in the cause of judicial and political reform and took a prominent part in exposing the corrupt ring that had for years plundered the treasury of New York city. His method unveiled numerous frauds, leading to the impeachment of Judge Barnard, the resignation of Judge Cardozo, the flight of Connolly and Sweeney and the incarnation of Tweed.

In 1874 he was nominated for governor against John A. Dix, the Republican candidate for re-election, who at the previous election had secured a majority of 50,000. Mr. Tilden was elected by a plurality of 50,317 votes. He at once declared war on the "canal ring" and after a protracted encounter with those that had fattened under the system of "jobbery" which had long prevailed in this state, the rout of the "canal ring" was completed.

In June, 1876, Mr. Tilden was nominated for President by the Democratic convention at St. Louis on the second ballot. A vigorous and exciting campaign was at once entered upon by the Democrats. Mr. Tilden received a large majority of the votes cast, and it is now generally conceded by everyone, other than extreme Republican partizans, that he was fairly elected. The votes in Oregon, Louisiana and Florida were however held in doubt. The electoral commission was formed and the thirteen electors from these states were given to Mr. Hayes thus defeating Mr. Tilden. His name was prominently mentioned at the last two Democratic conventions but he declined to entertain any such proposition.

Since his retirement from political life he has lived quietly at Yonkers, near his homes at "Graystone" and in Gramercy Park, New York city. During this time however, he has been frequently consulted by the leading Democratic statesmen of this country.

STATE NEWS.

The City Hall was deserted and all public offices closed in New York Saturday out of respect to the memory of the late Samuel J. Tilden.

The Bartholdi statue of Liberty will be unveiled late in October instead of September as has been expected.

The Syracuse driving park association have arranged for a fall meeting on Sept. 7, 8, 9, and 10. $2,500 in purses are offered.

The annual meeting of the New York State Hop Growers' Association is to be held at Baggs' Hotel, Utica, on next Wednesday, Aug. 18th.

The third annual meeting of the Weedsport Bicycle club will be held at Weedsport driving park, Aug 19. There are to be thirteen races.

Hon. Nicholas A. White, aged sixty-seven years, a member of the Assembly in 1873, died suddenly at his home in Utica Monday morning of heart disease.

ease.

The body of John Thompson, a young man aged 22 was found on the tracks of the West Shore road at Syracuse Sun-

The body of John Thompson, a young man aged 22 was found on the tracks of the West Shore road at Syracuse Sunday morning. He was undoubtedly struck by a train and instantly killed.

The prohibitionists met at Cortland last Monday and nominated Jerome F. Angell for Congress and E. B. Hitchcock for member of Assembly, Three hundred dollars were subscribed toward a campaign fund.

The century plant in the green house of George Casey at Auburn, which was finely illustrated in Frank Leslie's newspaper two weeks ago, is now in full bloom. It is thirty feet high, with 33 branches, and is bearing more than 4,000 buds and yellow flowers.

About Near Enough.

It was a Maine girl of whom the story is told that she refused to marry a most devoted lover until he should have amassed a fortune of $10,000. After some expostulation he accepted the decree and went to work. About three months after this the avaricious young lady, meeting her lover asked: "Well, Charlie, how are you getting along?" "Oh very well, indeed," Charlie returned, cheerfully. "I've got $18 saved." The young lady blushed and looked down at the toes of her walking boots, and stabbed the inoffensive earth with the point of her parasol. "I guess," said she faintly—"I guess, Charlie, that's about near enough."—[Harper's Bazar.

[illegible]

[illegible] Pennsylvania. He has taken up his residence at Phoenix.

The machinery for the type writer factory at Parish is being put up and will soon be ready for business.

The thirty-first annual fair of the Oswego county agricultural society takes place in Mexico on Sept. 14, 15 and 16.

The Ringold fire company of Pulaski have an excursion to Sylvan Beach to-morrow.

Gordon Post G. A. R. of West Amboy, had a picnic near that place yesterday.

Quite a number of "fresh air children" are to be seen in Orwell.

At the examination for free scholarship to Cornell university, held in Pulaski last week, Miss Carrie Lane of Pulaski, and Miss Bertha Dygert of Phoenix were granted certificates.

Advertisments for bids for enlarging the canal locks at Phoenix, Hinmanville and Mud Lock are issued. The locks will be increased in length to 120 feet. Bids will be received at the office of the office of the Supt. of Public Works in Albany, until Aug. 17.

The Register learns from a reliable source that Mrs. E. Tiffany of Liverpool, a former resident of Phoenix, has had a fortune of $30,000 left her by the death of a sister in St. Louis.

The board of trustees of Mexico academo have secured the the following faculty for the ensuing gear: principal, Henry R. Fancher, assistant principal, Charles H. Smith; preceptress, Hattie M. Cobb.

Hastings lodge I. O. of G. T., at its at its last meeting elected the following officers for the coming quarter: W. C. T. Will H. Blankman; W. V. T., Miss Josie Grant; W. R. S., Kittie Nellis; W. F. S., Alfred Sill; treasurer, Dr. R. J. Dimon; chaplain, A. Harrington; marshal, Roy Sill; sentinel, Fred Carmontry.

Work on the water works at Pulaski has been begun.

On Monday afternoon, Edward Trowbridge, who lives about half a mile south of Mexico, drove to the depot in that village with a load of cheese. He had just driven alongside the car for the purpose of unloading, when a freight engine began to blow off steam, frightening his horses. In his endeavor to hold them he was thrown off in front of his heavily ladened wagon. He fell on his back across the rail and the wagon with one and one-half tons of cheese on it passed directly across his body. He was conveyed to his home where he died from his injuries at 10 o'clock that evening.

BASE BALL.

Alcott, formerly of the Stars, played with the Oneidas here last Thursday.

William Smith, 3d baseman of the Torontos, was injured in the spine while bathing in Toronto Sunday and died of his injuries Monday morning.

Governor Hill witnessed the Detroit—New York game in New York Monday.

James H. Gifford, formerly manager of the Metropolitans of New York has taken the Stars under his wing.

Dunlap is now playing with the Detroits, having been released from the St. Louis team.

The Stars are now but four games behind the leaders.

Householder was released by the Stars yesterday.

New York beat the Detroits Monday and yesterday.

South Granby.

Preaching at the school house in this place next Sunday at two p. m., by Rev. John Forbes of Bowens Corners.

The South Granby Sunday school held their picnic at High Banks last Saturday.

J. H. Stewart, wife, daughter and son and Miss Louisa Blakeman of the north part of the town called on friends here Sunday.

Potatoes as well as other crops are suffering for the want of rain and if this dry weather continues long the potato crop will be light.

Wells, cisterns and creeks are getting very low and some wells are about dry so that farmers are troubled about getting water.

The tobacco harvest will commence in this place next week as some fields are very forward, while others are just topping. There are some fields considerable

The tobacco harvest will commence in this place next week as some fields are very forward, while others are just topping. There are some fields considerable later which will not be ready to cut before next month.

Farmers are in the midst of their oat harvest and the crop is generally good.

Baptismal services were held at High Banks Saturday afternoon conducted by the Rev. John Forbes of Bowens Corners. Seven went through the ordinance of baptism by immersion.

The Cold Spring Sunday school will picnic at High Banks, Tuesday the 17.

Notice.

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Fulton & Oswego Falls Street Railway Co., for the election of seven Directors and three Inspectors for the ensuing year and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting will be held at the office of the Company in the village of Fulton, Oswego Co., N. Y., on the 21st day of Sept., 1886, at 12 o'clock noon. Transfer books will close on the 11th day of Sept., and re-open on the 22nd day of Sept., 1886.

CHARLES LYMAN, Secretary.

The following By-Laws regulate the manner of holding such election:

The annual meeting of the Stockholders shall be held on the third Tuesday in September in each year at the office of the Company in the Village of [illegible]

[illegible] Ayes, Trustees Chase, Bradford and Kendrick. Nays, Trustees More and Johnson.

On motion Trustees Chase and Johnson and the President were appointed a committee to settle with the late Treasurer.

The Clerk was directed to correspond with the Button Fire Engine Manufacturing Company, to ascertain the cost of two hose pipes with and without nozzles.

On motion Marcus F. Crahan was employed to paint the two hose carts lately purchased, at ten dollars each to include striping and varnishing.

The Finance Committee reported the following bills correct and the same being audited the Clerk was directed to draw orders for the several amounts on the proper funds.

Charles Whitaker, rent of room ½ year,	$ 13.00
John Kavanaugh, lamp lighting,	38.67
Geo. F. Sharp, highway labor,	78.47
Daniel Roach, blacksmithing,	11.60
Fulton Water Works Co., hydrant rental,	850.00
Conley and Powell, clearing out channel Waterhouse and C. Church creeks, as per contract,	70.00

On motion of Trustee More sections 4 and 5 of chapter 4 of village ordinances were ordered published. Said sections are as follows:

SEC. 4. No dog or slut shall be allowed to run at large within the limits of this village between the 15th day of June and the 20th day of September in each year, unless muzzled with a good and sufficient muzzle, rendering it impossible for such dog or slut to bite any person or animal: under the penalty of five dollars for each offense, to be paid by the owner or possessor thereof.

SEC. 5. It shall be the duty of all policemen of this village to kill every dog or slut when owned in this village, found running at large contrary to the foregoing section of this chapter, and such dog or slut so running at large contrary to the forgoing section of this chapter, and such dog or slut so running at large, may be lawfully killed by any person.

On motion the Board adjourned to Wednesday evening, Aug. 18th, 1886, at 7½ o'clock.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

CHEESE MARKETS.

[From the Utica Herald.]

UTICA, Aug 9.

The market to-day was active and firm, and ½c. higher than a week ago. The buyers all seemed anxious to get cheese, and the competition was extremely good. The transactions are large, but this was occasioned by the factorymen putting in all the stock that was fit to ship, on account of the prices paid, or in salesmen's parlence, because "it was a good day to sell." At first 8c. was talked of as "high," then an eighth was added, then a quarter, and finally three-eighths for three of the choice lots. Advices from New York quoted 8¼c. as the top there, and some of the conservative buyers claim that prices here are not warranted. There is no doubt, however, that they have been paid, and everybody will fee anxious to lern how they are received in the city.

Transactions for the day are as follows: 1,185 1,185 boxes, 14 lots, at 7¾c.; 73 lots, 6,893 boxes, at 7⅞c.; 24 lots, 2,232 boxes, at 8c.; 11 lots, 1,306 boxes, at 8⅛c.; 16 lots, 1,056 boxes, at 8¼c.; 3 lots, 255boxes, at 8⅜c. and two lots, 325 boxes, at p. t.. Sales 13,252 boxes, com missions 1,595 boxes; total 14,847 boxes. Ruling price 7⅞c. One year ago sales were 12,423 boxes, ruling 6⅝c. Two years ago they were 12,225 boxes, ruling 9¾c.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, Aug. 9.

Prices were firmer to-day and buyers were more anxious to secure the offerings. Trade was active and it is believed that the day of low prices has gone by for this season. Offerings were in fine condition, and it is hardly thought that a break in prices is at all probable. There are those who anticipate higher prices, but the general expectation favors a healthy, steady market. Transactions were:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
13	1,339	7¼cents
87	6,484	7⅜cents
37	2,006	8 cents
8	590	com.
145	10,369
Farm dairy	840
Total	11,209

FARM DAIRIES.—840 boxes farm dairy cheese sold at 7c. to 8c.; bulk at 7½c.

BUTTER.—Only 20 packages sold, at 19c. to 18c.

AT FULTON.

Twenty-five factories were represented at this market Monday night with about 2,600 boxes, which were nearly all sold at 7¾c. to 7⅞c.

General News.

Congress adjourned sine die last Thursday.

The cholera has returned and is again raging in Italy.

Mr. Tilden's fortune is estimated at from $6,000,000 to $8,000,000.

Extensive forest fires have been raging this week in Michigan and Wisconsin.

The trial of the anarchists still continues in Chicago. Spies was on the stand Monday.

In the boat race at Nantasket, Monday Hanlan won, with McKay second, Ten-Eyck third and Hosmer fourth.

It has been discovered that a yachting party of six men who left Sarnia, Ont., over three weeks ago have perished in Lake Huron.

Nine hundred persons died of small pox during the month of July in Santiago DeChili, South America.

Professor Scherer, the eminent German literateur, died Saturday at Berlin. He was born at Schoenborn on the 26th of April, 1841.

Over twenty thousand people attended died Saturday at Berlin. He was born at Schoenborn on the 26th of April, 1841.

Over twenty thousand people attended the Murdock camp meeting at Oakland, Ill., last Saturday. There was speaking from six stands.

The yacht race for the Goelet cup occurred in Newport harbor last Sathrday. The Mayflower won the race, the Puritan three-fourths of a mile behind.

On last Friday, Kitt Ross, a quarter board Cherokee Indian, was hanged at Fort Smith, Ark., John Smith at Gallatin Mo., and Edward Bundy, colored, at Columbia, S. C.

The address of Commander Burdette of the Grand Army of the Republic at San Francisco shows that 3,020 comrades died during the year, and th at 20,643 joined the order.

The rioting, which broke out in Belfast, Ireland, a week ago last Sunday between catholics and protestants still continues. Many have been killed and wounded, and the military and police have been unable to gain control of the disorderly mobs.

A. P. Elder, proprietor of the Literary Life, the magazine which Miss Rose Cleveland has undertaken to edit, confessed judgment Monday in the sum of $10,000. The sheriff has levied on his real estate and personal property. Mr. Elder declares that the publication of the magazine will in no way be affected.

[illegible]

[illegible] and in answer to many inquiries, I have caused the provisions of the General Act relating to the subject to be printed as amended. Section 12, Title 7, now reads as follows:

"Section 12. Every person of full age residing in any neighborhood or school district, and entitled to hold lands in this State, who owns or hires real property in such neighborhood or school district, liable to taxation for school purposes, and every resident of such neighborhood or district who is a citizen of the United States above the age of twenty-one years, and who is the parent of a child or children of school age, some one or more of whom shall have attended the district school for a period of at least eight weeks within one year proceeding, and every such person not being the parent who shall have permenently residing with him or her such child or children, and every such resident and citizen as aforesaid, who owns any personal property assessed on the last preceeding assessment roll of the town, exceeding fifty dollars in value, exclusive of such as is exempt from execution, and no others, shall be entitled to to vote at any school meeting held in such neighborhood or district."

By the provisions of the act quoted, there are four classes of persons entitled to vote at school meetings in this State.

1st. Every person of full age, who is a resident of the district, entitled to hold lands in this state, who either owns or hires real estate in the district liable to taxation for school purposes.

2d. Every resident of the district, who is a citizen of the United States, 21 years of age, and who is the parent of a child of school age, provided such child shall have attended the district school for a period of at least eight weeks within one year preceding.

3d. Every resident of the district, a citizen of the United States, 21 years of age, not being the parent, who shall have permently residing with him or her a child of school age, which shall have attended the district school for a period of at least eight weeks within one year preceding.

4th. Every resident and citizen of full age, who owns any personal property assessed on the last preceding assessment roll of the town, exceeding fifty dollars in value exclusive of property exempt from execution.

In either class the voter may be male or female.

In the second class both father and mother are entitled to vote.

In the third class (cases of children residing with others than their parents) "him or her" in the statute must be held to limit the suffage to one person only and that the head of the household. Therefore, where husband and wife living together have such a child residing with them, the wife is not on that account entitled to vote, although she may be for other reasons.

CHALLENGE AND DECLARATION.

By Section 13, Title 7, General School Act, it is provided that in case a person offering to vote at any school district meeting shall be duly challenged, the chairman presiding at the meeting shall require such person to make the following declaration: "I do declare and affirm that I am an actual resident of this school district, and that I am qualified to vote at this meeting," and that every person making such declaration shall be permitted to vote on all questions proposed at such meeting, but if he refuse to make such declaration his vote shall be rejected.

Section 14 of the same title makes it a misdemeanor if any person willfully makes a false declaration of his right to vote upon being so challenged.

Respectfully,
A. S. DRAPER,
Supt. of Public Instruction.

A New Postal Card.

The new postal card design, adopted about a year ago, will soon be superseded by another which has been prepared at the bureau of engraving and printing and which has been formally approved by Postmaster General Vilas. When the last change of design was made there was some occasion for haste and there was difficulty about getting rid of certain notions about the card that experience has removed. Mr. Vilas last year took the best of the designs offered. It was an improvement, but still not en-certain notions about the card that experience has removed. Mr. Vilas last year took the best of the designs offered. It was an improvement, but still not entirely satisfactory. The new design will at once be acknowledged as an improvement upon that now in use. It consists of one piece of engraving instead of two pieces, as on the present card. A head of Jefferson, a miniature after the original in the state department, occupies a central place on the upper third of the card. Over this head in light letters are the words "United States." In panels, supported by scroll work at the left and right, are the words, "postal card," in distinct letters. Under the head are the words "one cent," and beneath the border line inclosing the designation of value is the line, "Nothing but the address to be on this side." The design is graceful and light, and its advantage over the old one is that the idea of putting the stamp off at one side and the designation of the article at the opposite is abandoned to secure an inclusive design with the strongest feature of it in the center. The postmaster-general may decide to print the new cards on white paper, in black ink, for the reason that white paper furnishes a better ground for written characters, helping the post office clerks who are compelled to decipher addresses, and for the other reason that the brown ink is complained of by the printers who use it as more troublesome to obtain good work with than the same quality of black ink. As there is a stock of about 12,000,000 postal cards now on hand it is probable that the new cards will not be out for a month or two.

[illegible]

[illegible] No experience needed to [illegible] We help persons without means to do a large business; no capital needed. Write for particulars. Salaries guaranteed to persons who do not wish to canvass on commission. We mean business, and want live agents in every township. It will cost you nothing to write for terms and full descriptions of our plans of doing business. We also give away standard books to persons who send us names of book agents. Write for our list of free standard books. HISTORICAL PUBLISHING CO., 120 & 122 N. 7th St., Philadelphia, Pa.
18w4.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES.
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

Job Printing.
—:o:—
We are prepared to do all kinds of
Job Printing
with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.
PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.
All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,
—AT THE—
FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

INSURANCE SOLICITORS
New working Fire, Life, Industrial or Assessment Insurance, and other solicitors who desire to better themselves, can secure profitable engagements with N. Y. State Relief Association. Large commission and interest in renewals; also premium asked for satisfactory work. Address J. E. ALLANSON, Sec'y., 44 State Street, Albany, N.Y.
14w2

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.
☞Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF
Ladies' Kid Button Shoes
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE
SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

SALMON SHOE STORE,
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.
The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block, containing 13 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 94 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y.

☞Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at FULTON, N. Y.
C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

WANTED—LADY Active and intelligent to represent in her own locality an old firm. References required. Permanent position and good salary.
GAY & BROTHERS,
14 Barclay St., N. Y.

[illegible]

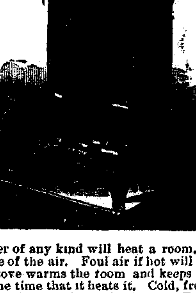
—WE HAVE IN STOCK A—
Complete Assortment
—OF—
Lumber, Lath, Shingles &c.
—And in fact everything pertaining to a—
FIRST-CLASS YARD.
We are prepared to furnish thoroughly seasoned lumber at the Lowest Rates. Call and be convinced.
BOOMER & LOOMIS.
Corner Broadway and First Sts.

—CALL ON—
GEORGE JOHNSTON,
On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of
STOVES AND RANGES,
Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,	THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
ART UNIVERSAL,	GRAND UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,	HAPPY THOUGHT,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,	HAPPY HOME,
and ACORN,	and DUCHESS
Parlor Stoves.	Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the
Howe Ventilating Stove,
which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.
Yours Respectfully,
GEO. JOHNSTON.

—THE—
Howe Ventilating Stove.



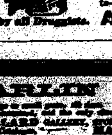
A NEW STOVE.
ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE.
AN EXCELENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE.
A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

☞A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.
MANUFACTURED BY THE
Howe Ventilating Stove Company, Fulton, N. Y.
F. G. WEEKS, President.
E. R. REDHEAD, Vice-President.
A. LMON BRISTOL, Sec'y & Treas.
E. L. MESSENGER, Gen. Manager.
GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent
FULTON, N.Y.

Howe Ventilating Stove Company, Fulton, N. Y.
F. G. WEEKS, President.
E. R. REDHEAD, Vice-President.
A. LMON BRISTOL, Sec'y & Treas.
GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent

A Leading Popular Rochester Business University Commercial School,
By reason of the superiority of its facilities for imparting a thoroughly practical knowledge of commercial matters, and for promoting the substantial welfare of its pupils, this has become one of the largest and most conspicuous schools of its kind on the continent. Catalogue Free.
F. E. ROGERS, Secretary. L. L. WILLIAMS, President.
19w6

PRESERVE YOUR HEALTH.
ROGERS' GRAPOLINE



[illegible]
Sold by all Druggists. A. H. ROGERS & CO. Geneseo, N.Y.

MARLIN Magazine Rifle.
[illegible] BALLARD GALLERY, HUNTING AND TARGET RIFLES, [illegible] MARLIN FIRE ARMS CO., New Haven, Conn.

ROGERS' GRAPOLINE
[illegible]

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to The Times.

F. D. VanWagenen,
Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[Thackeray.

JAS. B. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

The appropriations made during the last session of Congress beat the record by $45,000,000. An abundance of money was appropriated, if the number of bills passed was small.

This fall a representative in Congress, a member of Assembly, an associate judge of the court of appeals, a county treasurer and other minor officers are to be elected. It is the duty of every citizen to see that clean and representative men are nominated and elected to these offices. The people will also vote on the question of a constitutional convention.

The late Samuel J. Tildon has bequeathed more than $8,000,000 for a free library in New York city. He also provided for free public libraries and reading rooms in Yonkers and New Lebanon. When we remember that the amount given by John Jacob Astor to found the Astor library was $400,000, the munificence of Mr. Tilden's bequest for a similar purpose is seen. While he willed the bulk of his property to public uses, he was not unmindful of his relatives and each one is liberally provided for.

It is no longer much of a feat to go through the whirlpool rapids, in fact it is possible that it may soon become a popular pastime and tourists be carried through at fifty cents a head. Two Buffalo coppers, William Potts and George Hazlitt, imitated Graham Sunday, and went through together in a barrel. No less than 15,000 people witnessed the feat. About half the time the barrel was submerged, but while it was circumscribing the outer circle of the whirlpool the top was wholly out of water. The occupants thrust their heads out of opening at the top and one of them smoked a cigar.

The case of Editor Cutting, which has been tried before Mexican authorities has assumed a threatening aspect between the peaceful relations of this country and Mexico. Cutting has been convicted and sentenced to one year's imprisonment and a fine of $600. The case has been appealed to a higher court. Mexico claims in Cutting's case the right to try an American citizen for an offence committed in the United States and Cutting has been convicted and sentenced for publishing an alleged libel in Texas. The United States authorities have demanded Cutting's release but the Mexican government have not granted it.

Secretary of State Bayard is very decided in his views and and his articles which are termed by many newspapers "War-Talk" are received with favor in Texas and other states of the South-west. The "hot-heads" of these states are ready to rush to arms. Today there are reported movements of United States war vessels and munitions.

Ex-Governor Samuel J. Tilden died at his country home "Graystone," near Yonkers last Wednesday morning, By his death the last nominee of the Democratic party for President with the exception of President Cleveland has passed away. Within the past year, four of these nominees—the most honored and greatest leaders of this party,—McClellan, Hancock, Seymour and Tilden, have been laid to rest. The immediate cause of Mr. Tilden's death was a cold which attacked the bowels and brought on diarrhoea. In his weakened condition his physicians could do nothing for him, but his last hours were painless and peaceful. The funeral services were held at "Graystone" last Saturday when a touching tribute was paid to the dead statesman by the Rev. Dr. Tucker. The remains were then taken to New Lebanon, Columbia county, and laid to rest in the Tilden plot in that villag. President Cleveland, Governor Hill and hundreds of other distinguished persons attended the funeral to pay the last rites to the illustrious dead.

Resolutions of Respect.

A informal meeting of Democratic citizens of Fulton was held at the office of Giles S. Piper August 5, to take appropriate action upon the death of Samuel J. Tilden, and was organized by electing W. S. Nelson as chairman and George A. Barnes, as secretary. The following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, Death has removed Samuel J. Tilden by which the nation has lost a great statesman, the state one of the most faithful servants and patriotic citizens, and the Democratic party one of its greatest leaders and wisest counselors, and society an honest man.

Resolved, That we learn the sad news with profound sorrow and deeply deplore the loss to the Nation, State and society and to the party of which he was the acknowledged leader.

Resolved, That we cherish his memory as a man firm in his conviction of right though yielding personal ambition for the welfare of the Nation and his friends, possessed of the best ability, honor and integrity unquestioned, and a true and consistent Democrat.

We are in receipt of a large and very carefully executed engraving of the new Standard Oil Company Building, 26 Broadway, New York, which is [illegible]

[illegible] Mr. Tilden's grandfather, John Tilden, removed to New Lebanon, Columbia Co., N. Y. His father, Elam Tilden, was a farmer and merchant of the same place. It was here that Mr. Tilden was born and passed his boyhood. He entered Yale college in 1832, but on account of ill health remained there for less than a year. Afterwards he entered New York University and graduated from that institution with conspicuous honors.

The first political venture of young Tilden was when he was less than 19 years of age. When Jackson and Van-Buren were the Democratic nominees, he formulated his ideas in an "Address to the People," which was issued over the signature of a dozen leading Democrats. He received credit for aiding in the victory that followed.

He was admitted to the New York bar in 1841 and at once began the practice of law in that city. He was always interested in politics and early in life devoted much time to the study of political questions. In 1844 he was instrumental in establishing the Morning News, a New York daily, to which was attributed James K. Polk's election to the Presidency. In 1846 and 1872 he was a member of the state assembly. In 1846 and 1867 he was a member of the constitutional conventions.

In 1855, when the Democratic party was divided, he was nominated by the "Softs" for Attorney General, but was defeated. In 1869 he became thoroughly interested in the cause of judicial and political reform and took a prominent part in exposing the corrupt ring that had for years plundered the treasury of New York city. His method unveiled numerous frauds, leading to the impeachment of Judge Barnard, the resignation of Judge Cardozo, the flight of Connolly and Sweeney and the incarnation of Tweed.

In 1874 he was nominated for governor against John A. Dix, the Republican candidate for re-election, who at the previous election had secured a majority of 50,000. Mr. Tilden was elected by a plurality of 50,317 votes. He at once declared war on the "canal ring" and after a protracted encounter with those that had fattened under the system of "jobbery" which had long prevailed in this state, the rout of the "canal ring" was completed.

In June, 1876, Mr. Tilden was nominated for President by the Democratic convention at St. Louis on the second ballot. A vigorous and exciting campaign was at once entered upon by the Democrats. Mr. Tilden received a large majority of the votes cast, and it is now generally conceded by everyone, other than extreme Republican partizans, that he was fairly elected. The votes in Oregon, Louisiana and Florida were however held in doubt. The electoral commission was formed and the thirteen electors from these states were given to Mr. Hayes thus defeating Mr. Tilden. His name was prominently mentioned at the last two Democratic conventions but he declined to entertain any such proposition.

Since his retirement from political life he has lived quietly at Yonkers, near his homes at "Graystone" and in Gramercy Park, New York city. During this time however, he has been frequently consulted by the leading Democratic statesmen of this country.

STATE NEWS.

The City Hall was deserted and all public offices closed in New York Saturday out of respect to the memory of the late Samuel J. Tilden.

The Bartholdi statue of Liberty will be unveiled late in October instead of September as has been expected.

The Syracuse driving park association have arranged for a fall meeting on Sept. 7, 8, 9, and 10. $2,500 in purses are offered.

The annual meeting of the New York State Hop Growers' Association is to be held at Baggs' Hotel, Utica, on next Wednesday, Aug. 18th.

The third annual meeting of the Weedsport Bicycle club will be held at Weedsport driving park, Aug 19. There are to be thirteen races.

Hon. Nicholas A. White, aged sixty-seven years, a member of the Assembly in 1873, died suddenly at his home in Utica Monday morning of heart disease.

The body of John Thompson, a young man aged 22 was found on the tracks of the West Shore road at Syracuse Sunday morning. He was undoubtedly struck by a train and instantly killed.

The prohibitionists met at Cortland last Monday and nominated Jerome F. Angell for Congress and E. B. Hitchcook for member of Assembly. Three hundred dollars were subscribed toward a campaign fund.

The century plant in the green house of George Casey at Auburn, which was finely illustrated in Frank Leslie's newspaper two weeks ago, is now in full bloom. It is thirty feet high, with 33 branches, and is bearing more than 4,000 buds and yellow flowers.

About Near Enough.

It was a Maine girl of whom the story is told that she refused to marry a most devoted lover until he should have amassed a fortune of $10,000. After some expostulation he accepted the decree and went to work. About three months after this the avaricious young lady, meeting her lover asked: "Well, Charlie, how are you getting along?" "Oh very well, indeed," Charlie returned, cheerfully. "I've got $18 saved." The young lady blushed and looked down at the toes of her walking boots, and stabbed the inoffensive earth with the point of her parasol. "I guess," said she faintly—"I guess, Charlie, that's about near enough."—[Harper's Bazar.

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, [illegible]

[illegible] Pulaskiville. He has taken up his residence at Phoenix.

The machinery for the type writer factory at Parish is being put up and will soon be ready for business.

The thirty-first annual fair of the Oswego county agricultural society takes place in Mexico on Sept. 14, 15 and 16.

The Ringold fire company of Pulaski have an excursion to Sylvan Beach to-morrow.

Gordon Post G. A. R. of West Amboy, had a picnic near that place yesterday.

Quite a number of "fresh air children" are to be seen in Orwell.

At the examination for free scholarship to Cornell university, held in Pulaski last week, Miss Carrie Lane of Pulaski, and Miss Bertha Dygert of Phoenix were granted certificates.

Advertisments for bids for enlarging the canal locks at Phoenix, Hinmanville and Mud Lock are issued. The locks will be increased in length to 120 feet. Bids will be received at the office of the office of the Supt. of Public Works in Albany, until Aug. 17.

The Register learns from a reliable source that Mrs. E. Tiffany of Liverpool, a former resident of Phoenix, has had a fortune of $30,000 left her by the death of a sister in St. Louis.

The board of trustees of Mexico academo have secured the the following faculty for the ensuing gear: principal, Henry R. Fancher, assistant principal, Charles H. Smith; preceptress, Hattie M. Cobb.

Hastings lodge I. O. of G. T., at its at its last meeting elected the following officers for the coming quarter: W. C. T. Will H. Blankman; W. V. T., Miss Josie Grant; W. R. S., Kittie Nellis; W. F. S., Alfred Sill; treasurer, Dr. R. J. Dimon; chuplain, A. Harrington; marshal, Roy Sill; sentinel, Fred Carmontry.

Work on the water works at Pulaski has been begun.

On Monday afternoon, Edward Trowbridge, who lives about half a mile south of Mexico, drove to the depot in that village with a load of cheese. He had just driven alongside the car for the purpose of unloading, when a freight engine began to blow off steam, frightening his horses. In his endeavor to hold them he was thrown off in front of his heavily ladened wagon. He fell on his back across the rail and the wagon with one and one-half tons of cheese on it passed directly across his body. He was conveyed to his home where he died from his injuries at 10 o'clock that evening.

BASE BALL.

Alcott, formerly of the Stars, played with the Oneidas here last Thursday.

William Smith, 3d baseman of the Torontos, was injured in the spine while bathing in Toronto Sunday and died of his injuries Monday morning.

Governor Hill witnessed the Detroit—New York game in New York Monday.

James H. Gifford, formerly manager of the Metropolitans of New York has taken the Stars under his wing.

Dunlap is now playing with the Detroits, having been released from the St. Louis team.

The Stars are now but four games behind the leaders.

Householder was released by the Stars yesterday.

New York beat the Detroits Monday and yesterday.

South Granby.

Preaching at the school house in this place next Sunday at two p. m., by Rev. John Forbes of Bowens Corners.

The South Granby Sunday school held their picnic at High Banks last Saturday.

J. H. Stewart, wife, daughter and son and Miss Louisa Blakeman of the north part of the town called on friends here Sunday.

Potatoes as well as other crops are suffering for the want of rain and if this dry weather continues long the potato crop will be light.

Wells, cisterns and creeks are getting very low and some wells are about dry so that farmers are troubled about getting water.

The tobacco harvest will commence in this place next week as some fields are very forward, while others are just topping. There are some fields considerable later which will not be ready to cut before next month.

Farmers are in the midst of their oat harvest and the crop is generally good.

Baptismal services were held at High Banks Saturday afternoon conducted by the Rev. John Forbes of Bowens Corners. Seven went through the ordinance of baptism by immersion.

The Cold Spring Sunday school will picnic at High Banks, Tuesday the 17.

Notice.

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Fulton & Oswego Falls Street Railway Co., for the election of seven Directors and three Inspectors for the ensuing year and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting will be held at the office of the Company in the village of Fulton, Oswego Co., N. Y., on the 21st day of Sept., 1886, at 12 o'clock noon. Transfer books will close on the 11th day of Sept., and re-open on the 22nd day of Sept., 1886.

Charles Lyman, Secretary.

The following By-Laws regulate the manner of holding such election:

The annual meeting of the Stockholders shall be held on the third Tuesday in September, in each year at the office of the Company, in the Village of Fulton, Oswego Co., N. Y., at 12 o'clock [illegible]

[illegible] Ayes, Trustees Chase, Bradford and Kendrick. Nays, Trustees More and Johnson.

On motion Trustees Chase and Johnson and the President were appointed a committee to settle with the late Treasurer.

The Clerk was directed to correspond with the Button Fire Engine Manufacturing Company, to ascertain the cost of two hose pipes with and without nozzles.

On motion Marcus F. Crahan was employed to paint the two hose carts lately purchased, at ten dollars each to include striping and varnishing.

The Finance Committee reported the following bills correct and the same being audited the Clerk was directed to draw orders for the several amounts on the proper funds.

Charles Whitaker, rent of room ½ year,	$ 13.00
John Kavanaugh, lamp lighting,	88.67
Geo. F. Sharp, highway labor,	78.47
Daniel Roach, blacksmithing,	11.60
Fulton Water Works Co., hydrant rental,	850.00
Conley and Powell, clearing out channel Waterhouse and C. Church creeks, as per contract,	70.00

On motion of Trustee More sections 4 and 5 of chapter 4 of village ordinances were ordered published. Said sections are as follows:

Sec. 4. No dog or slut shall be allowed to run at large within the limits of this village between the 15th day of June and the 20th day of September in each year, unless muzzled with a good and sufficient muzzle, rendering it impossible for such dog or slut to bite any person or animal: under the penalty of five dollars for each offense, to be paid by the owner or possessor thereof.

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of all policemen of this village to kill every dog or slut when owned in this village, found running at large contrary to the foregoing section of this chapter, and such dog or slut so running at large contrary to the forgoing section of this chapter, and such dog or slut so running at large, may be lawfully killed by any person.

On motion the Board adjourned to Wednesday evening, Aug. 18th, 1886, at 7½ o'clock.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

CHEESE MARKETS.

[From the Utica Herald.]

Utica, Aug 9.

The market to-day was active and firm, and ⅛c. higher than a week ago. The buyers all seemed anxious to get cheese, and the competition was extremely good. The transactions are large, but this was occasioned by the factorymen putting in all the stock that was fit to ship, on account of the prices paid, or in salesmen's parlence, because "it was a good day to sell." At first 8c. was talked of as "high," then an eighth was added, then a quarter, and finally three-eighths for three of the choice lots. Advices from New York quoted 8¼c. as the top there, and some of the conservative buyers claim that prices here are not warranted. There is no doubt, however, that they have been paid, and everybody will fee anxious to lern how they are received in the city.

Transactions for the day are as follows: 1,185 1,185 boxes, 14 lots, at 7¾c.; 73 lots, 6,893 boxes, at 7⅞c.; 24 lots, 2,232 boxes, at 8c.; 11 lots, 1,306 boxes, at 8⅛c.; 16 lots, 1,056 boxes, at 8¼c.; 3 lots, 255 boxes, at 8⅜c. and two lots, 325 boxes, at p. t. Sales 13,252 boxes, commissions 1,595 boxes; total 14,847 boxes. Ruling price 7⅞c. One year ago sales were 12,423 boxes, ruling 6⅝c. Two years ago they were 12,225 boxes, ruling 9¾c.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

Little Falls, Aug. 9.

Prices were firmer to-day and buyers were more anxious to secure the offerings. Trade was active and it is believed that the day of low prices has gone by for this season. Offerings were in fine condition, and it is hardly thought that a break in prices is at all probable. There are those who anticipate higher prices, but the general expectation favors a healthy, steady market. Transactions were:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
13	1,339	7¼ cents
87	6,484	7¾ cents
37	2,006	8 cents
8	530	com.
145	10,369
Farm dairy	840
Total	11,209

Farm Dairies.—840 boxes farm dairy cheese sold at 7c. to 8c.; bulk at 7½c.

Butter.—Only 20 packages sold, at 19c. to 18c.

AT FULTON.

Twenty-five factories were represented at this market Monday night with about 2,000 boxes, which were nearly all sold at 7¾c. to 7⅞c.

General News.

Congress adjourned sine die last Thursday.

The cholera has returned and is again raging in Italy.

Mr. Tilden's fortune is estimated at from $6,000,000 to $8,000,000.

Extensive forest fires have been raging this week in Michigan and Wisconsin.

The trial of the anarchists still continues in Chicago. Spies was on the stand Monday.

In the boat race at Nantasket, Monday Hanlan won, with McKay second, Ten-Eyck third and Hosmer fourth.

It has been discovered that a yachting party of six men who left Sarnia, Ont., over three weeks ago have perished in Lake Huron.

Nine hundred persons died of small pox during the month of July in Santiago DeChili, South America.

Professor Scherer, the eminent German literateur, died Saturday at Berlin. He was born at Schoenborn on the 26th of April, 1841.

Over twenty thousand people attended the Murdock camp meeting at Oakland, Ill., last Saturday. There was speaking from six stands.

The yacht race for the Goelet cup occurred in Newport harbor last Saturday. The Mayflower won the race, the Puritan three-fourths of a mile behind.

On last Friday, Kitt Ross, a quarter board Cherokee Indian, was hanged at Fort Smith, Ark., John Smith at Gallatin Mo., and Edward Bundy, colored, at Columbia, S. C.

The address of Commander Burdette of the Grand Army of the Republic at San Francisco shows that 3,020 comrades died during the year, and that 20,643 joined the order.

The rioting, which broke out in Belfast, Ireland, a week ago last Sunday between catholics and protestants still continues. Many have been killed and wounded, and the military and police have been unable to gain control of the disorderly mobs.

A. P. Elder, proprietor of the Literary Life, the magazine which Miss Rose Cleveland has undertaken to edit, confessed judgment Monday in the sum of $10,000. The sheriff has levied on his real estate and personal property. Mr. Elder declares that the publication of the magazine will in no way be affected.

Nip in the Bud.

Sad to say, many a good thing [illegible]

[illegible] which might arise at school meetings soon to occur, and in answer to many inquiries, I have caused the provisions of the General Act relating to the subject to be printed as amended. Section 12, Title 7, now reads as follows:

"Section 12. Every person of full age residing in any neighborhood or school district, and entitled to hold lands in this State, who owns or hires real property in such neighborhood or school district, liable to taxation for school purposes, and every resident of such neighborhood or district who is a citizen of the United States above the age of twenty-one years, and who is the parent of a child or children of school age, some one or more of whom shall have attended the district school for a period of at least eight weeks within one year proceeding, and every such person not being the parent who shall have permenently residing with him or her such child or children, and every such resident and citizen as aforesaid, who owns any personal property assessed on the last preceeding assessment roll of the town, exceeding fifty dollars in value, exclusive of such as is exempt from execution, and no others, shall be entitled to to vote at any school meeting held in such neighborhood or district."

By the provisions of the act quoted, there are four classes of persons entitled to vote at school meetings in this State.

1st, Every person of full age, who is a resident of the district, entitled to hold lands in this state, who either owns or hires real estate in the district liable to taxation for school purposes.

2d. Every resident of the district, who is a citizen of the United States, 21 years of age, and who is the parent of a child of school age, provided such child shall have attended the district school for a period of at least eight weeks within one year preceding.

3d. Every resident of the district, a citizen of the United States, 21 years of age, not being the parent, who shall have permently residing with him or her a child of school age, which shall have attended the district school for a period of at least eight weeks within one year preceding.

4th. Every resident and citizen of full age, who owns any personal property assessed on the last preceding assessment roll of the town, exceeding fifty dollars in value exclusive of property exempt from execution.

In either class the voter may be male or female.

In the second class both father and mother are entitled to vote.

In the third class (cases of children residing with others than their parents) "him or her" in the statute must be held to limit the suffage to one person only and that the head of the household. Therefore, where husband and wife living together have such a child residing with them, the wife is not on that account entitled to vote, although she may be for other reasons.

Challenge and Declaration.

By Section 13, Title 7, General School Act, it is provided that in case a person offering to vote at any school district meeting shall be duly challenged, the chairman presiding at the meeting shall require such person to make the following declaration: "I do declare and affirm that I am an actual resident of this school district, and that I am qualified to vote at this meeting," and that every person making such declaration shall be permitted to vote on all questions proposed at such meeting, but if he refuse to make such declaration his vote shall be rejected.

Section 14 of the same title makes it a misdemeanor if any person willfully makes a false declaration of his right to vote upon being so challenged.

Respectfully,
A. S. Draper,
Supt. of Public Instruction.

A New Postal Card.

The new postal card design, adopted about a year ago, will soon be superseded by another which has been prepared at the bureau of engraving and printing and which has been formally approved by Postmaster General Vilas. When the last change of design was made there was some occasion for haste and there was difficulty about getting rid of certain notions about the card that experience has removed. Mr. Vilas last year took the best of the designs offered. It was an improvement, but still not entirely satisfactory. The new design will at once be acknowledged as an improvement upon that now in use. It consists of one piece of engraving instead of two pieces, as on the present card. A head of Jefferson, a miniature after the original in the state department, occupies a central place on the upper third of the card. Over this head in light letters are the words "United States." In panels, supported by scroll work at the left and right, are the words, "postal card," in distinct letters. Under the head are the words "one cent," and beneath the border line inclosing the designation of value is the line, "Nothing but the address to be on this side." The design is graceful and light, and its advantage over the old one is that the idea of putting the stamp off at one side and the designation of the article at the opposite is abandoned to secure an inclusive design with the strongest feature of it in the center. The postmaster-general may decide to print the new cards on white paper, in black ink, for the reason that white paper furnishes a better ground for written characters, helping the post office clerks who are compelled to decipher addresses, and for the other reason that the brown ink is complained of by the printers who use it as more troublesome to obtain good work with than the same quality of black ink. As there is a stock of about 13,000,000 postal cards now on hand it is probable that the new cards will not be out for a month or two.

[illegible]

[illegible] in the ready of book publishing. Proofs and free on application. No experience needed to insure success. We help persons without means to do a large business, no capital needed. Write for particulars. Salaries guaranteed to persons who do not wish to canvass on commission. We mean business, and want live agents in every township. It will cost you nothing to write for terms and full descriptions of our plans of doing business. We also give away standard books to persons who send us names of book agents. Write for our list of free standard books. Historical Publishing Co., 120 & 122 N. 7th St., Philadelphia, Pa.
13w4

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES.
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

Job Printing.
—:o:—
We are prepared to do all kinds of
Job Printing
with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,
—AT THE—
FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

INSURANCE SOLICITORS
New working Fire, Life, Industrial or Assessment Insurance, and other solicitors who desire to better themselves, can secure profitable engagements with N. Y. State Relief Association. Large commission and interest in renewals; also premium asked for satisfactory work. Address J. E. ALLANSON, Sec'y., 44 State Street, Albany, N.Y.
14w2

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
Opposite Gas Works,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.
☞Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF
Ladies' Kid Button Shoes
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing
and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE
SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.
The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 3½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 94 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y.

☞Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at Fulton, N. Y.
C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

WANTED—LADY Active and intelligent, to represent in her own locality an old firm. References required. Permanent position and good salary.
GAY & BROTHERS,
14 Barclay St., N. Y.

[illegible]

—WE HAVE IN STOCK A—
Complete Assortment
—OF—
Lumber, Lath, Shingles &c.
—And in fact everything pertaining to a—
FIRST-CLASS YARD.
We are prepared to furnish thoroughly seasoned lumber at the Lowest Rates. Call and be convinced.
BOOMER & LOOMIS.
Corner Broadway and First Sts.

—CALL ON—
GEORGE JOHNSTON,
On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of
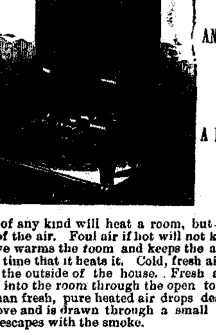
STOVES AND RANGES,
Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,	THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
ART UNIVERSAL,	GRAND UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,	HAPPY THOUGHT,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,	HAPPY HOME,
and ACORN,	and DUCHESS
Parlor Stoves.	Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the
Howe Ventilating Stove,
which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.
Yours Respectfully,
GEO. JOHNSTON.

—THE—
Howe Ventilating Stove.



A NEW STOVE.
ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE.
AN EXCELENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE.
A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

☞A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE
Howe Ventilating Stove Company, Fulton, N. Y.
F. G. Weeks, President.
E. R. Redhead, Vice-President.
A. Lmon Bristol, Sec'y & Treas.
E. L. Messenger, Gen. Manager.
GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent
FULTON, N.Y.

A Leading Popular Rochester Business University Commercial School,
By reason of the superiority of its facilities for imparting a thoroughly practical knowledge of commercial matters, and for promoting the substantial welfare of its pupils, this has become one of the largest and most conspicuous schools of its kind on the continent. Catalogue Free.
F. E. ROGERS, Secretary.
L. L. WILLIAMS, President.
12w6

PRESERVE YOUR HEALTH.
ROGERS' GRAPOLINE

[illegible]
Sold by all Druggists. A. H. ROGERS & CO. Geneseo, N.Y.

BEST IN THE WORLD.
MARLIN Magazine Rifle.
[illegible] BALLARD GALLERY, SPORTING AND TARGET RIFLES [illegible] MARLIN FIRE ARMS CO., New Haven, Conn.

ROGERS' GRAPOLINE
[illegible]

[illegible] F. D. W[illegible], Proprietor.

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express	8:18 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express	11:[illegible] a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express	5:[illegible] p. m
Freight and Accommodation	6:15 p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express	8:15 p. m

GOING NORTH.

New York and Philadelphia Express	8:18 a. m.
Day Express	12:19 p. m.
Day Express	2:48 p. m.
Freight and Accommodation	6:15 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express	7:10 p. m.

The 8:18 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:18 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
Norwich Express	3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:24 a. m
Oswego Express	11:27 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	9:57 p. m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:21	2:10	5:21
For Oswego,	9:10	12:54	3:24	6:20

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS.

Miss Clara Conger, who has been in Paris some months is home again.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hart have returned from their visit to Canada.

Dr. J. Watson left yesterday for a short visit to friends in Canastota.

F. A. Emerick and family left Friday for a few week's sojourn at Long Branch.

Miss Grace Tucker is spending a few weeks with friends in Madison county.

John McGonigal a prominent Wayne county politician was in town last Friday.

Mrs. D. W. Gardner and Miss May Gardner leave this week for Alexandria Bay.

Miss Gertie Bierman of St. Louis, Mo., is visiting Mrs. C. Church of this place.

Hon. H. C. Howe and family left Monday for a visit at the Thousand Islands.

Prof. B. G. Clapp and family are at Fairport, on a visit to a brother, Dr. W. Clapp.

Miss Fannie L. Rice of Cambridge, N. Y., is visiting friends and relatives in Fulton.

"Brad" Willard of New York, formerly of this place, has been in town for a few days.

William Saulsbury of Breckenridge, Mo., has been in town visiting friends and relatives.

Giles S. Piper and family left last night for Long Branch, where they will spend a few days.

Prof. F. E. Adams formerly of Falley Seminary, now of Humbolt, Ia., was in town last week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Waugh spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in Weedsport and Auburn.

Miss Laura Wade of Elizabeth, N. J., is spending a few days in town, the guest of Miss Cora Miller.

Miss Minnie Danton of Rochester is spending a part of her vacation among friends and relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Skadon, of Arlington, N. J., are visiting their friends in Fulton, their former home.

Miss Frankie Conner started for Correctionville, Iowa, last evening, where she has been engaged to teach.

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Ranger of Syracuse, were in town yesterday, guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Rosenbloom.

Mrs. D. C. More who has been visiting her home in Chenango Forks, N. Y., for several weeks has returned home.

Rev. Mr. Smith of Fulton has been spending a few days in Pompey.—[Standard's Pompey Correspondent.

C. H. Bibbens, editor of the Jordon Times, passed a few days in town the past week, the guest of J. R. Loomis.

Mr. E. L. Morse, who has been spending the past week with friends in town, returned Monday to his home in Providence.

Miss Maggie Chestnut of Oswego, who has been visiting Miss Fannie Stevenson for the past week, returned home yesterday.

Mrs. C. W. Rice and Mrs. J. Smith of Syracuse, are making an extended visit to friends in Canada and at the Thousand Islands.

Miss Mattie Parkhouse has been spending a few weeks with friends in Saratoga Springs, returned home last Thursday.

Mrs. R. Bradshaw has returned from Niagara Falls, where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. George Chauncy for several weeks.

Rev. T. M. Bishop of Honeoye Falls, was accompanied by his daughter Minnie while in attendance at the fiftieth anniversary of Zion church.

A. N. Graves and family, who have been spending two months in Iowa and Michigan, have returned to their home in Palermo Center.

Prof. William Dougal of Newark, N. J., who with his family have been spending the summer in Fulton, left last Monday for his home. They will go by way of Quebec, and Portland, Me.

Mrs. Amy Wilcox of Philadelphia, Pa., formerly of this village, is visiting friends in Fulton and Oswego Falls. She lives with her daughter Ella, who recently married Benjamin Littlewood, who is extensively engaged in business in that city.

[illegible]

[illegible] of the Assembly, the opponent of the Tweed Ring and so [illegible]. Mr. Tilden spent the greater part of his life in this city practicing law. I doubt if there was any better informed railroad lawyer than he. Nor was his practice confined entirely to that for away back into the fifties he so successfully pleaded a purely political case as to win the admiration of that wonderful man Charley O'Connor. In days gone by Mr. Tilden was a familiar down-town figure. His residence was in Gramercy Park. His law office was in Liberty street, and it was here that many political schemes were concocted.

I think without speaking extravagantly his Gramercy Park residence is one of the most beautiful in this city. The facade is of granite and its design so purely artistic that it attracts attention. It was your correspondent's pleasure to visit the house some years ago. The space alotted to me is not sufficient to give a fine description of the interior, but two rooms, the dining room and the library deserve notice. The chief beauty of the former consists in its ceiling. Mammouth beams of oak cross at right angles making panels whose carvings are simply marvelous. The hangings of the room, its pictures, its appointments, represent $25,000. The library is perhaps the most striking room in the house. Perhaps the city presents no finer private library. It is a square room, its ceiling being as high as the house itself—three stories of shelves, galleries at convenient distances and books without end. The ornamentation is chaste, and beautiful.

Pen pictures of Mr. Tilden are difficult to make. Ten years made a great change in him. I remember seeing him when he was in the full flush of his strength. His face you would call an intellectual one. I think that the chief thing about him and that which attracted most was his courtesy. Perhaps society would be a better word. He began life with fair prospects for success baring poor health. He gave himself up entirely to his profession and made everything lead to that one thing. This may account for that oily manner that was particularly noticable 15 years ago.

Of late he has been a resident of Yonkers a sub city fifteen miles from this city. His residence there was fit for a king. There he lived in retirement, not however, the usual retirement of such a man for, as a rule, public men when they retire or are retired become nonentities. Mr. Tilden on the contrary was sought out by prominent Democrats and his retirement became a most active one. It may be that for this reason he received the title "The Sage of Graystone. Graystone, now representing an investment of nearly a million dollars was originally the property of a wealthy hat maker of Yonkers who having failed the property passed into the hands of Mr. Tilden.

It is a little remarkable that of the six public men who have died in the year no less than four have been residents of this city—Grant, Hancock, Kelly and Tilden.

Of course, whatever the usefulness of Mr. Tilden's place was in the economy of government, history will testify. It does not become me to speak of any controversies that may have arisen by reason of any of his acts or those of his agents but this much may be said, his efforts for official purification in this city were crowned with success and that makes his memory precious to the great mass of our citizens.

WANDERER.

Local Politics.

Pliticians begin to agitate the question who will be candidates for assembly in this district. For the last two terms Fulton has had the member and in the natural order of things a change is expected. Oswego is anxious to secure the prize but the several candidates there will so hotly contest the ground as to give the office to another locality. In Fulton there is plenty of good timber. Such names as Henry E. Nichols, Charles M. Lee and Fred Bennett of the Patriot and Gazette. The friends of the latter will make a strong effort to nominate him. Mr. Bennett would make a strong independent legislator and if nominated would poll a large vote from the average Republican.—[Fulton Cor. to Standard.

The Fiftieth Anniversary.

Last Saturday being the fiftieth anniversary of the laying of the corner stone of Zion church in this village, appropriate services were held at 10:30 a. m., morning prayer was said, followed by an address by the Rev. Mr. Beuchamp of Baldwinsville, after which the celebration of the holy communion by the Rev. Fredrick Winnie of Canastota, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Beauchamp and the rector, the Rev. H. B. Goodyear. The bell that has lain in the garret of the church so long, was placed in the new tower and rang on the occasion. Evening service was held at 7:30 o'clock and a sermon was preached by the Rev. Theodore M. Bishop of Honeoye Falls, who had been rector of the parish more than a third of the time of its existence.

A Fitting Tribute.

While reading the press notices in the Phoenix papers in regard to the departure of Prof. B. G. Clapp from that village, where he has been at the head of the academy for nearly twenty years, to assume the charge of the Fulton schools, we were struck by the amount of his accumulations during those years. Filthy lucre, no matter how highly we prize it, could have brought no better returns than has the active participation of the professor and his family in the welfare of the village where their lot fell. It has earned for them honor and respect which is bread cast upon the waters to return to them during many days to come.—[Sandy Creek News.

[illegible]

Just received a new [illegible] direct from manufactory. Above goods are exclusively for our own trade. Call and see them, at

A. E. NETTLETON'S.

The Free Methodist camp meeting commences at Wilber's grove to-day.

THE TIMES is indebted to Charles A. Reynolds for a box of early and delicious pears.

Charles Holden is confined to the house by a serious attack of inflammatory rheumatism.

Rev. Thomas Nichols of Pittston, Pa., occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church last Sunday.

R. A. Stowell of Stowell's 25 cent and bargain store has returned from Ogdensburg to close out their store in this village.

There will be preaching at the Baptist church Sunday morning by the pastor, Rev. J. C. Breaker. Sunday school at noon. No evening services.

Conway, Kansas, became a city last month and on the 21st held its first city election. D. B. Rowlee, formerly of Volney, son of Esquire Rowlee, was elected Mayor.

A foot race for $200, between Ed. Wilson of Oswego Falls and Sidney Clark of Buffalo is announced to take place on the Oswego Falls fair grounds, next Saturday.

A runaway occurred on First street Monday morning. In crossing the canal bridge the buggy was overturned, but was not seriously damaged. The horse was stopped near Gage's mill.

400 of the rests for the tracks of the new street railroad were cast at the Cambell foundry, in this village. We understand that Mr. Campbell has received an order for 5,000 for some other track.

The farmers of this portion of Oswego county are to have a Harvest picnic at Ira P. Ives' grove, near Mt. Pleasant, on Wednesday next. Hon. H. C. Howe and N. N. Stranahan are expected to be present and address the assemblage.

The children and grandchildren of of Mrs. Andrus Althouse gathered at her home, north of this village, to help her celebrate her eighty-fifth birthday. A good time was enjoyed by those present and the old lady cheered on her journey.

A serious accident occurred to M. R. Jeffords, formerly of this village, but now in London, England, on the 20th of last month. He was thrown from the the top a public cab to the pavement and received a fracture of the left arm.

The case of L. D. Spooner who was arrested recently for selling liquor on Sunday was called yesterday at 1:30 o'clock, The entire afternoon was consumed in obtaining a jury, after which the case was adjourned until this afternoon at 1 o'clock.

P. Cullen has taken the agency for the celebrated Pennsylvania, Loyal Sock and the Wilkesbarre coal, with an office in his meat market on Oneida street. It will be for your interest to consult him before buying elsewhere. Coal delivered anywhere in Fulton and Oswego Falls.

The Baker Hose company of Oswego Falls will have a festival on the fair grounds next Monday evening. They will have six bands in attendance. After parading through the principal streets of Oswego Falls and Fulton, they will proceed to the fair grounds.

Last Thursday afternoon H. Hulett, Supt., drew one of the street cars over the track for the first time, from the western terminus to First street, in order to accustom the horses to their work and to ascertain the condition of the track. It was found necessary to change the curve at the corner of First and Broadway.

The C. S. Osgood hose company No. 4, was organized last Wednesday evening by Chief Engineer Mosher, with their room in A. W. Stoneburg's building on First street adjoining Warner's grocery. The following officers were elected: Pres., John More; Secy., Henry Wise; Treas., A. W. Stoneburg; Foreman, Clinton Ferris; 1st Assistant, Charles Abby; 2d Assistant, Gilbert Wallace.

The fiery, untamed steed owned by "Doctor" Dunbar, last Saturday awoke from his usual lethargic state and started, the doctor says, "very suddenly," throwing him from the coupe, and injuring him severely. At present the doctor has the appearance of a man after a collision with a locomotive. A judicious application of "balm" alleviated his distress.

Men's and Boys' Flannel Shirts Cheap at D. C. More & Co's.

PARASOLS.

The Boston Bazaar are closing out their Parasols at cost.

John H. Dalton, was arrested in Oswego, last Friday for selling bogus jewelry and yesterday morning was fined $50. Another warrant was issued for his re-arrest but before it could be served he escaped in the direction of this village. A description of him was telephoned here and the authorities notified to arrest him, but up to noon to-day we have received no word of his arrest.

Second hand Gas Pipe for sale at McCully's planing mill, from ⅜ inch up to 3 inches in diameter. 12tf

Picture frames, all styles and kinds made to order at the Boston Bazaar.

A fine line of Boys' Button and Lace Shoes very low at Gillies'. 12tf

Wanted.—To rent [illegible]

C. L. S. C. Meeting.

The C. L. S. C. of Oswego Falls met Monday afternoon of this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd of Granby Centre. The occasion was a social one of unusual pleasure and interest, in honor of Miss Frank A. Connor, who departed last evening for Iowa. Miss Connor has been for two years a teacher in the Lower Oswego Falls school, and an active member of the C. L. S. C. She goes to Correctionville, Iowa to take a position in the schools of that place.

The members of the Circle and other friends wished to give Miss Connor an expression of their appreciation of her scholarly and lady-like qualities and what she has made of herself by her energy and persistence in pursuing a noble purpose. District Attorney Mead and wife of Fulton were present and it is needless to say "that baby" was a pleasant feature of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd put all under obligations by their attention to the wants of their guests. At 6 o'clock tables were spread out of doors and the ladies very soon covered them with a bountiful repast which seemed to be greatly relished by all. After the first table was served, Mr. Williams, President of the Circle, in behalf of Miss Connor's lady friends, in an encouraging and complimentary speech, presented her with a copy of Irving's sketch book. In closing his remarks Mr. Williams said: "We especially commend this thought of the author: "Surely happiness is reflective like the light of Heaven, and every countenance bright with smiles and glowing with innocent enjoyment is a mirror transmitting to others the rays of a supreme and even shining benevolence." And may you on your journey and in your new home enjoy the care and protection of the kind Father of us all, is the earnest wish of these, your friends.

After supper the company entered the parlor and all joined in singing several pieces in "Gospel Songs," Miss Gussie Wood presiding at the piano. The Circle then adjourned to meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Jennings on Sat-afternoon of next week.

Fulton Union School.

The Board of Education have just issued a calendar for 1886—87. It states that each term will be thirteen weeks of actual school, the Fall term beginning August 30, and closing Nov. 26. The tuition for non-resident pupils is primary, $3.00; Junior, $4.00; Senior, $5.00; Academic $7.00. The following corps of able teachers have been secured for the coming school year: Prof. G. B. Clapp, principal; Mary L. Lawrence, Sarah L. Warner, May L. King, Carrie E. Tubbs, Elizabeth L. Lasher, Ella E. Lasher, Maria F. Highriter, Effie J. Brockway, Katie Mace, Eunice J. Sisson, Jessie M. Kimball, Libbie F. Howard, Nellie Curtis. The board of education consists of the following named gentlemen: Francis E. Bacon, President; Robert E. Phillips, Wm. G. Gage, L. C. Seymour, Samuel B. Whitaker, Chas. H. David, Henry S. Gardner.

Veterans' Reunion.

Delegates from the different G. A. R. posts in this county met at Oswego last Wednesday and concluded arrangements for a grand reunion to be held at Oswego Falls, Sept. 8, 9, and 10. It is also proposed at that time to form a county association of union veterans who were made prisoners during the war of the rebellion.

The following officers were chosen: President, A. R. Penfield, Oswego; vice-presidents, N. H. Gilbert, Fulton; H. W. Caldwell, Pulaski; T. C. Taggert, Phœnix; G. A. Woodin, Central Square; E. J. Wilson, Amboy: secretary, C. A. Taylor, Oswego; treasurer, W. J. Pentelow, Fulton.

POSTPONED.

The Opening of the Street Railway Indifinately Postponed.

The opening of the Fulton & Oswego Falls street railway, which was to have occurred to-day, has been unavoidably postponed, owing to the fact that the cars are unable to be run around the sharp curve at the corner, of Broadway and First streets. A railway expert is here and the curve is undergoing some alterations. It is expected that in a very few days everything will be in readiness and the road opened to the public. Due notice of the opening day will be given.

Boy Drowned.

On last Thursday afternoon, Willie Gore, son of William Gore of Oswego Falls, aged about 10 years, fell into the river and was drowned. He was playing with some boys of about his own age at the factory coal dock below the upper bridge when he fell in. The alarm was given and a large crowd collected on the banks. He was taken from the water and Dr. Wells assisted by willing hands worked for over an hour on the body to no avail. An inquest was held by Dr. Marsh and a verdict of accidental drowning rendered.

Marital.

Mr. Fred Gardner of Fulton, and Miss Nettie Stevenson of Oswego Falls were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's parents on last Wednesday afternoon, the Rev. Mr. Olmstead officiating. The newly wedded pair will take up their residence in this village.

Dr. Mary Cook, daughter of E. S. Cook of Gilberts Mills was married last Wednesday to Dr. B. T. Wright of Geddis, N. Y.

Something Worth Reading.

Men's Linen collars	10c.
Three collars for	25c.
Laundried [illegible] shirts, 1 collar	50c.
[illegible]	[illegible]

[illegible]

The new Ontario & Western depot is now used.

Many of our merchants have secured advertising spaces in the street cars.

The front of H. C. Giesler's drug store has been adorned with some new signs.

The Water Works company have decided to sink another well at the works.

Farther Early lectured on temperance in St. Louis church Oswego, last evening.

Miss Hattie Whitaker has secured a very desirable position as a teacher in Albany.

Miss Bessie Reynolds of Baldwinsvilie, was in town last week, engaged in lustre painting.

Lieutenant-Governor Jones will deliver an address at the Sandy Creek fair, which is to be held Sept. 1, 2 and 3.

The Frank A. Robbins circus and menagerie is to exhibit in Oswego Falls opposite the fair ground, Aug. 31.

Richard Burget, the newly appointed postmaster at Caughdenoy, took possession of the office there last Saturday.

Miss Frank French, accompanied by O. C. Potter and family of Syracuse, started Monday for a visit with friends in Saguenay, Canada.

Chief F. C. Mosher has been appointed delegate to represent the Fulton Fire Department at the Firemen's Convention in Buffalo. He will start Monday night.

Mrs. Carrie Glover, nee Smith, formerly of this village died in Virginia last week Monday. Her home had been in Cortland, N. Y., up to the time see went south.

The Fulton base ball club was unable to do much against their powerful adversaries Thursday afternoon. The score stood Fultons 5, Oneidas 37.

Post Schenck of this village, have been asked to take the part of Confederates in the sham battle to be fought at the reunion of the G. A. R. at Oswego Falls next month.

Work in the Howe Ventilating Stove Works was stopped on Friday and Saturday of last week, caused by the breaking of the water wheel. Work was resumed Monday.

Members of the Universalist church and Sunday school participated in a lawn festival and social gathering at the residence of Mrs. C. Church on Oneida street, last evening.

A painful accident occurred to Fred Hewitt in Morrill Bros. printing office last Friday afternoon. His foot was caught in the press and badly crushed. Dr. N. F. Hall dressed the wound.

Peter Youngs was arrested last Saturday night, and after considerable resistance was lodged in jail. Monday morning he pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk and disorderly add was fined $5 or 30 days.

The many friends of Dr. I. C. Curtis and Hugh Sherman who started some ago for an ocean voyage, will be pleased to learn that word has been received of their safe arrival at Cuba. They are both reported well.

Although the electric light has been introduced in Montreal, the consumption of gas has increased to such an extent that it has been found necessary to introduce a new gas meter with a capacity of one million feet a day.

In laying the street railway through the village Monday several planks were dug out that were laid down when the old plank road from Syracuse to Oswego was built, over forty years ago. The planks were in as good condition as when first laid down.

Remember the Spiritualist's Grove meeting at the Oswego Falls Fair Grounds next Sunday morning and afternoon. The speakers for the occasion are J. H. Harter, of Auburn and Carrie E. Downer, of Baldwinsville. Admission ten cents.

It is expected that the construction of the proposed Syracuse & Baldwinsville railroad will soon be actively under way. The contract for grading the road bed and laying the track has been given to a contractor from Jersey City. The contract calls for the completion of the road by November 15th.

On last Wednesday evening while the new hose company of the Fourth Ward was in process of organization, a small fire occurred at a house owned by H. Hulett and occupied by a widow named McGinta. The new company turned out in great shape and extinuhished the fire before any serious damage was done.

If you want a nice fitting Corset go to the Boston Bazaar.

Latest fall style in Men's Stiff and Soft Hats just received by D. C. MORE & CO.

J. Cooley Tucker has the sole agency for the celebrated granulated wheat, a food prepared from the best white winter wheat, unleavened, ready cooked for immediate use. It is the best food for invalids and children. As a diet for cases of nervous prostration and debility, constipation and dyspepsia, it is unequaled. It is used in Health Institutions extensively. 10tf

An elegant Line of Pants to be closed out very low by D. C. MORE & CO.

If you want a good bargain in Hosiery go to the Boston Bazaar.

CARD OF THANKS.

Dr. J. Watson desires to express his [illegible] thanks to the [illegible]

[illegible] of the Schuyler [illegible], turned out in large numbers [illegible] and compared the two systems of lighting to form their own conclusions in regard to the merits of the lights of the rival companies.

On inquiring of many of our representative citizens what conclusion they had come to in regard to the relative merits of the two systems, we found none, who considered the Schuyler lights superior, a few who thought that there was not much difference and a large majority who considered that the Thomson-Houston lights were superior. We are of the last class and believe that the Schuyler light is not equal to the Thomson-Houston in steadiness, brilliancy or penetrating power. If a position is taken in front of Giesler's drug store and Peebles & Cook's clothing store, the two lights can be nicely seen at the same time and easily compared. The one in Giesler's is steadier and more brilliant. If a person stand at the corner of Rochester and Second streets, the Thomson-Houston light at the corner of Cayuga and Second and the Schuyler light at the corner of First and Rochester can both be seen and the superiority of the Thomson-Houston light in the three qualities mentioned is perceptible. We learn from responsible parties that have viewed them from a point above the factory at Oswego Falls, that the Thomson-Houston light from that point presents a larger and brighter appearance. So much with regard to their merits when compared.

It is generally conceded, but by no means definitely settled, that the village will adopt one of the systems for street lighting purposes, and that the question of adoption hangs almost entirely upon the cost. We have been informed by both Mr. Leonard and Mr. Philbrook, representatives of the Thomson-Houston company that their company can supply lights to the village as cheap as the other company and will do so if a contract is offered that covers a sufficient length of time. Let the contract be for one year with the privilege of five or ten and there will not be much difference in the price, if any. A contract that is binding for but one year would not be a prudent one to accept, for many reasons. If at the end of that time the company were disposed to charge an exorbitant price, the people would feel disposed to pay it, rather than return to the former method of lighting (?) the streets by gas and kerosene.

Again, if it were deemed advisable to resort to the old method, (but it never will be), it would be attended with considerable expense, as by that time new arrangements would have to be made and possibly a new gas company organized.

We like the plan that the Thomson-Houston company has followed in exhibiting their lights. They came here and asked permission of the village board to place a few lights on exhibition in the streets of the village. This privilege was granted and in a short time four lights were placed in the business part of the village, a sufficient number to show the quantity and quality of the light. To merchants that desired it, lights were placed in their stores at the price charged by the company in other places. On the other hand, the Schuyler company came here, obtained the same privilege and began at once to make preparations for lighting a large portion of the village, including places of business, without regard to expense. They consumed more time than the board had granted them and asked for an extension. They run a wire out to Seventh street in order that Mr. Bradford might be lighted home after he had attended a late session of the board. They placed an incandescent light over Dr. Pardee's office desk in order that the doctor's eyes might not become injured, as they might be, if he were compelled to study by gas light. They are furnishing light to merchants in the village, free, and do not give any figures as to what the price will be, if their light is adopted. This is all very nice and we like to see the enterprise of the company in trying to down their adversaries, but they have overdone the matter, and it looks as though they were trying to buy the good will of the citizens by supplying them with an abundance of free light. They furnish a good light but not as good as the Thomson-Houston. At the same price or at a little more, we cast our vote in favor of the Thomson-Houston system.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Louisa M. Watson, wife of Dr. J. Watson of this village, died at her home on Utica street, last Thursday morning about 3 o'clock, after a very short illness. Her death was caused by heart disease. Mrs. Watson was born in Perryville, Madison county, N. Y., and for over twenty years has been an honored and respected resident of this village. She joined the Methodist church in her early life and for the past twenty years has been a faithful, devoted member of that church in Fulton. She was a loving and faithful mother, a devoted wife and an exemplary christian. Although it was known that she was troubled with a difficulty of the heart, yet her death was a sad and unexpected blow to her family and many friends. A husband and two children, W. J. Watson and Mrs. J. Heimberger of this village, as well as a wide circle of friends, mourn her loss. She was 73 years of age. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon from the house, Rev. H. M. Danforth, a former pastor of the M. E. church, officiating. The remains were interred in Mt. Adnah.

Cricket Match at Oswego Falls.

Eleven Syracuse cricketers came to Oswego Falls last Saturday afternoon and defeated the local club by a score of 112 to 78. A second innings was begun in which the Syracuse eleven scored 28 and Oswego Falls had seven wickets down for 37 runs, leaving them thirty-[illegible]

FEELING

Indebted to our many friends for their liberal patronage during the season now drawing to a close, we propose to give away tickets for the Oswego Falls Fair. With every sale of $2.00 and over one Admittance Ticket. With every sale of $8.00 or over, one season ticket.

PEEBLES & COOK

THE CLOTHIERS,

Opposite Opera House.

Great Closing Out Sale!

Stowell's 25 Cent and Bargain Store,

Is offering their Immense Stock of Tinware, Plated Goods, House Furnishing Goods,

HOSIERY, GLOVES, LACE MITTS, DOLLS, TOYS, STATIONERY, FANCY GOODS, at Greatly Reduced Prices to close at once. No Reasonable offer refused for Glassware and Crockery,

And all breakable goods. Show Cases, Lamps and Store Fixtures will be sold at a bargain. The store must be vacated.

Date For Holding School Meetings.

To The Public:

An unaccountable misapprehension seems to prevail in regard to the legal date for holding the annual school meetings in this State, and this department is in constant receipt of inquiries in reference thereto. There has been no change in the law in respect to the legal date, and annual school meetings will be held according to law on the last Tuesday of August, or the (31 inst.), except in districts authorized to meet on the following day.

The recent legislature passed a bill changing the date to June, but this action did not receive the approval of the Governor.

The published statements that the meetings were to be held October 31st contradict themselves, as that day falls on Sunday.

A. S. DRAPER, Supt.

You will save time and money by buying your field and garden seeds in bulk. A large stock just received at D. C. Draper's 15 Oneida street, and for sale at the lowest living rates by the bushel, quart or pound.

Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares, two years ago, and find it very durable and economical.

HART BROS.

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

HARPOON FORKS
for $1.00
—at—
Snow & Loomis' Hardware,
and
Horse Rakes,
Hand Rakes,
Pitch Forks,
Pulley Blocks,
Rope and
Haying Tools,
at equally low prices.

Draper has reduced the price on all holiday goods, fancy crockery, gloves and mittens, sleds, &c., to 10 per cent. less than cost, he is bound to close them all out instead of holding them for next fall's trade.

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets. Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expediously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. 7tf

Draper, 15 Oneida street, will not be undersold in groceries, crockery, glass and plated ware, table and hanging amps. Call and get prices.

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter jars, Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots, &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by

10tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

FOR SALE. A Model Farm of 33 acres; the first east of the village of Fulton, on the Fay road. Soil stoneless, clay loom, well drained, fruited and fenced. Good buildings, hennery, &c.. Nine acres newly seeded, good pasture, never failing creek and chestnut grove. Will leave stock, (pure and gray Jersey), crops and implements if desired. Enquire of

JOSEPH BAGGS,
13w4 Fulton, N. Y.
Chestnut Posts for sale from 5cts. up.

TO RENT—A 7 roomed house, eligibly situated, immediate possession. HENRY BALDREY, S. W. Cor. Oneida and Fourth Sts.

Greatest Bargains

—IN—

CLOTHING

Ever Offered in Oswego County!

—To close out our Summer Stock a large stock of—

Boys' and Children's Clothing

Will be sold very low. Now is your time.

D. C. MORE & CO.

[illegible]

[illegible] worse than no rod at [illegible].

The problem of successful farming consists in making the soil increasingly fertile. Profit comes of high fertility and excellent tillage.

You have to consider the feeding of the hen as well as the chicks. Feed the former first on grain and after she may pick with her chicks.

Too many fowls have to depend upon the contents of the wash tub for drinking water. The dirty soap suds will be sure to cause disease. Give the hens pure water.

In parts of Fayette county, Ill., the clinch bugs are destroying the corn, field after field having been given up to the pests. With a view of exterminating them, the farmers have agreed not to sow any wheat for three successive seasons.

Salt the cabbages occasionally; it will give them a start and hasten the heading process. Don't be afraid to give them a generous sprinkling. We generally use damaged salt for this purpose; it can usually be obtained at a low price.

Don't let the field crops get over-run with weeds during the rush of haying; it will pay to hoe even in cloudy weather; run the cultivator through the rows before the crops get too large, and then hoe if it takes all summer, at odd spells, to do it.

One of the worst misfortunes to a pig is to have a shiftless owner, one who is so heedless and coarse that he is not ashamed of making his pork in filth. No matter about the man, but it is hard on the pig. Its skin gets rough and sore, its comfort is lessened, and its usefulness is limited.

If you have not been in a habit of doing it, just get a lump of rock salt at the store and put it in your horse's manger, where he can lick it at his pleasure; you will be surprised to see how quickly the lump will diminish in size; horses are fond of salt and are benefitted by its use.

If there is any kind of work that needs doing just on time, it is farm work. Weeds wait for no man, they just keep on growing through dry or wet weather nights and Sundays. If we neglect to have a crop at the proper time we have to pay the penalty in extra time and labor. Keep up with the work if possible.

Farms are schools, the best of all in which to learn much that concerns farming. The are the only schools worth naming so far as acquiring practical knowledge in farming is concerned. Teaching by object lessons is effective. The things we see, the things we do, are better remembered and better understood than the things we hear or read about. Learn the practice of farming on a good farm.

The Californians carry their own forage with them. They have the best race-horse feed in the world. Their white oats are about the color of silver, the grain is fine and heavy, weighing forty-four pounds to the bushel, while the average weight is thirty-two pounds. Our oats average thirty-six pounds. The Californians don't feed timothy hay, but but use a sort of wild grass with a heading very much like wild oats. It is cut green and cured, making better hay for horses than timothy.

Educating Colts.

The education of the colt should commence when he is very young, and by those only who are themselves educated, or at least have common sense enough to know how. Horses of high mettle are more easily educated than those of less or dull spirits, and are more susceptible to ill training or bad management, and, consequently, may be made good or bad according to the education they receive. But horses of dull spirits are susceptible to bad management, and in them may be found the most provoking obstinacy and vicious habits of different characters, that render them almost worthless. Could the coming generation of horses in this country be kept, from their earliest days of colthood to age of five years, wholly in the hands of good and careful managers, there would be a vast difference in the general character of these noble animals.

If a colt is never allowed to get an advantage, it will never know that it possesses a power which man cannot control; and if made familiar with strange objects it will not be skittish and nervous. Above all things, a colt should early be taught to stop at the word, whoa! He should be made to stand quietly while you are getting in and out of the carriage or wagon to which it is hitched; as the lack of this part of his education subjects the person, or persons using him, to frequent annoyance, and often serious injury. Vicious habits are easily induced in horses by tickling and plaguing them, while in the stable, and under no circumstances should ever be tolerated. Never beat or use harsh language to a horse in the stable, unless you prefer a vicious to a clever one. A horse is susceptible of taking in a vast amount of knowledge; and his education should be of the nature that will render him the most safe and useful.—[O. Gleason,* in American Agriculturist for August.

Why His Brother Could Do It.

At the Branch: Cubleigh has driven from the depot in a hack.

Cubleigh—"Aw—what's the—aw—damage?"

Cabby—"Doll'r'n'half sir."

Cubleigh—"Dollaw, dollaw? and a half? What—aw—is a dollaw and a half, my good fellow?"

[illegible] "I believe Englishmen calls [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] then [illegible] after haying and permit them to [illegible] there until the ground is covered with snow. Where animals are turned upon newly-seeded land they will pull up and destroy a sufficient number of grass roots to perceptibly diminish the crop the following year. Horses and sheep will crop the grass so closely to the roots as to weaken them and prevent so vigorous a growth as would otherwise be obtained. If those who have never seen the experiment tried will fence off a small portion of a field or pasture, keeping the stock from the unfenced portions, and note the condition of the grass the following season, they will be surprised at the result. Upon the grazed portion the grass will not start so early in the Spring, and will be found much shorter and more uneven than the unfed portions, particularly if the season is unfavorable. As a rule it will be much better economy to buy standard fertilizers where there is a lack of barnyard manure, and raise a crop of Hungarian grass, barley, rye and turnips for feeding to stock when pastures lose their freshness from frosts of Autumn, rather than turn the animals into the mowing lots. There is ample time yet to prepare the ground and grow the above crops this season for late fall feeding.—[American Cultivator.

"The Woods are Full of Them."

The most prominent characteristic of the young man who belives he hovers about the edge of society is his disposition to speak ostentatiously about his debts. I was going to Kingston one day when I found myself seated next to a young man of unknown income whose acquaintanceship I was obliged to acknowledge. He wore yellow and brown plaid trousers, a dark brown blouse, a white necktie and a pure white crush hat. I recognized the outfit and said: "Going to the mountains, eh?" "Yes, b' Jove; you don't know what a relief it is. I positively had to slip down through side streets to the ferry." "Why what did you do that for?" "The beastly collectors were after me, I assure you that I have not had a minute's peace in six months. Tailors' bills, shoe dealers' bills, and haberddashers' bills have been thrust into my face at every corner I turned, don't you know. These people have no consideration for the feelings of a gentleman. They have made me wretched, most wretched. But now (drawing a long breath) I am clear from them all. I shall stay away until snow flies, if I freeze clear through for it. I'd rather be an icicle, don't you know, than the objective point of a collector." The pitiful little object didn't owe a cent in the world but his landlady. Not that he was honest, but because he could not get trusted for a cigarette, let alone a suit of clothing. The fly suit that he wore, I happened to know, had been purchased at a ten-dollars-for-this-week-only sale in Eighth avenue, and when his landlady threw him out he bundled off to the Catskills, where he hoped that his dainty manners and imitation English would give him provender for a week or two. Meantime he must needs pour the tale of his prosecutions from collectors into the the ears of those whom he could not defraud because it was fashionable to imitate the young men about town who have credit and abuse it.—[Blakely Hall.

Grant and Lee's Last Meeting.

The great antagonists met once only after the scenes of Appomattox court house. It was in May, 1869, soon after the first inauguration of Grant. Lee was in Washington about some business connected with railroads, and thought it his duty to call on the president. He was received in the cabinet chamber with no one present but Mr. Motley, who had been recently appointed minister to England. General Grant and Motley both described the interview to me. Motley said both men were simple and dignified, but he thought there was a shade of constraint in the manner of Lee, who was indeed always inclined to be more formal than the northern general. The former enemies shook hands; Grant asked Lee to be seated, and presented Motley. The interview was short, and all that Grant could remember was that when they spoke of building railroads he said playfully to Lee:

"You and I, general, have had more to do with destroying railroads than building them."

But Lee refused to smile or to recognize the raillery. He went on gravely with the conversation, and no other reference was made to the past. Lee soon arose, and the soldiers parted, not to meet again until their mighty shades saluted each other in that region where conquerors and conquered alike lay down their arms.—[Adam Badeau's letter.

Not Exactly.

A young lady from the city was visiting a farmer who had a very extensive tobacco plantation. The farmer had gotten out the buggy and was showing her over the place.

"Oh," she said, as they turned into the lane. "That is another field of tobacco, isn't it?"

The farmer looked in the direction indicated and replied, "That there? No, marm—er—that is—not exactly."

"'Not exactly,' What do you mean by that?"

Why, you see?" said the farmer with a significant grin, "That there's a cabbage patch"—[Merchant Traveler.

He Would Not Miss It.

"Are you going to the hanging today?" asked one Missourian of another yesterday.

"Don't think I will," was the reply. "You see I have assisted at five necktie parties this week, and am sort o' tired."

"But this is no lynchin'. It's a legal hanging."

"You don't say! Then I'll go. Can't [illegible] that."—[Pittsburgh [illegible]

3d: [illegible]

Unknown to Others!

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared with the greatest skill and care, by pharmacists of education and long experience. Hence it is a medicine worthy of entire confidence. If you suffer from scrofula, salt rheum, or any disease of the blood, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, or kidney and liver complaints, catarrh or rheumatism, do not fail to try

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all my friends as the best blood purifier on earth." WM. GAFF, druggist, Hamilton, O.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured me of scrofulous humor, and done me worlds of good otherwise." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

A book containing many additional statements of cures will be sent to all who desire.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

REV. DR. FREELAND, of Fowlerville, N. Y. writes us that two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine cured his wife of nervousness and sleeplessness. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

IMPOTENCY IN MAN OR WOMAN quickly cured by Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is the great remedy for women and children. 128 doses for $1.00. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

REV. E. J. WHITNEY, of Clarkson, N. Y.; says: Gilmore's Wine for Female Weakness stands without a rival. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

WANTED. A case of Female Weakness, General Debility or Nervous Exhaustion that Gilmore's Aromatic Wine will not cure. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MIDDLE AGE MEN who lack vigor and vitality should use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. It gives nutriment to the brain and is a tonic to the physical system. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MRS. I. H. McINTIRE, of Daggetts Mills, Pa., says: "My daughter, aged sixteen, has been declining some time. She used two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. She is now well. I would advise all mothers having girls not to be one day without it. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

LADIES, use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine, it will cure you. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE makes a lady beautiful; because it gives her good, rich blood.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is a positive cure for all those painful complaints so common to all our best female population. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

There are more than 300,000 Italian settlers in South America. The Argentine Republic attracts the larger number. There are over 200,000 in that country. Brazil comes next with over 80,000.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guarantanced. 27eow

With all the strikes and boycotts and lookouts in New York during the past six months, the savings banks of that city report an increase of $8,000,000 in their deposits.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

Mrs. Gen. Grant entertains no company at her Long Branch residence, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Childs, her next door neighbors, excepted.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow Steamers from some of the southern ports bring 60,000 to 70,000 big watermelons per trip. The freightage is 5 cents a melon.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

As a remedy for Pulmonary Affliections and Scrofulous Diseases.

Dr. IRA M. LANG—a prominent physician in New York, says:—I am greatly pleased with your Emulsion. Have found it very serviceable in above diseases, and it is easily administered on account of its palatableness. 11w4

Harriet Beecher Stowe has lived to hear her great fame spoken of as a thing of the far away past.

AT THE SEASIDE.

The nervous, brain-working type of people, such as lawyers, clergymen, business men and students are the principal victims of hay fever. Sufferers may be certain that hay fever does not arise from an impure state of the blood. A local treatment is the only way to cure it. Judging from results, Ely's Cream Balm is the only specific yet discovered. 11w4

Twelve hundred miles of railroads were constructed in Florida during the past four years.

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

Send for Pamphlet on Female Diseases mailed free, securely sealed. Dr. J. B Marchisi, Utica, N. Y. 20tf.

One-half of the children born into the world die before they reach the age of five years.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

The highest building in the world is the spire to St. Peter's church, Rome, 518 feet.

[illegible]

"Now you may put me up a few flasks of whisky."

"Whisky!" replied the astonished clerk; "We don't keep whisky."

"You don't. Why, you have a card in the window which says, 'Complete Fishing Outfit.'"—[Plattsburg Chronicle Telegraph.

THE BURDOCK PLANT is one of the best diuretics of kidney regulators in the vegetable world, and the compound known as Burdock Blood Bitters, is unsurpassed in all diseases of the kidneys, liver and blood.

There are ten millions of people in France who are unable to read and write.

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

ADVERTISERS

can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

SCOTT'S [illegible]

A POWERFUL TONIC

Kaskine Insures Perfect Health.

In Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful."

In St. Francis Hospital, N. Y. "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Dr. L. B. White, U. S. Examining Surgeon, says: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Gleasner, has cured over 200 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says: "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, M. D., says: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

IS THE ONLY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD THAT DESTROYS THE GERMS OF DISEASE IN THE BLOOD, and permanently cures all diseases arising therefrom, such as Malaria, Fevers, Rheumatism, Billiousness, &c., and IS THE GRANDEST TONIC EVER DISCOVERED. Removes nervous prostration and premature decay by disinfecting the blood, so that the starving nerves are supplied with life giving nourishment, bringing back the VIGOR AND POWER OF YOUTH.

Send for the great list of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine.

Price $1 per bottle. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price. Agents wanted everywhere.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., New York.

For Sale by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y.

The country is becoming rich in schools and colleges. Public Opinion of Washington figures out that the distinctively scientific schools number ninety-two; manual schools, 255; medical colleges, 145; institutions for the higher education of women, 236; law schools, fifty-seven. There are 370 universities and colleges in the United States, with 65,522 students in attendance.

Sick and bilious headache, and all derangements of stomach and bowels, cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets"—or anti-bilious granules. 25 cents a vial. No cheap boxes to allow waste of virtues. By druggists.

Last year $92,584,000 was paid by the property owners of the country to the insurance companies. In the five years ending December 31, 1855, the fire premiums amounted to the enormous tax of $413,501,000.

Our readers are cautioned about buying medicines which are not endorsed by some well known druggist. H. C Gisler, has made a thorough study of Blood diseases, and after a careful investigation, and many practical tests, postively asserts that Acker's Blood Elixir will cure all blood disorders, ridding the system of its impurities, and leaving it strong, vigorous and healthy. he will warrent it. It is a certain cure or all skin diseases. 27eow

The Pullman shops at Elmira, where for the past sixteen years palace coaches have been turned out, will soon be vacated and turned over to the owners, the Erie Railway.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Cough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

A person with more sense than religion is generally a rascal, and a person with more religion than sense is generally a fool.—[Rev. Sam Jones.

Woman and Her Diseases.

is the title of an interesting illustrated treaties (160 pages) sent post-paid, for 10 cents in stamps. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

The population of Rhode Island in 1885, according to the census report just completed, was 304,284, of whom 146,393 were males and 157,801 females.

THE VERDICT UNANIMOUS.

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatime of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Bellville, Ohio affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

Cleveland is the first American president to whom Prince Bismark has sent a personal letter and a photograph.

EXCITEMENT IN TEXAS.

Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Tex., by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless he could not turn in bed, or raise his head; everybody said he was dying of Consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery was sent him. Finding relief, he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills; by the time he had taken two bottles of the Discovery, he was well and had gained in flesh thirty-six pounds. Trial Bottles of this Great Discovery for Consumption free at R. E. PHILLIPS.

The Bartholdi statue is booked for completion the latter part of September.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

India has a greater acreage of wheat than the United States.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

Sam Jones says: "I the newspapers made me, let's see 'em duplicate the job." Just as if the newspapers didn't have enough to answer for, as it is.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

[illegible]

DISAPPOINTMENT:

I asked my love to row with me
Upon the moonlit lake;
And far from the shore—where none could see,
I tried a kiss to take.

She promptly boxed my ears, and so
We're on bad terms just now;
I thought we'd have a pleasant row—
Instead, we had a row.
—[Cambridge Chronicle.

A girl baby at Akron O., has her ears on the lower jaw, near the mouth. That is very convenient. She will be able to hear herself talk with less difficulty than under the old arrangement. There are times when nature seems to be improving even upon her own models.—[Boston Post.

City Boarder—What can a fellow do to kill time here? Tell me.

Farmer—Waal, I dunno. How'd yer like to whitewash the chicken house?—[Judge.

When a merchant takes an article of goods worth $4 and marks it at $7.50, he wants to be understood as selling out regardless of cost. It is the purchaser who must regard cost in such cases.—[New Orleans Picayune.

"Oh, papa," said a young gentleman of 5 to his parent who had just taken a vigorous after-dinner nap, "if you gave your nose some soothing syrup, don't you think you could put it to sleep, too?"—[Boston Beacon.

"Do you know the nature of an oath, ma'am?" inquired the judge. "Well, I reckon I orter," was the reply. "My husband drives a canal boat."—[Exchange.

"We want a circus and we want it bad," sighs a western paper. We would suggest that the editor call the owner of the opposition sheet a horse thief.—[Palmer Journal.

A Kentucky man claims to be able to "fill his mouth with water and blow it through his ears." A Kentucky man would rather do most anything with water than to swallow it.—[Ex.

A yacht is a party of young men wearing caps with anchors on them, any kind of a sailboat and several gallons of liquid food. The more liquid food the better the yacht is.—[New Haven News.

Yes, my child; Weddingsday was put immediately after Chooseday on purpose. —[Washington Post.

"Have you traveled much?" asked a picnicker of a Butler county youth at a picnic last week.

"Traveled much!" replied the young fellow; "I should just say I had. Why, I go to Sharpsburg every week with a load o' hay or suthin'."—[Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Modern Proverbs.

As the odor of the rose outlives its beauty, even so with a virtuous couple do the tender feelings of youth outlive the decay of years.

When hunger pinches poverty braves the storm.

It is better to be innocent than to be penitent.

Works, of art, however grand, sink into insignificance when compared with woman, that wonder of creation.

Mules and jackasses are as apt to kick at saints as they are to kick at sinners.

He who lays a claim to true piety ought to be viligant, because the higher the pinnicle the more fatal will be the fall.

It is better to live and die a mouse among mice than a fox in a palace.—[Rev. William Scott Downey.

WILKINS' STAR PROVERBS.

*A fish in the water outweighs two in a boat.

*Plant seeds of idleness if you would raise the devil.

*The "ads" of live merchants are the seeds of fortunes.

*Every time the poetic goddess drops a tear, a poem is born.

*Many bank presidents and cashiers are haunted with Bank-owe's ghost.

*Most people pray as if their neigbor's ear was at the other telephone.

*It is even more creitable to be a live fool than a dead genius.

*Truth is said to be the highest attribute of a man's character, but we think anger is 'ire.

*There are three pinnacles in life: folly, common sense and reflection. Man attains each at twenty, forty and sixty respectively.—[Whitehall Times.

ALMOST KILLED.

I was almost killed by the doctors, who treated me for bleeding piles. It cost me over $100 without relief. I took Sulphur Bitters for two months, and now I am well.—[Gus Hall, Troy, N. Y.

Cud-Chewing People.

Rumination is commonly supposed to be a digestive process peculiar to certain of the lower animals. There are, however, some forty cases on record where this power has been possessed by members of the human species. It usually commences so soon after birth that the affected individual cannot state its commencement, and appears to be present in males almost exclusively. It is in all its steps essentially the same as in the ruminating animals, and, as it mostly occurs in those who are large eaters, it is evidently one of nature's methods to provide for more thorough mastication in those who eat to excess, or do not take the necessary time to masticate their food properly in the first instance. —Science.

A Printer's Error.

Sweet are the uses of adversity, the printer's copy said, but he set it up, [illegible]

[illegible] an affection of the liver, and can be thoroughly cured by the grand regulator of the liver and biliary organs, BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS. Act upon the stomach, bowels and liver, making healthy bile and pure blood, and opens the culverts and sluiceways for the outlet of disease. Sold everywhere and guaranteed to cure.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take BLUE PILLS or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made. Is Your Tongue Coated? [illegible] Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is The Invalid's Friend. [illegible] Try a Bottle To-Day! Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

Golden Medical Discovery

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established. Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ANTICHRIST!

ST. John wrote "Ye have heard that Antichrist shall come." The prophecies on that mysterious subject in the book of Revelation and in Daniel are fully explained in a commentary entitled "CHRIST ON THE THRONE OF POWER AND ANTICHRIST." The old interpretation is followed, except that the vast progress of modern times enables us to see further into prophecy than formerly. Now can be seen signs of the coming of that formidable "Army of 200,000 thousands breathing out of their mouths smoke, fire and brimstone." [illegible] A few more explosions of dynamite like that in Chicago and a further exposure of the hidden depravity of the Anarchists, may enable men to see signs of the speedy coming of "The Man of Sin" to whom John gave the name of Antichrist. It is a book of 267 pages octavo, in large type, sent by mail for $1.25. An Agent Wanted in every Town. Address REV. F. O. BROWN, Rochester, New York.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE

BEST IN THE WORLD. ☞ Get the Genuine. Sold Everywhere.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 981 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ASTHMA CATARRH. Dr. H. W. Reed's Celebrated Asthma and Catarrh Relief, the most effectual and sure cure yet discovered. Samples sent free to all who ask. Fifty cent and dollar boxes sent by mail. A. ETHRIDGE, Proprietor, Rome, N. Y.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure. By JOHN H. MCALVIN, Lowell, Mass., 14 years tax collector. Sent free to any address.

MOTH-WAX

KILLS THE MOTH and the old Moth Miller. Sample cake by mail 6 cents. W. H. H. CHILDS, 13 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

FRENCH'S HOTEL.

CITY HALL SQUARE, NEW YORK, Opposite City Hall and the Post Office.

This Hotel is one of the most complete in its appointments and furniture of ANY HOUSE in New York City and is conducted on the European Plan.

Rooms only One Dollar per day. [illegible]

WRITE TO N. A. MILLER, Elmira, N. Y., [illegible] BUSINESS COLLEGE. [illegible]

2,000 AGENTS WANTED for the NEW WORK. GLADSTONE—PARNELL AND THE GREAT IRISH STRUGGLE. [illegible]

[illegible]

OSWEGO COUNTY COURT APPOINTMENTS.

It is hereby ordered that the terms of the County Court and Court of Sessions of the County of Oswego, be held, and the same are hereby appointed to be held, at the following times and places below stated:

Second Monday of March, Court House, Oswego.

First " " May, " Oswego.

First " " Dec., " [illegible]

Trial jurors are required to attend such terms, but no Grand Jury is required to attend. Dated at Mexico, Oswego Co., N. Y., July 28, 1886.

M. L. WRIGHT, Oswego County Judge.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Caroline L. Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present the same, with the vouchers thereof to the subscriber, at the residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 1st day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided. Dated May 13th, 1886.

CAROLINE L. ALFRED, Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against P. H. VanWagenen, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the office of F. D. VanWagenen, No. 10, First St., Fulton, N. Y., in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 18th day of August, 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided. Dated Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1886.

ANN VANWAGENEN, Executrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such cases made and provided. Dated June 2, 1886.

LUCY K. HUBBARD, Executrix.

FORECLOSURE SALE.

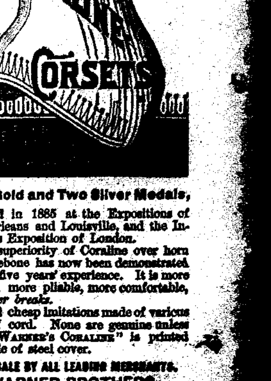
SUPREME COURT—OSWEGO COUNTY.—The Fulton Savings Bank vs. Letson LaDu and others. By virtue of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action at a Special Term of the Supreme Court, held at the Court House, in the city of Syracuse, Onondaga County, N. Y., on the 5th day of June, 1886, and duly filed and entered in the clerk's office of Oswego county on the 10th day of June, 1886, I the undersigned Referee duly appointed in and by said judgment and decree to make such sale will sell at public auction to the highest bidder at the law office of Piper & VanWagenen, in the village of Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y., on the 4th day of Sept., 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day the mortgaged premises in and by said judgment and decree directed to be sold and described therein as follows, to wit: [illegible]

Dated July 20, 1886.

N. N. STRANAHAN, Referee.

PIPER & VANWAGENEN, Attys for Plff, Fulton, N. Y.

WARNER BRO'S CELEBRATED CORALINE CORSETS



Five Gold and Two Silver Medals, awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.

The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks.

Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "DR. WARNER'S CORALINE" is printed on inside of steel cover.

FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING MERCHANTS.

WARNER BROTHERS, 353 Broadway, New York City.

CATARRH Ely's Cream Balm HAY FEVER is attended by an inflamed condition of the lining membrane of the nostrils, tear-ducts and throat, [illegible]

Cream Balm can be depended upon to give relief at once and cure. A particle is applied into each nostril; [illegible] by mail, registered, [illegible]

FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST [illegible]
VOLUME 19—NUMBER [illegible]
Single Copies Three Cents.

[illegible]
In vain he [illegible] hands
Where the [illegible]
His [illegible]
And walls, and walls, and walls.

The watermelon, so hard and green,
Its deadly work begins,
The doctor sees, with smile serene,
And grins, and grins, and grins.
The tramping peddler, with monstrous pack
Of threads, and needles, and pins,
In the farm house yard reels off his clack,
And chins, and chins, and chins.

The rosy cook, when day doth break
Besoaks the coffee grounds,
With iron maul the good beefsteak
She pounds, and pounds, and pounds.
The poet, 'neath the harvest moon,
New themes for lyrics finds,
The rhyming mill he twists in tune,
And grinds, and grinds, and grinds.
—[Burdette in Brooklyn Eagle.

Mule of Texas.

Mule of Texas, 'ere we part,
Tell me why you will not start,
Or if really you must balk,
Pray excuse my wicked talk.
Here my vow before I go;
I'll be even with you, 'tho'.

By the long tail unconfined,
Wooed by every passing wind,
By those heels, so wondrous swift,
Which can men o'er tree tops lift,
By those ears that droop so low,
I'll be even with you, tho'.

By those ribs I long to baste,
By the show of durn bad taste,
By thy melancholy bray,
That alarms folks miles away,
By the stern resolve to whoa,
I'll be even with you, tho'.

Mule of Texas, I am gone,
Think of me sweet, when alone,
For I fly to get a club,
Then you blamed old back I'll drub,
If I can not make thee go,
I'll be even with you, tho'.—[Exchange.

Disenchantment:

He took her down to the beach with him
On a sultry summer day,
And he much admired her rounded form
In its fashionable array.

He asked her to go in bathing,
She complied with his request;
But when came out of the bath house
In her bathing costume dressed,

He gazed on her lean, lank figure,
Exclaiming What's this I see?
This surely is not the maiden
That came down in the boat with me!
—[Boston Record.

A little green apple hung up in a tree,
Singing "Johnnie, come Johnnie, come Johnnie!"
And it was as modest as modest could be,
Singing "Johnnie, come Johnnie, come Johnnie!"
And Johnnie he came, in his sweet childish way,
And eat up that fruit as his own lawful prey—
The angels in heaven are singing to-day—
"Here's Johnnie! Here's Johnnie! Here's Johnnie!" —[Washington Critic.

A WONDERFUL STORY.

IN the half-forgotten book, "The Marvelous Country; or Three Years in Arizona," by S. W. Coggens, the author mentions an old Zuni Indian who spoke of the intrepidity and courage shown by the Zunis in resisting the attacks of the Spaniards as well as of the Apaches and Navajoes; until, warming with the subject, he insisted upon accompanying and showing the very spot where the attack had been made by Coronado's army, and which had so nearly proved fatal to that great chief.

The author goes on:

"The old man seemed so anxious that we should once more visit the site of old Zuni, and in his company, that the doctor and myself, nothing loath to again witness its beauties, accepted the invitation, only requiring that the visit should be paid during the afternoon, as on the morrow we had determined to start for the Rio Grande.

It was late in the afternoon when we started, in company with the cacique, to view the place which 320 years before a little handful of Spaniards had so gallantly assaulted and carried by storm—the ancient city of Cibola, where, as the cacique informed us, the Zunis had won a name for themselves that would never be forgotten.

Passing the "Sacred Spring" and down through the narrow rocky gorge at the foot of the mesa, we commenced to climb the steep and rugged path that led to the height above us.

We made our first halt upon a terrace, or ledge, about 250 feet above the plain. Around the outer edge of this terrace formerly had been constructed a wall of rock, traces of which were plainly discernable, and must have afforded complete protection against any assaulting party, so perfectly did it command the only means of approach. Indeed, it seemed to us that a dozen men might have successfully held it against a thousand.

Standing upon the narrow ledge, scarcely ten feet in width, the old man depicted in glowing terms the contest, and told us how they had hurled great rocks from the wall upon the heads of the invaders of their homes; how the great chief himself had been felled to the earth by one of them, and of blood flowing like water.

Indeed, the old man seemed never to tire of the subject; and as we slowly made our way up the difficult path, listening to the [illegible] and impressive [illegible] regarding the valor of his ancestors, I could but sympathize with him when he said, "The Zunis were a [illegible]

[illegible] they had been pained. Montezuma no longer regarded them with his former love; they had made his heart cold toward them; but the Great Spirit would again kindle the flame in his heart. It must be a punishment that he had sent upon them, because they, his children, had permitted the sacred flame to burn dimly that he had kindled with his own hands upon the altar of the estufas; but they relied upon the promise he had made them, that he would one day return and lead them again as of old—for was not Montezuma the very embodiment of truth?"

In this garrulous, simple manner the old man entertained us as we toiled up the steep, precipitious sides of the mesa, enchaining our attention so completely, that we gave heed to but little else, and had actually ascended the highest of the three terraces before I was aware that we were standing upon a narrow shelf scarcely twelve inches in width, although 800 feet above the plain.

When I at length realized the fact, I was indeed startled at the novel and perilous situation in which we found ourselves; nor were my fears in the least allayed by noticing the nervous and excited manner with which Don Rafael, who seemed ever on the alert for our safety, called our attention to the fast growing darkness, as he urged upon us to at once commence the descent.

Upon our left was a huge wall of rock and earth, towering nearly 300 feet above our heads, and apparently so smooth as not to afford footing for a living creature, while upon our right for nearly 800 feet below was empty space.

The dizzy heights at which we stood, the narrow path before us, the vast abyss below, the growing darkness, the danger of the descent, all seemed to have been forgotten in the desire to hear the old man, who still kept on in his low monotone, utterly oblivious of everything save the Zunis and their history; when, carelessly stepping upon a small stone which rolled under my foot, before I could possibly recover myself, I was precipitated over the bluff, and in a moment found myself sliding down its almost perpendicular side, feet foremost.

In the twinkling of an eye I was far beyond the reach of my companions' who, upon hearing the noise made by my fall, turned towards me and stood aghast, but powerless to aid me. My first thought was that I should be dashed to pieces upon the rocks at the foot of the bluff; the next that I might possibly manage to save myself upon one of the terraces beneath.

All this time I was acquiring greater momentum, until it seemed as though I was fairly flying into the very arms of the horrible death which stood staring me so steadily in the face. Not a bush or shrub could I see growing upon the precipitous sides; there was nothing, for me to cling to, and the stones and earth which I disturbed in my descent were falling in a shower around me.

Convinced that death was inevitable, I became perfectly reconciled to the thought. My mind comprehended in a moment the acts of a lifetime. Transactions of a most trivial character, circumstances the remembrance of which had been buried deep in memory's vault for years, stood before me in bold relief; my mind recalled with the rapidity of lightning, and yet retained a distinct impression of every thought.

I seemed to be gliding swiftly and surely out of the world, but felt no fear, experienced no regret at the thought; on the contrary rejoiced that I was so soon to see with my own eyes the great mystery concealed behind the veil; that I was to cross the deep waters and be at rest.

I thought I heard the sound of many voices, in wonderful harmony, coming fresh from the far-off distance, though from what direction I could not tell.

My momentum had become so great that I seemed to experience much difficulty in breathing; and I remember that I was trying to explain to my own satisfaction why this should be so, when the heel of my right boot struck the corner of a small stone that chanced to be firmly imbedded in the earth, and therefore offered so much resistance to my descent that upon striking it I was thrown forward upon my face. The stone without doubt saved my life.

I have a clear recollection that, as I was thrown forward, I instinctively threw my arms out, whether to act as a protection to my face, or to enable me to grasp something, I do not know; but one of my hands struck against the sharp edge of something, and I grasped it and clung to it with a tenacity that a dying man only can understand.

I have always, since that day, understood perfectly the feeling that induces a drowning man to catch at a straw that he sees floating near him.

How it was that I succeeded in grasping it, or holding it, or managing to make it afford me a kind of support, I have no idea.

I remember of thinking that I had stopped; of being aware that I was bleeding badly; of wondering if I was dead, and why such an eternity of time had elapsed since my foot had slipped; and then darkness closed around me.

I was aroused by a sharp pain in my left arm, and opening my eyes saw two or three persons standing around me whom I did not recognize, though I realized the fact that I was not dead. [illegible]

[illegible] blankets, with I [illegible] a broken arm, and was pretty well convinced by the feeling of my body that I had not a bone in it that was not in some manner injured. The doctor was sitting a short distance from me complacently smoking his pipe in the bright light of the camp fire.

I said to him: "Well, old fellow; you seem to be taking it easy."

He replied: "Yes; and if you knew when you're well off, you'll do the same thing. Go to sleep again, and in the morning you shall know all about it."

Reader I obeyed orders, because I could'nt help it. I went to sleep.

* * * * * * *

"How's your arm this morning, and how do you feel?"

"Sore! Tell me about it, doctor."

"Tell you about it? I wish I could. The first thing we knew of your mishap, we saw you going down the face of the bluff on your back, at a rate of speed that would have put to shame old Pegasus himself, without even the compliment of notifying us of your intended trip. It was some seconds before I comprehended the situation, and even then we could neither of us do anything, and certainly never expected to see you alive again."

"We listened, and heard you call from away down below that you were 'all right,' and then Don Rafael started off like the wind, and almost before the old cacique or I had time to collect our senses, and think how we could render you any assistance, he was back with half a dozen Zunis and some lariats. I declare I don't think he was gone five minutes. When you think of the distance he was obliged to travel to the pueblo and back, it seems incredible that he could have gotten over the ground in such a short space of time."

"They went to the terrace above you, and Don Rafael and one of the Zunis were lowered to the spot where you lay, attached the ropes around your body, and you were then hoisted, more dead than alive, to the ledge where the Zunis stood, after which you were carried upon their shoulders to the plain below. We laid you upon the grass, and I made an examination to ascertain the extent of your injuries, and greatly to my satisfaction and delight found that your only serious injury was a broken arm. It was really a most wonderful escape; the thing couldn't be done once in 10,000 times; for, with the exception of your broken arm, which isn't a bad fracture by any means, and some pretty rough, old bruises, you are quite unharmed. A few days will set you all right again. I only wish I had some arnica for you."

So ends the narrative, concerning which the author adds in his comments: "If you doubt me, try it yourself!" Sensible people will avoid risky experiments on holiday occasions. A good outing need not become a source of special danger. The wild spots of nature should always be approached with caution. Above all—those who come limp from city life should not make any rash attempt to perform feats which demand the steady nerve and sure foot of a trained mountaineer.

Advice to a Young Man.

Don't worry, my son, don't worry. Don't worry about something that you think may happen to-morrow, because you may die to-night, and to-morrow will find you beyond the reach of worry. Don't worry over a thing that happened yesterday, because yesterday is a hundred miles away. If you don't believe it, just try to reach after it and bring it back. Don't worry about anything that is happening to-day, because to-day will only last 15 or 20 minutes. If you don't believe it, tell your creditors you'll settle in full with them at sunset. Don't worry about things you can't help, because there's no need to worry. Don't worry at all. If you want to be penitent now and then, it won't hurt you a little. It will do you good. If you want to cry a little once in a long time, that isn't a bad thing. If you feel like going out and clubbing yourself occasionally, I think you need it and will lend you a helping hand at it, and put a plaster on you afterward. All these things will do you good. But worry, worry, worry, fret, fret, fret, why, there's neither sorrow, penitence, strength, penance, reformation, hope nor resolution in it. Its just worry.—[Burdette.

Nonsense About Boys.

A reverend Bishop in Calafornia is disgusted at what he styles the loose way in which children are brought up nowadays. He would like to return to the "spare the rod and spoil the child" theory, and complains that "a man can no longer correct his child without being reported. Society interferes."

Well, that depends. If by "correcting his child" the good bishop means that the parent has no longer the right to nail his ears to a lamp post, or to thrash him until the birch forest gives out, or to snap a coach whip at his legs in order to teach him to honor his parents that his days may be long—why, there is a certain amount of objection among decent folk, it must be confessed. It is sheer nonsense, however, to assert that boys are not just as good as they ever were. They always were wild animals—that is, the best of them were; but when they get into the harness they do better work than ever was done since Noah stepped out of the ark on to dry land. It's bad form to grumble because the law will not allow you to beat your children over the head with a chair.—[N. Y. Herald.

Carter's Little Liver Pills [illegible]

[illegible]

Official returns show that about 3,000,000 enlisted during the late war in response to the successive calls of President Lincoln, and that of this number 186,097 were colored troops.

New York furnished 467,047 men.
Pennsylvania furnished 366,107 men.
Ohio furnished 312,659 men.
Illinois furnished 259,147 men.
Indiana furnished 197,147 men.
Massachusetts furnished 169,111 men.

These figures do not include men who enlisted for a shorter period than ninety days, and estimating on the basis of 17,218, it is fair to estimate that the aggregate of troops furnished by the States for the Union Armies was at least 3,000,000.

Additional reports show that the Northern and Southern armies met in over 2,000 skirmishes and battles. In 148 of these conflicts the loss on the Federal side was over 500 men, and in at least 10 battles 10,000 were reported lost on each side. The appended table shows that the combined losses of the Federal and Confederate forces in killed, wounded and missing were:—Shiloh, 24,000; Antietam, 38,000; Stone River, 27,000; Chancellorsville, 28,000; Gettysburg, 54,000; Chickamauga, 33,000; McClellan's Peninsula campaign, 50,000; Grant's Peninsula campaign, 180,000; and Sherman's campaign, 125,000.

Official statistics show that of the 3,000,000 men enlisted there were:

Killed in battle	44,238
Died of wounds	49,205
Died of disease	186,216
Died of unknown causes	24,184
Total	303,843

This includes only those whose death while in the army had been actually proven. To this number should be added, first 26,000 men who were known to have died while in the hands of the enemy as prisoners of war, and many others in the same way whose deaths are to-day unrecorded; second; a fair percentage of the 205,794 men who are put down on the official reports as deserters and missing in action, for those who participated in the war know that men frequently disappeared who it is certain had not deserted, yet could not be otherwise officially accounted for; third, thousands who are buried in private cemeteries all over the north, who died while home on furloughs.

A recent report [illegible] that the nation's dead are [illegible] National cemeteries, of which [illegible] in the northern states. Among [illegible] principal ones in the north are Cypress Hill with its 3,786 dead; Finn's Point, N. J., which contains the remains of 2,644 unknown dead; Gettysburg Pa. with its 1,967 known and 1,608 unknown dead; Mound City, Ill., with 2,505 known and 2,721 unknown graves; Philadelphia with its 1,909 dead, and Woodlawn, Elmira, N. Y., with its 3,090 dead. In the south near the scenes of terrible conflict, are located the largest repositories of the nation's heroic dead:

Arlington, Va., 16,264, of which 4,349 are unknown.

Beaufort, S. C., 8,241, of which 4,493 are unknown,

Chalmette, La., 12,511, of which 5,674 are unknown.

Chattanooga, Tenn., 12,962, of which 4,963 are unknown.

Fredericksburg, Va., 15,257, of which 12,770 are unknown.

Jefferson Barracks, Mo., 11,490, of which 2,906 are unknown.

Little Rock, Ark., 5,802, of which 2,337 are unknown.

City Point, Va., 5,122 of which 1,374 are unknown.

Marietta, Ga., 10,151, of which 2,962 are unknown.

Memphis, Tenn., 13,997, of which 8,817 are unknown.

Nashville, Tenn., 16,526, of which 4,701 are unknown.

Poplar Grove, Va., 6,199, of which 4,001 are unknown.

Richmond, Va., 6,542, of which 5,570 are unknown.

Salisbury, N. C., 12,126 of which 12,032 are unknown.

Stone River, Tenn., 5,602, of which 288 are unknown.

Vicksburg, Miss., 16,600, of which 12,704 are unknown.

Antietam, Va, 4,671, of which 1,818 are unknown.

Winchester, Va., 4,559, of which 2,365 are unknown.

In all, the remains of 300,000 men who fought for the stars and stripes find guarded graves in our national cemeteries. Two cemeteries are mainly devoted to brave men who perished in the loathsome prisons of the same name—Andersonville, Ga., which contains 13,714 graves, and Salisbury with its 12,126 dead, of whom 12,032 are unknown.

Of the vast number who are interred in our national cemeteries, 275,000 sleep beneath the soil of the Southern States, and 145,000 rest in graves marked unknown.—[Baldwinsville Gazette.

Kiss Me Too.

But, if there was diplomacy and presence of mind shown in this answer, how much more was there in the case of the young lady who sat in an alcove at an evening party with a bright, young military man, her little niece on her knee to play propriety. Suddenly the company is electrified by the exclamation of the child:

"Kiss me, too, Aunt Alice!"

But the sudden shock is [illegible] by a feeling of relief as Aunt Alice [illegible] replies:

"[illegible] say 'Kiss me, too,' [illegible]"

Hypocrites.

So far as our own observation is a guide, we are driven to the conclusion [illegible] the hypocrite of fiction is a person who appears in fiction and nowhere else. To deny that there ever existed such a person as Joseph Surface or Mr. Pecksniff would be injudicious, for the simple reason that we are not acquainted with all the people who have existed, and it is difficult to set a limit either to the moral or physical freaks of nature; but it is by no means difficult to prove that such a character is as truly abnormal as the Siamese twins or the "two-headed nightingale." Of course, it can neither be reasonably denied that there is such a vice as hypocrisy, nor affirmed that its manifestations are particularly rare. Hypocrisy is, indeed, unpleasantly common, but it is a very different, a much less amusing and a much more dangerous quality than the counterfeit presentment which stands as its substitute on the boards of the stage and in the pages of the novel. The one distinguished peculiarity of the hypocrite of fiction is that he is a conscious and deliberate humbug. He does not believe in his own professions of religion and philanthropy, but adopts them, as the peripatetic card-sharper adopts his innocent expression, in order to deceive and swindle his neighbors. It is clear that if this be the ordinary type of hypocrisy the successful hypocrite must be a singularly clever person. He must possess to a high degree a number of qualities which, while singly more or less rare, are in combination hardly to be found anywhere. He must have insight into character, that he may gauge the gullibility of each victim; he must have wonderful tact to keep him from mistakes as to the best method of approach; he must, for reasons too obvious to particularize, have a fine historical gift; and he must, moreover, possess sufficient sympathy with true religious emotion or lofty impulse, to imitate its manifestations with some decent approach to verisimilitude. A man of this kind would have so many resources that he would be extremely unlikely to tie himself down to the very troublesome plan of making his way by affecting to hold convictions with which he had no sympathy, and conditioning his life by altogether distasteful limitations. The villain in a transpontine melodrama, who is generally as much of a fool as a knave, every now and then exclaims, "I must dissemble;" but if a clever man were to set himself to dissemble through every hour of his life he would soon come to the conclusion that the game was not worth the candle.—[Longman's Magazine.

Palpitation of the heart, nervousness, tremblings, nervous headache, cold hands and feet, pain in the back, and other forms of weakness are relieved by Carter's Iron Pills, made specially for the blood, nerves and complexion.

A Prospective Case.

President Van Buren's son, familiarly known as Prince John, was a man of great natural ability, a good lawyer and a ready wit. On one occasion he had taken some technical legal advantage by which his opponent's client was nonsuited. The man was furious; he declared his purpose to give John a piece of his mind when he saw him. Happening to see John one day at Downing's, standing at the bar, he boldly confronted the prince, and, being a small man looked up at him fiercely and burst out: "Mr. Van Buren, is there any client so low and mean, or any case so nasty, that you won't undertake to defend him in it?" "I don't know," said John, stopping to put away another oyster, then bending down and confidentially drawing out his reply in the little man's ear: "What have you been doing?"—Ben. Perley Poore.

Carter's Little Liver Pills will positively cure sick headache and prevent its return. This is not talk, but truth. One pill a dose. To be had of all Druggists. See advertisement.

A Home Product.

Podgeson—What will you give me for this Roman coin? I brought it from Rome.

Dealer—That's worth about twenty-five cents.

Podgeson—Twenty-five cents! why, I paid fifty for it.

Dealer—That may be. They have to pay duty on them over there. Ours come directly from the factory in New Jersey.—[Chicago Rambler.

It Needs Something Fresh.

Applicant—Do you want an assistant editor? Editor-in-chief—What experience have you had? None whatever, sir. Humph! It strikes me that you are exceedingly fresh. That's just what induced me to apply. There ought to be something fresh about your paper you know.—[Exchange.

It requires 110 cattle and 550 sheep, aggregating about 70,000 pounds of beef and 35,000 pounds of mutton per week, to feed the denizens of Salt Lake City, besides the fish and game consumed.

BRACE UP.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with headache, you are fidgety, [illegible]

Henry M. Stanley, the African explorer, [illegible] United States and American institutions. He especially hates the press, and rails at it in a manner to bring blushes to the cheek of a native African. He is laboring under the delusion that the journals of this country have treated him unkindly.

"Over and Over Again."

Repetition is sometimes the only way to impress a truth upon the mind. Accordingly take notice that Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative pellets," (the original Little Liver Pills) continue to be wonderfully effective in cases of sick and nervous headache, constipation, indigestion, rush of blood to the head, cold extremities, and all ailments arising from obstruction of the bodily functions. Their action is thorough yet gentle, and the ingredients being entirely vegetable they can be taken with impunity into the most delicate stomach. All druggists.

The University of Virginia is said to have more alumni in the present Congress than any other institution of learning in the country.

A green turtle can live six weeks without food.

There are now 450,000 names on the pension rolls.

The highest monument in the world to-day is the Washington monument.

There are about 30,000 Chinamen in San Francisco, about 1,000 of whom are women.

The best portrait of Mr. Tilden is an oil painting owned by W. O. McDowell of Newark, N. J.

TWENTY YEARS A SUFFERRE.

Jordan, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—I have been afflicted with Rheumatism for the past twenty years, and have been laid up with it regularly for the past ten years. A short time ago I was confined to my bed with it, and sent for a bottle of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and when I had used the first bottle, went after the second bottle myself. I have tried so many good things, with no good results, that I can recommend this, in the highest terms, as I believe your remedy is the best in existence.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. MARY DOCKSTADER,
Farmer's Hotel.

Black Rock, N. Y.

DEAR SIRS:—This is to certify that I have been afflicted with rheumatism and Neuralgia for the past twenty-five year and at times so bad that I was not expected to live. I have used Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and have never used anything in all my experience that has helped me so much. I can recommend it to all afflicted with the above disease.

MRS. MARY MAGUIRE,
1437 Niagara Street.

Syracuse, N.Y.

GENTS:—For the past five months I have been troubled with Rheumatism, at times very badly. I procured some of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy of your agent, and in a few days was entirely free from all pain, and continuing its use for several weeks I am entirely cured and take pleasure in recommending it to all who are troubled with Rheumatism or general debility.

Yours truly,
MRS. E. S. HINKLEY,
203 East Genesee St.

Ask your druggist for Dr. Pardee's Remedy, and take no other. Price, $1 per bottle; six bottles, $5.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

Kaskaskia was once the capital of Illinois, with a population of 7,000. Now it has 150 inhabitants.

Mme. Minnie Hauk, even in far-off Switzerland, keeps the stars and stripes floating from her castle.

Mark Twain is a base ball enthusiast, and contributes liberally to the support of the local nine in Hartford.

ROYAL
ROYAL POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
[illegible] Royal Baking Powder Co., 106 Wall St.

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF
Ladies' Kid Button Shoes
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing
and Cheapest Shoe
[illegible]

Just Received at the
New Pallas Drug Store
A full line of Harrison Bro. & Co's
READY MIXED PAINTS.
They are noted the world over for durability, ease of application, and firmness of finish. Call and examine them. Select what you need and carry them off at a price that will astonish you. I keep over sixty shades of colors, varying from the tint of a LADIES CHEEK to the appropriate color for a HORSE BARN.
I have further "elevated the standing of the Oswego County drug trade," by adding to my regular line of Fine Drugs
—AND—
MEDICINES,
a beautiful modern
--SODA FOUNTAIN,--
At a cost of $2,000.00. Put on your spectacles and step in and test it for yourselves.
Remember the spot, day and date.
☞ The New Drug Store. ☜
H. C. GIESLER.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
☞ Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

Scranton Coal!
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,
Promptly Delivered!
At the Following Prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

LUMBER! LUMBER!
I have the Largest Assortment of
Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER
In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE
SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c,
Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere
Q. RUST.
37tf

HART BROS.,
—DEALERS IN—
Vitrified Glazed Stone Ware
—AND—
PORTLAND CEMENT SEWER PIPE
—AND—
DRAIN TILE,
With all necessary Fittings and connections.
FIRE BRICK, CLAY AND SAND.
Stone Ware, and Cement,
Chimneys and Tops.
Fire Bricks of desired shapes, furnished on application.
STONEWARE WATER FILTERS A SPECIALTY.
Also Agents for Stewart's Ready Roofing.

[illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS. Fine Job Printers, [illegible] Street, over [illegible] book store. [illegible] of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding [illegible] Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, [illegible] etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

[illegible] Repairs all kinds of [illegible] machines and organs; also agent for the [illegible] the Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at [illegible] No. 1 First Street.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE,
OSWEGO, N. Y.
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts.
Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious Sample Rooms.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
CURE
Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing
SICK
Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured
HEAD
Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head
ACHE
Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.
Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.
CARTER MEDICINE CO.,
New York City.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.
Prices Below all Competition
On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.
IN DYE STUFFS
I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at
R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.
A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.
No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.
Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods—and prices below all Competition.
48tf R. E. PHILLIPS.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞ Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.
☞ Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

INSURANCE SOLICITORS
Now working Fire, Life, Industrial or Accident Insurance, and other solicitors who [illegible] better themselves [illegible] ments with N. Y. State Relief Association [illegible] commission and interest in [illegible] asked for satisfactory work. [illegible] ALLANSON, Sec'y, 44 State Street, [illegible]

WANTED—LADY Active and [illegible] to represent in her locality an old firm. [illegible] permanent position and good salary. GAY & [illegible]

JUST THE THING!
CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING [illegible]
[illegible]

[illegible] & Chicago [illegible]

[illegible] accompanied by [illegible] Northern New York. [illegible] be sent or received by him [illegible].

[illegible] W. Tourgee, the well known [illegible], delivered the opening address of [illegible] meetings of the educational conference at Thousand Island Park, last [illegible] evening. His subject was "The [illegible] of Christian Civilization to [illegible] American Negro.".

The New York World claims for its circulation last Sunday 251,960 copies and further states that it represents a strip of white paper, the width of one of the World's pages, two thousand miles long, and that it would reach from New York city to the Rocky mountains.

Free Methodist Camp Meeting.

The Free Methodist camp meeting which opened at Wilber's grove in this village last Wednesday is largely attended. There are forty tents arranged in a semicircle around the large one in which the meetings are held. The following exhorters are present and conduct the services: Rev. Mr. Winget, of Rose, Rev. M. Curry, and Rev. Mr. Jones, of Philadelphia, Rev. Mr. Hudson, of Oswego, Rev. Mr. Fitch, of Middlescribe, Rev. Mr. Fuller, Rev. O. M. Owen, Rev. M. D. McDougal and Rev. Mr. Smith, the blind preacher.

There is preaching every day at 10:30 a. m., 2:30 and 7:45 p. m. Love feast or class meeting at 9 a. m. and children's meeting at 1:30 p. m. On Sunday crowds were to be seen from morning till night going to and from the camp grounds. The meetings have been full of enthusiasm and many new converts are reported. They will continue for the remainder of the week.

Fall Fairs

The following is the list of the time and places in which some of the fairs are to be held this fall:

Antwerp society, August 25-27; Sandy Creek, September 1-3; Oxford, September 1-3; Fulton county at Johnstown, September 7-9; Carthage, September 7-9; Herkimer, September 14-16; Camden, September, 14-16; Cortland, September 14-16; Greene, September 14-16 Edmeston and Burlington, September 15-17; Jefferson county at Watertown, September 14-17; Phœnix Union, September 15-17; Trenton, September 15-17; Oneida county at Rome, September 20-24; Oswego Falls, September 21-23; Brookfield, September 21-23; State fair at Utica, September 22-29; Annsville and Lee, September 30 and October 1-2; Richfield Springs, September 27-29; Sangerfield and Marshall, September 29 October 1; Butternut Valley at Morris October 5-7; Oswegatchie at Ogdensburg, September 8-10.

The Hop Crop.

According to the correspondents of Bradstreet's, the hop-growing district of Central New York which last year produced 168,100 bales of hops will yield only 20,200 bales this year. The Canadian crop is almost as bad a failure. The crop on the Pacific slope is estimated at from 40,000 to 45,000 bales. Reports from England are very satisfactory while German vines are very badly damaged by lice and blight. The crop in Germany is estimated at one-half the crop of last year. England will grow nearly enough for home consumption and depends on Germany for 75,000 bales. In America there are from 100,000 to 140,000 bales of poor quality hops on hand. This year's crop will prevent a hop famine, but a better quality is desirable and it is to Germany that dealers must look. The prospect is not encouraging for anybody but the speculators.

Annual School Meeting.

The annual school meeting of the taxable inhabitants of Union Free School District No. 2, in the town of Volney, for the purpose of voting taxes and the transaction of any other appropriate business, will be held at the Fourth St. school house in said district, at 7 p. m., Tuesday, August 31, 1886.

The Annual Election in said district will be held at the above named place on Wednesday, Sepaember 1, 1886. Polls open at 12 o'clock, noon, and close at 3 o'clock p. m.—Dated Fulton, N. Y., August 3, 1886.

AMOS YOUMANS,
1512 District Clerk.

Saturday's Foot Race.

Between two and three hundred persons assembled at the Oswego Falls fair ground last Saturday afternoon to witness the foot race between Ed. Wilson of Oswego Falls and Sidney Clark of Buffalo, for $100 a side. After much delay the first, and what proved to be the last heat, was run about 4 o'clock. Clark, who is a trained runner, won with ease and Wilson, who was suffering from a sprained ankle, declined to run another heat. The money was given to Clark. In the ¼ mile race, two started, Johnson and Bailey. Johnson won easily in about 2 minutes and 25 seconds.

Zion Church Picnic.

There will be an excursion and basket picnic of the Parish at Three River Point, on Saturday, Aug. 21. Tickets will be for sale at Watson's drug store in Fulton, and at Mr. North's in Oswego Falls. Tickets for the round trip, adults, 25cts. and children under 12 years 15cts. Children of the Sunday school and teachers are asked to meet at the Broadway depot [illegible]. Tickets will be good on any of the regular trains, having [illegible] at 9:24 and 11:24 a. m. and 3:19 [illegible] returning leave Three River Point [illegible], 2:21 and 5:06 p. m.

[illegible] Catholic Mutual Benefit Association held a three days' session last week in Utica. The convention was the largest ever held in this state by that Order.

By a collision on the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg railroad at Watertown Friday Ira Van Coughnet was fatally injured.

The annual picnic of the farmers of Clay, Lysander and VanBuren will be held at Long Branch, Friday next. The meeting will be addressed by Hon. Frank Hiscock and others.

The Syracuse, Binghamton and New York Company's report shows:—Gross earnings, $195,500.57, and net income, $31,148.06. The same quarter last year, gross $171,862.08, and net 22,132.44.

A claim of $25,000 has been presented to the receiver of the Remington Manufacturing Company, of Ilion, by Mrs. Elizabeth A. Crawford of Cazenovia. The claim is for royalty on 5,000 mowing machines manufactured by the company.

In New York the grand jury dismissed the case of Col. William H. Gilder, the artic explorer, who was charged by Dolly Adams with taking a $1,000 bond from her. The complainant withdrew her charge.

The entries to the State fair, which is to commence at Utica Sept. 23d, will close next Tuesday. In addition to the special prizes of gold, silver and bronze medals, certificates, etc., there are upwards of $11,000 of prizes in money for more than 541 premiums.

The dairymen's picnic will occur next Friday at Sylvan Beach. Invitations have been extended to Hon. Warner Miller, Dairy Commissioner Brown and others to be present and address the assemblage. Several bands of music have also been engaged.

A disastrous storm of thunder and lightning struck Jefferson county last Friday night. Six barns in different parts of the county were struck by lightning and burned. The loss cannot be estimated, but it will reach nearly $50,000.

The New York Sunday newspaper train on Sunday August 8, made the fastest time on record between Syracuse and Buffalo. The entire distance 149 miles was made in 139 minutes, which is said to be the fastest locomotive record ever made.

Patrick Duane, aged 30, a member of Company I, Twelfth Regiment, U. S. Regulars, stationed at Sackett's Harbor, was drowned Friday afternoon. He went in bathing while intoxicated, and though a good swimmer was incapable of keeping himself afloat.

Millions of grasshoppers have made their appearance in the Wilcox neighborhood, about three miles north of Oneida, in the town of Verona, says the Union. They are devouring all the standing grain and vegetables, leaving the land barren and desolate. The hoppers completely cover the ground and fences, and the roads are full of them. The damage will be considerable.

Lewis T. Miller, who on August 5th was committed from Lysander for assault and battery, attempted to commit suicide at the Onondaga county penitentiary last Friday by cutting his throat with a shoemaker's knife. Miller is about 35 years of age and has suffered from melancholia since his incarnation. He is in a fair way of recovery.

Frank McCauley has been missing from Watertown since July 3 On that day he prepared to go to work, and left the house, it was supposed, for that purpose, but he has not been seen nor heard from since. He has a wife and two children who have been cared for by relatives since his absence. About two weeks ago the oldest child, a girl of four years, fell from a hammock, striking upon her head and receiving injuries from which she died. In her last hours she was calling for her missing father. McCauley is about 29 years old.

COUNTY NEWS.

D. D. Briggs has leased the store at Minetto formerly occupied by D. S. Mead.

The dwelling house of Edward Sykes, near North Volney was burned, with most of its contents last Wednesday night.

George H. Potter and Louis P. Marsden of Cleveland, this county, have bought of Clark, Hinds & Co. the American Class Works at Bernherd's Bay. Twenty-four dwellings and a large number of factory buildings change hands by the transaction.

Riley Teachout of Hannibal has brought an action for divorce, against his wife, Henrietta Teachout.

Mrs. Orville Adkins and daughter of Hannibal were thrown from their carriage last Wednesday by their horse becoming frightened. Mrs. Adkins' shoulder was dislocated by the fall.

The G. A. R. post of Central Square had their annual picnic at Long Branch yesterday.

R. D. Latham represents the Golden Rule lodge of Phœnix at the Odd Fellows grand lodge of the State, which meets at Saratoga this week.

The annual picnic of Golden Rule lodge I. O. O. F., of Phœnix is being held at Long Branch to-day.

Prof. Robb, the new principal of Phœnix academy, has arrived in Phœnix with his family.

The Old Settlers of Oswego town will hold their annual re-union at agricultural hall in that town next Wednesday.

Orsamus Daniels, a spiritualist, well known in this vicinity, died at his home in Mexico, last week Monday.

Presiding Elder [illegible], preaches at the Methodist church, [illegible] Bay [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] the failure of the [illegible] summer [illegible].

Washington [illegible] Fairchild should remain at the head of the Treasury Department, and [illegible] tary Manning should [illegible] two more ten million dollar calls may be reasonably expected before the November elections.

Rev. Dr. George Charles Halls, one of the most prominent Lutheran clergymen of the country is dead.

The Texas Democrats have nominated General L. C. Ross for Governor.

Christine Nillson was married last Friday to Count De Casa Miranda of Spain. The marriage was private.

It is said Treasurer Jordan contemplates resigning, owing to his inability to agree with Assistant Secretary Fairchild on financial questions.

Gen. Sickles réfutes at length the statements of Gen. Meade, as revealed in a confidential letter, regarding the operations of the third army corps at the battle of Gettysburg.

The fund for Mrs. Hancock now amounts to $46,806.

Secretary Lamar is in Yonkers, where he will remain a week or ten days as the guest of Representative Stahlnecker.

Cornelius Vanderbilt is proposed as a Republican candidate for Mayor of New York city.

Dr. Frank Hamilton, one of the physicians that attended Garfield during his sickness, died at his home in New York, last week. His remains were taken to Tarrytown Sunday, where the interment took place.

The mother of General Phil H. Sheridan who is still hale and hearty, though 87 years old, and is living at Somerset, Ohio, where her "boys," "Phil" and "Mike," have just visited her.

Col. Fred Grant has written his reminiscences of the siege of Vicksburg.

Gen. Sheridan's hobby is small and easily ridden. He is a coin collector.

Jennie Lind's daughter, who is spoken of as having a marvelous voice, is coming to this country.

Scandal at Sandy Creek.

The usual quiet village of Sandy Creek is greatly excited over a horsewhipping episode that occurred there a day or two ago, and several suits for assault that have grown out of it and that are still on trial. At the mouth of Little Salmon river, on the shore of Lake Ontario, is a pleasant little summer resort, where Eugene O. Bartlett keeps a hotel. Miss Petty, daughter of Colonel Petty, of the firm of Petty & Bostwick of New York, Wall Street brokers, and Willard Lawton of Cincinnati, whose father is State agent for the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, have been spending the summer at the little resort.

Miss Petty is a prepossessing young woman, about eighteen years old. Rumors came to her that Bartlett, the hotel proprietor had circulated reports affecting her character, and she became very indignant. In company with Mr. Lawton she sought a Justice of the Peace and asked his advice in the matter. The Justice discouraged any legal proceedings, and when asked what he would do about it if it were his daughter he jokingly remarked that he might perhaps buy a horsewhip. Miss Petty and Lawton took his advice in earnest, and the former armed herself with a stout rawhide whip, and, in company with Lawton, set out to find Bartlett. On the way Lawton armed himself with a broom handle. The aggressive pair met Bartlett in the highway and demanded an explanation. None being forthcoming, they attacked Bartlett savagely, Miss Petty laying on heavy blows in quick succession across the head and shoulders. Bartlett ran, but the attacking party kept close at his heels. Finally Lawton tripped and fell and Bartlett pounced upon him, struck him on the head several times, and then retreated. Miss Petty being satisfied, both she and Lawton returned to their lodgings.

Bartlett was badly punished, and will carry marks of the encounter for many days. After the whipping he swore out warrants for Miss Petty and Lawton for asssault with deadly weapons. The justice fined Miss Petty $10, which she paid. The case against Lawton is still pending. Besides these there are other suits pending—one against Bartlett, brought by Lawton for assault, and two brought in the Supreme Court, one by Bartlett against Miss Petty and Lawton for damages for the assault, and by Miss Petty against Bartlett for slander. The proceedings caused a great sensation, and the people for miles around are attending the legal proceedings. There is promise of some sensational revelations before the matter is ended.

Parish.

A new postoffice has been established in this town by the name of Wrightston. Richard Hakes is the postmaster.

Our oat crop is very good. Hops are a failure.

There will be but little fruit here.

Potatoes will apparently be a light crop in this vicinity but corn is looking well.

Our type writer factory will soon be in operation, manufacturing their type writers.

Our school will commence next Monday with good prospects for an increased number of pupils.

A teacher's class will be formed in our school by permission of the Regents. The new library and apparatus would be an ornament to any school.

[illegible]

[illegible] base ball and other [illegible] sports, boat races, etc., etc.

Ample tent accommodations will be furnished all visiting comrades free. Meals will be furnished at lowest prices. Strict military discipline will prevail and good order maintained. All railroads will carry passengers at largely reduced rates.

Let the comrades of the G. A. R. and all honorably discharged soldiers and sailors of the late war rally once again. Once again let us come together upon the tented field. Once again let us fall into line and keep step to the same old soul-stiring music, let us in mimicry of war, revive the glorious memories of the past and renew the friendships, and strengthen and perpetuate the sacred bonds of comradship which were born amid war's stern realities.

A. R. PENFIELD, President.
C. A. TAYLOR Secretary.

The Officers of the Association are: President, A R Penfield, Post 65, Oswego; Vice-Presidents, N H Gilbert, Post 271, Fulton; H W Caldwell, Post 111, Pulaski; T. C. Tygert, Post 145, Phœnix, Geo. P Woodin, Post 416 Central Square; D J Wilson, Post 585 West Amboy; Treasurer, W J Pentelow, Post 271 Fulton; Secretary, C A Taylor, Post 65 Oswego.

A new attraction has been secured for Robbins' circus, which is to be in Fulton on Tuesday, August 31st. Frank A. Robbins, the young and enterprising showman, who is equaling if not surpassing the "old timers" in his line of business, and proving the efficiency of young blood in catering to the public pleasure and delectation, has lately engaged the renowned Chevalier, Ira B. Paine, the master shot of the world, to give an exhibition of his almost miraculous skill with the rifle, pistol and shot gun, at each performance of the great show. Paine's reputation is known all over the civilized world, as the greatest shot in existence, having excelled all rivals and competitors. His preciseness and skill, and the variety of his wonderful fancy shots, form a pleasing, novel and exciting exhibition.

OBITUARY.

Mary Reidy aged twenty-two years, died at his home on Park street, last Monday morning of consumption. The funeral services were held in the church of the Imaculate Conception to-day and the remains taken to Oswego for interment, in St. Paul's cemetery. Miss Reidy was taken sick early last spring. She caught a hard cold and instead of resting and caring for her health she continued at her work as long as her strength lasted. Even after it became apparent to her that she would cease labor only to meet her Savior, strength failed and then followed these few months of sickness in which friends have been at times in hope and fear until the end came in peace and without a struggle. Sickness revealed a character lovely, and of thought, holy. All who knew her sympathize deeply with the bereaved family.

A Pulaski Farmer Cured.

Statement made by John Hall, a farmer of Pulaski, N. Y.

Five months ago I commenced doctoring with Dr. Markley, and I could not see two rods to tell a man from a horse. My lower limbs were paralyzed and had been for two years, My hands and fingers were all drawn out of shape and my whole body was terribly bloated with dropsy. Now my sight is perfectly clear. I can walk with very little help, and I can ride all day in a wagon, and am gaining all the time. I had nine different doctors pronounce my case incurable. Dr. Markly helped me immediately. JOHN HALL.

THE TIMES is in receipt of a complimentary ticket to the S. C. R. D. and B. Agricultural Fair to be at Sandy Creek Sept. 1st, 2d, and 3d. The officers are using every effort to make this fair more attractive than ever before.

Where everything else fails, Dr Sage's Catarrh remedy cures.

CHEESE MARKETS.

[From the Utica Herald.]

UTICA, Aug 16.

Another advance of ½c. was scored to-day on cheese, making a rise of 1c. in two weeks. Some buyers consider this rather a rapid pace, but it seems to be warranted by the situation. The sales to-day take cheese off on an average to July 20. Occasionally a factory sold all of its Julys, while some were back a week in that month. Practically, July stock is now out of the maker's hands, and if that month sells for 8⅞ to 9c, there ought to be no lower prices on the later months. Buyers universally agree that the make is choice. We have had but little hot weather this year, and even that does not seem to have affected cheese injuriously.

Transactions of the day are as follows: Nine lots, 1,009 boxes, at 8¾c.; 65 lots, 5,795 boxes, at 8¾c.; 18 lots, 1,626 boxes, at 8½c.; 11 lots, 1,173 boxes at 8⅝c.; 18 lots, 2,037 boxes, at 8⅞c.; 4 lots, 398 boxes, at 9c.; and 168 small cheese at 9¼c. Sales, 12,808 boxes; commissions 509 boxes; total, 13,375 boxes. Ruling price 8¾c. Transactions one year ago 12,187 boxes, ruling price 6⅞c.; two years ago, 10,667, ruling price 9¼c.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, Aug. 16.

Cheese—Salesmen leave the market to-night feeling quite well satisfied with the day's doings. Prices are fully ¼c. higher than last week, and there seems to be an opinion that they will not be lower quite firmly fixed in the mind of those who are well informed. The business to-day shows a marked contrast with that of one year ago, when the highest price paid was 7 cents, and the bulk went out at 6½c. Rain is falling this evening and will be of great benefit to pasturage, and will tend to increase the yield of milk, so the [illegible] taken as a whole the situation bears quite a cheerful aspect although there is at all times the uncertainty which is so general a characteristic of the cheese market. The following table shows the transactions of the day:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price.
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

[illegible] and Best.

MATCH IT WHO CAN

ITS PARALLEL CANNOT BE PRODUCED!

FRANK A. ROBBINS' NEW SHOWS!

Museum, Two-Ring Circus,

AND

MONSTER MENAGERIE!

WILL EXHIBIT AT

Fulton, Tuesday, Aug. 31st.

A unique attraction newly added to by the engagement of the

CHEVILIER IRA B. PAINE,

The Master Shot of the World.

Who will give exhibitions of his Marvelous Skill and Precision with Rifle, Pistol and Shot Gun. The Chevalier is the only person in the world who ever accomplished the astounding feat of hitting 1000 Glass Balls in rapid succession, without missing one. This he has succeeded in doing times without number, besides performing other feats equally difficult, and which the world is challenged to equal.

WONDERS OF WONDERS!

A NEW SENSATION, which Must be Seen to be believed.

A BAND of ELEPHANT MUSICIANS!

A Feature never before Exhibited, and which cost Mr. Robbins $125,000.

They play on all kinds of Musical Instruments—Cornet, Trombone, Horn, Cymbals, Drum, &c.—producing a perfect Hurricane of Harmony and a Cyclone of Delight.

150 CELEBRATED ARTISTS!

Will appear in the Two Rings and on the Elevated Stage, including the most Artistic

LADY BARE-BACK RIDERS!

WORLD-RENOWNED

Equestrians, Gymnasts and Acrobats,

THE SENSATIONAL ESCALON VOLANTE!

A CORPS OF FUNNY CLOWNS!

THE MOTLEY CREW OF MOMUS!

A MONSTER MENAGERIE!

Replete with rare Representatives of the Animal Kingdom.

A HERD OF 13 ELEPHANTS!

Taught to perform the most intricate and difficult of Military Evolutions.

A COLONY OF MONKEYS!

THE RAREST OF ALL COMICAL ACTORS, THE

LUDICROUS CLOWN ELEPHANT

The only Elephantine Comedian in the World that dons the Motley.

TWO FULL BANDS OF MUSIC

Including O. P. PERRY'S ENGLISH BAND, from the Horse Guards.

A Grand Free Street Parade!

Of Gorgeous Magnificence will be given at 10 A.M. Daily, Starting from the Place of Exhibition and proceeding through the principal streets. In this splendid Processional Display will be seen a long line of Gilded Chariots, unique Vehicles of novel design, Open Cages of Wild Beasts, a herd of 13 Elephants, Camels, Ponies, Jubilee Singers and Two Bands of Music.—Don't Fail to see it, as it costs you nothing.

TWO PERFORMANCES DAILY. Doors Open at 1 and 6 o'clock, P. M.

Which allows you one hour to see the interesting wonders in the Museum and Menagerie before the Circus Performances begin.

EXCURSIONS ON ALL RAILROADS at REDUCED RATES.

FULL PARTICULARS CAN BE HAD OF YOUR RAILROAD AGENT.

Admission to All, 50 Cents. Children, under 9 years. 25 Cents.

The New York, Ontario & Western Railway Co. will sell Round Trip Tickets from the following Stations at the following LOW RATES, which is equal to a

Ticket to the Big Show Free,

From Pennellville to Fulton and Return 35cts. From Caughdenoy to Fulton and Return 50cts. From Central Square to Fulton and Return 60cts. From West Monroe to Fulton, and Return 75cts. Constantia and Return 90cts.

AGENTS WANTED! FOR THE GREAT NEW BOOK, "The Worlds Wonders." By J. W. BUEL.

The most successful subsscription book ever published. Over half a million copies were sold the past eight months, and it is selling three times as fast now as ever before. Regular canvassers clear from $15 to $25, $40 and $50 per day. Nothing like it was ever known in the history of book puplishing. Proofs sent free on application. No experience needed to insure success. We help persons without means to do a large business; no capital needed. Write for particulars. Salaries guaranteed to persons who do not wish to canvass on commission. We mean business, and want live agents in every township. It will cost you nothing to write for terms and full descriptions of our plans of doing business. We also give away standard books to persons who send us names of book agents. Write for our list of free standard books. HISTORICAL PUBLISHING CO., 120 & 122 N. 7th St., Philadelphia, Pa. 13w4.

Gilberts Mills.

Almon Mason returned home last week.

Mrs. Blodget who has been spending the last two months with friends in Oswego, Sterling and Hannibal, has returned home.

A picnic was held on East Avenue street yesterday in honor of friends who were visiting here from Rochester.

The Ladies Mission Society meeting held Sunday evening was well attended.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Mason, daughter and grandchildren visited at Wm. Bartlett's in Palermo last Saturday.

The rain did much good in this vicinity Monday.

The Baptist church held their annual picnic at George Thomas' grove last Thursday.

Mrs. G. Hamlin has gone to her father's to stay a few weeks.

There is to be quarterly meeting at the Baptist church August [illegible].

Mrs. T. A. Willard has gone to see her mother who is at the point of death.

[illegible]

NATURE'S CURE FOR CONSTIPATION, Sick-Headache, AND DYSPEPSIA.

A RELIABLE REMEDY. FOR SICK STOMACH, TORPID LIVER, BILLIOUS HEADACHE, COSTIVENESS, Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient.

It is certain in its effects. It is gentle in its action. It can be relied upon to cure, and it cures by assisting, not outraging, nature. Do not take violent purgatives yourselves, or allow your children to take them, always use this elegant pharmaceutical preparation, which has been for more than forty years a public favorite. Sold by druggists everywhere.

ELY'S CREAM BALM was recommended to me for HAY FEVER I have found it a specific for that dreaded disease. For ten years I have been a great sufferer. Cream Balm Balm is the only preventive I have ever found.—F. B. Ainsworth, of F. B. Ainsworth & Co., Pubs., Indianapolis, Ind.

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. Circulars free.
ELY BROTHERS,
Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

WANTED—I want you to do parlor work for me at your own home; plenty work; good pay; $1 per piece; all materials free.
A. LOVE, CLEVELAND, O.

Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St. N.Y.

The work on the river bridge at Baldwinsville of the new Syracuse and Baldwinsville railroad is being rapidly pushed forward. It will be three hundred and fifty feet long and will have five or six spans.

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant 15tf

C. S. EGGLESTON,

—DEALER IN—

BOOKS, STATIONERY, [illegible]

—WE HAVE IN STOCK A—

Complete Assortment

—OF—

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, &c.

—And in fact everything pertaining to a—

FIRST-CLASS YARD.

We are prepared to furnish thoroughly seasoned lumber at the Lowest Rates. Call and be convinced.

BOOMER & LOOMIS.

Corner Broadway and First Sts.

—CALL ON—

GEORGE JOHNSTON,

On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of

STOVES AND RANGES,

Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,
ART UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,
and ACORN,
Parlor Stoves.

THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
GRAND UNIVERSAL,
HAPPY THOUGHT,
HAPPY HOME,
aud DUCHESS Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the

Howe Ventilating Stove,

which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.

Yours Respectfully,

GEO. JOHNSTON.

—THE—

Howe Ventilating Stove.

A NEW STOVE.
ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE.
AN EXCELENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE.
A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE

Howe Ventilating Stove Company, Fulton, N. Y.

F. G. WEEKS, President.
E R. REDHEAD, Vice-President.
ALMON BRISTOL, Sec'y & Treas.
E. L. MESSENGER, Gen. Manager.

GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent
FULTON, N.Y.

A Leading Popular Rochester Business University Commercial School,

By reason of the superiority of its facilities for imparting a thoroughly practical knowledge of commercial matters, and for promoting the substantial welfare of its pupils, this has become one of the largest and most conspicuous schools of its kind on the continent. Catalogue Free.

F. E. ROGERS, Secretary. L. L. WILLIAMS, President. 13w4

PRESERVE YOUR HEALTH.

ROGERS' GRAPOLINE

[illegible]

Sold by all Druggists. A. H. ROGERS & CO. [illegible], N. Y.

[illegible] Magazine Rifle. [illegible]

[illegible] GRAP[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Philadelphia Express........7:19 p. m.

The 9:40 a. m., and 6:15 p. m. trains will run Sunday.

[illegible] cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express..........7:19 a. m
Freight and Accommodation..........8:40 a. m
Norwich Express..........3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express..........9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express..........6:24 a. m
Oswego Express..........11:27 a. m.
Freight and accommodation..........5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express..........9:57 p.m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:21	2:16	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	12:54	3:24	6:29

Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS.

Attorney Geo. W. Bradner of Mexico, was in town yesterday.

Rev. Mr. Rockwell of Tarrytown, N. Y. was in town last week.

Mrs. James Smith and Mrs. Newell Cole are at the Thousand Islands.

Mrs. Dr. Emens is on a visit to a sister at Greenwich, Washington county.

Master Arthur Chase is spending a few days at Thousand Island park.

Miss Anna Parker of Oswego Falls is visiting friends in Pittsburg, Pa.

Miss Lottie Palmer of Syracuse is visiting in town a guest at B. J. Kimball's.

H. S. Gardner, wife and daughter started for the Thousand Islands, Thursday.

Mrs. R. J. Landon is in town the guest of her sister, Mrs. F. D. Van Wagenen.

G. W. Betts and wife of Jackson, Mich., are visiting friends in Oswego Falls.

L. J. Carrier of Phœnix, clerk of the Surrogate's court, was in town yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Prettie of Louisville, Ky., are the guests of Mrs. James Whitman

Charles Pratt, wife and daughter, of New York city, arrived here yesterday morning.

George Sylvester returned Saturday from a few week's sojourn at Ocean Grove, N. J.

Miss Belle Smith of Hannibal has been spending a few days with friends in this village.

John A. McKay, formerly editor of THE TIMES, now on the New York Sun, is home on a visit.

Mrs. J. T. Sheridan and her daughter Florence, have gone to Toronto for a few week's visit.

Postmaster Whitaker passed a few days in Williamstown last week, the guest of Dr. Bacon.

W. E. Northrup, Secretary and treasurer of the Oneida street railroad, was in town yesterday

Prof. J. D. Stay of this village has been engaged as principal of Ives Seminary, at Antwerp, N. Y.

Charles Lyman of New York, Sec'y of the Fulton & Oswego Falls street railway Co., was in town yesterday.

F. A. Seymour of Buffalo was in town for a few days during the past week, visiting relatives and friends.

Miss Lillie Leslie of Philadelphia, Pa., is spending her vacation in town, the guest of her aunt, Mrs. C. V. Howe.

Mrs. A. C. Livingston returned from New York last week, with the infant child of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Platt.

Mrs. A. L. Warner, and son, Mrs. L. B. Taylor and Miss Lena Cooper are all visiting in Onondaga and Madison counties.

Miss Lillie Daley, who has been visiting friends here for the past few weeks, returned to her home in Schenectady Monday.

Joseph Walker, Jr., of New York, one of the largest stockholders, was present at the opening of the street railroad yesterday.

Miss Fannie Rice, of Cambridge, Washington Co., a former student of Falley Seminary has been visiting at Mrs. A. Bristol's.

Prof. William Dougall, his wife and daughter Bessie, accompanied by Miss Jennie Dougall left Thursday for their home in Newark, N. J.

Oscar Becker of Michigan, who, with his wife, has been spending some time in this locality, left last Saturday evening for Washington in the interest of the Jackson wagon company.

Hon. Geo. B. Sloan, John A. Place, editor of the Times-Express, Sheriff A. N. Beadle County Treas. E. Eugene McInstry and Under-Sheriff W. J. Pentelow of Oswego, were present at the formal opening of the street railroad here yesterday.

Something New and Novel in Ladies' Jackets Just Opened at the "Bee Hive."

[illegible] M. D., the great [illegible]

[illegible] of [illegible] the Grand Jury.

Squire in his own defense before the mayor, has affirmed that he was lead into the deal by Herbert O. Thompson then Commissioner of Public Works and general manager of the County Democracy. But since dead men tell no tales, Mr. Squire is perfectly safe in his statement. Nor is there very much reason to doubt Squire's statement for it was generally known that as courteous and gentlemanly as Hurbert G. Thompson was, he was thoroughly unscrupulous in attaining a political end, or a victory over a hated political rival, especially the Tammany. Squire, too, was lead to believe that his letter was destroyed; and it appears that Flynn pretended to destroy it before Squire's own eyes, but it was a copy that was destroyed.

Before the mayor the investigation is decidedly sensational. Squire is defended by Ex-Senator Strahan, Robert G. Ingersoll and R. Newcomb. The last named is the attorney for the indicted Aldermen and other members of the "Boodle gang." This whole matter seems to be a sort of supplement to the Broadway Railroad scandal, and to my mind confirms the old saying, "When rogues fall out, honest men get their dues." It is a piece of good fortune to the newspapers for this is the season, when something of the sensational character is welcomed.

***

Speaking of newspapers, I recall to mind the fact that journalism may be divided into three classes. There's the newspaper dealing wholly with news—the great dailies: then the pictorial weeklies—The Judge, Puck, Jingo; and lastly, personal newspapers. This last class deals entirely with portraying the doings of society, repeating little stories of prominent men. Town Topics is the most conspicuous sheet of this kind. The editor, Paul Potter, has gotten himself in trouble with Wm. Dorshermer, editor of Col. Huntington's Star, by expressing himself to freely—There was published in this city some years ago a paper given up entirely to general gossip. Who published it, or where, or when, nobody knew. The newsboys sold it and its sale was enormous especially in this city and the suburban towns on Long Island, and Jersey and Westchester county. It was called "The Seal," a right appropriate name, too by the way. It lampooned everybody, criticised everybody. It accepted everything, and published all that came in its way. It was a most decidedly personal newspaper. Its publication office was finally discovered and the paper ceased to be printed. These comic weeklies accomplish much good. I heard a prominent publisher say that the series of pictures in Puck on the tenement house evils had accomplished more toward giving the general public a knowledge of how the wafe workers live than any agency or modern journalism. J. Keppler is the genius of Puck. Formerly, he was on the staff of Harper's Weekly with Nast. Nast, by the way, is the father of caricaturing in America. It was Keppler's idea to have Harper's published in colors. The success of Puck in this form proves the sagacity of his idea.

***

One of the familiar figures of this city is a gentleman to whom this city, and in fact the whole North as well, perhaps owes the existence of the general Government. I refer to Captain John Ericson, the inventor of the monitor, for it is on that his chief fame rests. Ericson lives in this city, and although 83 years of age is still hale and hearty. His life is given up to scientific and mechanical investigation, and even thus late in life is busily working out the question of defense against attack in time of war by the torpedo. A grateful nation ought to do him honor. I am creditably informed that beyond his professional pay, Ericson received no royalty from the government for his invention of the monitor. The idea was a patentable one and he justly deserves some recognition by the people for his services. Unlike many inventors, he is not poor. He even now though over four score years spends 15 hours out of the 24 in labor.

I said that his chief fame will rest on the monitor's achievement. There is however, another thing that in itself would be sufficient to render his name famous. It was he that applied the screw to the vessel as a means of propulsion. Ericson is a natural mathematican. His being a native of Sweden and inheriting a sturdy frame may account for his longevity.

***

There is a special system of espionage over the houses of certain rich men on Fifth avenue. Between Thirty-fourth and Fifty-seventh streets are the residences of the Astors, the Vanderbilts the Belmonts, the Goelits, besides Sage and Gould. These families together represent $500,000,000. They own magnificent places besides beautiful country seats. Day and night their residences are under surveillance by the city police and by a special corps organized by by these families for that purpose. You never see Gould on the street without his guard. Everywhere he goes this protecter is with him. During the summer Gould lives in his summer residence and goes back and forth to his business in his famous $300,000 yacht, the Atlanta. I doubt if anybody pays more for a 30 mile daily ride than the "Little Magician." The expenses of this craft are something like $250 per day. Ten dollars a mile is pretty expensive traveling. Gould is an exceedingly common place man, small, undersized, diminutive. The only attractive thing about him is his eye. That is wonderfully sharp and seems to [illegible] to the depths of [illegible]

[illegible] sively for our own trade. Call [illegible] for their preliminary season. The majority of them will present something light, pretty and pleasing. The European novelties that the managers have acquired during their summer vacations will be deferred till the regular season.

A. E. NETTLETON.

Four theatres have been open all summer and have had remarkable success. Wallack's has had especially full houses. The Madison Square has been played to good audiences. The feeling among theatrical men just now is a rather joyful one over the success attended by the two Americans, Mr. Daly and Mr. Dixey in their English enjoyments. Mr. Daly has been so successfully that he goes on the continent and will try his luck with a German audience.

The cordial welcome given to Mr. Irving is indicative of the kindly sentiments existing between the two countries, America, and especially New York, is regarded as a sort of foreign gold mine to foreign lecturers, and theatrical people. Irving and Carte, Cannon Farrar and Mathew Arnold, Dickens, Thackery, and a whole line of them came over here and went back with their pockets well filled with gold. Well we can congratulate ourselves that generally we have gotten our money's worth. Hence, it was but fair that we "Carry the war into Africa" and send some of our people to England.

***

Among the inducements of an uptown young ladies school is a course of instruction in mental and moral science by Dr. Berchard. How are the mighty fallen! The poor doctor was pensioned off by his church soon after his alliteration on a salary of $500, and now occupies his time teaching in this school. His congregation was a strongly Republican one. Maturally they felt incensed at the poor old man. Behold how great a matter a few words causeth.

***

This city seems to be the attraction to men who, having made their mark in other places and having been retired from politics, come here to locate.

This is especially true of the lawyers, Conkling, Ingersoll, Bristow, Grant's honest secretary of the treasury during the whisky scandal, Kieley, Mr. Bayard's unfortunate appointee, and ex-Judge Dillon, have all made a practice here. Mr. Kieley is the subject of much congratulation because of his recent appointment to the International Court of Egypt. He has made a very good impression here and was developing a good practice. Speaking of lawyers, it is a singular fact that the most successful lawyers are those who come from the New England States. The more important cases before our courts are argued by men from Yankeedom. In fact, the most successful firm of lawyers in this city is composed of New Englanders. I refer to Evarts, Southmayd, Choate and Beaman. Every member is "a blue-nosed Yankee." That's the way Mr. Conkling expresses it. The receipts of the firm are estimated by those who know to be not far from $300,000. It's a fine thing to be the counsel of an insurance company or other corporation. The salary of Gen. Husted, the general counsel of the New York Life, is $10,000. That salary and double that amount is not unexceptional for railroad corporations. The legal complications liable to arise require expert lawyers, and it is becoming a common thing to put lawyers at the head of great railroads. Witness, therefore, Mr. Depew at the head of the Central, Mr. Fowler of the Ontario & Western and Mr. Gowan of the Pennsylvania & Reading. The practice is attaining favor.

***

There's trembling among the office-holders in the Custom House over the President's appointment of Daniel Majone, the politician, as collector. The fact is, no merchant in these latter days has made a success as Collector. A politician has usually been more successful. But of this more later.

WANDERER.

Two Boys Missing.

On Sunday morning Mrs. R. Smith, who lives on Fifth street, discovered that her two sons, aged 10 and 13 years were missing. They went to bed on Saturday night about 10 o'clock and when Mrs. Smith went to call them on Sunday morning they could not be found. A diligent search has been made but no information of their whereabouts has as yet been received.

The old saw mill building near Foster Bro's. knife factory has been torn down and it is probable that a rolling mill will be built on its site. We understand that at present the only hitch is on the terms of the contract for the water privilege.

Scriba lost one of its oldest residents last Friday afternoon in the person of Bridget O'Connor, wife of the late Matthew O'Connor, who died at her late home in South Scriba at the age of 73 years. She had been a resident of the town for over fifty years. She was the mother of Nicholas O'Connor, who was killed at the battle of Cold Harbor, and in honor of whom the G. A. R. post of South Scriba is named.

The eminent English actor, Mr. H. E. Walton, supported by a fine comedy company, opens the season at Stephens opera House next Tuesday evening.

PARASOLS.

The Boston Bazaar are closing out their Parasols at cost.

E. G. Hubbard has leased the novelty custom mill recently run by Patterson & Smith.

[illegible]

STREET RAILROAD.

Formally Opened Yesterday—Clam Bake—Races—Large Attendance—Crowded Cars, &c. &c.

Although the street cars commenced making their regular trips on Saturday, the opening day was yesterday, when the managers of the road threw open the gates of the fair ground and invited everyone to come and enjoy a clam bake and field sports, free of charge. This invitation was very liberally accepted, and the streets in the village presented a deserted appearance in the latter part of the afternoon. On every trip the cars were crowded to their utmost capacity, as many as sixty riding over on some of the trips. It is estimated that between four and five thousand were on the grounds during the afternoon. In the sports of the day the shell race, for a purse of $50, was won by William Hutchins, the hose race, $10 by Johnson Hose Co.; foot race, 100 y'ds, Pare 1st, $3, Dexter 2d, $2; Wheelbarrow race, Dexter 1st, $2, Pare 2d, $1; Throwing base ball, 25 car tickets, Fred Taylor: greased pig, Del Althouse. 10,000 clams and 47 dozen ears of corn made up the clam bake, and this supply did not meet the demand. At the opening of the bake pandemonium reigned and at one time it looked as though "the Signor" himself would be devoured by the eager crowd. We are informed that about 650 fares were collected on Saturday, 800 on Sunday, 400 on Monday, and 2500 yesterday. A good showing so far.

Fire on Second Street.

Shortly before midnight last Wednesday, fire broke out in an old tenement house on Second street, occupied by two families, and owned by the Aaron G. Fish estate. The Fire Department promptly appeared upon the scene but the building was gutted before the fire could be extinguished. About 3:30 a. m. a second alarm was sounded and the Department turned out again. Fire had broken out in the same building but was soon under control. Owing to the lack of a sufficient quantity of water in the water tank and the dilatory manner of getting word to the water works the supply to the firemen was very poor. They were compelled to carry the nozzle to the top of the building to make their work at all effectual. Some means should be devised at once of getting word to the engine house at the water works as soon as an alarm is sounded.

A Narrow Escape.

On last Wednesday afternoon, Bertie Bradshaw a little boy aged about nine years, fell from the bridge near the box factory into the race way. The strong current drew him down under the head gates and he passed through into the swift current beyond. Some boys who were bathing back of the factory rushed up to the bridge, among whom were Jimmie Elder and Will Dada. They both jumped into the water and between them succeeded in keeping him above water until help arrived. He was taken out unconscious but soon exhibited signs of life. He was taken to his home and the next day was as well as ever. It was a miraculous escape and great credit is due to the two young men who acted so promptly in the matter.

Spiritualists' Meeting.

The Spiritualist's meeting at the Oswego Falls Fair grounds last Sunday was a success. Between 500 and 600 attended the morning service which was opened at 10:30 with songs. W. H. Henderson of this village, organist. The Invocation was given by Miss Carrie Downer, of Baldwinsville, following this was a stirring address, "Origin, Mission, and Destiny of Man," by the Rev. J. H. Harter of Auburn.

In the afternoon nearly 1,000 persons attended. Miss Downer opened the services with an able and pleasing address and was followed by Mr. Harter, who discoursed in an eloquent manner on "The Triumphs of Truth and the Destruction of Error," at the close of which Mrs. Knight of Oswego made a few remarks.

THE PEOPLE'S VERDICT.

Come take a Stroll With Us.

Through the new clothing house that is creating such an excitement in Syracuse. We will show you nice fine goods that will open your eyes to the fact that it pays to come to the city to buy your clothing, Hats, Caps and Furnishing goods, that is if you want to be a good friend to your pocket book. Now my good friends sharpen up your pencil, take out your note book and jot down these few examples we are going to give you, to prove our assertion. Come into the Hat Department for instance. Say you bring yourself and two boys into the city. You pick them out one of our splendid all wool Hats at 39 cents, for which other houses charge $1.00. Of course you will want a better one for yourself, so you will pick out one of our Men's warranted fur Derby's at $1.45 for which other houses charge $2.50. Now two hats at 39 cents equal to 78 cents and one hat at $1.45 makes $2.23 our price. Other houses figure 2 hats at $1.00 is $2.00 and your hat at $2.50 makes $4.50. You thus save $2.27. Now come into our furnishing goods department, but hang on to your slate; here you will want 2 pair each of our celebrated Freeman overalls which we sell at 33 cents, other houses charge 50 cents. Now add 6 times 33 cents makes 1.98, other houses charge 6 times 50 cents makes $3.00. A clear saving to you of $1.02. Add your profits on hats $2.27 and $1.02 on [illegible]

Summer is fast drawing to a close.

"The Cuckoo," next Tuesday evening Aug. 24.

Annual school meeting one week from next Tuesday.

New Haven Grove camp meeting began yesterday.

A good boy wanted immediately at Morrill Bro's. printing office.

A new agricultural building has been erected on the Fair grounds.

Fourteen new Knowles looms have arrived at the Oswego Falls factory.

Dr. W. A. Hall is moving his household goods to his new home in Syracuse.

Oswego is bidding strongly to have the proposed state insane asylum located there.

The Cold Spring M. E. church held their annual picnic at High Banks yesterday.

The members of the Episcopal church have a picnic at Three River Point next Saturday.

Rev. Clayton Wells of Englewood, Ill., will preach at the Presbyterian church next Sunday.

The Salvation Army is taking a prominent part in the work at the Free Methodist camp meeting.

Presiding Elder Danforth preached morning and evening at the M. E. church last Sunday.

Some interesting correspondences from out of town were unavoidably omitted from this issue

Rev. Thomas Nichols of Pittston, Pa., again occupied the pulpit at the Presbyterian church Sunday.

The Father Matthew temperance society will have a picnic at Three River Point next Wednesday.

Coming, "The Cuckoo" next Tuesday evening, Aug. 24. A very funny comedy by a first-class company.

The instruction of a teachers' class has been awarded to Phœnix academy by the State department of education.

The barbers have decided hereafter not to open their shops on Sunday morning. Get shaved on Saturday night.

Rev. I. C. F. Grumbine will again preach in the Universalist church next Sunday morning and evening. All are invited.

Joseph Francis, formerly local editor of THE TIMES has secured a position in Chicago and is soon to move there with his family.

It would be a Godsend to linen thread manufacturers if the merchants in town continued to give a street car ticket with every purchase.

The old "Midland depot" on Second street has been torn down and a new freight depot will soon occupy the position where it stood.

The Kingsford band of Oswego, passed through here Saturday morning on their excursion to Sylvan Beach. There were six cars in the train.

A large number of people came in from the country last Wednesday to have a feast on the roasted clams free of charge. They had not heard of the postponement.

Members of the running team of Johnson Hose Co., No. 2, left to-day for Buffalo to take part in the race at the Firemen's convention which is being held there this week.

The Fulton correspondent of the Standard mentions R. E. Phillips as a desirable person for the Republicans to consider as a candidate to the assembly from this district.

The members of the G. A. R. Reunion Association desire us to say that any fund left at Snow & Loomis' to assist them in meeting the expenses of their reunion will be thankfully received.

John Kernan and James Hearty of this village, were arrested last week for stealing a keg of liquor from a box car near the R. W. & O. depot. They were released on $100 bail, which was furnished by John Cavanaugh. Kernan has jumped his bail and his whereabouts are at present unknown.

The festival of the Baker Hose company, which was to have been held on Monday evening, was postponed on account of the weather, to last evening. After parading through the streets of Fulton and Oswego Falls, they proceeded to the Fair ground. The main building, in which the festival was held, was crowded to its utmost capacity. There were three bands in attendance.

"No reduction of pay in the Riverside and Oswego mills at Providence" was passed through the Riverside mills like "wildfire" last Thursday morning and all hands were once more happy. Rumors of a cut-down, and a threatened strike had passed over the whole country. The news is good to all alike,—the help, labor's leaders as well as the merchants of Olneyville. Let us hope that the company will be able to meet the present payment without real loss. —[Wade's Fiber and Fabric.

Something New and Novel in Ladies' Jackets Just Opened at the "Bee Hive."

A fine line of Boys' Button and Lace Shoes very low at Collins'. 12tf

[illegible]

[illegible] To our [illegible] Mr. Pardee [illegible] with us on this question. We then thought and still [illegible] that [illegible] the Thomson-Houston the better light. Neither [illegible] would say that in our articles we intended or in any way [illegible] about Trustees Bradford or Pardee, but we did mean, and do say that the Schuyley company, in placing lights over Dr. Pardee's desk and near Mr. Bradford's house, were seeking to introduce their lights by trial in a way we condemned. If so placed by request, well and good. The insinuation about ourselves was unmerited and frivolous. A local paper should study public welfare carefully and give its conclusions candidly. This we did and this we shall continue to do. We would not expect anything different from any editor.

The Patriot in taking up the discussion of this question says:

> But for the sake of argument let us admit what the TIMES claims—that the Thomson-Houston light is superior to the Schuyler. Is that any objection? Suppose that one Thomson-Houston light is equal to one and one-half Schuyler, or in other words that two Thomson Houstons equal three Schuylers. And suppose that we can get thirty Schuyler lights for the same price or less than twenty Thomson-Houstons. Are not the thirty Schuylers just as desirable as the twenty T.-H? Would not the distribution be better! Thirty lamps—"good lights" as the TIMES says they are, would place one at every four corners in town, and light the town pretty thoroughly.

Yes, but you can't get thirty Schuylers for the same price that you can get twenty Thomson-Houstons. Every one seems to figure on the theory that the Schuyler lights can be furnished cheaper than those of the other system. If anything, "the boot is on the other foot." The T.-H. company can furnish the light as cheap if not cheaper than the Schuyler company. This being the case why is it not for the interest of the village to get the superior light? We think that strenuous efforts, at least, should be used to that end. The Patriot did not consider at all the question that we desired most of all to bring forward, i. e., the question of contract. The Schuyler company is of later origin than their rival company and might be willing to run their light at a considerable loss for a time in order to get the better of their opponents. If they are willing to do this, let it be for a term of years—one with the privilege of five or ten. If this company can afford to bid considerable less than the other on a contract of this kind, that is the light we want. Neither company intend, if it can be avoided, to run their lights at a loss. Whatever deficit may result from a contract for street lights, they will try to make up from the lights that are used in places of business, private residences and elsewhere. But this will probably regulate itself, for if the light is not furnished at a reasonable price the merchants and others need not use it.

The Patriot says "The Schuyler Co. has several more miles of wire strung, is lighting more lamps, and at greater distances from the machine." All very true, but as figured out by experts, it is shown that the resistance offered to the current by wire of the size that is used is only equal to one light for about every one and two-third miles. This makes the length of wire used in this village a small consideration. The distance of the lights from the machine makes no difference further than the slight resistance to the current above mentioned. If the number of lights used is greater than the capacity of the dynamo to produce a steady light, then it was mismanagement on the part of the company in putting up so many. It is well for us to take into consideration in this connection the question of taxation. If either company puts its plant in at Oswego Falls, that village would tax the property within its corporation limits. Fulton could only tax the property here. This item would probably make a difference of $200 annually in revenue. We want to get just as much taxable property in our village as will be of benefit to us. We take it for granted that the Schuyler company will place its plant at Oswego Falls and the Thomson-Houston at Fulton.

One company is willing, and perhaps both, that a committee of citizens should inform themselves thoroughly in regard to electric lighting, and that they will light Fulton at a fair figure or will sell their plant at a fair price, or will be willing to run their lights for a fair rate of interest for the money expended in putting their system in operation. The Thomson-Houston will do this. It is business like and we should give thorough consideration to a company that meets us in this way.

The Great Show Coming.

There will be "a sound of revelry" in the streets of Fulton on Tuesday, Aug. 31st, when Frank A. Robbins' great shows will visit us and give two exhibitions in immense pavalions with two rings and an elevated stage, in which the great equestrians, the beautiful lady riders, the clowns, tumblers, acrobats, and the entire company of performers will appear, besides the far famed elephant band engaged at a cost of over $125,000. There is also a complete menagerie, an interesting museum of living and other curiosities, besides many novel features too numerous for even mere mention. There will be excursion trains on all railroads at reduced rates to bring in our country friends in time to see the immense grand street pageant which will pass through the streets at 10 o'clock. It will be a great day and should be a general holiday.

A Child Scorched.

A child named Willie London only fifteen months old, whose mother lives on the flats, was scorched last Friday. [illegible]

Down They Go.

Balance of spring stock must be moved to make room for Winter Goods. Genuine Bargains and no taffy for the next 30 days.

Ticket TO Oswego Falls Fair

With every cash purchase of $8 or over.

PEEBLES & COOK

Opposite Opera House.

Great Closing Out Sale!

Stowell's 25 Cent and Bargain Store,

Reduced Price List.

Good Needles 1c. per paper		worth 8 cts
1 large hand saw 24cts.		worth 75 cts
10 quart pails 14cts.		worth 30 cts
1 large copper bottom tea or coffee pot 24cts.		worth 60 cts
1 good spade or shovel 35cts.,		worth 75 cts
1 large wooden bowl 18 cts.,		worth 35 cts
1 fine glass dish 15cts.,		worth 30 cts
Tumblers 2½cts. each		worth 6 cts
1 lamp chimney 3cts.		worth 8 cts
1 large wash basin 6cts.		worth 12 cts
1 good hand lamp 15cts.;		worth 25 cts
1 large stone teapot 25cts.,		worth 50 cts
1 large comb 5cts.,		worth 10 cts
2 bunches good matches 1c.		worth 2 ctsa bunch
Good writing paper 4cts. per quire,		worth 10 cts
Good envelopes 4cts. per package,		worth 10 cts
Bird Cages 30, 48 62cts.,		worth 55, 75, $1 00
All 5c. goods	will be sold at	3 cts
All 10c. goods	will be sold at	7 cts
All 25c. goods	will be sold at	19 cts
Good pins 1c. per paper		worth 8 cts
1 heavy 17 quart dish pan 25cts,		worth 45 cts

A few dozen Rogers' best silver Forks, Knives and Spoons will be sold regardless of cost to close.

This opportunity happens but once in a lifetime. Call at once, while the assortment is unbroken. The goods must be sold.

R. A. STOWELL & CO. Proprietors.

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

Hale's Honey the great Cough cure, 25c., 50c. & $1
Glenn's Sulphur Soap heals & beautifies, 25c.
German Corn Remover kills Corns & Bunions
Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye—Black and Brown, 50c.
Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 Minute, 25c
Dean's Rheumatic Pills are a sure cure, 50c.

IMPORTANT TO INVALIDS.

MRS. E. G. DODGE, M. D.

of Oswego,

Clairvoyant and Eclectric Physician,

will be at the Johnson House, in Fulton, Saturday, Aug. 28, where she can be consulted upon the various diseases the human family is afflicted with. All Female Diseases made a specialty.

Consultation Free. 15w2

You will save time and money by buying your field and garden seeds in bulk. A large stock just received at D. C. Draper's 15 Oneida street, and for sale at the lowest living rates by the bushel, quart or pound.

Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares, two years ago, and find it very durable and economical.

HART BROS.

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

HARPOON FORKS
for $1.00
—at—
Snow & Loomis' Hardware,
and
Horse Rakes,
Hand Rakes,
Pitch Forks,
Pulley Blocks,
Rope and
Haying Tools,
at equally low prices.

Draper has reduced the price on all holiday goods, fancy crockery, gloves and mittens, sleds, &c., to 10 per cent. less than cost, he is bound to close them all out instead of holding them for next fall's trade.

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets. Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expediously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. 7tf

Draper, 15 Oneida street, will not be undersold in groceries, crockery, glass and plated ware, table and hanging amps. Call and get prices.

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter jars, Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots. &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by
10tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

FOR SALE. A Model Farm of 33 acres; the first east of the village of Fulton, on the Fay road. Soil stoneless, clay loom, well drained, fruited and fenced. Good buildings, hennery, &c.. Nine acres newly seeded, good pasture, never failing creek and chestnut grove. Will leave stock, (pure and gray Jersey), crops and implements if desired. Enquire of
JOSEPH BAGGS,
13w4 Fulton, N. Y.
Chestnut Posts for sale from 5cts. up.

TO RENT—A 7 roomed house, eligibly situated; immediate possession. HENRY BALDREY, S. W. Cor. Oneida and Fourth Sts.

Greatest Bargains

—IN—

CLOTHING

Ever Offered in Oswego County!

—To close out our Summer Stock a large stock of—

Boys' and Children's Clothing

Will be sold very low. Now is your time.

D. C. MORE & CO.

The Reliable one Priced Dealers.

[illegible] appointments [illegible] from the time it leaves [illegible] until it reaches the miller.

Paint costs little, but agricultural implements are expensive. By coating the one with the other every season a great saving is made, for agricultural implements may be used many years longer than is usual by the judicious and timely application of paint.

Don't kill your hens that molt now, as they will make your early layers, and also be the most serviceable in winter, as they will molt before the cold weather comes on. Hens that do not finish molting until late in the season seldom begin to lay until spring comes on.

For growing cucumbers, squashes or similar plants put old sawdust or rotten wood about them. Those who have never tied cucumbers on strong, bushy stalks like pea-sticks will be surprised to note how they enjoy it. Tomatoes do better trained to stout stakes than any other way.

Western farmers have taken to growing Hubbard squashes among hoed crops, and find them more profitable than the old-fashioned pumpkins and quite as reliable. They require, or at least will pay, for some extra manuring and watering in a dry time. One of the advantages of growing Hubbard squashes with field crops is that many hills escape any visitation from the bugs.

Labor can be saved in the farm house by the adoption of plain habits of living. In the matter of food, for example, the most wholesome food is easiest prepared. It is the ambition of most of the farmers' wives and daughters always to have plenty of pies and cakes on hand, and never to be caught by company without abundant supplies of the various knick-knackeries on the table. This is one reason why you find so many dyspeptic in the country.

Feeding Lambs in the Summer.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer emphasizes the importance of feeding lambs with the best and most nourishing food in abundant measures. A lamb well fed and taken care of with the especial object of bringing it into the best possible condition will, at the first shearing, yield double the amount of wool that can be obtained from a lamb of the same breed left to take the ordinary luck of the flock. He says further: In thirty years' experience on the farm I have come to the conclusion that, with the proper kind of feed, it is impossible to give any young animal too much, if it has abundant exercise. A lamb might be injured by an excess of meal, corn or oil-cake meal, but not by any amount of wheat bran or oats that it will consume if fed regularly. I say this in full knowledge of the fact that it is the fattest and most thrifty lambs that generally fall victims to the so-called "lamb cholera" (which is a clear misnomer, since this is, in a great majority of cases, nothing but an acute form of indigestion, flatulency or colic). And, indeed, the best preventive, and almost the only one of any value against this prevalent plague of low, sour lands, is dry feeding, either of lambs alone or of both ewes and lambs. A moderate portion of dry feed, continued through the spring and summer, to those flocks which are grazing on lands of this class (on hilly pastures it seldom if ever occurs) serves to correct this tendency to acidity and flatulency. Ashes or lime are also recommended for the ewes.

Live Stock in Midsummer.

The milk supply will probably show, by its falling off, how the dry weather is affecting the pastures. The water supply must be well watched, for the cows should never be forced to drink from polluted, stagnant pools. Slinking and other maladies often come from this cause.

Green fodder should supplement short pasturage. Green fodder corn increases the flow of milk at once, but the quality notably deteriorates. It should be fed with some grain. A good armful of fodder corn, and two quarts of corn and oats ground together, will keep up both the quantity and quality. Horses will be grateful for a run in the pasture on hot nights. Harness galls, sores of all kinds, fly bites, etc., we find are best treated with carbolic soap (sheep dip) used as a salve. Keep colts growing by feeding a few oats daily. Ewes intended for early breeding, should be well fed for a week or two before the ram is turned with them. It is important to tar the noses of the whole flock, to protect them against the gad-fly and grub in the head. The pigs should revel in weeds and fallen or otherwise wasted fruit, and if possible should have the run of orchards, where they will devour the gnarly and worm-eaten fruit. Poultry should have the run of stubble fields, both for the scattered grain, and for the numerous insects.—[American Agriculturist for August.

When to Cut Clover.

Clover should always be cut when in full blossom. This means when the most of the buds are in blossom and not when the last of them are blown out. All grains should be cut for hay before the growing state is over. After this is past the juices rapidly undergo chemical changes which unfit them for food, and the fiber part of the plant becomes absolutely indigestible and of no use as food. Nothing can be abstracted from it by the gastric juice of the stomach. It is wood and nothing more. The stems of the clover, however coarse, if cut in a green state, make food; and the finer portions of the plant make food not excelled by anything for the most healthful kind of nutrition. It is the nearest perfection of any of the forage plants, or of all the grains. Clover hay is the farmer's best crop, all in all, if well cured and cut in its best state. It [illegible] in value very fast after it [illegible] proper condition; and it will [illegible] to let other work go and [illegible] clover. The more clover [illegible] the more stock fed [illegible] the more crops.—[Ger[illegible]

[illegible] the ordinary wear and tear for machinery. On these figures as a basis the American grower could afford to send his wheat to England to be sold there at very little more than one cent per pound, or not much in excess of two-thirds the current quotation on the other side of the Atlantic. It would be idle to assert that the small farmer could afford to raise wheat to be sold at anything like these figures, but the leeway in his favor is not a small one. It may be said to be more than equal to the advantage which the low price of silver has been claimed to give the Indian growers of wheat when selling it in England in competition with ours. An allowance of 50 per cent additional to the average farmer, as compared with the company which grows 400,000 bushels in one crop, should certainly be enough, and so much of margin would permit the wheat buyer here to offer the property in the foreign market as cheaply as it can be sold by the man who imports from India. A great deal has been said within the last few months about the necessity of revising our estimates of costs and selling values of farm products. It has been urged that the cost of production is so much reduced, and so much more of tools and other supplies can be bought with a dollar now than it would purchase a few years ago, that it was idle to expect a return to the prices paid for grain and hog products previous to the recent decline. Such figures as the above not only tend to show the force of the deduction, but indicate that the men who framed it did not go far enough in their estimates of the extent of the change now in progress.—[Utica Herald.

Mrs. Cleveland's Influence.

The President's pretty, young wife has more influence over that self-willed personage that most people really imagine. Not long ago a young man came to this city, and through the influence of fast company engaged in a criminal transaction. It was his first offence. The law officers, however, hunted him down, and he was tried and convicted. Owing to certain extenuating circumstances the presiding judge did not send him to the penitentiary, but sentenced him to eleven months and twenty-nine days in the jail of the district of Columbia. No sooner had his sentence been pronounced than his best friend, his mother, came here from her home, hoping to secure a pardon for her erring boy. She was a venerable, white-haired old lady, with a sweet sad face, and she worked night and day for the object which she sought to attain. One morning she went over to the White House and saw Mrs. Cleveland. The mother's sorrow touched the tender heart of the young wife, for she was fully convinced of the absolute truthfulness of her son's downfall. After the two ladies had talked the matter over, Mrs. Cleveland told the mother to wait a few moments while she laid the case before the President. Mr. Cleveland is busy, as he always is in the daytime, but he had plenty of leisure to listen to the plea of one in whom he had reposed confidence for the remainder of his life. The wife argued the case with the skill of a lawyer, and clinched it by telling her husband that he ought to grant the pardon because it would be right. The President, amused and interested by turns, called for the papers. He went over them carefully, and decided to pardon the young man. Mrs. Cleveland went back and told the good news to the waiting and anxious mother. The pardon was issued that very afternoon, and the mother with her son, now a free man, started for their home in a far-off state, where he will begin life anew.—[Washington Correspondent.

Women More Honest and Conscientious.

Women as a rule make better executors and administrators than men. They are honest and conscientious in the discharge of their duties. During my thirty years' connection with the probate court I have never known but one woman to become short in her settlements, and that was a case of mismanagement and misinterpretation of duty rather than intention. As a rule they are scrupulously honest. Of late it is quite usual for wills to provide that the executors or administrators shall give no bond. I think the law should be amended so as to provide that none but wives should administer upon estates under such conditions. Men in charge of such trusts often defraud estates, but women never do.—[Clerk, in Globe-Democrat.

They Met.

Nothing does one more good than to stand by when two doctors meet and see the courtesy which they bring to the profession.

"Ah! Good morning, doctor."

"Doctor, good morning."

"Fine day, doctor."

"Doctor, it's charming. When did you return?"

"Yesterday, doctor. Say, doctor, how is the horse?"

"All right, doctor—all right. I'm obliged to you."

"Not at all, doctor, not at all."

"Well, doctor, I must be going."

"Same here, doctor."

"Good-by, doctor."

"Doctor, good-by."—[Detroit Free Press.

A Case of Indisposition.

Conversation between two Texas journalists:

"Haven't seen you for the last two days. Have you been indisposed?"

"No it's my washwoman who is indisposed."

"Is she very sick?"

She is not sick at all. It's me who is sick because she is indisposed to bring back my shirt."

"I wish I had a shirt that I could send to the laundry," was the mournful reply of the other journalist, whose coat was buttoned up close to his chin.—[Texas Siftings.

Mr. Tilden's heirs are Mrs. [illegible]

[illegible] I would not be without it in the house." Mrs. C. A. M. Hubbard, North Chili, N. Y. 100 Doses

One Dollar

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, all humors, boils, pimples, general debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney and liver complaints, and all affections caused by impure blood or low condition of the system. Try it.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. I took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. Lovejoy, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. My whole system has been built up and strengthened, my digestion improved, and my head relieved of the bad feeling. I consider it the best medicine I have ever used, and should not know how to do without it." Mary L. Peele, Salem, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass

100 Doses One Dollar.

REV. DR. FREELAND, of Fowlerville, N. Y. writes us that two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine cured his wife of nervousness and sleeplessness. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

IMPOTENCY IN MAN OR WOMAN quickly cured by Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is the great remedy for women and children. 120 doses for $1.00. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

REV. E. J. WHITNEY, of Clarkson, N. Y., says: Gilmore's Wine for Female Weakness stands without a rival. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

WANTED. A case of Female Weakness, General Debility or Nervous Exhaustion that Gilmore's Aromatic Wine will not cure. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MIDDLE AGE MEN who lack vigor and vitality should use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. It gives nutriment to the brain and is a tonic to the physical system. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MRS. I. H. McINTIRE, of Daggetts Mills, Pa., says: "My daughter, aged sixteen, has been declining some time. She used two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. She is now well. I would advise all mothers having girls not to be one day without it. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

LADIES, use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine, it will cure you. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE makes a lady beautiful, because it gives her good, rich blood.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is a positive cure for all those painful complaints so common to all our best female population. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

Never put Miss or Mrs. before your name when you sign it yourself, unless you are writing to a stranger who does not know your sex. Then put "Miss" or "Mrs." before your name, enclosed in parenthesis, thus: (Mrs.)

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guaranteed. 27eow

Of the 1,425 persons treated by M. Pasteur for fang wounds but four have died. No better trumpet of his successes than this bare fact would seem to be needed.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

The English war department has succeeded in making a cannon which cost $1,000,000 and uses $1,000 worth of ammunition every time it is fired.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

It is said that within a radius of 100 miles around Asheville, N. C., every known mineral can be found.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.
As a remedy for Pulmonary Affliections and Scrofulous Diseases.

Dr. IRA M. LANG—a prominent physician in New York, says:—I am greatly pleased with your Emulsion. Have found it very serviceable in above diseases, and it is easily administered on account of its palatableness. 11w4

"Some men can take new furniture and make it look as if it was made a century ago." So can some children.

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

Send for Pamphlet on Female Diseases mailed free, securely sealed. Dr. J. B Marchisi, Utica, N. Y. 20tf.

The entire estate left by Hubert O. Thompson will not exceed in value $2,000.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

Philadelphia institutions have suffered an aggregate loss of $8,000,000 in five years by thieving cashiers, clerks, etc.

THE PRESIDENT

Of the Bank of Waverly, Iowa, says: Sulphur Bitters saved my life. For ten years I suffered from Catarrh and Liver Complaint; I lost forty-five pounds and was growing worse rapidly. I had lost all faith in medicine, but hearing your Bitters so well recommended, I gave them a trial. Six bottles cured me.—[Smith P. Hunt, Waverly, Iowa.

Samson the French executioner, killed 7,143 people in his official career, being 217 a year—rather a busy life.

[illegible]

[illegible] Patent Office [illegible] county, write to
C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,
The old Reliable
UNDERTAKER
AND
FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 511

George Fassell
DEALER IN
Marble and Granite
MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES
Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.
Work Equal to Any.
Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.
Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium
Stock Lager.
☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.
A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.
Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

—COAL.—

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.
The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.
Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.
J. MORE & Co,

ADVERTISERS
can learn the exact cost of any proposed line or advertising in American papers by addressing
Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,
Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

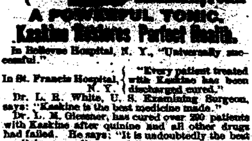
SCOTT'S EMULSION
OF PURE COD LIVER OIL
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda
Almost as Palatable as Milk.
The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.
AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.
Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest Cleanest, Best,
FOR SALE BY
Q. RUST.

[illegible]



A POWERFUL TONIC.
Kaskine Restores Perfect Health.

In Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful."

In St. Francis Hospital, N. Y. { "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Dr. L. R. White, U. S. Examining Surgeon, says: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Gleesner, has cured over 200 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says: "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, M. D., says: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

IS THE ONLY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD THAT DESTROYS THE GERMS OF DISEASE IN THE BLOOD, and permanently cures all diseases arising therefrom, such as Malaria, Fevers, Rheumatism, Biliousness, &c., and IS THE GRANDEST TONIC EVER DISCOVERED. Removes nervous prostration and premature decay by disinfecting the blood, so that the starving nerves are supplied with life giving nourishment, bringing back the VIGOR AND POWER OF YOUTH.

Send for the great list of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine.

Price $1 per bottle. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price. Agents wanted everywhere.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., New York.

For Sale by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y.

Gen. Harney is the oldest man on the register of the United States army, being eighty-six years of age. He is also wealthy. He joined the army in 1818 and has been an active participant in every war since that time.

Our readers are cautioned about buying medicines which are not endorsed by some well known druggist. H. C Gisler, has made a thorough study of Blood diseases, and after a careful investigation, and many practical tests, postively asserts that Acker's Blood Elixir will cure all blood disorders, ridding the system of its impurities, and leaving it strong, vigorous and healthy. he will warront it. It is a certain cure or all skin diseases. 27eow

Miss Maude Banks, daughter of Gen. N. P. Banks, has signed a contract to go "starring" next season. She has been studying for the stage for years, but enters a theatrical career much against her father's will.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Cough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

A deposit of mineral paint at Clifton, Tenn., is thought to be the largest in the world. It is of a Venetian red color and contains millions of tons.

Woman and Her Diseases.

is the title of an interesting illustrated treaties (160 pages) sent post-paid, for 10 cents in stamps. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

The first sugar cane was cultivated in Louisiana in 1722, on the Jesuits' plantation, where stands to-day the office of The New Orleans Times-Democrat.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

A Paris dispatch states that "140,000 new subscribers have applied for the new bonds issued by the Panama canal company."

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Oiniment emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

The butter bill passed the Senate 32 to 28. It places a government tax of 2 cents a pound on oleomargarine.

A BURGLAR CAPTURED.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well-known plumber who resides on Main Street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on his head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station Mr. Wood's watch and wallet was found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism.—[Exchange.

Mouldiness is occasioned by the growth of minute vegetables. Ink, paste, leather and seeds most frequently suffer by it. A clove will prevent it. Any essential oil will answer equally as well.

MOST EXCELLENT.

J. J. Atkins, Chief of Police, Knoxville, Tenn., writes: "My family and I are beneficaries of your most excellent medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for for consumption; having found it to be all that you claim for it, desire to testify to its virtue. My friends to whom I have recommended it, praise it at every opportunity." Dr. King's New Discovery is guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup and every affection of Throat, Chest and Lungs. Trial bottles free at Phillips' Drug Store. Large size $1.00

Mrs. Conant, the wife of the missing editor of Harper's is a proof reader and a translator of foreign languages in that establishment.

The Weaker Sex

are immensely strengthened by the use of Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription," which cures all female derangements, and gives tone to the system. Sold by all druggists.

A prize of $100, offered by a New York illustrated paper for the best idea for a cartoon, was won by Daniel Fanshaw, a Brooklyn street car conductor.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.
ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.
[illegible]

[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible] play a game of "taps and drums,"
[illegible]

They call for "drinks" instead of drams,
In "tumblers," not in glasses;
D. T.'s they call "jim-jams,"
And drink to "girls," not lasses.

Until you once "are joined the gang,"
And learned the situation,
It's very 'ard to get the 'ang
Of their pronunciation.
—[New Zealand Paper.

He—"Ha! ha! ha! Here is a good hit in this paper at the female sex."

She—"What does it say about the women?"

He—"It says that more than half the women in this country are crazy."

She (with a sigh)—"I expect that's so. There are a great many married women in this country."—[Texas Siftings.

Tobacco leaves—The cigar stumps that are thrown away.—[Boston Post.

"I understand you called me a liar yesterday in so many words."

"Well, yes, I did."

"Er—would you mind telling me how many?"—[Tid-Bits.

"Home again! Not dead nor injured? You even smile! Is it—can it be true!" Thus spoke the umpire's wife. To be continued.—[Philadelphia Call.

"Irrigate me!" is what they say to a Rhode Island druggist who is too short-sighted to notice a wink.—[Burlington Free Press.

So Squire wrote that letter as a joke. Now, if the courts would convict Squire just as a joke, how tremendously funny the whole thing would be.—[Boston Post.

"Lunches thrown in," is a prominent motto in some localities. Anybody who will take the trouble to watch the lunch counter will admit that they are.—[Burlington Free Press.

A scientist says that ducks are large eaters. This fellow must keep an ice-cream saloon.—[Yonkers Statesman.

"Paul," said his mamma, "will you go softly into the parlor and see if grandpa is asleep?" "Yes, mamma," whispered Paul on his return, "he is all asleep but his nose."—[N. Y. Sun.

She—Come and sit on the sofa, Henry. He—I would, Jennie, only I'm engaged to three girls now, and I don't want a fourth to get interested in me.—Tid-Bits.

We never yet saw a woman so broken-hearted by a love affair or crossed in spirit by a rival's bonnet that she wouldn't giggle if she saw a man's hat blown off.—[Burlington Free Press.

A rural journal says:—"Mr. Jones called to see us yesterday and laid an egg on our table." Mr. Jones can have $50 a week by applying to Mr. Barnum, who will bill him as the "Only Human Hen."—[Lowell Citizen.

"I am perfectly at home in the water," said an old toper as he plunged into the surf. "That is where you have the advantage over water" was the unfeeling reply of a by-stander who knew him.—[Boston Post.

Little Fanny Dempsey, who was suffering from toothache, remarked to her mother: "Oh, mamma, how lucky you are! When you have the toothache you can take them out.—[Burlington Free Press.

"Mercy on me, Mary, where have you been? The back of your dress is covered with dust. You have not been sitting on the front steps I hope?"

"No, ma, I couldn't get the piano stool high enough so I put the big Bible on it."—[Topeka Lance.

Keeper—"Stand back there, gents! that monkey is vicious and migh chaw you."

De Twirliger—Aw! no fear, deah boy. The beggah won't claw me.

Keeper—"I don't believe he will Them monkeys are very peaceful with their own kind.—[Philadelphia Call.

Jimmy Flynn—"Say, Mickey Hickey, let us play dat I'm a policeman and you must ask me the way to the city hall, and then I must club the life out of you.

Mickey Hickey—"Naw I won't."

Jimmy Flynn—"Oh, pshaw! you never wan't to have no fun."—[Judge.

Good Advice—"And you say Willie June hit you on the head?" Yes, pa; but just wait till I get a good chance at him. I'll paralyze him." "Oh, Bertie, you musn't show such a belligerent spirit. I think if you'd hid him as hard on the head as he did you it would make things even. You must learn to govern yourself, my son."—Tid-Bits.

"Pa, please do me one favor?" "You want a little monkey, don't you, Johnny?" "No, I don't a monkey." "What is it then?" "I want you to come home tight again like you did last 4th of July You are a heap funnier than a monkey when you are tight."—Texas Siftings.

Don't you know how many three times ten is? Now, Harry," said the teacher, if one loaf of bread cost ten cents, wouldn't three loaves cost thirty cents." "May be so at your bakery, but we deal with a baker that gives three for a quarter."—Chicago Tribune.

Two sons of the Emerald isle sauntered up Tremont street recently and halted in front of the cyclorama of Gettysburg. "I say, Pat, do you moind the name on that building? queried one. "Faith I do, but, be gorra, I can't make it out was the reply. "I guess it must be a jude's name for a gas house," said Pat, and off they went, happy at the solution of the problem.—[Norfolk County Gazette.

It does make a letter carrier howling mad, this blistering, breathless hot weather, to pick up his favorite paper for a few brief minutes on the sultriest morning of the week and light the first thing on a long, able editorial, entitled: "We do not walk enough."—Brooklyn Eagle.

In Iowa, a commercial tourist drops his gripsack in a hotel of a prohibition town, he registers and asks: "In which room did you say I would find my letters?" "I will show you myself," says the landlord, as they disappeared up stairs.—[Brick Pomeroy's Democrat.

"I have no appetite," complain many sufferers. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives an appetite and enables the stomach to perform its duty.

[illegible]

[illegible] with [illegible] my wife insisted that I use Thomas' Eclectric Oil. The first teaspoonful relieved me." S. H. Perkins, Creek Centre, N.Y. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is also a Tiptop external application for rheumatism, cuts, scalds, burns, bites, bruises, etc. When visiting the druggist, ask him what he knows of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil; if he has been long in the drug trade, be sure he will speak highly of it.

SOLD EVERYWHERE.
50c.-THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL-$1.00
FOSTER, MILBURN & CO., Buffalo, N. Y.

SULPHUR BITTERS
THE GREAT
German Remedy.
TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells, depend on SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.	Ladies in delicate health, who are all run down, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.
The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using SULPHUR BITTERS.	$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.
Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.	Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.
General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use SULPHUR BITTERS, and you will not be troubled.	SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.
Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.	SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

OVER WORKED Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00. A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ANTICHRIST!

ST. John wrote "Ye have heard that Antichrist shall come." The prophecies on that mysterious subject in the book of Revelation and in Daniel are fully explained in a commentary entitled "CHRIST ON THE THRONE OF POWER AND ANTICHRIST." The old interpretation is followed, except that the vast progress of modern times enables us to see farther into prophecy than formerly. Now can be seen signs of the coming of that formidable "Army of 200,000 thousands breathing out of their mouths smoke, fire and brimstone." No age before this has made such use of the mouth in teaching, lecturing and telephoning; nor of the press, in newspapers, books and pamphlets, for weal or woe. A few more explosions of dynamite like that in Chicago and a farther exposure of the hidden depravity of the Anarchists, may enable men to see signs of the speedy coming of "The Man of Sin" to whom John gave the name of Antichrist. It is a book of 267 pages octavo, in large type, sent by mail for $1.25. An Agent Wanted in every Town. Address
REV. F. G. BROWN,
Rochester, New York.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE
BEST IN THE WORLD
☞Get the Genuine. Sold Everywhere.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 981 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO. 10 Spruce St., N. Y

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ASTHMA AND CATARRH. Dr. H. W. Reed's Celebrated Asthma and Catarrh Relief, the most effectual and sure cure yet discovered. Samples sent free to all who ask. Fifty cent and dollar boxes sent by mail. A. ETHRIDGE, Proprietor, Rome, N. Y.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure By JOHN H. McALVIN, Lowell, Mass., 14 years tax collector. Sent free to any address.

MOTH-WAX
KILLS THE MOTH
and the old Moth Miller. Sample cake by mail 6 cents.
W. H. H. CHILDS,
73 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

FRENCH'S HOTEL.
CITY HALL SQUARE, NEW YORK,
Opposite City Hall and the Post Office.
This Hotel is one of the most complete in its appointments and furniture of ANY HOUSE in New York City and is conducted on the European Plan.
Rooms only One Dollar per day. Half minute's walk from Brooklyn Bridge and Elevated R. R. All lines of cars pass the door. Most convenient Hotel in New York for Merchants to stop at. Dining Rooms, Cafes and Lunch Counter replete with all the luxuries at moderate prices. 8y1

WRITE TO N. A. MILLER, Elmira, N. Y. President of the Elmira School of Commerce and ALLEN BUSINESS COLLEGE, for a catalogue of the Leading Business Training Institution of America. Gold Prize $50.

3,000 AGENTS WANTED for the NEW WORK.
GLADSTONE—PARNELL AND THE GREAT IRISH STRUGGLE.
By the eminent author, Hon. T. P. O'Connor, M. P. for Liverpool, and R. M. McWade, Esq. Endorsed by Hon. C. S. Parnell. A thrilling history of Irish oppression and the mighty struggle for Home Rule that is rocking the British Empire to its centre; also, Biographies of the leaders. An entirely new work from high authority, of all absorbing interest, richly illustrated, and an immense demand. ☞Apply quickly to
W. A. HOUGHTON & CO.,
[illegible] St., New York.

$100 PER MONTH to good salesmen [illegible] IMPERIAL [illegible] CO., [illegible] N. Y.

[illegible] REDUCED.

[illegible] Oswego—At the Court House [illegible] third [illegible]

Pulaski—At the law office of [illegible] in Pulaski, [illegible] in March, May, June, [illegible]

Fulton—At the office of [illegible], in Fulton, on the second Tuesday in January, April, July and October.

Mexico—At the office of Hon. [illegible] in Mexico, on the third Friday in April and July, and the fourth Friday in October.

Central Square—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 28th and September 29th.

Parish—At A. H. & J. S. [illegible] law office, April 30th, July 29th and Sept. 30th.

OSWEGO COUNTY COURT APPOINTMENTS.

It is hereby ordered that the terms of the County Court and Court of Sessions of the County of Oswego, be held, and the same are hereby appointed to be held, until further order, at the time and places below stated:

Second Monday of March, Court House, Pulaski.
First " " May, " " Oswego.
First " " Sept., " " Pulaski.
First " " Dec., " " Oswego.

Trial jurors are required to attend each term, but no Grand Jury is required to attend.
Dated at Mexico, Oswego Co., N. Y., July 27, 1886.
M. L. WRIGHT,
Oswego County Judge.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 19th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.
Dated May 12th. 1886.
CAROLINE L. ALFRED,
Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against F. D. VanWagenen, late of the Village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the office of F. D. VanWagenen, No. 10, First St., Fulton, N. Y., in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 13th day of August, 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.
Dated Fulton, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1886.
ANN VANWAGENEN, Executrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.
Dated June 2, 1886.
LUCY K. HUBBARD,
Executrix.

FORECLOSURE SALE.
SUPREME COURT—OSWEGO COUNTY.

The Fulton Savings Bank vs. Letson LaDu and others. By virtue of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action at a Special Term of the Supreme Court held at the Court House, in the city of Syracuse, Onondaga county, N. Y., on the 5th day of June, 1886, and duly filed and entered in the clerk's office of Oswego county on the 7th day of June, 1886, I the undersigned Referee duly appointed in and by said judgment and decree to make such sale will sell at public auction to the highest bidder at the law office of Piper & VanWagenen, in the village of Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y., on the 4th day of Sept., 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day the mortgaged premises in and by said judgment and decree directed to be sold and described therein as follows, to wit.: all that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Volney, county of Oswego and State of New York upon Lot number seventy-five (75) of the 17th Township of Scriba's Patent, Beginning at the north-west corner of O. Cone's division of 52 34-100 acres and running thence south 2 deg. east along the west line of said Cone's 52 34-100 acres thirty-seven (37) chains ninety-four (94) links to a stake, thence north 89 degrees west parallel to the south line of said Lot 75 fourteen (14) chains, fifteen (15) links to a stake, thence north 2 degrees west along a line of marked trees seventeen (17) chains ninety-four (94) links to a stake in south line of Samuel A. Williams' 30 acres laid off from said lot 75, thence south 89 degrees east along the south line of said Williams' 30 acres two (2) chains sixty-three (63) links to a stake at the south-east corner of said Williams' 30 acres; thence north 2 degrees west along the east line of said Williams' 30 acres twenty (20) chains to a stake on the north line of said lot 75; thence south 89° east along said north line eleven (11) chains ninety-three (93) links to the place of beginning, containing 50 acres of land—excepting however from the above described 50 acres a parcel of ten (10) acres from the north end thereof heretofore conveyed to O. Cone and a parcel of 8 8-10 acres from the south end thereof heretofore conveyed to Alfred Hudgin and excepting also a parcel of three (3) acres heretofore released from the operations of said mortgage from the west side of said mortgaged premises and conveyed by said Letson LaDu and wife to Orville Dunsmore by deed recorded in Oswego county clerk's office, in Liber 189 of deeds, at page 224, leaving 28 2-10 acres be the same more or less.
Dated July 20, 1886.
N. N. STRANAHAN,
Referee.
PIPER & VANWAGENEN,
Attys for Pl'ff,
Fulton, N. Y.

Five Gold and Two Silver Medals,
awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.
The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks.
Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "DR. WARNER'S CORALINE" is printed on inside of steel cover.
FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING MERCHANTS.
WARNER BROTHERS,
353 Broadway, New York City

HAY FEVER is attended by an inflamed condition of the lining membrane of the nostrils, tearducts and throat. An acrid mucous is secreted, accompanied with a burning sensation severe spasms of sneezing, frequent attacks of headache, watery and inflamed eyes. Cream Balm can be depended upon to give relief at once and cures.
A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. Circulars free.
ELY BROTHERS,
Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

ADVERTISERS [illegible] LORD & THOMAS

[illegible]
PLASTIC PAINT
[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

[illegible]NETEENTH YEAR.

"The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image."

[illegible].25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 25, 1886. VOLUME 19—NUMBER 16

Single Copies Three Cents

Let the Cloth be White.

Go set the table, Mary, and let the cloth be white!
The hungry city children are comin' here to-night,
The children from the city, with features pinched an' spare,
Are coming here to get a breath of God's untainted air.

They came from out the dungeons where they with want were chained,
From places dark and dismal, by tears of sorrow stained;
From where a thousand shadows are murdering all the light;
Set well the table, Mary dear, and let the cloth be white!

They ha' not seen the daisies made for the hearts behoof;
They never heard the rain-drops upon a cottage roof;
They do not know the kisses of zephyrs an' of breeze,
They never rambled wild an' free beneath the forest trees.

The food that they ha' eaten was spoiled by others greeds;
The very air their lungs breathed was full of poison seeds;
The very air their souls breathed was full of wrong and spite;
Go set the table, Mary, dear, and let the cloth be white!

The fragrant water-lilies ha' never smiled at them;
They never plucked a wild flower from off its dewy stem;
They never saw a greensward that they could safely pass
Unless they heeded well the sign that says "Keep off the grass."

God bless the men and women of noble brain an' heart;
Who go down in the folk-swamps an' take the children's part!—
Those hungry, cheery children that keeps us in their debt
And never fail to give us more of pleasure than they get!

Set the table Mary, let naught be scant or small;
The little ones are coming: have plenty for 'em all,
There's nothing we should furnish except the very best
To those that Jesus looked upon an' called to him an' blessed.
—[Will Carleton.

THE OLD MEXICAN WAR.

Condensed History of the War of 1846-7.

IN 1835 the people of Texas, mostly colonists from the United States, finding the despotism of Mexico, of which country Texas formed a part, intolerable, rose in rebellion and after about half a year's fighting achieved their independence. General Samuel Houston, the most conspicuous Texan soldier, became president of the new republic in September, 1836. Six months later the United States acknowledged the independence of Texas. Mexico did not relinquish its claim to Texas, although making no further formal effort to subjugate it. Then, as now the Sabine river formed the eastern boundary of the Texan republic and the Rio Grande the western. After solicitation on the part of Texas it was annexed to the United States in 1245, the act of congress which brought it about being signed by President Tyler on March 1st of that year, three days before the expiration of his term of office. This led to the war between the United States and Mexico.

James K. Polk, who succeeded Tyler as president, had been nominated and elected because of his advocacy of annexation. One of his first official acts was to send General Zachary Taylor, with a force of 4,000 men, to occupy the territory between the Neuces river and the Rio Grande, in Texas. The United States contended that the latter river formed Texas' westerly boundary, while Mexico insisted that the former, about 100 miles to the eastward, constituted the westerly line. Taylor reached the Rio Grande, opposite Matamoras, on March 28, 1846, and erected Fort Brown. The Mexicans also began fortifying their side of the river. General Ampudia, the Mexican commander, ordered Taylor to retire beyond the Neuces, saying that a non-compliance would be regarded as a declaration of war. Taylor refused to fall back, and said that if Mexico insisted on a conflict the United States would not avoid it. A collision occured, in which the Mexicans were the aggressors, President Polk asked congress for men and money to carry on the war forced upon the country by Mexico. Congress at once appropriated $10,000,000, which was deemed a large sum for any such purpose in those days, and empowered the president to call for 50,000 volunteers. This force was quickly raised, but before they were placed in the field hostilities had actually begun.

General Arista, who succeeded Ampudia as commander of the Mexican army on the Rio Grande, crossed that [illegible] into Texas on May 8, 1846, with [illegible] soldiers and attacked Taylor, who had only 2,300 men. The Mexicans were defeated with great loss. This was the battle of Palo Alto, the first regular engagement in the Mexican war. Ampudia retired to Resaca de la Palma, where he was attacked the next day by Taylor, and driven across the river into Mexico. Taylor was then promoted to the rank of major general, invaded Mexico and occupied Matamoras. Receiving reinforcements, he began his march [illegible] the interior of Mexico in September and on the 24th of that month after [illegible] fighting which consumed several [illegible], he captured Monterey. The [illegible] force in that battle was 6,625, [illegible] volunteers, while the Mexicans [illegible] regulars. [illegible]

States. The victorious career of the Americans was continued by 1,000 Missouri volunteers, under command of Colonel Doniphan, making a descent on the city of Chihuahua and capturing it.

Fifteen days after the battle of Beuna Vista, General Scott, with 15,000 men, invaded Vera Cruz, the principal seaport of Mexico, defended by its strongest fortress, which was soon captured, Then began another series of American victories as brilliant and conspicuous as those won by General Taylor 500 miles to the northward a few months before. That at Cerro Gordo took place on April 18th, followed by the capture of Jalapa on the 10th, Perote on the 22d, and Puebla on May 15th. Being re-inforced, he stormed and captured Contreras and Cherubusco on August 20th. An armistice ending without result, Chapultepec was taken by assault on September 13th, and on the following day the American army entered the City of Mexico, the capital of the country, and flung the stars and stripes from the top of the national palace. This ended hostilities.

The Americans, whether under Taylor or Scott, had been very successful in every battle fought, although confronted with superior numbers, in a country which interposed great natural obstacles to the march of an invading army. Considering the results attained and the difficulties surmounted with the means at command, those campaigns should rank with the most conspicuous exploits recorded in the annals of war, and deserve a place in history beside Alexander's subjugation or Asia, Cæsar's conquest of Gaul, Bonaparte's overthrow of Prussia, Nathaniel Greene's campaign against Cornwallis and Sherman's march to the sea.

On February 2d, 1848, about five months after Scott entered the Mexican capital, the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo was negotiated, and a few weeks later Mexico was evacuated by the American troops. Mexico, in this treaty, conceded the Rio Grande as the western boundary of Texas, and gave New Mexico and California to the United States, our country paying Mexico $15,000,000 and assuming Mexico's debts to American citizens, providing those debts should not exceed $3,500,00, Thus ended the third and last war waged by the United States against a foreign power.

The principal of the public debt was $15,550,202 on July 1, 1846, which had grown to $47,044,862 on July 1, 1848, an increase of $31,494,660, nearly all of which growth was caused by the war.

AT STRASBOURG.

[Special to The Times.]

We have reasons to be thankful for many things that we enjoy in this world and especially are we grateful for the privilege of traveling abroad in a country so mature with age, so beautiful and so full of romatic history. We are in Strasbourg, "the wondrously beautiful city," as it has been styled of old, and as we observe the odd construction of some of the very old buildings, the peculiar but picturesque dress of the Alsatian and Baden peasants that swarm the streets on market days and become more acquainted with the history of the city and people, we are much impressed with the truth of the saying, that the great attraction of the city is the cathedral and clock, together with the Cologne cathedral, the Minster of Strasbourg ranges as the noblest creation of mediaeval architecture existing in Germany. It is built out of the red sand stone of the Vosges, which by its durability preserves even to this day the finest sculptures as if they had just left the sculptor's hands.

Tradition tells us that upon the ground where the present cathedral stands stood an old heathen temple consecrated to Hercules, which was destroyed some time in the 4th century. The present building was completed in 1265 and though it has been considerably damaged by war, especially by the bombardment of 1870, it has been repaired and to-day is in a fine state of preservation. As far back as the year 1352 may be traced the existence of a celebrated astronomical clock in Strasbourg cathedral. At the beginning of the 16th century the first clock ceased to work, and a second one was coustructed, the machinery being destroyed in 1789. For the third time the municipality of Strasbourg decided in 1836 that a new astronomical clock should be placed in the frame work of the old one, and entrusted Mr. Schwilgree, a watchmaker of Strasbourg with the task, who completed it within the space of four years.—[Van V.

The simplest and best regulator of the Disordered Liver in the world, are Carter's Little Liver Pills. They give prompt relief in Sick Headache, Dizziness, Nausea, &c.; prevent and cure Constipation and Piles; remove Sallowness and Pimples from the Complexion, and are mild and gentle in their operation on the bowels. Carter's Little Liver Pills are small and easy to take as sugar. One pill a dose. Price 25 cents.

The first female clerk employed by the government was Miss Jennie Douglass, who was appointed to the Treasury department by General Spinner in 1862.

Tired, Languid, Dull,

Exactly expresses the condition of thousands of people at this season. The depressive effects of warm weather, and the weak condition of the body, can only be corrected by the use of a reliable [illegible] blood purifier like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Why suffer longer when a [illegible] is at hand? Take Hood's [illegible]. It will give you [illegible] in health, strength and [illegible]

Don'ts that Wives Should Remember.

Don't put a long hair on the soap or in his tooth brush—purposely.

Don't mend his hosiery with cotton having knots in it bigger than a pea.

Don't communicate unpleasant news or ask a favor before eating. The heart is not easily touched when the stomach is empty.

Don't gather up all his receipts and notes that he has put away carefully on the sitting room table, and tuck them in the fire the moment that his back is turned.

Don't ever tell a man he has pretty legs. Men who have been known to bear up under facial compliments, fail completely when they realize their legs are notably good.

Don't monopolize every hook in the closet. Graciously tender him one nail for his very own—and then in mercy hang your Mother Hubbard, your pelerine, your shopping bag and your bonnet in some other place.

Don't waste your breath in useless vituperation against his chum. Cultivate the chum yourself—ostensibly—when your husband is not around, and matters will assume a different aspect.

Don't leave the stove handle on the red hot stove, and don't ask him to empty the ash hod. Draw the line on the ash hod, and don't run a free horse to death.

Don't scold him because he leaves ashes in his pipe. One of the privileges of a married man is to leave an old pipeful of ashes in just the position to empty the contents on the window sill or the mantel the moment it is touched.

Don't ever tell a man he is good looking. Some other woman will probably sometime, and in that case he won't know that her opinion concurs with yours. He carries a pocket hand glass now, and will shortly become addicted to Pejamas.

Don't ask him to walk the floor with the baby half the night. A man who tramps industriously around a billiard table three nights in the week, or buys an admission ticket to the opera, can't be expected to be on duty at home the other three nights. Have mercy on him and give the man an opportunity to recuperate.

Don't be explicit in giving directions. When you ask him to go up stairs for your pocketbook, tell him it is either on the table or in the further corner of the left-hand side of the upper bureau drawer, or in the pocket of your brown dress in the closet. He will have no trouble in finding it—if you tell him just where it is, especially the pocket.—[Chicago News.

TWENTY YEARS A SUFFERER.

Jordan, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—I have been afflicted with Rheumatism for the past twenty years, and have been laid up with it regularly for the past ten years. A short time ago I was confined to my bed with it, and sent for a bottle of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and when I had used the first bottle, went after the second bottle myself. I have tried so many good things, with no good results, that I can recommend this, in the highest terms, as I believe your remedy is the best in existence.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. MARY DOCKSTADER,
Farmer's Hotel,
Black Rock, N. Y.

Dear Sirs:—This is to certify that I have been afflicted with rheumatism and Neuralgia for the past twenty-five year and at times so bad that I was not expected to live. I have used Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy; and have never used anything in all my experience that has helped me so much. I can recommend it to all afflicted with the above disease.

MRS. MARY MAGUIRE,
1437 Niagara Street.

Syracuse, N. Y.

Gents:—For the past five months I have been troubled with Rheumatism, at times very badly. I procured some of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy of your agent, and in a few days was entirely free from all pain, and continuing its use for several weeks I am entirely cured and take pleasure in recommending it to all who are troubled with Rheumatism or general debility.

Yours truly,
MRS. E. S. HINKLEY,
203 East Genesee St.

Ask your druggist for Dr. Pardee's Remedy, and take no other. Price, $1 per bottle; six bottles, $5.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

The Omaha World predicts that it will be a splendid courting season this year in Iowa, because the onion crop is 100,000 bushels short.

State Elections in 1886.

Alabama elects congressmen on November 2.

Arkansas elects state officers and legislature on September 6; congressmen on November 2.

California elects state officers, legislature and congressmen on November 2.

Colorado elects state officers, legislature and congressmen on November 2.

Connecticut elects state officers, legislature and congressmen on November 2.

Delaware elects governor, legislature and congressmen on November 2,

Florida elects legislature and congressmen on November 2 and votes upon the proposed new constitution of the state, which was framed by the convention which met in 1885.

Georgia elects state officers and legislature on October 5; congressmen on November 2.

Illinois elects minor state officers, legislature and congressmen on November 2, and votes upon a proposed amendment to the constitution of the state to abolish the contract system in the prisons of the state.

Indiana elects minor state officers and congressmen on November 2.

Iowa elects minor state officers and congressmen on November 2.

Kansas elects state officers, legislature and congressmen on November 2.

Kentucky elects congressmen on November 2.

Louisiana elects congressmen on November 2.

Maine elects governor, legislature and congressmen on September 13.

Maryland elects congressmen on November 2.

Massachusetts elects state officers, legislature and congressmen on November 2.

Michigan elects state officers, legislature and congressmen on November 2.

Minnesota elects state officers, legislature and congressmen on November 2, and votes upon a proposed amendment to the constitution of the state to facilitate the erection of county and school buildings.

Mississippi elects congressmen on November 2.

Missouri elects minor state officers and congressmen of November 2.

Nebraska elects state officers, legislature and congressmen on November 2.

Nevada elects state officers, legislature and congressmen on November 2

New Hampshire elects governor, legislature and congressmen on November 2.

New Jersey elects Governor, legislature and congressmen on November 2.

New York elects judge of the court of appeals, assembly men and congressmen on November 2, and votes upon the question of holding a convention to revise the constitution of the state.

North Carolina elects justices of the supreme court, legislature and congressmen on November 2.

Ohio elects minor state officers and congressmen on November 2.

Oregon elects state officers, legislature and congressmen on June 7.

Pennsylvania elects state officers, legislature and congressmen on November 2.

Rhode Island elected state officers and legislature on April 7, and ratified the proposed amendments to the constitution of the state, one of which prohibits the sale of intoxicating liquor, and the other admits foreign-born Union ex-soldiers and sailors to citizenship. Elects congressmen on November 2.

South Carolina elects state officers, legislature and congressmen on November 2.

Tennessee elects governor, legislature and congressmen on November 2.

Texas elects state officers, legislature and congressmen on November 2.

Vermont elects state officers, legislature and congressmen on September 7.

Virginia elects congressmen on November 2.

West Virginia elects legislature and congressmen on November 2.

Wisconsin elects state officers, legislature and congressmen on November 2.

THE PROPER THING.

Sleeveless velvet jackets are worn with lace dresses.

Gathered vests from collar to waist line are very stylish.

Feathers of any kind, except it be ostrich tips, are gone by in the fashionable millinery of the day, and it is especially bad form to wear stuffed birds on the hat.

Japanese curtains in figured silks are used for work aprons by young ladies. A large pocket holds the work and crewels, while bows of ribbon finish the apron.

Aprons, over-skirts, chemisettes, and mantles have lengthwise tucks run into them, through which ribbon is drawn and arranged in loops at the end.

The Swiss fichu is a pretty novelty. It is made of flower-brocaded India Mousselaine de sole, or pale tinted crape. Sometimes delicate colored surah is chosen.

Standing collars are made of folds of silk muslin or of point d'esprit, and have ribbon only a fourth of an inch wide passed through them and tied in tiny bows in front. Sometimes five of these bows are in front of one collar.

The Yum Yum costume is said to be composed of a skirt laid in kilt pl[illegible] half an inch wide, an apron of [illegible] goods, laid crosswise with a wide sash, a pleated waist and a collar [illegible]

Fulton, August 31st, '86.

THE ONLY SHOW COMING!

Largest and Best.

MATCH IT WHO CAN
ITS PARALLEL CANNOT BE PRODUCED!

FRANK A. ROBBINS' NEW SHOWS!
Museum, Two-Ring Circus,
AND
MONSTER MENAGERIE!
WILL EXHIBIT AT
Fulton, Tuesday, Aug. 31st.

A unique attraction newly added to by the engagement of the
CHEVILIER IRA B. PAINE,
The Master Shot of the World.
Who will give exhibitions of his Marvelous Skill and Precision with Rifle, Pistol and Shot Gun. The Chevalier is the only person in the world who ever accomplished the astounding feat of hitting 1000 Glass Balls in rapid succession, without missing one. This he has succeeded in doing times without number, besides performing other feats equally difficult, and which the world is challenged to equal.

WONDERS OF WONDERS!
A NEW SENSATION, which Must be Seen to be believed.
A BAND of ELEPHANT MUSICIANS!
A Feature never before Exhibited, and which cost Mr. Robbins $125,000.
They play on all kinds of Musical Instruments—Cornet, Trombone, Horn, Cymbals, Drum, &c.—producing a perfect Hurricane of Harmony and a Cyclone of Delight.

150 CELEBRATED ARTISTS!
Will appear in the Two Rings and on the Elevated Stage, including the most Artistic LADY BARE-BACK RIDERS!
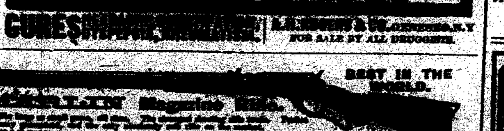
WORLD-RENOWNED
Equestrians, Gymnasts and Acrobats,
THE SENSATIONAL ESCALON VOLANTE!
A CORPS OF FUNNY CLOWNS!
THE MOTLEY CREW OF MOMUS!
☞ A MONSTER MENAGERIE! ☜
Replete with rare Representatives of the Animal Kingdom.
A HERD OF 13 ELEPHANTS!
Taught to perform the most intricate and difficult of Military Evolutions.
A COLONY OF MONKEYS!
THE RAREST OF ALL COMICAL ACTORS, THE
LUDICROUS CLOWN ELEPHANT
The only Elephantine Comedian in the World that dons the Motley.
TWO FULL BANDS OF MUSIC
Including O. P. PERRY'S ENGLISH BAND, from the Horse Guards.
☞ A Grand Free Street Parade! ☜
Of Gorgeous Magnificence will be given at 10 A.M. Daily, Starting from the Place of Exhibition and proceeding through the principal streets. In this splendid Processional Display will be seen a long line of Gilded Chariots, unique Vehicles of novel design, Open Cages of Wild Beasts, a herd of 13 Elephants, Camels, Ponies, Jubilee Singers and Two Bands of Music.—Don't Fail to see it, as it costs you nothing.
TWO PERFORMANCES DAILY. Doors Open at 1 and 6 o'clock, P. M.
Which allows you one hour to see the interesting wonders in the Museum and Menagerie before the Circus Performances begin.
EXCURSIONS ON ALL RAILROADS at REDUCED RATES.
FULL PARTICULARS CAN BE HAD OF YOUR RAILROAD AGENT.
Admission to All, 50 Cents. Children, under 9 years, 25 Cents.
The New York, Ontario & Western Railway Co. will sell Round Trip Tickets from the following Stations at the following LOW RATES, which is equal to a
Ticket to the Big Show Free,
From Pennellville to Fulton and Return 35cts. From Caughdenoy to Fulton and Return 50cts. From Central Square to Fulton and Return 60cts. From West Monroe to Fulton, and Return 75cts. Constantia and Return 90cts.

A Leading Popular Rochester Business University Commercial School,
By reason of the superiority of its facilities for imparting a thoroughly practical knowledge of commercial matters, and for promoting the substantial welfare of its pupils, this has become one of the largest and most conspicuous schools of its kind on the continent. Catalogue Free.
F. E. ROGERS, Secretary. L. L. WILLIAMS, President.
12w5

THE GREAT APERIENT
[illegible]GERS'
CRAPOLINE
CURES [illegible] FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.



BEST IN THE WORLD.
MARLIN Magazine Rifle.

Just Received at the
NEW PARLOR DRUG STORE
A full line of Harrison Bros. & Co's
READY MIXED PAINTS.
They are noted the world over for durability, ease of application, and firmness of finish. Call and examine them. Select what you need and carry them off at a price that will astonish you. I keep over sixty shades of colors, varying from the tint of a Ladies Cheek to the appropriate color for a Horse Barn.
I have further "elevated the standing of the Oswego County drug trade," by adding to my regular line of Fine Drugs
—AND—
MEDICINES,
a beautiful modern
--SODA FOUNTAIN,--
At a cost of $2,000.00. Put on your spectacles and step in and test it for yourselves. Remember the spot, day and date.
☞ The New Drug Store. ☜
H. C. GIESLER.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
☞ Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

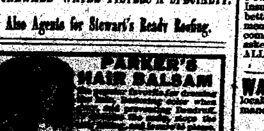
Scranton Coal!
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,
Promptly Delivered!
At the Following Prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

LUMBER! LUMBER!
I have the Largest Assortment of
Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER
In this county Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE
SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c.
Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere
Q. RUST.
37tf

HART BROS.,
—DEALERS IN—
Vitrified Glazed Stone Ware
—AND—
PORTLAND CEMENT SEWER PIPE
—AND—
DRAIN TILE,
With all necessary Fittings and connections.
FIRE BRICK, CLAY AND SAND.
Stone Ware, and Cement, Chimneys and Tops.
Fire Bricks of desired shapes, furnished on application.
STONEWARE WATER FILTERS A SPECIALTY.
Also Agents for Stewart's Ready Roofing.



Business Cards.

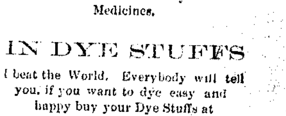
MORRILL BROS, Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 3 First street.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y.
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts. Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious Sample Rooms.



CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE
Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing
SICK
Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured
HEAD
Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head
ACHE
Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.
Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.
CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.
Prices Below all Competition
On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring, Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.
IN DYE STUFFS
I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at
R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.
A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.
No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.
Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods—and prices below all Competition.
48tf R. E. PHILLIPS.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
Opposite Gas Works,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞ Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.
☞ Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

INSURANCE SOLICITORS
New working Fire, Life, Industrial or Assessment Insurance, and other solicitors who desire to better themselves, can secure profitable engagements with N. Y. State Relief Association. Large commission and interest in renewals; also premiums asked for satisfactory work. Address J. B. ALLANSON, Sec'y., 41 State Street, Albany, N. Y.

WANTED—LADY Active and intelligent to represent in her own locality an old firm. References required. Permanent position and good salary.
GAY & BROTHERS, 14 Barclay St. N. Y.

JUST THE THING!
CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPE.

[illegible] TON TIMES
[illegible] EVERY WEDNESDAY
[illegible]

[illegible] One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents a year in advance. An additional charge of ten cents for postage on papers going out of Oswego county.

Communications must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to The Times,

F. D. VanWagenen,
Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[Thackeray.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

Read These Offers.

First offer—Desiring to further increase the subscription list of The Times we have made arrangements with the publishers by which we can furnish the weekly Detroit Free Press for four months free to any new subscriber to The Times. In order that our old subscribers may have the same benefits, we will present four months' subscription to the Detroit Free Press to all who pay their subscription accounts to The Times in full to date, and one year in advance.

The Detroit Free Press is famous the world over as the most original, piquant and entertaining of American newspapers. Its humorous character sketches and witty sayings are universally copied.

Harper's Monthly for August says: "C. B. Lewis. (M. Quad), is perhaps the most unique and genuine humorist this country has produced. He is naturally and spontaneously funny, and his writings are of universal relish, as is witnessed by the wide popularity of The Detroit Free Press."

As a family paper, The Free Press cannot be excelled.

Second offer—All new subscribers to The Times and all old subscribers who will pay their subscription accounts in full to date, and one year in advance, will be presented with one year's subscription to the American Farmer, a sixteen-page Agricultural Magazine, published by E. A. K. Hackett, at Fort Wayne, Indiana, and which is rapidly taking rank as one of the leading Agricultural publications of the country. It is devoted exclusively to the interests of the Farmer, Stock Breeder, Dairyman, Gardener and their household, and every species of industry connected with that great portion of the people of the world, the Farmers. The subscription price is one dollar per year. Farmers cannot well get along without it. It puts new ideas into their minds and teaches them how to farm with profit to themselves.

Subscribe for The Times at $1.25 per year and take your choice of these two excellent offers.

Subscriptions under this offer will be accepted for only a limited length of time. Subscribe at once. Send orders to The Times, Fulton, N. Y., or call at our office.

BASE BALL.

The Rochesters play at Oswego to-day.

The standing of the International league up to date is in the following order, Utica, Toronto, Rochester, Hamilton, Syracuse, Buffalo, Binghamton, Oswego.

Syracuse has won but one game in Buffalo.

Rochester beat Utica for the first time last week.

Gilligan has caught in 54 games this season, Bennett in 51 and Flint in 45.

Sweeney, late of the Syracuse Stars is playing first base for the Haverlys of San Francisco.

Kerins of Louisville, has put out over seven hundred men this season.

Shindle is now considered the best player in the Utica team.

Green of the Oswegos is the first pitcher in the International league to dispose of a club without a hit.

Morrison Hamilton's pitcher, is said to have the best drop ball of any pitcher in the International League.

The recent record of Tomney, of Syracuse, at short field, fourteen chances without an error, has not been beaten this season.

Devlin the left handed pitcher, formerly of the New York, now of the Stars, is doing good work when properly supported. Buffalo only got three hits of him.

Oswego, although a hopeless tail-ender in the International League, will go through the season and next year will be run like the Utica team, as the property of one man.

Simon, of Syracuse, and Shindle, of Utica, are the three-base hitters of the International League. Visner, of Rochester, is the boss home-run getter.

The expense in taking the New Yorks to Kansas City was $500. They started Sunday on the fast express on which no base ball club or theatrical company have ever before traveled.

Rochester has had during the season thirty-seven players under contract.

A Bargain in Corner Lots is what most men desire, but to keep [illegible]

Over 150 [illegible] registered at Chautauqua [illegible] season.

Frank B. McDuffie's Hose Company of Canandaigua won five prizes at the Buffalo convention.

The conductors and drivers on the Broadway surface railroad had another "tie up" last week.

State Firemen's association selected Troy as the next place of meeting. Jas. S. Murphy of Buffalo was elected president; Louis Newgrass of Auburn, secretary; John Norris of Gainesville, treasurer.

Mrs. Cleveland, at the Saranac Inn among the Adirondacks, on Monday afternoon, touched the electric button that set the machinery in motion at Minneapolis Industrial Exposition.

The hearing before Governor Hill on the removal of Commissioner Rollin M. Squire by Mayor Grace was opened yesterday afternoon at Albany. John H. Strahan and Col. Robert G. Ingersoll appeared for Mr. Squire, and Mr. Wheeler H. Peckham for the people.

Isaac F. Mack died at Chicago, Tuesday, aged 80. He was principal of the first free school at Cincinnati for two years. He founded the free schools at Rochester, N. Y., of which he was superintendent eleven years.

It is now said that the massive walls and excessive weight in the finish of the new capitol at Albany have proven too heavy for its foundation, and it now presents unmistakable evidences of bad condition. Something will have to be done to remedy these serious defects before another year goes by.

At Eggertsville, Erie county, an attempt was made on Sunday night to lynch a negro, Thomas Sylvester, who is said to have attempted an assault on the daugter of John Lapp, by whom Sylvester was employed. An officer arrived just in time to prevent the mob from hanging their victim.

In the apple region of this state, the prospects of a crop this season is poorer than for twenty years. The best apple counties—Orleans, Monroe, Wayne, Niagaria and Wyoming—promise scarce, fifty per cent. of the average yield. Many towns in those sections which usually ship large quantities will have few or none for export this year, and while the eastern portion of the state promises better than the western, the average of the whole state is but 52 per cent of a full crop.

From the 32nd annual report of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction is learned that there were at the close of the fiscal year 11,254 school districts in the state, and 11,912 houses. Of these 70 are log 10,083 of frame, 1,386 of brick and 373 of stone. The aggregate value of school houses and sites in 1885 was $38,347,581, of which $21,489,133 is set down to the cities, and $11,878,448 to the towns. The whole number of children in 1885, between the ages of 5 and 21—the school age—was $1,271,126. Of this number 1,024,845 attended the public schools during the year. The total expenditure for the maintenance of our common schools has steadily grown from $1,609,684.95 in 1850 to $13,466,367.97 in 1885.

COUNTY NEWS.

Parish is building very rapidly this season.

The fall terms of the Phoenix, Parish, Sandy Creek and Mexico academies begin next Monday.

The Dempster Grove camp meeting began on Monday and will continue through the week.

The Methodist and Presbyterian churches of Mexico united in an excursion to the Thousand Islands last Friday.

W. A. Forsythe is now the mail carrier and stage driver between Oswego Falls, Bowens Corners and Hannibal Centre.

Four generations of the Hollis family were present at the picnic held at the Hollis homestead near Orwell last Wednesday.

The thirteenth annual gathering of the clan of the Potters came off at the old Ephriam Potter homestead in Orwell last Wednesday.

Richland is slowly but surely growing. A grocery store, a meat market, a shoe shop, a barber shop, a saloon and eleven new houses have been added to it this year.

Ira Trim of Quincey, Mich., is visiting in the towns of Volney and Mexico. Mr. Trim left Volney, his native town, over fifty years ago and settled in the West. This is his first visit in this vicinity during that time and he says that very few people are living here now that were living here when he left. Vast changes occur within half a century.

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable and these little pills cure both.

At a wedding in Grinnell, Iowa, recently, the groom was a native of Bath, N. Y., the bride of Bath, N. H., and the officiating clergyman, Dr. Magoun, of Bath, Me.

Ostrich farming is attaining prominence in California. At a recent picking on an ostrich farm, fifty pounds of feathers were obtained, worth $160 per pound, or $8,000 for the pick.

The work on the river bridge at Baldwinsville of the new Syracuse and Baldwinsville railroad is being rapidly pushed forward. It will be three hundred and fifty feet long and will have five or six spans.

Young and middle-aged men suffering from nervous debility, premature old age, loss of memory, and kindred symptoms, should send 10 cents in stamps for large illustrated treatise suggesting sure means of cure. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

More than 1,000 canal boats and barges, employed principally in the coal trade, have been tied up in the vicinity of New York. Most of the captains own their own boats, and they complain that they cannot make living wages [illegible]

[illegible] District No. 2, [illegible] for the purpose of voting taxes and the transaction of any other appropriate business, will be held at the Fourth St. school house in said district, at 7 p. m., Tuesday, August 31, 1886.

The Annual Election in said district will be held at the above named place on Wednesday, September 1, 1886. Polls open at 12 o'clock, noon, and close at 8 o'clock p. m.—Dated Fulton, N. Y., August 2, 1886.

1512 Amos Youmans, District Clerk.

Hannibal Centre.

Mrs. Mary Cleveland and daughter Mrs. Albert Sanders are visiting friends in Troy.

The Misses Abbott of Syracuse have been visiting their uncle, Rev. H. C. Abbott during the past week.

The Hannibal Centre band attended the tournament at Plainville last Friday night.

Mrs. J. C. Rowlee of Volney has been spending a few days with friends here.

Mr. Berlin Gardiner took a large load of poultry through here on Saturday en route for market.

Blackberries are plenty and are selling at 4cts per quart.

The farmers are just beginning to cut their tobacco. M.

Gilberts Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown of Oswego spent Sunday with the lady's aunt, Mrs. Doctor Carlo.

Mrs. Staunton Byer and children have returned to their home in Rochester.

Mrs. Nettie Mason and children have gone to Poland to visit her parents.

M. A. Blodgett has been quite unfortunate this summer. At the commencement of haying time, he cut his foot quite severely with a mowing machine and is now suffering with a felon on his hand.

Blackberries and blackberry pickers are all the rage here.

The neighbors are busy drawing their coal and doing other work in order to be ready for the fair.

Nelson Gardner entertained a number of friends and neighbors on Saturday afternoon. In the evening the same party were entertained at the home of A. T. Mason.

Elias Thomas spent his vacation at the Thousand Islands.

The Aid Society meet at the home of Mrs. E. Turner on Friday.

Gilberts Mills was well represented at the Free Methodist camp meeting, Sunday.

Mrs. C. Pritchard of Utica is visiting her father, Clinton Burrett.

Mrs. Crouch of Baldwinsville, is visiting old frends and neigbors here.

G. Handlin, the merchant, is very much pleased over the advent of a fine girl baby into his family.

South Granby.

John C. Wells of Fulton called at our butter and cheese factory Monday.

This place was largely represented at Long Branch last Friday, and all report an excellent time.

Harlow Sperbeck has his new store completed and ready to fill with a new stock of goods.

Mrs. Fred Shultz of Ira, has been spending a few days here with her daughter, Mrs. C. A. Whipple.

Rev. John Forbes of Bowens Corners, will preach at the school house here next Sunday evening.

Some of our farmers are cutting tobacco while others will not commence before next week. Tobacco is ripening up fast on account of it being so dry. Corn and potatoes are suffering with the drouth.

Members of the Salvation army from Phœnix are holding meetings at the Baptist church in Jacksonville. They draw a full house every evening, and Sunday night all could not find seats.

The band festival held at Lysander last Saturday evening was a grand success. Quite a number from this place helped to swell the large crowd that gathered there. Ice cream, lemonade &c., were served on the ground for the benefit of the new Lysander band. We understand that about $80 were taken in.

A Cancer Removed.

Mr. Philo Chapman, aged 84, of West Martinsburg, N. Y., says: My cancer on my face and nose had caused me much pain and suffering. Dr. Markley removed it and healed up the wound, leaving but a small scar and greatly improving my health.

"Work, work, work!"

How many women there are working to-day in various branches of industry—to say nothing of the thousands of patient housewives whose lives are an unceasing round of toil—who are martyrs to those complaints to which the weaker sex is liable. Their tasks are rendered doubly hard and irksome and their lives shortened, yet hard necessity compels them to keep on. To such Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" offers a sure means of relief. For all female weaknesses it is a certain cure. All druggists.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton says: "If from no higher motive than the preservation of beauty, I say to all girls in society, sleep."

Stated by H. B. Cochran, druggist, Lancaster, Pa.; "Have guaranteed over 300 bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters for dyspepsia, sour stomach, bilious attacks, liver and kidney troubles."

AGENTS! WANTED! | FOR THE GREAT NEW BOOK, "The Worlds Wonders." By J. W. BUEL.

The most successful subscription book ever published. Over half a million copies were sold the past eight months, and it is selling three times as fast now as ever before. Regular canvassers clear from $15 to $35, $40 and $50 per day. Nothing like it was ever known in the history of book publishing. Proofs sent free on application. No experience needed to insure success. We help persons without means to do a large business; no capital needed. Write for particulars. Salaries guaranteed to persons who do not wish to canvass on commission. [illegible]

President Cleveland is still [illegible] in the Adirondacks. He averages [illegible] per day.

The war fever in Texas has cooled down. Cutting has been set at liberty and everything looks favorable to an amicable settlement of affairs.

Price Alexander, the ruler of Bulgaria, has been compelled to abdicate.

One of the largest fires that ever visited San Francisco, occurred on Saturday night. The loss is estimated at $2,000,000.

Wednesday, September 1st, has been definitely settled upon as the date for the race between Hanlan and Courtney at Jamaica Bay. It will be over a three-mile course for $2,500.

Prof. C. E. Stowe, formerly of Andover Theological Seminary, and the husband of Harriet Beecher Stowe, died at Hartford, Conn., Sunday, aged 84. He had been ill many months.

One of the most terrible cyclones in the history of this country occurred in Indianola, near Galveston, Texas., last Friday morning. It lasted about five hours. During the great storm a fire broke out which destroyed the business portion of the town. About twenty-five lives were lost.

The long trial of the anarchists in Chicago has at last ended. Seven of the instigators of the hay market riot, Spies, Schwab, Fielden, Parsons, Fischer, Engle and Langg, have been found guilty of murder and the penalty fixed at death. The penalty of Neebe was fixed at 15 years imprisonment.

The mania for going through the whirlpool rapids still continues. On Thursday, Graham went through with his head protruding from his barrel and was taken out afterwards in a bruised and exhausted condition. "Jim" Scott, a Lewiston fisherman, attempted to go through with a cork life preserver on the same day, but perished in the attempt. William J. Kendall, an ex-policeman of Boston, on Sunday succeeded in swimming through in a cork suit. It was a close call however. He did it on a wager. Both Graham and Kendall say that no money will ever tempt them to repeat the experiment.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

Fulton, N. Y., Aug. 18th, 1886.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, the President and Trustees More, Chase, Johnson, Kendrick and Pardee.

Minutes of last meeting read and adopted.

The committee appointed to settle with the late collector reported that they had performed their duty and found that $101.70 remained on the roll uncollected.

On motion of Mr. Johnson the report was accepted and the committee discharged.

On motion of Mr. Johnson it was ordered that P. S. Fuller be employed to collect the tax uncollected on the same terms as he did the same work last year.

The finance committee reported the following bills correct and the same were audited at the amounts claimed:

"The Gutta and Rubber M'f'g Co." hose,	$397.68
Geo. F. Sharp, Street Commissioner,	121.05
G. D. Ball, surveyor,	10.00
James Pearman, repairing hose carts,	$7.40

Trustee Bradford came in.

A petition presented and signed by Geo. Kellogg Esq., stating that he had at his own expense, paved that portion of First street in front of his premises from the curb to the track of the street Railway. The petition was accompanied by a bill of items for the service amounting to $31. On motion the petition was accepted, and it was

Resolved, That Mr. Kellogg be credited with said bill and that the highway tax on the said premises be deducted from the bill from year to year until the said bill shall be fully paid. It was further

Resolved, That the same privilege be extended other property on First street adjacent the street railroad, such work to be done under the direction of the Street Commissioner.

The following ordinances were passed:

Be it ordained that the grade for sidewalks hereafter to be built in front of Lot No. 9 and part of Lot No. 10, Block 110 owned and occupied by Ellen E. Lawrence, on the west side of Second street in the village of Fulton—and in front of Lot No. 11 and part of Lot No. 10 on said block 110 owned and occupied or occupied by Henry J. Case be and the same is hereby fixed as follows: Commencing at the north line of said Ellen E. Lawrence's premises at the surface of the plank of said sidewalk as now laid, thence on a straight surface line to a point which shall be eleven inches higher than the highest point of intersection of the walk on Second street and Broadway as now laid.

Be it further ordained that thirty days after the service of notice of this and the forgoing ordinance the owner of Lot No. 9 and part of Lot No. 10 on block 110, be and is hereby required to rebuild a side walk fronting on said lot No. 9 and part of Lot No. 10 on Second street. Said walk to conform to the grade fixed and established by the foregoing ordinance and to be laid of sound 2-inch hemlock plank, laid lengthwise—or 1 and one-half inch pine plank laid crosswise on three by four stringers well secured to make a firm foundation and securely nailed. That said walk shall be at least five feet in width, the outer line thereof to be in line with side walk first north thereof, and the same to be laid and graded under the direction of the Street Commissioner.

Be it further ordained that Clerk make proper service of the foregoing ordinance.

On motion of Trustee More, Peter Conley was appointed a policeman.

The Clerk was directed to draw an order on the Treasurer for $412.53 in payment of a village note being the balance due on Oneida street race bridge.

Trustees Kendrick, More, Chase and Bradford were constituted a committee to ascertain the number and situation of sufficient electric lights to light the village.

Complaint having been made that the Fire Hydrant on First street, near the paper mill race was too near the beaten track, and the same was ordered to be moved to near the coal shed of Taylor Brothers & Co.

The "Thomson-Houston Electric Co." presented a petition asking the Board to grant them a permanent right to erect poles and wires in the village. The matter was on motion laid over until the next regular meeting.

On motion the Board adjourned to Wednesday, Sept. 1st, 1886, at 7½ o'clock, p. m.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED

With or without Patent Index.

The Attention of School Officers, and others, is invited to the fact that in purchasing the latest issue of this work, they get

A DICTIONARY

containing 3000 more words and nearly 2000 more illustrations than any other American Dictionary.

A GAZETTEER OF THE WORLD

containing over 25,000 Titles, with their pronunciation and a vast amount of other information, (Just added, 1885) and

A BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY

giving pronunciation of names and brief facts concerning nearly 10,000 Noted Persons; also various tables giving valuable information.

ALL IN ONE BOOK.

[illegible]

[illegible] From the frontispiece, giving a reproduction of Landseer's celebrated portrait of himself and his two dogs, "The Connoisseurs," to the Riddle-box with its ingenious puzzles, St. Nicholas is crowded with bright and interesting matter for girls and boys and all who love them.

A paper on English art and artists, by Clara Erskine Clement, opens the number and closes the series which has been the means of introducing so many beautiful pictures and entertaining anecdotes to the readers of the magazine. It is illustrated by the frontispiece and by pictures by Sir Joshua Reynolds, Thomas Gainsborough, and others. "Little Lord Fauntleroy" is carried forward in two chapters in which Mrs. Burnett begins to throw some light on the final denouement next month. The other serials too increase in interest as they near their conclusions, J. T. Trowbridge's "Kelp-gatherers" become very much entangled up in some unfortunate happenings; Rose Lattimore Alling shows how far revolutionists in "Non's Revolt" progressed bravely in their cause; in this installment of Horace E. Scudder's serial George Washington once more retires to private life; and Henry Eckford explains some curious relations between letters and numbers in "Wonders of the Alphabet."

"The Brownies with their usual enterprise take up the game of lawn-tennis, as Palmer Cox amusingly tells in verse and pictures; and Susan Anna Brown describes a clever Italian game for enterprising young Americans.

Among the other contents especially noteworthy are the "Work and Play" paper on "Venetian Marquetry," by Charles Godfrey Leland; a true account by Edward Eggleston of how one boy saved thee lives on Lake George; and a story by Annie A. Preston, called "A Matter-of-fact Cinderella," which is good enough to be true, if it isn't.

THE LITTLE ONES.

"Fire-Flies" by F. E. George; "The Cloths-pin Garden" by M. Kingston; "Bertie's Jump" bp Florence M. Hallwell; "A Mouse that Lives in the Mud," by Laura D. Richards; "Little Games" by Geo. Cooper; "Tree Toads" by Mrs. Francis Smith; "The Green Twins" by Clara G. Doliver; "Gyp on the Train" by Aunt Estelle; "The Young Letter Writer" by R. W. Lowrie; "Hal's Pet Bear" by L. A. France; "Chained to his Nurse" by Anna M. Talcott; "Wiggle Waggle Pollywog" by Mrs. Emma Hopkins; "The Sand Ranch" by J. A. M.; "September" by L. B. C.; "Lost her Mother" by L. S. Goodwin and "The Mistaken Hen" by Mary N. Prescott are the contents of The Little Ones and The Nursery. A delightful little monthly for the young, published by Russel Publishing company, Boston, Mass.

CHEESE MARKETS.

[From the Utica Herald.]

Utica, Aug 23.

The market to-day has been uncertain and somewhat difficult to determine: Some salesmen concluded not to sell at all, others will ship lightly, and the average of sales will probably be down to August 2 or 3. Although there is a drop of ⅛c. in the ruling price, the market has shown much steadiness, and there was apprently a good desire to obtain fine cheese. This was particularly the case in regard to August dates. It is taken for granted that the receipts in New York will be moderate this week. Cheese in the northern counties is well sold up, and those who are in a position to know affirm that the factories are off much closer to the hoop than at this time last year.

Transactions of the day have been as follows: 2 lots, 130 boxes, at 8c.; 54 lots, 5,005 boxes, at 8¼c.; 9 lots, 808 boxes, at 8⅜c.; 19 lots, 1,208 boxes, at 8¼c.; 16 lots, 1,082 boxes, at 8⅝c.; 8 lots, 733 boxes, at 8¾c.; 150 boxes small cheese at 8⅞c.; and 9 boxes at p. t. Sales, 10,590 boxes; commissions 486; total, 10,101 boxes. Ruling price 8¼c. Transactions of corresponding day last year 12,606, ruling 6⅜c.; two years ago 9,735, ruling 9½.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

Little Falls, Aug. 23.

After the disclosures of last week in New York everybody was prepared to see lower prices and small shipments from our market to-day and the figures show that the shipments are to be the lightest of the season. Many of the choice goods remain unsold, and only small lots are sent forward from a large number of factories. Salesmen believe in higher prices for the future and are in good shape to hold the goods now on their shelves. The story of the day's doings is quickly told with the following figures:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
52	2,000	8¼cents
38	2,423	8⅛cents
12	500	com.
198	5,823
Farm dairy	637
Total	6,560

Farm dairy.—The sales of farm dairy amounted to 637 boxes at 8 to 9 cents, with the bulk [illegible]c. and but one lot at the top price.

Butter—There was scarcely butter enough to make a price. Not over 20 packages were sold, and those brought 19 and 20 cents.

AT FULTON.

Twenty factories were represented at this market Monday night with about 2,000 boxes, which sold at 8 and 8¼ cents. The market was not as active as last week.

It is reported that many European artists have begun duplicating their pictures for simultaneous exhibition in different cities.

Golden Medical Discovery

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequaled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic.
25c. a vial, by druggists.

10 PER CENT. INVESTMENT, SECURITY ABSOLUTE. [illegible] Ipswich, Dakota, will loan your money on BOND and MORTGAGE from 8 to 10 per cent. Mortgages made to you direct. Bond payable at your own [illegible] New York [illegible] SALE COUNTY, CITY and SCHOOL BONDS. [illegible]

				Station
[illegible]				[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]				Winterton	[illegible]
[illegible]				Walden	[illegible]
[illegible]				Summitville	[illegible]
[illegible]				Ellenville	[illegible]
[illegible]				Mountain Dale	[illegible]
[illegible]				Centerville	[illegible]
[illegible]				Fallsburgh	[illegible]
[illegible]				Hurley	[illegible]
[illegible]				Liberty Falls	[illegible]
[illegible]				Liberty	[illegible]
[illegible]				Parksville	[illegible]
[illegible]				L'vgst'n Man'r	[illegible]
[illegible]				Rockland	[illegible]
[illegible]				Cook's Falls	[illegible]
[illegible]	13			East Branch	[illegible]	14
[illegible]				Fish's Eddy	[illegible]
[illegible]				Hancock	[illegible]
[illegible]				Walton	[illegible]
[illegible]				Delhi	[illegible]
[illegible]				Franklin	[illegible]
[illegible]				Sidney Centre	[illegible]
[illegible]				Sidney (Depart	[illegible]
[illegible]				New Berlin	[illegible]
[illegible]				Guilford Centr	[illegible]
[illegible]				Guilford	[illegible]
[illegible]				Oxford	[illegible]
[illegible]			31	Norwich	[illegible]			30
	39					32
[illegible]				Norwich	[illegible]
[illegible]				North Norwich	[illegible]
[illegible]				Smyrna	[illegible]
[illegible]				Earlville	[illegible]
[illegible]				Randallsville	[illegible]
[illegible]				Eaton	[illegible]
[illegible]				Morrisville	[illegible]
[illegible]				Munnsville	[illegible]
[illegible]				Community	[illegible]
[illegible]				Oneida Castle	[illegible]
[illegible]				Oneida	[illegible]
[illegible]				Sylvan Beach	[illegible]
[illegible]				North Bay	[illegible]
[illegible]				Cleveland	[illegible]
[illegible]				B'rnhard's Bay	[illegible]
[illegible]				Constantia	[illegible]
[illegible]				Central Square	[illegible]
[illegible]				Caughdenoy	[illegible]
[illegible]				Pennellville	[illegible]
[illegible]				Fulton	[illegible]
[illegible]				Oswego	[illegible]
a m	p m	p m	a m	Arrive Depart	p m	p m	a m	a m

Oswego Exp. — Pass. & Frt.

Train 1—Stops at Wurtsboro on signal, and at Winterton for New York passengers only.

Train 2—Stops at Guilford Centre for New York passengers only, and at North Norwich on signal.

Train 5—Stops at Hurley, Liberty Falls, Parksville and Cook's Falls on signal.

Train 31—Stops at Caughdenoy on signal.

Train 6—Stops at Morrisville, North Bay and Cleveland on signal; at Smyrna, Earlville, Eaton, Munnsville, Community and Bernhard's Bay for New York passengers only.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING NORTH.

Leaves Walton for Delhi 8:00 a. m., 4:45 and 8:45 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Delhi 9:00 a. m., 5:40 and 9:25 p. m. Sundays leave Walton 8:00 a. m., arrive at Delhi 9:00 a. m.

Train 27—Leaves Walton 2:30 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Sidney 4:10, Norwich 7:30 p. m.

Train A—Saturdays only, leaves Walton 7:10 p. m., arriving at Sidney 8:35 p. m.

Trains leave Sidney for New Berlin 11:18 a. m. and 7:10 p. m., stopping all stations, arriving at 1:00 and 8:30 p. m.

Train 89—Leaves Norwich 2:15 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Oneida 5:23 p. m.

Trains leave Randallsville for Utica 3:35, 8:45, 10:45 a. m., 7:15 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Utica 5:55, 11:59 a. m., 12:45 and 8:35 p. m.

Trains leave Clinton for Rome 7:20, 11:40 and 5:30 p. m., arriving at Rome 7:50 a. m., 12:35 and 6:40 p. m.

Train 55—Leaves Oneida 6:15 p. m., Sylvan Beach 6:45, arriving at North Bay 6.50 p. m.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING SOUTH.

Train 59—Leaves North Bay 7 30 p. m., Sylvan Beach 7:40, arriving at Oneida 8:00 p. m.

Train 58—Sundays only, leaves North Bay 5:31 p. m., Sylvan Beach 5:45, Oneida 6:10, arriving at Oneida Castle 6:13 p. m.

Train 40—Leaves Oneida 9:20 a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Norwich 12:45 p. m.

Trains leave Utica 8:25 a. m., 3:0?, 4:35 and 9:15 p. m., stopping at all stations on Utica Division, arriving at Randallsville 9:52 a. m., 5:55, 6:50 and 11:45 p. m., connecting with main line trains.

Trains leave Rome 8:15 a. m., 4:00 and 7:10 p. m., connecting at Clinton with Utica Division trains.

Train 28—Leaves Norwich 6:50 a. m., Oxford 7:25, Sidney 9:40, Franklin 10:30, arriving at Walton 11:30 a. m.

Train B—Sundays only, leaves Sidney 9:30 a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Walton 11:15 a. m.

Trains leave New Berlin for Sidney 7:30 a. m. and 3:50 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at 9:23 a. m. and 5:25 p. m.

Trains leave Delhi for Walton 7:00 a. m., 10:40 a. m. and 6:15 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving 7:40 and 11:50 a. m., 7:05 p. m. Sundays leave Delhi 10:00, arrive at Walton 11:00 a. m.

Train 57—Sundays only, leaves Oneida Castle 9:10 a. m., Sylvan Beach 9:55, arriving at North Bay 9:54 a. m.

CONNECTIONS.

Train 2—Connects at Cornwall with West Shore Express for all points north. Saratoga, Whitehall, Plattsburgh, arriving at Montreal 8 a. m.

Train 1—Connects at Randallsville for Utica and Rome and all stations on the Utica Division for all stations to Utica; at Oneida with N. Y. Central for Syracuse.

Train 5—Connects at Randallsville for Utica and all intermediate stations on Rome Branch and all stations on Utica and Black River R. R.; at Oneida Castle with West Shore for all points east and west, Rochester, Buffalo and Chicago; at Oneida with N. Y. Central for all points west; at Central Square with R. W. and O. R. R. for Thousand Islands; through sleeping cars to Cape Vincent and all points north; at Oswego with R. W. and O. R. R. for Suspension Bridge, Detroit, Chicago 8:00 a. m.

Train 31—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore east and west.

Train 39—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore for all points west, arriving at Rochester 10:30, Buffalo 12:15 a. m. and Chicago 8 p. m.

Trains 13 and 14 run through between Delhi and Utica without change.

Agents of the N. Y., O. and W. sell tickets and check baggage to all points east, west, north and south via all lines with good connections. Rates always guaranteed as low as any other line.

Trains 5, 6, 9 and 10 run daily; all others daily except Sundays.

*Stop on signal. †Stop to leave and take on New York passengers only.

New York depots at foot of Jay street and West 42d streets.

J. C. Anderson, Gen. Pas'g'r Agt.,
No. 18¾ Change Place, N. Y.

LUMBER YARD.

We have in Stock a Complete Assortment of

Lumber, Lath, Shingles

&c., and in fact everything pertaining to a FIRST-CLASS YARD.

We are prepared to furnish thoroughly Seasoned Lumber at Lowest Rates.
Call and be Convinced.

BOOMER & LOOMIS.

Corner Broadway and First Streets.

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF
Ladies' Kid Button Shoes
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE
SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
[illegible]

THE OSWEGO FALLS
AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY
—WILL HOLD ITS—
19th ANNUAL FAIR,
On the Society's Grounds at Oswego Falls, N. Y., on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday,
SEPT. 21, 22, AND 23, 1886.

The Grounds will be open all day on Monday preceding the Fair for the reception and arrangement of articles and exhibitors are requested to get their exhibits in place and avoid the rush on the first day of the Fair. Also, to send a list of their entries to the Secretary at any time before the Fair, so that the necessary labels may be provided.

Small bills containing a detailed order of proceedings will be distributed on the days of the Fair. The general order will be as follows:

First Day.—Tuesday, reception and arrangement of articles and amusements.

Second Day.—Wednesday will be devoted to a general examination of articles exhibited, trials of speed for purses No. 1 and 2 Class No. 27 and making up of the awards by the judges, who will be called at 11 A. M., and furnished with their list of entries, upon all articles except stallions, single, matched and fast horses.

Third Day.—Thursday, making up awards by the judges on stallions, and matched and single horses. Trials of speed, for Purses No. 3 and 4, Class No. 27 and declaring premiums.

The following Special Premiums are offered for exhibits to be placed in the new building now being erected upon the grounds, viz.:

For the greatest Variety of Potatoes raised by one person, $10.00
" " Best Exhibition of Grapes, grown " " " 5.00
" " " Collection of Peppers " " " " 1.00
" " " " " Vegetables, " " " 10.00
" " " Exhibition of Melons " " " " 3.00
" " Greatest Variety of Beans raised " " " this year 5.00

The D. L. & W. Railroad Co., will carry passengers over their road at Half Rates. Extra Trains on the last two days. The N. Y. O. & W. Railway Co., will carry passengers from Oswego, Central Square and intermediate Stations at reduced rates. The R. W. & O. Railroad Co. will carry passengers from Oswego, Syracuse and Intermediate Stations at reduced rates.

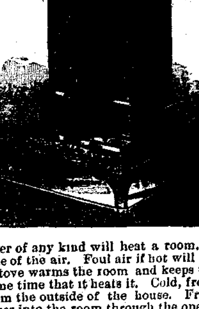
Send to the Secretary for a Premium List.
President—H. H. Merriam, Oswego Falls.
Vice-Presidents—W. B. Phelps, Oswego; W. Johnson, Fulton.
Secretary—Arvin Rice, Fulton. Treasurer—Charles R. Nichols, Fulton.
Trustees and Executive Committee—O. Henderson, Fulton; T. G. Somers, Oswego Falls; A. Gregg, Pennellville; Isaac R. Osborne, Ira; L. L. Kinyon, Oswego; Fred Vant, Volney.

—CALL ON—
GEORGE JOHNSTON,
On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of
STOVES AND RANGES,
Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND, ART UNIVERSAL, DENMARK, PRINCESS ALADDIN, and ACORN, Parlor Stoves.
THE MAGEES MYSTIC, GRAND UNIVERSAL, HAPPY THOUGHT, HAPPY HOME, and DUCHESS Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the
Howe Ventilating Stove,
which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves
I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.
Yours Respectfully,
GEO. JOHNSTON.

—THE—
Howe Ventilating Stove.



A NEW STOVE.
ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE.
AN EXCELLENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE.
A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

☞ A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE
Howe Ventilating Stove Company, Fulton, N. Y.
F. G. Weeks, President.
E. R. Redhead, Vice-President.
Almon Bristol, Sec'y & Treas.
E. L. Messenger, Gen. Manager.
GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent
FULTON, N.Y.

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jas. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 94 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a smaller house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y.

☞ Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at Fulton, N. Y. [illegible]

Job Printing.
—:o:—
We are prepared to do all kinds of
Job Printing
with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.
PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF [illegible]
&c., &c.
All printed in the best [illegible]
Lowest [illegible]

[illegible] to Oswego, including 'Bus fare, [illegible] on the Omnibus.
F. D. WILSON, Proprietor.

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.
OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express	8:18 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express	11:22 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express	3:32 p. m
Freight and Accommodation	6:18 p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express	8:15 p. m

GOING NORTH.

New York and Philadelphia Express	8:18 a. m.
Day Express	12:19 p. m.
Day Express	3:48 p. m.
Freight and Accommodation	6:15 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express	7:10 p. m.

The 8:18 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:13 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
Norwich Express	3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:24 a. m
Oswego Express	11:27 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	9:57 p. m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:21	2:16	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	12:54	3:24	6:29

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS.

Dr. James Carr is in town on a short visit.

Miss Jessie Barnes of Syracuse is visiting friends in town.

Frank and Thomas Cullen are visiting friends in Oswego.

J. T. Owen has been visiting friends in Liverpool for a few days.

Herbert Markham returned from Thousand Island Park last week.

F. Moyer of Chittenango was the guest of the Rev. Mr. Goodyear last Sunday.

Mrs. Albert Palmer of Hannibal has been visiting a few days at A. N. Parmiter's.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Murth of Clyde are passing a few days at the home of H. J. Baker, Mrs. F. E. Rice of this village is spending a few days with friends in New Haven.

Mrs. Charles Sabin left to-day for the Thousand Islands, where she will spend a few days.

Mrs. Libbie Owen has returned from Tonawanda where she has been spending a few weeks.

Mrs. F. C. Crossley and family of New Haven, Conn., have been visiting Miss Cora E. Miller.

Mrs. James Nutt of Schaghticoke, N. Y., is visiting her daughter Mrs. J. R. Fairgrieve.

L. D. Perry of Buffalo, for many years a resident of this village, is visiting friends in town.

Mrs. M. W. Ketchum and daughter Jessie of Chicago have been visiting relatives and friends here.

Bert Allen, of the Boston Bazaar returned Saturday from a four week's trip to Chicago and other western cities.

Mrs. Frank C. Walsh of Providence, R. I., is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Faulkner.

Joseph Parkhouse of Chicago, formerly of this place, is in town for a short time, visiting his father, William Parkhouse.

Giles Piper and family and F. A. Emerick and family returned Saturday from their two week's sojourn at Asbury Park.

Miss Allie Adams returned to Boston last Thursday, accompanied by her sister Julia, who will enter school in that city.

Miss Lucy M. Salmon of Terre Haute, Ind., formerly of this village, is spending part of her vacation with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Millington of Chicago, formerly of Fulton, and their daughter, Mrs. Liphardt of Sedalia, Mo., are in town on a visit.

Mrs. Robert E. Phillips and Miss Ella Lasher, accompanied by Miss Anna Wells of Rochester went to Chautauqua last week to spend a few days.

Closing out sale at the 25 Cent Store.

S. Clay Markley M. D., the great Clairvoyant Physician, who has been performing such wonderful cures in Pulaski and Syracuse can be consulted at the Lewis house, room 6, Fulton, Thursday, Aug. 19, and every Thursday hereafter. Go and see him or some day you may be sorry you did not take his advice and treatment. The Doctor has wonderful second sight and medical powers rarely bestowed on man. He is also a graduate of the reform school of medicine. Home office, 97 West Street, Syracuse. 15tf

A fine line of Boys' Button and Lace Shoes very low at Collins'. 12tf

Collins & Co. are making great preparations for the fall trade in Boots and Shoes. 13tf

Second hand Gas Pipe for sale at McCully's planing mill, from ½inch up to 8 inches in diameter. 12tf

Try India Pale Ale. It is the best. To be had at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 15tf

D. C. More & Co. offer unusual Bargains in Boys' and Children's Suits to close out.

D. E. Johnson wishes to say that he has invented a new process for building and repairing cisterns by which they can be prevented from leaking. He is prepared to repair or build by this process at short notice and guarantees satisfaction in every case. Address,

Bowen's Corners,
Oswego Co. N. Y.

[illegible] remarks [illegible]

[illegible] exercises, consisting of recitations and singing, which were carried out in an excellent manner and did credit to the pupils and their efficient teacher, Miss Ella Harrington.

After the exercises the teacher, scholars, parents and friends numbering about ninety adjourned to the school yard, where things had been prepared for the occasion and enjoyed a grand picnic. After partaking of the many good things that were spread before them, swings, hammocks and everything to make the afternoon enjoyable were arranged, and the afternoon was passed in a very pleasant manner. When the day was drawing to a close, all took their departure, thinking that the day had been well spent and hoping that again in the future they might enjoy a like occasion.

I desire to say right here that we have the pleasantest school yard in the county, containing one-half an acre, adorned with thirty beautiful trees, and free from weeds and brush which are the most common adornments of school yards in general.

This is the fifth term that has been taught by Miss Harrington, and we are happy to say that her labors have been faithfully rendered, and attended with good results. A Patron of the School.

County Court Jurors.

The following trial juors to serve at a county court and court of sessions to be held at the court house in the village of Pulaski, commencing Monday September 6th, at 10 a. m., were drawn Friday by County Judge M. L. Wright:

Dwight C. McKinney, John H. Dall, Orwell; John R. Moore, Wm. H. Foils, Amboy; John G. Wheaton, Charles Rich, Alvin Howard, Roswell Bonnett, Wm. Meacham, Albion; Wm. Danforth, J. A. Baker, Constantia; Wm. Philips, Chas. Clemmons sr., Andrew Balcom, Redfield; A. D. Pond, C. H. Jones, Jacob Mickle, J. W. Edick, Warren Hutchinson, L. Jones, Rickland; Wm. C. Hale, James Smith, Albert R. Stevens, J. Spencer Knollin, Sandy Creek; Francis D. Larm, Perry C. Kenyon, Charles Root, Central Square; C. W. Prattel, Francis Heun, West Monroe; David Hardy, Charles H. Everts, Charles Jacobs, Peter Morgan, Mexico; Barber Kenyon, Central Square.

Thirty-First Annual Fair.

THE TIMES is under obligations to E. L. Huntington Esq., Secy. of the Oswego county Agricultural society for a complimentary ticket to the fair of that association which is to be held in Mexico on the 14th, 15th and 16th of September. Every effort is being made to make the fair a thorough success. The officers of the association are: S. L. Alexander, President, Mexico, N. Y.; S. D. Moore, Vice-President, Pulaski, N.Y.; E. L. Huntington, Secretary, Mexico N. Y.; H. M. Bard, Treasurer, Mexico, N. Y.; Veeder Green, Gen. Superintendent, Mexico, N. Y.; Directors, H. A. Mosher, Parish, N. Y.; Peter Morgan, Mexico, N. Y.; D. H. Trimble, Palermo, N. Y.; A. B. Tuller, New Haven, N. Y.; S. C. Davis, Orwell, N. Y.; R. Turner, Scriba, N. Y.

Dempster Grove Camp Meeting.

Camp meeting at Dempster grove was opened Monday morning by Presiding Elder Danforth with a few appropriate remarks and prayer. Singing was led by Rev. C. E. Miller of South Richland. Short exhortations were made by Rev. Palmer Brown of Pulaski and Rev. Mr. Danforth. In the evening, prayer was offered by S. I. Dibble of Hannibal and an interesting sermon preached by Rev. B. S. Brown, of Orwell. Yesterday the rain made it somewhat disagreeable and considerably lessened the attendance, but the enthusiasm and good will that prevailed made up for all deficiencies. There are about 75 tents in the grove.

A Model Circus.

Frank A. Robbins' Circus, Museum and Menagerie which will exhibit at Fulton, on Tuesday, Aug. 31st, will be the only performance of the kind that our amusement going public will have an opportunity of seeing as it will be the only show that will visit this section of the state this year. The press throughout the entire country where they have exhibited, have been unanimous in its praise. The following opinions taken from some of our exchanges will give our readers an idea of what amount of enjoyment is in store for all who wish to see a real good show:

Frank A. Robbins' mammoth exhibition which visited Plymouth on Monday is pronounced by large and critical audiences to be unquestionably the best circus ever shown in this town. This fact is apparent, not only in the unequalled number and variety of attractions presented, but in the excellence of appointment which characterizes each feature of the exhibit, and in the maintenance of the most thorough order and discipline.

* * * * *

The menagerie is a large and complete one, and affords an excellent place for the juveniles to gain practical knowledge in natural history, under the most favorable auspices.

The main tent is a capacious one, with a seating capacity of about two thousand, and is comfortably arranged. Two large rings and a raised platform divide the equal attention of the audience, for at each point some special attraction is taking place, which holds the close attention of the spectators, the performers being of the very best in their respective parts. A specialty never before attempted, is the elephant band, which discourses singular melody. These animals have been trained to a surprising degree of proficiency, and taught to perform many difficult evolutions which must be seen to be believed.

* * * * *

It may be said of Robbins' Circus, as of no other one yet brought to our notice, that every attraction promised on the bill is actually and faithfully performed, and that the entire entertainment is not only free from objectionable features, but that its general tone is elevated and refined to an unusual degree.

* * * * *

We do not believe there is an equally well organized and conducted circus on the road, or one that can receive as cordial and complimentary endorsements from the [illegible]

All Men's, Boys' and Youths' Canvas Shoes I will SELL AT COST. Also all Men's and Boys' Low Shoes.

A. E. NETTLETON.

Annual school meeting next Tuesday evening.

The dairymen's picnic will take place at Sylvan Beach to-morrow.

At the last meeting of the Board Peter Conley was appointed a policeman.

WANTED—A girl to feed press. Steady work for the right party. Apply at once. MORRILL BROS.

Crawford & Donovan, plumber and steam fitters of Oswego are busily engaged putting steam pipes and radiators into No. 2 school.

O'Connor Post G. A. R. of Scriba, will have a basket picnic and reunion at Lake View, next Wednesday. Veterans from the surrounding towns are invited to attend.

The superintendant and the assessors of the town of Scriba, have affected a settlement with the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg railroad company and fixed the rate of assessment at $9,000 per mile, including side tracks, all suits to be discontinued.

Hugh Ward, an employe at the stone quarry, received a painful injury by getting his hand caught in a cable attached to a derrick at the quarry, yesterday. The little finger of the left hand was badly lacerated. Dr. Frank Hall dressed the wound.

The Free Methodist camp meeting concluded its meetings yesterday afternoon. The meetings have been well attended and the leaders express themselves as well satisfied with the results of their labors. The camp meeting proper closed a week ago.

Father Early addressed a large number of persons who had collected in the park last evening on the subject of temperance, while Miss Ella Rodgers, the lecturer of the State Temperance society spoke from the pulpit of the Baptist church on the same subject.

The Fulton band is to attend the Dairymen's Excursion and Picnic to be held at Sylvan Beach to-morrow. The Excursion train leaves the Midland depot at 7:13 a. m. Fair for the round trip $1. Hon. Warner Miller and Hon. Joseph R. Brown will will positively make addresses.

Last Thursday evening, a large number of the friends of Miss Lillie Leslie assembled at the home of her aunt Miss Caroline Howe, and spent the evening in social intercourse. Vocal and instrumental music were enjoyed and refreshments served to which ample justice was done. A very pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

"The Cuckoo" was presented at the opera house last evening before a small audience. The comedy is a good one and the parts were well sustained. Mr. Walton, the Australian comedian, made a decided hit in his new and unique character, "The Cuckoo." This was the opening at the opera house for the season of '86 and '87. The next play that is to be produced is "Romeny Rye."

Some of our enterprising citizens are endeavoring to secure the Hon. B. G. Northrop of Boston for a lecture here soon, as a preparatory step toward the formation of a Village Improvement Association. Mr. Northrup has been very successful in this work, having been instrumental in forming over 300 of these organizations within the past few years.

The Lyons Press says: The other day a merchant in this village uttered the following very excellent sound sense: "I believe in getting my work done at home, for when I want the people to know that I have gone to the city for a new stock of goods, no printer in another place can make the announcement to my patrons; consequently I will reciprocate your favors, and I will reciprocate by getting my letter heads, envelopes and other job-work printed at home, that is the place and the only place to have it done. If we don't have our work done at home, why should we expect any favors from our printers, and we are expecting them all the time."

The Latest Styles in Hats just received by D. C. MORE& CO.

Annual School Meeting of Dist. No. 1, Volney, will be held at the school house in said district, Aug. 31, at seven (7) o'clock p. m.

The annual election to elect officers in said district will be held the following Wednesday between the hours of (12) twelve o'clock m. and (4) four p. m.

W. J. LOVEJOY, Clerk.

Fruit Cans cheaper than ever at Stowell's Bargain Store.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Christina Myers died at the home of her son-in-law, Thomas Nelligan, on Second street yesterday afternoon, aged 67 years. Services will be held to-morrow at 2 p. m., from the Methodist church, and the remains will be taken to Mt. Adnah for burial.

Mrs. Julia Levi died at her home at the corner of First and Pratt streets in this village last Saturday morning of consumption. Mrs. Levi was 51 years of age and leaves a large family of children. Services were held at the Catholic church yesterday and interment made in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mrs. George Laws, formerly of this village and daughter of the late Joseph Clook, died at her home in Tonawanda, near Buffalo, last Saturday morning, of consumption, at the age of 35 years. The remains were brought here on the morning train Monday. Services were held at the M. E. church, the Rev. A. M. [illegible]

The Street Railroad.

The street cars, the jingling of their bells and the sound of the drivers whistles have become familiar sounds on First street, and on the whole gives the street quite the appearance of one in a city. The cars are now run nearly to Oneida street and are making regular trips. They leave each termini every twenty minutes and meet on the bridge. They are run from 7:15 a. m. until 10 p. m. making in all ninety single or forty-five round trips per day.

Attempt at Jail Breaking.

Saturday morning as Turnkey Sullivan at the Oswego county jail was making his rounds, he discovered that the grates of one of the windows had been tampered with. He reported the fact to Sheriff Beadle, who at once made arrangements to watch the prisoners and discover who was working at the grating. Sunday night after everything was quiet about the jail, the Sheriff and his turnkey entered the jail quietly and found Henry Kennedy and William Topping engaged in sawing at the grating, while John Hicks and Clarence Ware were watching.

School No. 1.

The Fall term of school No. 1 will commence next Monday with the following corps of teachers: Prof. James Cooper, principal. Miss Mary Gere instructress in the intermediate, Miss Ada Wright, in the Junior, and Miss Nellie Wise in the primary departments. Prof. Cooper has been principal of the school at lower Oswego Falls during the past year. During the summer the water works has been introduced into all the rooms of the building and the upper room has been seperated into two rooms by a partition that can be removed when occasion requires it.

Electric Lights.

At a meeting of the village board last Wednesday evening, trustees Kendrick, More, Chase and Bradford were appointed a committee to ascertain the number and situation of sufficient electric lights to properly light the village. Further than this nothing of importance was done concerning lights. During the past week articles of incorporation of the Fulton-Schuylor Electric light company were filed in the county clerk's office at Oswego. The capital stock of the corporation is fixed at $33,000 in shares of $100 each. The board of directors to manage the company the ensuing year are Charles H. Sewell, Mount Vernon, N. Y.; Geo. C. Webb and C. C. Benedict of Fulton. It is not probable that much stock will be purchased by local parties.

A Teacher's Vicissitudes.

C. W. Bardeen's School Bulletin in speaking of Prof. Clapp, the present principal of School No. 2, and Prof. Fischer, the incumbent part of last year says:

"Prof. Clapp didn't want to leave Phoenix and people said no question of salary should persuade him, but the Fulton people claimed to have engaged him last winter, and he decided to go there at a salery of $1,500. Mr. Fischer, who has been principal of Fulton school, is elect-professor of modern languages in Syracuse University, and has sailed for Europe to spend the summer. He is a curious illustration of the vicissitudes possible to teachers. He came to us last winter in considerable trouble. He was teaching a district school in Tioga county, and he didn't get along well. He had trouble with the big boys, and the district was in arms over his requiring the children to purchase physologies. Altogether he didn't want to go back and he didn't. Apparently he was a case of a man who had tried teaching and failed at it. But he soon after had an opportunity to take this important school at Fulton and gave so good satisfaction there that if he had not received this appointment in the university he would have been retained principal, and Mr. Clapp released."

LET US CONTINUE OUR STROLL,
It Will Pay You.

Last week we left off as we were reaching our clothing department. Now get your pencil and note-book ready, and jot down the bargains we will name you, that no other house in America can duplicate. We arrive at our children's department, which is nicely carpeted and furnished for the people's comfort. Now gaze on this nice school suit we sell for $1.50, and look at the all wool suits we sell at $3.00. For $5.00 we give you your choice of about 30 styles in imported all wool corkscrew worsteds, in elegant corderoys and fine cassimeres. Now for your big boys we have a nice school suit at $3.00 and splendid ones at $4.00 and $5.00. In handsome dress suits we have an elegant line at $6.00, $7.00 $8.00 and $10.00. Now you have dressed up the boys, you will want a suit for yourself. Well, for the small sum of $3.00 we can give you a good serviceable suit; for $5.00 a nice business suit, and an immense line of solid cassimere suits at $8.00; an elegant line of men's all wool suits at $8.00 $10.00 $12.00 and $14.00; Now if you want something extra fine we have a four button cutaway all wool worsted at $10.00, a fine suit at $12.00 and for 15.00 18.00 and $20.00 we can show you elegant four button cutaway or sack suits in imported worsteds that are equal to any made to order suits at $30.00 or $40.00. Don't think of buying any Clothing, Hats, Caps or Furnishing Goods this fall without first coming to the Central City Clothing Co., 20 East Genesee St., Syracuse, N. Y.

Be sure and look for the sign of the 4 C's C. C. C. C.

The low prices that D. C. More & Co. make on clothing to close out Summer Stock astonishes everyone.

T. F. Crockford, the traveling tinware merchant, carries a fine line of tinware, wooden ware, agate ware, wrapping paper, etc., which he is offering in exchange for rags. Trade with him. 8tf

[illegible]

Poles for the electric lights have been set in Baldwinsville.

Rev. Dempster W. Chase will preach next Sunday at the M. E. church.

Rev. T. F. Jessup will preach at Presbyterian church next Sunday.

The Grand Lodge of Good Templars is in session this week at Sink's opera house, Rome.

The annual review of the Fulton Fire Department will take place on Thusday, September 16.

Notice Stowell's reduced price list in the great closing out sale at his 25 cent and bargain store.

THE TIMES may be found on sale at Sullivan's newsroom and at Pollay's store in Oswego Falls.

The Rev. Mr. Hanscomb gave the first of a series of six lectures in the Baptist church at Euclid last evening.

Mrs. E. Boardman, Sole Agent for Dr. Gifford's Home Treatments in Fulton, Oswego Co. Residence 95, 2d street.

The Father Matthew T. A. B. society are to-day holding their first annual picnic and excursion at Three River Point.

Four members of the Baker Hose Company of Oswego Falls attended the Firemen's Convention at Buffalo last week.

Father Early lectured at an entertainment given by the Father Matthew temperance society in Oswego last Monday evening.

A small boy named DeLong, while carelessly throwing stones broke one of the show windows in Giesler's drug store Sunday evening.

Rev. R. H. Pullman, formerly pastor in this village, now of Baltimore, Md., is expected to occupy the pulpit of the Universalist church next Sunday.

L. D. Spooner, druggist, who was convicted last week for selling liquor on Sunday was on Thursday fined $50 or 50 days in jail. The fine was paid.

The Committee of G. A. R. men are busily engaged in making extensive preparations for their re-union on the Oswego Falls Fair Ground, Sept. 8th, 9th and 10th.

To-day the old settlers are having a picnic in the Agricultural Hall, Oswego Town. Their annual gatherings are among the pleasantest that occur in this vicinity.

During the past week night, blooming ceries have been in bloom at the homes of Mrs. L. Richardson, Mrs. F. D. Van Wagenen and Mrs. J. Cooley Tucker. Many friends went to each of these places to see this flower, whose period of bloom is of such short duration.

Fulton was represented at the annual Firemen's Convention at Buffalo, last week by Chief Mosher and the Johnson Running Team, consisting of sixteen members. Ten companies competed in the hose race. The Johnson team was unfortunate as one of its members fell during the race. The next convention will be held in Troy.

John E. Parker, formerly a Justice of the Peace at Oswego Falls, and now a constable, was drunk yesterday in West Fayette street. When an officer undertook to arrest him he resisted and fought as much as his inebriated condition would allow. This morning he was arraigned in the Police court and pleaded guilty to drunkenness and assaulting an officer. His case was not disposed of.—[Syracuse Herald, yesterday.

The trustees of Union School No. 2, on last week, completed a contract with the firm of J. A. Pease & Co., of Syracuse to heat the school building with steam. It is to be used this winter on trial. The firm guarantee to heat the building to 70 degrees during the coldest days of winter with one third less coal and if the heater does not do what is claimed, they will remove it at their own expense.

We have received specimens of some huckle berries that were picked in Winfield, Mass., last week by Mr. Walter Hanes, who has now reached the extreme age of 97 years. Mr. Hanes will be remembered as a former resident of this town and the father of Mrs. O. Henderson and Mrs. L. Rurey both of this village. The fact of his being able to go into the field and pick berries shows that he still retains some of his former activity. It speaks well for one of his age and is a source of much gratification to his many friends in this locality.

Robert E. Phillips is a prominent candidate for Republican Member of Assembly for this district. Mr. Phillips is a staunch Republican and in every way qualified, if nominated and elected. He is among the oldest business men here, having been here over 30 years. His grandfather was Asa Phillips who was one of the earliest settlers in Oswego Falls, which was known for many years as Phillipsville, and had a hotel on the ground now occupied by the Congregational church. Mr. Phillips would poll the full Republican vote.—[Fulton Cor. to Times-Express.

This is the last week of Stowell's Bargain Store. The store is already rented for another business.

New Line of Neck Ties just received at D. C. MORE & CO'S.

J. Cooley Tucker has the sole agency for the celebrated granulated wheat, a food prepared from the best white winter wheat, unleavened, ready cooked for immediate use. It is the best food for invalids and children. As a diet for cases of nervous prostration and debility, constipation and dyspepsia, it is unequalled. It is used in Health Institutions extensively. 10tf

[illegible] at Miller's [illegible]

[illegible] 70 years of age and upwards had died.

Of this number Oswego city has furnished 36, Volney 18, Mexico 17, Scriba 13, Oswego Town 12, Richland 11, Granby 9, Constantia 9, New Haven 7, Parish 9, Hastings 9. Other towns a less number. Of that number, 16 had died at the age of 90 or over, to-wit: Mrs. Clark of Oswego Town, 118; Mrs. Gillespie of Williamstown, 103; Robert Reid of Oswego City, 97; John Pullen of Oswego Town, 96; Thomas Hubbard of Volney, 95; Miss Baker of Oswego City, 93; Nathan Farnam of Oswego Town and Lindall Wilder of New Haven, 92 each; Mrs. Van Auken of Schroeppel and Daniel DuBois of Scriba, 91 each; Rev. M. H. Gaylord of Albion, James Bickford of Oswego City, Mrs. Rea of West Monroe, Wm. McGee of Oswego City, Chas. Ford and John Wilson of Parish, 90 years each.

Ten members of the Association died died during the year, namely: Thomas Hubbard of Volney, Mrs. R. Geo. Bassett of Rochester, N. Y., Lindall Wilder, of New Haven, John Edict of New Mexico, James Bickford of Oswego City, John C. Gillespie and Ira Carrier of Fulton, Mrs. Vesta H. Walker and Selden P. Clark of Oswego Town and Gen. Leander Parkhurst of Pulaski.

The Association was formed at Agricultural Hall in Oswego Town, August 27, 1875. Since that time and previous to the last meeting 283 persons had joined, 36 of whom were ladies. They are distributed through the county as follows: Mexico, 53; Richland, 41; New Haven, 41; Volney, 27; Oswego City, 19; Hastings, 15; Granby, 14; Scriba, 11; Oswego Town, 10; Parish, 10; Palermo, 10; Constantia, 7; Hannibal, 5; Orwell, 4; Sandy Creek, 4; West Monroe, 3; Schrœppel, 3; Albion, 2; Hoosic Falls, 1; Ann Arbor, 1; Rochester, 1. The death record of members for the ten years is 46, leaving the present membership at 236. The number of deaths in the county for ten years of persons 70 or over count up 1,874, of whom nineteen were 100 or over.

The oldest person now living in the county is Mrs. Henrietta Post of Oswego City, aged 103. The next oldest is Mrs. Mary Perkins of Oswego Town, 102. Then comes Mrs. Williams of Scriba and Mrs. Davis of Palermo, 99 each, Mrs. Kehoe, of Scriba and Mrs. Keeler of Hastings, 98; Mrs. Miller of Richland, Mrs. Hadley of Sandy Creek; Mrs. Snow of Hastings and James Pete of Parish 96 years each.

The persons of longest residence in the county are Hyman Everts of Granby, since the spring of 1798; David Van Buren of Volney, born in that town Sept. 10, 1798; David Harman of Oswego City, born in Redfield in 1802; Mrs. Dexter May of New Haven, who came into that town in in 1804.

The meetings of the association have been held as follows: In 1876 and 1878 on the Owsego Falls Fair ground; in 1877 on the Mexico Fair Ground; in 1879 and 1882 at Washington hall in Mexico; in 1880 at the M. E. church New Haven; in 1881 and 1884 at Pulaski; in 1883 at Central Square; in 1885 at Dempster Grove, New Haven.

This annual re-union was considered among the most successful of the meetings of this interesting Association. While it was not as largely attended as that held at Dempster grove last year, it was as thoroughly enjoyed. Conspicious among those present were the following over 80 years of age:

Oliver G. Wilcox, of Princeton, Ill., aged 91 years and ten months; Norman Rowe, New Haven, 91 years and 7 months; Jabin Wood, Richland, 91 years and 3 months; Cyrus Allen, Mexico, 90 years and ten days; Charles Paddock, Mexico, 89; S. G. Merriam, New Haven, 86; Putman Rider, Parish, 86; Carmi Miller, New Haven, 86; Anson Gustin, 85; Stephen Mason, Pulaski, 85; Darius Foster, Mexico, 86; O. E. Dwight, Port Ontario, 85; Samuel D. Andrews Richland, 80. Russel Calkins and wife of Richland, aged respectively 98 and 86, were present but did not occupy seats on the platform. This couple celebrated the 68 anniversary of their marriage at their home in the town of Richland, August 16.

The officers of last year were re-elected to serve for the ensuing year. They are: President, Lyman Coats, Oswego Town; vice-presidents, Norman Rowe, New Haven; Geo. Gurley, Pulaski; Asabel Coan, Parish; W. P. Dickenson, Constantia; John A. Place, Oswego.

Executive Committee, Schuyler Rhodes, New Haven; S. H. Read, New Haven; Sterling Newell, Mexico; Wm. H. Gray, Pulaski; John C. Wells, Fulton.

Secretary and treasurer, W. F. Squires, Dempster, N. Y.

The Canal Convention.

The annual canal convention which met last year at Utica are to-day in session at Syracuse. An effort will be made to secure an appropriation for lengthening the locks in all the canals and deepening them, besides other general improvements. About forty delegates were appointed to represent Oswego. At the meeting of the Fulton Board of Trade Willard Johnson, H. H. Merriam, Arvin Rice, Jr., Oren Henderson, D. W. Gardner, J. W. Pratt, W. G. Gage, A. E. Keller, A. Emerick, Geo. M. Case, C. G. Bacon and H. Nichols were elected to attend, many of whom are present.

The committee having in charge the rental of Dining Hall privileges for the G. A. R. Encampment, to be held at Oswego Falls, Sept. 8th, 9th and 10th, will meet at the Court House in Oswego, Monday, Aug. 29th. at 2 o'clock, p. m.

H. W. CALDWELL,
Chairman Com.

A Pulaski Farmer Cured.

Statement made by John Hall, a farmer of Pulaski, N. Y.

Five months ago I commenced doctoring with Dr. Markley, and I could not see two rods to tell a man from a horse. My lower limbs were paralyzed and had been for two years. My hands and fingers were all drawn out of shape and my whole body was terribly bloated with dropsy. Now my sight is perfectly clear. I can walk with very little help, and I can ride all day in a wagon, and am gaining all the time. I had nine different doctors pronounce my case incurable. Dr. Markly helped me immediately.

JOHN HALL.

Down They Go.

Balance of spring stock must be moved to make room for Winter Goods. Genuine Bargains and no taffy for the next 30 days.

Ticket to Oswego Falls Fair

With every cash purchase of $8 or over.

PEEBLES & COOK

Opposite Opera House.

Great Closing Out Sale!

Stowell's 25 Cent and Bargain Store,

Reduced Price List.

Good Needles 1c. per paper		worth 8 cts
1 large hand saw 24cts.		worth 75 cts
10 quart pails 14cts.		worth 30 cts
1 large copper bottom tea or coffee pot 24cts.		worth 60 cts
1 good spade or shovel 35cts.,		worth 75 cts
1 large wooden bowl 18 cts.,		worth 35 cts
1 fine glass dish 15cts.,		worth 30 cts
Tumblers 2½cts. each		worth 6 cts
1 lamp chimney 3cts.		worth 8 cts
1 large wash basin 6cts.		worth 12 cts
1 good hand lamp 15cts.;		worth 25 cts
1 large stone teapot 25cts.,		worth 50 cts
1 large comb 5cts.,		worth 10 cts
2 bunches good matches 1c.		worth 2 cts a bunch
Good writing paper 4cts. per quire,		worth 10 cts
Good envelopes 4cts. per package,		worth 10 cts
Bird Cages 39, 48 62cts.,		worth 55, 75, $1.00
All 5c. goods	will be sold at	3 cts
All 10c. goods	will be sold at	7 cts
All 25c. goods	will be sold at	19 cts
Good pins 1c. per paper		worth 8 cts
1 heavy 17 quart dish pan 25cts,		worth 45 cts

A few dozen Rogers' best silver Forks, Knives and Spoons will be sold regardless of cost to close.

This opportunity happens but once in a lifetime. Call at once, while the assortment is unbroken. The goods must be sold.

R. A. STOWELL & CO. Proprietors.

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

Hale's Honey the great Cough cure, 25c., 50c. & $1
Glenn's Sulphur Soap heals & beautifies, 25c:
German Corn Remover kills Corns & Bunions
Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye—Black and Brown, 50c.
Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 Minute, 25c
Dean's Rheumatic Pills are a sure cure, 50c.

IMPORTANT TO INVALIDS.

MRS. E. G. DODGE, M. D.
of Oswego,
Clairvoyant and Eclectric Physician,

will be at the Johnson House, in Fulton, Saturday, Aug. 28, where she can be consulted upon the various diseases the human family is afflicted with. All Female Diseases made a specialty.

Consultation Free. 15w2

You will save time and money by buying your field and garden seeds in bulk. A large stock just received at D. C. Draper's 15 Oneida street, and for sale at the lowest living rates by the bushel, quart or pound.

Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares, two years ago, and find it very durable and economical.

HART BROS.

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

HARPOON FORKS
for $1.00
—at—
Snow & Loomis' Hardware,
and
Horse Rakes,
Hand Rakes,
Pitch Forks,
Pulley Blocks,
Rope and
Haying Tools,
at equally low prices.

Draper has reduced the price on all holiday goods, fancy crockery, gloves and mittens, sleds, &c., to 10 per cent. less than cost, he is bound to close them all out instead of holding them for next fall's trade.

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets. Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expediously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. 7tf

Draper, 15 Oneida street, will not be undersold in groceries, crockery, glass and plated ware, table and hanging amps. Call and get prices.

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter jars, Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots. &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by

10tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

FOR SALE. A Model Farm of 33 acres; the first east of the village of Fulton, on the Fay road. Soil stoneless, clay loom, well drained, fruited and fenced. Good buildings, hennery, &c.. Nine acres newly seeded, good pasture, never failing creek and chestnut grove. Will leave stock, (pure and gray Jersey), crops and implements if desired. Enquire of

JOSEPH BAGGS,
Fulton, N. Y.

13w4 Chestnut Posts for sale from 5cts. up.

TO RENT—A 7 roomed house, eligibly situated. Immediate possession. HENRY BARDREY, S. W. Cor. Oneida and Fourth Sts.

People
who have traveled and claim to be posted
say that Fulton is the cheapest place in the country
to buy

CLOTHING

—AND THAT—

D. C. MORE & CO.

The Reliable One Price Dealers

are the parties to buy of.

GO
see the BARGAINS
they are offering to close out
SUMMER STOCK.

First Street, Opp. Lewis House, Fulton, N. Y.

[illegible] the grass is cut the great[illegible] before the seeds, which are [illegible] from seeding. If the [illegible] cut, however, fertili[illegible] be applied or the grass will [illegible] the soil.

An authority states that the last fourth of the milk from the cow should be saved in a separate vessel as this portion of the milk is so rich in cream that it pays to churn it all and thereby save the labor of skimming.

Keep a private herd book and register the birth and peculiarities of every farm animal on your place. It will make useful and interesting reading.

When a soil is left to itself the quantity of crop which it will yield rapidly sinks to a minimum where it tends to remain through a long series of years.

Milk being a complete food, it cannot be produced unless complete food is given the cows for that purpose.

Soapsuds may be advantageously used around the pear and peach trees. It is quite an undertaking to carry them to an orchard, but there are trees and grapevines usually growing near the house and kitchen which will be greatly benefited by the use of the suds.

Cabbage worms are a dread, but they may be disposed of by hand picking the first brood before they pass into their perfect state. Later on dust the center of the leaves thoroughly with a mixture made of one part of pyrethrum powder to five parts of plaster or dry earth.

For working purpose the mule is more economical than the horse. It eats less and will do as much work. Sickness among them is an exception. It costs less to keep them—less to shoe them—for their feet are much harder than those of the horse—and they are more patient than the horse.

In sowing mixed grasses for hay, reference must be had to their periods of ripening; they must be ready for the mower at the same time. Red clover and orchard grass do well together in that respect. Tall meadow oat grass also ripens same as the above and may be advantageously added to them. Timothy and herds, or red top ripen later and would not fit as well in the combination.

Never use coarse litter, as it pays to cut it with a cutter, and the animals will enjoy it better, while its fine quality will render it more capable of absorbing the liquids. All bedding should be used as much for its absorbing quality as for bedding purposes, and the labor of passing through the cutter will more than be repaid when it comes to the time that the manure is to be hauled, as it will then be fine and easily handled.

How to Feed a Horse.

Oats are the natural grain food of the horse. This is the popular verdict. But does the horse not want or need something else? Yes, he wants a reasonable allowance of good hay, clover or timothy, or the two combined. Oat straw is good, when the oats are cut before the stalk has lost all of its green hue. Wheat would be found a nourishing food for the horse, and not so dear as some would at first think. But it is very concentrated food, and all such must be fed with care and in connection with coarser food of some kind,

If oats are crushed, or just coarsely ground, they will prove more nourishing. In England they are passed between rollers. But if a horse's teeth are good it will generally grind its oats pretty well. There is a great difference in horses, however, in this respect, just as there is in men. Some bolt their food much more rapidly and less masticated than others. But whatever grain you feed do not let the horse drink immediately after. If you do much of the grain will be washed out of the stomach without being digested. See that the horse is properly watered a little while before eating its grain.

Corn is not the best food for the horse. It is too carbonaceous, or heating and fattening. Not everyone wants a fat horse. Fat is not a sign of the best of health in either man or horse. It is better to sell the corn and buy oats with the money received for it. Corn is apt to make a horse stiff and loggy. It is very concentrated food, as well as fattening. All dry feed is not the best for the horse's health. It needs a few roots, apples, carrots, potatoes, or other succulent food, as a relish and a regulator of the bowels. Nor is all grass good for the horse, if it is to do any work, as most people know, we presume. A moderate ration of grass, followed with dry hay, and always accompanied with oats, will do a horse good. The horse, like man and other animals, relishes a little variety, and it does him good.—[National Live Stock Journal.

Live Stock in Summer.

Sheep on good pasture gain rapidly. Ewes, to bring early lambs, should run with the ram. Their period is about 150 days. Drouth and short pasturage in some sections always make store sheep plentiful in the markets and low in price; good opportunity is thus offered to buy; good breeding ewes are thus often picked up, as well as such as will fatten well, turn the straw stacks into good manure and sell well in the spring.

Swine.—The best breeds of pigs may be fattened at a profit, when common, coarse breeds net a loss, or no profit. For store pigs always use good grades. Yorkshire or Essex or Berkshire, Poland-China or Cheshire are crosses that will, without exaggeration, save one-third the feed.

Cows on good pasture, suplemented [illegible] feed of corn and oatmeal and bran, will keep up their flow well into the [illegible], and as good butter may be made in September and October as in June. [illegible] cows should be dried off two [illegible], and when dry kept gaining in [illegible] will all come back in milk and [illegible]. A few days before calving, re[illegible] loosening diet, or physic [illegible] to weaken—to avoid [illegible] at calving time.

[illegible] should come to the win[illegible]

[illegible] with it. We [illegible] green food, and marketed them right up to the market. They helped us to buy a young cow and calf. The skim milk went to the pigs, and the surplus butter helped out our little treasury. In due time a pair of weaning mare colts could be bought. At two years old they did considerable work, and at three years they were a good, trusty team. It was easy enough to multiply and improve this stock after it was once paid for. It was like a young man's fortune; the first $100 comes the hardest. It has been my motto in breeding stock, if I could not afford to pay for the services of a thoroughbred male, to wait till I could, rather than send to scrub and run in debt. This policy has paid me well. Hundreds of farmers never get a good start. They don't turn the waste gain, and they won't look after little things.—[E. B. in Rural New Yorker.

Gen. Sheridan as a Farmer.

Gen. Sheridan says he is delighted with his new experience as a suburban farmer. Instead of sending his wife and children to a crowded seaside hotel or fashionable resort, this year he picks his own peas, digs his own potatoes, and enjoys freedom from intrusion, which has to be endured good-naturedly at watering places. The general drives to town every morning and returns in the afternoon. The enjoyment of seeing his children loving Mother Earth, he says, is far more happiness to him than he has ever experienced at all the fashionable resorts.—[Chicago Tribune.

The Training of Character.

If somebody should give me a diamond to carry to Europe, I can know exactly how much would be lost to the world were I to drop it into the sea; but if a seed should be given me, I can only regard it with awe as containing concealed within it the food of untold generations. That is the difference between looking at the truth as diamond or as seed—as final or germinal. In all training of character, continuity and economy must be supreme. The notion that character is spontaneous is held by most people in the earlier portion of their lives, and is wrong. When they discover this, nine-tenths change to the other extreme. This is wrong, too. Hosts of young men think that their character will form of itself, and that they will necessarily become better as they grow older. Hosts of old men believe that their character is fixed, and that it is impossible for them to become better. Such beliefs are foolish. People are also wrong in thinking that they can put off their bad traits and put on good traits. The old failures cannot thus be transformed, but out of the old habits new ones can be formed. This is what many a poor creature needs to know. We must make what we are to be, out of what we are already.—[Rev. Phillips Brooks.

The De Kalb Monument.

The monument to Baron De Kalb, which was unveiled at Annapolis, Md., Aug. 16th, the 106th anniversary of his death at Camden, S. C., while leading the Maryland and Delaware troops, is a signal instance of what the centennial spirit is doing for this republic. It will be 100 years in October since congress voted this monument, but it was not until the session of 1880 that an appropriation of $10,000 was made to carry the resolution into effect. The commission was given to Ephraim Keyser, the Baltimore sculptor, who went to Rome, and only a year ago last March had the misfortune to see his clay model, weighing nearly two tons, fall to the ground and break. But he at once began a new model, and succeeded in delivering it to the bronze founder within the specified time. The statue is nine feet in height from the bottom of the plinth, and represents the soldier leading the final charge at Camden with sword in hand. A monument to De Kalb was erected at Camden in 1825, the corner stone being laid by Lafayette. The present observances will recall the words of Washington when he visited De Kalb's grave in 1791; "So here lies the brave De Kalb: the 'generous stranger who came from a distant land to fight our battles and water with his blood the tree of our liberty.'"

Mrs. Cleveland's Courtesy.

The Washington Critic relates this incident, which perhaps suggests one of the reasons for the popularity of our President's young wife. She has tact, and knows how to do a kind act gracefully:

The policeman at the door of the church offered Mrs. Cleveland an umbrella, under which she might safely reach her carriage through the rain. The average woman would have accepted the umbrella with a grateful "thank you," and carried it over herself to the carriage; but Mrs. Cleveland isn't an average woman. Instead of merely accepting the umbrella, she accepted the true and gallant bluecoat as well, took his arm as if he had been a minister plenipotentiary and envoy extraordinary, and went with him to her carriage. Of course the policeman to-day is in a state of delirous complimentedness which totally unfits him for duty, but he will recover with careful nursing.

A Silent Fighter.

"I see," he said as he met an old soldier comrade at the City Hall yesterday, "that our generals are having a hot dispute as to which of them contributed the most to save the day at Gettysburg. You were there, I believe?"

"Yes, but I have no right to talk."

"For why?"

"Because I was simply a private soldier, and only had three bullets shot into me!"—[Detroit Free Press.

HOW OFTEN

We see some young man who has squandered his money and ruined his health by excesses, and before 30 years of age is an all broken down and played out man! In all such case I prescribe nature's tonic and nervine, Sulphur Bitters. They supply food for the brain, strengthen the nerves and are successful in nine cases out of ten.—[Old Physician.

Onions from Egypt are being sold in [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

bloody matter, [illegible] almost impossible to endure. It is impossible to fully describe my sufferings, as the case was complicated with Chronic Catarrh. After three years of misery, having been treated by three physicians, I was worse than ever. Finally, on the recommendation of W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. And now, after having taken twelve bottles, within the last twelve months, the scrofulous eruptions have entirely ceased, and the abscesses have all disappeared, except the unsightly scars, which are daily becoming smaller by degrees, and beautifully less. I do not know what it may have done for others, but I do know that in my case, Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved an effective specific indeed. As an evidence of my gratitude I send these facts unsolicited, and I am ready to verify the authenticity of this cure, by personal correspondence with any one who doubts it." CHARLES A. ROBERTS, East Wilson, N. Y.

This statement is confirmed by W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, N. Y., who calls the cure a great victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Send for book giving statements of many cures.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

REV. DR. FREELAND, of Fowlerville, N. Y. writes us that two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine cured his wife of nervousness and sleeplessness. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

IMPOTENCY IN MAN OR WOMAN quickly cured by Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is the great remedy for women and children. 128 doses for $1.00. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

REV. E. J. WHITNEY, of Clarkson, N. Y., says: Gilmore's Wine for Female Weakness stands without a rival. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

WANTED. A case of Female Weakness, General Debility or Nervous Exhaustion that Gilmore's Aromatic Wine will not cure. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MIDDLE AGE MEN who lack vigor and vitality should use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. It gives nutriment to the brain and is a tonic to the physical system. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MRS. I. H. McINTIRE, of Daggetts Mills, Pa., says: "My daughter, aged sixteen, has been declining some time. She used two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. She is now well. I would advise all mothers having girls not to be one day without it. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

LADIES, use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine, it will cure you. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE makes a lady beautiful, because it gives her good, rich blood.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is a positive cure for all those painful complaints so common to all our best female population. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

Joseph Paltzer, proprietor of the New York World, is credited with the possession of $400,000 in registered 4-per-cent. bonds, and his income for the current year is estimated at $300,000, indicating the possession of property to the amount of $7,500,000. Twenty years ago he was a penniless boy in St. Louis.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guaranteed. 27eow

A well known autograph collector, Gunter, of Chicago, spends from $10,000 to $12,000 a year increasing his collection, which is considered the finest in the world.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

There are twenty-five hundred children under 13 years of age at work in the factories in Windham and New London counties, Connecticut.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

The Delaware river at its head is tortuous. At one point near Stamford, N. Y., an arrow shot from a bow would cross it five times.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

As a remedy for Pulmonary Afflictions and Scrofulous Diseases.

Dr. IRA M. LANG—a prominent physician in New York, says:—I am greatly pleased with your Emulsion. Have found it very serviceable in above diseases, and it is easily administered on account of its palatableness. 11w4

The next legislature of Alabama will contain more Republicans than any similar body since 1874.

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

Send for Pamphlet on Female Diseases mailed free, securely sealed. Dr. J. B Marchisi, Utica, N. Y. 20tf.

Mrs. John W. Mackay is known to many of those who accept her hospitality abroad only as Mme. Bonanza.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills,

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

Of the 657 members of the new English Parliament, 337 are openly in favor of woman suffrage.

THE PRESIDENT

Of the Bank of Waverly, Iowa, says: Sulphur Bitters saved my life. For ten years I suffered from Catarrh and Liver Complaint; I lost forty-five pounds and was growing worse rapidly. I had [illegible] all faith in medicine, but hearing [illegible] Bitters so well recommended, [illegible] them a trial. Six bottles cured [illegible] [Smith P. Hunt, Waverly, Iowa.

The colonists of New South Wales have lost 24,000,000 sheep in the last five years because of drouths.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night [illegible]

[illegible] county, write to

O. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 5tt

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York.

Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
[illegible]	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest Cleanest, Best,

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

OUR BABY'S FIRST YEAR, by Marion Harland [illegible]

[illegible] HARM. [illegible] QUICKLY. PLEASANT, PURE.

A POWERFUL TONIC.

Kaskine Restores Perfect Health.

In Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful."

In St. Francis Hospital, N. Y. { "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Dr. L. R. White, U. S. Examining Surgeon, says: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Gleessner, has cured over 200 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says: "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, M. D., says: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

IS THE ONLY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD THAT DESTROYS THE GERMS OF DISEASE IN THE BLOOD, and permanently cures all diseases arising therefrom, such as Malaria, Fevers, Rheumatism, Billiousness, &c., and IS THE GRANDEST TONIC EVER DISCOVERED. Removes nervous prostration and premature decay by disinfecting the blood, so that the starving nerves are supplied with life giving nourishment, bringing back the VIGOR AND POWER OF YOUTH.

Send for the great list of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine.

Price $1 per bottle. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price. Agents wanted everywhere.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., New York.

For Sale by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y.

A little girl who had been told that when it was thundering it was God talking, was out on the lawn one day not long ago playing with her dolls. Her mother, seeing a storm coming up, called to little Alice to hurry and come in. She began picking up her playthings, but before she had got them all it thundered, when she exclaimed: "Oh, Dod, don't raise such a fuss and scold so. I am hurrying fas' as I can.—[Cincinnati Inquirer.

RENEWS HER YOUTH.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Paterson, Clay county, Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain." Try a bottle only 50 cents at R. E. Phillip's drug store.

Some Chinese miners recently found a nugget of gold in Sierra county, California that weighed 158 ounces. They sold it for $36,000. This is the third in size of the largest nuggets in the world.

Our readers are cautioned about buying medicines which are not endorsed by some well known druggist. H. C. Gisler, has made a thorough study of Blood diseases, and after a careful investigation, and many practical tests, positively asserts that Acker's Blood Elixir will cure all blood disorders, ridding the system of its impurities, and eaving it strong, vigorous and healthy, he will warrent it. It is a certain cure or all skin diseases. 27cow

The Salvation Army is not without its good works. During the past year more than 1,000 girls have been rescued from the street in Great Britain alone, and nineteen homes for the friendless have been established.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Cough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

Ohio has just refunded $2,250,000 of her state debt for ten years at the extremely low rate of 2.73 per cent interest.

Woman and Her Diseases.

is the title of an interesting illustrated treaties (160 pages) sent post-paid, for 10 cents in stamps. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

The entire expenses of over 160 students at Amherst college the past year averaged less than $400, vacation expenses included.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

Pinkerton men guard the body of W. H. Vanderbilt, in the New Drop vault, day and night.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

One hundred and six children were counted at one seashore hotel one day last week.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery.

Captain Coleman, schr. Weymouth, plying between Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner. Free Trial Bottles of this standard remedy at R. E. Phillip's drug store.

The latest gastromatic freak is frozen watermelon for breakfast.

WHAT WAS IT JOHN,

That made your face so free and clear from pimples, said his sweetheart. Why, don't you know, Eva? For over a year I took everything I could think of without helping me, then I bought two bottles of Sulphur Bitters, and now I haven't one pimple on my face. It is the best blood cleanser I ever saw.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY. ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work, [illegible] Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c. [illegible]

A [illegible].

Full many a man both young and old,
Is sent to his sarcophagus,
By pouring water, icy cold,
Adown his warm esophagus.
—[Merchant Traveler.

Incurable.

A man may drink and not get drunk,
A man may fight and not be slain;
A man may wop and get the bounce
And still he'll go and woo again.
—[Waterloo Observer.

In a drug store in Kansas City recently a countryman came swinging along, and in a loud voice addressed the dapper clerk with; "Say! Mister, goteny caster ile?" "Certainly, sir," he replied, "Do you wish it for lubricating purposes?" "Thunder, no! I wanter grease my waggin!"—[Boston Herald.

Kentucky Colonel—"Waiter, something to drink!"

Waiter—"Yes, sah; watah, sah?"

Kentucky Colonel—"Young man, I said something to drink; I don't want to take a bath."—[Pittsburg Dispatch.

An American base ball player was in Belfast Wednesday, and when the riot broke out and he saw clubs flourishing and heard pistols popping, he began to grow homesick. When the excitement subsided he asked a stranger if the umpire had escaped.—[Norristown Herald.

The claims of the anarchists that their aim was to elevate their fellow men is all right. What we object to is the stuff they wanted to elevate them with. —[Lowell Citizen.

We hope that the Prohibitionists will not nominate a full ticket.—[Philadelphia Call.

An enthusiastic meeting—Two girls who haven't seen each other for an hour. —[Burlington Free Press.

If the Waterbury Watch Company should fail, they would have an awful time winding up their business.—[Puck.

You can buy a watermellon in Florida a yard long for twenty-five cents, but the doctor's bill, the same length, will cost you about $85.00.—[Burlington Free Press.

A correspondent asks: "Would you, or any of our many readers, inform a constant reader how to learn to play the flute?" Not if we know ourselves.—[Burlington Free Press.

A small man carrying a big watermelon a short half a mile from the railroad station to his home may not have the fate of empires resting upon him, but you would never know it, to look at the expression on his face.—[Cambridge Chronicle.

"All things come to him who waits." At the same time it is well to tip the waiter occasionally. The things will come quicker—[Philadelpha Call.

Woman's greatest glory is her hair and she should be very economical of it when she is cooking.—[Somerville Journal.

In towns where there there is a strong Sunday sentiment, saloons have to be kept on the double entry system.—[Merchant Traveler.

In 1840.

There was time to live.

Men slept yet in their beds.

The epoch of haste had not come.

The saddle was the emblem of speed.

Brawn and brains went hand in hand.

No house contained a sewing machine.

A day's journey was a serious matter.

We were still a nation of hand-workers.

The highways were dusty and populous.

The canvas-covered wagon was the ark of trade.

The turnpike was still the great artery of trade.

There was not a mower or harvester in existence.

The land was lighted with candles after nightfall.

Butter was unmarketable a hundred miles from the dairy.

The steam saw-mill had just begun to devour the forest.

The lord of a thousand acres sat with his harvesters at dinner.

The day began with the dawn, and not with the train's arrival.

The spinning-wheel and shuttle sounded in every farmer's house.

He who counted his possessions by the square mile kept open house for the wayfarer.

The telegraph had begun in Washington and ended in New York twelve months before.

The rich were lavish in an abundance which was not yet covered by the keen eye of commerce.

From East to West was the pilgrimage of a life. From North to South was a voyage of discovery.—[Port Deposit (Me.) Call.

The Deserted Room at the White House.

The Garfield chamber in the White House still remains unopened, and has never been tenanted since it was vacated by the wounded President in 1881. It is said President Arthur had a horror of the place, and that the present occupant of the White House is equally loath to break the sombre silence of the apartment. This course is natural, but it is hardly wise. Gen. Garfield did not die in the room, so there is scarcely a ghostly presence to forbid the removal of the close curtains and the sealing of the apartment as a haunted chamber. There is not too much space in the White House, and no desecration would be implied in the restoration of the chamber to a condition of occupancy and usefulness.—[Baltimore Herald.

Tilden's Love Romance.

It is known by Mr. Tilden's friends that he was by no means averse to a matrimonial alliance. Not many years ago he formed an attachment for a daughter of the late Prof. S. F. Morse, and offered her his heart and hand. The lady did not look with favor on his suit, although the advantages of the connection were so great and it was so warmly advocated by her own family. Mr Tilden's proposal was twice declined. But his want of success made no difference in the friendly feeling of the parties concerned, and when, shortly afterward, Miss Leila Morse married Mr. Franz Rummel, the well-known pianist, one of the wedding presents was a $5,000 check from Mr. Tilden.—[N. Y. Mail and Express.

[illegible] with [illegible] food; heartburn, feeling of weight and wind in the stomach, bad breath, bad taste in the mouth, low spirits, general prostration, headache, and constipation. There is no form of disease more prevalent than Dyspepsia, and none so peculiar to the high-living and rapid-eating American people. Alcohol and tobacco produce Dyspepsia; also, bad air, rapid eating, etc. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS will cure the worst case, by regulating the bowels and toning up the digestive organs. Sold everywhere.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take BLUE PILLS, or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made. Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately. Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or high-colored? [illegible] Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is The Invalid's Friend. The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow, Try a Bottle To-Day! Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you.

A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 2c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

OVER WORKED Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ANTICHRIST!

ST. John wrote "Ye have heard that Antichrist shall come." The prophecies on that mysterious subject in the book of Revelation and in Daniel are fully explained in a commentary entitled "CHRIST ON THE THRONE OF POWER AND ANTICHRIST." The old interpretation is followed, except that the vast progress of modern times enables us to see farther into prophecy than formerly. Now can be seen signs of the coming of that formidable "Army of 200,000 thousands breathing out of their mouths smoke, fire and brimstone." No age before this has made such use of the mouth in teaching, lecturing and telephoning; nor of the press, in newspapers, books and pamphlets, for weal or woe. A few more explosions of dynamite like that in Chicago and a farther exposure of the hidden depravity of the Anarchists, may enable men to see signs of the speedy coming of "The Man of Sin" to whom John gave the name of Antichrist. It is a book of 257 pages octavo, in large type, sent by mail for $1.25. An Agent Wanted in every Town. Address

REV. F. C. BROWN, Rochester, New York.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE

BEST IN THE WORLD ☞Get the Genuine. Sold Everywhere.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 981 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

WANTED—I want you to do parlor work for me at your own home; plenty work; good pay; $1 per piece; all materials free. A. LOVE, CLEVELAND, O.

Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St. N.Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ASTHMA AND CATARRH. Dr. H. W. Reed's Celebrated Asthma and Catarrh Relief, the most effectual and sure cure yet discovered. Samples sent free to all who ask. Fifty cent and dollar boxes sent by mail. A. ETHRIDGE, Proprietor, Rome, N. Y.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure By JOHN H. McALVIN, Lowell, Mass., 14 years tax collector. Sent free to any address.

MOTH-WAX

KILLS THE MOTH

and the old Moth Miller. Sample cake by mail 6 cents. W. H. H. CHILDS, 73 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

FRENCH'S HOTEL.

CITY HALL SQUARE, NEW YORK,

Opposite City Hall and the Post Office.

This Hotel is one of the most complete in its appointments and furniture of ANY HOUSE in New York City and is conducted on the European Plan.

Rooms only One Dollar per day. Half minute's walk from Brooklyn Bridge and Elevated R. R. All lines of cars pass the door. Most convenient Hotel in New York for Merchants to stop at. Dining Rooms, Cafe and Lunch Counter replete with all the luxuries at moderate prices. 8y1

WRITE TO E. A. MILLER, Elmira, N. Y., President of the Elmira School of Commerce and ALLEN BUSINESS COLLEGE, for a catalogue of the Leading Business Training Institution of America. Gold Prize $50.

2,000 AGENTS WANTED for the NEW WORK.

GLADSTONE—PARNELL AND THE GREAT IRISH STRUGGLE.

By the eminent author, Hon. T. P. O'Connor, M. P. for Liverpool, and R. M. McWade, [illegible]

PULASKI—At the [illegible] in Pulaski, January [illegible] in March, May, June, Sept., Nov. and Dec.

FULTON—At the office of G. H. David, [illegible] in Fulton, on the [illegible] Friday in [illegible] July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. [illegible] Mexico, on the third Friday in April, [illegible] and the fourth Friday in October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 28th and September [illegible]

PARISH—At A. N. & J. S. Ladington's law office, April 30th, July 30th and Sept. 30th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 19th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 12th, 1886.

CAROLINE L. ALFRED, Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886.

LUCY K. HUBBARD, Executrix.

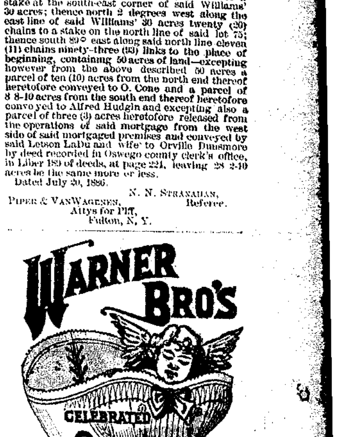
FORECLOSURE SALE.

SUPREME COURT—OSWEGO COUNTY. The Fulton Savings Bank vs. Letson LaDu and others. By virtue of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action at a Special Term of the Supreme Court held at the Court House, in the city of Syracuse, Onondaga county, N. Y., on the 5th day of June, 1886, and duly filed and entered in the clerk's office of Oswego county on the 7th day of June, 1886, I the undersigned Referee duly appointed in and by said judgment and decree to make such sale will sell at public auction to the highest bidder at the law office of Piper & VanWagenen, in the village of Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y., on the 4th day of Sept., 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day the mortgaged premises in and by said judgment and decree directed to be sold and described therein as follows, to wit.: all that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Volney, county of Oswego and State of New York upon Lot number seventy-five (75) of the 17th Township of Scriba's Patent, Beginning at the north-west corner of O. Cone's division of lot 31-100 acres and running thence south 2 degrees west along the west line of said Cone's lot 31-100 acres thirty-seven (37) chains ninety-four (94) links to a stake, thence north 89 degrees west parallel to the south line of said Lot 75 fourteen (14) chains, fifteen (15) links to a stake, thence north 2 degrees west along a line of marked trees seventeen (17) chains ninety-four (94) links to a stake in south line of Samuel A. Williams' 30 acres laid off from said lot 75, thence south 89 degrees east along the south line of said Williams' 30 acres two (2) chains sixty-three (63) links to a stake at the south-east corner of said Williams' 30 acres; thence north 2 degrees west along the east line of said Williams' 30 acres twenty (20) chains to a stake on the north line of said lot 75; thence south 89 degrees east along said north line eleven (11) chains ninety-three (93) links to the place of beginning, containing 50 acres of land—excepting however from the above described 50 acres a parcel of ten (10) acres from the north end thereof heretofore conveyed to O. Cone and a parcel of 8-10 acres from the south end thereof heretofore conveyed to Alfred Hudgin and excepting also a parcel of three (3) acres heretofore released from the operations of said mortgage from the west side of said mortgaged premises and conveyed by said Letson LaDu and wife to Orville Dunsmore by deed recorded in Oswego county clerk's office, in Liber 189 of deeds, at page 221, leaving 38 2-10 acres be the same more or less.

Dated July 20, 1886.

N. N. STRANAHAN, Referee.

PIPER & VANWAGENEN, Attys for Plff., Fulton, N. Y.



Five Gold and Two Silver Medals, awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.

The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks.

Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "DR. WARNER'S CORALINE" is printed on inside of steel cover.

FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING MERCHANTS.

WARNER BROTHERS, 353 Broadway, New York City

ADVERTISERS or others, who wish to examine this paper, or obtain estimates on advertising space when in Chicago, will find it on file at 45 to 49 Randolph St., the Advertising Agency of LORD & THOMAS.

DO NO MORE WHITEWASHING NOT WHEN PLASTIC PAINT

Can be had so cheap. Send for pamphlet and color card, and learn its merits. MAXWELL HAZLETT & CO. 109 McElderry's Wharf, Baltimore, Md., and 606 Washington Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

CATARRH

ELY'S CREAM BALM
CATARRH
COLD IN HEAD
HAY-FEVER
PRICE 50 CENTS
ELY BROS.

HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM was recommended to me for HAY FEVER I have found it a specific for that dreaded disease. For ten years I have been a great sufferer. Cream Balm is the only preventive I have ever found.—F. B. Ainsworth, of F. B. Ainsworth & Co., Pubs., Indianapolis, Ind.

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. Circulars free. ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

NATURE'S CURE FOR CONSTIPATION, Sick-Headache, and DYSPEPSIA.

A RELIABLE REMEDY. For Sick Stomach, Torpid Liver, Bilious Headache, Costiveness, Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient. It is certain in its effects. It is gentle in its action. It is palatable to the taste. It can be relied upon to cure, and it cures by assisting, not outraging, nature. Do not take violent purgatives yourselves, or allow your children to take them [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features. Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 17

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

Somehow or Other We Get Along.

The good wife bustled about the house,
  Her face still bright with a pleasant smile,
As broken snatches of happy song
  Strengthened her heart and hand the while.
The good man sat in the chimney nook,
  His little clay pipe within his lips,
And all he'd made and all he'd lost,
  Ready and clear on his finger tips.

"Good wife, I've just been thinking a bit,
  Nothing has done very well this year;
Money is bound to be hard to get—
  Everything's bound to be very dear;
How the cattle are going to be fed,
  How we're to keep the boys at school,
Is a kind of a debt and credit sum
  I can't make balance by my rule."

She turned her round from the baking bread,
  And she faced him with a cheerful laugh;
"Why, husband, dear, one would think
  That the good, rich wheat was only chaff,
And what if the wheat was only chaff,
  As long as we both are well and strong?
I'm not a woman to worry a bit,
  Somehow or other we get along.

"Into some lives some rain must fall,
  Over all lands the storm must beat,
But when the rain and storm are o'er,
  The after sunshine is twice as sweet.
Through every strait we have found a road;
  In every grief we've found a song;
We've had to bear and had to wait,
  But somehow or other we get along.

"For thirty years we have loved each other,
  Stood by each other whatever befell,
Six boys have called us father and mother,
  And all of them doing well.
We owe no man a penny; my dear,
  We're both of us loving, well and strong,
Good man, I wish you would smoke again,
  And think how well we've got along."

He filled his pipe with a pleasant laugh;
  He kissed his wife with a tender pride;
He said: "I'll do as you told me, love;
  I'll just count up on the other side."
She left him with his better thought,
  And lifted her work with a low, sweet song;
A song that followed me many a year,
  Somehow or other we get along."

—[Philadelphia Times.

The Dying Shoemaker.

"Dear wife, I'm waxing near my end,"
  The dying cobbler said;
"Soon to an upper world my sole
  It's lonely way must thread

"I fear, indeed, I'm pegging out,
  But then what boots it, love?
Here we have been a fitted pair,
  And so we'll be above.

"My ills, I know no drugs may heel,
  So it's well to prepare,
We can't run counter to our fate—
  Just put a peg in there!

"The future need not give you care,
  I've left my awl to you,
For deep within my inner sole
  I know that you've been true.

"I have always given you your rights,
  But now you must be left;
However, do not grieve too much
  When of me you're bereft.

"A last farewell I now will take,"
  He smiled and raised his head,
"B-last the cruel malady
  That lays you low," she said.

—[Norristown Herald.

The Difference.

Pray, Cholly dear, she laughing said,
  The difference tell to me
'Tween capital and labor so
  That I may clearly see.

He sat the maiden on his knee
  And stroked her pretty head,
Now this is capital, my dear,
  The laughing lover said.

The gentle maiden gravely said,
  Oh yes, my dear, I see,
'Tis capital until we've wed,
  And then 't will labor be.

A PICKPOCKET'S HEROISM.

As Recounted by a Benevolent Old Gentleman who Knew Him from a Boy.

The subject was pickpockets, and a detective had given a number of interesting incidents of the skill and dexterity of this class of criminals, as well as striking instances of their complete reformation.

"I met a reformed pickpocket once," said a benevolent-looking old gentleman "and the means he took to reform himself were probably such as no other member of his fraternity ever took. I say I met this party once, but the fact is I knew him from a boy. His family was one of the best that lived in Philadelphia, and the young man received a good education and had everything that heart could desire to make him a good and useful citizen. He seemed to have no faults. He never drank or gambled, and it was not until he was past his majority that the crushing fact was brought home to his father that his son was a professional pickpocket and an associate with criminals of his class. The father for years paid large sums to keep his unfortunate son out of prison, but finally gave him up as totally lost, and cast him off. I used to meet the young man frequently, his family being intimates of mine—in fact, I have trotted the boy on my knee many and many a time—and always pleaded with him to change his course. He felt his degradation keenly, to all appearances, but declared that he could not control his inclination for pocket picking. I finally lost sight of him, and did not meet him again until about a year ago. Then I came face to face with him on Broadway. He looked like a well-to-do young business man, and when he recognized me he greeted me cordially. He noticed my embarrassment in speaking with him, and said:

"'Oh, I've turned my hand from the old business long ago. The fingers that made me a thief and an outcast make me one no longer. And how do you think I overcame their irresistible inclination to enter every pocket they encountered?'

"I replied that I could not tell him how, but assured him of my unbounded pleasure to hear that he had overcome them.

"'I'll tell you' said he, 'One day I had been plying my detestable vocation, and on reading the paper next morning found that I had pilfered from a poor woman money that she had in her coffin for her dead child, and that it was the last cent she had in the world. I was striken with remorse. I walked about the streets haunted by the wrongs of this poor woman. I thought of ending my miserable existence by suicide, and actually rushed in a frantic [illegible] ponderous trip-hammers. The doors of the shop were open on the street. I stopped in a listless way and looked at the honest workers. As I watched the heavy hammers drop with their powerful blows, and saw how they flattened the tough metal beneath them, a strange thought came suddenly to me. It was a fearful thought, and I tried to put it away but something kept saying: "Be brave! Do it! Save yourself!" Led on by an irresistible power I entered the shop. I walked up to one of the great hammers. I watched it as it lifted up and came rushing down again, on the iron below with the velocity of the wind. I tried one more great effort to resist the power that urged me on, but failed. I stepped close to the hammer. It was lifted high in air. Before it fell again, and before any of the workmen divined my intention, I placed my hand on the iron beneath it. The hammer fell. Every one of the fingers on my pilfering right hand was severed. "They'll never lead me wrong again!" I cried, and fainted. When I came too, I was in a drug store, and the bleeding stumps of my severed fingers were being bandaged by skillful hands. In time they were healed, and now—see!'

"He pulled his glove from his right hand and showed me the stumps of his fingers still red from the cruel hammer's blow. I could not find words to tell this brave youth how noble his act was—crippling his good right hand to save himself from a life of crime. After a few minutes talk we parted. I was filled with admiration of this exhibition of nervy manhood. I would be filled with it yet, I suppose, if I never had had to consult my $200 gold watch again. But I did have occasion soon after leaving my brave young friend, and the watch was gone. So were $150 in bills that were in my vest pocket when I met him. I learned afterwards, that in trying to escape from a policeman three or four years before, he had tripped, and falling, his hand was crushed beneath the wheels of a truck. In my admiration of the noble motive which he told me had bereft him of the fingers of his right hand I had failed to notice that those on his left hand were as long as ever.—[New York World.

Some Summer Girls.

The unlucky girl who is one of six or seven big sisters.

The giddy girl who wears short skirts, tight shoes and dotes on Saratoga.

The elephantine girl who bowls twice a day in an ineffectual effort to reduce her weight.

The engaged girl who with an anxious air, is always expecting a telegram from "him."

The envied New York girl who has more stylish dresses than anyone else in the house.

The subdued girl with older sisters, who wishes they would marry off and let her have a chance.

The particular girl at Ocean Grove who will not permit herself to be hugged anywhere but in the ocean.

The lively Atlantic City girl whose craze is caramels, and who thinks the sweetest thing in life is dancing on the pier.

The sensible, modest girl who behaves herself and will be married well when all the raging belles have become old maids.

The ugly girl, with a blue-blood pedigree, at Mount Desert, to whom every nice young man has to be presented as soon as he arrives.

The stupendous girl in lichen-green costume and a Rembrandt hat, who carries her chin in the air on the front seat of a Newport drag.

The eccentric girl who sits on the beach at Sea Girt alone or wanders in the woods and doesn't seem to know a soul in the house.—[Philadelphia Times.

Open Your Windows, Friends.

Directly as the sun begins to decline let every maiden and housewife, and every man, woman and child, with an eye for the picturesque and a feeling for health and beauty, throw up the Venetian or Parisian blinds. Open your rooms to the glories of the evening; throw up and pull down the sashes, open wide all your doors. Let cool breezes enter corridor and cellar, garret and room; let the "caller" air circulate through every inch of the house hour after hour, while you are getting your evening meal, while your are saying your prayers, while you think of others after the toils of the day. If it be your priceless lot to dwell apart from city life and have outside your cottage, or villa or mansion, flowers—those lovely gifts of Dame Nature—Let scents of roses and thyme come in at every gap in the hedge, at every rift of the wall, at every cranny of the house—scents of rosemary and mignonette, and lavender and bergamont, and lily and elderberry. Welcome the delicate perfume on its cooling, refreshing healthy mission. It is Hygeia's gift—a superlative boon for the dog days.—[Chamber's Journal.

We recommend Carter's Iron Pills to every woman who is weak, nervous and discouraged; particularly those who have thin, pale lips, cold hands and feet, and who are without strength or ambition. These are the cases for which Carter's Iron Pills are specially prepared, and this class cannot use them without benefit. Valuable for men also. In metal boxes, at 50 cents. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. See advertisement elsewhere.

The greatest length of lake Michigan is 300 miles; its greatest width 108 miles; mean depth 600 feet; elevation, 506 feet; area, 23,000 square miles.

Prompt relief in sick headache, dizziness, nausea, constipation, pain in the side, etc., guaranteed to those using Carter's Little Liver Pills. One pill a dose. 25 cents.

Gen. Grant's new book has been trans- [illegible]

A Letter from Montana.

(Special to THE TIMES.)

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, Aug. 7, '86.

Having just returned from Butte City, the greatest mining camp in the world, a few facts in regard to the mines, and the city may be of interest to you. Butte, pronounced like the first syllable of the word beauty, is a hundred and seventy-eight miles from White Sulphur Springs, on a branch of the Union Pacific R. R., running from Ogden, Utah, to Garrison, where it connects with the Northern Pacific R. R.

A mile west of the city is a high cone shaped mountain called a "butte" from which the city derives its name.

The city is built on the side of a mountain at an altitude of 5,800 feet. The distance from one end of the city to the other is about two miles and the streets are about as steep as any I ever walked through.

Gold was first found here in 1864, and several miners cabin's were then built but the supply of gold was soon exhausted, but in a few years it was found that the hills were full of silver and copper, and in 1876 several mines were opened and from that time the growth of the place has been rapid and constant, so that now Butte is the largest city in the territory, with a population of 18,000. There are a few wide and regular streets, but for the most part it looks as though the houses had dropped down from the clouds without regard to location, and were considerably flattened also in the dropping. The style of architecture is not varied or beautiful. Nearly all of the dwelling houses are of one story, with three rooms and without paint, blinds, or even chimneys. The idea a visitor gets of Butte is that it was built to be removed at short notice.

The great and only business of Butte is mining, and in that it surpasses every other mining town in the world. Within a radius of three miles, there are three thousand mines opened, thirteen hundred of which are already patented, and the ground for miles around is full of holes where miners have been digging for veins or ore, for silver, copper, and quartz gold, these like coal and iron are found in veins. Gold, lead and iron are also found in Butte, but not in paying quantities.

The largest copper mine is the Anaconda, embracing 450 underground miners, and nearly the same number in the smelter where the copper is separated from the ore and prepared for the market. This mine is now a thousand feet deep and they send up on an average a thousand tons of ore daily which produces over a hundred tons of pure copper. The Anaconda company pays out $150,000 dollars a month for wages.

The Alice is the most important silver mine. In depth and in the number of workmen employed it is about the same as the Anaconda.

The mines are in operation day and night, seven days in a week. There is no Sunday for the Butte miners. There are four hours in the day when the miners are still, at midday and midnight, when the men take their meals and from six to seven, morning and evening, when the day and night workmen are changed. A miner then is down in the mines eleven of the twenty-four hours, ten of which he works, and for this work the average pay is three and a half dollars a day. Every two weeks a change is made and the day miner works during the night.

The larger mines have their [illegible] in the city for the crushing and [illegible] of the ore. In most of [illegible] is considerable sulphur [illegible] arsenic and in melting the ore, the fumes from these go off into the air and are very unhealthy and dangerous. Every tree in the city has thus been killed and flowers and vegetables can not be raised near these mills. I was told also that the men who work these are very short lived. There are six churches in Butte, but they are very poorly supported. The people are not religiously inclined and there are very few influences in connection with their work to lead them to better things. Saloons are many and the most attractive places in the city. I counted thirteen in one short block, and one side of the street was composed entirely of saloons with the exception of one store. From this I could easily see why Butte should be called the "wickedest city in the country."

On my way back from Butte I stopped at Helena, the capital of Montana. This is a fine, growing city of 10,000 inhabitants and the home of many wealthy capitalists of the territory.

It costs considerable to travel in this country. The regular fare from here to Butte (178 miles) is fifteen dollars and fifty-five cents. The railroads charge eight cents a mile and the stage fare from here to the railroad (forty-two miles) is five dollars, but just now we are having opposition in our stage route and the fare is reduced to fifty cents. The ride from here to Townsend, our station, is a grand one, over the Big Belt Mountains nearly 10,000 feet high and for fifteen miles through Deep Creek Canyon, whose steep granite and limestone walls are in many places covered by beautiful spruce and fir trees. Mt. Edith still glistens in the distance as the sun shines on its huge banks of snow some of which are said to be a hundred feet deep. Away in the distance to the east are the Crazy Mts., also white with snow. And yet though we have been in sight of snow all summer it has been a very hot season, the hottest ever known in Montana. For two weeks the thermometer registered one hundred degrees and even went as high as 116 and 120 in the shade. Such weather I never saw before. It has also been an unusually dry summer. The rainy season of June was shorter and brought less rain than usual. Grain and hay are of course not affected by this lack of rain as the farmers irrigate their land and do not depend on [illegible] from the clouds. [illegible] stock is therefore anticipated. Hay is now being cut and grain in some places is beginning to turn. Harvest will not be ended until October. There is very little of our cultivated grasses of the East raised here, as the natural bunch grass does much better and is far better feed. Horses and cattle fatten on it in a few weeks and horses constantly worked keep fat on it without any grain. There is no fruit raised in this valley. There is not a fruit tree in the whole 125 miles of its circumference, nor are there any trees save a few low creek willows along Smith River and the Cottonwood and Willow Creeks. Fruit is brought here from Oregon and California and is very expensive. Apples are 15 to 20 cents a pound, peaches pears and plums 25 cents and grapes 50 cents a pound. Blackberries, huckleberries and raspberries from 30 to 40 cents a quart, currants 25 cents, oranges and lemons one dollar a dozen.

Groceries for the most part are not much higher than in the East, neither are dry goods. Granulated sugar sells for ten cents, tea fifty cents and upward, eggs twenty-five a dozen, milk ten cents a quart, kerosene fifty cents a gallon, calico five to ten cents a yard, muslin five to twelve, gingham twelve to fifteen. Wages are high, carpenters and masons get four to six dollars a day, common laborers two to three dollars. Sheep herders and cowboys sixty to a hundred dollars a month and board, clerks one hundred dollars a month, and school teachers from seventy-five to a hundred dollars per month, for ten months in a year. Money is loaned at fifteen per cent. interest. The banks I believe, pay eight and nine per cent. on deposits.

The nearest Indian camp is 160 miles away. All the Indians in this territory are quietly living on their reservations. There are lands donated for their special use by the United States government, and no white man or other tribe is allowed to occupy these lands. A white man may have his share of the land and of the government support by marrying a squaw and living with her and among her tribe. Many white men are doing this for the sake of getting a farm of good land to work. The Indians as a rule do not work their land. They hunt, fish, eat the food provided by the government, and wear the government's clothes and are happy.

D.

Brother Gardner's Short Sermons.

It am easier to govern a state than to boss a Sunday skule picnic.

De man who gives you 13 cents fur a shillin' will borry yer tea an' coffy an' pay niffin back.

A photograph doan' show the deviltry in a man's eye or the pimples on a woman's face.

De mo' good clothes you can heap on yer back de less your bad grammar will be commented on.

De public nebber stop to question the truth of a scandal, an' de man who climbs above us am nebber quite forgiven.

De aim of de philantrophist is not to preserve the good eggs, but to work de bad ones over an' palm 'em off agin.

De room which a man takes upon the sidewalk am no criterion to judge of the amount of brains in his head.

You cant hear de jingle of gold pieces half as fur as you kin h'ar de rattle of tin pans.

De man who announces his own honesty sometimes gets into Canada with the boodle and sometimes he gets caught in Detroit or Buffalo.

Let two lifelong frens begin a discussion as to de color of Adam's hair or de size of Noah's head, an' de chances fur a row am fust class. What men doan' know am what they refuse to let go of.

Sift down de talk of the world's greatest men, an' when you cum to extract de bigotry, egotism, prejudice an' self-interest, you will have to look for de quotient wid a spyglass.

Luv am a beautiful sentiment an' de game of de three-keerd monte am a swindle, but fifty people are downed by luv fur ebery one swindled by de keerds.

Industry am a rack in which dar am always a peg to hang up one mo' workin' man's coat.

When you cum to let de gas out of a balloon you am supprised an' disgusted at de shrinkage.

One-half de great men expect deir speeches to be read by posterity an' deir debts to be paid by their chil'en.

How He Struck a Job.

On a North-western train was a sallow-faced, red-haired man with a pair of spectacles on his nose and an annual pass in his pocket. In the west seat was a smooth-faced young man who was looking for a job.

"I want a young man to clerk it in my office," said the sallow-faced man, "and if you can fill the bill I'll take you. I am an editor up in Wisconsin. Now s'pose you were sitting at my desk and a big man with his fists all doubled up and a wild look in his eyes should come up the stairs and inquire for the editor. What would you tell him?"

"I'd tell him the editor wasn't in," replied the young man; "but if he'd sit down and wait a few minutes you'd probably be back from the gun store where you had gone to get a new seven-shooter and a knife thirteen inches long to cut up rollers and things with."

"Consider yourself engaged. Salary, $4 a week and board, with one third of all the big watermelons that come into the office.—[Chicago Herald.

Backache is almost immediately relieved by wearing one of Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Try one and be free from pain. Price 25 cents.

The warm weather often has a depressing and debilitating effect. Hood's [illegible]

THE PROPER THING.

On the continent veils now are seldom worn.

Birds are the proper trimming for autumn hats.

Fichus of muslin or tulle are worn with morning costumes.

Safety pins set with jewels are in favor for millinery purposes.

Lace is frequently combined with embroidered crepe de chine.

Buttons of mother-of-pearl have the monogram of crest in gold.

Navy blue and brown will be the colors most worn next season.

Parisians wear alpaca skirts with blouse overdresses of thin India silk.

Woolen lace of all colors and designs will be used for autumn dresses.

Sleeves are made in a variety of styles and rejoice in all kinds of names.

Tests are made long and full, ending considerably below the waist line.

Apricot, peach and mauve are the favorite colors for mid-summer dresses.

High linen collars and pique neckties are worn with tailor-made costumes.

Suede stockings are worn with black low shoes and black dresses; but not in the city.

Felt and velvet bonnets will be the leading feature of autumn and winter millinery.

Jet and beaded bonnets will be generally worn for dress during the coming three months.

Dahlia, mulberry, navy blue and rosewood shades will be popular for the first autumn suits and tailor gowns.

The traveling wrap should be long, ample and not too thin. The pelisse style is preferred by some experienced tourists.

In styles of coiffure the low-coiled "emigrant twist" is for the moment waging war with the more stately fashion in hair dressing known as the "Josephine coronet."

There is very little difference in the new silk mits and those worn several years ago. The favorite mosquetaire gloves re-appear in accordance with the demand, with the quality, if possible, superior.

Kitchen and Market Gardening.

As soon as a crop is removed, do not let the ground grow up to weeds, but occupy it with some useful plant. Strap-leaved turnips, on good soil, will make a crop in ninety days, and are excellent for seed to stock, and for marketing. Rather than leave it unoccupied, sow it to rye to be cut for cows next spring and then to be turned under as a manure.

Root Crops—Continue to hoe all that are still young until the leaves prevent.

Sweet Corn—Where there is an abundance, dry a supply for winter use, boiling before cutting it from the cob. Save only the earliest ears for seed. Cut up the stalks as soon as the ears are gathered and cure for winter fodder.

Celery—Hoe frequently to keep clear of weeds, and encourage growth which will be most rapid this month of cool nights and warm days.

Cabbage and Cuiliflowers are greatly helped by frequent hoeing. If backward, give a sprinkling of guano at hoeing.

Cucumbers—Gather for pickles at least every other day, and daily if the patch is large and the growth rapid. Always cut the stem attached. If any have grown too large, cut them away unless seed is wanted.

Sweet Potatoes—The ridges may be opened, the large roots carefully removed, and the rest left to grow. If the vines take root at the joints, move them, at least in Northern localities.

Melons—Remove all fruits that set to late to ripen. Turn occasionally as the approach maturity.

Spinach, for use next spring should be sown this month, in rows 15 inches apart. We have found one variety to be as hardy as another.

Tomatoes—Search for and destroy the large green "worm" that devour both leaves and fruit. Cut away the clusters that set so late that they will not mature or get large enough for pickles. Make catsup while the fruit is still abundant, and at its best.—[American Agriculturist for September.

How To Use Pianos in Summer Time.

In the hot weather a piano should not be placed in a damp room or left open in a draft of air, for dampness is the most dangerous enemy. It causes the strings and tuning pins to rust and the cloth used in the construction of the keys of action to swell, whereby the mechanism will move sluggishly or often stick together. Continued dampness will also injuriously affect the varnish and raise the soft fibers of the sounding-board, thus forming ridges. Extreme heat is scarcely less injurious. A piano should be closed when not in use, in order to prevent the accumulation of dust, pins, etc., on the sounding-board, and yet it should be opened occasionally and daylight allowed to strike the keys; otherwise the ivory may turn yellow. An India rubber or cloth cover should protect the instrument from bruises or scratches. Moths may be kept out of a piano by a lump of camphor wrapped in soft paper placed in the inside cover. A new piano should be tuned at least once every two or three months during the first year, and at longer intervals thereafter.—[New York Mail and Express.

If you once try Carter's Little Liver Pills for sick headache, biliousness or constipation you will never be without them. They are purely vegetable; small and easy to take, all druggists sell them.

Henry Ward Beecher will have a new lecture next season, of which the subject will be [illegible]. He is gathering [illegible]

TWENTY YEARS A SUFFERER.

Jordan, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—I have been afflicted with Rheumatism for the past twenty years, and have been laid up with it regularly for the past ten years. A short time ago I was confined to my bed with it, and sent for a bottle of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and when I had used the first bottle, went after the second bottle myself. I have tried so many good things, with no good results, that I can recommend this, in the highest terms, as I believe your remedy is the best in existence.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. MARY DOCKSTADER,
Farmer's Hotel,
Black Rock, N. Y.

DEAR SIRS:—This is to certify that I have been afflicted with rheumatism and Neuralgia for the past twenty-five year and at times so bad that I was not expected to live. I have used Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and have never used anything in all my experience that has helped me so much. I can recommend it to all afflicted with the above disease.

MRS. MARY MAGUIRE,
1437 Niagara Street.
Syracuse, N.Y.

GENTS:—For the past five months I have been troubled with Rheumatism, at times very badly. I procured some of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy of your agent, and in a few days was entirely free from all pain, and continuing its use for several weeks I am entirely cured and take pleasure in recommending it to all who are troubled with Rheumatism or general debility.

Yours truly,
MRS. E. S. HINKLEY,
293 East Genesee St.

Ask your druggist for Dr. Pardee's Remedy, and take no other. Price, $1 per bottle; six bottles, $5.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

[Special to THE TIMES.]

It is estimated that 1,000 persons lost their lives by floods at Mandalay, and the damage to property amounts to $5,000,000.

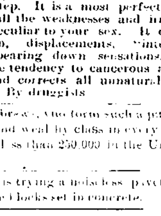
"The Slough of Despondency

in which you are wallowing, on account of some of those diseases peculiar to you, madame, and which have robbed you of the rosy hue of health, and made life a burden to you, you can easily get out of. Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" will free you from all such troubles, and soon recall the rose-tint of health to your cheek, and the elasticity to your step. It is a most perfect specific for all the weaknesses and irregularities peculiar to your sex. It cures ulceration, displacements, "internal fever," bearing down sensations, removes the tendency to cancerous affections; and corrects all unnatural discharges. By druggists

The Hebrews, who form such a public-spirited and wealthy class in every city, numbers less than 250,000 in the United States.

Boston is trying a noiseless pavement of granite blocks set in concrete.

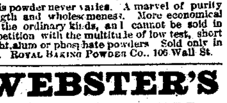
ROYAL



BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St.

WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED
With or without Patent Index.



The Attention of School Officers, and others, is invited to the fact that in purchasing the latest issue of this work, they get

A DICTIONARY
containing 3000 more words and nearly 2000 more illustrations than any other American Dictionary.

A GAZETTEER OF THE WORLD
containing over 25,000 Titles, with their pronunciation and a vast amount of other information, (just added, 1885) and

A BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY
giving pronunciation of names and brief facts concerning nearly 10,000 Noted Persons; also various tables giving valuable information.

ALL IN ONE BOOK.

Webster's Unabridged Dictionary is recommended by the State Superintendents of Schools in 36 States, and by leading College Presidents of the United States and Canada. It is Standard Authority with the United States Supreme Court, and in the Government Printing Office. It has been selected in every case where State Purchases have been made for Schools, and is the Dictionary upon which nearly all the school books are based.

GET THE LATEST AND BEST.

It is an invaluable companion in every School and at every Fireside.
G. & C. MERRIAM & CO., Pub'rs, Springfield, Mass.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS, &c.
Fulton, N. Y.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

Scranton Coal!
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,
Promptly Delivered!
At the Following Prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

LUMBER! LUMBER!
I have the Largest Assortment of
Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER
In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE
SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c.
Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere
Q. RUST.
37tf

HART BROS.,
—DEALERS IN—
Vitrified Glazed Stone Ware
—AND—
PORTLAND CEMENT SEWER PIPE
—AND—
DRAIN TILE,
With all necessary Fittings and connections.
FIRE BRICK, CLAY AND SAND.
Stone Ware, and Cement, Chimneys and Tops.
Fire Bricks of desired shapes, furnished on application.
STONEWARE WATER FILTERS A SPECIALTY.
Also Agents for Stewart's Ready Roofing.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
the popular favorite for dressing the hair, Restoring color when gray, and preventing Dandruff. It cleanses the scalp, stops the hair falling, and is sure to please. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

HINDERCORNS.
The safest, surest and best cure for Corns, Bunions, &c. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. Never fails to cure. 15 cents at Druggists. Hiscox & Co., N. Y.

—LIVINGSTON COUNTY NURSERIES—
MEN WANTED!
TO SELL FIRST CLASS
Fruit and Ornamental Trees, Shrubs, Roses,
GRAPE VINES and SMALL FRUITS.
PERMANENT EMPLOYMENT on the most favorable terms. Complete outfit furnished free of expense to salesmen. Address
J. M. EDWARDS, Nurseryman, Dansville, N. Y.
13w4

Job Printing.
—:o:—
We are prepared to do all kinds of
Job Printing
with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.
PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.
All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,
—AT THE—
FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

10 PER CENT. INVESTMENT. SECURITY ABSOLUTE. [illegible] Dakota, will loan your money on BOND and MORTGAGE from 8 to 10 per cent. Mortgage made to you direct. Bond payable at your own bank, or in New York [illegible] and [illegible] SALE COUNTY, CITY, and SCHOOL BONDS [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS, Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 3 First street.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y.
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts. Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious; Sample Rooms.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE
Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing
SICK
Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured
HEAD
Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head
ACHE
Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.
Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.
CARTER MEDICINE CO.,
New York City.

GREAT SPRING-SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.
Prices Below all Competition
On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.

IN DYE STUFFS
I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at
R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.
A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.
No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.
Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods—and prices below all Competition.
48tf R. E. PHILLIPS.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS.
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls
Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

INSURANCE SOLICITORS
New working Fire, Life, Industrial or Assessment Insurance, and other solicitors who desire to better themselves, can secure profitable engagements with N. Y. State Relief Association. Large commission and interest in renewals; also premiums asked for satisfactory work. Address J. E. ALLANSON, Sec'y., 41 State Street, Albany, N. Y.
14w3

WANTED—LADY Active and intelligent to represent in her own locality an old firm. References required. Permanent position and good salary.
GAY & BROTHERS,
16 Barclay St. N. Y.

JUST THE THING!
CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.
Save time and labor! Neat and Compact
Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General [illegible] the "envelope of the kind that [illegible] of the day."
To be had only at the—
FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.

$10 FOR 50 CENTS [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Feature, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 17.

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

Somehow or Other We Get Along.

The good wife bustled about the house,
Her face still bright with a pleasant smile,
As broken snatches of happy song
Strengthened her heart and hand the while.
The good man sat in the chimney nook,
His little clay pipe within his lips,
And all he'd made and all he'd lost,
Ready and clear on his finger tips.

"Good wife, I've just been thinking a bit,
Nothing has done very well this year;
Money is bound to be hard to get—
Everything's bound to be very dear;
How the cattle are going to be fed,
How we're to keep the boys at school,
Is a kind of a debt and credit sum
I can't make balance by my rule."

She turned her round from the baking bread,
And she faced him with a cheerful laugh:
"Why, husband, dear, one would think
That the good, rich wheat was only chaff,
And what if the wheat was only chaff,
As long as we both are well and strong?
I'm not a woman to worry a bit,
Somehow or other we get along.

"Into some lives some rain must fall,
Over all lands the storm must beat,
But when the rain and storm are o'er,
The after sunshine is twice as sweet.
Through every strait we have found a road,
In every grief we've found a song;
We've had to bear and had to wait,
But somehow or other we get along.

"For thirty years we have loved each other,
Stood by each other whatever befell,
Six boys have called us father and mother,
And all of them doing well.
We owe no man a penny; my dear.
We're both of us loving, well and strong.
Good man, I wish you would smoke again,
And think how well we've got along."

He filled his pipe with a pleasant laugh;
He kissed his wife with a tender pride;
He said: "I'll do as you told me, love;
I'll just count up on the other side."
She left him with his better thought,
And lifted her work with a low, sweet song;
A song that followed me many a year,
Somehow or other we get along."

—[Philadelphia Times.

The Dying Shoemaker.

"Dear wife, I'm waxing near my end,"
The dying cobbler said;
"Soon to an upper world my sole
It's lonely way must thread.

"I fear, indeed, I'm pegging out,
But then what boots it, love?
Here we have been a fitted pair,
And so we'll be above.

"My ills, I know no drugs may heel,
So it's well to prepare,
We can't run counter to our fate—
Just put a peg in there!

"The future need not give you care,
I've left my awl to you,
For deep within my inner sole
I know that you've been true.

"I have always given you your rights,
But now you must be left;
However, do not grieve too much
When of me you're bereft.

"A last farewell I now will take,"
He smiled and raised his head,
"B-last the cruel malady
That lays you low," she said.

—[Norristown Herald.

The Difference.

Pray, Cholly dear, she laughing said,
The difference tell to me
'Tween capital and labor so
That I may clearly see.

He sat the maiden on his knee
And stroked her pretty head,
Now this is capital, my dear,
The laughing lover said.

The gentle maiden gravely said,
Oh yes, my dear, I see,
'Tis capital until we've wed,
And then 't will labor be.

A PICKPOCKET'S HEROISM.

As Recounted by a Benevolent Old Gentleman who Knew Him from a Boy.

The subject was pickpockets, and a detective had given a number of interesting incidents of the skill and dexterity of this class of criminals, as well as striking instances of their complete reformation.

"I met a reformed pickpocket once," said a benevolent-looking old gentleman "and the means he took to reform himself were probably such as no other member of his fraternity ever took. I say I met this party once, but the fact is I knew him from a boy. His family was one of the best that lived in Philadelphia, and the young man received a good education and had everything that heart could desire to make him a good and useful citizen. He seemed to have no faults. He never drank or gambled, and it was not until he was past his majority that the crushing fact was brought home to his father that his son was a professional pickpocket and an associate with criminals of his class. The father for years paid large sums to keep his unfortunate son out of prison, but finally gave him up as totally lost, and cast him off. I used to meet the young man frequently, his family being intimates of mine—in fact, I have trotted the boy on my knee many and many a time—and always pleaded with him to change his course. He felt his degradation keenly, to all appearances, but declared that he could not control his inclination for pocket picking. I finally lost sight of him, and did not meet him again until about a year ago. Then I came face to face with him on Broadway. He looked like a well-to-do young business man, and when he recognized me he greeted me cordially. He noticed my embarrassment in speaking with him, and said:

"'Oh, I've turned my hand from the old business long ago. The fingers that made me a thief and an outcast make me one no longer. And how do you think I overcame their irresistible inclination to enter every pocket they encountered?'

"I replied that I could not tell him how, but assured him of my unbounded pleasure to hear that he had overcome them.

"'I'll tell you' said he, 'One day I had been plying my detestable vocation, and on reading the paper next morning found that I had pilfered from a poor woman money that she had in her [illegible] and that it was [illegible] in the [illegible] remorse. I [illegible] ponderous trip-hammers. The doors of the shop were open on the street. I stopped in a listless way and looked at the honest workers. As I watched the heavy hammers drop with their powerful blows, and saw how they flattened the tough metal beneath them, a strange thought came suddenly to me. It was a fearful thought, and I tried to put it away but something kept saying: "Be brave! Do it! Save yourself!" Led on by an irresistible power I entered the shop. I walked up to one of the great hammers. I watched it as it lifted up and came rushing down again, on the iron below with the velocity of the wind. I tried one more great effort to resist the power that urged me on, but failed. I stopped close to the hammer. It was lifted high in air. Before it fell again, and before any of the workmen divined my intention, I placed my hand on the iron beneath it. The hammer fell. Every one of the fingers on my pilfering right hand was severed. "They'll never lead me wrong again!" I cried, and fainted. When I came too, I was in a drug store, and the bleeding stumps of my severed fingers were being bandaged by skillful hands. In time they were healed, and now—see!'

"He pulled his glove from his right hand and showed me the stumps of his fingers still red from the cruel hammer's blow. I could not find words to tell this brave youth how noble his act was—crippling his good right hand to save himself from a life of crime. After a few minutes talk we parted. I was filled with admiration of this exhibition of nervy manhood. I would be filled with it yet, I suppose, if I never had had to consult my $200 gold watch again. But I did have occasion soon after leaving my brave young friend, and the watch was gone. So were $150 in bills that were in my vest pocket when I met him. I learned afterwards, that in trying to escape from a policeman three or four years before, he had tripped, and falling, his hand was crushed beneath the wheels of a truck. In my admiration of the noble motive which he told me had bereft him of the fingers of his right hand I had failed to notice that those on his left hand were as long as ever.—[New York World.

Some Summer Girls.

The unlucky girl who is one of six or seven big sisters.

The giddy girl who wears short skirts, tight shoes and dotes on Saratoga.

The elephantine girl who bowls twice a day in an ineffectual effort to reduce her weight.

The engaged girl who with an anxious air, is always expecting a telegram from "him."

The envied New York girl who has more stylish dresses than anyone else in the house.

The subdued girl with older sisters, who wishes they would marry off and let her have a chance.

The particular girl at Ocean Grove who will not permit herself to be hugged anywhere but in the ocean.

The lively Atlantic City girl whose craze is caramels, and who thinks the sweetest thing in life is dancing on the pier.

The sensible, modest girl who behaves herself and will be married well when all the raging belles have become old maids.

The ugly girl, with a blue-blood pedigree, at Mount Desert, to whom every nice young man has to be presented as soon as he arrives.

The stupendous girl in lichen-green costume and a Rembrandt hat, who carries her chin in the air on the front seat of a Newport drag.

The eccentric girl who sits on the beach at Sea Girt alone or wanders in the woods and doesn't seem to know a soul in the house.—[Philadelphia Times.

Open Your Windows, Friends.

Directly as the sun begins to decline let every maiden and housewife, and every man, woman and child, with an eye for the picturesque and a feeling for health and beauty, throw up the Venetian or Parisian blinds. Open your rooms to the glories of the evening; throw up and pull down the sashes, open wide all your doors. Let cool breezes enter corridor and cellar, garret and room; let the "caller" air circulate through every inch of the house hour after hour, while you are getting your evening meal, while your are saying your prayers, while you think of others after the toils of the day. If it be your priceless lot to dwell apart from city life and have outside your cottage, or villa or mansion, flowers—those lovely gifts of Dame Nature—Let scents of roses and thyme come in at every gap in the hedge, at every rift of the wall, at every cranny of the house—scents of rosemary and mignonette, and lavender and bergamont, and lily and elderberry. Welcome the delicate perfume on its cooling, refreshing healthy mission. It is Hygeia's gift—a superlative boon for the dog days.—[Chamber's Journal.

We recommend Carter's Iron Pills to every woman who is weak, nervous and discouraged; particularly those who have thin, pale lips, cold hands and feet, and who are without strength or ambition. These are the cases for which Carter's Iron Pills are specially prepared, and this class cannot use them without benefit. Valuable for men also. In metal boxes, at 50 cents. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. See advertisement elsewhere.

The greatest length of lake Michigan is 360 miles; its greatest width 108 miles; mean depth 900 feet; elevation, 506 feet; area, 25,000 square miles.

Dyspepsia causes sick headache, dizziness, nausea, constipation, pain in the [illegible]

A Letter from Montana.

(Special to THE TIMES.)

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, Aug. 7, '86.

Having just returned from Butte City, the greatest mining camp in the world, a few facts in regard to the mines, and the city may be of interest to you. Butte, pronounced like the first syllable of the word beauty, is a hundred and seventy-eight miles from White Sulphur Springs, on a branch of the Union Pacific R. R., running from Ogden, Utah, to Garrison, where it connects with the Northern Pacific R. R.

A mile west of the city is a high cone shaped mountain called a "butte" from which the city derives its name.

The city is built on the side of a mountain at an altitude of 5,800 feet. The distance from one end of the city to the other is about two miles and the streets are about as steep as any I ever walked through.

Gold was first found here in 1864, and several miners cabin's were then built but the supply of gold was soon exhausted, but in a few years it was found that the hills were full of silver and copper, and in 1876 several mines were opened and from that time the growth of the place has been rapid and constant, so that now Butte is the largest city in the territory, with a population of 18,000. There are a few wide and regular streets, but for the most part it looks as though the houses had dropped down from the clouds without regard to location, and were considerably flattened also in the dropping. The style of architecture is not varied or beautiful. Nearly all of the dwelling houses are of one story, with three rooms and without paint, blinds, or even chimneys. The idea a visitor gets of Butte is that it was built to be removed at short notice.

The great and only business of Butte is mining, and in that it surpasses every other mining town in the world. Within a radius of three miles, there are three thousand mines opened, thirteen hundred of which are already patented, and the ground for miles around is full of holes where miners have been digging for veins or ore, for silver, copper, and quartz gold, these like coal and iron are found in veins. Gold, lead and iron are also found in Butte, but not in paying quantities.

The largest copper mine is the Anaconda, embracing 450 underground miners, and nearly the same number in the smelter where the copper is separated from the ore and prepared for the market. This mine is now a thousand feet deep and they send up on an average a thousand tons of ore daily which produces over a hundred tons of pure copper. The Anaconda company pays out $150,000 dollars a month for wages.

The Alice is the most important silver mine. In depth and in the number of workmen employed it is about the same as the Anaconda.

The mines are in operation day and night, seven days in a week. There is no Sunday for the Butte miners. There are four hours in the day when the miners are still, at midday and midnight, when the men take their meals and from six to seven, morning and evening, when the day and night workmen are changed. A miner then is down in the mines eleven of the twenty-four hours, ten of which he works, and for this work the average pay is three and a half dollars a day. Every two weeks a change is made and the day miner works during the night.

The larger mines have their [illegible] in the city for the crushing and [illegible] of the ore. In most of [illegible] is considerable sulphur [illegible] and in melting the ore, the fumes from these go off into the air and are very unhealthy and dangerous. Every tree in the city has thus been killed and flowers and vegetables can not be raised near these mills. I was told also that the men who work these are very short lived. There are six churches in Butte, but they are very poorly supported. The people are not religiously inclined and there are very few influences in connection with their work to lead them to better things. Saloons are many and the most attractive places in the city. I counted thirteen in one short block, and one side of the street was composed entirely of saloons with the exception of one store. From this I could easily see why Butte should be called the "wickedest city in the country."

On my way back from Butte I stopped at Helena, the capital of Montana. This is a fine, growing city of 10,000 inhabitants and the home of many wealthy capitalists of the territory.

It costs considerable to travel in this country. The regular fare from here to Butte (178 miles) is fifteen dollars and fifty-five cents. The railroads charge eight cents a mile and the stage fare from here to the railroad (forty-two miles) is five dollars, but just now we are having opposition in our stage route and the fare is reduced to fifty cents. The ride from here to Townsend, our station, is a grand one, over the Big Belt Mountains nearly 10,000 feet high and for fifteen miles through Deep Creek Canyon, whose steep granite and limestone walls are in many places covered by beautiful spruce and fir trees. Mt. Edith still glistens in the distance as the sun shines on its huge banks of snow some of which are said to be a hundred feet deep. Away in the distance to the east are the Crazy Mts., also white with snow. And yet though we have been in sight of snow all summer it has been a very hot season, the hottest ever known in Montana. For two weeks the thermometer registered one hundred degrees and even went as high as 116 and 120 in the shade. Such weather I never saw before. It has also been an unusually dry summer. The rainy season of [illegible] stock is therefore anticipated. Hay is now being cut and grain in some places is beginning to turn. Harvest will not be ended until October. There is very little of our cultivated grasses of the East raised here, as the natural bunch grass does much better and is far better feed. Horses and cattle fatten on it in a few weeks and horses constantly worked keep fat on it without any grain. There is no fruit raised in this valley. There is not a fruit tree in the whole 125 miles of its circumference, nor are there any trees save a few low creek willows along Smith River and the Cottonwood and Willow Creeks. Fruit is brought here from Oregon and California and is very expensive. Apples are 15 to 20 cents a pound, peaches pears and plums 25 cents and grapes 50 cents a pound. Blackberries, huckleberries and raspberries from 30 to 40 cents a quart, currants 25 cents, oranges and lemons one dollar a dozen.

Groceries for the most part are not much higher than in the East, neither are dry goods. Granulated sugar sells for ten cents, tea fifty cents and upward, eggs twenty-five a dozen, milk ten cents a quart, kerosene fifty cents a gallon, calico five to ten cents a yard, muslin five to twelve, gingham twelve to fifteen. Wages are high, carpenters and masons get four to six dollars a day, common laborers two to three dollars. Sheep herders and cowboys sixty to a hundred dollars a month and board, clerks one hundred dollars a month, and school teachers from seventy-five to a hundred dollars per month, for ten months in a year. Money is loaned at fifteen per cent. interest. The banks I believe, pay eight and nine per cent. on deposits.

The nearest Indian camp is 160 miles away. All the Indians in this territory are quietly living on their reservations. There are lands donated for their special use by the United States government, and no white man or other tribe is allowed to occupy these lands. A white man may have his share of the land and of the government support by marrying a squaw and living with her and among her tribe. Many white men are doing this for the sake of getting a farm of good land to work. The Indians as a rule do not work their land. They hunt, fish, eat the food provided by the government, and wear the government's clothes and are happy.

D.

Brother Gardner's Short Sermons.

It am easier to govern a state than to boss a Sunday skule picnic.

De man who gives you 13 cents fur a shillin' will borry yer tea an' coffy an' pay niffin back.

A photograph doan' show the deviltry in a man's eye or the pimples on a woman's face.

De mo' good clothes you can heap on yer back de less your bad grammar will be commented on.

De public nebber stop to question the truth of a scandal, an' de man who climbs above us am nebber quite forgiven.

De aim of de philantrophist is not to preserve the good eggs, but to work de bad ones over an' palm 'em off agin.

De room which a man takes upon the sidewalk am no criterion to judge of the amount of brains in his head.

You cant hear de jingle of gold pieces half as fur as you kin h'ar de rattle of tin pans.

De man who announces his own honesty sometimes gets into Canada with the boodle and sometimes he gets caught in Detroit or Buffalo.

Let two lifelong frens begin a discussion as to de color of Adam's hair or de size of Noah's head, an' de chances fur a row am fust class. What men doan' know am what they refuse to let go of.

Sift down de talk of the world's greatest men, an' when you cum to extract de bigotry, egotism, prejudice an' self-interest, you will have to look for de quotient wid a spyglass.

Luv am a beautiful sentiment an' de game of de three-keerd monte am a swindle, but fifty people are downed by luv fur ebery one swindled by de keerds.

Industry am a rack in which dar am always a peg to hang up one mo' workin' man's coat.

When you cum to let de gas out of a balloon you am supprised an' disgusted at de shrinkage.

One-half de great men expect deir speeches to be read by posterity an' deir debts to be paid by their chil'en.

How He Struck a Job.

On a North-western train was a sallow-faced, red-haired man with a pair of spectacles on his nose and an annual pass in his pocket. In the west seat was a smooth-faced young man who was looking for a job.

"I want a young man to clerk it in my office," said the sallow-faced man, "and if you can fill the bill I'll take you. I am an editor up in Wisconsin. Now s'pose you were sitting at my desk and a big man with his fists all doubled up and a wild look in his eyes should come up the stairs and inquire for the editor. What would you tell him?"

"I'd tell him the editor wasn't in," replied the young man; "but if he'd sit down and wait a few minutes you'd probably be back from the gun store where you had gone to get a new seven-shooter and a knife thirteen inches long to cut up rollers and things with."

"Consider yourself engaged. Salary, $4 a week and board, with one third of all the big watermelons that come into the office.—[Chicago Herald.

Backache is almost immediately relieved by wearing one of Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. [illegible]

THE PROPER THING.

On the continent veils now are seldom worn.

Birds are the proper trimming for autumn hats.

Fichus of muslin or tulle are worn with morning costumes.

Safety pins set with jewels are in favor for millinery purposes.

Lace is frequently combined with embroidered crepe de chine.

Buttons of mother-of-pearl have the monogram of crest in gold.

Navy blue and brown will be the colors most worn next season.

Parisians wear alpaca skirts with blouse overdresses of thin India silk.

Woolen lace of all colors and designs will be used for autumn dresses.

Sleeves are made in a variety of styles and rejoice in all kinds of names.

Tests are made long and full, ending considerably below the waist line.

Apricot, peach and mauve are the favorite colors for mid-summer dresses.

High linen collars and pique neckties are worn with tailor-made costumes.

Suede stockings are worn with black low shoes and black dresses; but not in the city.

Felt and velvet bonnets will be the leading feature of autumn and winter millinery.

Jet and beaded bonnets will be generally worn for dress during the coming three months.

Dahlia, mulberry, navy blue and rosewood shades will be popular for the first autumn suits and tailor gowns.

The traveling wrap should be long, ample and not too thin. The pelisse style is preferred by some experienced tourists.

In styles of coiffure the low-coiled "emigrant twist" is for the moment waging war with the more stately fashion in hair dressing known as the "Josephine coronet."

There is very little difference in the new silk mits and those worn several years ago. The favorite mosquetaire gloves re-appear in accordance with the demand, with the quality, if possible, superior.

Kitchen and Market Gardening.

As soon as a crop is removed, do not let the ground grow up to weeds, but occupy it with some useful plant. Strap-leaved turnips, on good soil, will make a crop in ninety days, and are excellent for seed to stock, and for marketing. Rather than leave it unoccupied, sow it to rye to be cut for cows next spring and then to be turned under as a manure.

Root Crops—Continue to hoe all that are still young until the leaves prevent.

Sweet Corn—Where there is an abundance, dry a supply for winter use, boiling before cutting it from the cob. Save only the earliest ears for seed. Cut up the stalks as soon as the ears are gathered and cure for winter fodder.

Celery—Hoe frequently to keep clear of weeds, and encourage growth which will be most rapid this month of cool nights and warm days.

Cabbage and Culiflowers are greatly helped by frequent hoeing. If backward, give a sprinkling of guano at hoeing.

Cucumbers—Gather for pickles at least every other day, and daily if the patch is large and the growth rapid. Always cut the stem attached. If any have grown too large, cut them away unless seed is wanted.

Sweet Potatoes—The ridges may be opened, the large roots carefully removed, and the rest left to grow. If the vines take root at the joints, move them, at least in Northern localities.

Melons—Remove all fruits that set too late to ripen. Turn occasionally as the approach maturity.

Spinach, for use next spring should be sown this month, in rows 15 inches apart. We have found one variety to be as hardy as another.

Tomatoes—Search for and destroy the large green "worm" that devour both leaves and fruit. Cut away the clusters that set so late that they will not mature or get large enough for pickles. Make catsup while the fruit is still abundant, and at its best.—[American Agriculturist for September.

How To Use Pianos in Summer Time.

In the hot weather a piano should not be placed in a damp room or left open in a draft of air, for dampness is the most dangerous enemy. It causes the strings and tuning pins to rust and the cloth used in the construction of the keys of action to swell, whereby the mechanism will move sluggishly or often stick together. Continued dampness will also injuriously affect the varnish and raise the soft fibers of the sounding-board, thus forming ridges. Extreme heat is scarcely less injurious. A piano should be closed when not in use, in order to prevent the accumulation of dust, pins, etc., on the sounding-board, and yet it should be opened occasionally and daylight allowed to strike the keys; otherwise the ivory may turn yellow. An India rubber or cloth cover should protect the instrument from bruises or scratches. Moths may be kept out of a piano by a lump of camphor wrapped in soft paper placed in the inside cover. A new piano should be tuned at least once every two or three months during the first year, and at longer intervals thereafter.—[New York Mail and Express.

If you once try Carter's Little Liver Pills for sick headache, biliousness or constipation you will never be without them. They are purely vegetable, small and easy to take, all druggists [illegible]

TWENTY YEARS A SUFFERER.

Jordan, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—I have been afflicted with Rheumatism for the past twenty years, and have been laid up with it regularly for the past ten years. A short time ago I was confined to my bed with it, and sent for a bottle of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and when I had used the first bottle, went after the second bottle myself. I have tried so many good things, with no good results, that I can recommend this, in the highest terms, as I believe your remedy is the best in existence.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. MARY DOCKSTADER,
Farmer's Hotel.

Black Rock, N. Y.

DEAR SIRS:—This is to certify that I have been afflicted with rheumatism and Neuralgia for the past twenty-five year and at times so bad that I was not expected to live. I have used Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and have never used anything in all my experience that has helped me so much. I can recommend it to all afflicted with the above disease.

MRS. MARY MAGUIRE,
1437 Niagara Street.

Syracuse, N.Y.

GENTS:—For the past five months I have been troubled with Rheumatism, at times very badly. I procured some of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy of your agent, and in a few days was entirely free from all pain, and continuing its use for several weeks I am entirely cured and take pleasure in recommending it to all who are troubled with Rheumatism or general debility.

Yours truly,
MRS. E. S. HINKLEY,
203 East Genesee St.

Ask your druggist for Dr. Pardee's Remedy, and take no other. Price, $1 per bottle; six bottles, $5.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

[Special to THE TIMES.]

It is estimated that 1,000 persons lost their lives by floods at Mandalay, and the damage to property amounts to $5,000,000.

"The Slough of Despondency

in which you are wallowing, on account of some of those diseases peculiar to you, madame, and which have robbed you of the rosy hue of health, and made life a burden to you, you can easily get out of. Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" will free you from all such troubles, and soon recall the rose-tint of health to your cheek, and the elasticity to your step. It is a most perfect specific for all the weaknesses and irregularities peculiar to your sex. It cures ulceration, displacements, "internal fever," bearing down sensations, removes the tendency to cancerous affections; and corrects all unnatural discharges. By druggists

The Hebrews, who form such a public-spirited and wealthy class in every city, numbers less than 250,000 in the United States.

Boston is trying a noiseless pavement of granite blocks set in concrete.

ROYAL

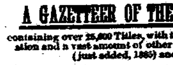
BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St.

WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED

With or without Patent Index.



The Attention of School Officers, and others, is invited to the fact that in purchasing the latest issue of this work, they get

A DICTIONARY

containing 3000 more words and nearly 2000 more illustrations than any other American Dictionary.

A GAZETTEER OF THE WORLD

containing over 25,000 Titles, with their pronunciation and a vast amount of other information, (just added, 1885) and

A BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY

giving pronunciation of names and brief facts concerning nearly 10,000 Noted Persons; also various tables giving valuable information.

ALL IN ONE BOOK.

Webster's Unabridged Dictionary is recommended by the State Superintendents of Schools in 36 States, and by leading College Presidents of the United States and Canada. It is Standard Authority with the United States Supreme Court, and in the Government Printing Office. It has been selected in every case where State Purchases have been made for Schools, and is the Dictionary upon which nearly all the school books are based.

GET THE LATEST AND BEST.

It is an invaluable companion in every School and at every Fireside.

G. & C. MERRIAM & CO., Pub'rs, Springfield, Mass.

C. S. EGGLESTON.

—DEALER IN—

BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
[illegible]

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE

Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of

Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.

And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.

Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.

Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

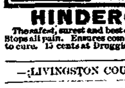
Scranton Coal !
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,
Promptly Delivered !
At the Following Prices :

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

LUMBER! LUMBER!
I have the Largest Assortment of
Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER
In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE
SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c.
Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere
Q. RUST.
37tf

HART BROS.,
—DEALERS IN—
Vitrified Glazed Stone Ware
—AND—
PORTLAND CEMENT SEWER PIPE
—AND—
DRAIN TILE,
With all necessary Fittings and connections.
FIRE BRICK, CLAY AND SAND.
Stone Ware, and Cement,
Chimneys and Tops.
Fire Bricks of desired shapes, furnished on application.
STONEWARE WATER FILTERS A SPECIALTY.
Also Agents for Stewart's Ready Roofing.



PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
the popular favorite for dressing the hair, Restoring color when gray, and preventing Dandruff. It cleanses the scalp, stops the hair falling, and is sure to please. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

HINDERCORNS.
The safest, surest and best cure for Corns, Bunions, &c. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. Never fails to cure. 15 cents at Druggists. Hiscox & Co., N. Y.

—LIVINGSTON COUNTY NURSERIES—
MEN WANTED!
TO SELL FIRST CLASS
Fruit and Ornamental Trees, Shrubs, Roses,
GRAPE VINES and SMALL FRUITS.
PERMANENT EMPLOYMENT on the most favorable terms. Complete outfit furnished free of expense to salesmen. Address
J. M. EDWARDS, Nurseryman, Dansville, N. Y.
13w4

Job Printing.

—:o:—

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,
—AT THE—
FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

10 PER CENT. INVESTMENT [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS. Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters, etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at [illegible], No 3 First street.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y.
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts. Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious; Sample Rooms.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO.,
New York City.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.
Prices Below all Competition
On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines,

IN DYE STUFFS
I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at
R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.
A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.
No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.
Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods—and prices below all Competition.
48tf R. E. PHILLIPS.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS.
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls
Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

INSURANCE SOLICITORS
New working Fire, Life, Industrial or Assessment Insurance, and other solicitors who desire to better themselves, can secure profitable engagements with N. Y. State Relief Association. Large commission and interest in renewals; also premiums asked for satisfactory work. Address J. E. ALLANSON, Sec'y., 4 State Street, Albany, N. Y. [illegible]

WANTED—LADY Active and intelligent to represent in her own locality an old firm. References required. Permanent position and good salary.
GAY & BROTHERS,
14 Barclay St. N. Y.

JUST THE THING!
CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.
Save time and labor! Neat and Compact. [illegible]

[illegible] of good [illegible] made known on application.

[illegible] of all kinds neatly and promptly [illegible] reasonable prices.

[illegible] Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as [illegible]

[illegible] communications, on business or [illegible] to THE TIMES,

F. D. VanWagenen,
Proprietor.

[illegible] help telling the Truth as I view [illegible] describing what I see. To describe [illegible]therwise than it seems to me would [illegible] falsehood in that calling in which it [illegible] pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

[illegible] R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

[illegible] extensive firemen's parade is to be [illegible] in Auburn on next Thursday. [illegible]ghteen companies in Cayuga county and nearly as many more from the surrounding counties have signified their intention to be present and take part in the parade.

A GREAT number of states in the eastern part of this country were considerably shaken last evening between the hours of nine and twelve by severe earthquake shocks. The greatest shocks were experienced in the states along the Southern Atlantic slope. Charleston, S.C., is entirely cut off from all communication with the outer world. Up to this morning no communication had been received from that city. It is known that a bridge in the vicinity was shaken from its foundation and the wires all lost.

THE Syracuse Times of Sunday gives an account of a fight which occurred in the eastern outskirts of Oswego last week between a man and a bull dog, which if true, is a most disgraceful and revolting affair and every effort should be made to punish the parties that were interested even if it is outside of the jurisdiction of the city. The human combatant was a French Canadian. The canine was owned in a small town near Syracuse. The two brutes fought somewhat after the rules of the prize ring, a chain being attached to the dog's neck to draw him back after each round. The Canadian was finally declared winner in the disgusting contest.

SOMETIME this month probably on the 18th, the renowned animal trainer Adam Forepaugh jr., with a belief that he can make himself famous and present an unrivalled card for his father's circus, proposes to have a tight wire stretched over the Niagara Falls on which his trained horse Blondin will attempt to make the walk. The horse was trained to walk the tight rope nearly a year ago and walks both backward and forward in perfect safety at a distance of twenty feet from the ground and has never yet had a fall. As the horse is careful and surefooted, he may be able to accomplish the feat in safety.

Free! Free!

We desire to call the attention of our readers to THE TIMES' offers to be found in another column. We propose for a limited time to give to new subscribers to THE TIMES four month's subscription to the Detroit Free Press or one year's subscription to the American Farmer, free. The same offer is made to our old subscribers who will pay to date and one year in advance. The Detroit Free Press is too well known to need commendation.

The American Farmer is an Agricultural Magazine published at Fort Wayne, Indiana, and is devoted exclusively to the interests of the Farmer, Stock Breeder, Dairymen, Gardner, and their household. No farmer should be without an agricultural paper. We are convinced of the excellence of the American Farmer and offer it free to subscribers.

A Pleasant Birthday Party.

Lena, the daughter of Rob't. Bennett of this village, gave a party to about twenty of her young friends on Friday, August 20 at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Van Buren. The occasion was the thirteenth birthday of Miss Lena and the place was Maple Lawn, about two and a half miles down the river, where she was born. Her young guests were carried to and from the village in carriages. Games, dancing, music and refreshments were all engaged in during the afternoon and a most pleasant time had by all.

A Reputation Well Earned.

The Bee, during its existence, has had dealings with a large number of advertising agents, from whom it has received a vast amount of business. It has still a great many such friends, who recognize its value as an advertising medium, and daily sending new business. Among this number may be mentioned the well-known firm of Geo. P. Rowell & Co., No. 10 Spruce street, New York city, whose reputation for honest dealing is too well known to need any mention in these columns. The Bee, however, [illegible] to say that it has never yet known a more prompt house in regard to remittances. So thoroughly have they systematized their business, that the moment a bill is received it is checked, and if found correct, a check is [illegible] mailed to cover same in full. [illegible] three or four days ever elapse from [illegible] the Bee renders a bill, until a [illegible] is received in payment. On Aug. 17 a bill was mailed them, [illegible] stamp upon its face indicates being received by them on the 19th, a remittance reached the Bee on Aug. 20. [illegible] special case, and it is spoken [illegible] give a worthy and deserving [illegible] encouragement for its wonderful [illegible].—[Toledo (Ohio) Evening [illegible], 1886.

[illegible] of the New York city named Donovan, imitated the bootblack Brodie last Saturday morning in jumping from the Brooklyn bridge. He was taken out of the river unhurt. He was immediately arrested and subsequently fined $10 for disorderly conduct.

Brother Harter of Auburn publishes a letter he has received from John B. Gough. The latter writes from spirit land, through a medium. It will be interesting to learn that Mr. Gough is still traveling on "the mundance plane of life," and takes such interest in temperance lectures that he can't keep away from them. He is going to talk through Brother Harter's lips hereafter.—[Cayuga Chief.

Three miles from the village of Madison is a curiosity that is exciting widespread attention. It is a spring the water of which is as cold as ice and clear as crystal. In digging down two or three feet, wherever the water has touched, everything is crystalized. Leaves, grass, feathers, and grasshoppers can be clearly traced in the beautiful white limestone. Large numbers of these specimens are carried away daily.

Excursion to Niagara Falls.

The Scriba Independent Temperance Society which was organized February 8th 1884, is in a prosperous condition and is to have an excursion to Niagara Falls next Saturday. This will be a splendid opportunity for any person wishing to spend eight or ten hours viewing the various points of interest in that vicinity. The fare for the round trip is only $2.25 and no charge is made for admission to state grounds. It is to be hoped that all will attend who can make it convenient. The president and committee have endeavoured to make all arrangements for the comfort of the excursionists. Train leaves the depot at Oswego at 4:50 a. m. Any further information may be obtained by addressing the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Hiram Mattison, Scriba, Oswego Co., N. Y.

COUNTY NEWS

Rev. A. H. Hanscom of Phœnix is taking a brief vacation in the North Woods.

The Good Templars of Central Square hold a picnic at Clark's grove, East Palermo, to-day.

United States Senator Warner Miller will deliver an address at the county fair at Mexico on the 14th of September.

The Chaffee annual re-union was held at the residence of William Church at Central Square last week. There was a large number present.

Prof. A. W. Farnham, who has been sojourning during the summer at the Thousand Islands, returned to his home in Hannibal last Friday.

Louis Pearl, a Prussian, 25 years old, was knocked off the Salmon river bridge and killed between Pulaski and Richland Sunday, by a freight train. He fell about thirty feet. He worked on a farm near Pulaski.

The grand jury has returned an indictment of grand larceny in the first degree against Thomas Crawford who defaulted in Oswego, in the sum of $26,000 and went to Canada in March, 1885.

The annual fair of the Sandy Creek, Richland, Orwell and Boylston agricultural society is being held at Sandy Creek this week. Lieutenant-Governor Jones will deliver an address to-morrow.

Ward Sprague of Sandy Creek has a patent for a combined burglar alarm and door fastner. It is designed to fasten to any door by the simple device of inserting a spur between the door and casing in such a manner that the least attempt to open the door will start the alarm.

Thirteen months ago S. W. Springsteen of the new Floyd factory of Orwell shipped some cheese, and in one he placed a small vial containing his address, and requesting whoever found the same to reply, says the Oswego Palladium. Last week a letter was received from a groceryman's daughter in England, stating she found the vial in cutting the cheese of Mr. Springsteen's make. She found the cheese to be of most excellent quality, and well kept. It was being sold out in her father's grocery.

After much discussion and a long delay, the question of valuation with the R. W. & O. railroad company has been settled in many towns in this county. The towns generally settled by assessing main lines $8,300 per mile, side tracks $3,000 per mile and other property as ordinary. Others settled at $9,000 or $10,000 per mile, main track, and "threw in" the other property. Richland's assessment for 1886 is $10,000 per mile on the main line, making no account of side tracks or depots. On this basis the company discontinues all the suits now pending and pays its own costs.

Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures when every other so-called remedy fails.

OBITUARY.

On Wednesday, August 25, 1886, Mrs. Katharine Barney, wife of Captain S. Barney, residing about a mile north of Granby Centre, died at her home. Her funeral services took place at the house on Friday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Fulford officiating. Interment was at Granby Centre.

Death has made another vacancy in the family circle of the Joselyn's. But a few months since, the remains of Homer, the youngest of the family were entombed, and this Thursday the remains of Hannah Brando, the oldest of the family were interred in our cemetery. One week ago last Saturday she [illegible]

[illegible] happy couple [illegible] for Rochester, [illegible] The following is a partial list of the presents: Table cloth and pair pillows, Mrs. Cyrus Fox; silver knives and forks, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Fox; silver castor, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Palmer, Brooklyn; silver pickle castor, Mr. and Mrs. Will Stewart, Phœnix; silver pickle castor and napkin ring, Mr. and Mrs. Sandhovel, New York; glass table set, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Spencer, Fulton; bed spread and salt and pepper castor, Miss Alice Peattie, Patterson, N. J.; silver butter dish, Mr. J. M. Glashen, Patterson, N. J.; silver butter knife, Miss Carrie Fox, Phœnix; silver teaspoons, Mr. and Mrs. Manley Clark, Fulton; $5.00, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Calkins, Fulton; cups and saucers, Miss Bessie Peattie, Patterson, N. J.; clock, Miss Katie Peattie, Patterson, N. J.; pair towels, Mrs. Susan Kane, Phœnix; pair towels, Mrs. Josiah Fox, Phœnix; table cloth, Miss Maggie Peattie, Patterson, N. J.; table cloth, Mrs. Jas. Clark, Fulton; horse shoes, good luck, Mr. James Peattie, Patterson, N. J.; bed spread, set gold collar and cuff buttons and whatnot, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Buckhout, Jersey City; pair towels and crazy cushion, Mr. and Mrs. C. Hancock, Fulton; 6 napkins, M. J. Woods, Phœnix; pair pillows, Mrs. M. H. Eno, Lysander.

Palermo.

E. O. Parsons, our justice of the peace is on the sick list.

W. H. Hannan is in attendance at the Sandy Creek fair this week with his patent thrill coupling.

Miss Carrie Downer of Baldwinsville, delivered addresses at the Palermo Center church on Sunday forenoon and afternoon.

O. M. Lee formerly of this town, now of Holly, Orleans county, is here on a visit. He has many friends in town who are grieved to know that his health is poor.

Dr. Lake of Fulton was in town last week in consultation with Dr. Green over Mrs. Matilda Avery. They came to the conclusion that it was not possible for her to live long.

Parish.

C. H. David of Fulton, has been visiting his relatives here for the past few days.

Our school opened on Monday Aug. 23d with a large increase of pupils. There is a splendid teacher's class under the supervision of the principal.

The average yield of oats to the acre is over forty bushels and heavy.

The supervisor and assessors are trying to settle the matter of valuation of railroad property in town.

Mrs. J. H. Brando, mother of Marlon Brandow, died at the home of her brother, L. D. Joselyn of this town, August 28, aged 68 years. For many years she was a resident of this town. She taught school here both before marriage and after her husband's death. She lived in Fulton also for several years.

Hannibal Center.

Mrs. John Hill of Amsterdam is the guest of Mr. George Rogers.

Miss Ernie Smith is visiting friends in Fulton.

It is astonishing to find how many had business in Fulton yesterday.

Levi Bracket has had two sheep killed and fourteen so badly bitten that he had to kill them.

John Pricherd met with a serious accident while at work in Charles Roger's mill yard last last week. His foot was caught between two logs and badly crushed. He is now able to to get about with the aid of two crutches.

VOLNEY.

The farmers in this locality are jubilant over the productive weather.

Hay, corn, oats and potatoes are a good crop this season.

Heeman Rowlee is very sick with pneumonia. Dr. Lake is attending him.

Temperance meetings are being held at Mt. Pleasant and at the Cone school house, conducted by Miss Eldrich and Mrs. John Dunsmore.

Republican Caucus.

The Republican electors of the town of Volney are requested to meet at Church's Hall in the village of Fulton, on Saturday, September 4, 1886, at 2 p. m. to select delegates to the district convention already called, and to the county and assembly conventions hereafter to be called, and to transact such other business as may be properly brought before the meeting.

By order Com.

Sept. 1 '86. F. A. GAGE, Chairman.

The first inning of a cricket match between the Syracuse and Napanee (Ont.) elevens was played in Syracuse last Friday and resulted in 122 runs for the former and 59 for the latter.

Fashion Quarterly.

We have received during the past week the fall issue of Ehrick's Fashion Quarterly. The list of contributors to this popular quarterly has been increased and a number of well known writers has been added. A correspondent in Paris furnishes the latest news from this Centre of Fashion. In this number short stories and prose articles appear from Julian Hawthorne, Edgar Fawcett, Junius Henri Browne, William H. Rideing, Louise Chandler Moulton, Mary Lowe Dickinson, Helen Campbell, Abby Sage Richardson, Leigh North, Mrs. E. B. Sykes, Florence B. Hollowell, Eben Rexford and other writers. Poems by James Herbert Morse, Estelle Thompson, Malcolm Douglass, Hannah Coddington and others also appear. The price of the quarterly is 15 cents per number or 50 cents per year. Fashion Publishing company, 18 Jacob street N. Y. city.

You will save time and money by [illegible]

[illegible] followed by [illegible] criticism of Froude's Carlyle biography and this in turn has been succeeded by a discussion of "Genius" by Edmund Clarence Stedman, in the September issue of the Review. Mr. Howell finds in Mr. Stedman a vigorous and able advocate of the ancient conception of genius as a special and individual quality or gift, greatly aided in its development and expression by industry, but never originated by effort or art. Mr. W. C. Prime finds a congenial theme in "Country Churches in New England," and makes his theme the text for a broad discussion of the apparent decline of religious interest in New England, the decreased attendance at various services, the character and attainments of the clergy, and the dimishing respect for the Sabbath. Mr. George R. Gibson gives a very clear and full account of the rise and growth of Mormonism, under the title "The Origin of a Great Delusion," telling with considerable detail the story of the making of the Mormon Bible and the evolution of Mormon doctrine and practice.

The painful and shameful connection and contrast between "Indian Treaties and National Honor" are brought out by Sarah Newlin, in a brief but forcible array of facts from our national history. General O. O. Howard continues the deeply interesting story of "The Freemen during the War," covering the period between the autumn of 1863 and the close of the war. The third chapter of the series of semi-personal, semi historical gossip which naturally falls under the title "In and Around a Dispatch Box," surpasses all of its predecessors in interest and variety, and recalls picturesque old times, personages and manners. The element of fiction is supplied by a translation from the German of Alfred Schone of a very striking short story, "The Blue Veil." The wide range of topics discussed in Criticisms, Notes and Reviews is indicated by such titles as a "Review of the Reviews," "The Defeat of the English Liberals," "Is Germany our University Model?" and "The Education of Working Men's Children." A. C. ARMSTRONG & SON, Publishers New York City.

The Century.

The September Century contains two full page portraits of the renouned musician Liszt, who so recently died, also pictures of his home in connection with the article "A Summer with Liszt in Weimar." American enterprise has an amusing and curious illustration in extraordinary papers on the balloon experiences of two venturesome citizens of Connecticut. Alfred E. More, the aeronaut of the party, describes in a humorous vein, his sensations and mishaps in mid-air, under the title, "Amateur Ballooning." His companion John G. Doughty, recounts "The Balloon Experiences of a Timid Photographer." The papers are illustrated with fruits of the latter's art, curious photographs of the earth, and of cloud effects from altitudes of a mile or more, being here given in fac-simile reproductions. So far as known these are the first photographs ever taken in America from a balloon. Kemble has also touched the experiences of these sky-adventures with his humorous pencil. Illustrated articles of scientific natures are furnished by S. G. W. Benjamin and Mrs. E. N. Whilman, stories of absorbing interest by Mr. Howells, Frank Stockton and Miss Kate Foote, and poems by Frank D. Sherman, Miss Ninna Irving, Mrs. S. M. B. Piatt, R. U. Johnson, Maurice Thomson and R. W. Gilder. The war articles are resplendant with rich illustrations while the editorials in "Topics of the Time" touch upon questions of vital interest.

WIDE AWAKE.

The Wide Awake for September is a a number containing many articles of a historic nature each of which is written in a manner to retain the interest of the reader without confining their thoughts strictly to historic dates and data. Chief among this class of articles is 'L'Enfant Terrible Turk,' which while appearing to be of a light nature is filled with important information and is illustrated from Turkish photographs. It is written by Hon. S. S. Cox, U. S. Minister to Turkey.

There is a long and dainty ballad in this number written by by Mrs. S. M. B. Piatt with twelve full-page illustrations, which narrates a romantic incident that recently occurred in Queenstown, Ireland. The three serials are notably interesting, while there is much other interesting matter. Wide Awake is $3.00 a year. D. Lothrop & Co., Publishers, Boston.

FOURTEENTH ANNUAL EXHIBITION
—OF THE—
PHOENIX UNION
Agricultural Society,
WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY AND FRIDAY,
Sept. 15th, 16th, and 17th, 1886.
Half rates on the Syracuse, Phœnix & Oswego RR.

The following are among the premiums:

No. 22—LADIES HORSEBACK RIDING.

First premium	$5
Second "	3

CLASS No. 23—BAND TOURNAMENT.
Purse $120.00.

First premium	$60.00
2d do	30.00
3d do	18.00
4th do	12.00

The tournament will be held Thursday, September 16. The winner of the first premium to furnish music during the last day of the fair. For conditions of competition apply to the secretary. [illegible]

No. 24—EXHIBITION TROTTING HORSES.
Second Day—Thursday.

Purse No. 1, $160, for horses that have never beaten [illegible]

First premium	[illegible]
2d do	[illegible]
3d do	[illegible]
4th do	[illegible]

Purse No. 2, $200, for horses that have never beaten [illegible]

First premium	[illegible]
2d do	[illegible]
3d do	[illegible]
4th do	[illegible]

Third Day—Friday.

[illegible]

[illegible] shook up [illegible] has never before been witnessed in this country, from causes of a similar nature. The ground for miles around was rent and seemed to rock and sway under the terrific force of the concussion. A community of houses in the neighborhood of the magazine was laid in ruins and many of the inhabitants were covered by the debris. Ten miles distant in the heart of Chicago French glass windows were strewn over the sidewalk in pulverized masses. The accounts of some of the persons who perished by this explosion are terrible in the extreme. John Kann, a young farmer, who was driving a team of horses near the magazine at the time of the explosion was hurled through the air for a distance of over 100 feet, his mangled body being found half an hour later. The base of his skull was fractured, and the brain protruded. Pieces of wood and iron had penetrated his back and caused gashes all over his body, from which the blood flowed and gathered in pools. His clothes were blown from his body, except a few shreds which clung to his lower limbs. Few traces of the wagon could be found; it was almost literally swept from the face of the earth. The horse on the side next the magazine was killed instantly and both horses were stripped of their harness.

About two hundred feet west of where the magazine had exploded stood a small one-story cottage. Here lived John Gugl, the driver for Lafflin & Rand, with his young wife and Carrie Earnsworth, a relative. The latter had just stepped out of the rear door of the cottage toward the barn when the crash came. Showers of stone and debris came down upon her and crushed out her young life. Her body was mangled almost beyond recognition. Gugl and his his wife were the only room which the cottage contained besides the kitchen. Heavy stones from the foundation of the destroyed magazine came crashing through the air and mingled with the debris of the cottage which had been completely leveled to the ground. Under the piles of wood, pieces of furniture and shreds of bedding were found the prostrate forms of Gugl and his wife, both unconscious. They never rallied sufficient to tell the tale of their sore distress. A horse stabled in the rear of Gugl's cottage was instantly killed.

Right across the road from the magazine lived Mrs. Elizabeth Devine in a little frame shanty. She is an aged Irish widow, and has only a few chickens for company. Her little hut went down level with the ground with the flying debris. Mrs. Devine was rescued from beneath a pile of brick and boards. Her body is cut in a hundred places and both arms and a leg are broken.

When the first shock reached the Jesuite church, five miles distant it shook the rafters and the whole building trembled like an aspen leaf. Over 1,000 people were in the church attending mass and a panic ensued in which many were seriously injured.

Over one hundred windows in the Chicago Malleable Works were broken and the sidewalk was covered with broken glass.

One person, Carrie Evensworth, was killed instantly, and nearly a dozen fatally injured, many of whom have since died.

Cures His Patients.

If you are afflicted with any chronic disease go and see Dr. Markley at the Lewis House every Thursday. If there is a doctor that can tell what ails you he can. If he says he can cure you he will do it. His terms are very reasonable. 17tf.

CHEESE MARKETS.

[From the Utica Herald.]

UTICA, Aug 30.

The market to-day was nearly a repetition of a week ago, the general tone being strong and steady. There was at first a disposition among buyers to keep prices down, until it became evident that cheese was really wanted. The dry weather has made a decrease of one to two cheeses per factory during the last week, and dairymen feel pretty strong on the situation. A few refused to sell at all, believing that the August cheese is good property to hold. But the large majority of factorymen sold their week's make, thus taking stocks off for a full week in August, and a day or two in addition. The fancies were very generally offered at 8¾ cts., early in the afternoon, and it was understood that some of them had this price raised before the close of the market. Following are the sales of the day as reported: Five lots, 500 boxes, at 8⅛c.; 61 lots, 5,412 boxes, at 8¼c.; 6 lots, 556 boxes, at 8⅜c.; 16 lots, 1,343 boxes, at 8⅛c.; 21 lots, 2,011 boxes, at 8⅝c.; 2 lots, 350 boxes, at 8¾c.; 63 boxes at p. t. Sales, 10,245 boxes; commissions 394 boxes; total 10,639 boxes. Ruling price 8¼ cents. Transactions of corresponding day last year, 13,820 boxes, ruling 7½ cents; of the same day in 1881, 11,131 boxes, ruling 10⅛ cents.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, Aug. 28.

CHEESE—With the extremely light sales of one week ago, many were looking to-day for large shipments, even though prices remained about the same. The figures show that more business has been done, but still the sales are not large. There is quite a feeling of confidence in the future of the market, and many of our best informed men are positve in their convictions, that prices will go higher in the near future. The weather has been quite warm, and that fact has hastened the movement of some cheese which, under more favorable conditions, would have remained on the shelves.

Following is our usual table:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
1	45	8 cents
1	60	8[illegible] cents
56	3,370	8[illegible] cents
35	3,284	8[illegible] cents
1	65	8[illegible] cents
5	498	8[illegible] cents
11	952	com.
128	8,329
Farm dairy	796
Total	9,125

Farm dairy—The sales of farm dairy amount to 796 boxes at 7½ to 8¼ cents, with the bulk at 8¼ cents.

Butter—Forty packages of butter sold at 10 to 21 cents, the bulk bringing 20 cents.

AT FULTON.

The market here last Monday night was nearly the same as the week preceding. Twenty factories were represented with about 10,000 boxes which were sold at from 8¼ and 8½ cents.

[illegible]

A farm of 10 acres in Granby, within [illegible] of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 50 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for House and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots [illegible]. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jas. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 84 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y.

☞Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at FULTON, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

—Salesmen Wanted.—

We are in want of a few more first class men to canvass for the sale of choice varieties of Nursery Stock. To men who can make a success of the business we can pay good salaries and give permanent employment. We have many new and choice specialties, both in the fruit and ornamental line which others do not handle. Apply at once, with references.

16w6 MAY BROTHERS, Nurserymen
Rochester, N. Y.

LUMBER YARD.

We have in Stock a Complete Assortment of

Lumber, Lath, Shingles

&c., and in fact everything pertaining to a
FIRST-CLASS YARD.

We are prepared to furnish thoroughly Seasoned Lumber at Lowest Rates.
Call and be Convinced.

BOOMER & LOOMIS.
Corner Broadway and First Streets.

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF
Ladies' Kid Button Shoes
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE
SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

Science emerging from Darkness.

A FIFTH AVENUE LADY WRITES A LETTER ABOUT Kaskine.

THE NEW QUININE.

[illegible] FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK.

Kaskine [illegible] Sirs: Although always opposed to [illegible] publicly, I waive my reluctance [illegible]. No one can see the vast good done to the suffering that I have seen accomplished by [illegible] wonderful medicine and remain silent.

I deem it my pleasant duty, my dear sirs, to express my cordial thanks for the great cure it has accomplished in my family as well as for the many cures it has effected among the suffering poor to whom I have taken it. My son was the greatest sufferer for years from what was first termed by our physician to be dyspepsia and general debility, which was followed by the severest forms of chills and fever, and finally pronounced by several of the most eminent physicians to be malaria, with all its different forms of suffering and organic diseases, including liver and kidney troubles and nervous prostration. You will see that I owe an especial debt of gratitude to you, for my son's health seemed hopelessly lost, as he derived no benefit from medical treatment, although receiving the best that the highest medical talent in America could afford, combined at times with the benefit of travel. His constitution also had been almost undermined and his hearing impaired by the use of quinine. We were influenced to try Kaskine by hearing of its great success from reliable sources, and my son has been completely restored to health by its use. If my testimony of these facts will help to save human life and restore the suffering to health, I should be guilty indeed to remain silent. I am, my dear sirs, yours most gratefully

June 11th. (Mrs.) J. DeWitt Burns.

WHAT THE HOSPITALS SAY.

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful.

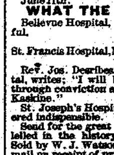
St. Francis Hospital, N. Y. "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Rev. Jos. Dearfbes, Chaplain of Charity Hospital, writes: "I will be surely, on every occasion, through conviction a most devoted promoter of Kaskine."

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.: "Its use is considered indispensible. It acts perfectly."

Send for the great book of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine. $1 a bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.



Are You Consumptive.

Have you Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion? Use Parker's Tonic without delay. It has cured many of the worst cases. Do you suffer from pains in the chest, back or limbs? Have you symptoms of trouble with your Stomach, Liver or Kidneys? Neglect of these warnings leads to the breaking down of the vital powers. Parker's Tonic is the best remedy. Often saves life. Cures when everything else fails. Gives new life and strength to the aged and infirm.

[illegible]

PARKER'S TONIC.

[illegible]

—WILL HOLD ITS—

19th ANNUAL FAIR,

On the Society's Grounds at Oswego Falls, N. Y., on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday,

SEPT. 21, 22, AND 23, 1886.

The Grounds will be open all day on Monday preceding the Fair for the reception and arrangement of articles and exhibitors are requested to get their exhibits in place and avoid the rush on the first day of the Fair. Also, to send a list of their entries to the Secretary at any time before the Fair, so that the necessary labels may be provided.

Small bills containing a detailed order of proceedings will be distributed on the days of the Fair. The general order will be as follows:

FIRST DAY.—Tuesday, reception and arrangement of articles and amusements.

SECOND DAY.—Wednesday will be devoted to a general examination of articles exhibited, trials of speed for purses No. 1 and 2 Class No. 27 and making up of the awards by the judges, who will be called at 11 A. M., and furnished with their list of entries, upon all articles except stallions, single, matched and fast horses.

THIRD DAY.—Thursday, making up awards by the judges on stallions, and matched and single horses. Trials of speed, for Purses No. 3 and 4, Class No. 27 and declaring premiums.

The following Special Premiums are offered for exhibits to be placed in the new building now being erected upon the grounds, viz.:

For the greatest Variety of Potatoes raised by one person,	$10.00
" " Best Exhibition of Grapes, grown " " "	5.00
" " " Collection of Peppers " " " "	1.00
" " " " " Vegetables, " " "	10.00
" " " Exhibition of Melons " " " "	3.00
" Greatest Variety of Beans raised " " " this year	5.00

The D. L. & W. Railroad Co., will carry passengers over their road at Half Rates. Extra Trains on the last two days. The N. Y. O. & W. Railway Co., will carry passengers from Oswego, Centra Square and intermediate Stations at reduced rates. The R. W. & O. Railroad Co. will carry passengers from Oswego, Syracuse and Intermediate Stations at reduced rates.

Send to the Secretary for a Premium List.
President—H. H. Merriam, Oswego Falls.
Vice-Presidents—W. B. Phelps, Oswego; W. Johnson, Fulton.
Secretary—Arvin Rice, Fulton. Treasurer—Charles R. Nichols, Fulton.
Trustees and Executive Committee—O. Henderson, Fulton; T. G. Somers, Oswego Falls; A. Gregg, Pennellville; Isaac R. Osborne, Ira; L. L. Kinyon, Oswego; Fred Vant, Volney.

—CALL ON—
GEORGE JOHNSTON,
On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of
STOVES AND RANGES,
Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,
ART UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,
and ACORN,
Parlor Stoves.

THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
GRAND UNIVERSAL,
HAPPY THOUGHT,
HAPPY HOME,
and DUCHESS Ranges.

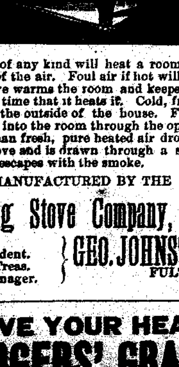
Among his other Attractions will be found the
Howe Ventilating Stove,
which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.
Yours Respectfully,
GEO. JOHNSTON.



—THE—
Howe Ventilating Stove.

A NEW STOVE. ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE. AN EXCELENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE. A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

☞A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE
Howe Ventilating Stove Company, Fulton, N. Y.

F. G. WEEKS, President.
E. R. REDHEAD, Vice-President.
ALMON BRISTOL, Sec'y & Treas.
E. L. MESSENGER, Gen. Manager.

GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent,
FULTON, N. Y.

☞PRESERVE YOUR HEALTH.☜
ROGERS' GRAPOLINE
[illegible]
Sold by all Druggists. A. H. ROGERS & CO. Geneseo, N. Y.

A Leading Popular Rochester Business University Commercial School.

By reason of the superiority of its facilities for imparting a thoroughly practical knowledge of commercial studies, and for promoting the substantial welfare of its pupils, [illegible]

F. E. [illegible]

[illegible] a. m., and 8:15 p. m., [illegible] cars attached to night express for [illegible] and Philadelphia.

A. H. [illegible], Ass't Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:18 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
Norwich Express	3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:34 a. m
Oswego Express	11:27 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:00 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	9:57 p.m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:21	2:16	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	12:34	3:24	6:29

Trains going north leave the Broadway [illegible] minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS.

Mrs. D. E. Spencer is visiting in Phoenix.

Hugh Sherman has returned from his trip to Cuba.

Mr. Will Dempsey of Oswego, was in town yesterday.

Mrs. H. L. Henderson visited friends in Phoenix last week.

Samuel Longley of Brookline, Mass., is visiting friends in town.

Fred Highriter leaves to-morrow night for Perth Amboy, N. J.

R. J. Landon of Schenectady is in town the guest of F. D. VanWagenen.

H. C. Gardner returned Monday from a ten day's fishing excursion on the St. Lawrence.

Mrs. M. E. Wells has returned from her two months' visit to Ohio and Pensylvania.

W. J. Lovejoy started last Thursday for Pompey Hill where he will remain for a short time.

Mrs. Blynn Birdsall leaves to-day to join her husband who is engaged in a bakery at Chicago.

Miss Anna Moss of Oswego visited her friend Eliza LaPrairie at her home on First street last Sunday.

Dr. Whitaker and wife of Oswego Falls are passing a few weeks with friends in Jefferson county.

Miss Grace Tucker has returned from a three week's visit with friends in Madison and Onondaga counties.

O. L. Horton who has been in Fulton for the past few months returned to his home in Nebraska Saturday.

Miss Sophia and Master Fred Williams of Andover, Mass. have been visiting in Fulton during the past week.

Dr. I. C. Curtis returned Sunday morning from an eight week's trip to Cuba. He is greatly benefited by the voyage.

Marlon Brando returned to his home in Providence yesterday. His family will remain here for a few weeks longer.

Mrs. S. S. Stryker of Utica is visiting with her mother, Mrs. Kendall, at the corner of Rochester and Fourth streets.

Mrs. J. H. Townsend of Washington, D. C., is in town visiting old friends and looking after her real estate interests here.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Goodjon, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Bacon and Mrs. H. E. Nichols attended the reunion of the Andrews family at Sodus last week.

Dr. W. S. Townsend and son Guy, formerly residents of this village, now engaged in the orange business in Southern Florida have been in town.

M. A. Stewart and wife, accompanied by his sister and Mrs. Stewart's brother, William Jennison, are having a short vacation at Mrs. Alice Dowd's in New Haven.

Rev. Mr. Kinmouth of Winfield, N. Y., a former pastor of the Congregational church of Oswego Falls, was in town last week accompanied by a brother from England.

Miss Birdie Murdock, Miss Hattie Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crandall of Oswego were in town the past week visiting Fulton friends who are camping on VanBuren's Island.

B. R. Howe and family started yesterday for Santa Barbara, Cal., where they will remain for the next six or eight months. Mr. Howe takes a much needed rest, and hopes to be bennefited by the change of climate.

Nearly the whole business portion of South Royalton, Vt., was destroyed by a disastrous fire last Monday night.

The low prices that D. C. More & Co. make on clothing to close out Summer Stock astonishes everyone.

Just received at D. C. Draper's, a large order of imported crockery and China, and a fine line, all new patterns, China tea sets and chamber sets, which I will offer for the next 30 days at $1.00 less on chamber sets and $2.00 to $4.00 less on tea sets than any house in Oswego or Syracuse, to reduce part of over-stock. Call and see goods and prices, at 15 Oneida street. 17tf

New Line of Neck Ties just received at D. C. MORE & CO'S.

Second hand Gas Pipe for sale at McCully's planing mill, from ¾ inch up to 3 inches in diameter. 12tf

[illegible] India Pale Ale. It is the best [illegible] at Miller's Opera House [illegible] 15tf

[illegible]

[illegible] appointment [illegible] by the Governor, of the Mayor's appointment of Gen. John Newton, U. S. A. Commissioner of Public Works.

Gen. Newton has had charge of the excavations for the improvement of the East River, and was the engineer in charge of the blowing up of Flood Rock last year and of Hallett's Reef on Willett's Point in 1876. His experience fits him admirably for the duties of the office to which he has been appointed. Of course that experience has been gained through his army life. The management of men removed as those over whom he has had charge are from political influence is vastly different from the selection and control of men for the Public Works of this city. Still Gen. Newton is a martinet, a strict disciplinarian. If he can keep free from the entanglements that usually surround this branch of the city government, he will achieve something at least.

Gen. Newton is 68 years old and has been in the service of the U. S. since 1842. He would have been retired at the end of two years, and now that this place was offered him he asked for a retirement. Army officers express a contempt for the duties of civil life, but it is a noticeable fact if they have an opportunity where their engineering abilities will have a chance to shine, they don't fail to exhibit themselves. In point of fact, army officers are diligently sought for. A corporation of this city—an adjunct of the Standard Oil Co., has an army officer as its superintendent and general manager. Yet with all this furor over Mr. Squire, I am almost convinced that it is the result of a pique on the part of the Mayor. Mayor Grace has been a sort of political trimmer. In 1880, he ran for Mayor as the Tammany candidate. In 1884, having fallen out with John Kelly, he was run as the County Democracy candidate. Now his idea seems to be to "throw dust into the eyes" of the substantial citizen and seek a nomination at their hands this fall. He has run the gauntlet of the political faiths of the city with the exception of the Republican party whose leaders say they won't endorse him at any cost.

The agitation of the labor question has lead the labor organizations as represented in the Central Labor Union, to take a hand in the city elections. The Central Labor Union is a representative body controlling the actions of nearly 100,000 working men. They have selected Henry George as their candidate and he has agreed to act, providing he has the pledges of 40,000 working men. George is a labor agitator pure and simple. He is the author of "Progress and Poverty," a work which deals with the labor question after the manner of labor agitators. It has become the law and gospel to the labor societies. There is extreme doubt whether Mr. George will receive the vote he expects. Most of the laboring men of the city are allied to either one party or the other, and these party ties are exceedingly strong and close. If Mr. George received 20,000 votes he may consider himself fortunate.

* * * * *

I had a chat the other day with an official of the Western Union. He expressed to me the opinion that his company would resist any attempt to compel the use of the subway commisioners conducts for underground telegraph service. That company, nor indeed any of the telegraph or telephone companies, did not object to an underground service, but they refused to be compelled to pay for the use of conducts placed there by a private corporation. There is something the matter with the act which created the subway commission. There seems to have been no money provided for its accomplishment. There, too, a big deal is behind it. The all-powerful Flynn seems to be the one deriving the most benefit. So the Western Union say that if the conducts are put down, they will, if compelled, use only just such as are absolutely necessary, thereby closing their 160 uptown offices and using five or six outside of their main office on Broadway.

* * * * *

The stock market has been remarkably dull. The brokers are so far demoralized by the financial condition of affairs that they settle personal difficulties after the manner of the prize ring. Three personal encounters have taken place. Of course the stock exchange enforces gentlemanliness in the dealings between its members. The frauds, the fleecings and the shearings of Wall street are all done under the guize of respectability. The general market is flat. Occasionally the market has an upward turn. Out of over 100 stocks listed in the exchange not more than 25 sell above par. This shows the unreliableness of many of the stocks as permanent investments. The N. Y. C. at 109 is paying a 4 per cent. dividend; while the New Haven road running into the city at the same depot is hard to get at 208 and pays 10 per cent. The policy of the National Government in making bond calls at short intervals has caused a feverishness in National banking circles. Some bank stock has fallen somewhat since the adjournment of congress. The Chemical bank retains its high figure of $3,000 for a $100 share. This Chemical Bank was chartered as a Chemical Manufacturing Co. with a provision in its charter, permitting it to use its unemployed capital as it might see fit. They organized a bank and it has weathered the financial storms of '37, '57 and '73. Its dividends have been 100 per cent. per year and its stock has steadily risen from par to $3,000 per share. Among the business men it is known as the "Brotherhood Bank," mainly because nobody sells out—the stock being left by father to son.

* * * * *

Yachting circles are awaiting with [illegible]

[illegible] COST. [illegible]

A. E. NETTLETON.

Bay and the vicinagre. The second in the lower bay, near Sandy Hook, and the third, 40 miles out in the ocean. This event will be watched with much anxiety—that being increased by the recent defeat of the American polo team by the English at Newport. Yachting circles are interested in the New York yacht Alva soon to be launched at Wilmington for W. K. Vanderbilt. No expense has been spared and $500,000 will approximate its cost. It is nothing more than a steamship 250 feet long. Palatial appointments will characterize the craft and $10,000 per month will be the expense of running it. The Vanderbilts come naturally by their yachting proclivities. The old Commodore was the owner of a yacht and he took great pride in cruising around in the North Star, a vessel he loaned to the government at the beginning of the war, all armed and equipped. The government seemed to have had the idea that the Commodore gave it and congress passed very complimentary resolutions. The committee sent to present them were treated in a rather brusk manner, and it was intimated to them that if the Government appropriated in that way, it was not much better than a thief. The old Commodore wrote and talked very vigorous English.

* * * * *

The death of the late ex-Governor Morgan's wife, removes one of New York's rich women. This city has many rich females. There is Mrs. Marshal O. Roberts who is credited with $2,000,000; Mrs. Stewart with $10,000,000; Miss Wolfe, $10,000,000 and gave to Grace church as her Easter offering a check of $45,000. Mrs. Robert Stewart, $12,000,000. Mrs. Ogden Goelet has an income of $500 per day. Miss Paton, the daughter of the late William Paton, an extensive coal mine owner has an income of $125 per day. Mrs. DeBarros, the wife of the late President of Central America lives in this city at the Langham, where her expenses foot up the tidy sum of $275 per week, showing that her fortune must reach up into the millions.

WANDERER.

WANTED—A reliable young man to whom good wages will be paid at Morrill Bros. Printing Office.

The supply of peanuts yesterday was scarcely equal to the demand.

The many friends of Dr. Tully of Oswego, will be pained to hear that he has accepted a call form Media, Pa.

The potato crop as reported to us from various towns in the county is larger than it has been for years.

George Wilson, our Fulton bootblack, will sojourn for the next sixty days at the Onondaga Penitentary, having been sent up for assault in the third degree.

The firm of Palmer & Corrie, which has been engaged in tin roofing and jobbing business on First street, for the past three months has been disolved. Mr. Palmer retires from the firm.

The scale of prices for Romany Rye at the opera house next Wednesday evening will be lower floor 50 and 75 cents, gallery 25 and 35 cents. Secure your reserved seats. On sale at Watson's.

Ground has been broken for the new steel manufactory which is to be built at Lower Oswego Falls. When completed, the structure will be 30x150 feet. Lumber for the building is expected to arrive this week.

Nathan Rowlee was unfortunate yesterday in losing a roll of bills from his pocket amounting to about $40. He was in Fulton most of the day but in afternoon drove to Three River Point. The roll contained one twenty, one ten, one or two fives and some small bills.

The fourteenth annual exhibition of the Phoenix Union Agricultural Society will be held in Phoenix, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Sept. 15, 16 and 17. The premium list covers twenty-four classes. Half fare tickets will be sold on the "Phoenix" road. See announcement elsewhere.

The contrast in the appearance of First street during and after the parade yesterday was decidedly marked. During the parade the street was filled with a swaying mass of humanity, five minutes after the the parade nothing was left of the mass but peanut shucks, banana skins and orange peels.

An excursion party of quite a number of Futonians including Postmaster Whitaker, Drs. Pardee and Emens, Ex-postmaster Gilbert and Prof. W. B. Howard leave to-night to attend the grand excursion of the Knights Templars of the Masonic Order, to Toronto. They will be absent about two days.

A brass band festival is to be given in Phoenix next Saturday evening. Extensive preparations are being made for the occasion. It is said that ten bands have signified their intention to be present. Fulton will be represented by a large delegation. The celebrated Kingsford band of Oswego will also be present.

The Fulton and Oswego Falls Street Car company have purchased of Mr. Wilson the mail contract and also the baggage wagon and [illegible]. The mail and passenger's baggage are now carried by the Street Car company. This necessitates the withdrawal of [illegible] which have for so many years served the public, in carrying them to and from the D. L. & W. depot.

[illegible]

A New Brass Band.

Oswego Falls does not propose to be behind their neighbors on the brass band question. On Wednesday evening of last week a band was organized and fourteen persons joined, all of whom are Good Templars. The name adopted is the Oswego Falls Juilliard Good Templars Brass Band. Mr. Pickles is the instructor. On Saturday evening they gave a festival for the purpose of raising money. It was well attended and quite a little of the "essential" was realized.

Electric Lights.

The committee appointed at the recent meeting of the Board of Trustees have decided that thirty-seven of the lights are necessary to sufficiently light the village. They also say that there are desirable positions for three more if it is deemed desirable to take that number. The committee in selecting positions have endeavored to fix it so that all within the corporation, some of whom have previously been in darkness, will receive the benefit of the lights.

The veterans' re-union committee have comleted arrangements with the Thomson-Houston Company to supply them with five arc lights during their encampment at $1 per light per night. The veterans are to put up the poles and pay the company for the expense incurred in stretching the wires.

Typhoid Fever Epidemic.

There is considerable excitement in the upper part of the village, from the fact that there is a number of cases of typhoid malarial fever in that locality. On making careful inquiries in regard to the matter, we ascertained that there is at present considerable sickness throughout the village. North of Broadway and in the vicinity of the upper landing there are fourteen persons sick with this disease. Several reasons are ascribed as the cause of this epidemic. Some attribute it to the negligence on the part of the owners of several houses in not keeping their out-houses and cisterns properly cleaned. Others trace it to be foul atmosphere, caused by the excavations made while grading the "Phoenix" railroad. Whatever the causes may be it is the proper thing for the Board of Health to investigate the matter thoroughly and see that all sanitary precautions are taken to prevent a further spreading of the disease.

Strike at the Stove Works.

Last Friday forenoon the moulders in the Howe Ventilating Stove Works, numbering about thirty, struck. The reason for the strike seems to us to have been unreasonable and untimely. As we understand it, the head moulder, Mr. Clark, was instructed by the superintendent of the works to throw out all castings that were not perfect and to give the moulders no credit for work done on such. This order seems to have been strictly followed, too strictly for the satisfaction of the moulders, who claim that castings were thrown out that were very slightly if at all damaged and demanded the discharge of Mr. Clark. This demand was refused and at 10 o'clock Friday they left their work. Most of the strikers were members of the Knights of Labor and when the matter was brought before that organization, they were ordered to return to their work. This they did on Monday, but yesterday the strike was continued. To-day they are at work and it is expected that the strike has ended.

Romany Rye.

The great melo-drama Romany Rye, under the management of Messrs. Lehnen and Bateman, will be produced at the opera house, on Wednesday, Sept. 8th. The play is produced in a magnificent manner, carrying two car-loads of scenery to properly stage it, which the company carry with them. The principal scenes are: "The Gypsy Camp," "Craigsnest," "The Dog and Bird Shop," "Hampton Race Course," "The Deck of the Ship," "The Murderer's Den," "The River Thames by Moonlight," "Peer at Falmouth," "The Sinking Ship," "The Life Boat to the Rescue," "Rowing Through the Waves and the quay."

The cast is one of unusual excellence and included Victory Bateman who is starred as Gertie Hecket the heroine, Miss Lena Thomson, Miss Louise Howard, Mrs. M. Bernard, Mr. W. H. Leydon, Percy Kingsley, Geo. Benedict, Arthur Goman and Fred Hardy, in all numbering 22 people.

Great credit is due to the enterprise of Manager Howard in securing this organization as it generally plays only in large cities, and it will give our lovers of the drama a chance to see this great piece.

A BIG OFFER.

We Mean Business.

We want you to come to the city this fall and look our goods and prices over, and if you do not save enough by purchasing from our hat and furnishing goods department alone, to pay your expenses to the city, we will agree to liquidate the entire bill. Then we will talk low prices on clothing to you that will make your pocket-book smile all over. The manager has just returned from New York where he bought vast quantities of elegant suits and overcoats for men, boys and children. Hold on we have something very important to say to you. Our agent bought two car loads of horse blankets when in New York, and we are going to make every [illegible]

[illegible] CO.

The fall term of the village schools began last Monday.

Rev. Carl H. Stone of Mexico, N. Y., will preach at the Presbyterian church next Sunday.

Rev. J. C. Breaker has a young son. Another added to the list of those around the park.

The street cars now run to the eastern termious at the corner of Second and Oneida streets.

Broadway, in Oswego Falls, from the bridge to the depot is being graded and otherwise improved.

Prof. Clapp will occupy part of the house on Fourth street that is being erected by H. N. Gilbert.

The Catholic church of this village will have a picnic on the Oswego Falls fair grounds next Saturday.

Hon. B. G. Northrop of who THE TIMES made mention last week has been engaged to lecture early in the month of October.

The re-union of the G. A. R. Posts of the eastern part of the county, occurs to-day at Lake View, under the auspices of Post O'Connor.

R. A. Stowell & Co., for the past three months in the opera house block, have opened a 25 cent and bargain store at 61 South Salina street, Syracuse.

Two aspirants to pugilistic renown, one of whom was connected with the barge "Oswego" indulged in a "slugging match" on the tow path Saturday afternoon.

A double white hollyhock, nine and a half feet high was recently in bloom at at the home of Mrs. E. VanBuren about two and a half miles north of this village.

The report comes from New Haven that Messrs Baker and Johnson of Oswego Falls caught 38 nice black bass at Dempster Beach one day last week.

The announcement of the 19th annual fair of the Oswego Falls Agricultural Society, the event of the year in this locality, can be found in another column.

The hose carriages of No. 3 and No. 4 companies which were purchased from the Oswego Fire Department have been recently painted and present a very nice appearance.

Mrs. Reuben Ellis of Oswego Falls while going out of her house with a coal scuttle in her hand, last Friday morning, fell and broke her wrist. Dr. Wells reduced the fracture.

Sunday was probably the warmest day of the season and consequently the attendance at devine services in the different churches was materially lessened the mercury reached the nineties.

The Rev. J. C. F. Grumbine, who preached in the Universalist church a week ago last Sunday and the Sunday preceeding, is to be married to-day in Syracuse to Miss Nellie L. Gilbert of that city.

William Hall, a resident of Hungry Lane, near Central Square, a veteran of the late war of the rebellion, one day last week received a check of $2,500 back pension, and is to receive $30 per month hereafter for services rendered.

Fred Highriter, for the past year local editor of THE TIMES, has secured a position on the Republican, published at Perth Amboy, N. J. Fred is the right man in the right place, and THE TIMES wishes him all the success that he may desire in his new field of labor.

The fruit crop about Oswego will be far from heavy this season. The plum crop will be light. Pears will do better as to quality but are falling off. The pear yield will be from fifty to 75 per cent of a full crop. The apple crop is certain from all reports, to be light in Oswego county—not more than twenty-five per cent.—[Oswego Times-Express.

A brutal fight occurred at a cigar maker's picnic held at Three River Point last Saturday. A cigar maker named Webber of Syracuse, it is said, made an uncalled for assault upon another named Rothe. He threw him down and kicked and stamped on him until his face was pounded almost to a jelly. Rothe was unconscious for several hours but is now in a fair way of recovery.

Especially low prices on children's school shoes for the next 30 days at Collins'

D. C. More & Co. offer unusual Bargains in Boys' and Children's Suits to close out.

T. F. Crockford, the traveling tinware merchant, carries a fine line of tinware, wooden ware, agate ware wrapping paper, etc., which he is offering in exchange or rags. Trade with him. 21tf

J. Cooley Tucker has the sole agency for the celebrated granulated wheat, a food prepared from the best white winter wheat, unleavened, ready cooked for immediate use. It is the best food for invalids and children. As a diet for cases of nervous prostration and debility, constipation and dyspepsia, it is unequaled. It is used in Health Institutions extensively. 16tf

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 15tf

HARPOON FORKS

for $1.00

—at—

Snow & Loomis' Hardware,

[illegible]

[illegible]

Capt. [illegible] company, Syracuse, Lieut. Blakely; the [illegible] company, Syracuse, Capt. Randall; Sumner Corps, Syracuse, Capt. Barber; Greenway Guards, Syracuse, Capt. Gaester, Auer's Battery, Syracuse, four guns; Root Post G. A. R., Syracuse; Lilly Post G. A. R., Syracuse; Kessler Post G. A. R., Wolcott; Moses Summers Post, Baldwinsville.

In addition to the above O'Brian Post G. A. R., Oswego; Schenck Post of Fulton, and the posts of Phoenix, Mexico, Pulaski, Sandy Creek, Orwell, Redfield, Cleveland, Constantia, Central Square, Hannibal, Sand Bank, Parish, New Haven, Williamstown, South Scriba, Amboy and Palermo will take part. The committee expect that at least twelve hundred men will be engaged. Five hundred stand of Remington breech-loading rifles have been secured for use by the G. A. R. posts and 25,000 rounds of blank cartridge have been ordered. Camp fires will be held each evening. Speakers and music have been secured. The grounds will be lighted by five electric lights, which are to be furnished by the Thomson-Houston company.

Circus Day.

Yesterday morning Frank A. Robbins' circus and menagerie reached here and proceeded to pitch their tents in the vacant lot on Fourth street opposite the old ball grounds. The attendance at the afternoon performance was good and in the evening the tent was comfortably filled. The managerie is not large and the performance in the two rings and on the elevated platform cannot be said to be more than fair. A circus is a circus, however, and for years a combination of this kind has drawn crowds and will undoubtedly continue to do so for years to come. It was a source of enjoyment to the younger portion of our community and as it attracted a large number from the country towns around, it made the day one of unusual activity to the village and a benefit to the merchants. A street parade was made in the forenoon which was somewhat unpretending. It consisted of two bands of music, two chariots, fifteen managerie wagons, seven elephants and a number of other animals. On reaching the grounds a free exhibition was given, a woman sliding down a wire held by the hair of her head. The side show peanut venders, "ice-cool-lemonade" men and candy prize package fiends kept up a constant chatter in announcing their articles. In the large show the exhibitions in shooting by Ira B. Paine were especially worthy of mention, the elephants were quite well trained and some of the bareback riding was good. The day was unusually fine, being the coolest that we have had in some weeks, and was thoroughly enjoyed by the large number that turned out form the surrounding towns.

Almost a Jonah.

"Spot" Moutague on last Saturday afternoon threw aside his fishing regalia and donned his boiled shirt and Sunday go-to-meeting-clothes. He came downtown thus arrayed, and seeing that the river was at low ebb and no water flowing over the apron he was unable to resist the temptation to go over on the planks and throw his line for a whale, sword fish or twenty pound bass. There are only two things that make "Spot" oblivious of the outer world and "all else that in it is" viz: His work as a member of the Salvation Army and fishing. He was engaged in piscatorial pursuits and entirely forgetful of everything else, little thinking that he was soon to offer himself up as living bait to the fishes that he was trying to take from their watery home, and running the risk of becoming the Johah of the nineteenth century.

In his eagerness to secure as good a position as possible, he worked down the apron toward the edge of the planks over which the water is accustomed to flow and as they are somewhat of a slippery nature "Spot" was soon performing feats upon them worthy of a Norwegian acrobat. He ultimately fell into the water below and by a few timely strokes reached terra firma in safety with the starch all taken out of his boiled shirt and his clothes clothes weighing something less than a ton.

A Scriba Farmer Found Dead.

Ira Bundy, a well-known Scriba farmer, was found dead Monday forenoon about three miles east of Oswego, by a neighbor named Warts. Mr. Bundy went to the city Monday and witnessed the street parade of Robbins' circus. Shortly after eleven o'clock he started with his team for home. Mr. Warts and his wife, who live east of Bundy on the same road started shortly after. When about half a mile from Bundy's home, they found his team standing in the road and the owner lying near the wagon dead. There were no marks of violence on the body and it is thought that death resulted from heart disease.

Stephens Opera House,
Wednesday Ev'ng, Aug. 8.
H. HOWARD, MANAGER.

Produced on a scale of Unparalled Grandeur the Peerless Drama,

ROMANY RYE

UNDER THE MANAGEMENT OF LEHNEN AND VICTORY BATEMAN!
—AS——GERTIE HECKET!—
SUPPORTED BY A POWERFUL CAST.
Superb Scenery!
THRILLING TRANSFORMATIONS!
Elegant Effects!

[illegible]

STILL A FEW MORE

Lots of Light Weight Suits for Men and Boys to be closed out at about half value, also another of Neckwear and of Fancy Hose at about your own price.

Remember we are giving away Fair Tickets with every sale of $2 or over.

PEEBLES & COOK

Opposite Opera House.

GRAND OPENING.

Oswego Co. Bargain Store.

Having leased the Middle Store in the Stephens Opera Block, Cayuga St., I propose to keep a Complete and Full Stock of

GENTS' FURNISHINGS,

Fancy Goods, Hosiery,

Notions, Laces, Jewelry, Watches &c. &c.!

Which I will sell at the Lowest Possible Prices, and my Motto will be Quick Sales. Small Profits!

JOSEPH BLUMBERG.

THE TIMES' OFFERS!

$1.25 will give you one year's Subsctiption to THE TIMES and Four months Subscription to the

DETROIT FREE PRESS,

The most original, piquant and entertaining of American Newspapers. $1.25 will also give you one year's Subscription to

THE FULTON TIMES

and one year's Subscription to the

AMERICAN FARMER,

A Sixteen page Agricultural Magazine, which is rapidly taking rank as one of the leading Agricultural Publications of this country. The same offers to old Subscribers who pay subscription to date and one year in advance.

SUBSCRIBE! SUBSCRIBE.

People
who have traveled and claim to be posted say that Fulton is the cheapest place in the country
to buy

CLOTHING

—AND THAT—

D. C. MORE & CO.

The Reliable One Price Dealers

are the parties to buy of.

GO
see the BARGAINS
they are offering to close out
SUMMER STOCK.

[illegible]

[illegible] harness fit a horse properly [illegible] wear it without dis[illegible], provided it is also kept decently [illegible] and comfortably soft.

An enormous yield of oats is vouched for on the farm of Jonathan Sternberg, Bridgeport, Madison county, it being one hundred bushels by weight to the acre.

Regulate the feed of your horses to correspond to the amount of work they are required to do.

Orchard grass is steadily growing in favor among farmers in all the hay producing sections in this country. Kansas farmers are introducing it with wonderful success.

The land that will maintain twenty common bred cows will maintain twenty well bred ones, and the annual profit from the latter will be considerable more than from the former.

A Potato has bas been raised in Santa Barbara, California which measured 20 inches one way and 27 the other. It weighed 6¼ pounds.

Work horses these hot days need water as frequently as the men who are working them require it. In this respect work horses are cruelly treated by their owners. Turn over a new leaf and begin these hot days to be merciful.

A New York dairymen says he is feeding ensilage to his cows as follows: Per cow, forty pounds of ensilage, six pounds of ground feed and eight pounds of cut hay, and the cows on this are doing well as when pastured in summer; and this ration is equivqlent to the product of less than one-fourth the land which would be required to pasture.

The practice of seeding to grass in the fall with winter rye is gaining ground with farmers throughout New England. It is generally agreed, however, that the sowing of clover seed should be deferred until early spring. It can be safely sown just before the snow is all gone, or after the ground is bear and still frozen. The action of frost and rain will cover the seed sufficiently.

An inferior animal will make an inferior use of food she eats. A good animal will make a more profitable use of the same or even a greater quantity of food.

There are 100,000,000 sheep in Australia. Flocks there are large, numbering from 50,000 to 250,000, one flock containing 1,500,000.

A bushel of lump lime in the cellar will absorb much of its dampness, and a peck of powdered charcoal in shallow dishes, much of the bad smell.

Let the young stock run in the orchard. It is shady and cool for the birds and they destroy multitudes of insects. Good for the chicks and good for the orchard and good for the the owner of both.

Do Cows Need Exercise.

This much-mooted question is of quite recent origin, says the National Live Stock Weekly. It is natural to suppose that all animal life needs exercise in order to retain all its functions in healthy activity. But what kind of exercise? Not very much locomotion is needed in secreting milk. Even general health is maintained with quite moderate exercise. Do not cows get considerable exercise in stepping around, getting up and down; reaching for food, and licking themselves when so confined as to be permitted to do so? In Holland cows are confined in a hot stable at the beginning of winter and are not let out until settled warm weather. This, at first, seemed incredible; yet all witnesses testify to the healthy condition of the Holland cows. Gradually during the last few years, American dairymen have more closely confined their cows, and kept them warmer than ever before, not only keeping them in warm stables, but resorting to artificial heat, and giving them warm water to drink. Thus far, all testify to the beneficial results arising from these practices. It is not the nature of the cow to exercise much. She prefers, in the open field, to quietly crop the grass until her stomach is full, and then lie down in the shade and peacefully chew her cud, with a dreamy expression of the eye that donates rest and enjoyment. She does not run and cavort like the horse. This is not her mission.

What is Farming

It is something more than staying on a farm. It is something more than skimming the soil. It is more than selling hay or potatoes, and bulky crops unanimalized. Farming is business, a profession, a practical and scientific operation. The process of nature must be understood, and worked in harmony with the chemistry of the earth and air. The processes of nature must be understood, if not in their technical terms and language in the common way in that sensible understanding, that common sense way, that their own advantage and capabilities may be turned to the best account. The lawyer works by law and precedent, the physican works by symptoms and indications, the merchant by rules and observationt, the mechanic by measures and capacities. The farmer must work by all—by rules, laws, observation, and experiment. He must be a skilled workman in the productive, operative and commercial circles in which his business lies and his sphere of circulation extends.—[American Farmer.

Tethering Cows.

A cow tied to a rope has proverbially a poor chance to show her milk-producing capacity. Unless she has extra feed beyond what she can thus get, on an average we may add two or three quarts daily to her actual product in estimating her natural capacity. The tether should be changed frequently to give her fresh [illegible], and especial pains ought to be taken to give her good feed [illegible] night. In hot weather cows [illegible]

[illegible] from a spoon into hot lard, and fry like doughnuts.

POTATO SCALLOPS.

Mash potatoes with butter and milk; season with pepper and salt; whip to a cream and fill scallop shells with the mixture, mounding it high and smoothly. Bake quickly, and as they brown wash over lightly with beaten egg. Eat hot from the shells.

MOCK OYSTERS.

Grate three ears uncooked corn from the cob, add one egg, and one tablespoon each of flour and milk; put a lump of butter in the frying pan, and drop in mall spoonfuls, turning and browning nicely.

TOMATO CHWODER.

Soak a peck of green tomatoes over night in salt water; take out and drain, chop fine, and add a few onions chopped fine, also one cup of mustard seed, with pepper, cloves, and cinnamon; boil sufficient vinegar to cover, and pour over the tomatoes.

CORN OMELET.

Scrape the corn from six young full ears, pound in a bowl, and mix with five eggs after they have been beaten light. Add a small saltspoon of salt and a very little pepper. Put into a hot frying pan equal quantities of lard and butter, and stir them well together over the fire. When they boil put in the mixture thick, and fry it, turning with care. Transfer it, when done to a heated dish, but do not cover it over.

RICE GRIDDLE CAKES.

Blend one cup of well boiled rice with a cup of flour, add a small dessert spoon of Royal baking bowder, three eggs, salt and tablespoon of melted butter. Reduce with one cup of milk and bake on a hot, buttered griddle.

He Got His Money Back.

"See here!" said a Wayne county farmer as he entered a Griswold street restaurant the other day, "I don't like the way I have been used."

"What's wrong?" asked the restauranter.

"Last March I bought a can of oysters here."

"Yes I remember."

"When I took it home my wife suggested that we put it down cellar for Fourth of July. When we opened it on the glorious Fourth——"

"Great Scotts!"

"Yes, you'd have said great Scotts and little Scotts and all other sorts of Scotts. You said they were fresh oysters, and I took your word for it and paid you forty cents in cash."

The restauranter counted out forty cents, placed the change in the man's hands, and motioned him to go out.

"Thankee," said the farmer, as he backed out; "you are a square man, and I told my wife you were probably deceived in the oysters yourself. One of my neighbors said he smelt 'em seven miles down the road. Thank'e—this is k'rect."—[Detroit Free Press.

Onions inhaled cause sleep, rest and repose. The soldier on his march and the exhausted iron worker get strength from eating the onion. Tie a fresh onion around the neck and bruise it to make its odor thorough, and you secure sound sleep form its nightly inhalation.

The Whim of a Noted Humorist.

One of the funniest sights I ever saw occurred in a Chicago theatre. Mr. Eugene Field, the brilliant and notable journalist, came into the theatre late and dropped into an aisle seat.

Several feet behind him was a large and morose looking Irishman, with a nine inch mouth (in repose) and a lambrequin of red whisker. He had the solemnity of a dyspeptic Egyptian sphynx. A humorous line was read on the stage and the audience tittered slightly. After all their laughter had died away there suddenly arose from Mr. Field's throat a cascade of laughter that might have been almost anything, from the ecstatic gibbering of a maniac ourang-outang to the guttural and unctuous gurgling of a turkey gobbler in a distant meadow on a still summer's night.

The actors balked, the orchestral leader wheeled about in his chair, the audience's heads turned and a thousand eyes were turned on Eugene Field. With an expression of abject horror on his noble face Mr. Field turned around and stared at the Irishman.

That unhappy man saw the battery of grins and blurted out a disclaimer in a brogue that set the houte in a roar, and at the height of the excitement he whimsical humorist, who had caused all the commotion, withdrew calmly and went back to his desk to finish the night's work. When a scheme can be put through as cleverly and gracefully as that was, guying may be said to become a fine art.—[Brooklyn Eagle.

Were Pension Money Goes.

The list of pensions now paid shows that in higher grades the number of pensioners is comparatively small. For instance, for what is termed total disability, such as the loss of both arms, both legs, both hands, both feet, the sight of both eyes, and insanity, the highest pension is paid namely, $71 per month. The number of pensioners in these classes is as follows: Lost both arms, 21; both legs, 22; both hands 7; both feet, 32; both eyes, 531; insanity, 190. There are only two persons who receive a higher pension than $72 a month one of whom receives $75 per month and the other $100, the latter being General Black, commissioner of pensions, who received this pension by a special act of congress. Of the 250,000 and more pensioners now on the rolls, the largest number, 60,268, received $4 per month; the next highest number, 44,775, receive $8 per month. Then there are 34,689 pensioners who receive $6 per month; 26,134 who receive $2 per month; 15,490 who receive $12 per month; 15,090 who receive $[illegible] per month; 9,397 who receive $10 per month; 7,697 who receive $30 per month; 4,499 who receive $16 per month, and 3,413 who receive $14 per month. The grades of pensioners [illegible]

[illegible] this potent remedy [illegible]

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. Wood, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. Balcom, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. Proudfoot, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge, to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

REV. DR. FREELAND, of Fowlerville, N. Y. writes us that two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine cured his wife of nervousness and sleeplessness. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

IMPOTENCY IN MAN OR WOMAN quickly cured by Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is the great remedy for women and children. 128 doses for $1.00. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

REV. E. J. WHITNEY, of Clarkson, N. Y., says: Gilmore's Wine for Female Weakness stands without a rival. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

WANTED. A case of Female Weakness, General Debility or Nervous Exhaustion that Gilmore's Aromatic Wine will not cure. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MIDDLE AGE MEN who lack vigor and vitality should use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. It gives nutriment to the brain and is a tonic to the physical system. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

MRS. I. H. McINTIRE, of Daggetts Mills, Pa., says: "My daughter, aged sixteen, has been declining some time. She used two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. She is now well. I would advise all mothers having girls not to be one day without it. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

LADIES, use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine, it will cure you. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE makes a lady beautiful, because it gives her good, rich blood.

GILMORE'S AROMATIC WINE is a positive cure for all those painful complaints so common to all our best female population. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

The coach and pair Senator Sanford uses in Washington cost him $7,000. The horses cost $3,000 the carriage $3,000 and the harness $1,000. The Californian also has a stable at the capital in which there are horses valued at $20,000 apiece.

HOW OFTEN

We see some young man who has squandered his money and ruined his health by excesses, and before 30 years of age is an all broken down and played out man! In all such case I prescribe natures tonic and nervine, Sulphur Bitters. They supply food for the brain, strengthen the nerves and are sussessful in nine cases out of ten.—[Old Physician.

Southern countries—Italy, Spain, Greece—have the largest number of revolutions; northern countries—Russia, Sweden, Norway—have the least.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guaranteed. 27eow

It is estimated that since 1850 the ocean has encroached upon the shore at Long Island Branch on eighth of a mile.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

Jenny Lind is now a beautiful old lady. Her wonderful voice is not dead, but it has passed into an echo.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

Eight of the original thirteen of the Emerton family, of Bucksport, Me., are living and their combined ages are 807 years.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

As a remedy for Pulmonary Affliections and Scrofulous Diseases.

Dr. IRA M. LANG—a prominent physician in New York, says:—I am greatly pleased with your Emulsion. Have found it very serviceable in above diseases, and it is easily administered on account of its palatableness. 11w4

Over two hundred varieties of potatoes were raised on the farm of a Connecticut man this year.

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

Send for Pamphlet on Female Diseases mailed free, securely sealed. Dr. J. B Marchisi, Utica, N. Y. 20tf.

A sunflower 45 inches in circumfrance is blooming near Traver, Cal.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

Since 1850 the native population of the Sandwich islands has decreased from 1,453 to 40,014.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child [illegible]

[illegible]

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping th dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

---

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH,

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

☞ Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

—COAL.—

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York. Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest, Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY

O. [illegible]

[illegible] Kaskine Insures Perfect Health.

In Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful."

In St. Francis Hospital, N. Y. } "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Dr. L. R. White, U. S. Examining Surgeon, says: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Gleason, has cured over 290 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says: "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, M. D., says: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

IS THE ONLY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD THAT DESTROYS THE GERMS OF DISEASE IN THE BLOOD, and permanently cures all diseases arising therefrom, such as Malaria, Fevers, Rheumatism, Billiousness, &c., and IS THE GRANDEST TONIC EVER DISCOVERED. Removes nervous prostration and premature decay by disinfecting the blood, so that the starving nerves are supplied with life giving nourishment, bringing back the VIGOR AND POWER OF YOUTH.

Send for the great list of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine.

Price $1 per bottle. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price. Agents wanted everywhere.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., New York.

For Sale by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y.

Mr. Jay Gould was met at Mt. Desert the other day by an old farmer, who exclaimed, "Why you don't look as though you were worth $1,000!"

The Deserted Room at the White House.

Our readers are cautioned about buying medicines which are not endorsed by some well known druggist. H. C Gisler, has made a thorough study of Blood diseases, and after a careful investigation, and many practical tests, postively asserts that Acker's Blood Elixir will cure all blood disorders, ridding the system of its impurities, and eaving it strong, vigorous and healthy. he will warrent it. It is a certain cure or all skin diseases. 27eow

There is a veteran Georgian in Americus who has fifteen children, fifty-one grand children and twenty-four great-grandchildren.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Cough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

Great Britain has over 12,000 societies for young people based on tatal abstanance, with a membership of 1,500,000.

Woman and Her Diseases.

is the title of an interesting illustrated treaties (160 pages) sent post-paid, for 10 cents in stamps. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Street railways in 233 cities and towns of this country are said to have in use 84,500 horses and 16,850 cars.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

Cotton was cultivated in India 450 years before Christ, and was gathered from the field by hand, exactly as it is being done to-day.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

It is said that the piles of the London Bridge, put down in the year 900, are still sound, the blue Thames having preserved them.

WHAT WAS IT JOHN,

That made your face so free and clear from pimples, said his sweetheart. Why, don't you know, Eva? For over a year I took everything I could think of without helping me, then I bought two bottles of Sulphur Bitters, and now I haven't one pimple on my face. It is the best blood cleanser I ever saw.

The town of Salem, N. C., has permitted no liquor to enter its limits for 100 years.

AN END TO BONE SCRAPING.

Edward Shepherd of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well." Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c. per box by R. E. Phillips.

A careful estimate shows that 919,000 pianos have been made in the United States since 1780.

Young or middle-aged men suffering from nervous debility, loss of memory, premature old age, as the result of bad habits, should send 10 cents in stamps for illustrated book offering sure means of cure. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Rubenstein once said that compared with Liszt, all other pianists were mere wood choppers.

GOOD RESULTS IN EVERY CASE.

D. A. Bradford, wholesale paper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes that he was seriously afflicted with a severe cold that settled on his lungs; had tried many remedies without benefit. Being induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, did so and was entirely cured by use of a few bottles. Since which time he has used it in his family for all Coughs and Colds with best results. This is the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this Wonderful Discovery. Trial Bottles free at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

[illegible]

If they would [illegible]

The men would [illegible] longer and louder.

—[illegible]

"O, Frances, this is joy indeed!"
The President remarked,
"To rest beneath a spreading tree—
Was that a dog that barked?
And yet, believe me, still they come—
Those mouths to be fed;
See, twenty lunatic doctors, love,
Have settled on my head."
—[New York Journal.

A small country seat—the milkstool.—[Texas Siftings.

A rousing speech—"Get up; breakfast's ready."—[Burlington Free Press.

The Salvation Army occasionally runs out of money, but never out of wind.—[Philadelphia Call.

The reason that the tramps are so poverty stricken and wretched is because they don't advertise.—[Puck.

The Santa Rosa Democrat tells of a mouse that sings like a canary. Dear, dear, but this is rough on rats.—[Boston Transcript.

The bravest boy will quail when he appears in public for the first time after he has had his hair cut by his mother.—[New Haven News.

The latest Niagaria Falls crank is a woman. We were under the impression that the waterfall craze for women had died out long ago.—[Yonker's Satesman.

Teacher—"Where was it, Johnny, that Napoleon I. suffered defeat?" Johnny—"Seneca Falls." Teacher—"No, Waterloo. Johnny—"Oh, yes, Waterloo. I knew it was some town in New York state.—[Harper's Bazar.

There is to be a demand in New York for the coinage of half cents. It is supposed to be a move in favor of increasing the attendance at churches.—[Norristown Herald.

Mrs. Welles, about to hire a new servant)—Now, in regard to going out visiting, I—

Servant (interrupting)—Och, go out whiniver yez loikes; you'll not find Bridget O'Murphy harrud, mum, or dictational loike.—[Judge.

A young man who has a good deal of spare time on his hands wishes to learn of something that will keep him occupied. We can think of two things right off—getting married and tipping over a bee-hive.—[Burlington Free Press.

Gentleman (outside the polo grounds)—"Sonny, is there a game going on inside?" Small boy—"Yes sir." Gentleman—"Are you certain? I don't hear any howls, or hoots, or hisses. Small boy—"Dat's cause Sullivan's empirin' de game.—[N. Y. Sun.

"Aurelia, darling." "Yes, Arthur." "You know we are soon to be married." "Yes." "And we should learn to be economical in small things." "Yes." "Hadn't you better turn down the gas?"—[Philadelphia Call.

Chicago is to have an opera house eight stories high. The question which is now bothering bald headed theatre goers in that city is whether peanut shucks thrown from the gallery will leave a scar.—[Burlington Free Press.

Scene—a beer garden. Mr. Schweitzer (referring to the music): "Dot vas Meyerbeer." Mr. Hooligan (excitedly, in view of the fact that only one schoner stands on the table between the two gentlemen): "You're a liar it's my beer."—[Boston Journal.

At a revival meeting in a country town not long ago, a young convert, who was by business a milkman, arose to speak. Just at that moment one of the brethren started in with the hymn: "Shall we Gather at the River?"—[Puck.

From Glen Falls comes the story that a compositor who imagined he had a talent for construction of sentences had this line to set: "A tall woman with a slight stoop." He substituted the word piazza for stoop, and suffers the consequence of his rash act as he wanders across the country looking for work.—[New York World.

May be that girl wasn't mad when after looking high and low for one of her big buttons, which had come off her sack, she at last found it on the cook-stove, where her mother had mistaken it for a kettle cover.—[Dansville Breeze.

From His Vacation.

A young man got off a train at the Northwestern railway station in Chicago the other day, and after walking slowly and laboriously up the short flight of stairs which lead to the waiting room, stopping a few times on the way to rest, he looked around for a place to sit down. His wan, thin face, heavy eyes, and general appearance of weakness and dejection attracted attention, and a kind old gentleman accosted the stranger and asked if he could be of any assistance.

"No-o," the young man drawled out; "I guess I'll get along if I take my time to it."

"Are you ill?"

"No-o, I'm not sick. But I feel as if I was all broken up."

"Been in an accident?"

"No-o. I'm just tired, that's all. Thanks, you may call a hansom for me, if you will. Don't believe I could ever walk out to the street cars. I don't mind if you do carry my valise. I am so-o tired."

"What is the matter with you?"

"Oh, nothin' much. I'm just returning from my vacation. I'll be all right in a week or two."—[Chicago Herald.

In Holland, Mich., C. J. Doesbury publishes the News, and in its columns strongly recommends Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for coughs, colds, sore throats, catarrh and asthma.

Martha Washington's protrait will adorn the new one dollar silver certificates, and that of General Hancock of two dollars.

It is estimated that there are one hundred thousand sufferers from hay fever in the United States, a number about four times greater than the regular standing army. [illegible]

[illegible] a Medicine with curative properties as impossible to counterfeit as the PYRAMIDS OF EGYPT, and which is now having an enormous sale throughout the United States and Canadas.

SCRANTON, PA. During the past two years I have used bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for sprains, bruises, cuts, burns and Rheumatism. It always cures.—M. L. Blair, Ald. Fifth Ward, Nov. 9, 1885.

GRAYVILLE, ILL. In cases of Croup, Thomas' Eclectric Oil never fails to cure. It cured me of a very bad Ulcerated Sore Throat—C. R. Hall, Grayville, Ill.

LOWELL, MASS. I was badly afflicted with Bronchitis and an affection of the throat. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil cured me.—Oliver J. Belle Isle, 23 East Merrimack Street.

DAVENPORT, IOWA. As a remedy for Catarrh Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil stands at the top. It cured me, and I believe will cure any case. Edw. S. Rowley, 322 West 12th Street.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT

German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells, depend on SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.	Ladies in delicate health, who are all run down, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.
The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using SULPHUR BITTERS.	$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.
Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.	Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.
General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use SULPHUR BITTERS, and you will not be troubled.	SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.
Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.	SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

OVER WORKED Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ANTICHRIST!

ST. John wrote "Ye have heard that Antichrist shall come." The prophecies on that mysterious subject in the book of Revelation and in Daniel are fully explained in a commentary entitled "CHRIST ON THE THRONE OF POWER AND ANTICHRIST." The old interpretation is followed, except that the vast progress of modern times enables us to see farther into prophecy than formerly. Now can be seen signs of the coming of that formidable "Army of 200,000 thousands breathing out of their mouths smoke, fire and brimstone." No age before this has made such use of the mouth in teaching, lecturing and telephoning; nor of the press, in newspapers, books and pamphlets, for weal or woe. A few more explosions of dynamite like that in Chicago and a farther exposure of the hidden depravity of the Anarchists, may enable men to see signs of the speedy coming of "The Man of Sin" to whom John gave the name of Antichrist. It is a book of 267 pages octavo, in large type, sent by mail for $1.25. An Agent Wanted in every Town. Address
REV. F. C. BROWN,
Rochester, New York.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE

BEST IN THE WORLD ☞ Get the Genuine. Sold Everywhere.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 981 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

WANTED—I want you to do parlor work for me at your own home; plenty work; good pay; $1 per piece; all materials free.
A. LOVE. CLEVELAND, O.

Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St. N.Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ASTHMA AND CATARRH. Dr. H. W. Reed's Celebrated Asthma and Catarrh Relief, the most effectual and sure cure yet discovered. Samples sent free to all who ask. Fifty cent and dollar boxes sent by mail. A. ETHRIDGE, Proprietor, Rome, N. Y.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure. By JOHN H. MCALVIN, Lowell, Mass., 14 years tax collector. Sent free to any address.

MOTH-WAX

KILLS THE MOTH

and the old Moth Miller. Sample cake by mail 6 cents. W. H. H. CHILDS, 73 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

FRENCH'S HOTEL.

CITY HALL SQUARE, NEW YORK,

Opposite City Hall and the Post Office.

This Hotel is one of the most complete in its appointments and furniture of ANY HOUSE in New York City and is conducted on the European Plan.

Rooms only One Dollar per day. Half minute's walk from Brooklyn Bridge and Elevated R. R. All lines of cars pass the door. Most convenient Hotel in New York for Merchants to stop at. Dining Rooms, Cafes and Lunch Counter replete with all the luxuries at moderate prices. 8y1

WRITE TO H. A. MILLER, Elmira, N. Y. President of the Elmira School of Commerce and ALLEN BUSINESS COLLEGE, for a catalogue of the Leading Business Training Institution of America. Gold Prize $50.

2,000 AGENTS WANTED for the NEW WORK.

GLADSTONE—PARNELL, AND THE GREAT IRISH STRUGGLE.

[illegible]

[illegible]

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 19th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 12th, 1886.

CAROLINE L. ALFRED,
Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said countr, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886. LUCY K. HUBBARD,
Executrix.

FORECLOSURE SALE.

SUPREME COURT—OSWEGO COUNTY.

The Fulton Savings Bank vs. Letson LaDu and others. By virtue of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale made in the above entitled action at a Special Term of the Supreme Court held at the Court House, in the city of Syracuse, Onondaga county, N. Y., on the 5th day of June, 1886, and duly filed and entered in the clerk's office of Oswego county on the 7th day of June, 1886, I the undersigned Referee duly appointed in and by said judgment and decree to make such sale will sell at public auction to the highest bidder at the law office of Piper & VanWagenen, in the village of Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y., on the 4th day of Sept., 1886, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day the mortgaged premises in and by said judgment and decree directed to be sold and described therein as follows, to wit.: all that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Volney, county of Oswego and State of New York upon Lot number seventy-five (75) of the 17th Township of Scriba's Patent, Beginning at the north-west corner of O. Cone's division of 52 31-100 acres and running thence south 2 deg. east along the west line of said Cone's 52 31-100 acres thirty-seven (37) chains ninety-four (94) links to a stake, thence north 89 degrees west parallel to the south line of said Lot 75 fourteen (14) chains, fifteen (15) links to a stake, thence north 2 degrees west along a line of marked trees seventeen (17) chains ninety-four (94) links to a stake in south line of Samuel A. Williams' 30 acres laid off from said lot 75, thence south 89 degrees east along the south line of said Williams' 30 acres two (2) chains sixty-three (63) links to a stake at the south-east corner of said Williams' 30 acres; thence north 2 degrees west along the east line of said Williams' 30 acres twenty (20) chains to a stake on the north line of said lot 75; thence south 89° east along said north line eleven (11) chains ninety-three (93) links to the place of beginning, containing 50 acres of land—excepting however from the above described 50 acres a parcel of ten (10) acres from the north end thereof heretofore conveyed to O. Cone and a parcel of 8 8-10 acres from the south end thereof heretofore conveyed to Alfred Hudgin and excepting also a parcel of three (3) acres heretofore released from the operations of said mortgage from the west side of said mortgaged premises and conveyed by said Letson LaDu and wife to Orville Dunsmore by deed recorded in Oswego county clerk's office, in Liber 189 of deeds, at page 224, leaving 28 2-10 acres be the same more or less.

Dated July 20, 1886.

N. N. STRANAHAN,
Referee.

PIPER & VANWAGENEN,
Attys for Plff,
Fulton, N. Y.

WARNER BRO'S
CELEBRATED
CORALINE
CORSETS

Five Gold and Two Silver Medals,

awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.

The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks.

Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "DR. WARNER'S CORALINE" is printed on inside of steel cover.

FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING MERCHANTS.

WARNER BROTHERS,

353 Broadway, New York City

ADVERTISERS or others, who wish to examine this paper, or obtain estimates on advertising space when in Chicago, will find it on file at 45 to 49 Randolph St., the Advertising Agency of LORD & THOMAS.

DO NO MORE WHITEWASHING

NOT WHEN

PLASTIC PAINT

Can be had so cheap. Send for pamphlet and color card, and learn its merits.

MAXWELL HAZLETT & CO.

100 McElderry's Wharf, Baltimore, Md., and 606 Washington Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

CATARRH
ELY'S
CREAM BALM
CURES COLD IN HEAD
CATARRH
ROSE-COLD
HAY-FEVER
DEAFNESS HEADACHE
PRICE 50 CENTS
ELY BRO'S
OWEGO N.Y. U.S.A.
HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM was recommended to me for HAY FEVER I have found it a specific for that dreaded disease. For ten years I have been a great sufferer. Cream Balm Balm is the only preventive I have ever found.—F. B. Ainsworth, of F. B. Ainsworth & Co., Pubs., Indianapolis, Ind.

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. Circulars free.

ELY BROTHERS,
Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

NATURE'S CURE FOR CONSTIPATION, A RELIABLE REMEDY, For Sick Stomach, Torpid Liver, Bilious Headache, Costiveness, [illegible]

[illegible] Sick-H[illegible] DYSPE[illegible]

NINETEENTH YEAR.

$1.25 a Year in Advance.

"The Absolute and Only Reliable [illegible]"

FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1886.

VOLUME 19—NUMBER [illegible]

Single Copies Three Cents.

The Funeral.

I was walking in Savannah, past a church decayed and dim,
When there slowly through the window came a plaintive funeral hymn;
And a sympathy awakened, and a wonder quickly grew,
Till I found myself environed in a little negro pew.
Out at front a colored couple sat in sorrow, nearly wild;
On the alter was a coffin, in the coffin was a child;
I could picture him when living—curly hair, protruding lip,
And had seen perhaps a thousand in my hurried Southern trip.
But no baby ever rested in the soothing arms of death
That had had fanned more flames of sorrow with his little fluttering breath;
And no funeral ever glistened with a sympathy profound,
Than was in the chain of tear drops that enclasped those mourners round.

Rose a sad old colored preacher at the little wooden desk—
With a manner grandly awkward, with a countenance grotesque;
With simplicity and shrewdness on his Ethiopian face;
With the ignorance and wisdom of a crushed, undying race.

And he said: "Now don' be weepin' for dis pretty bit o' clay—
For de little boy who lived dere, he done gone an' run away!
He was doin' very finely, an' he 'preciate your love;
But his sure 'nuff Father wanted him in de large house up above.

"Now he didn' give you dat baby, by a hundred thousan' mile!
He just think you need some sunshine, an' he lend it for a while!
An' he let you keep an' love it, till your hearts was bigger grown;
An' dese silver tears you're sheddin's jest de interest on de loan.

"Here yer odder pretty chilrun!—don't be makin' it appear,
Dat your love got sort o' 'nop'lized by dis little fellow here;
Don' pile up too much your sorrow on deir little mental shelves,
So's to kind o' set 'em wonderin' if dey're no account demselves!

"Just you think, you poor deah mounahs, creepin' 'long o'er sorrow's way,
What a blessed little picnic dis yere baby's got to-day!
Your good faders and good moders crowd de little fellow round
In de angel tended garden of de big plantation ground.

"An' dey ask him 'was your feet sore?' an' take off his little shoes,
An' dey wash him, an' kiss him, an' dey say, 'now what's de news?'
An' de Lawd done cut his tongue loose; den de little fellow say,
'All our folks down in de valley tries to keep de hebbenly way.'

"An' his eyes dey sparkle brightly at de pretty things he view;
Den a tear come, an' he whisper, 'But I want my payrents, too!'
But de Angel Chief Musician teach dat boy a little song;
Says, 'If only dey be fait'ful dey will soon be comin' 'long.'

"An he'll get an education dat will proberly be worth
Seberal times as much as you could buy for him on earth;
He'll be in de Lawd's big school house, widout no contempt or fear;
While dere's no end to de bad tings might have happened to him here.

"So, my poah, dejected mounahs, let your hearts wid Jesus rest,
An' don' go to criterci sm' dat ar one w'at knows de best!
He have sent us many comforts—he have right to take away—
To de Lawd be praise an' glory now and ever!—Let us pray.

—[Will Carleton.

WASHINGTON ON THE OUTSIDE

The people of the United States know but little about Washington, and of the sixty millions which we have now in the country, perhaps fifty millions have never visited the capital. It is the finest national capital in the world, and travelers who have gone the rounds of the globe say they have never seen anything to equal it. It now contains more than 210,000 people, and its citizens spend more money proportionally than those of any city in the United States. It lies in a sort of a basin on the banks of the Potomac, which is a mile wide where it flows by it. Great hills surround this basin, sloping almost abruptly up from Boundary street, which bounds the city on the north, and rising upward from the banks on the other side of the river. Some of these hills are wooded, and on many of them residences are now being built. It is supposed that they will in the future form the most fashionable parts of the capital city.

The capitol is in the exact centre of Washington, and all the streets are laid out at right angles to it. The lettered streets run one way and the numbered another, and the numbering of the city is so arranged that you can tell at a glance just where a house is located by its number and street. All of the streets of Washington are wide, and the avenues which cross them in a diagonal way are wider still. They are paved with dark grey asphalt, and are as smooth as a a floor from one end to the other. The bicycler will be interested in knowing that there are 270 miles of these Washington streets, and that they could here ride almost the distance between Cleveland and Chicago on pavements as smooth as so many planed boards without going over the same ground twice. Their ride would take them past elegant houses of as much variety of architecture as there is variety of human brains. It would lead them about statues of the most noted men of the nation, through [illegible] cent, of Paris, twenty-six per cent of Berlin and thirty-five per cent. of Vienna is devoted to streets and avenues.

There are in Washington city limits 6,111 acres, and more than half of this is public property. The government reservations which are scattered throughout the whole city, contain 400 acres and the most of these are filled with flowers and trees. The streets and avenues are lined with trees and during the last ten years there have been more than 80,000 shade trees set out by a commission which is appointed and paid by congress for that purpose. Standing on the hills above Washington and looking over it, the city now appears like a great garden with houses poking their heads out of the foliage. Ten years from now it will be 6,000 acres of forest, and it will be the greatest shade-tree city of the world. Trees grow rapidly in the Washington soil. They are well taken care of, and they are planted about thirty feet apart all over the city as soon as the streets are graded. The government puts tree boxes around them, and if one happens to die it is at once replaced by another. These trees are of all kinds of shade trees which one finds in the North and South. They have already materially affected the climate of Washington city, and it is cooler now by far than it was a decade ago.

The parks of Washington are scattered throughout the city, and you cannot walk more than three or four squares without coming upon a green spot filled with rare old trees and a statue or a fountain. There are seats in most of these parks, and in the flower beds, which you will find in many of them, plants are kept blooming all the time. First there are the earliest blossoms of the spring. Then as the year grows older these are taken up as soon as they cease to bloom and others are planted in their places. An army of laborers is required to keep the parks in order, and a continuous improvement goes on. Many of these parks, such as Franklin for instance, are surrounded by general residences, and as a general rule, vacant ground facing upon a government reservation will double the price of other land in the vicinity. The capitol park alone contains fifty-one acres of plateau and sloping hill. It is full of trees of many kinds, some of which are more bushes and others old elms which appear to have dated back to Jefferson's day. The capitol, you know, faces the east, and just in front of it there is a wide plateau of green of several squares which will lie between it and the new library. Through this capitol park there are well kept roadways and fine walks. Seats you will find on the way up to the capitol, and if you go at night your path will be lighted by electric lamps.

It is a mile from the capitol to the treasury, and there is a wide stretch of green of about two hundred acres running between the two, a little to the south and back of Pennsylvania avenue. It is called the mall. This green two hundred acres is a series of parks, and on it is erected a number of public buildings, and among them are the flashy red brick-and-tile National museum and the mediæval old brown-stone castle of the Smithsonian institution. Beyond the Smithsonian is the agricultural department, and further over in another big reservation is the Washington monument, which, with the Potomac almost washing its foot, and some pretty lakes lying in its shadow, stands on one side of the many acres of lawn and trees which extend up to the White House and the big granite building of the state, war and navy departments beyond. This long mile and more of park is a perfect forest, with paths as romantic as you will find anywhere, with little pools of water in cosy nooks here and there, and with now and then a flower bed. Seats for resting are everywhere, and children with their nurses in white caps, lovers and their sweethearts, gentlemen of leisure with natty canes, and in fact all classes, may be seen wandering of a Sunday and at certain hours of the day during the week, enjoying this forest shade in the midst of the city.

Every one knows how the big White House looks, and not a few will remember that its building covers a third of an acre of ground. But the lawns about it are seldom described, and it will be a surprise to know that it has eighty acres of lawn and trees, and that old trees shade the walks that lead up to it at the front. A great fountain dashes a spray into the air in the lawn facing its portico, and behind it another fountain, larger still, continually sends a shower of diamonds into the sunlight. Just across the street from the White House grounds is Lafayette square, a park of seven acres, in which there are many tropical trees, as well as old oaks and elms. In the centre the bronze statue of Andrew Jackson stands upon his horse's heels, and the houses facing the park are mostly old and full of history. Don Cameron now lives in the old Taylor mansion, and the millionaire Corcoran occupies the big house which some Boston capitalists presented to Daniel Webster when he was secretary of state. On another side of the park is the house where Decatur died, now owned by John McLean's father-in-law, Gen. Beale, and a little further down is the house in which Blaine was living when he began to write his political book which has paid so well. The Sickles mansion farther on is now owned by Washington McLean, and on another side of the park is Charles Sumner's old house and the new mansion in which [illegible]

[illegible] on the corner of Lafayette [illegible]

Stanton place of three acres and Green square of a like size.

The circles of the capital are reservations make by the intersection of the important avenues. They generally consist of a round mound of green of the size of an acre, more of less, and in the centre of many of them stand the statues of noted generals in bronze. Scott circle has a statue of Gen. Scott cast from cannon which the general took in Mexico, and Thomas circle has an equestrian statue of Gen. Thomas which cost, all told, $75,000. In Iowa circle there is a fine place for a statue of Gen. Grant just opposite the house in which he lived, and in Dupont circle, with his back facing the castle of the Chinese legation, and upon a granite pedestal, stands a bronze figure of Admiral Dupont. And so it is all over the city. Statues and trees and beautiful houses, wide lawns and good breathing spaces. The parks of a city have been called its lungs, and if so Washington is less in danger of consumption than any other city in the world.

We can accommodate a great population here in the smallest space, and the city is so arranged that it can never be crowded. There is a tendency now, however, among the citizens to desire more room to build upon, and they are fast moving out into the suburbs. There are half a dozen bills now before Congress for extending the limits of the city, and I doubt not ten years from now much of what is farms and gardens, will be covered with beautiful houses, and will be a part of the Washington city of the near future.

The main business street of the Capital is Pennsylvania avenue, which begins at Georgetown and extends out beyond the Capitol to the east branch of the Potomac beyond the navy yard. It passes the White House after leaving Washington circle, and then switches down around the treasury and goes for a mile until it reaches the Capitol grounds, when it winds around them and on by the Capitol out to the river. It is about four and one-half miles long, and its width in its business portion is one hundred and sixty feet, or as wide as two average city streets of eighty feet each. It is filled with vehicles of every description at nearly all hours of the day, but it is so wide that it is little crowded and the coachman in livery and the herdic driver in homespun have little trouble.

Georgetown is now a part of Washington and the old town which was born before the Capital, is growing now, since it has been adopted by Washington. The heights of Georgetown are becoming fashionable for residents, and I see that Bell, the telephone millionaire, has laid out a large estate and is selling it off in lots. Washington at night and by moonlight is wonderfully beautiful. The moon tints to mellowness the rare old marble of the public buildings. It takes away the rustiness of the tomb-like treasury and puts life into the statues. The White House looks like a fairy palace under the rays of the moon, back in among the old forest trees. And the state department grows bigger and more wonderful with its hundreds of columns when the electric light or the moon takes off its newness. One of the prettiest buildings at night is the old Smithsonian and it does not take a bright imagination while looking at it to transport one's self to the mediæval days of chivalry and to wonder whether, after all, he is a looking at a structure made by new America, or at one of the well-preserved ruins of middle France or on the hills along the Rhine or the Danube. No matter what your mood or your thought, you can find buildings here to suit in your moonlight walks. If you are fond of the classics and daylight in old Athens, let me take you to the front of the patent office and I can show you the exact reproduction of the noted Parthenon there. If you want the old colonial days, stroll over to the Van Ness mansion, where Marcia Burns used to entertain Aaron Burr and Thomas Jefferson; and if you prefer a rural ruin I can show you the cottage where Tom Moore slept when he came to visit Washington city and make poetry about Americans. If you love Dame Nature more than ruins, a moonlight drive will take you into the most romantic of nature's scenery, and there are views all about the District of Columbia which would be considered great sights if they were located in Europe, and which people in Switzerland would think beautiful.—[Wash. correspondent Cleveland Leader and Herald.

Male and Female Criminals.

The proportion of the sexes apprehended among the criminal classes is one woman to three males; but when the criminals who have been more than ten times convicted are compared, it is found that the proportion is reversed, and there will be 9,000 women as against 5,000 men. The proportion of these is eight to 10 per cent. in the case of men, but has increased from twenty-two to thirty-one per cent. in the case of women. Another curious thing about female criminality is that marriage, which restrains a man, does not seem to have that effect upon a woman. The criminality is greater among the married women than among the unmarried. Most female prisoners are without much education. This seems to have a reverse effect to marriage—a greater restraining influence upon women than upon men.

The new combination of Smart Weed and Belladonna, as used in Carter's Backache Plasters, has proved to be one of the best [illegible]

A Week in Switzerland.

(Special to The Times.)

At 3:30 p. m. we board the railway train at Strasbourg bound for the Alpine hills of Switzerland. Our journey up through the valley of the Rhine for a few hours was interesting and enjoyable, but our longing to wind around the snow capped mountains, made the extended plain, though beautiful with a golden harvest, tame and monotonous. Soon after 5 p. m. we notice that the railway curves more frequently and our locomotive breathes a little stronger, which is evidence that she is going up a grade. The distant hills creep up nearer and as their long shadows shoot across the valley, we are reminded that we are fast going into the mountains. We wait but a few minutes and the great hills meet and they are so high that we cannot climb them. We look to see which way to turn to avoid them, when like an arrow, we plunge right into the bosom of a huge mass of earth and on we fly until the tunnel's mouth seems but a flickering lamp behind us. The light of day breaks in upon the darkness, the curtain rises, and Switzerland in all its beauty is before us like a picture. We reach Berne, the capital, at 8:30, find a hotel and retire.

We rise early for we wish to see all the city possible before leaving at 10:28. The Bear City, as it is sometimes called, to a Yankee is indeed quite a novelty. The peculiar shaped houses with their extended roofs and odd chimneys, are seen, arcades that run the length of the streets, the bears on the monuments, in the shop windows and in almost every conceivable place where a Switzer can display his carving.

The costumes peculiar to this people assure us that the countless pictures we have seen and the stories we have read are not all myths, if the story of Tell does seem unreasonable. We would be pleased to write at length concerning this city for there are many things that we haven't even the space to mention, that were of great interest to us.

We bid good bye to Berne and board the train to Lausanne and if there was one place above another that we enjoyed most of it was this part of the trip. The mountains in the distance that burried their snowy heads, in the black clouds above seemed like gigantic pillars supporting another world, and as we draw nearer they grow higher and higher until we seem of no more importance than the grains of sand, and if there is a spot in the world where a man feels his littleness it is in the presence of these mountains. Our train speeds on and we enter the last tunnel before reaching Lausanne, and it is so dark we can almost feel it for a moment, for our train is now upon a down grade and we sweep along the mountain side like the wind, and as the bright noonday sun breaks in again, a picture if possible more beautiful than any we have yet seen is before us.

Lake Geneva with its bright blue waters, is several hundred feet below us, the mountain sides and valleys beyond are covered with deep green meadows and yellow harvest fields. The cities and villages along the shore look like little white spots in the distance. It seemed to us that there was nothing lacking to make the picture complete. We arrive at Lausanne at half past one o'clock, and take a steamer for Geneva at three. The weather is mild and delightful so that the ride could not be otherwise than pleasant. We reach Geneva before sunset, just in time to see the departing rays tinge with a golden hue the snowy peaks of Mt. Blanc. We tarry here until Monday, and during our stay visit many places of interest. We are delighted with the city, and wouldn't mind if our purses were not so lean, that we might remain here a month or so.

At 12 o'clock we are aboard the train and on our way. At 8:30 we arrive at Lucerne, the principal summer resort in Swtizerland. We retire early for we have a long trip planned for the morrow. Tuesday morning is dark and rainy, bad for sight-seeing in a country like this, but we must make the best of it, so we are soon on the streets to see see the city. We first inquire the way to the Lion, one of the chief attractions of Lucerne. It is a gigantic affair, 18 by 28 feet, carved out of solid rock in commemoration of twenty-six officers, and seven hundred and sixty soldiers who fell fighting in defence of the Royal Family of France. The Lion is represented as wounded, and defending the shield in death. The rain ceases, and at 2 p. m. we take a steamboat ride over the lakes to Fluelen stopping at several places on our way. We walk back from Fluelen to Fell's Chapel over the celebrated road the Axenstrasse and take the boat from there to Lucerne, arriving at 8 o'clock. In the morning early, with alpenstock in hand, we are off to climb the Riga. We take the boat at Weggis, and then on foot we wend our way up the bridle path and reach the summit in about three hours, nearly 6,000 feet above the level of the sea. We will not attempt a discription of the view from the Riga. It more than pays for the trouble of climbing. The air is somewhat chilly, and we make our stay short, in descending the mountain via Kussnact, where we take the boat and reached the harbor at 6 in the evening. But we must bid good bye to Switzerland. Our visit has been short but pleasant in every sense of the word and we do not wonder that the Switzer feels proud of his home.

VAN V.

Derangement of the liver, with constipation, [illegible]

[illegible]

India muslins have plain and palm leaf stripes.

Stripes are a marked feature of wool dress fabrics.

Plain silk velvets will be largely used for fall costumes.

The latest novelty in etamine has chenille figures.

Spanish flounces are among the revivals for the season.

Amber beads are employed for edging panels of the same tint.

Turkish crape is now made in colors suitable for half mourning.

Rhinestone and cut steel buckles are used for fastening velvet belts.

The trimming of high hats is at the back and droops over the crown.

Wool fabrics will retain the favor they have long had for autumn street dresses.

All sleeves are now very much trimmed in the upper part, and quite plain downward from the elbow.

The first arrivals of fine millinery goods for autumn show but little change in the shapes of small bonnets.

Black stockings are worn by children as soon as they are short-coated. They should, of course, be of black silk.

The novelty in fine woolens is braided stripes woven in bold relief to represent rows of braid sewed to the fabrics.

Steel embroidery takes the precedence of jet and is seen on every article of Parisian feminine attire. Gloves, bonnets, shoes, stockings and dress are all embroidered to correspond with this glittering metal.

Shoes with broad flaps and ornamented with buckles are exceedingly comfortable, and may be worn by persons who cannot wear the ordinary low shoes on account of taking cold. The flap protects the instep from the cold.

A Thrifty Family.

The Beecher family is a thrifty one. Mr. Beecher is under salary to his congregation. Meanwhile he is lecturing abroad under the Pond management. Meanwhile also, he is preaching on Sunday and his sermons are being published in the Brooklyn Magazine, and he receives a royalty for the publication. Meanwhile, still further, Mrs. Beecher is writing letters about the trip for the same magazine and she comes in for her share of the pin money.

"What do you do with all the money you make?" Mr. Beecher was once asked.

"Bless me!" he replied. "That's just what I've been asking myself all my life."—[Hatchet.

Storm Signals.

As the coming of a great storm is heralded by the display of cautionary signals, so is the approach of that dread and fatal disease, consumption of the lungs, usually announced in advance by pimples, blotches, erruptions, ulcers, glandular swellings and kindred outward manifestations of the internal blood poison, which, if not promptly expelled from the system, attacks the delicate tissues of the lungs, causing them to ulcerate and break down. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" is the great remedy for this, as for all diseases having their origin in bad blood. It improves the appetite and digestion, increases nutrition and builds up the wasted system.

New York City every year appropriates $20,000 to the relief of the blind poor. A list of blind residents is kept and a card sent to them when an appropriation is made, when they go to the office of the superintendent of out-door poor and receive their money. If any of these pensioners behave badly after remonstrance they are cut off from the benefit of the appropriation for the year.

MY FAMILY DOCTOR

For the past two years has been Sulphur Bitters, and until I began using them in my family, we had more or less sickness, and our doctor's bill has been very large. Since he began their use we have had no doctor to pay, and three dollars invested in Sulphur Bitters has kept health in our family.—[E. KNOTT, postmaster, Waverly, Iowa.

ROYAL
ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO. 106 Wall St.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
[illegible] &c.
Fulton, N. Y.

TWENTY YEARS A SUFFERER.

Jordan, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—I have been afflicted with Rheumatism for the past twenty years, and have been laid up with it regularly for the past ten years. A short time ago I was confined to my bed with it, and sent for a bottle of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and when I had used the first bottle, went after the second bottle myself. I have tried so many good things, with no good results, that I can recommend this, in the highest terms, as I believe your remedy is the best in existence.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. MARY DOCKSTADER,
Farmer's Hotel.

Black Rock, N. Y.

DEAR SIRS:—This is to certify that I have been afflicted with rheumatism and Neuralgia for the past twenty-five year and at times so bad that I was not expected to live. I have used Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and have never used anything in all my experience that has helped me so much. I can recommend it to all afflicted with the above disease.

MRS. MARY MAGUIRE,
1437 Niagara Street.

Syracuse, N.Y.

GENTS:—For the past five months I have been troubled with Rheumatism, at times very badly. I procured some of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy of your agent, and in a few days was entirely free from all pain, and continuing its use for several weeks I am entirely cured and take pleasure in recommending it to all who are troubled with Rheumatism or general debility.

Yours truly,
MRS. E. S. HINKLEY,
203 East Genesee St.

Ask your druggist for Dr. Pardee's Remedy, and take no other. Price, $1 per bottle; six bottles, $5.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

LUMBER YARD.

We have in Stock a Complete Assortment of

Lumber, Lath, Shingles

&c., and in fact everything pertaining to a
FIRST-CLASS YARD.

We are prepared to furnish thoroughly Seasoned Lumber at Lowest Rates. Call and be Convinced.

BOOMER & LOOMIS.

Corner Broadway and First Streets.

WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED
With or without Patent Index.

The Attention of School Officers, and others, is invited to the fact that in purchasing the latest issue of this work, they get

A DICTIONARY

containing 3000 more words and nearly 2000 more illustrations than any other American Dictionary.

A GAZETTEER OF THE WORLD

containing over 25,000 Titles, with their pronunciation and a vast amount of other information, (just added, 1885) and

A BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY

giving pronunciation of names and brief facts concerning nearly 10,000 Noted Persons; also various tables giving valuable information.

ALL IN ONE BOOK.

Webster's Unabridged Dictionary is recommended by the State Superintendents of Schools in 36 States, and by leading College Presidents of the United States and Canada. It is Standard Authority with the United States Supreme Court, and in the Government Printing Office. It has been selected in every case where State Purchases have been made for Schools, and is the Dictionary upon which nearly all the school books are based.

GET THE LATEST AND BEST.

It is an invaluable companion in every School and at every Fireside.

G. & C. MERRIAM & CO., Pub'rs, Springfield, Mass.

Job Printing.

—:o:—

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,
—AT THE—
FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

—LIVINGSTON COUNTY NURSERIES.—

WANTED! [illegible]

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE

Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of

Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.

And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.

Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.

☞ Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

Scranton Coal!
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,
Promptly Delivered!
At the Following Prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

LUMBER! LUMBER!
I have the Largest Assortment of
Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER
In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE
SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c,
Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere
O. RUST.
37tf

HART BROS.,
—DEALERS IN—
Vitrified Glazed Stone Ware
—AND—
PORTLAND CEMENT SEWER PIPE
—AND—
DRAIN TILE,
With all necessary Fittings and connections.
FIRE BRICK, CLAY AND SAND.
Stone Ware, and Cement, Chimneys and Tops.
Fire Bricks of desired shapes, furnished on application.
STONEWARE WATER FILTERS A SPECIALTY.
Also Agents for Stewart's Ready Roofing.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
the popular favorite for dressing the hair, Restoring color when gray, and preventing Dandruff. It cleanses the scalp, stops the hair falling, and is sure to please. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

HINDERCORNS.
The safest, surest and best cure for Corns, Bunions, &c. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. Never fails to cure. 15 cents at Druggists. HISCOX & CO., N. Y.

A FIFTH AVENUE LADY

Science emerging from Darkness.

WRITES
A LETTER ABOUT
Kaskine.

THE NEW QUININE.

222 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK.

Kaskine Co.—Dear Sirs: Although always opposed to having my name used publicly, I waive my reluctance in this case. No one can see the vast good done to the suffering that I have seen, accomplished by your wonderful medicine and remain silent.

I deem it my pleasant duty, my dear sirs, to express my cordial thanks for the great cure it has accomplished in my family as well as for the many cures it has effected among the suffering poor to whom I have taken it. My son was the greatest sufferer for years from what was first termed by our physician to be dyspepsia and general debility, which was followed by the severest forms of chills and fever, and finally pronounced by several of the most eminent physicians to be malaria, with all its different forms of suffering and organic diseases, including liver and kidney troubles and nervous prostration. You will see that I owe an especial debt of gratitude to you, for my son's health seemed hopelessly lost, as he derived no benefit from medical treatment, although receiving the best that the highest medical talent in America could afford, combined at times with the benefit of travel. His constitution also had been almost undermined and his hearing impaired by the use of quinine. We were influenced to try Kaskine by hearing of its great success from reliable sources, and my son has been completely restored to health by its use. If my testimony of these facts will help to save human life and restore the suffering to health, I should be guilty indeed to remain silent. I am, my dear sirs, yours most gratefully

June 11th. (Mrs.) J. DEWITT BURNS

WHAT THE HOSPITALS SAY.

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful."

St. Francis Hospital, N.Y., "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Rev. Jos. [illegible], Chaplain of Charity Hospital, writes: "I will be merely, on every occasion, through conviction a most devoted promoter of Kaskine."

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.: "Its use is considered indispensable. It acts perfectly."

Send for the great book of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine. $1 a bottle. Sold by W. J. [illegible], Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

[illegible]

Business Cards.

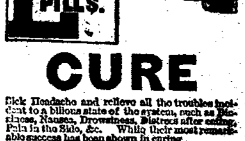
MORRILL BROS., Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters, etc. Nos 40 and 42 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 8 First street.

DR. G. C. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y.
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts. Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious Sample Rooms.



CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.

Prices Below all Competition
On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.

IN DYE STUFFS
I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at
R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.
A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.
No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.
Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods—and prices below all Competition.
48tf R. E. PHILLIPS.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞ Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.

☞ Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.

THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

INSURANCE SOLICITORS
New working Fire, Life, Industrial or Assessment Insurance, and other solicitors who desire to better themselves, can secure profitable engagements with N. Y. State Relief Association. Large commission and interest in renewals; also premium asked for satisfactory work. Address J. E. ALLANSON, Sec'y., 41 State Street, Albany, N. Y.
1863

WANTED—LADY Active and intelligent to represent in her own locality an old firm. References required. Permanent position and good salary.
GAY & BROTHERS,
16 Barclay St., N. Y.

JUST THE THING!
CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.
Save time and labor! Neat and Compact.
Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General [illegible]
[illegible]
To be had only at the
FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.

[illegible] made known on application [illegible]
[illegible] printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.
Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.
Address all communications, on business or otherwise, to THE TIMES,
F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.
[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

SAMUEL J. RANDALL is seriously ill, none but members of his family are permitted to see him.

IT is reported that about one hundred persons daily visit the cells of the condemned anarchists in Chicago.

F. A. DODGE, sub-editor of the Skaneateles Democrat, was found dead in his office last Saturday. Heart disease was the cause.

ABOUT 100 bicyclists started from Buffalo on Monday morning. They are to ride to Harper's Ferry, Va. where they expect to arrive on the 18th.

THE President and Mrs. Cleveland are still enjoying their vacation in the North Woods. They are expected to return to Washington the latter part of this week.

EVERYTHING seems to point to a picking up of trade. Good reports come from nearly all branches of trade and other things indicates an improvement in business for this fall and the coming winter.

THE largest labor demonstration ever held in New York city was that of Monday—laborers' day. Fully twenty thousand people, representing every branch of trade, paraded the streets of that city. In Brooklyn the labor day procession numbered about 18,000.

THE designs for the new silver certificates are almost finished. The backs will be green and covered with scroll work. The $10 certificate will have a fine likeness of the late Thomas A. Hendricks, the $1 certificate an engraving of Martha Washington, the $2 certificate one of General Hancock, and the $5 certificate one of Samuel J. Tilden.

CHARLESTON, which was so severely shaken by the earthquake last week is in a ruined condition. Forty thousand people are living in tents and 3,000 have left the city. The quakes still continue at intervals. The are very slight but serve to keep the people in a state of terror. Measures for relief are being taken all over the country.

THERE has been almost a complete reorganization of the Star Base Ball Team of Syracuse, Knouff, pitcher, Broughton, catcher, and Andrews, first baseman, of the Memphis team, Bittman, second base of the Nashvilles, H. Kappel, third base of the Charlestons, and Mann, right fielder of the Nashvilles, have been engaged. Of the old team, Crothers, Buckley, Tomney, Simon and the new man, Glenn, have been retained, McCloskey, Shappert, Olin, Crotty, Harbidge, Gladman and Delvin have been released. Jacoby will be kept by the directors. In case Bittman plays a good second base, Jacoby will play in the field and as an extra. The new nine play their first game against the Oswegos at Syracuse to-day.

Round trip tickets to Fulton during the days of the G. A. R. Encampment, including admission to the grounds are from Syracuse and return 95 cents; Baldwinsville, 60cts; Lamsons, 45; South Granby 35; Minetto, 41; Parish, $1.35; Central Square, $1.00; Hannibal, 90cts,; Sandy Creek, $1.65; Oswego, 60cts.; Scriba, 90cts.; New Haven, $1.00; Mexico, $1.15; Sand Hill, $1.30; Pulaski, $1.40; Richland, $1.50. Excursion tickets from other points can also be secured.

Attention is called to the advertisement of G. W. Dillingham, New York. An agent is wanted in every Grand Army post for the great war book "The Soldier in our Civil War." It contains 100 Mammoth Battle Scenes, each 14½ by 20 inches; 400 full-page Illustrations, 9½ by 14½ inches; and upwards of 500 Portraits, Maps, and Battle Scenes, by the great War Artists, Forbes, Waud, Taylor, Becker, Lovie, Schell, Crane and others.

The Engravings were produced at a cost of over $100,000. The agency of this book will be a profitable work for any good, wide-awake person.

On Wednesday evening, September 29, Dr. B. G. Northrop of Connecticut will deliver a lecture at the opera house on the subject "Our Town; Its Needs and Possibilities." Mr. Northrup has assisted in originating a large number of village improvement associations in Massachusetts and other states. The testimonials we have before us are numerous and speak highly of his abilities in this particular line.

It is expected that in the afternoon of the day above mentioned, Mr. Northrup will lecture at the opera house to the scholars in the public schools of Fulton and Oswego Falls upon an appropriate subject.

On last Saturday afternoon the following delegates were elected at Granby: County—Smith Stranahan, Isaac Pierce, Frank Preston, J. Rigley, N. C. Signor, [illegible] Wells, Jeff Bailey, O. J. Jennings. District—H. C. Gardner, J. C. Wells, J. H. Post, Wm. Summerville, Russel [illegible], A. H. Betts. Assembly—H. H. [illegible], C. H. Dexter, William Stewart, [illegible] Marsh, Grove Dutton, T. G. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Auburn's population is less than it was a year ago. The school census shows 6,[illegible] children between the age of 5 and 21, against [illegible] in 1884.

Saturday afternoon as Samuel Cook was crossing the West Shore railroad at St. Johnsville, he was hit by an incoming freight train, thrown on the cowcatcher and instantly killed.

There are 261 fire departments in the state, consisting of 1,061 companies and 30,000 men; 450 companies belong to the State Association. The next meeting of the Association will be held at Troy.

At a meeting of the Brooklyn members of the grand army of the republic, Sunday night, it was decided to offer the services of 100 members to the people of Charleston for police purposes.

Norval Craig of Brooklyn, an expert bicyclist, in attempting to ride over a two inches wide bridge stringer, at New Suffolk, L. I., fell with his machine into the water and was nearly drowned.

The Cayuga county Prohibition convention met in Auburn on Friday and nominated the following ticket:—For sheriff, Wm. L. Cowell of Brutus; special surrogate, Wm. Penn Session of Ledyard; special county judge, John C. Peckham; justice of sessions, Wellington M. Hinman of Summerhill, John L. Searing of Ledyard.

A disastrous fire occurred in Garrett's paper warehouse, in Syracuse, Thursday. It was first discovered by employes of the establishment, in the upper story. The loss to the Garrett's will exceed their insurance which was $46,000, by $50,000. A printing house and book bindery in the same building, was damaged to the extent of $7,000, which was covered by insurance.

A first mortgage from the Syracuse & Baldwinsville Railroad Company to the Central Trust company of New York city, has been filed in the clerk's office. The mortgage is for $160,000 and is for money borrowed by the company to build the road commencing at a point near Amboy Station and extending thence northwesterly through Van Buren and Lysander to Baldwinsville.

A most peculiar accident occurred at Rochester Monday night, in which a canal driver on the boat J. H. Wescott lost his life. The driver attempted to push the bridge from the boat to the tow path but could not hold it. The hook that fastens the bridge to the boat caught him in the throat, tearing it open and throwing him into the water. The bridge fell on him, breaking his neck. He shipped on the boat at Buffalo, Saturday, and was known only as "Ed."

Many Madison county hop growers who have picked any hops at all have secured less than a box to the acre. Others, who have hop yards of from five to twelve acres each, picked no hops at all. The Oneida Union says: "The very few new hops that are secured are very inferior, and it is impossible for most who make the attempt to properly cure them on account of the kilns being of two large capacity for the light coating of hops. There have been few transactions of late in this vicinity. The market has been remarkably quiet and brewers seem slow to realize the true condition of affairs, or if they do they prefer to purchase only to satisfy present needs.

COUNTY NEWS.

The typewriter factory at Parish began operations last week.

The tobacco growers throughout the county announce the crop unusually fine.

The excursion from Hannibal to Niagara Falls has been postponed until October 6th.

Senator Miller will deliver an address at the county fair at Mexico on September 14.

Mr. Alfred Davey and Miss Libbie Bliss, both of Parish are to be married in that village this evening.

At the republican caucus held at Hannibal last Monday the following delegates were elected:

District: E. S. Tallman, D. D. Metcalf, A. W. Burt, George Rogers, J. B. Curtis, H. M. Barrett. Instructed for Nutting for member of congress.

Assembly: A. W. Burt, W. H. Brackett, D. F. Acker, J. A. Rogers, Frank Winchell, David Bothwell. Instructed for Howe for member of assembly.

County: A. S. Guthrie, B. T. Barrett, W. B. Wilson, D. F. Acker, Merritt Miller, Albert Gifford, I. N. Meeker.

The Republican electors of the town of Oswego meet to elect delegates at Smith's hall, Oswego Centre, next Saturday forenoon.

J. H. Summerville, collector of the town of Granby, has settled with County Treasurer Goodier. His warrant calls for $11,234.44 of which he returned $97.60 uncollected.

The Republican electors of the town of Scriba meet at Grange hall in Scriba, next Friday to elect delegates to represent the district at the different conventions to be held.

A barn belong to Port Warren, near Caughdenoy, with contents, consisting of hay, grain, etc., burned Tuesday night, August 31.

Louis A. Miller of Phoenix, who has been confined in the Onondaga penitentiary, has been removed to the Utica insane asylum. While in the penitentiary he tried to kill himself.

There are thirty-seven cases on the county court calendar, for the September term which began at Pulaski, Monday. Six civil cases triable by jury, thirteen issues of law triable by the court and a criminal calendar of eighteen cases, which the district attorney announces will be tried.

A new Congregational church has just been completed at Sand Bank and will be dedicated to-morrow. The sermon will be preached by Rev. James [illegible], of Pulaski. Rev. Dr. [illegible], secretary of the Home Missionary Society, [illegible]

[illegible] of a good deal of [illegible] blown thistle. [illegible] satisfied with his pay, [illegible] to stay there regardless of what others may do. As a general thing he is a model American citizen. The terms "scab" and "knobstick" have the same meaning, and originated in the heat of passion by men who had perpetrated one wrong by striking, and were willing to add another wrong by compelling others to strike. Our textile workers are rapidly learning "that two wrongs will not make one right," and we do not expect to see much more striking in the textile trades outside of Philadelphia.

The term "knobstick" originated in the cotton mills of Lancashire, Eng., during "the big cotton strike." In Lancashire, as elsewhere, there were some men who wanted to work, and some that must work; and when these men accepted work, they were threatened with violence. In answer to this they went into the hedgerows and cut hawthorn sticks down into the root, leaving large knobs on them. Thus armed, they went to work, and when interfered with, used their sticks "for all they were worth," and there is many a scull in the United States to-day with "bumps" developed out of all proportion that could a lively tale unfold. The honest workers were not so well protected by a police force as in the United States; besides, the strikers were more lawlessly inclined, hence, workers must and did defend themselves. A Lancashire lad, with a knobstick, a pair of clogs, and ale enough to feel well, was a dangerous subject to be stopped, and was not often persuaded to change his mind. He required no police protection.—[Wade's Fiber and Fabric.

The scale of prices for "Romany Rye" at the opera house this evening is; gallery, 25 and 35 cents; lower floor 50 and 75 cents.

OBITUARY.

Melva, the infant daughter of Justin and Mattie Hamilton, aged fifteen months, died at the home of its grandfather, William Coville, at Lower Oswego Falls, yesterday afternoon. Funeral from the house this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Burial at Mt. Adnah.

A Perfumery Company has been formin Oswego, with a capital of $350,000. The certificate of incorporation was filed at Albany Monday. The incorporators are Wm. J. Austen, Francis E. Hamilton and Edward A. Austen of Oswego, and William H. Burt and D. Kellogg Baker of New York.

Draper has reduced the price on all holiday goods, fancy crockery, gloves and mittens, sleds, &c., to 10 per cent. less than cost, he is bound to close them all out instead of holding them for next fall's trade.

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expediously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. 7tf

Palermo.

Asa Candee of Baldwinsville, is making his relatives and friends in Volney and Palermo a visit, this week.

Wm. Ingersoll, who has been in town some time on a visit returns to Syracuse to-day.

The Fulton Base Ball Club came to Palermo on Saturday last and played a game with the Cliffords for five dollars and were relieved of their money. They will have to have a better nine than they have to get a game with the Cliffords. The Cliffords made seventeen runs on the first inning after two men were out. They played off after the first inning. The score at the end of the game was 28 to 6 in favor of the Cliffords.

Miss Ella Goodell of Mexico is to teach the school at Palermo Centre this winter.

Hannibal Centre.

The Hannibal Centre band attended the Band Taurnament at Phœnix last Saturday night.

Mrs. DeWitt Osterhout was taken to Oswego on a bed last Monday to be treated by a doctor there. She has been sick two or three years.

Mrs. Richard Smith is on the sick list. Dr. Cooley attends her.

Mr. Samuel Perkins is the trustee in this school district. Miss Fannie Rogers is to teach in the higher room of the school and Miss Ida Smith in the primary department.

Mr. Joe Hulett started to go to Cato Saturday morning with a load of calves. When he arrived at Ira, he stopped at Mr. Slocum's to load on another calf. The calf kicked him breaking his leg between the ankle and knee. Dr. Eldridge was called and reduced the fracture. He is at his uncle's in Ira and is not able to be broght home.

Richard Frasier of Granby Centre now has ready to do work in this county, a St. Johnsville 3 horse tread, with four horse cleaner, threshing machine. This is the easiest running and best machine on record. It took the first premium at the State fair last year. Leave orders at Phillips' drug store. 18w2

Greatly reduced prices on all summer foot wear at Collins'.

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

HARPOON FORKS
for $1.00
—at—
Snow & Loomis' Hardware,
and
Horse Rakes,
Hand Rakes,
Pitch
Forks,
[illegible]

[illegible]
6 a. m.—Morning gun and Reveille. "Turn out, boys, and fall in for roll call."
7 a. m.—Breakfast call—Hard tack and coffee—no Jake.
8 a. m.—Surgeon's call—"Fall in for your quinine."
9 a. m.—Guard mounting.
9:30 a. m.—Arrival and reception of veterans and comrades.—"We are coming, Father Abraham three hundred thousand strong."
12 m.—Dinner call—Fall in for bean soup. "There's a dish that we soldiers all love."
2 p. m.—Music by the Band.
Music by Quartette, led by Comrade N. H. Gilbert.
Address of Welcome—By Comrade W. D. Chase.
Response—By Comrade W. H. Kenyon.
Music—By Quartette.
Music—By Band.
3:30 p. m.—Re-union of the 81st N. Y. Volunteers. Cols. Jno. B. Raulston and J. J. DeForest and other officers and comrades of the regiment will be present.
Also Re-union of the 21st New York Independent Battery.—Capt. Barnes.
4 p. m.—Address by Hon. N. W. Nutting.
5:30 p. m.—Dress parade.
6 p. m.—Supper call.—"Cold salt Horse."
6:30 p. m.—Retreat.
8 p. m.—Camp Fire.
Tenting on the old camp ground, Music, speeches, singing, etc. etc.
9:30 p. m.—Tattoo.
9:45 p. m.—Taps.—Lights out.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 9TH.

The customary routine of camp will be observed.
10:00 a. m.—Reunion of the 24th N. Y. Volunteers Col. T. Sullivan.
11:00 a. m.—Re-union of the 147th N. Y. Volunteers.
2:00 p. m.—Grand parade of the G. A. R. Posts and visiting military organizations reviewed by the department commander and other distinguished guests.
3:00 p. m.—Great sham battle, illustrating the desperate and bloody conflicts of the late war. Federal Commander—Gen. T. Sullivan; Confederate Commander—Gen. T. E. McArthur.

Twelve hundred men and six piecies of artillery will be engaged representing with fidelity the various phases of battle on a hotly contested field. The skirmish line and line of battle—The attack. The prolonged contest—the desper-charge—The disastrous repulse—The counter charge—The rebel yell—The retreat—The rout and surrender—The rattling skirmish fire—The deafening volleys of musketry, and the thunders of artillery, presenting a spectacle never before witnessed in Northern New York.

8:00 p. m.—Rousing Camp fire in honor of our Department Commander, Gen. J. I. Sayles. "We drank from the same canteen." Reminiscences of the war—The Bivouac—The Field—The March—Old Army Songs—Address by comrades-Music, Singing, Dancing, &c.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 10TH.

The customary routine of camp duty will be observed.
10:00 a. m.—Re-union of the 110 N. Y. Volunteers, Col. D. C. Littlejohn.
11:00 a. m.—Re-union of the 184th N. Y. Volunteers, Col. W. G. Robinson. Re-union of the 24th N Y Volunteer Cavalry, Col. W. C. Newberry. Re-union of the 193d N. Y. Volunteers
2:00 p. m.—Address by Hon. S. E. Payne.
3:00 p. m.—Magnificent artillery practice by the 5th Artillery, N. G. S. Y. Capt. Auer. Shells exploding in air over the lake.
7:30 p. m.—Grand Farewell Camp Fire "Now then, boys, whoop Her Up."
10:30 p. m.—Strike Tents.

The Commissary Department will be in charge of Comrade Jos. Robarge. Meals furnished on the grounds at low rates.

Comrades who wish to camp out should bring their blankets. Tents and straw furnished free.

Admission to grounds 20 cents.

Committee of Reception—Geo E. Ketchum, Geo. A. Penfield, A. N. Bradt, S. E. Ballard, Henry A. Reed, J. S. Palmer, Parker O. Wright, A. Osborn, A. N. Beadle, John Bonner, H S Jenne, F H Cross, G V Emens, Geo Heselton, A S Coey, I E Finster.

There are many forms of nervous debility in men, that yield to the use of Carter's Iron Pills. Those who are troubled with nervous weakness, night sweats, &c., should try them.

The Salvation army announces as speakers at Cohoes: "Ashbarrel Jimmy," "The Saved Weed Eater," and "The Converted Cowboy."

Try India Pale Ale. It is the best. To be had at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 15tf

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

[illegible]

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter Jars, Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots, &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by
10tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

J. Cooley Tucker has the sole agency for the celebrated [illegible]

[illegible] of Mrs. [illegible] Ward, [illegible] and other [illegible] of amateur celebrities. Encouraged by this success, the editor has determined by dropping the fiction of an Experience Meeting and placing the articles in the body of the periodical, to give each author the privilege of elaborating at his pleasure, instead of confining himself within the limits of a special department. The experiences in the September number of the Magazine are furnished by Brander Matthews, in "Random Recollections" of his literary career, and by John Baumann in "Experiences of a Cow-Boy," both interesting bits of autobiography. It is announced that papers of a similar character have been secured from Walt Whitman, George Parsons Lathrop, "Lotta," Robert J. Burdette, Clara Barton, E. P. Roe, H. H. Boyesen, R. H. Stoddard, George Alfred Townsend, and many others. "Taken by Siege," the anonymous American serial, which has excited so much attention and curiosity, is concluded. "A Bachelor's Blunder," by W. E. Ferris, is continued and is as charming as ever. J. S. of Dale has an exquisite story, entitled "Our Consul at Carlsruhe." Mrs. Bloomfield Moore, one of the most earnest backers of the Keely Motor Company, gives the reasons for the faith that is in her. W. H. Babcock, in "Carols and Child-Lore at the Capital," continues his studies in juvenile folk-lore. There are poems by Edgar Fawcett, Louise Chandler Moulton, and Clinton Scollard. In the monthly Gossip, a "Lady from Philadelphia" argues with a great deal of wit and cleverness that woman was created the superior of man.

John E. Crain of Granby Centre took the first premium—$10, for the best pair of matched carriage horses and the first premium—$8, for the best pair of ladies' carriage horses at the Sandy Creek, Richland, Orwell, and Boyleston Fair last week.

I WAS A FOOL.

Yes, they said I was a fool not to try Sulphur Bitters for rheumatism, from which I had suffered over two years; but I had tried so many doctors and medicines without getting relief that I was discouraged. I am on my fourth bottle and am almost cured. I was a fool that I didn't try that wonderful remedy before.—[C. G. PRATT, Manchester, N. H.

The Seventh Day Adventists are to hold their State camp-meeting at Watertown Sept. 15—21. Several able speakers from abroad are expected. As they always make a specialty of good order, good music, and tasty grounds, they have a large attendance.

Young or middle-aged men suffering from nervous debility or kindred affections, should address with 10 cents in stamps for large treatise, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Just received at D. C. Draper's, a large order of imported crockery and China, and a fine line, all new patterns, China tea sets and chamber sets, which I will offer for the next 30 days at $1.00 less on chamber sets and $2.00 to $4.00 less on tea sets than any house in Oswego or Syracuse, to reduce part of over-stock, Call and see goods and prices, at 15 Oneida street. 17tf

Second hand Gas Pipe for sale at McCully's planing mill, from ¾ inch up to 3 inches in diameter. 12tf

Cures His Patients.

If you are afflicted with any chronic disease go and see Dr. Markley at the Lewis House every Thursday. If there is a doctor that can tell what ails you he can. If he says he can cure you he will do it. His terms are very reasonable. 17tf.

CHEESE MARKETS.

[From the Utica Herald.]

UTICA, Sept. 6.

Cheese took another upward turn to-day, making an advance of one cent, which has not been equalled before this season. The price of course brought out all the stock that was fit to be sent and a large shipment, bringing cheese down on an average to August 18 or 19, and in some instances later. Inquiry among factorymen develops the fact that the make for the season, down to the present time, has run considerably short of last year, averaging at least five per cent. This comes from there being fewer cows whose milk is sent to the factory, rather than from a smaller flow of milk. The market opened generally with offers of 9¼ to 9½c., and it was not until late in the afternoon that higher prices came out. The home trade was very strong and paid the largest prices. Shipping trade was conservative, and did not reach the top.

Transactions for the day were as follows. 100 boxes at 8½c.; 40 at 9c.; 56 lots, 5,015 boxes, at 9¼c.; 23 lots, 2,689 boxes, at 9½c.; 11 lots, 1,254 boxes at 9¾c.; 5 lots, 577 boxes, p. t. Sales, 11,512 boxes; commissions 986 boxes; total 12,598 boxes. Ruling price 9¼c. Transactions of corresponding day last year 9,569 boxes, ruling price 7¼c. Of the year before 11,247 boxes, ruling 9¾c.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, Sept. 6.

A jump of one and one-fourth cents in the price of cheese in one week is an unusual thing, but that is just what we have witnessed to-day. The figures to-night show that for eleven lots 10 cents has been asked, and that the ruling is 9½c. as against 8¾c. for top and 8¼c. ruling last week. The figures tell their own story. The high prices paid have made factorymen feel good, and many of them have sent forward large lots. It is not difficult, however, to find well informed men who did not pay the top price to-day, because they believed it to be too high. Those men fear a reaction, and in fact the feeling of uncertainty is quite generally expressed when the future is spoken of. The transactions are as follows:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
84	4,208	9½cents
41	3,260	9¾cents
11	1,130	10 cents
16	1,229	com.
152	10,827
Farm dairy	965
Total	11,792

Farm dairy—The prices on farm dairy range from 8½ to 10 cents, with bulk at 9½c. Nearly one thousand boxes were sold and some of the goods were very fine.

Butter—Twenty-five packages dairy sold at 18 to 20c., bulk 18½c. and fifteen packages of creamery at 23c.

AT FULTON.

Twenty-five factories were represented here last Monday night with 2,150 boxes. There was a jump of nearly one cent in the price of last week. They brought [illegible] cents.

[illegible]

[illegible]

CLASS NO. 28—[illegible] TOURNAMENT.
Purse $[illegible].

First premium		[illegible]
2d	do	[illegible]
3d	do	[illegible]
4th	do	[illegible]

The tournament will be held Thursday, September 23. The winner of the first premium to furnish music during the last day of the fair. For conditions of competion apply to the secretary. Entries free.

No. 34—EXHIBITION TROTTING HORSES.

Second Day—Thursday.

Purse No. 1. $100, for horses that have never beaten 2:36.

First premium		$50.00
2d	do	25.00
3d	do	15.00
4th	do	10.00

Purse No. 2, $100, for horses that have never beaten 2:35.

First premium		$50.00
2d	do	25.00
3d	do	15.00
4th	do	10.00

Third Day—Friday.

Purse No. 3, $75, for horses that have never beaten 2:50.

First premium		$37.50
2d	do	18.75
3d	do	11.25
4th	do	7.50

Purse No. 4, $125, free for all.

First premium		$62.50
2d	do	$31.25
3d	do	18.75
4th	do	12.50

$100 reserved for running races.

H. C. BREED, Secretary.
J. W. PENDERGAST, President.

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

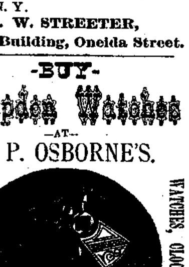
One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 94 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota. N. Y

☞Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at FULTON, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

-BUY-
Hampden Watches
—AT—
W. P. OSBORNE'S.



REPAIRED AT OSBORNE'S.
WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY,
-B-U-Y-

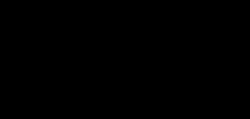
At W. P. OSBORNE'S.
—BUY—
THE WM. ROGERS'
Silver Plated Teaspoons
FOR $1,00 at
W. P. OSBORNE'S.
18m4

SCHOOL OF SHORT HAND
—AND—
TYPE WRITING.
CLASSES DAY AND EVENING.
Lessons by Mail a Specialty.
Terms Moderate. For further particulars apply to
MISS MATTIE G. HAM,
66 and 67 Weiting Block,
18m3 Syracuse, N. Y.

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF
Ladies' Kid Button Shoes
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing
and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE
SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

$350 PER MONTH.—Salary and commission, to competent Manager for this City or State Agency. A splendid combination. Our AUTOMATIC GAS GOVERNORS save 33 per cent. in gas bills. Our Silver Gas Lights can be attached to any fixture, instantly changing the dull, sickly, yellow flame of any gas to a soft, mellow, luminous white increasing brilliancy 50 per cent. Over 6,000 in service. Address,
THE UNION NATIONAL GAS SAVING CO.
17m3 21 East 14th St., New York.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.
ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



[illegible]

WILL HOLD ITS
19th ANNUAL FAIR,
On the Society's Grounds at Oswego Falls, N. Y., on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday,
SEPT. 21, 22, AND 23, 1886.

The Grounds will be open all day on Monday preceding the Fair for the reception and arrangement of articles and exhibitors are requested to get their exhibits in place and avoid the rush on the first day of the Fair. Also, to send a list of their entries to the Secretary at any time before the Fair, so that the necessary labels may be provided.

Small bills containing a detailed order of proceedings will be distributed on the days of the Fair. The general order will be as follows:

FIRST DAY.—Tuesday, reception and arrangement of articles and amusements.

SECOND DAY.—Wednesday will be devoted to a general examination of articles exhibited, trials of speed for purses No. 1 and 2 Class No. 27 and making up of the awards by the judges, who will be called at 11 A. M., and furnished with their list of entries, upon all articles except stallions, single, matched and fast horses.

THIRD DAY.—Thursday, making up awards by the judges on stallions, and matched and single horses. Trials of speed, for Purses No. 3 and 4, Class No. 27 and declaring premiums.

The following Special Premiums are offered for exhibits to be placed in the new building now being erected upon the grounds, viz.:

For the greatest Variety of Potatoes raised by one person,		$10.00
" " Best Exhibition of Grapes, grown " " "		5.00
" " " Collection of Peppers " " " "		1.00
" " " " " Vegetables, " " "		10.00
" " " Exhibition of Melons " " " "		3.00
" Greatest Variety of Beans raised " " "	this year	5.00

The D. L. & W. Railroad Co., will carry passengers over their road at Half Rates. Extra Trains on the last two days. The N. Y. O. & W. Railway Co., will carry passengers from Oswego, Centre Square and intermediate Stations at reduced rates. The R. W. & O. Railroad Co. will carry passengers from Oswego, Syracuse and Intermediate Stations at reduced rates.

Send to the Secretary for a Premium List.
President—H. H. Merriam, Oswego Falls.
Vice-Presidents—W. B. Phelps, Oswego; W. Johnson, Fulton.
Secretary—Arvin Rice, Fulton. Treasurer—Charles R. Nichols, Fulton.
Trustees and Executive Committee—O. Henderson, Fulton; T. G. Somers, Oswego Falls; A. Gregg Pennellville; Isaac R. Osborne, Ira; L. L. Kinyon, Oswego; Fred Vant, Volney.

—CALL ON—
GEORGE JOHNSTON,
On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of
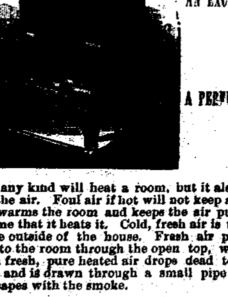
STOVES AND RANGES,
Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,	THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
ART UNIVERSAL,	GRAND UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,	HAPPY THOUGHT,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,	HAPPY HOME,
and ACORN,	and DUCHESS
Parlor Stoves.	Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the
Howe Ventilating Stove,
which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves
I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.
Yours Respectfully,
GEO. JOHNSTON.

—THE—
Howe Ventilating Stove.

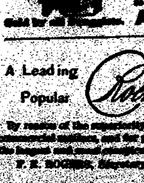


A NEW STOVE.
ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE.
AN EXCELENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE.
A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

☞A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE
Howe Ventilating Stove Company, Fulton, N. Y.
F. G. WEEKS, President.
E. R. REDHEAD, Vice-President.
ALMON BRISTOL, Sec'y & Treas.
E. L. MESSENGER, Gen. Manager.
GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent
FULTON, N.Y.

☞PRESERVE YOUR HEALTH.☜
ROGERS' GRAPOLINE



[illegible]
Sold by all Druggists. A. H. ROGERS & CO. Geneseo, N. Y.

A Leading Rochester Business University Commercial Popular School.
By reason of the superiority of its facilities for imparting a thorough practical knowledge [illegible] the largest and most complete schools of its kind on the continent. [illegible]
F. E. ROGERS, Secretary. [illegible], President.

[illegible] 8:15 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will [illegible] Sundays. [illegible] sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARR, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:18 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
Norwich Express	3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:24 a. m
Oswego Express	11:27 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	9:57 p.m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.,	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:21	2:16	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	12:54	3:24	6:29

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS.

Miss Allie Saunderson of Brooklyn is visiting friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. George Reed of Lysander are visiting friends in town.

Mrs. T. A. Barker left last week to join her husband in Tenn.

Mrs. Anna Alger of Baldwinsville has been visiting friends in town.

W. C. Crombie of Cortland, spent Sunday in town with his parents.

Mrs. James Judge and daughter of Indiana are visiting friends here.

Miss Mamie Golden of Clinton, N. Y., is a guest of Mrs. Clarence Streeter.

Miss Lucy Fuller left Monday for an extended visit in Tecumseh, Mich.

Mrs. John Bogue and daughter have returned from their visit to Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Landon returned to their home in Schenectady Saturday.

Miss Olive Carter of Lower Oswego Falls is visiting friends in Cazenovia.

Mrs. John Bisnett and daughter, Mrs. Charles Washburn are visiting in Canada.

Miss Hattie and Lottie Royce have returned to their school work in Chicago.

Richard Trumble of Providence, R. I. has been visiting friends in Oswego Falls.

Miss Sarah Cone has returned to her home in this village after a six week's visit to Cortland. Her health is very poor.

Miss Minnie Brown of Kirkville, N. Y., is visiting at Daniel Gilbert's, Oswego Falls.

Charles Lyman, sec'y of the Fulton & Oswego Falls street railroad company, was in town yesterday.

Miss Gertie Bierman and Miss Lelia Church have returned from Utica where they have been spending a few weeks.

Miss Mary Porter of Baldwinsville and Miss Betts of Phœnix called upon a number of Fulton friends yesterday.

Major Joseph Kenyon, who has been spending his vacation with his father S. N. Kenyon, returned to New York on Tuesday.

Miss Nellie Parkhouse and her brother, Joseph Parkhouse, of Chicago, left here last week for a visit to Montreal and Quebec.

Mrs. A. O. Sharpe and daughter, have returned home after an extended sojourn in Massachusetts, Canandaigua, and Watkins.

Mrs. James Nutt returned to her home in Schaghticoke, Monday. She was accompanied by her daughter and Miss Nellie Fairgrieve both of whom will remain there for about two weeks.

Mrs. A. L. Blanchard of New York city passed a few days here last week. Mrs. B. was on her return home from Chautauqua, where she had been instructing a class in painting for the past month.

Mrs. Lizzie Ellis, who has been visiting her sister Mrs. A. W. Stoneburg for a few weeks past, leaves this week for an extended visit to Philadelphia, Boston and Portland before returning to her home in the west.

Girl Wanted.

A girl wanted for general house-work at 52 Third street, apply at once.

Gorton's Gold Band Minstrels.

(From the Baltimore American.)

MASONIC TEMPLE.—The New Orleans Minstrels, an excellent company of burnt-cork artists, opened a week's engagement last night. The "standing-room only" sign was hung out as early as 8 o'clock, and the house was literally jammed from top to bottom. The boxes were all filled and the aisles were overflowing. The performance was good enough to keep the vast audience in a roar all the way through. A feature of the first part was Mr. Frank M. Hayden's tenor song. Mr. George B. Lambson's rendition of "The Old Turnkey" was also quite a hit. In the olio "The Silver Statue Clog," was a feature, and Dillon, Graham, Goodman and West were loudly applauded for their clever sketches. Mr. John Stiles was very funny in an act of the Wilson and Thatcher sort, and received a bouquet from some admirer. The olio was followed by a funny sketch entitled "Buttermilk."

At Stephens' opera house, Saturday evening, Sept. 11.

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the NOVELTY CUSTOM MILL, recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of Weeks & Redhead, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, the subscriber will continue to run all his own [illegible] generally who require any [illegible] grinding done. [illegible]

[illegible] Of course, the fun will come when the Dorset company looks to the Subway Commission for its pay. The state of things hinted at last week don't seem to deter Mr. Crimmins in his undertaking. Nor, indeed, need they, since he looks only to the Dorset company for his pay. Then, too, when the telegraph and telephone companies are compelled to use them, how the legal battle will rage! Already one of the telegraph companies has leased one of the tubes, having a capacity of 150 wires, at a yearly compensation of $5.00 per wire. This is a tidy sum but the company says it is cheaper than their present service. This fact is true that with perfect insulation a wire will practically last forever. Except for an earthquake or other natural convulsion, they are free from the dangers now besetting the wires strung overhead.

These conduits consist of solid blocks of asphaltum combination, pressed into oblong bricks four feet long, two feet thick and one foot wide. Through these blocks are twelve holes about two inches in diameter. These blocks are placed on a cement foundation at a depth of eight feet below the surface of the street, and accurately fitted so that these holes shall form continuous tubes. Through these holes, insulated wires are run. These blocks are placed in two rows and surrounded by brick work. The need of some such system is becoming more apparent each day. Some of the avenues have hundreds of wires running in every direction overhead, and the hindrance they have offered and still offer to our Fire Department in the work of saving burning property amounts to many thousand dollars annually. Nor is this the only objection to the overhead service. The snapping of tall poles and the dropping of the wires of the electric light companies have caused many casualties. The Edison electric light company has in its down town service, used underground wires but this, I think, is the only company so doing. The high intensity of the arc system renders its over head wires exceedingly dangerous in the event of a mishap to the poles. If there was a positive surity that no devil hid it's cloven foot beneath the garb of this scheme the affair would be more commendable to our people. But—There's the rub.

⁂

Six hundred and forty-three thousand dollars. That's a large sum of money, but yet it represents Mrs. Grant's share of the proceed of her husband's book. From a monetary point of view, there was more gained by his death than by his life. But that's a cold hearted way to look at it. What is the mere matter of dollars to the loss of a husband, a father, a nation's greatest general, and the South its best friend! What a pity he did not live to enjoy the proceeds of his book! No book has had the sale of this. No author has received any more than this as the profits of his complete works. Irving received to the time of his death about half a million that was however, from the fact that he was careful to copyright himself in both America and Europe, thus receiving all the profits. Grant, however, sold the copyright to Chas. L. Webster & Co., and received as a royalty of one dollar per volume. Mrs. Southworth has earned about half a million from some fifty works. Howell a quarter of a million from a dozen or so, Roe about as much as Howells, but his books have gone through more editions than Howells'; and because of his ministerial profession, his books are more sought for by Sunday school libraries. The profits of literary work are by no means large. The cases of fortunes are exceptional. Among the many men and women of this city whose living depends on their pens, only a very few are rich.

Fifty dollars a page is about the compensation for a magazine article, and then the author must be a noted man, or if not noted must have something very worthy. The road to literary eminence and profit is a very difficult one. It means years of privation and worry to its travelers. Brains, tack, financeering on the things needful.

⁂

The organized labor societies of this city made a strong effort in the legislature to legalize the first Monday in September as a holiday to be called "Labor Day." Little Senator Reilly, representing as he did the east side wage worker, furthered the measure but it was not successful. The labor societies however, celebrated the Monday of this current week as their labor day. Many employers, especially those recognizing the union in their factories, gave the day. A parade and a picnic were the occupation of the day. Ten thousand working men were in line.

The oldest and most reliable, perhaps, of all the labor societies of this city is the type setters union. Many years ago when "The Tribune" was young and Greeley, McEntire and Ripley were its brains, this union had its beginning. Both Greeley and Weed of the Albany Evening Journal were members. These two men often referred with pride to this connection.

The political action of the combined labor societies this fall; but unless their venality overcomes their orginization, they will be the controling force. This fact the politicians see, and the bid for for their influence in the coming campaign will be large.

⁂

The public conscience is arroused over the increase of moral depravity. The debauchery of the youth is on the increase. The recent unearthing of a nefarious place where young girls were enticed to ruin has startled and alarmed our people. Skating rinks seem to be the places where these unholy alliances were made possible.

The truth of that threadbare remark concerning the purity of the future generation resting with the present [illegible] illustration here. Parents [illegible] their duty to their children and [illegible]

[illegible] received [illegible] the factory and very cheap, at

A. E. NETTLETON'S.

Romany Rye at the opera house to-night.

Watson, the druggist. has issued a time table of the F. & O. F. Street Railway.

The Oswego Falls Juilliard Good Templar Brass Band netted $23 at their recent festival.

"Foot Prints on the Sand"—A. E. Nettleton's advertisement as it appeared on the streets this morning.

The fall term of school in the Emory district opened Monday, September 6, with Miss Etta Sharpe as teacher.

A number of our enterprising merchants are decorating their stores this morning in honor of the veterans.

James Ellis, a loom fixer in the Oswego Falls factory, had his arm badly crushed in one of the looms yesterday.

Almon Bristol desires to express his thanks to the firemen for their prompt and efficient service on last Saturday evening.

Three first-class entertainments coming. The Romany Rye to-night. The Gold Band Minstrels Saturday. The Tourists Monday.

In Bacon's show windows, there is a representation of an encampment. It is beautifully arranged and is attracting considerable attention.

The water works did most effective service at the fire last Saturday evening and averted what might otherwise have been a very disastrous fire.

Worden & Lester have just completed twelve large board signs 4½ by 8 feet, of comic design, for H. & A. Rosenbloom. They are attracting considerable attention.

On and after Friday Sept. 10th, Pullman sleeping cars will run over the N. Y. O. & W. between New York and Oswego, instead of New York and Cape Vincent.

The press in the large cities always have a good word to say of "The Touriste." This play is to be given at the opera house next Monday evening.

Rev. Elmer Jacobs, of Syracuse, will preach in the Universalist church next Sunday, morning and evening. All are invited to attend and hear their former pastor.

The Bee Hive has two artistically arranged show windows one of which represents the interior of a tent in which a soldier is standing and the other a camp fire.

Remember that half fare tickets are sold on the "Phœnix" road to those wishing to attend the fourteenth annual exhibition of the Phœnix Union Agricultural society to be held on Sept. 15, 16, and 17.

According to our Palermo correspondent's report, the base ball representatives of Fulton were almost annihilated in the game at Palermo Saturday. The score at the end of the game stood 28 to 6.

Newton Fuller received a bad injury to his foot last week and has since been confined to his house. He run a nail into it which produced something the nature of blood poisoning. Dr. Lake is attending him.

The 17th annual meeting of the central association of Baptists will be held in the Free Baptist church, Phœnix, Sept. 20-23. Among the subjects discussed are "Church Union" and "Christian Communion." Officers will be elected and reports read.

"Pete" Youngs has been arrested on charge of drunkeness. He also stopped W. W. Wells while crossing the bridge by grabbing his horse by the bits and refusing to let go. The trial was to come off last evening but "Pete" failed to put in an appearance.

A canal boat loaded with coal sank near the east bank of the river Friday night. She had entered the river and started for the factory coal dock on the other side when she sprang a leak and all efforts of the crew could not keep her afloat. The work of transferring the coal to a barge has begun.

All who have accepted THE TIMES' offers and do not promptly receive the paper which they select, will confer a favor by notifying us. A large number have taken advantage of these excellent offers but we are still prepared, for a limited time, to meet the demand. Read the offers carefully and subscribe.

Our Volney correspondent, in speaking of the temperance meetings which were recently held at Mt. Pleasant and the Cone school house, inadvertently spoke of Mrs. John Dunsmore as one of the conductors of the meetings. While Mrs. Dunsmore takes great interest in the temperance work, she had nothing whatever to do with the conducting of the meetings.

On last Wednesday evening a number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Goodjon assembled at their residence, on Buffalo street, to meet the relatives of Mrs. Goodjon who were here on a short visit. The lawn was lighted with Chinese lanterns and presented a fine appearance. The evening was spent in a pleasant manner by all. The party was serenaded by the Fulton Brass Band during the evening.

The Phœnix Register says, that on last Wednesday forenoon Charles Baker, residing near Fulton, attempted to alight from a carriage while driving a mile east of Phœnix, when the horse started throwing him. One leg became entangled in the wheel and the back of his head was thrown [illegible]

Republican Delegates.

The Republican electors of the town of Volney met at Church's Hall last Saturday afternoon and elected the following delegates to represent them at the coming district, assembly and county conventions.

DISTRICT.—Fred Bennett, F. A. Gage, C. R. Nichols, W. J. Pentelow, N. N. Stranahan, Herm. Hulett, Jason Markham, Almon Beardsley, Henry Bowen, W. S. Newton.

ASSEMBLY.—H. S. Gardner, H. H. Kendrick, Freeman Mosher, H. L. Taylor, F. D. Van Wagenen, John W. Distin, L. H. Drake, W. W. Loomis, Virgil Rowlee, A. H. Bradford.

COUNTY.—S. B. Mead, Morgan Van Buren, Z. Austin, N. H. Gilbert, Ambrose Chase, John Hill, E. A. Waugh, J. S. Palmer, A. W. Stoneburgh, A. A. Rowlee, John Moore.

The Candy "Butcher" Escapes.

James Keenan, an attache of Robbins' circus, was arrested in Richfield Springs last Saturday by officer Conley for "fleecing" a farmer named Wait, out of about $2. He was brought here, convicted and fined $35 or 35 days. He remained in jail over Sunday and in the evening requested officer Conley to make a fire for him in his cell as the place was too damp and chilly for his blood. The officer was about to comply with his request when Keenan made a bolt for the door and escaped. No trace of him has been found as yet. It is said that two or three others were victimized on circus day.

Saturday Evening's Fire.

On last Saturday evening, shortly before eight o'clock, fire was discovered in the barn on Third street owned by Almon Bristol. The hose companies quickly responded to the alarm and did good service in saving the other buildings close by.

The horse and carriages were saved, but the barn was burned to the ground and a large quantity of oats, hay and other produce was consumed. The loss is estimated at $700. There was an insurance of $300 on the building and $300 on the contents.

At the Encampment To-Day.

The morning was ushered in at the Fair Grounds by the firing of the Morning Gun and Reveille. Up to today noon the regular program as printed elsewhere was carried out. There are forty tents pitched in the Encampment proper, labeled with the names of the posts to which they belong. President Penfield informs us that there will be no change in the program. All posts to participate in the sham battle have reported and the ammunition has arrived. A large number of veterans are to be found in groups discussing "war times," renewing old acquaintances and preparing for the great event of the Encampment. The sham battle occurs to-morrow.

Do Likewise.

BURLINGTON, IOWA, Sept. 2, 1886.

Publisher FULTON TIMES—Herewith please find New York draft $2.70 for which send Gardner Hungerford, Canton, McPherson Co., Kansas, your paper for one year from expiration of his subscription also the "American Farmer" as per your second offer.

The remaining $1.35 is to pay the undersigned subscription to Nov. 10th, '87, and your first offer of the weekly Detroit Free Press for four months. Please enclose both subscription receipts to me and oblige Yours truly,

H. J. HUNGERFORD.

The above is a sample of a number of letters that we have received during the past week. We like new subscribers but are also pleased to have old ones take advantage of THE TIMES' offers.—[ED.

Marital.

On last Wednesday afternoon Mr. Henry Schuyler of Lyon, N. Y., was united in marriage to Miss Ida Dominick of West Granby at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. Chas Olmstead of Oswego Falls performed the ceremony.

At the Catholic church in this village on last Wednesday evening, Sept. 1, Mr. Andrew Dwyer was united in marriage to Miss Annie Lillie both of Lower Oswego Falls, by the Rev. Father Kearney.

MONEY CAN BE MADE

By Trading in the City.

This fall we have made unusual preparations to meet a big trade, and have laid in car after load of ready made clothing for men, boys and children in suits and overcoats; also a great assortment of hats, caps and men's furnishing goods. Remember one thing; our's is the only house in Onondaga county that sells everything that goes to make up a man or boy's wardrobe except the boots and shoes. That is one reason why we can under sell all other houses. We do not depend on clothing alone for our bread and butter. Our goods are all fresh as we have not been open long enough to accumulate any "chestnuts." Don't fail to call on the Central City Clothing Co., clothiers, hatters and furnishers. 20 East Genesee Street, Syracuse, N. Y. Look for the 4Cs

C. C. C. C.

The Tourists.

This play will be presented at Stephens Opera House next Monday evening admission only 25, 35 and 50 cents. What the N. Y. Telegram of June 28, 1886, says: Appearance of the "Tourists" at the Windsor Theatre—The audience that witnessed the performance of the "Tourists" last night at the Windsor Theatre was large and demonstrative. The spectators laughed from the beginning to the end of the representation. [illegible]

Romany Rye! Romany Rye.

The days are growing shorter.

The County Fair at Mexico begins next Tuesday.

The Hamburger tannery is being greatly enlarged.

Born, on the 7th inst. to Dr. and Mrs. E. Frank Marsh, a son.

Read W. P. Osborne's new advertisement, to be found in another column.

The new Agricultural building on the Fair Ground is completed and ready for use.

A large number of Fultonians attended the band festival at Phœnix Saturday evening.

The picnic given by the Catholic church at the fair ground Saturday, was largely attended.

Five Thomson-Houston lights are on the Fair Ground and ready to be lighted this evening.

The entrance class of the Oswego Normal School is larger this fall than ever before in its history.

S. C. North has placed a large sized Backus motor in the Wilcox meat market on Cayuga street.

District Attorney S. B. Mead is announced to deliver an address to-morrow at the Oswego Town fair.

The street car company have ordered two more cars to be ready by September 20th. In time for the fair.

Syracuse University opens on Monday next for entrance examinations and on the following Thursday for recitations.

The "Phœnix" road opened one year ago yesterday. It now runs four passenger trains each way every day except Sunday.

Rev, Carl H. Stone will again occupy the pulpit at the Presbyterian church next Sunday and probably for two or three subsequent Sundays.

The Sunday train over the "Phœnix" road, which for the past two months, has carried the New York Sunday papers has been discontinued.

A large number of persons were busily engaged last evening in erecting stands for the sale of refreshments, etc., on the Fair Grounds.

M. P. Schenck has erected a permenent building on the Fair Ground in which his cider press is exhibited during the three days encampment.

W. A. Palmer has sold his place in Oswego Falls to Clark Wilder of Salem, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer will visit in the west during the coming winter.

Only ten votes were cast at the Oswego Falls school meeting which re-elected W. D. Edgarton as trustee and made James Carroll collector and D. C. Case, clerk.

The Republican convention for the First Assembly district of Oswego county will be held at Oswego next Saturday. The Second district convention will be held at Pulaski, September 17.

The advertisements of Snow & Loomis, F. E. Bacon, Lewis House, Boston Bazaar, C. R. Nichols, H. & A. Rosenbloom, H. C. Geisler, Bee Hive and G. G. Whitaker appear in the street cars.

The Original New Orleans Minstrels, formerly Haverly's is said to be one of the best minstrel troupes on the road. Be on hand Saturday evening and have a good laugh. Admission, 25, 35 and 50 cents.

J. R. Pierce, district Superintendent of the Empire State Telephone and Telegraph company, has appointed Miss Belle Laugdon manager of the Fulton Telephone Exchange. Miss Langdon's duties began on September 1st.

R. E. Phillips and H. S. Gardner have been re-elected trustees of district No. 2; Wesley McCully trustee of district No. 1, and Edward Breads collector. Thos. Cole is re-lected trustee of Lower Oswego Falls, and D. Edgarton trustee of Upper Oswego Falls.

Remember the great melo-drama, Romany Rye, at the opera house this evening. The play is an unusually good one and is seldom played in other than cities. The advance sale has been large and a great many will be present to enjoy the drama.

The first annual picnic of the moulders of the Howe Stove Company is to be held on the fair grounds next Saturday, The Fulton Brass Band is to furnish music for the occasion. Good speakers will be in attendance. Dancing from 2 till 10 p. m. All are invited. Admission 15 cents.

The Howe Ventilating Stove Works now turn out twenty stoves per day at their manufactory here, sixteen at Peekskill and also some at Cleveland, Ohio. The recent trouble has been settled satisfactorily to both the directors of the works and the moulders.

Shortly after eleven o'clock last Monday night, fire broke out in the one-story wooden house on the flats below Lewis' coal yard, owned and occupied by John Simpson. The household goods were nearly all removed from the building but the house was burned to the ground.

Rev. Father Early conducted services at St. Mary's church Oswego last Sunday. In speaking of the sermon at the close of [illegible] the Times-Register says: "During the course of his remarks the reverend gentleman handled the [illegible]

[illegible] R. W. & O. [illegible] to provide means to carry passengers from the depot and return. Elliot Harroun, then landlord of the original Fulton House, situated where F. E. Bacon's store now is, commenced accommodating the public by putting on the road a cheap, two horse, top carriage, with side doors and cross seats, with a rack on behind for baggage. The route was by way of the now lower bridge, rounding the cape by the store now occupied by Mr. Cronyn, thence by way of First street, Oswego Falls, to the R. R.

Marvin Cox was the "Gehu" but soon bought Harroun out, and in a few years put the first regular omnibus (The Lady) on the route with a wagon to carry baggage. A few years subsequent J. V. Boomer became associated with Cox, when 'bus No. 2 was put on the line, the travel having become to great for one. Mr. Boomer subsequently sold out his interest to Titus of Hannibal, whom Cox afterward bought, thus becoming sole proprietor again. Subsequently the line was run by Mr. Hatch, and later by Leonard & Wilson, and lastly by Wilson.

To say that those 'busses have been a great help to the people of Fulton, is putting it mildly. But their misson in Fulton is ended and they give place to the more modern medium the street car, the same as the packet gave way to the steam car, as oil has given away to gas, and as gas is giving away to electricity. We hail those improvements with mingled joy and sorrow and are lead to exclaim—Farewell 'Busses, we part in sadness, being thus reminded reminded that our time to depart and give place to others cometh quickly.—[Oswego Falls Observer.

Union School No. 2.

The following is the report of No. 2, school for the past year:

RECEIPTS.
On hand Aug 21 1885,	$ 598.99
Public school money,	1,867.69
Raised by taxation,	4,506.85
Non-resident tuition,	1,256.45
Literature fund,	288.93
Total	$8,518.41
PAYMENTS.
Teachers' wages	5,587.00
Library books,	87.10
Maps, etc.	22.55
Repairs and furniture,	509.48
Fuel,	381.50
Cleaning school houses,	50.63
Janitor,	549.97
Clerk,	100.00
Incidentals,	292.15
On hand Aug. 20, 1886,	988.03
Total,	$8,518.41
APPROPRIATION.
Teachers wages,	3,000
Fuel,	290
Janitors,	500
Insurance,	225
Repairs to buildings,	200
Clerk,	100
Bal. on heating and ventilating,	900
Incidentals,	200
Cleaning,	50
Total,	$5,465

Teacher's Examinations.

Examinations for the fall term of school in this district will be held as follows: Oswego at Normal school, Wednesday, Sept. 8; Fulton school house district No. 2, Saturday, Sept. 11; New Haven, Thursday, Sept. 16; Hannibal, Saturday, Sept. 18. Examinations must begin promptly at 9 a. m.

D. D. METCALF. Com'r.

NORTH HANNIBAL, Aug 30, 1886.

Teacher's examinations will be held in the second and third commissioner's district as follows: Palermo Centre, September 13; Sand Bank, September 14; West Amboy, September 15; Sandy Creek, September 16; West Monroe, September 17; Pulaski, September 18; Cleveland, September 20; Mexico, September 21; Pennellville, September 22; Orwell, September 23; Central Square, September 24; Williamstown, September 25; Parish, September 27; Redfield, September 28.

All teachers holding no higher grade license than a third will be expected to bring their Regents preliminary certificate with them to the examinations.

LOST—On Monday night, at fire, a flat Iron Key—marked Sargent & Greenlief, Rochester, N. Y., No. 551. A suitable reward will be paid when left at this office.

Vienna Bakery.

There is always in stock at the Vienna Bakery the largest, freshest and finest assortment of confectionery, foreign and domestic fruits, to be found in Fulton. Confectionery from 12 cents upward. A fresh supply of crackers, bread and cake constantly on hand. Call and examine my stock. JOHN BARKER,

18tf 26 First st.

Stephens Opera House,
Wednesday Ev'ng, Aug. 8.
H. HOWARD, MANAGER.
Romany Rye,
Produced on a scale of Unparalled Grandeur the Peerless Drama,
UNDER THE MANAGEMENT OF
LEHNEN AND VICTORY BATEMAN!
—AS——GERTIE BECKETT—
SUPPORTED BY A POWERFUL CAST.
Superb Scenery!
THRILLING TRANSFORMATIONS!
Elegant Effects!
THE GIPSY CAMP!
[illegible] RACE COURSE!
[illegible]

STILL A FEW MORE

Lots of Light Weight Suits for Men and Boys to be closed out at about half value, also another of Neckwear and of Fancy Hose at about your own price.

Remember we are giving away Fair Tickets with every sale of $2 or over.

PEEBLES & COOK

Opposite Opera House.

Sam. Jones said he saw a man who said he saw a man, that saw a man, who knew a man, that saw a man, whose wife said her daughter saw a lady, who saw a lady that knew a lady, whose husband saw a man that know a man who saw a man that said the right place to buy Dry Goods or Clothing is at

H. & A. Rosenbloom's
Double Mammoth Stores.

This was a long time ago; everybody knows it now.

THE TIMES' OFFERS!

$1.25 will give you one year's Subsctiption to THE TIMES and Four months Subscription to the

DETROIT FREE PRESS,

The most original, piquant and entertaining of American Newspapers. $1.25 will also give you one year's Subscription to

THE FULTON TIMES

and one year's Subscription to the

AMERICAN FARMER,

A Sixteen page Agricultural Magazine, which is rapidly taking rank as one of the leading Agricultural Publications of this country. The same offers to old Subscribers who pay subscription to date and one year in advance.

SUBSCRIBE! SUBSCRIBE.

People
who have traveled and claim to be posted say that Fulton is the cheapest place in the country
to buy

CLOTHING

—AND THAT—

D. C. MORE & CO.

The Reliable One Price Dealers

are the parties to buy of.

GO
see the BARGAINS
they are offering to close out
SUMMER STOCK.

[illegible] crop should not be neglected.

The second crop, or aftermath, of timothy does not grow very tall, and is sometimes not worth cutting. It is excellent for turning under as a green manurial crop and also makes extra fine pasturage. Timothy is not as easily thrown up by frost as clover and usually endures the winter well.

The good start that the calf had on milk in the first few weeks must be kept at least through the first year, if the animal is to have full development. The first winter is the trying time, but it requires only liberal food and comfortable quarters to maintain steady growth. Anything short is sure to be loss.

A New England dairyman states that he has fed green rye to his cows for three seasons, and the improvement in the quality of milk, cream and butter was very marked. He used no coloring for his butter, and finds the green rye better than many other kinds of grass. Considering that rye is a crop that grows very well on nearly all kinds of soil this is very encouraging.

Besides tilling carefully and thoroughly the young apple trees, rubbing off surplus shoots, etc., keen observation as to caterpillars will avoid the enfeeblement of any otherwise good trees. Rob any tree of its foliage during the growing season by any process, and the tree is greatly reduced in vitality thereby.

Cultivate the corn as long as it can be done. It is a crop that should be plowed down deep before the seed is planted, but frequent and shallow cultivation should be given while it is growing. The surface of the ground alone should be stirred, and the oftener it is mellowed and loosened the better for the crop.

Home Comforts on the Farm.

The general supposition is that those who live in the country enjoy luxuries beyond the provinces of those who live in the cities. True, but the farmer has an advantage in many respects, such as the ability to secure that which is fresh and palatable as compared with his city brother. His milk is unadulterated, the butter used on his table is sweet and pure, the eggs are new, and the vegetables are daily gathered as required.

But we allude to the comforts and enjoyments that the farmer should possess. What are the facts? Do farmers really enjoy the luxuries to be obtained on the farm? Do farmers' wives enjoy life equally as well as those ladies who live in the cities? We fear not. How many farmers know the importance of a garden? But a very small proportion, we may claim. They deny themselves many luxuries that they could easily have if they would. Hundreds of them live on a sameness of food that would be rejected by persons living in cities, and yet it is the farmer to whom all are indebted for many of the comforts that are enjoyed. With the farmer it is work from early dawn to sunset, and every member of his family must share some portion of the tedious labor. The farmers' wives grow prematurely old, and the younger generation have a dislike to the occupation which is, above all, the best that could be followed.

Can we suggest a remedy for the amelioration of the conditions of farmers families? We do not lay claim to that honor, but we can suggest a better method of conducting farm operations so as to render farm life enjoyable. In the first place give the wife a choice location for a garden, and work it under her direction. Let it be well stocked with all the choicest varieties of small fruits and vegetables. Give her something to anticipate, to hope for, to realize and to enjoy. Let her be interested in a manner that the care and attention she is to bestow will be a source of pleasure. Give the young members an interest in some department, from which they may expect to derive a pecuniary benefit, and in which the labor required will be performed with pleasure. Let the farmer resolve to first produce all those things that will add to his own comfort before he sells a dollar's worth of produce. The choicest beef, the freshest eggs, should be used at home. Variety is the spice of life even on the farm.—[Farm, Field and Stockman.

Trimming Apple Trees.

The present is a good time for looking after the apple trees that were grafted last spring. The scions which have grown fast and are tender should be checked by cutting off their ends, so that the wood may ripen and not be winter killed. Cut away the native limbs slowly, so as not to cause too great a shock to the tree. It is not generally safe to cut limbs closely at first, but to cut them off one foot or more from the body at first. Then let them sprout and grow the next season. If they sprout and grow very fast then let them grow the following year until the leaves fall; break the sprouts from the stubs and limbs; let them grow another year, then cut them off smooth.—[American Cultivator.

Seed Wheat.

The 15th to the 30th of September is the time fall wheat is usually sown. It is well to change the seed every year, certainly every two years. The best varieties of winter wheat are the Fultz, the Diehl-Mediterranean and Michigan Amber. A new kind, called "Nigger" wheat, is very highly commended in some of the northern states. It is said to yield abundantly and to make beautiful flour. "Nigger" wheat is bearded, has a white chaff and stiff straw, and stands up well; the berry is very large and of a dark color. It is exceedingly hard.

In many localities Hood's Sarsaparilla [illegible]

[illegible] studies [illegible]. [illegible] Central Park [illegible] the cows low, and the monkeys chatter and the sheep wiggle-waggle their little tails, while the robins jump red-breasted here and there, and squirrels and chipmunks and wild cats startled from their resting places, leap across the path skirting the carriage-way, burying themselves in the grass or mounting with lightning speed the bark of some magnificent tree. Come, I say, and see to what extreme idiotic degree fashion tempts its votaries. Standing near the Mall, my attention was attracted to a pair of prancing bays, sturdily coming down the road, drawing a superb landau, in which sat two ladies—oh, how black, how sombre, how dismal, from the onyx tip of their black lace parasols, through hot, thick veil and heavy draped mourning costume! The coachman and the footman on the box; my eyes! —but they were a sight, wide mourning bands upon their hats, black gloves upon their hands and the wide tops of their professional boots absolutely covered with crape, while on the long, tapering handle of the whip stood forth an invitation to the gaping crowd to see how bad the mourners felt. A huge black rosette, whose long heavy ends fluttered in the breeze as the horses champed their bits and waved their tails and darted down the drive. Of all the idiotic displays, of all temptations to ridicule, of all provocatives to what our reportorial friends call derisive laughter, that picture caps the climax.

A Scrap from Prentice Mulford About Writers.

Able and interesting writers are increasing at a rate alarming to those long in the profession. "Everybody" now writes and almost everybody writes well. New literary stars of second and third class magnitudes are constantly appearing on the horizon. A new constellation rises, sets and starves about once in seven years. The average pay on newspapers may be $12 per week. When the literary horse is worked out he or she goes off in a corner and dies quietly and miserably. Of late people's writings are most valued who have done something worthy of note and can tell of it. An ex-Confederate or Union general who tells his story in a magazine probably gets as much for it as the mere Bohemian receives for half a year's work telling other people's stories. An article from Jay Gould or John L. Sullivan would bring the average Bohemian's yearly salary. This is as it should be. People want that those who have done something should tell themselves how they did it. The mere writer who can do nothing but write is really now a mediæval institution. Besides the profession, as connected with newspapers, is not respectable. To be known as a "newspaper man" or "correspondent" is to be practicably tabooed in fashionable and business circles. "A "newspaper feller," male or female, is regarded as a sort of spy or eavesdropper, ready to pounce on any bit of gossip, real, manufactured or inferred, and sell it for a price. Of course, the public wants the gossip, still they are disposed to regard its collectors as safe only when they are poaching in other people's preserves. These observations are intended only for the latitude of Boston.

Railroads of the United States.

The introduction of Poor's Manual for 1886 contains very full information concerning the construction, operation and earnings of railroads in the United States during the year 1885. There were 3,131.40 miles constructed against 3,973.71 miles in 1884, 6,818.72 miles in 1783 and 11,509.32 in 1882. The total mileage of the whole country at the close of the year was 128,967, an increase of .024 per cent. In the State of New York the construction was 57.06 miles against 10.91 in 1884, 357.86 in 1883 and 731.37 in 1882. There were 3 miles constructed in Vermont against 5.08 in 1884, 12 in 1884 and 9 in 1882. In Massachusetts the construction was 12.54 miles against 13.84 in 1884, 15.44 in 1883 and 8.30 in 1882. The mileage not including elevated roads, for which returns of earnings and traffic operations have been received equalled 123,110 against 113,173 for 1884.

The share capital of these roads, including the elevated roads, was $3,817,697,832 against $3,752,616,686 for 1884 The amount of share capital and indebtedness of all the roads in 1885 was $7,842,533,179, an increase of $166,134,125 over 1884. The earnings of all the roads making returns including the elevated roads, equalled $772,568,833,925. The net earnings were $269,593,931. The gross earnings upon capital invested were nearly 10 per cent. and the net earnings nearly 3.5 per cent. There was an increase of tonnage moved of about 10 per cent. over 1884, the total being 437,040,099 tons in 1885 against 399,073,749 tons the previous year. The average charge for moving a ton one mile in 1883 was 1.057 cents against 1.124 cents in 1884.

The Memoirs of Gen Fremont.

"The Memoirs of Gen. John C. Fremont," which is now preparing for the press, will comprise ten large octavos of over 600 each and promises to be intensely interesting. The book is a joint production, although "Jessie Benton Fremont" appears as the author. The general, with a great array of documents, journals and memoranda, many of them yellow with age, dictates, or rather narrates, and Mrs. Fremont writes. Beginning in the early morning, the general and his wife are at work until the middle of the afternoon. During these hours no friend intrudes. At 4 o'clock they go out and drive, returning to dine at 6. The evening is spent in social conversation. Not later than 10 they retire, [illegible]

[illegible]

Unknown to Others!

[illegible] Hood's Sarsaparilla [illegible] medicine [illegible] salt rheum, or any disease of the blood, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, or kidney and liver complaints, catarrh or rheumatism, do not fail to try

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all my friends as the best blood purifier on earth." WM. GAFF, druggist, Hamilton, O.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured me of scrofulous humor, and done me worlds of good otherwise." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

A book containing many additional statements of cures will be sent to all who desire.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

Mrs. Hancock occupies a warm corner in the hearts of the soldier boys of the country. Already the fund for her benefit has reached $46,896.50.

It is estimated that there are one hundred thousand sufferers from hay fever in the United States; a number about four times greater than the regular standing army. This number could be reduced to a mere regiment if all would resort to Ely's Cream Balm. 15w4

Arrangements are being made for the publication of a paper by the woman suffragists of Des Moines.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guaranteed. 27eow

About 25,000 cattle will be driven into the Canadian Northwest from the United States this season.

If bilious, or suffering from impurity of the blood, or weak lungs, and fear of consumption (scrofulous disease of the lungs) take Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," and it will cure you. By druggists.

The New York state hop pickers are to be superseded by a newly invented hop-picking machine.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

A Chinamen in Chico, California, has a big black bear which he straddles and rides like a horse.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

Nearly three-forths of the imitation butter made in this country comes from Chicago, where last year about 25,000,000 pounds were made.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

As a remedy for Pulmonary Afflictions and Scrofulous Diseases.

Dr. IRA M. LANG—a prominent physician in New York, says:—I am greatly pleased with your Emulsion. Have found it very serviceable in above diseases, and it is easily administered on account of its palatableness. 11w4

President Grevy, it is rumored, will soon retire from French politics, on account of failing health. He has entered his 80th year.

Daughters, Wives and Mothers.

Send for Pamphlet on Female Diseases mailed free, securely sealed. Dr. J. B Marchisi, Utica, N. Y. 20tf.

Of the 4,600 men who went on a strike on the Gould system of railroads in Missouri, it is said that only 200 have been re-employed.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

100 DOSES ONE DOLLAR

Is inseparably connected with Hood's Sarsaparilla, and is true of no other medicine. It is an unanswerable argument as to strength and economy, while thousands testify to its superior blood-purifying and strengthening qualities. A bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla contains 300 doses and will last a month, while others will average to last not over a week. Hence, for economy, buy only Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mrs. Cleveland sat sixty times for her Washington photographer.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. [illegible] 8y1

[illegible]

[illegible]

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St. the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

☞ Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

—COAL.—

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St, New York. Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF PURE COD LIVER OIL And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANÆMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest, [illegible], Best.

[illegible]

[illegible] Kaskine [illegible]

In [illegible] Hospital, N. Y. "Universally successful."

In St. Francis Hospital, N. Y. "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Dr. L. R. White, U. S. Examining Surgeon, says: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Gleesner, has cured over 250 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says: "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, M. D., says: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

IS THE ONLY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD THAT DESTROYS THE GERMS OF DISEASE IN THE BLOOD, and permanently cures all diseases arising therefrom, such as Malaria, Fevers, Rheumatism, Billiousness, &c., and IS THE GRANDEST TONIC EVER DISCOVERED. Removes nervous prostration and premature decay by disinfecting the blood, so that the starving nerves are supplied with life giving nourishment, bringing back the VIGOR AND POWER OF YOUTH.

Send for the great list of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine.

Price $1 per bottle. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price. Agents wanted everywhere.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., New York.

For Sale by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y.

Monte Carlo.

Monte Carlo is the great gambling place in Europe. Here one may play as high or low as they please and do it legally. Everything is wonderfully elegant and even palatial. The place is visited by thousands of very wealthy people, nearly all of whom lay their princely offerings on the altar of the gilded fiend of chance. Such is the facination of Monte Carlo's gambling that once in the whirlpool one does not care to get out, and the awakening comes only when they reach for more to hazard and find they are penniless. Without money to play, without even a penny to buy bread, the poor victim sometimes goes away into the shrubbery which adorns the parks in and about the place, or to the hotel apartments and dies by the bullet or poison. The last death of this sort reported is that of a foreign lady. She had gambled away $60,000 —her entire fortune—and dreading to meet life as a poor woman, she went out into the darkness a ruined woman. This sad case makes the seventy-sixth suicide this season, directly caused by gambling at Monte Carlo. Truly it must be a veritable hell upon earth.

Five men were killed and several badly injured in a colliery explosion at Scranton, Pa., last Monday.

The Deserted Room at the White House.

Our readers are cautioned about buying medicines which are not endorsed by some well known druggist. H. C Gisler, has made a thorough study of Blood diseases, and after a careful investigation, and many practical tests, positively asserts that Acker's Blood Elixir will cure all blood disorders, ridding the system of its impurities, and leaving it strong, vigorous and healthy. he will warrent it. It is a certain cure or all skin diseases. 27eow

White woodchucks have been seen this summer in Redding township, Ind.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Cough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

It is said that Jay Gould will soon make his son George president of one of the big corporations he controls.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Oinimẹnt emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

The widow of Professor Gudden of Munich, who perished with Bravaria's mad King, has been granted a gratuity of $50,000.

AN END TO BONE SCRAPING.

Edward Shepherd of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well." Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c. per box by R. E. Phillips.

The state of California is printing the new state school text books, which will cost 50 per cent less than the books now in use.

A PURE AND RELIABLE MEDICINE.—A compound fluid extract of roots, leaves, barks and berries is burdock, Blood Bitters. They cure all diseases of the blood, liver and kidneys.

GOOD RESULTS IN EVERY CASE.

D. A. Bradford, wholesale paper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes that he was seriously afflicted with a severe cold that settled on his lungs; had tried many remedies without benefit. Being induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, did so and was entirely cured by use of a few bottles. Since which time he has used it in his family for all Coughs and Colds with best results. This is the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this Wonderful Discovery. Trial Bottles free at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

William K. is the only one of William H. Vanderbilt's sons who can manage to spend the income of his inheritance.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY, ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

[illegible] the best power."—[Harper's Magazine.

The brave deserve the fair. They are something alike. One faces powder in war, the other powders her face in peace.—[Macon Telegraph.

"What would be a good name for an Anarchist's wife?" asked the snake editor. "Don't know; what would?" asked the horse editor. "Well, I think Dinah might."—[Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

It is about time for back settlement tourists to open the front shutters about one inch.—[New York Journal.

Ellen Terry says of America that "the dear country grows on me." Try soap and water.—[New Orleans Picayune.

"I am in very reduced circumstances. Won't you help me out?" asked a seedy looking individual of the editor. "Certainly, as, without dropping the shears or removing the pencil from the mucilage pot, he grabbed the seedy looking individual by the seat of his pants and lifted him through the door.—[Burlington Free Press.

During an affray in a Texas town a man was shot and very badly wounded. Sympathizing friends raised the fainting man. "Take him to the drug store,' suggested somebody. Slowly the wounded man opened his eyes and whispered faintly: "What's the matter with the saloon?'—[Texas Siftings.

"Do you realize, sir," said the long haired passenger, "that there is one who sees and hears all we do, who can solve our inmost thoughts, and before whom we are crushed and bruised worms?" Give us your hand stranger," replied the other. "I know just how you feel. I'm married myself."—[New York Sun.

Fish is good brain food, except in instances when it doesn't find anything to assimilate with. — [Burlington Free Press.

Tramp—"Say, you'll give a feller a lief to sleep in your barn won't ye boss?" Poetic Farmer—"What! when you can find a bed neath the canopy of heaven and can fall to sweet repose with starry watchers? No, sir, never." Tramp—I have tried that canopy business a good while, boss, but yer see it's goin' ter rain like thunder to-night, and I hate ter get my Prince Albert wet.—[Tid Bits.

The Niagara Whirlpool.

The whirlpool, well called is "the angriest bit of water in the world," three miles below the great Falls of Niagara. At this point the river, bending toward the Canada side, is contracted to a width of about 220 feet. The waters rush violently into a deep depression in the steep cliff that rises on the Canada side, then they emerge, turning back almost at a right angle to the American side. The spot seems to be a portion of the bed of an an ancient channel. Here the the angry waters boil and churn with a fierceness almost incredible. The waves are never at rest. They toss and whirl and toy with the heaviest timber. It makes one dizzy to look at the fierce tumult of the waves.

The great maelstrom covers the space of about a quarter of a mile square. Its depths are enormous and unknown. One thousand feet of cord was found too short to reach the bottom. The whirlpool is in the form of a large circle. The average force of the volume of water moving through the canyon above is about 185,000 feet square. This compact mass of water moves with incredible swiftness, entering the whirlpool on one side, spinning round like a top and then passing madly on.

The Secret of Success.

Here is the secret of success done up in a small parcel: Look most to your spending. No matter what comes in if more goes out you will always be poor. The art does not consist in making money but in keeping it. Little expenses like mice in a barn, when they are many make great waste. Hair by hair, the head gets bald; straw be straw the thatch gets off the cottage; drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber. A barrel is soon empty if the tap leaks but a drop a minute. When you mean to save begin with your mouth; there are many thieves down the red lane. The ale-jug is a great waste. In all things keep within compass. In clothes choose suitable and lasting stuff and no tawdry fineries. To be warm is the main thing. Never stretch your legs further than the blankets will reach, or you will soon be cold. A fool may make money but it needs a wise man to spend it. Remember, it is easier to build two chimneys than to keep one going. If you give all to back and board there is nothing left for the savings bank. Fare hard and work while you are young, and you will have a chance to rest when you are old.

In the Temple of Justice.

Attorney—"Now, then, sir, did you or did you not threaten to kill the plaintiff?"

Witness—"I did——"

Attorney—"That will do. The jury will notice the admission."

Witness—"But I haven't finished. I was about to say that I did——"

Attorney—"Quite right to confess it. You may step down."

Witness—"Your Honor, I insist upon my right to finish the sentence."

Judge—"Go ahead."

Witness—"I did—not.—[Philadelphia Call.

The Right Man Found.

Cowboy—"Hain't yer got no job for a feller like me?"

Dakota Editor—"What kind of a job?"

"Anything. I'm not particular, so it ain't punchin' cows. I'm tired of that."

"Can you handle a goose twice your [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] which is now having an enormous sale throughout the United States and Canada.

SCRANTON, PA. During the past two years I have sold bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for sprains, bruises, cuts, burns and rheumatism. It always cures.—M. L. Blair, [illegible] Ward, Nov. 9, [illegible].

GRAYVILLE, ILL. In cases of Croup, Thomas' Eclectric Oil never fails to cure. It cured me of a very bad Ulcerated Sore Throat.—C. R. Hall, Grayville, Ill.

LOWELL, MASS. I was badly afflicted with Bronchitis and an affection of the throat. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil cured me.—Oliver J. [illegible], 25 East Merrimack Street.

DAVENPORT, IOWA. As a remedy for Catarrh Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil stands at the top. It cured me, and I believe will cure any case. Edw. S. Rowley, [illegible] West 12th Street.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

BLUE PILLS

Don't Wait!

Your Kidneys are out of order Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately! Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or high-colored?

Sulphur Bitters!

Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is

The Invalid's Friend.

The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

IT IS Dangerous!

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

Golden Medical Discovery.

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 981 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y

WANTED—I want you to do parlor work for me at your own home; plenty work; good pay; $1 per piece; all materials free. A. LOVE, CLEVELAND, O.

Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St. N.Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ASTHMA AND CATARRH. Dr. H. W. Reed's Celebrated Asthma and Catarrh Relief, the most effectual and sure cure yet discovered. Samples sent free to all who ask. Fifty cent and dollar boxes sent by mail. A. ETHRIDGE, Proprietor, Rome, N. Y.

DYSPEPSIA.—its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure By JOHN H. MCALVIN, Lowell, Mass., 14 years tax collector. Sent free to any address.

MOTH-WAX

KILLS THE MOTH

and the old Moth Miller. Sample cake by mail 6 cents. W. H. H. CHILDS, 73 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

FRENCH'S HOTEL.

CITY HALL SQUARE, NEW YORK,

Opposite City Hall and the Post Office.

This Hotel is one of the most complete in its appointments and furniture of ANY HOUSE in New York City and is conducted on the European Plan.

Rooms only One Dollar per day. Half minute's walk from Brooklyn Bridge and Elevated R. R. All lines of cars pass the door. Most convenient Hotel in New York for Merchants to stop at. Dining Rooms, Cafes and Lunch Counter replete with all the luxuries at moderate prices. 8y1

WRITE TO N. A. MILLER, Elmira, N. Y. President of the Elmira School of Commerce and ALLEN BUSINESS COLLEGE, for a catalogue of the Leading Business Training Institution of America. Gold Prize $50.

3,000 AGENTS WANTED for the NEW WORK.

GLADSTONE—PARNELL AND THE GREAT IRISH STRUGGLE.

By the eminent author, HON. T. P. O'CONNOR, M. P. for Liverpool, and R. M. MCWADE, Esq. Endorsed by HON. C. S. PARNELL. A thrilling history of Irish oppression and the mighty struggle for Home Rule that is rocking the British Empire to its centre; also Biographies of the leaders. An entirely new work from high authority, of all absorbing interest, richly illustrated, and an immense demand. ☞ Apply quickly to W. A. HOUGHTON & CO., 12 East 14th St., New York.

Are You Consumptive.

Have you Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion? Use Parker's Tonic without delay. It has cured many of the worst cases. Do you suffer from pains in the chest, back or limbs? Have you symptoms of trouble with your Stomach, Liver or Kidneys? Neglect of these [illegible] leads to the breaking down of the vital powers. Parker's Tonic is the best remedy. Often saves life. Cures when everything else fails. Gives new life and strength to the aged and infirm.

[illegible]

[illegible]

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of [illegible], Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the [illegible] day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 12th, 1886.

CAROLINE L. ALFRED, Administratrix.

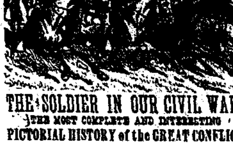
NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886.

LUCY K. HUBBARD, Executrix.

Agents Wanted for the Great War Book Just Published, entitled



THE SOLDIER IN OUR CIVIL WAR, THE MOST COMPLETE AND INTERESTING PICTORIAL HISTORY of the GREAT CONFLICT

Containing 100 MAMMOTH BATTLE SCENES, each 14¼ x 20 inches; 400 FULL-PAGE ILLUSTRATIONS, 9½ x 14¼ inches; AND UPWARDS OF 500 PORTRAITS, MAPS, AND BATTLE SCENES, By the great War Artists, Forbes, Waud, Taylor, Becker, Lovie, Schell, Crane, and others.

These Engravings were produced at a cost of over $190,000. The book gives a complete epitome of the Battles, Sieges, and Strategic Movements of the opposing armies, based upon the best authority, northern and southern, making an accumulation of reliable and unbiased historical facts not possible to be obtained in any of the histories written during the progress of or since the War.

The work is carefully edited from data obtained from the most authentic authorities, and the descriptions of battles, incidents, and historical facts, are furnished by the leading Soldiers of both armies and includes biographies of the most notable Generals and Commanders.

A complete Chronological List of every skirmish, engagement, battle, and all important events, from the Election of Lincoln to the Grand Review at Washington.

Published in (2) magnificent volumes, size 12x17 inches, nearly 1,000 pages. Price, complete, $16 00.

I want One Agent in every Grand Army Post, town and county. ☞ Any person, with this book, can become a successful Agent. Full instructions to new beginners. For terms to agents, address

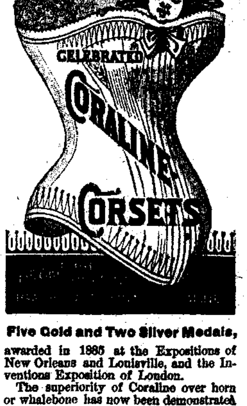
G.W. DILLINGHAM, Publisher, New York.

Successor to G. W. CARLETON & Co.



Five Gold and Two Silver Medals,

awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.

The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks.

Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "DR. WARNER'S CORALINE" is printed on inside of steel cover.

FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING MERCHANTS.

WARNER BROTHERS,

353 Broadway, New York City

ADVERTISERS or others, who wish to examine this paper, or obtain estimates on advertising space when in Chicago, will find it on file at 45 to 49 Randolph St., the Advertising Agency of LORD & THOMAS.

DO NO MORE WHITEWASHING NOT WHEN

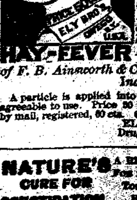
PLASTIC PAINT

Can be had so cheap. Send for pamphlet and color card, and learn its merits.

MAXWELL HAZLETT & CO.

100 McElderry's Wharf, Baltimore, Md., an 600 Washington Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

CATARRH



HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM was recommended to me for HAY FEVER I have found it a specific for that dreaded disease. For ten years I have been a great sufferer. Cream Balm is the only preventive I have ever found.—F. B. Ainsworth, of F. B. Ainsworth & Co., Pubs., Indianapolis, Ind.

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. Circulars free. ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

NATURE'S CURE FOR CONSTIPATION,

A RELIABLE REMEDY For Sour Stomach, Torpid Liver, Billious Headache, Costiveness, [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]TEENTH YEAR. [illegible] VOLUME 19—NUMBER [illegible]

[illegible]1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., [illegible], SEPTEMBER 15, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents.

Tammie's Granny.

When Tammie Totum ruled the house
An' a' the nicknacks in it,
You couldn't get him tae be douce
Or sit at rest a minit.
He'd try tae rin, an' wi' a bang
He tumble ower his granny.
Quo' she, "Aye creep afore ye gang;
Ye'll find that's best, my mannie."

When Tammie grew tae be a man,
An' had his bread to earn aye,
He aften floundered when he ran
Like when he was a bairnie.
Puir granny sung the same auld sang
When Tammie got a thumpin':
"Laddie, aye creep afore ye gang,
An' save yersel' frae bumpin."

Tae take sic lessons' nae disgrace
Tae you or I, auld cronie:
This warl' is but an orra place,
An' set wi quagmires mony.
An' some, I ken, micht tak' a whang
O' granny's kindly saying—
Creepin' at first, afore they gang—
Thinkin' on what they're daeing.

Some folks rin heidlang tae the mire,
An' syne cry out they're sinkin'.
Losh me! burnt brains should dreed the fire—
I wonder what they're thinkin'.
This is the way tae work yer plan:
Aye tak' life's dirdrum canny;
Just creep afore ye gang, my man,
An' think on Tammie's granny.

BLUE EYES AND GOLLEN HAIR.

THE evening light fell very tenderly on two girlish faces, showing how very unlike they were, yet both so very lovely.

Beatrice Lane, with her "nut-brown locks," and fresh, young face, on which the sun and wind had left a healthy color, made a very pretty picture, standing at the gate, her brown eyes sparkling with life, her red lips smiling, her dimpled hands full of golden-headed daisies.

Her companion—the fair city cousin who was spending the summer at the farm—was strikingly unlike the country-bred-girl to whose eyes she looked so very fair.

From the crown of her golden-crowned head to the toe of her dainty foot, Ione Lawsen was perfect, in a delicate, blonde way. Her hair was the purest gold, her eyes the most heavenly blue, her cheeks the daintiest rose-leaf tint, her lips the purest crimson, her form willowy as a reed, her every movement grace itself.

And yet there was a certain light in the dark eyes of Beatrice which the blue ones of her cousin lacked. A certain unconscious sweetness on her red lips, for which one would look vainly on those of the fair, composed ones of Ione.

Different in garbs, different in appearance, different in training, she stood chatting at the gate as the last red flashes of the setting sun fell tenderly upon them.

"You like your new neighbor, Beatrice?" Ione asked, without the slightest ripple of interest in her cultivated tones, although her blue eyes turned, for the briefest possible space, to the face of the farmer's daughter, over which a faint flush flitted.

"He is so courteous, so kind and friendly," Beatrix answered; "how could we do otherwise? And he is so handsome! I never saw so noble a face, Ione."

The fair beauty smiled as she pinned a white rosebud in her golden hair; and the smile somehow made Beatrix uncomfortable.

"Handsome? Yes, in a proud, haughty way!" Ione said, evenly; but do not lose your heart there, my little cousin, unless you would wear the willow; that of Leon Vincent has not been his own for nearly three years."

A deep scarlet mounted to the brow of Beatrice, but instantly receded, while her brown eyes took an unusually proud light as she lifted them to the face of her cousin.

"Thanks for the warning, however unnecessary," she said; "but I did not know, when I introduced you to him last night, that Leon Vincent was not a stranger to you."

The city-bred girl gave a low, musical laugh.

"No," she said, quietly; you did not know, did not dream that I rejected him three years ago."

"Rejected him!" in incredulous surprise, but with a sudden pallor on the pretty, girlish cheek.

"Yes; you see, he was only a barrister then, without any too many briefs, no money to speak of, and nobody could foresee that his uncle and cousin would both die within three years and leave him master of so much; so, because I was not willing to become the wife of a poor man, I rejected him; now things are very different."

"How you must have loved him!" Beatrice exclaimed, with fine irony, "to give him up because he was poor! Was not the love of such a man as Leon Vincent worth more to you than gold?"

Again, the low, slow laugh, soft and sweet as a strain of music, floated forth on the evening air.

"You foolish child!" Ione said lightly. "As if the love of any man were of as much account as the position he can offer one. You will see these things more clearly as you grow older. But I warn you, let no hope of yours fold itself about your handsome neighbor—he is mine.

"They may make who have the power,
And they may keep who can."

Beatrice laughed [illegible]. "I don't [illegible] I'll be found [illegible] your rivals, [illegible] me now on his seeming regard; I have amused him by my credulity, my folly! But Oh, I could have loved him so! could have held his love as more than the crown of a king. Ah, how foolish I am."

Yet when Leon Vincent went up the pretty walk half an hour later, accompanied by the fair, dainty blonde, Beatrice greeted him with a smile so frankly careless, so unconstructed, that none would ever dream that she held him higher than a careless friend. But she soon made an excuse to leave him with her cousin, and did not appear again until she met him in the hall as she was leaving; and Ione was with him, her white hand on his arm, her beautiful lips full of smiles, as she told her cousin she would walk with Mr. Vincent to the gate.

And so matters continued until at length Beatrice made no excuse, but kept entirely aloof when the young man came to the farm, leaving him wholly to Ione, who seemed to claim him as her own, and even spoke of him to her cousin, by his first name, in a calm tone of proprietorship.

It was four weeks since that evening when the two girls had stood at the gate, watching the setting sun, and talking of Leon Vincent; and Ione was in the house, trying a piece of music she had received from the city that morning, and which she intended to sing when he came; for it was an accepted thing that he should come to the farm every evening, and that she should entertain him.

The sweet voice, lifted in song, reached Beatrice as she stood among her roses at the gates, and her young heart was very heavy with unsatisfied yearning and wounded love; for she had received her cousin's warning too late—with the whole fervor of her heart she had learned to love Leon Vincent.

A quick step on the roadway; a low, merry whistle, and the object of her thoughts stood before her, looking, with suddenly silenced lips, and a soft light in his bonny blue eyes, on the sweet face of the girl.

She drew aside as he pushed the gate open, and, entering, paused at her side.

"Good evening," she said, in tones made firm and clear by the sound that came to her—the soft, sweet singing of her cousin, whom he loved, "you will find Ione in the parlor," she continued, as he did not pass on; "she has a new song to sing you to-night; I think she expects you."

"It will pain me very much to disappoint Miss Lawsen," the young man said, his tones slightly sarcastic, "but I have come to-night to have an interview with you; nay," as she drew from him in surpsise, not unmixed with indignation; "nay, my darling, you shall hear what I have come to say, you have avoided me long enough, and left me so completely to the tender mercies of your cousin that she must be heartily tired of such treatment and want to know why you are so anxious to fly at my approach. Is it that my face is disagreeable to you, my presence a trial? Or, what is it, Beatrice? I am weary of being left for the amusement of—pardon me, dear, since she is your cousin, but I know of what I speak—far the amusement of a flirt evening after evening."

"How strangely you talk—for a lover!" Beatrice exclaimed, trembling a little, but trying to be calm. "I am going in. Why do you linger here when Ione is waiting for you?"

"Because"—and he took her hands in clasp from which she could not free them—"because I want to tell you something—to tell you how dear you are to me; how it is your brown eyes that lure me here, and not the blue ones of your cousin; to tell you that I want such love from you as you can give, or I come no more to the farm! Nay, I vow never again to put faith in the smile of a woman! Beatrice, I am waiting. Can you love me, dear, or was I deceiving myself when I fancied that you cared for me? I have been mistaken—once, three years ago, when I laid my heart at a woman's feet and she rejected it because I could give her nothing more. Tell me I am not to drain the same bitter cup to-night, Beatrice. Oh, my love, say you do care for me!"

"I do," came a low soft whisper, and Beatrice found herself clasped instantly in the young man's arms and held closely to his bosom. "My darling," he whispered softly; "my brown-eyed, warm-hearted darling! I will make you very happy; very, very happy!"

"I have not been very happy of late," Beatrice said, smiling up at him in the moonlight, her brown head on his breast. "Why did you seem to care so much for my cousin? It was cruel of you—to me, to her."

"To you, my sweet?" stooping to kiss the ripe lips tenderly. "I watched for a single sign by which I could know you cared. At the very first the farce would have been over. But you were careless and smiling, seeming very well content to resign me to your cousin. There were times when I fancied you were rather glad to get free of my society."

"I would not struggle for your love," the girl said proudly; "but I loved you all the time, and very much against my wishes. I wanted to be indifferent."

"Thank you; I am so grateful to you for such unwillingness to care for me. But I'm glad you had to, whether you would or not," with a low amused laugh; "now your cousin—she is very fair to [illegible]" he half started, for a vision of white-robed beauty stood before him, fair and dainty enough for a dream of a poet; a girl with waving, golden hair, eyes like spring violets, and dainty, crimson lips, arrayed in shimmering, floating white, her cheek just now as colorless.

"Ah, Miss Lawsen," he said quietly, while Beatrice drew from his embrace with a start, you are in time to offer me congratulations; I am to be your cousin; I hope the idea is a pleasant one to you?"

"Very pleasant, indeed," Ione managed to say, in calm, measured tones, that had a hint of wavering, and I give you my very best wishes."

Then she turned and went slowly along the bloom-lined walk, her white draperies floating about her, her fair beauty a dower many women had envied her; and yet, on her life lay a sense of loss, of dreary desolation, of which she had not dreamed one month before, when she so proudly claimed the unchanging love of Leon Vincent.—[Philadelphia Call.

THE PROPER THING.

A great deal of bright yellow is seen on the new bonnets.

New hat ornaments are shaped like slender combs of dull India brass.

Round hats of medium size will be worn during autumn and winter.

Fur bands will be used for winter bonnets and feathered coronets will be worn.

The new jackets are short, tight-fitting and double-breasted, with a very high collar.

Jackets will be generally worn for fall wraps, and mantles for more dressy occasions.

Feather balls of graduating seizer are used for decorating the edges of hats and bonnets.

Fine felt bonnets are shown of such choice qualities that they rival the richest velvets.

Early autumn bonnets are of open wire net in which are small squares of velvet or chenille.

Fruit is more fashionable in millinery than flowers—white and black currants and berries.

High narrow rows of gros grain ribbon remain the general fashion for trimming bonnets and hats.

The most dressy jacket is the coachmen's coat made of smooth livery cloth with a turned-over collar.

Short mantles of plush, velvet and beaded fabrics show little change in shape from those worn last year.

Two colorings prevail, peach or heliotrope and gray, and the most popular flower even late in the season has been the lilac.

Some Great Men's Sons.

George Jones is one of the few prominent New Yorkers, who has not been disappointed in their sons.

Whitelaw Reed has two boys, but they are small children. When they are of age, if they and he should live, he will be a very old man.

Gen. W. S. Hancock, the model soldier and gentleman, survived his only son, in whose future he had a faith that might not have been justified.

Peter Cooper's son Edward Cooper, has been mayor, and is upright and of fair ability, and he has shown some of the qualities which distinguished his philanthropic and excellent father.

Samuel J. Tilden, just dead, was a bachelor, and though fond of young person's society, particularly that of girls, had no fancy for children. He was distinctly of an anti-matrimonial temperament.

William Cullen Bryant, who often wished he had a son to succeed him on the "Evening Post," was never so gratified. His only children are two daughters, Mrs. Parke Goodwin and a maiden—still living and much esteemed for her many admirable qualities.

Charles A. Dana has carefully reared his son, Paul Dana, to follow in his footsteps on the "Sun," of which he is the largest stockholder. Since leaving college, he has been his father's assistant on the paper. Of his competency there are various views.

When the founder of the Herald died—he established a new order of journalism and was a genius in his way, often a bad way—many persons predicted that his son would not be able to conduct the paper he had inherited. He has falsefied their predictions thus far.

Horace Greeley's sole son gave the highest premise. Those who saw much of the little fellow considered him a genius, and when he died, a shadow fell on the great journalist's heart that never was lifted.

An Afterthought.

"Now, John, if you're going to that fishing excursion to-morrow morning, I suppose I had better pack your valise to-night." So spoke Mrs. Brown to her liege lord and master.

"Yes, dear, I wish you would, for I make an early start," he replied. "Train leaves at 7, you know."

"Very well, John, I'll do it at once. What shall I put in it?"

"Let me see," replied Mr. Brown thoughtfully. "Um! Well, put in that jug of whisky I had sent up to-day, two bottles of [illegible], a [illegible] of [illegible], a dozen [illegible] [illegible]

The Country Editor.

Who can adequately describe the labor of the country editor who is devoted to his profession? His work is never done. His mind is never at rest. He is constantly on the alert for material for his paper. He wears his nerves on the surface, sensitive to every move about him. He works where other people play, and the luxury of absolute rest, with freedom from worry, is, alas! all too rarely experienced by him. Do you think it an easy matter to collect seven or eight columns of local news and to put it in readable shape within a week? Do you realize that for almost every one of the hundreds of different statements of facts the editor has had to walk a considerable distance and to make personal inquiry? Do you realize that the matter thus laboriously collected, bit by bit, when written out, makes more lines in type than the sermons of any minister in the community? Do you realize that the editor's writings would make a score or more of good sized volumes every year?

But all the work thus imperfectly described is the least of the labors of the average country editor. How easily, how joyfully would he do all this if it were all he had to do! Ah, friends, the real work, the real anxiety of the country editor are to the world an unwritten book, but to him an ever present, ever torturing actuality. Some parts of this hidden work we cannot willingly write about, for they are too painful; but let us glance at some of the things referred to. The country editor has to manage his business. He solicits advertisements and spends hours in the work of convincing men against their wills that it is to their interest to keep their names and wares before the public; he spends days and days talking with men to induce them to become subscribers and slowly builds up a list of names for his paper; he doubles this work when it comes to collecting the money for his advertisements and his subscriptions, tramping miles and miles and wasting many precious hours trying to get hold of a few dollars with which to meet obligations that are pressing him, wolf like, and racking his mind with perplexity and fear. That is the work which makes the country editor old before his time, that oftentimes puts him in a humiliating attitude before business men and fills his heart with the bitterness of despair.

And the influence of the country editor—who can estimate it? It is the greatest force in any community. The work of all the ministers cannot equal the influence of the country editor. The spoken word will never equal the written one in effectiveness and permanent value; and all the congregations in a town cannot equal, in number, the auditors of the editor. He speaks weekly to thousands of people where the ministers talk to hundreds. We bring the ministers into this discussion, not to belittle their work, but to make a comparison that will be generally understood.

The influence of the country editor is nearly always helpful; a good newspaper will do more for a town than any other one influence. Is there a hospital to be built? The editor presents the necessity for it, kindling in every mind a desire to see the institution established, points out the way for accomplishing the object desired and helps along every scheme for furthering the cause. Are selfish men planning to line their pockets with a scheme that will injure instead of benefit the town? The editor exposes the plot and awakens the opposition of the people. Is there a fair in progress for the benefit of a church or a town library? The editor booms it, gets everybody interested and in sympathy with the matter and turns the golden tide in the proper direction. He helps along the local charities and all worthy institutions; he keeps the people informed about each other and alive to the interests of their town; his influence is strong, constant and for the well being of his town.—[J. H. Mabbett in North Adams (Mass.) Express.

Child Culture.

Before seven years of age, children have taken in the character, and habits of parents, brothers, sisters, servants and neighbors. If there is any good in the character and conduct of superiors they have acquired it; if there is anything unfavorable, impolite, improper, illiberal or mean in the conduct and conversation, the children have taken that in also, and they will manifest the characters exhibited by their associates whenever they reach a similar mood to that which called out the original word or action.

In a family where good grammar and good manners prevail, children will rarely speak ungrammatically, or manifest ill-breeding, hence the necessity of the use of correct language and the manifestation of correct dispositions, and of the proper carriage of body, and care in all the daily habits in the presence of children.—[The Kindergarten.

Carl Pretzel's Philosophy.

When you tink dem don't swore till to-morrow. Ofer you tink bully, dot's besser you done dot pooty gwick.

It vas der breacher dot told you how bully it vas to be charitable. It dond vas himself dot he vas talking about, ven der beggar come [illegible] on his house.

[illegible]

THEY WERE CURED.

IT WILL CURE YOU.

Lockport, N. Y.

This is to certify that I have been a rheumatic sufferer for over ten years past, attacks lasting from six weeks to four months, and I have been treated by the best physicians of this vicinity, have sought relief at the different watering places of Western New York, using sulphur, magnesia and electric baths, with only temporary effect. No permanent relief had been experienced until I procured and used several bottles of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and I can truthfully say that it is the only remedy that will effect a permanent cure, and as such, I confidently commend it to all rheumatic sufferers as a sure and certain cure.

Yours truly,
GEO. W. PENFIELD.

Since writing the above Mr. Penfield has received the appointment at Washington, being able to attend to business.

Rochester, N. Y., March, 1886.

GENTS:—I can recommend Dr. Pardee's Remedy to all ladies whose systems are run down, and generally debilited, as one of the surest and best remedies made to restore them to perfect health. When I commenced using it I was so nervous that the least work or exercise of any kind would tire me so that I would be compelled to lie down. I have used but four bottles, but I am now well and do not have any of that tired feeling. If ladies knew the merits of your remedy, they would not do without it; for it is simply wonderful what it will do for female difficulties.

Yours respectfully
MRS. LYDIA DINGMAN
York street.

Ask your druggist for Dr. Pardee's Remedy, and take no other. Price, $1 per bottle; six bottles, $5.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

School girls who chew gum, and most of them do, will be interested to know that several leading Chicago physicians say that an indulgence in the habit of 15 minutes or so after each meal greatly promotes digestion and is a sovereign remedy for "heartburn."

Best Goods are Put in Smallest Parcels

The old proverb is certainly true in the case of Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets," which are little, sugar-wrapped parcels, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, containing as much cathartic power as is done up in the biggest, most repulsive-looking pill. Unlike the big pills, however, they are mild and pleasant in their operation—do not produce griping pains, nor render the bowels costive after using.

A novel design in engagement rings is to divide the ring and bend the cut ends apart and hold them so by a small gold bar. A jewel is then set on each end, and the result is that the jewels are very close together, but still not united, and are thus quite typical of engagements.

Every person should try Carter's Little NERVE Pills. They are made especially for nervous and dyspeptic women, and are just the medicine needed by all persons who, from any cause, do not sleep well, or who fail to get proper strength from their food. Cases of weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, nervous and sick headache, &c., readily yield to the use of the Little Nerve Pills particularly if combined with Carter's Little Liver Pills. In vials at 25 cents.

Business Traits.

A selfish fellow—The fish vender.

A man of mettle—The stove dealer.

Is clever at taking people in—The stage driver.

Worse than a gross man—A grocer.

A hard laboring man with a brief career—A lawyer.

Always in a hole—The grave digger.

His life a perpetual grind—The miller.

A well-bred man.—The baker.—[Life

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.
As a remedy for Pulmonary Afflictions and Scrofulous Diseases.

Where the digestive organs are feeble and ordinary food does not seem to nourish the child, this acts both as food and medicine, giving strength and flesh at once, and almost as palatable as milk. Take no other. 19t4.

Mr. Burckhardt, one of the victims of the recent Matterhorn disaster, wrote his will with a pencil on a card which was found in the snow by the side of his body. It reads: "I am dying on the Matterhorn. I leave all I possess to you, my dear sister.

It is said of the 28,000 Jews in Amsterdam 10,000 are occupied in the trade of diamond-dealing.

The [illegible] from the whaling fleet in the Arctic [illegible] disastrous, the catch [illegible] being very small. This has had the effect to advance the price of whale[illegible] from 25 cents a pound to three dollars.

Nickles are so scarce in the Northwest that merchants in Minneapolis and St. Paul have written east to have several barrels shipped to them, offering to pay all expenses and two per cent. premium.

The cranberry marshes destroyed by the late fires in Wisconsin are among the largest in the country. As several years will be required to replace the bushes, the loss is severe. It is estimated at $300,000.

There Englishpoloists have decided to have a special apprisal sent from the custom house to apprise their ponies, as they will pay the duties on the ponies with a view of selling them. The ponies have been in bond since their arrival.

Delicate diseases of either sex, however induced, radically cured. Address, with ten cents in stamps for book, World's Dispensitory Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

In 1851 72.8 per cent. of the population of Ireland lived in mud houses, in 1881 only 43.3 per cent. The genuine one-roomed hovels were inhabited at the last census by 4.1 per cent only of the entire population.

Two weeks ago the the town of Loris, Arizona, contained 700 people and much valuable property. A cyclone visited it and now there is not the slightest sign left that indicates the presence of a once-thriving town.

A New York professor tattoos 3,000 persons every year.

Twelve counties in West Virginia have adopted prohibition.

There are said to be 890 opium smokers in the city of Boston.

Boston has had $3,000,000 of embezzlements within a few months.

T. F. Crockford, the traveling tinware merchant, carries a fine line of tinware, wooden ware, agate ware wrapping paper, etc., which he is offering in exchange or rags. Trade with him. 21tf

SCHOOL OF SHORT HAND
—AND—
TYPE WRITING.
CLASSES DAY AND EVENING.
Lessons by Mail a Specialty.
Terms Moderate. For further particulars apply to
MISS MATTIE G. HAM,
66 and 67 Weiting Block,
18m3 Syracuse, N. Y.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a billious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO.,
New York City.

LUMBER YARD.

We have in Stock a Complete Assortment of

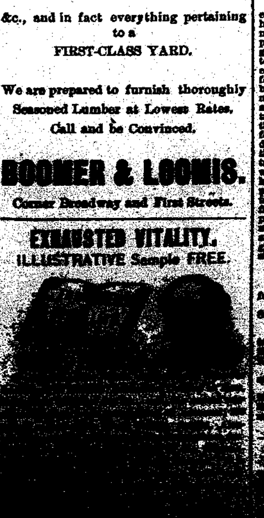
Lumber, Lath, Shingles

&c., and in fact everything pertaining to a FIRST-CLASS YARD.

We are prepared to furnish thoroughly Seasoned Lumber at Lowest Rates. Call and be Convinced.

BOOMER & LOOMIS.
Corner Broadway and First Streets.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.
ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of

Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.

And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.

Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.

☞ Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

Scranton Coal!
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,
Promptly Delivered!
At the Following Prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

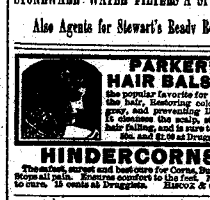
LUMBER! LUMBER!
I have the Largest Assortment of
Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER
In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE
SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c,
Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere
O. RUST. 37tf

HART BROS.,
—DEALERS IN—
Vitrified Glazed Stone Ware
—AND—
PORTLAND CEMENT SEWER PIPE
—AND—
DRAIN TILE,
With all necessary Fittings and connections.
FIRE BRICK, CLAY AND SAND.
Stone Ware, and Cement, Chimneys and Tops.
Fire Bricks of desired shapes, furnished on application.
STONEWARE WATER FILTERS A SPECIALTY.
Also Agents for Stewart's Ready Roofing.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
the popular favorite for dressing the hair, Restoring color when gray, and preventing Dandruff. It cleanses the scalp, stops the hair falling, and is sure to please. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

HINDERCORNS.
The safest, surest and best cure for Corns, Bunions, &c. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. Never fails to cure. 15 cents at Druggists. Hiscox & Co., N. Y.

A FIFTH AVENUE LADY



Science emerging from Darkness.

WRITES A LETTER ABOUT Kaskine.

THE NEW QUININE.

[illegible] Fifth Avenue, New York.

Kaskine Co.—Dear Sirs: Although always opposed to having my name used publicly, I waive my reluctance in this case. No one can see the vast good done to the suffering that I have seen accomplished by your wonderful medicine and remain silent.

I deem it my pleasant duty, my dear sirs, to express my cordial thanks for the great cure it has accomplished in my family as well as for the many cures it has effected among the suffering poor to whom I have taken it. My son was the greatest sufferer for years from what was first termed by our physician to be dyspepsia and general debility, which was followed by the severest forms of chills and fever, and finally pronounced by several of the most eminent physicians to be malaria, with all its different forms of suffering and organic diseases, including liver and kidney troubles and nervous prostration. You will see that I owe an especial debt of gratitude to you, for my son's health seemed hopelessly lost, as he derived no benefit from medical treatment, although receiving the best that the highest medical talent in America could afford, combined at times with the benefit of travel. His constitution also had been almost undermined and his hearing impaired by the use of quinine. We were influenced to try Kaskine by hearing of its great success from reliable sources, and my son has been completely restored to health by its use. If my testimony of these facts will help to save human life and restore the suffering to health, I should be guilty indeed to remain silent. I am, my dear sirs, yours most gratefully,

June [illegible] [illegible] J. [illegible]

WHAT THE HOSPITALS SAY.

[illegible] Hospital, N. Y.: "[illegible]"

St. Francis Hospital, N. Y. [illegible]

[illegible]

Business Cards.

M[illegible] BROS., Fine Job Printing, [illegible] over [illegible] book store, [illegible] of every description [illegible]

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, [illegible] etc. [illegible] First Street.

ELI H. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the improved Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 2 First street.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 8 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y.
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts. Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious Sample Rooms.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.
Prices Below all Competition
On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.

IN DYE STUFFS
I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at
R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.
A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.
No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.
Remember my motto is strictly first-class goods—and prices below all Competition.
48tf R. E. PHILLIPS.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞ Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.
☞ Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

INSURANCE SOLICITORS
New working Fire, Life, Industrial or Assessment Insurance, and other solicitors who desire to better themselves, can secure profitable engagements with N. Y. State Relief Association. Large commission and interest in renewals; also premium asked for satisfactory work. Address J. E. ALLANSON, Sec'y., 44 State Street, Albany, N. Y. 14w3

WANTED--LADY Active and intelligent to represent in her own locality an old firm. References required. Permanent position and good salary.
GAY & BROTHERS,
16 Barclay St. N. Y.

JUST THE THING!
CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.
Save time and labor! Neat and Compact
Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General as the "best device of the kind that he ever saw."
—To be had only at the—
FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.

$10 FOR 50 CENTS—Peerless Silk Hat Polish Send 50c. for a Box. Agents' circular for stamp. PEERLESS HAT POLISH CO., 15 Bond St., N. Y. City.

10 PER CENT. INVESTMENT, SECURITY ABSOLUTE. The Mortgage, Ipswich, Dakota, will loan your money on BOND and MORTGAGE from 8 to 10 per cent. Mortgage made to you direct. Bond payable at your own Bank or in New York as you prefer, and has for SALE COUNTY, CITY, and SCHOOL BONDS, that will net 7 to 12 per cent. Will furnish as reference the names of gentlemen residing in THIS COUNTY for whom it has invested money. CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED. [illegible]

—LIVINGSTON COUNTY NURSERIES.—
MEN WANTED! TO SELL FIRST CLASS
Fruit and Ornamental Trees, Shrubs, Roses,
GRAPE VINES and SMALL FRUITS.
PERMANENT EMPLOYMENT on the most favorable terms. Complete outfit furnished free of expense to salesmen. Address
J. M. EDWARDS, Nurseryman, Dansville, N. Y.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS,
[illegible]

[illegible] Fulton, N. Y., at [illegible]

[illegible] all communications, on business or [illegible]

F. D. [illegible], Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it, and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

THE fall election in the state of Maine was held on Monday and as usual went Republican by a large majority. The Republicans polled 66,500, Democrats 55,200 and Prohibitionists 3,800.

THE Galatea has gone to Newport to enter in the race for the citizens' cup, which is to take place next Saturday. The Mayflower will also be in the race. The Englishman has good pluck at least and everyone admires him for it.

THE season at the summer resorts is drawing to a close and people who have had the time and means to enjoy a few week's sojourn are beginning to return to their homes and business. The season at these summer resorts has been very successful and a large number of them has been more liberally patronized than on previous years.

THE Batholdi statue at Bedloe Island is nearing completion and the 28th of October has been decided upon as the date of dedication. The presentation of the completed statue to the United States is to be made by Senator Wm. M. Evarts. The acceptance in behalf of the General Government by President Cleveland. Oration by George William Curtis and music by Gilmore's band.

THE second race for the American cup between the Mayflower and the English cutter Galatea was sailed on Saturday and again proved an easy victory for the Mayflower. The race clearly showed the superiority of the American representative over its English rival. These yacht contests were the chief topics of conversation during the past week and everyone is jubilant over the victory of the Mayflower.

THE U. S. Minister to Turkey, Mr. Cox is about starting for home on a furlough, owing to ill-health. G. H. Heap, secretary of the American legation, will conduct the affairs of the office during Mr. Cox's absence. Mr. Heap will continue negotiations for a new tariff treaty between the United States and Turkey. More Armenians are going to the United States to be naturalized. The United States government has not yet replied to the protests of those Armenians whose American citizenship Turkey refuses to recognize.

The largest line of Fall and Winter Underwear to be found in Fulton is at the Boston Bazaar. Call and see their leaders.

A tramp is wanted immediately for burning the barn of Charles Johnson in West Monroe. The tramp called at the house and desired something to eat, which was refused. As he could not obtain "cold vituals" it is believed he determined on a warm blaze and fired the barn in retaliation. The barn and contents were consumed. There was no insurance. Officers are now searching for the tramp.

The band tournament is one of the attractions at the Phœnix fair to-morrow.

Wm. M. Warren of Oswego Town met with a probably fatal accident by falling through a trap door into the basement of his barn last Monday. Dr. Boyd was called and attended him. He is an old resident and is about 70.

At the Republican caucus in Palermo, Saturday the following delegates were appointed: District—D. H. Trimble, J. Y. Wilcox, Geo. Newcomb, Wm. Johnson, Henry Fish. The assembly delegates are the district delegates. County—Henry Davis, W. A. Scudder, Webster Hart, Abert Ure, John Bradford, James Pitcher, Fred Smedley. County delegates are instructed for T. Moore for county treasurer.

Don't miss those bargains at Draper's in Table and Hanging Lamps, China Tea Setts, and those new style (Ribbon Chamber Setts) all new goods and new prices. Call and see. 19tf

J. Cooley Tucker has the sole agency for the celebrated grandulated wheat, a food prepared from the best white winter wheat, unleavened, ready cooked for immediate use. It is the best food for invalids and children. As a diet for cases of nervous prostration and debility, constipation and dyspepsia, it is unequaled. It is used in Health Institutions extensively. 10tf

FOR EARACHE, Toothache, sore throat swelled neck, and the results of cold and inflammation use Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—the great pain destroyer.

Richard Frasier of Granby Centre now [illegible] ready to do work in this county, a [illegible] Johnsville 8 horse tread, with four [illegible] cleaner, threshing machine. This [illegible] running and best machine [illegible]. It took the first premium at [illegible] fair last year. Leave orders [illegible] drug store. 18w2

[illegible] middle-aged men suffering [illegible] or kindred af- [illegible] with 10 cents in [illegible] World's Dis- [illegible] Association, Buffalo,

[illegible] D. C. Draper's, a [illegible]

[illegible] but not enough to prevent much of it being used. The public do not care to turn out to a first-class play produced in a third-class manner, and it is to the advantage of a local manager to see that his patrons receive as near as possible what they may reasonably expect from a company. F. K. Jones officiated at the piano in a most acceptable manner and between the acts played some popular airs that were well received and highly spoken of by many in the audience.

The Oswego Murder.

On last Thursday, William Shannon, aged eighty-three years was arrested on the charge of murdering his wife. It appears that on Monday, Aug. 30, the couple got into a trivial dispute about a dinner that had been prepared the day before and in the scuffle that followed he stabbed her twice with a large jackknife. The wounds, which were on either thigh near the hip joints, were about an inch and a half long and quite deep. After being cut the woman went to a small barn on the premises, and when found by the neighbors a short time afterwards had become unconscious from the loss of blood. Shannon was arrested on the charge of assault in the first degree. Upon the recommendation of the physician, who pronounced the woman out of danger, he was admitted to bail and went back to live with his injured wife and his wife's sister, who was attending Mrs. Shannon's wants. The wounded woman continued to improve and was able to go about and eat as usual until Thursday when she was found in the yard back of the house in a dying condition. The post mortem examination revealed the fact that a clot of blood had been formed in the region of the heart. This by some unusual excitement was probably moved from its position and being caught at the branch of the pulmonary arteries prevented the circulation of the blood from which she died. They have resided in Oswego for the past thirty years. For several years they have not lived peaceably together and have had frequent quarrels about money matters.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Michigan crop report shows the yield of wheat to be about 26,500,000 bushels, or 2,755,000 bushels more than the August estimate.

The American fishing schooner, Everett Steel, has been seized at Shelburne, N. S., for alleged infringement of customs laws.

At London, Ont., Sunday, while playing with a revolver, a 10 year-old lad named George Lewis shot and killed George Bruce, aged 5.

Controller Trenholm has imposed fines of $100 each on five national banks for failure to return reports of their condition within the time specified by law.

Seven hundred Christians have been massacred and forty villages burned in the province of Mavhoa, Tonquin, and 9,000 Christians are perishing from hunger.

A. F. Butler, of West Fourteenth treet, New York city, salesman for Lea Bros., publishers, Sampson street, Philadelphia, notified his employers on the Monday night before the earthquake, he was about leaving for Charleston. since then he has not been heard from, though letters and telegrams have been sent. He is well off and earning a handsome salary. It is thought he was either killed or is unconscious in some hospital. His wife is a daughter of the President of the German-American Fire Insurance Company Philadelphia.

An Ottawa dispatch states that the Canadian government Friday forwarded a demand to Secretary Bayard through the English Minister at Washington, for the immediate and unconditional surrender to the owners of the sailing vessels recently captured off the Alaskan coast. Accompanying the demand is a full statement of the case as it is understood by the government, and a large number of citations of authorities bearing out the position taken by the Canadian officials.

Prof. Carl Meyers, of Mohawk the aeronautic engineer for Carlotta, made from the fair grounds in Franklin, Pa., last Wednesday, the first ascension known to the world operated with natural gas, the balloon rising just one mile and sailing about one hour. Carlotta again made an ascension Friday with a balloon inflated with the same gas. At Hanover Pa. with a coal-gas balloon, Prof. Meyers made an ascension. He used a 12,000 balloon weighing 260 pounds and carried 200 pounds of ballast. He used the same balloon at Franklin, but could not take 20 pounds of ballast. It is thus seen that the lifting power of the natural gas is slight and it can only be used where the balloon is very light. The natural gas is the second medium introduced by Prof. Meyers for aeronautic purposes, the other being the heavy nephtha gas, or so-called water gas, produced from steam and petroleum or nephtha.

There are now five elements known that are capable of carrying men skyward: Hot air, introduced by the Mongolifier brothers a century ago; hydrogen, introduced by M. Charles soon afterwards, who invented the gas balloon; carburetted hydrogen or coal gas, first used by the famous English aeronaut Greene; the nephtha or water gas and the natural gas from wells, introduced by Prof. Meyers. Carlotta and an aeronaut named Clarage will have a balloon race at the Watertown fair September 17.

Second hand Gas Pipe for sale at [illegible] 16tf

[illegible]

When a woman can [illegible] a mirror without surveying herself she is prepared to vote.

***

The man who can live in peace with his mother-in-law is a Christian. I forgot to say she should be dumb.

***

Advice is a terribly poor thing to feed on. When you give it to a hungry man, he has a sort of stone for bread diet.

***

If some men obeyed the saying "Know Thyself," they would be sawing wood instead of saving the nation as Congressmen.

***

When you find a truly independent man put him in a glass case. He is a curiosity and needs to be kept from doing injury.

***

Snakes have great love for prohibition towns. There are always more cures of poisonous bites in those places than any other.

***

Beware of the man who grabs your hand and elbow at the same time when he shakes hands. He is either a politician or else has designs on your pocket.

South Granby.

Elkanah Baker and wife of Hannibal visited friends here several days last week.

Andrew Hodgson and wife of St. John, Michigan are expected here on a visit this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Calkins of Cold Spring, spent a couple of days with friends here last week.

Members of the Salvation Army of Phœnix held services at the Baptist church in Jacksonville last Sunday evening.

Farmers have commenced to cut their corn. The crop is generally good.

Buckwheat is being cut. There is considerable of it this season in this vicinity.

Mrs. Harriet Wilder of Michigan is spending some time here with friends.

Mrs. Warren Shevers of South Hannibal spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Bowen.

South Scriba.

Libbie M. Shattuck, wife of Dr. H. D. C. Phelps, died at the residence of her mother, Mrs. Capt. Charles Sweet, Sunday night, Sept. 5. The deceased was a daughter of Amelia and the late Capt. G. F. Shattuck, was born at this place in 1852, was married to Dr. H. D. C. Phelps in 1877, and has lived here the most of her life. She had a large circle of friends and acquaintances and was loved and respected by all who knew her. The funeral was held from the residence of her mother, Mrs. Charles Sweet, Wednesday, Sept. 8, the Rev. C. E. Miller of South Richland officiating. The remains were taken to Waterloo, N. Y., the former home of her husband, for interment. She leaves a husband, and a daughter three years old who have the sympathy of the whole community in their bereavement.

Mrs. J. M. Vincent of Chicago, is spending a few weeks with her mother, Mrs. Capt. Sweet.

Dr. Phelps is visiting at his sister's, Mrs. Ritter, of Waterloo, N. Y.

Bowens Corners.

The Bowens Corners band is in a flourishing condition, under the instruction of Mr. Tooler of South Hannibal.

Miss Hattie Bradshaw and Miss Minnie Salmon of Fulton, have been spending a few days with Miss Hattie Tompkins.

Thomas Tompkins and wife of Montreal, Canada, have been spending a few days with his parents.

The cheese factory is making twelve cheeses per day, averaging 60 pounds, and sells at ¼c. above Utica ruling. The factory is run very satisfactorily to patrons and stockholders.

Rain has freshened up things generally.

A large number from this locality are in attendance at the Phœnix fair.

Mr. Halstead died at his home in this place on Friday morning. He was buried on Sunday, services bring held at the Methodist church, Rev. Mr. Forbes officiating. The funeral was largely attended. He leaves a wife and one child.

Harvesting is nearly finished in this locality.

Tobacco is more than an average crop this season.

Potatoes are an excellent crop.

Gilberts Mills

Dr. Mary C. Wright and her husband visited at her father's last week.

Our recent school meeting resulted in the election of Mr. Taylor for trustee and Ira Bradford for clerk.

Mr Josling of Herkimer is stopping at Ira Bradford's.

School commenced last Monday under the continued charge of Miss Nettie Anderson, who has shown herself to be a most efficient teacher. This is her fourth term.

After a five week's stay at her father's Mrs. James Hamlin returns with a baby girl added to their family.

The Aid Society meets this week, Friday, at Elmer Coe's.

On last Monday there was a pleasant gathering at the home of Mr. E. A. W[illegible]

[illegible] by [illegible] Three beautiful [illegible] all the parts of which may be used a cool fountain or majestic statue. All unsightly objects are hidden by a luxuriance of verdure unparalleled in any other city of this size. The parks, for whose beauty Washington is famous, are a delight to the eye with their many colored flowers and shrubs; and altogether one wonders where a pleasanter place could be found to spend the summer.

Already a few familiar faces on the streets denote the return of some of the old habitues. The President is expected to be at his post again in about a week. It is still a debated question whether Secretary Manning will be able and willing to resume his duties.

The crank has not felt it to be his fashionable duty to leave Washington during the summer months. The other day a good-looking, well dressed gentleman walked with an imposing air into the White House. On being asked his name and business, he answered haughtily, "I am the Emperor of America, and I desire that thirty millions of money shall be immediately brought me from yonder building"—pointing to the Treasury. The doorkeeper, with mock obeisance, and professing his allegiance, persuaded his Majesty to enter a carriage, and he was quietly driven to the Insane Asylum. There he should be placed in company with another crank, who has been there for several years, and whose claims are even more extensive than those of the would-be Emperor. He believes that he is the Monarch of the World, and unlike the despondent Alexander the Great, he does not weep for other worlds to conquer.

The employes at the White House are very busily engaged just now, getting the mansion ready for occupancy. Every summer during the President's vacation it undergoes a thorough cleaning. All the carpets are rolled up, the window curtains and draperies taken down, and chaos and the chambermaid reign. The woodwork in the private and public apartments. Then there are to be some changes in furniture, the wear and tear of which in the rooms open to the public necessitates frequent renewal. Everything will be completed and the entire house in order by the time Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland return, though it is not probable they will occupy it at present, as their country home is also rapidly approaching completion, and it was the President's original intention to spend the rest of the hot season there.

Mr. Bayard is the only Cabinet officer in the city at present. Mr. Lamar is in Vermont, writing a speech, it is said, to be delivered at the unveiling of a statue of John C. Calhoun in Charleston. The statue will be unveiled provided any solid ground can be found for it. What a spectacle and what a theme for the poet, the historian, and the moralist. A bronze Calhoun looking on the skeleton ruins and the pulseless heart of secession, amid sulphurous fumes and infernal perturbation.

The secretary of War has not been in the city for weeks. Adjutant General Drum has been acting secretary. There is great rejoicing at the War Department over the capture of Geronimo and his band of red anarchists. It is said at the War Department that they will hang. Indeed they ought to hang. This refined and civilized means of exit has terrors for the untutored savage that mere familiar shooting cannot equal. To die like a Christian malefactor, with benefit of clergy, fills the mind of poor Lo with unhowlable horror, and turns the sweet memory of brained babies and tortured, disemboweled women to ashes in his mouth. By all means let them hang, and let Congress honor General Miles and Captain Lawton with a vote of thanks.

Everybody go to the Boston Bazaar and see the bargains they are offering.

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

HARPOON FORKS
for $1.00
—at—
Snow & Loomis' Hardware,
and
Horse Rakes,
Hand Rakes,
Pitch Forks,
Pulley Blocks,
Rope and
Haying Tools,
at equally low prices.

Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares, two years ago, and find it very durable and economical.
HART BROS.

Try India Pale Ale. It is the best. To be had at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 15tf

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

[illegible]

[illegible]	[illegible]	"	1 m	[illegible]	[illegible]
S Perry	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	[illegible]
S Sheara	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	[illegible]
Chas Dodge	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	[illegible]
J Knapp	SeaHill	"	1 m	[illegible]	[illegible]
G Doyle	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	[illegible]
W [illegible]	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	25 00
J Gr[illegible]	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	25 00
J Sheridan	Os'ego	"	1 m	[illegible]	25 00
B Cavellier	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	[illegible]
O Bough	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
J Murphy	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	25 00
J Daly	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
T O'Hara	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
V'nValkenburg	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	25 00
H Halstead	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
C Burton	C'ug'y	"	1 m	2500	25 00
A McArthur	Euclid	"	1 m	2500	25 00
Peter Conley	Fulton	"	1 m	1000	10 00
					940.00

STATE SHOP CHECK ROLL

John Boardman	Fult'n	Foreman	32½d	2.40	78 00
Walter Bradley	"	Carpenter	32½d	1.80	58 50
			65 d		136.50

The above labor was performed as follows:

65 days Battle Island Dam Apron	136.50
Fulton Times Co., publishing abstract	4 25

STATE SCOW CHECK ROLL

E Richardson	Fulton	Foreman	1	m	50 00	50 00
Geo Barrett	"	C Labor	1	m	35 00	35 00
F Garrison	"	"	1	m	35 00	35 00
J Gilhooly	"	"	1	m	35 00	35 00
J O Lee	Ph'nix	"	1	m	35 00	35 00
M Connors	Fulton	"	1	m	35 00	35 00
Ed Sayles	"	"	1	m	35 00	35 00
J Hayden	"	"	1	m	35 00	35 00
W LaFount'in	"	Team	1	m	75 00	75 00
F Hayden	"	Cook	1	m	15 00	15 00
						385.00

The above labor was performed as follows:

10 days apron Battle Island dam	14.80
170 days laying docking	251.72
40 " rep tow path and berme bank	59.23
20 days repairing locks	29.62
20 days boating spauls High Dam	29.63
260	385.00
Total	$1,465.75

STATE OF NEW YORK, }
Oswego County. } s s:

L. T. Richardson, Superintendant of canal repairs, and having charge of the line of canal specified in the above abstract being duly sworn, doth depose and say that the foregoing abstract, amounting to the sum of $1,465.75, is a true abstract of all vouchers taken by him, as such superintendent, during the month of August, '86.

Subscribed and sworn to before me }
this 12 day of Sept., 1886. }

L. T. RICHARDSON
Superintendent.

GEO. KELLOGG
Notary Public.

CHEESE MARKETS.

[From the Utica Herald.]

UTICA, Sept. 13.

The market to-day was exceedingly dull until near the close. Buyers were apparently indifferent and salesmen did not care to sell unless they could get last week's prices or better. It was half past five before any life began to develop. Then, suddenly, some lively bidding commenced. Salesmen were surprised. But there were two stimulents to prices, viz: cool weather and the prospect of small receipts. A certain amount of fine colored cheese was wanted and as it was certain that the receipts in New York will be light this week, the competition at last was pretty active. Cheese is now off to the fourth week in August, and next Monday will clean up most of that month's make. And what is better there are no Julys left to speak of, either in central or northern New York.

Transactions of the day were as follows: 9 lots, 900 boxes, at 9⅜c.; 54 lots, 4,430 boxes at 9½c.; 7 lots, 700 boxes, at 9⅝ cents; 12 lots, 1,400 boxes, at 9¾c.; 8 lots, 878 boxes, at 9⅞c.; 19 lots, 1,890 boxes at 10c.; 84 boxes, at 10¼c.; 3 lots, 358 boxes, at p. t. Sales 10,648 boxes; commissions, 210 boxes, total 10,858 boxes. Ruling price 9⅝c. Transactions of corresponding day in 1885 11,162 boxes; ruling price 7¼c. 1884, 10,537 boxes, ruling price 10¼c.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, Sept. 13.

Cheese—The light sales shown to-day are accounted for by the fact that many salesmen refused to sell for less than 10 cents, and but few of the buyers were willing to pay that price. The favorable turn in the weather has given factory men considerable stamina to resist any tendency toward lower prices, and the figures to-night show that they have no doubt as to the future. The weather is cool, and cheese will not suffer from remaining on the shelves a few days longer, at least that is the way the salesmen talk. On the other hand, buyers claim that there is no reason why they should pay the price asked here for cheese when the same grade of goods can be bought in New York for less money. The opinions are decided enough on both sides so that many cheese remain unsold to-night. The sales are:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
41	1,976	9¾cents
52	3,063	9¾cents
4	235	10 cents
3	217	¼c. above ruling
21	1,270	com.
132	6,770
Farm dairy	976
Total	7,746

Farm dairy—The packages on the farm dairy range from 8 to 10¼c. But one lot brought the latter price and that was under sharp competition. The bulk sold for 9¼ cents.

Butter—Forty-five packages of dairy butter sold at 18 to 20 cents, bulk at 19 cents; and 21 packages of creamery sold at 21 cents.

AT FULTON.

Twenty factories were represented at this market Monday night with 1,800 boxes which brought 9⅛ cents. Utica ruling. Price one-fourth of a cent higher than last week.

ADVERTISERS by addressing GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., New York, can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of ADVERTISING in American Newspapers. ☞100 page pamphlet, 10cts.

SULPHUR BITTERS
THE GREAT
German Remedy.
[illegible]

[illegible]

No. 2[illegible]

Second Day—Thursday.

Purse No. 1, $100, for horses that have never beaten 2:50.

First premium		$50.00
2d	do	25.00
3d	do	15.00
4th	do	10.00

Purse No. 2, $100, for horses that have never beaten 2:35.

First premium		$50.00
2d	do	25.00
3d	do	15.00
4th	do	10.00

Third Day—Friday.

Purse No. 3, $75, for horses that have never beaten 2:50.

First premium		$37.50
2d	do	18.75
3d	do	11.25
4th	do	7.50

Purse No. 4, $125, free for all.

First premium		$62.50
2d	do	$31.25
3d	do	18.75
4th	do	12.50

$100 reserved for running races.

H. C. BAKER, Secretary.
J. W. PENDERGAST, President.

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2¼ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

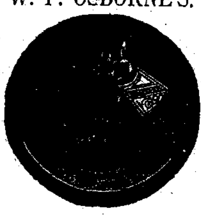
One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 94 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota. N. Y

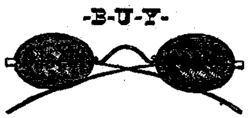
☞Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at FULTON, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

-BUY-
Hampden Watches
—AT—
W. P. OSBORNE'S.



-B-U-Y-

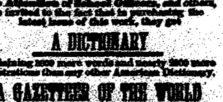


At W. P. OSBORNE'S.
—BUY—
THE WM. ROGERS'
Silver Plated Teaspoons
FOR $1,00 at
W. P. OSBORNE'S.
18m4

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF
Ladies' Kid Button Shoes
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing
and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE
SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE
BEST IN THE WORLD
☞Get the Genuine. Sold Everywhere.

WEBSTER'S
UNABRIDGED
With or without Patent Index.



The Attention of School Officers, and others, is invited to the fact that in purchasing the latest issue of this work, they get
A DICTIONARY
containing 3000 more words and nearly 2000 more Illustrations than any other American Dictionary.
A GAZETTEER OF THE WORLD
containing over 25,000 Titles, with their pronunciation and a vast amount of other information, (just added, 1885) and
A BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY
[illegible]
ALL IN ONE BOOK.
[illegible]

[illegible] HOLD THE
[illegible] ANNUAL FAIR
On the Society's Grounds at Oswego Falls, N. Y., on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursd[illegible]
SEPT. 21, 22, AND 23, 1[illegible]

The Grounds will be open all day on Monday preceding the Fair for the reception and arrangement of articles and exhibitors are requested to get their exhibits in place and avoid the rush on the first day of the Fair. Also, to send a list of their entries to the Secretary at any time before the Fair, so that the necessary labels may be provided.

Small bills containing a detailed order of proceedings will be distributed on the days of the Fair. The general order will be as follows:

FIRST DAY.—Tuesday, reception and arrangement of articles and amusements.

SECOND DAY.—Wednesday will be devoted to a general examination of articles exhibited, trials of speed for purses No. 1 and 2 Class No. 27 and making up of the awards by the judges, who will be called at 11 A. M., and furnished with their list of entries, upon all articles except stallions, single, matched and fast horses.

THIRD DAY.—Thursday, making up awards by the judges on stallions, and matched and single horses. Trials of speed, for Purses No. 3 and 4, Class No. 27 and declaring premiums.

The following Special Premiums are offered for exhibits to be placed in the new building now being erected upon the grounds, viz.:

For the greatest Variety of Potatoes raised by one person,	$10.00
" " Best Exhibition of Grapes, grown " " "	5.00
" " " Collection of Peppers " " " "	1.00
" " " " " Vegetables, " " "	10.00
" " " Exhibition of Melons " " " "	3.00
" Greatest Variety of Beans raised " " " this year	5.00

The D. L. & W. Railroad Co., will carry passengers over their road at Half Rates. Extra Trains on the last two days. The N. Y. O. & W. Railway Co., will carry passengers from Oswego, Centre Square and intermediate Stations at reduced rates. The R. W. & O. Railroad Co. will carry passengers from Oswego, Syracuse and Intermediate Stations at reduced rates.

Send to the Secretary for a Premium List.
President—H. H. Merriam, Oswego Falls.
Vice-Presidents—W. B. Phelps, Oswego; W. Johnson, Fulton.
Secretary—Arvin Rice, Fulton. Treasurer—Charles R. Nichols, Fulton.
Trustees and Executive Committee—O. Henderson, Fulton; T. G. Somers, Oswego Falls; A. Gregg Pennellville; Isaac R. Osborne, Ira; L. L. Kinyon, Oswego; Fred Vant, Volney.

—CALL ON—
GEORGE JOHNSTON,
On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of
STOVES AND RANGES,
Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,
ART UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,
and ACORN,
Parlor Stoves.

THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
GRAND UNIVERSAL,
HAPPY THOUGHT,
HAPPY HOME,
and DUCHESS Ranges.

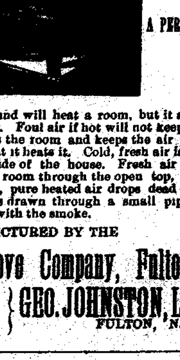
Among his other Attractions will be found the
Howe Ventilating Stove,
which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.
Yours Respectfully,
GEO. JOHNSTON.

—THE—
Howe Ventilating Stove.



A NEW STOVE. ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE. AN EXCELENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE. A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

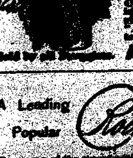
☞A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE
Howe Ventilating Stove Company, Fulton, N. Y.

F.G. WEEKS, President.
E. R. REDHEAD, Vice-President.
ALMON BRISTOL, Sec'y & Treas.
E.L. MESSENGER, Gen. Manager.

GEO. JOHNSTON, Local Agent
FULTON, N.Y.

PRESERVE YOUR HEALTH.
ROGERS' GRAPOLINE



[illegible]
Sold by all Druggists. A. H. ROGERS & CO. Geneseo, N.Y.

A Leading Popular Rochester Business University Commercial School.
[illegible]
L. L. WILLIAMS, President.

ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

[illegible]

[illegible]

Ontario Night Express .... 3:24 a. m.
[illegible] Express .... 11:27 a. m.
[illegible] and accommodation .... 5:20 p. m.
Oswego Day Express .... 9:27 p.m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	6:11	11:21	3:16	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	12:34	3:34	6:29

Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 5 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS.

P. E. Decker of Syracuse was in town yesterday

Rev. W. F. Markham has been spending a short time in town.

Thos. Farrell of New York, has been visiting Fulton, his old home.

W. B. Emerick of New York, is visiting his mother for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Saunderson of Brooklyn were in town last week.

Mrs. Thomas Farrell and son of New York are visiting friends in town.

Mrs. A. J. Coseo of Schenectady is visiting her parents in this village.

Mrs. Robert Bennett is on a visit to friends in New York and Brooklyn.

Mr. and Mrs. George Chauncey of Seneca Falls are visiting at R. Bradshaw's.

John Schermerhorn spent Friday in Fulton, the guest of F. D. Vanwagenen.

Mrs. G. R. Owen of Chamberlain, Dak., is visiting her father, Rev. Mr. Fulford.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Gilbert of Albany is passing a few days at A. G. Gilbert's.

Mrs. W. H. Phillips of Dakota, with her two children are visiting at R. E. Phillip's.

Thomas Palmer of New York City was in town last week. He returned Saturday.

Charles Baxter of Liverpool, N. Y., is in town to-day, the guest of Willard Johnson.

Wm. Youngs has gone to Toronto to take part in the regetta to be held there to-day.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Barnes of Syracuse attended the funeral of Mrs. Dean last Sunday.

Miss Hattie Whitaker left yesterday for Albany where she is to teach in a select school.

Dr. W. A. Hall of Syracuse was in town Saturday, looking as hale and hearty as ever.

Joseph Robinson of Oxford, Maine, was in town yesterday the guest of Thomas Carr.

Mrs. A. L. Myers of Rome and Mrs. Parker of Potsdam have been visiting at James Keeler's.

Mrs. Mary Walton of Waverly, N. Y., is visiting her father, Mr. James Grigson of Lower Oswego Falls.

R. B. True and wife of Syracuse were in attendance at the funeral of the late Mrs. Dean, last Sunday.

Richard Carr of Skaneateles Falls passed a few days last week at his father's home on Fifth street.

Mrs. Mary Reed formerly of Baldwinsville, later of Lincoln, Neb., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Sarah Kinney.

John C. O'Brien left for New York last evening to purchase his fall and winter stock of dry goods.

THE TIMES is under obligations to H. H. Gilbert for the illustrated official program of the Albany Bi-Centennial.

ARRIVING BY EVERY TRAIN.

Carload After Carload.

Every freight train coming into Syracuse is loaded with cases for the Central City Clothing Co. Their clerks are kept busy unpacking them and placing the goods in stock. They are going to show the largest, the finest and the best stock of ready made clothing for men boys and children of any house in the state. Hundreds of different styles and patterns in overcoats, ulsters, sartouts and suits will be shown that no other house can compete with either in styles or prices. Our gents furnishing goods and our hat and cap department will also have all the latest styles and novelties, only our prices will be lower than any other house. We invite your inspection for we know we can more than please you. C. C. C. C., Clothiers, Hatters and Furnishers 30 East Genesee street, Syracuse, N. Y.

For Notions and all kinds of Fancy Dry Goods go to the Boston Bazaar and save money.

Especially, low prices on children's school shoes for the past 60 days at Col[illegible]

[illegible] Hosiery, Gloves, Laces, [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] harbor and [illegible] thereto. The winning of the cup by Commodore Stevens who, by the way, belongs to the distinguished New Jersey family of that name made it his absolute property; but he in his love for aquatic sports made it a prize for international competition open to any nation and placed it in care of the New York Yacht club as trustee. The first to contest for it was the Cambria then the Sivonia, both of which belonged to Mr. Ashbury and hailed from England. Then Canada took a hand in the contest and sent first the Atlanta and afterward the Countess of Dufferin. England last year sent the Genesta and this year the Galatea. The most closely contested race of the seven was that of last year, when the Puritan was a winner by ten minutes in the first race and by half an hour in the second. Indeed the Galatea was so far behind that any one of the four big sloops would have beaten her.

The great interest in these races that yearly occur makes the yachting reporter a prominent addition to the newspaper staff. The most successful one in this city is Captain Coffin. There is a bit of history that is worthy of repitition here connected with him. He used to be the Captain of a New Bedford whaler. It so chanced that while stopping in New York, he attended Beecher's church and sat near the gentleman who reported the sermon. On the conclusion of the sermon, Coffin inquired concerning the short hand system and where he could obtain the necessary books for instruction. He received the information and when he went on his next cruise was fully prepared to study stenography. It is needless to say that when the three year's voyage was over, Capt. Coffin was a full fledged reporter. His sea training fits him admirably for the duty he so excelently performs. He is now attached to the World. The World, by the way, is taking much of the wind out of the Herald's sails in this matter of sports. The Herald used to be the yachtsman's favorite paper but I fear its glory has departed.

The great question which is really settled by these races is the superiority of the American style of yacht over the English, that difference being in its peculiar center board and great bredth compared with its shallow depth.

⁂

Sunday was the opening day for the churches. The wealthiest churches take a vacation, both pastor and people. As a matter of fact the churches of this city may be classed as fashionable, moderate and ultra fashionable. Of course their religious fevor, the state of the religious thermometor, one can't tell so well, but it would be safe to say that it decreases in the order of society position. There is however, lots of practical charity. Dr. Hall's church maintains three chapels in other parts of the city and Dr. VanDyke's church has two. The Methodist parsons make Ocean Grove or Chatauqua their haven of rest for the summer. Dr. Hall has been to Ireland where he owns considerable property. Dr. Hall is an importation and when Dr. Crosby resigned the Chancellorship of the University of New York, Dr. Hall took the vacancy. He is a man with large ideas, plenty of originalty and believes in practical charity. His Christanity is of a positive type and his sermons contain wholesome truth that some of his wealthy parishioners may entirely relish. He is to have a $60,000 residence on the fashionable part of 5th Avenue. Dr. Taylor is another foreigner having a congregation here. He comes from England and his church is given to benovelence. Dr. Taylor is a strong preacher, has some mannarisms but is one of those majestic men. He has always a large congregation. The latest newcommer is Dr. Kittridge who hails from Chicago. He comes to a Madison Avenue congregation and receives $35,000 per year. While in Chicago he preached against the corruption in high places and the truth was so refreshing that some of the city officials sued him for libel. His new congregation is a large one and a rich one.

The pastor of a metropolitan church is sure of a good audience a pleasant home and strong and influential friends. It is altogether a place much sought after.

⁂

The theatres are now open for the season. A new theatre has been opened by Poole, formerly manager of the Grand Opera House. There used to be in Astor Place a church which, having been given up by the congregation, was remodeled into a variety theatre. This Poole has secured and having spent a large sum of money, has opened a very attractive theatre.

There is a stony superstition among the theatrical fraternity that churches remodeled into theatres don't pay. Salmi Morse failed with his 230 street house and old St. Ann's church on Broadway which was remodeled a half dozen times, was a failure to the manager. Ed. Harrigan tried his luck then and was financially successful until from some mysterious cause, it took fire and burned down. Whether there is any special connection between the two I can't say, but there is the fact. The attractions for the season are good but of that more next week.

WANDERER.

To Let—The house at the corner of Sixth and State streets. Enquire of Thomas Carr.

[illegible]

The Re-Union.

The Encampment and Re-union last week passed off most pleasantly without an accident. On Wednesday, in addition to the regular camp routine and Re-union of different companies addresses were delivered by the Rev Dempster W. Chase of this village, Comrade W. H. Kenyon of Oswego, and Hon. N. W. Nutting of Oswego. The event of the Encampment was the sham battle on Thursday afternoon, and was witnessed by the largest crowd that ever assembled on the fair ground. It was impossible to estimate the number accurately, but there probably between 10,000 and 12,000. The factory was clos ed and nearly all places of business in Fulton and Oswego Falls, showing that nearly every one in this vicinity was taking advantage of the event while every train brought in carloads of people from the surrounding towns. By three o'clock the grand stand was crowded at 25 cents a head and the buildings on the ground, fences, and every conceivable elevated point was blocked with human beings. The parade of all the organizations was about three o'clock, after which the din of battle began. The Confederate forces, under the command of Major Auer, consisting of the Fifth battery, the Forty-first Separate company, and the posts from Pulaski, Mexico, Baldwinsville, New Haven, Orwell, and Syracuse. The Federal forces embracing the remainder of the camp were commanded by General Tim Sullivan of Oswego. The Rebs had four pieces of artillery to the Federals two, but as outlined in the program, the Confederate works were carried and Major Auer capitulated. The sham battle was brought to a close with an open field fight; in which skirmishing tactics were demonstrated. Upwards of eight hundred men participated in the engagement.

On the last day an address delivered by the Hon. S. E. Payne. Artillery practice, in which shells were exploded in the air over the lake, and the re-uion of various companies were the chief events.

A Horrible Death.

A most horrible accident occurred at the D. L. & W. depot last Wednesday afternoon in which "Dr," Julius Baker of Oswego lost his life. Baker come to the encampment at Oswego Falls on Wednesday with the intention of selling a kidney remedy which he manufactures, and was about the fair ground more or less during the day and imbibed, it is said, somewhat freely. Between five and six o'clock while he was crossing the track a baggage car was being backed up in front of an engine. Several persons that were present saw his danger and shouted to him to get out of the way. He appeared to be somewhat dazed and the warnings were not heeded. Baggage Master Patrick Casey endangered his own life in an attempt to pull the man from the track but it was too late. The baggage car passed over his abdomen, severing both legs. His head was also mangled. Father Kearney who was in the locality was summoned and administered the rites of the Catholic church before the awestricken crowd, that had collected. Baker's sufferings ended in less than an hour and his remains were removed to Cole's undertaking rooms where they were prepared for burial. An inquest was held on Saturday morning and a verdict of accidental death rendered.

Moulders' Picnic.

The moulders' picnic Saturday was not so well attended as it would have been a week earlier or a week later. The G. A. R. re-union having done the "picnic business" for the week. Still a fair crowd was there and all enjoyed themselves. Dancing began shortly after two o'clock. At three o'clock Mr. D. W. Daley of Syracuse made a short speech, followed by the principal speaker of the occasion, John J. Junio, of Syracuse. His argument principally was that the Knights of Labor possesses advantages the Trade Unions do not have, and urged every working man to join the Knights. He was attentively listened to and his sentiments were frequently applauded. At the conclusion of his speech, dancing was resumed and with ice cream and other refreshments the time was pleasantly passed till dark, when the music ceased and the crowd dispersed. Financially the picnic was a success.

OBITUARY.

At Cranford, N. J., Sept. 2, Robert, infant son of Robert and Alice A. Saunderson died. The services were held at Grace Chapel, Brooklyn, and the interment took place at Pannellville Saturday, Sept. 4th.

Mrs. Kendrick died from consumption at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Woods, in Oswego Falls, last Sunday; after a long sickness. Funeral services conducted by Rev. Chas. Olmstead were held at the Congregational church yesterday afternoon.

Caleb Oliver died of pneumonia at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Susan Foster on Cayuga street, last Saturday night, aged 83 years. The funeral was held from the house yesterday afternoon Rev. Dempster W. Chase officiating. The remains were interred at Mt. Adnah.

Mrs. Myrtie E. Dean died last Friday, the third anniversary of her wedding day, at her house in New London, Ohio. Mrs. Dean was born at [illegible]

A. E. [illegible]

Married.

Miss Hattie [illegible] of this village and Mr. Frank [illegible] of Troupville, Cayuga county, were united in marriage last Sunday evening by the Rev. Charles Olmstead of Oswego Falls, at the bride's home. The couple will make Troupville their future home.

Ember Days.

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week are the Fall Ember Days. These are days of Fasting and Prayer for the Ministry, for all candidates for Holy Orders and for an increase in the number of God's messengers. Services will be held on these days at 10 a. m., and on Friday evening as usual at 7:30 at Zion church.

Annual Parade.

The Oswego Falls Fire Department will unite with the Fulton Department in their annual parade to-morrow. The different companies are ordered to appear at the engine house in uniform at one p. m. sharp, in front of which the line will be formed. The line of march we be from engine house to Oneida street, Oneida to Third to Cayuga to Fourth to Rochester to First to Broadway across the bridge to Second in Oswego Falls to Beech to First to lower bridge, across and up First to engine house. The Fulton and Hannibal bands will furnish music for the occasion. After the parade the steamers will be taken to water and the new Siamese coupling tested.

September Harvest Excursion.

The Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh railway announce very low rates, less than half fare, from Rochester to all principal points in Dakota, Minnesota, Kansas, and Nebraska on account of their Harvest Excursion, Tuesday, Sept. 21st, leaving Rochester 7:50 a. m. and 5:40 p. m. The tickets will be good twenty to forty days, according to the point of destination. The rates offered are the lowest that have ever been given the public and probably no more favorable opportunity will ever occur for those who are interested to see and judge for themselves of the productiveness of these wonderful regions. For tickets and further information apply to nearest agent selling B. R. and P. tickets or to I. S. Emery, General Passenger Agent, Rochester, N. Y.

Alberta Comedy Company

UNION OPERA HOUSE
SCHENECTADY Sept, 13, 1886.

Mr. Howard

DEAR SIR:—I wish to say a few words in regard to the Laura Alberta Co., which is to play an engagement in your town this coming week, Saturday, Aug. 27, closed a week's engagement with me and gave the greatest satisfaction of any company that ever visited this place. Never in the history of this house has a company received such flattering press notices as they have. You and the citizens of Fulton should be congratulated for securing such a first-class attraction, as each and every member of this party are ladies and gentlemen, both on and off the stage and artists of the first water. I find Mr. Harrison, Mr. Randall and Mr. Southerland, square and upright men to do business with. Hoping that your people will appreciate this company by packing the house nightly (which they deserve,) I remain.

Truly Yours,
W. J. SLITER,
Manager Uuion Opera House.

A new lot of Hanging Lamps, Stand Lamps, Bird Cages and Tinware just received at the Boston Bazaar.

Almost a Murder.

In the low drinking "dive" kept by "Toby" Burden on Broadway, Oswego Falls, occurred a drunken row last Wednesday afternoon which nearly resulted fatally to one of the participants. It seems that while Burden was going across the room of the saloon with a glass of whiskey in one hand and two glasses of beer in the other, he was struck for some unknown reason by Patrick McDonald. Burden it is claimed stopped to remonstrate with him when he received another blow in the face. This thoroughly angered him and drawing back, he struck McDonald on the side of the head with the beer glasses breaking them and cutting a serious gash. McDonald did not fall at once but attempted to throw a heavy spittoon at Burden. He was however, prevented from doing this, and, covered with blood, was taken across the street to Dr. Marsh's office who fortunately was at home. Had surgical aid not been at hand he would undoutedly have bleed to death. On the following day he was removed to his home on Buffalo street in this village where he now is, with good prospects of recovery. Burden was taken to the Oswego jail and bail being disallowed he will remain there until the result of McDonald's injuries are seen. Burden's downfall during the past six or eight years has been great and can be held forward by the advocates of temperance as another illustration of the rapid strides that man will take on the downward course when liquor once gets a hold upon him. He did carting in this village, owned his own cart and horse and some little property and was a good citizen. After this he kept a meat market. Then the Burden House on the dock and finally the low drinking den in Oswego Falls where the affray occurred.

[illegible]

Miss Lottie Perry is visiting friends in Hannibal.

The next Free Methodist Conference will be held at Syracuse.

Born, on Sunday last, to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Johnston, a daughter.

The Thomson-Houston electric light is now used in Oswego Falls.

THE TIMES is indebted to Levi Cooper for Grand Rapids, Mich., papers.

The Alberta Comedy Co. every night next week. See small bills. Admission only 25 and 35 cents, children 15 cents.

Rev. Patrick A. Ludden of St. Peters church, Troy, has been appointed to the office of Bishop of the new diocese of Syracuse.

Rev. Charles Hudson Smith occupied the pulpit at the Presbyterian church, at Skaneateles, last Sunday morning and evening.

It is said that the Oswego Town fair held last week was not a very creditable exhibition, and that the display did not do justice to the town.

The Rev. Mr. Fulford has been returned here by the recent conference of the Free Methodist church. This is a source of gratification to his many friends.

Half fare tickets are now sold over the "Phoenix" road to those desiring to attend the fourteenth annual exhibition of the Phoenix Agricultural Society.

The twenty-ninth separate company of Oswego yesterday forwarded $301.75 to the Charleston sufferers as the proceeds of an entertainment given the night previous.

A church picnic from Clay was held at the Fair ground yesterday. The party came down by the steamer Milton S. Price and seemed to enjoy the day's outing hugely.

"The Tourists" was given at the opera house last Monday evening before a small audience. The play is a light one but full of fun and vivacity and gave good satisfaction.

W. C. Stone of Minetto fills James Cooper's position as principal of the school at Lower Oswego Falls. Miss Emma Grigson and Miss Lizzie Merriam are the assistants.

The Alberta Comedy Company has a repertoire of some twelve fine comedies and will be at Stephens opera house every evening next week. Change of program every night.

Congressional delegates from this district are George B. Sloan, John L. Mott, P. W. Cullinan, T. P. Kingsford of Oswego; A. S. Guthrie, Hannibal, and G. M. Case of Fulton. They were named by Mr. Nutting.

Reduced rates are announced on the railroads for those desiring to attend the G. A. R. Encampment and Veteran's Re-union now in progress at Fair Haven. This encampment will continue through Friday.

The state fair will be held at Utica, Sept. 23, continuing to the 29th. In addition to the special prizes of gold, silver and bronze medals, certificates, etc., there are upwards of $11,000 of prizes in money for more than 541 premiums.

To-day the Phœnix Union Agricultural Society opened its fourteenth annual exhibition. The race track has been greatly improved, and the races will be one of the leading features, See premium list in another column. Half fare rates on the "Phoenix road."

About ten days ago Mr. Nathan Rowlee missed a little roll of bills, amounting to forty dollars and advertised the same supposing he had lost it in some way out of his pocket. Last Saturday he felt something in an unused watch pocket which proved to be the lost money.

As an addition attraction to the Phoenix fair the management has provided for a public sale of live stock and any personal property which the patrons of the fair may desire to dispose of. Good auctioneers will be furnished to conduct the sales, and a small charge made to defray the expenses.

The sixty-third quarterly session of the Oswego county lodge I. O. of G. T. was held at Oswego Falls last week Tuesday and Wednesday. Eighteen lodges and four juvenile temples were represented. The county lodge meet again in December with the Amboy Centre lodge.

The Morrell Bros. have challenged the Times, Patriot and Oswego Falls Observer to a contest at base ball. The Patriot in its last issue emphatically declines the challenge. We, however, rather like the game and would be pleased to take an outing some afternoon soon and "fan the air" with a base ball bat.

The New Orleans Minstrels played at the opera house last Saturday evening to a fair sized audience. The "Golden Band," was the chief attraction and was considered by our local experts to be first-class. The troupe is a good one and the show was thoroughly enjoyed by lovers of this class of entertainments.

There will be a grand public meeting under the auspices of the Father Mathew T. A. B. Society in their rooms over Bacon's store to-morrow evening. An attractive program will be presented. Address by Rev. Father [illegible], Music by [illegible] Kenyon, the blind musician. All are invited to attend.

[illegible]

[illegible] lawns; a well graded drive on Fourth street; a centre for a large trade in manufacturing and agricultural products; the damp, unhealthy atmosphere made healthy by the judicious cutting of the forrest of trees; different varieties of shade trees taking the place of the monotonous maple; good sidewalks, &c. &c. It is not well to scoff at such ideas unless they are without foundation. The question, is it possible to accomplish so much, can be answered in the affirmative. It is not probable, but it is possible. The people of Fulton have everything needful to make the village just such a place as above described, saving the most important thing—the will to do it. No one gainsays that each inhabitant would be better situated in the ideal order of things, and yet, knowing this fact, they will fail to put their shoulder to the wheel to bring about such a state. The same old soliloquy—let some one else do it, I am well enough pleased as it is. How can this be done? Easily enough when the public mind is determined to do it. It is a false theory to say that Fulton cannot grow except as the whole country grows. Villages are like individuals. Stewart became a prince of dry goods merchants—while some other man who started with ample means and a fair stock of goods never increased his business. So one village by enterprise might make a city of itself in short order while another might never increase. We would cite the rapid growth of Cortland, Syracuse, Chicago. Does anyone doubt but that it was the spirit of enterprise in these places that made them push forward?

It is true that we are not located on the N. Y. Central railroad, but we are only 25 miles from it and the difference as far as freight is concerned is only trifling if any. We have three lines of railroads running here and a water route, so that products may be carried to and from every part of our country in direct lines. Our water power is unexcelled and its development is yet in its infancy. The village is excellently located for drainage. Now, how reach this disideratum. A good business man advertises his wares, employs trusty servants, keeps a tidy store, is liberal minded, energetic. Has our village been conducted on the business man principle? Have we always had servants who subordinated personal matters to public welfare. Have our citizens tried to impress business men and manufacturers, that here was the place for them. If not done in the past do it now. Organize a citizens' committee or association having these things to work for and work for them. Have this committee discuss what kind of manufactories are best for us and then, correspond with and meet men engaged in such business—lay before them the natural advantages of our place and induce them to come. But live business men gage the make up of inhabitants by the place they live in. Such a man coming here would find some streets seething with foul odors—would be liable to break his neck on rickety sidewalks—would find 30 odd saloons, supporting as many drones—would find about 100 dead beats—a public park that is a disgrace to our people—dilapidated houses, fences, and lawns showing a lack of the spirit of industry or thrift. This could be easily changed. A little natural or public pride in property owners and we might see beautiful lawns, safe walks, clean houses and stable fences. An outlay of $200 per year would soon give us a beautiful park. A little extra work and judicious management of our streets and we would have fine streets. If there were a jail yard, and imprisoned criminals were compelled to break stone, we would have in time the very best kind of roads. One thing needful is sewerage. It must come. Why let it drag itself upon us. Be up and moving. Find out just how much we can afford to do now, and do it. Our street railroad needs extending in order to give us better service and better time should be made in running. The electric lights are a foregone conclusion and must come. The proper men should boom the fair grounds and the lake. There is no better place for excursions or picnics. We have natural fishing grounds, stock them, it will pay. Use strong endeavor to get New Yorkers to pass their summers at Fulton. It is far pleasanter than many summer resorts. Drive out the saloons, and turn your grog money into business. With high license the rum business can be held in check and lawlessness and crime reduced. Young men, organize and start the movement for a free library and reading room. There ought to be 50 or 100 young men who could carry such a scheme through. Stick to the legitimate object and you can succeed. Hire rooms where you can give a lecture by local talent now and then. Encourage local talent in various ways. Let some ex-farmers start a farmer's meeting. A union of men engaged in similar pursuits produces great results. The farms about Fulton are not half developed. Organize a farmers' society with regular meetings at Fulton, a central point for the purpose of discussing farm topics and being of mutual benefit. Above all things in these matters keep the idea of personal money in mind. They have been too liable to spring up and then die out. Such was the fate of the Y. M. C. A. reading rooms in Fulton in former years. [illegible] [illegible] through a sense of business or for reasons of economy (so called), thus endangering health and possibly causing the necessity of a doctor's bill far in excess of what would be required to clothe them in health-protecting garments. The homely old sayings are again applicable "Penny wise and pound foolish," and "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." Don't be foolish but come at once and select a good warm winter suit and overcoat, and don't forget a good rubber overcoat to keep out the damps of this season of the year.

PEEBLES & COOK
Opposite Opera House.
CHILDREN'S CLOTHING A SPECIALTY.

Sam. Jones said he saw a man who said he saw a man, that saw a man, who knew a man, that saw a man, whose wife said her daughter saw a lady, who saw a lady that knew a lady, whose husband saw a man that knew a man who saw a man that said the right place to buy Dry Goods or Clothing is at

H. & A. Rosenbloom's
Double Mammoth Stores.

This was a long time ago; everybody knows it now.

THE TIMES' OFFERS!

$1.25 will give you one year's Subsctiption to THE TIMES and Four months Subscription to the

DETROIT FREE PRESS

The most original, piquant and entertaining of American Newspapers. $1.25 will also give you one year's Subscription to

THE FULTON TIMES

and one year's Subscription to the

AMERICAN FARMER,

A Sixteen page Agricultural Magazine, which is rapidly taking rank as one of the leading Agricultural Publications of this country. The same offers to old Subscribers who pay subscription to date and one year in advance.

SUBSCRIBE! SUBSCRIBE.

DREAMS.

To dream of a balloon ascension indicates that you have "got wind" of our competitors' high prices, and if you make any purchase before seeing our stock and learning of our great bargains, your pocket-book will probably be knocked "higher than Gilroy's kite."

To dream of money represents that you may start a bank savings account with the liberal discounts we make on sales. You should not hesitate a moment to follow the advice of the ORACLE.

To dream of suicide forbodes a calamity apt to befall any one that pays exorbitant prices. Take warning, and purchase not until we have quoted you figures others dare not meet.

To dream of old rags indicates that you have not been careful in buying clothing, and that you have been swindled by unfair dealers. You should come with haste to our establishment and see our new styles and low prices.

To dream of a ring indicates a proposition in matrimony, and that it would be well to order the wedding suit of us.

To dream of a coffin is a sure sign that our storm of low prices will make great havoc among competitors, and that there will be a pestilence of genuine bargains for our customers. It will be [illegible]

[illegible] the corn begins to [illegible]

[illegible] of potatoes [illegible]

[illegible] a bushel of potatoes from Albany to New York by [illegible] from Liverpool to New York by steamer.

A cross of the Jersey with the hornless Galloway cattle is said to be productive of excellent results. The calves from this cross are hornless.

A gunny bag of charcoal hung in a cistern will sweeten the water which has soured or become foul. The charcoal should be broken into small lumps.

Study what your soil and the crops you grow need, and then, as best you can, feed so as to make special manures to meet the demand.

The pigs farrowed last spring if kept on clover will weigh nearly as much at Christmas as those farrowed last fall.

Encourage the poultry to forage in grain and hay fields after harvest. Give a light breakfast and nothing till evening.

Do not overfeed the young pigs let them make all the growth possible, but do not attempt to make them fat. Fat in summer should be avoided. A good moderate condition is best.

The days of salt pork as the principal meet for farmers fortunately is passed, and with them impaired digestion, that under the old diet was the source of innumerable ills.

Four million dollars worth of potatoes are imported into the United States every year, yet American farmers cannot get paying prices for home product. The cause is that international transportation is so high.

A cow calving in the fall, if properly fed and cared for, will bring more profit in a year than if she calves in May, if milk or butter is to be sold.

Every dairyman should prepare to feed green grass or green fodder in the stable night and morning as soon as the pasture begins to fail.

Professor Shaler says there are 50,000 square miles east of the Mississippi now covered by swamps which might easily be drained and turned into fertile lands.

Plow the wheat land early, so as to get it in good condition before seeding time. Many crops of wheat are injured by hurry when preparing the land. A fine seed bed is of great importance with wheat.

Good judges claim that a hog or steer that will fatten well and increase rapidly should be as nearly square in front and behind as possible. While this rule may not alone be a true index of quality, yet taken in connection with other indications, it may assist in arriving at a knowledge of value of the animal judged.

A writer in the Indania Farmer thinks that overwork and the abominably early hours of rising on many farms are the great reasons why boys do not stay on the farms. He regards it a crying abuse that farmers drive their business as if their only aim in life was to see how much work they could get done in a day, and how little rest and enjoyment they could get along with.

Domestic Recipes.

Frozen Tea.—Take as much fine flavored tea as you choose, drawn in the usual way, sweeten while it is hot; then give a dash of the lemon flavor by slicing up half of one very thin and adding to the tea. Freeze as usual. Some persons find it more reviving on a hot day than any other sherbet.

Lemonade.—Peel six lemons, roll and slice them and pack in a pitcher, alternately with sugar, allowing for each lemon two teaspoonfuls. Cover and set in a cool place for ten or fifteen minutes before adding three pints of water and a lump of ice. Stir well and long; fill tumblers one-third the way up with cracked ice and pour in the lemonade.

Stuffed Tomatoes.—Cut a piece from the smooth top of each fine, ripe tomato, and take out the inside. Chop the pulp, mix with a force-meat of crumbs and butter season with salt, sugar and pepper. Fill the hollowed tomatoes with this mixture, fit on the tops and bake from forty to forty-five minutes, packed neatly in a bake dish. Fill the gaps between the tomatoes with the force-meat if any is left over before baking.

Daisy Biscuits.—Beat very lightly one egg, pour it over a pint of flour, add a glass of milk, add chop in one tablespoon of lard and butter mixed. Work thoroughly together; break up pieces the size of marbles, which must be rolled thin. Sprinkle with dry flour as you roll them out, to make them crisp; stick with a fork and bake quickly.

Tomato Sauce.—Six dozen large ripe tomatoes, two green peppers without seeds, half dozen white onions, nine cups vinegar, twenty four tablespoons brown sugar, ten tablespoons salt, or to taste, one ounce each of cinnamon, cloves, and curry powder, if you have it, and celery seed. Boil till smooth; put vinegar and spices in just before taking from the stove. Put in wide mouthed jars.

She Had the Best.

"Frank," called the President to Mrs. Cleveland, early in the morning, as they were completing their arrangements to go fishing.

[illegible]

[illegible] that Christianity won't [illegible]. As one comes to the [illegible] goes out.

If a man hasn't religion enough to pray in his family, he hasn't enough to take him to heaven.

The Bible was not given to teach me the way the heavens go but to teach me the way to go to heaven.

Perhaps if you don't talk about your religion it is because you haven't any religion to talk about.

The devil is too much of a gentleman to stay where he is not welcome. Why does he stay in your heart?

God loves righteousness and hates sin. The devil loves sin and hates righteousness. That is the difference.

If any man doesn't like what I say let him come to me after the meeting and say so and I will—forgive him.

The devil is just about satisfied with a Christian who will do things in New York that he wouldn't do at home.

One thing, I have against the church in this day, we are to slow. The devil can run a mile while we are putting on our boots.

Right in the middle of the path of duty there is no power in earth or hell that can harm you; you had better mind how you take to the bushes along the way. There is danger there.

The difference between the devil and the penitentiary is the penitentiary works you hard and boards you, but devil puts you at the meanest, dirtiest jobs in the world and makes you board yourself.

You say you have doubts, you little cymling-head! No wonder. Now, if you will pull up one of your doubts by the roots, you will find something on the root, and the name of that something is sin.

If I throw a stone into a crowd of dogs, and one runs yelping, you know that it is that one that is hit. When you hear of one of these fellows on the street yelping at me, you may know he is the dog that is hit.

God bores through the top of a man's head to his heart and then goes on down to your pocket. He has never got down to your pocket yet. You don't believe what you don't see. Did you ever see your back bone? Some men believe they have a backbone, when it is nothing but a cotton string run up their backs.

The Noise of New York.

The Texas Siftings says there is probably more noise in New York city to the square inch than any other city on the face of the globe, which accounts for the great amount of semi-deafness that prevails. Ask a New Yorker a question with perhaps the single exception of "What'll you take?" and he almost invariably responds with an interrogative "Hey?" "How?" "How's that?" or some other form to induce you to repeat your question. This does not arise altogether from pre-occupation of mind, superinduced by a multitude of calls on the attention, or from an indolent mental condition; it is semi-deafness. The universal hubbub in the city has a most malign influence upon the brain and nervous system, calculated to produce numerous disorders, deafness among the rest. In fact the celebrated Dr. Hammond said there is more deafness in New York than any other city he ever saw.

In New York there is no escaping from the noise. With the maddening elevated railroads splitting the city and your ears, and three or four different lines through the whole length of the city; with the universal street cars, trucks, brewery wagons, steam whistles, and the thousand other noise producers out of doors, and the crowded, noisy population, with their pianos and their lungs in-doors, there is absolutely no escape, no place where the ear and nerves can get repose. The question of noise is a very serious one, and and should be looked into by our men of science, and should be legislated for by our city rulers, or it will run New York into a mad house.

Abraham Lincoln in War Times.

I yielded to the temptation and found the president most kind and courteous. A glance was sufficient to dissipate the impression of Lincoln's unseemly levity amid scenes of horror which had been produced in England by the repetition of his jokes and apothegms. Care and anxiety never sat more visibly on any mortal brow. His love for natural poetry was a proof that the natural temperament of the man was melancholy, and his face showed that he felt the full responsibility of his teraible position. I know not whether there was any particle of truth in the story that after Chancellorsville he meditated suicide, but I can well believe that Chancellorsville went to his heart.

The little stories one or two of which he told in the interview I had with him, were simply his habitual mode of expression, and perhaps at the same time a relief for his surcharged mind—a pinch, as it were, of mental snuff. It is needless to describe Lincoln's figure, or the homeliness of language which, when the theme was inspiring, became, as in the Gettysburg address, the purest eloquence. Democracy may certainly point with triumph to this Illinois "rail splitter" as a proof that high culture is not always necessary to the making of a statesman. Indeed, Lincoln's example is rather dangerous in that respect. The [illegible] of his statesmanship were his [illegible] and right feeling, which are not the invariable characteristics of [illegible].—[illegible] in Century.

[illegible]

[illegible]

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, all humors, boils, pimples, general debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney and liver complaints, and all affections caused by impure blood or low condition of the system. Try it.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. I took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. Lovejoy, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. My whole system has been built up and strengthened, my digestion improved, and my head relieved of the bad feeling. I consider it the best medicine I have ever used, and should not know how to do without it." Mary L. Pearle, Salem, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists, $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass

100 Doses One Dollar.

There is nothing by which I have through life more profited than by the just observations, the good opinions, and sincere and gentle encouragement of amiable and sensible women.—[Sir S. Romilly.

If you had taken two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring you would not have had that coated tongue or bad taste in the mouth this morning. Keep a vial with you for occasional use.

He that would undermine the foundations of our hope for eternity seeks to beat down the column which supports the feebleness of humanity.—[Nevins.

H. C. Giesler tells of a remarkable cure affected by Acker's Blood Elixir: A gentleman was literally covered with sores, brought on by neglecting his system; ulcers or boils came out all over him, but a thorough course of Acker's Blood Elixir cured him. He also says that he will warrant this as being the best blood medicine that can be bought. It is always certain to cure Syphilis in its worst form. It is positively guaranteed. 27eow

Jenny Lind's daughter is coming to this country to sing. She is not described as a great singer but old people who heard the entrancing voice of her mother will listen to her with indulgence.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

The report is confirmed that Krupp has secured a contract to supply 1,500 tons of steel rails for the construction of railroads to be used in the development of mining industries in China.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

Two boys bathing in the river near near Columbus, Ind., found an old Spanish coin of the value of half a dollar, bearing the date of 1782, and the old stories of buried treasure are revived.

Send for Pamphlet on Female Diseases mailed free, securely sealed. Dr. J. B Marchisi, Utica, N. Y. 20tf.

The wife of a "well known United States Senator" is said by New York newspapers to have made application for appointment in the chorus of the the American Opera Company.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial—

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7; 1

This has been a poor season for insects, according to State Entomologist J. A. Lintner. He says that not nearly as many are to be found this year.

Woman and Her Diseases.

is the title of an interesting illustrated treaties (160 pages) sent post-paid, for 10 cents in stamps. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

The cost of the proposed tunnel between Ireland and Scotland is estimated at $25,000,000 additional for land approaches.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

It is impossible that an ill-natured man can have a public spirit, for how should he love ten thousand men who never loved one?—[Pope.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

W. W. Reed, of Winchester, Ind., writes: "One of my customers, Mrs. Louisa Pike, Bartonia, Randolph County Ind., was a long sufferer with Consumption, and was given up to die by her physicians. She heard of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption and began buying it of me. In six months time she walked to this city a distance of six miles, and is now so much improved that she has quit using it. She feels she owes her life to it." Free trial bottles at R. E. Phillips' drug store.

Divers in thirty feet of water, at Holyoke dam, [illegible] have kept [illegible] at the [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

JAMES COYLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St. the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping th dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

---

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.36
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

uy while it is Cheap!

Purest, Cheapest, Best.

[illegible]

[illegible]

In [illegible] Hospital, N. Y., [illegible]

[illegible] "Every patient treated [illegible]

In St. Francis Hospital, N. Y., [illegible]

Dr. L. R. White, U. S. Examining Surgeon, says: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. J. M. [illegible], [illegible] cured [illegible] patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says: "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, M. D., says: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

IS THE ONLY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD THAT DESTROYS THE GERMS OF DISEASE IN THE BLOOD, and permanently cures all diseases arising therefrom, such as Malaria, Fevers, Rheumatism, Biliousness, &c., and IS THE GRANDEST TONIC EVER DISCOVERED. Removes nervous prostration and premature decay by disinfecting the blood, so that the starving nerves are supplied with life giving nourishment, bringing back the VIGOR AND POWER OF YOUTH.

Send for the great list of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine.

Price $1 per bottle. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price. Agents wanted everywhere.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., New York.

For Sale by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y.

If you have great talents industry will improve them; if moderate abilities industry will supply their deficiency. Nothing is denied to well directed labor. Nothing is ever to be obtained without it.—[Sir J. Reynolds.

Woman's Face.

"What furniture can give such finish to a room, as a tender woman's face," asks George Elliott. Not any, we are happy to answer, provided the glow of health tempers the tender expression. The pale, anxious, bloodless face of the consumptive, or the evident sufferings of the dyspeptic, induce feelings of sorrow and grief on our part and compel us to tell them of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," the sovereign remedy for consumption and other diseases of the respiratory system as well as dyspepsia and other digestive troubles. Sold everywhere.

To do our work well, or to be careless in doing it, are as much different as working hard is from being idle.—[Ischomachus.

I WAS A FOOL.

Yes, they said I was a fool not to try Sulphur Bitters for rheumatism, from which I had suffered over two years; but I had tried so many doctors and medicines without getting relief that I was discouraged. I am on my fourth bottle and am almost cured. I was a fool that I didn't try that wonderful remedy before.—[C. G. PRATT, Manchester, N. H.

"Ladies will be interested to know that the Princess of Wales no longer wears colored stockings," says the Town Topics "she indulges only in white silk ones for ordinary wear."

Our readers are cautioned about buying medicines which are not endorsed by some well known druggist. H. C Gisler, has made a thorough study of Blood diseases, and after a careful investigation, and many practical tests, postively asserts that Acker's Blood Elixir will cure all blood disorders, ridding the system of its impurities, and eaving it strong, vigorous and healthy. he will warrent it. It is a certain cure or all skin diseases. 27eow

Such as thy words are, such will thy affections be esteemed; and such will thy deeds as thy affections, and such thy life as thy deeds.—[Socrates.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Oinment emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

The public schools of this country now employ 300,000 teachers, it is stated and pay them $62,000,000, not a very flattering annual average of a little more than $200 each.

MY FAMILY DOCTOR

For the past two years has been Sulphur Bitters, and until I began using them in my family, we had more or less sickness, and our doctor's bill has been very large. Since he began their use we have had no doctor to pay, and three dollars invested in Sulphur Bitters has kept health in our family.—[E. KNOTT, postmaster, Waverly, Iowa.

The merchants of New Orleans are favorably considering a proposition to establish a line of steamers between that city and Rio Janeiro.

SAVED HIS LIFE.

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., says he was, for many years badly afflicted with Phthisic, also diabetes; the pains were almost unendurable and would sometimes almost throw him into convulsions. He tried Electric Bitters and got relief from the first bottle and after taking six bottles was entirely cured and had gained in flesh eighteen pounds, Says he positively believes he would have died, had it not been for the relief afforded by Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by R. E. Phillips.

The midnight sun is not a wearing attraction. Mrs. Scidmore of Washington, who has been at Beyen, Norway, writes that she has seen it, and would give one dollar for a dark night and an honest sleep.

Try Carter's Little Nerve Pills for any case of nervousness, sleeplessness, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, &c., relief is sure.—The only nerve medicine for the price in market. In vials at 25 cents.

St. Peter's cathedral in Montreal, which is now approaching completion, is the largest sacred edifice in North America. It is built on the same plan of St. Peter's at Rome, and will cost $500,000.

Only Nine Left.

A gentleman traveling through the mountainous and thinly settled districts of North Carolina was overtaken by a severe storm. As he was on horseback, and therefore quite unprotected, he beheld with delight a log cabin in the distance, and speedily betook himself thither. The old farmer greeted him with true southern hospitality, and he soon found himself [illegible]

[illegible]

First Society Girl—Oh, Belle, you ought to see my new bathing-suit, it is perfectly lovely.

Second Society Girl—Oh, I should love to!

First Society Girl—Well, I'll let you see it when we get to the cottage. I left it in the pocket of my morning dress.—[New Haven News.

A Providence man who saved the life of a girl in a railroad accident says that she now insists upon marrying him out of pure gratitude. It is a thing of this sort which chills a man's desire to do noble and daring deeds.—[Fall River Advance.

If you want to buy a thermometer, we advise you to wait until next winter They will be lower then.—[Puck.

—Judge—Have you anything to say before the court passes sentence upon you?

Prisoner—Well, all I got to say is, I hope yor honor'll consider the extreme youth of my lawyer, an' let me off easy.—[Puck.

Customer—Waiter, here is a button in the soup.

Waiter—Button, sah; yes, sah. I guess dat's all right, sah.

Customer—It's all right, of course, but I thought perhaps a button-hole went with it.—[Life.

"I will add," concluded the young man who was applying for a situation, "that I am a college graduate." "Oh, that won't make any difference," was the re-assuring reply, "if you stick to your work, and, besides, we want somebody about the place who is strong, to carry in coal."—[New York Sun.

Judge—"You are charged with being a tramp. This is the third time in six months." Tramp.—"Great heavens! How time does slip away."—[Texas Siftings.

Proprietor—"So you're the young fellow that robs my orchard?"

Innocence—"I ain't been a-robbin no one."

Proprietor—"What makes your pockets bulge so?"

Innocence—"It's the way the pants is cut."—[Judge.

The world is filled with men whose chief occupation is parting their hair and arranging their neckties.—[New Haven News.

A number of young men were guying a big Scotchman about his big feet when he silenced them by saying: "Ye carn mek as much foon o'them as ye loike, boot them coom in handy whoon ye're in swummon."—[Boston Traveller.

If they continue shooting the Niagara rapids somebody may get hurt, and it probably will not be the rapids' either.—[Oil City Blizzard.

The bathing costumes at Naragansett Pier are exciting some criticism, but if they are anything like those worn at other resorts this season they are mighty small things to quarrel about.—[New Haven News.

Jones—Is Brown a Methodist or a Baptist? Smith—Neithe; he is a darned fool.—[Newman Independent.

Philadelphia no longer reads its title clear. Charleston has become the Quaker City.—[New York Mail.

The "chestnut bell" is becoming very popular wherever it has made its appearance. We predict great usefulness for this article at the Grand Army camp fires this winter.—[Lowell Citizen.

Matrimonial Marmalade,

You can measure a husband's discomfort by the hen peck.—[Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph,

The younger the wife the more wool a husband can pull over her eyes.—[Washington Critic.

When a married man begins to become bald-headed he isn't quite sure whether he ought to have a hair restorer or apply for a divorce.—[Philadelphia Call.

Almost every married man in the West has his house furnished with a cyclone cellar. They are found very useful in family storms.—[New Haven News.

Some linguistic punist declares that there is no such thing as a coal-hod. "Would to heaven there were not!" is the cry we hear from the hearts of hundreds of hen-pecked husbands.—[Lowell Citizen.

People who fret and worry don't enjoy life and only hasten themselves to their grave. Married men, don't forget to tell this to your wives when they raise a storm when they catch you coming home about 2 a. m.—[Philadelphia Herald.

Onions inhaled cause sleep. Here is a hint to married women. Let them tie onions to their husbands' chins before they sit down to supper and they will then be too sleepy to get out to the lodge or class-meeting.—[Philadelphia Herald.

Siftings.

"I am very fond of little boys," she said, as she tripped on a string stretched across the pavement. "I feel as if I could eat a couple of them this minute, raw."

"How to select a piano," is the heading of a newspaper article. If some people had the selecting of a piano they would select that it remain with the manufacturer.

She was a crank on the subject of music. A gentleman knocked at the door and asked "Does Mr. Smith live here?" "No, sir, his room is an octave higher—in the next flat," she replied, in a [illegible] andante tone of voice.—[Texas Siftings.

[illegible]

[illegible] will [illegible] or relieve any case [illegible]

"I was troubled for a year with torpid liver and indigestion, and after trying everything [illegible] I used Sulphur Bitters. The first bottle revived me and the second cured me entirely."—J. S. Williamson, Rochester, N. Y.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

BLUE PILLS

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately. Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or high-colored?

IT IS Dangerous!

Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use Sulphur Bitters! Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is

The Invalid's Friend.

The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Don't Wait.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

OVER WORKED Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00. A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets, 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest rates for advertising in 981 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y

WANTED—I want you to do parlor work for me at your own home; plenty work; good pay; $1 per piece; all materials free. A. LOVE, CLEVELAND, O.

Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St. N.Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ASTHMA AND CATARRH. Dr. H. W. Reed's Celebrated Asthma and Catarrh Relief, the most effectual and sure cure yet discovered. Samples sent free to all who ask. Fifty cent and dollar boxes sent by mail. A. ETHRIDGE, Proprietor, Rome, N. Y.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure By JOHN H. MCALVIN, Lowell, Mass., 14 years tax collector. Sent free to any address.

MOTH-WAX

KILLS THE MOTH

and the old Moth Miller. Sample cake by mail 6 cents. W. H. H. CHILDS, 73 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

FRENCH'S HOTEL.

CITY HALL SQUARE, NEW YORK,

Opposite City Hall and the Post Office.

This Hotel is one of the most complete in its appointments and furniture of ANY HOUSE in New York City and is conducted on the European Plan.

Rooms only One Dollar per day. Half minute's walk from Brooklyn Bridge and Elevated R. R. All lines of cars pass the door. Most convenient Hotel in New York for Merchants to stop at. Dining Rooms, Cafes and Lunch Counter replete with all the luxuries at moderate prices. 8y1

WRITE TO N. A. MILLER, Elmira, N. Y. President of the Elmira School of Commerce and ALLEN BUSINESS COLLEGE, for a catalogue of the Leading Business Training Institution of America. Gold Prize $50.

2,000 AGENTS WANTED for the NEW WORK.

GLADSTONE—PARNELL

AND THE GREAT IRISH STRUGGLE.

By the eminent author, HON. T. P. O'CONNOR, M. P. for Liverpool, and R. M. McWADE, Esq. Endorsed by HON. C. S. PARNELL. A thrilling history of Irish oppression and the mighty struggle for Home Rule that is rocking the British Empire to its centre; also Biographies of the leaders. An entirely new work from high authority, of all absorbing interest, richly illustrated, and an immense demand. Apply quickly to W. A. HOUGHTON & CO., 12 East 14th St., New York.

Are You Consumptive.

Have you Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion? Use Parker's Tonic without delay. It has cured many of the worst cases. Do you suffer from pain in the chest, back or limbs? Have you symptoms of trouble with your Stomach, Liver or Kidneys? [illegible]

[illegible]

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of [illegible], Surrogate of Oswego county, [illegible] hereby given to all persons [illegible] Lafayette [illegible], late of [illegible] said county, deceased [illegible] with the vouchers thereof [illegible] residence in the village of [illegible] Oswego, New York, on or before [illegible] Nov., 1886, or they will be excluded [illegible] statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 11th, 1886.

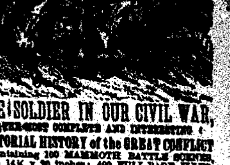
[illegible]

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of [illegible], Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of [illegible], in said county, deceased, to present the same with the vouchers thereof to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of [illegible] Patterson, at his residence in the village of [illegible], in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will be excluded from the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886. LUCY K. HUBBARD, Executrix.

Agents Wanted for the Great War Book
Just Published, entitled



THE SOLDIER IN OUR CIVIL WAR,

THE MOST COMPLETE AND INTERESTING

PICTORIAL HISTORY of the GREAT CONFLICT

Containing 100 MAMMOTH BATTLE SCENES, each 14½ x 20 inches; 400 FULL-PAGE ILLUSTRATIONS, 9½ x 14½ inches; AND UPWARDS OF 500 PORTRAITS, MAPS, AND BATTLE SCENES. By the great War Artists, Forbes, Waud, Taylor, Becker, Lovie, Schell, Crane, and others.

These Engravings were produced at a cost of over $100,000. The book gives a complete epitome of the Battles, Sieges, and Strategic Movements of the opposing armies, based upon the best authority, northern and southern, making an accumulation of reliable and unbiased historical facts not possible to be obtained in any of the histories written during the progress of or since the War.

The work is carefully edited from data obtained from the most authentic authorities, and the descriptions of battles, incidents, and historical facts, are furnished by the leading Soldiers of both armies and includes biographies of the most notable Generals and Commanders.

A complete Chronological List of every skirmish, engagement, battle, and all important events, from the Election of Lincoln to the Grand Review at Washington.

Published in (2) magnificent volumes, size 12x17 inches, nearly 1,000 pages. Price, complete, $15.00.

I want One Agent in every Grand Army Post, town and county. ☞ Any person, with this book, can become a successful Agent. Full instructions to new beginners. For terms to agents, address

G. W. DILLINGHAM, Publisher, New York.
Successor to G. W. CARLETON & Co.

WARNER BRO'S
CELEBRATED
CORALINE
CORSETS

Five Gold and Two Silver Medals,

awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.

The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks.

Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "DR. WARNER'S CORALINE" is printed on inside of steel cover.

FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING MERCHANTS.

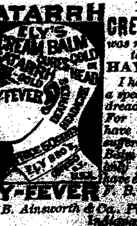
WARNER BROTHERS,
353 Broadway, New York City

ADVERTISERS or others, who wish to examine this paper, or obtain estimates on advertising space when in Chicago, will find it on file at 45 to 49 Randolph St., the Advertising Agency of LORD & THOMAS.

DO NO MORE WHITEWASHING
NOT WHEN
PLASTIC PAINT

Can be had so cheap. Send for pamphlet and color card, and learn its merits.
MAXWELL HAZLETT & CO.
109 McElderry's Wharf, Baltimore, Md., and 606 Washington Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

CATARRH



ELY'S CREAM BALM was recommended to me for HAY FEVER. I have found it a specific for that dreaded disease. For ten years I have been a great sufferer. Cream Balm is the only preventive I have ever found.—F. B. Ainsworth, of F. B. Ainsworth & Co., Pubs., Indianapolis, Ind.

HAY-FEVER

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. Circulars free. ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

NATURE'S CURE FOR CONSTIPATION

[illegible]

[illegible]TH YEAR.

"The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Feature, Scorn Her Own Image."

VOLUME 19—NUMBER [illegible]

[illegible] a Year in Advance.

FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1886.

Single Copies Three Cents.

The [illegible] [illegible].

BY [illegible]

Just at the gray of evening,
Ere the darkness settled down,
A pair of shy, simple lovers
Trudged into a quaint old town;
A poor country lass and her sweetheart,
Impelled by love's soft desire,
Whispering in their hearts had been kindled,
In search of the village 'Squire.

Hand in hand, to be bound in wedlock,
They had journeyed many a mile,
And their homely garments and manners
Might well have provoked a smile;
But the old 'Squire's eyes were humid
While he was making them one,
And he wished them a hearty godspeed
To the marriage thus begun.

"Smile not at the humble fortunes
Thus bound by a holy tie,"
Said he, when the pair had departed
To the witness standing by;
"For strong are the hearts thus earnest,
Though now at the bottom found
Of the ladder that yet may carry
Their steps to the topmost round."

This was in days long vanished,
And now oft in that quaint old town
Is the name of that same pair coupled
With terms of a just renown;
For fortune has crowned their labors,
And, though to them both unknown,
The Squire's sincere prediction
Has unto fulfillment grown.

"Twas a fate," he is fond of saying,
When their carriage goes driving by
"That I read in the bride's sweet blushes
And the bridegroom's steadfast eye;
I felt that the fate to marry
In that humble but fearless way,
Would attain to both wealth and honor
When they stood before me that day.

The Two Lights.

"When I'm a man," the stripling cries,
And strives the coming years to scan,
"Ah, then I shall be strong and wise,
When I'm a man."

"When I was young," the old man sighs,
Gravely the lark and linnet sung
Their carol under sunny skies,
When I was young."

"When I'm a man I shall be free
To guard the right, the truth uphold."
"When I was young I bent no knee
To power or gold."

"Then shall I satisfy my soul
With yonder prize, when I'm a man."
"Too late I found how vain the goal
To which I ran."

"When I'm a man these idle toys Aside forever shall be flung."
"There was no poison in my joys
When I was young."

The boy's bright dream is all before;
The man's romance lies far behind.
Had we the present and no more,
[illegible] were unkind.
[illegible] brother, toiling in the night,
Still count yourself not all unblest
If in the east there gleams a light,
Or in the west.—[Blackwood's Magazine.

THE DONATION PARTY AT WILLOWBROOK.

SO many confused and contradictory rumors have been circulated about the last donation party that I (who have heard the whole story from my friend and neighbor Miss Mix) would like to give the world a plain, unvarnished account of the whole festivity.

Let me then, introduce my informant, Miss Melissa Mix, spinster, owning forty moderately well endowed with this world's goods, housekeeper and caretaker for her only brother Ralph, some years her senior, both of them prominent members of the Willowbrook church—and, thus heralded, she shall tell you the story as she told me.

"Of course we can't give our minister much of a salary, you know, Miss Harwood, but we've always calkilated to get a man whose heart wasn't set on filthy lucre, as the 'Postle says.

"I must own, we haven't had much success, for, would you believe it? out of five candidates that preached here the year we built the church, not one was willin to stay and do the Lord's work.

"Why, there's only about sixty families in our church, and it was settled that first winter that six dollars a family would be a fair tax, making nigh onto four hundred a year, you see; yet it is wonderful what trouble we have to git a pastor.

"Brother Ralph thought that mebbe if we had a parsonage it would help us; so he and the other trustees bought that nice little cottage where Miss Grey used to live, with a whole rod of land belonging to it; but law! twan't of no use; none of them staid the year out; and I was clean discouraged.

"When Mr. Ormsby came, nigh on three years ago, he seemed more reasonable than the rest, though he asked if we couldn't furnish part of the parsonage for him, as they were new beginners and hadn't much house keepin' stuff.

"Well, the ladies was so well pleased with him that they took right hold of the work (he was to come back in a fortnight) and got lots of things together.

"There was a handsome pincushion made for each of the bedrooms—there's three of them in the house—and a half dozen tidies for the parlor, and a [illegible] for his shavin' paper, and all sent [illegible] the first week.

"You've heard him preach, Miss Harwood, and you know how interestin' he [illegible], and what a beautiful reader and [illegible] too. Why, I declare I took comfort [illegible] to church and settin' under [illegible] preachin'; and so we all did, I'm [illegible]

[illegible] I was tellin' you about what we [illegible]. Well, Deacon Stiles' daugh- [illegible] couple of kitchen chairs and our cradle, the one we was both rocked in. So I did, and I pieced a real handsome little quilt for the cradle, a sunflower pattern, all out of spick and span new calico too.

"Well, it's 'most too bad to tell, but Mandy Jones who went to help Miss Ormsby git to rights, told me that she did act dreadful, and not a bit becomin' for a minister's wife.

"She went all around the house lookin' as if she was ready to cry, and at last she sot down in the parlor on her trunk, and began to laugh at the inkstand and the vases, and then wound up by findin' fault with the stove, which she said looked as if it had come out of the ark.

"I've always thought she made her husband discontented, for Mr. Ormsby was such a meek, quiet, unselfish man that he never would have made any trouble if she hadn't been always complainin' and puttin' him up to grumble.

"But I'm wanderin off my story—I started to tell about the donation party. You see the first year we got along splendid with it, and I must say I never saw a better tea-table spread than we set that night for Miss Ormsby.

"But the woman never could be satisfied, and she said afterward that it would not take more than two such parties to ruin any family.

"It seems she found fault because we all stayed to tea with 'em, just as if we hadn't a right to our tea after sendin' in all our victuals for it.

"But I don't know as Aunt Betsy did do hardly right, for she took Miss Ormsby's preserves to put on the table and they was all eat that night, and I suppose that put her out some.

"Well, as I was saying the second year came round, and it was read out in meetin' that the donation party would be given the next Friday.

"Mr. Ormsby read the notice and then cleared his throat two or three times, as if he had somethin' particular to say, but after waitin' a minute he changed his mind and sat down.

"I thought he acted kinder queer, but I was quite taken up with noticin' Miss Ormsby. She got as red as she could be, and when meetin' was dismissed she just hurried out as if she didn't want anyone to speak to her.

"Well, Friday came, and by three o'clock we was mostly all at the parsonage. Mr. Ormsby looked dredful sober, more as if it was a funeral than a merry makin', I must say; but his wife was awful. She was just as huffy and short as she could be with every one, and she went and locked the study door and put the key in her pocket right before us all, as if she was afraid we'd touch some of Mr. Ormsby's papers or books.

"Bimeby we began to think about settin' the table; so Aunt Betty, Mandy Jones and me went out into the kitchen to unpack the contributions. There were some pertaters and turnips (them we put in the suller), a piece of corned beef, two or three boiled homs, a pot of butter, some apple sass, a big cheese, and such a lot of biscuits it would have taken all night to have count 'em.

"I began to be scart when we took out panful after panful of biscuit, and no cake to speak of. At last we come to Miss Jones' basket, and there we found 'lection cake, as well as a great batch of molasses cookies.

"I was glad enough I'd sent pound cake and crullers; but somehow when the table was ready there was more biscuits on it than anything else, though we did the best we could.

"Mr. Johnson sent tea and coffee from his store, besides sugar and crackers; and Amos Hall, he bought a bag of nuts and some apples for the young folks after supper, he did.

"There was so many there that we had to divide 'em into three lots, the dinin'-room bein' small; and it was 'most seven o'clock when they got through eatin'.

"Aunt Betsy staid with me to clear up some; and I thought I never should get all the biscuits put away, for they 'most filled the pantry.

"For all there had been so many eaten yet there was piles and piles left and Aunt Betsey said they wouldn't need to bake for a month to come.

"It happened so I didn't go out much for a week after the donation party, but, the second Sunday after, I started off good and early for church, and as I turned the corner by the parsonage, I saw a sight that most took my breath away. Every one of them sharp-pointed pickets round the garden had a good biscuit stuck atop of it! Yes, Miss Harwood, jest as sure as you live, there was Aunt Betsy's nice raised biscuits—I could tell hern by the shape—and Miss Hull's rusk, and Stiles's soda biscuits, and every one of 'em wasted in that shameful way.

"Well, I stood and looked—I hadn't the strength to move—and pretty soon some of the ladies came along and jined me; and there we all stood till the last bell began to ring, talkin' the matter over, and feelin' pretty mad, I can tell you.

"Mr. Ormsby had a good sermon that day, but I could hardly hear a word, my mind was so full of biscuits.

"Miss Ormsby wasn't there, and as the last hymn was sung, he got up and said he had had a call from a church in the far West, and he had made up his mind that it was his duty to accept it. He went on to say that he would like to [illegible] week, and then, without as [illegible] tellin' us that he was sorry to [illegible] or affectin' to wait until we [illegible] he gave the [illegible] that Mr. Ormsby, he brought the biscuits out in a big basket, and then Miss Ormsby she helped him to stick them on the pickets, and she laughed all the time as if it was a good joke.

"I don't want to judge anybody, but I never did think that woman was fit for a minister's wife, and I don't think so now.

"Well, they moved off, bag and baggage, on Wednesday of that week and we've never heard from Mr. Ormsby since, and I don't know as we want to, seein' he hurt our feelin's so, though we've never found as good a preacher as he was, and never will."

And this was Miss Melissa's story.—[Mrs. E. T. Corbett, in Harper's Magazine.

THE PROPER THING.

Collars are still cut very high.

The postilion basque remains in favor.

Venitian beads in great variety are coming in favor.

New face veils are of Malines tulle dotted with chenille.

Coat sleeves with small turned-back cuffs will be worn.

There are no marked changes in the manner of making new dresses.

Mohair braids with applique figures of silk and bead edgings are novelties for trimming.

Chevron, bourette, diagonal and basket-woven effects are seen in the new woolens.

Trimming of crotchet and of braid designs with lace stitches will be much worn this autumn.

Fruit and flowers of India rubber are combined with chenille pompons for trimming autumn hats.

The new draperies are long and full, yet are massed in a narrow space at the belt to give a slender effect.

Flowing sleeves and short, square fronts are features of the new seal plush and fur-seal mantles.

Embrossed jersey cloth is on of the season's novelties. It is used in combination with rich silk materials.

The new turn-down collar does not detract from the high effect and improves the appearance of a thin neck.

Rushes, frills and bias folds will be used in great variety for edging the neck and sleeves of autumn dresses.

Beaded plastrons or cuirasses are worn with silk or woolen bodice.

Soft vests are of Sarah silk for the heaviest cloth costumes. They are gathered at the neck and full just below the waist line. They are confined at the waits by a belt of narrow velvet.

Autumn dresses will be combinations of wool and velvet or else of two kinds of wool. When two kinds of wool are used one must be plain color, the other may be plaided or striped.

Ulsters for the coming season are made of Scotch tweed with high collars and one or three capes. The hat corresponds to the ulster. These garments are considered more stilish when they are made without velvet accessories.

If there ever was a specific for any one complaint, then Carter's Little Liver Pills are a specific for sick headache, and every woman should know this. Only one pill a dose.

American Steamboats Not Much Improved.

I never saw but one formal steamboat race. That was—it is not necessary now to say how many years ago—when George Law ran his Oregon against the C. Vanderbilt, owned by the Commodore, from New York to Sing Sing and back for some thousands of dollars. The contestants made a good part of the voyage up as if lashed together, but coming down the Oregon left the Vanderbilt well behind. A thick volume of black smoke which rolled from the former's pipes as she hurried past Yonkers was afterward accounted for by the statement that Mr. Law, in his eagerness for victory, had torn up joiner work and costly fittings to feed his fires. Perhaps this picturesque story needed verification. The Oregon was afterward lost or burned or otherwise put an end to; but the Vanderbilt is a good illustration of occasional steamboat longevity. Though built nearly forty years ago, after a transfer from the Sound and long service on the Troy route, she still, sturdy, though dismantled as to passenger use, makes her way up and down the river with unimpaired vigor at the head of a procession of canal boats.

It is rather surprising that so little advance in swiftness has been made by Hudson River steamboats. The Mary Powell—which if any can beat none have formally beaten—has claimed the first place for more than a score of years. But the real test is not an occasional and doubtful burst of speed of which we hear now and then, but actual business schedule time. The records show that the running to Albany or to nearer places is little if any quicker than it was in the days of the reindeer and the Alida and, still further back, of the South America and her old rival, the Troy. An age of remarkable progress in other directions seems to have done all it can do with river steamers, unless some sudden and unexpected device is presently forthcoming.—[Brooklyn Eagle.

There is no one article in the line of medicines that gives so large a return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters.

Take care of your [illegible] your [illegible] [illegible]

Grace Darling's Sister.

On Friday last Grace Darling's only sister died at her little home under the shadow of Bamborough Castle within sound of the wild waves that beat against Holy Island and the rock that wrecked the Forfarshire. The simple and pious old lady to the last, like the heroine herself, could not understand why so much had been said about the plain act of duty which made the family name immortal. She has been laid in the seaside churchyard, close to the sister who died so young forty years ago, and whose marble effigy lies in the sea, wind and sun, with her oar upon the folded arm. A grey-stone wall divides the thin grass of the holy ground from the bleached and pallid growth of the sand-dunes; for the dark and strong basalt of this Northumbrian coast, into which is built the tremendous pile of the castle, is everywhere heaped with the sands of many storms. If ever there were a "wide watered shore" straight out of Milton's visionary mind, it is this.—[London World.

All disorders caused by a bilious state of the system can be cured by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. No pain, griping or discomfort attending their use. Try them.

Solved at Last.

He stood for a long time looking into the display window of a gents furnishing store, and by-and-by and he gave himself a sort of kick and exclaimed:

"Humph! Just like me!"

"What is it?" asked a boy who came up.

"I'm a fule!"

"For why?"

"For because I've bin wonderin' for two years how a feller got in one of these button-behind shirts, and I jist diskivered that he'd only have to turn around in it to bring the busum to the front! Bub, you may kick me a nickel's wuth."—[Detroit Free Press.

Constipation is positively cured by Carter's Little Liver Pills. Not by purging and weakening the bowels, but by regulating and strengthening them. This is done by improving the digestion and stimulating the liver to the proper secretion of bile, when the bowels will perform their customary functions in an easy and natural manner. Purgative pills must be avoided. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Price 25 cents.

He Was not in Oil.

A well-dressed country man stepped at the entrance of the Petroleum Exchange, on lower Broadway, and gazed inside with considerable interest.

A broker on the lookout for commissions said to him, cordially: "Are you in oil, sir?"

"No, mister," said the countryman, moving away; "I'm no sardine."—[Harper's Bazar.

Adolf Lalloz, carriage manufacturer, 119 Carroll street, Buffalo, N. Y. states: "I was troubled with nausea of the stomach, sick headache, and general debility. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me."

The foreman's weary and wrinkled face
Wears a look that is sad and solemn,
When he looks at six ad's that he has to place
Square up at the top of one column.
—[Merchant Traveler.

"For economy and comfort, we use Hood's Sarsaparilla," writes an intelligent Buffalo, N. Y. lady. 100 Doses One Dollar.

Spare when you are young that you may spend when you are old.

If all so-called remedies have failed, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures.

If you have a place of business be found there when wanted.

Use Dr. Pierce's "Pellets" for constipation.

Respect gray hairs, especially our own.

Waste nothing, neither money, time nor talent.

Learn to think and act for yourself.

Bear little trials patiently that you may learn how to bear great ones.

Learn to say no; it will be of more service to you than to learn to read Latin.

ROYAL
ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
C. S. EGGLESTON.

DR. PARDEE'S REMEDY

(The only Reliable Blood Purifier.)

A SPECIFIC FOR RHEUMATISM

Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Neuralgia, Ring Worm

AND ALL OTHER SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASES. IT REGULATES THE LIVER and KIDNEYS

And Cures Indigestion

And all Diseases arising from an enfeebled condition of the system.

It has proven itself to be the most reliable remedy known for Female Weakness, and for diseases peculiar to the sex.

Send for our pamphlet of testimonials, and read of those who have been permanently cured by its use.

Ask your Druggist for DR. PARDEE'S REMEDY and take no other. Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5.

Manufactured by the

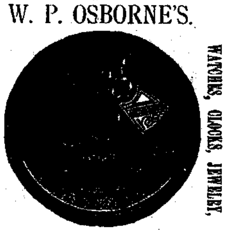
PARDEE MEDICINE CO.,
Rochester, N. Y.

-BUY-

Hampden Watches

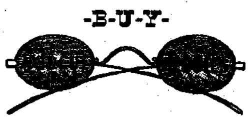
—AT—

W. P. OSBORNE'S.



REPAIRED AT OSBORNE'S.
WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY.

-B-U-Y-



At W. P. OSBORNE'S.

—BUY—

THE WM. ROGERS'

Silver Plated Teaspoons

FOR $1,00 at

W. P. OSBORNE'S.

18m4

We Have Just Received

ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF

Ladies' Kid Button Shoes

"Hand Made."

Best Fitting, Best Wearing and Cheapest Shoe

IN THE COUNTY.

CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE

SALMON SHOE STORE,

OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

LUMBER YARD.

We have in Stock a Complete Assortment of

Lumber, Lath, Shingles

&c., and in fact everything pertaining to a FIRST-CLASS YARD.

We are prepared to furnish thoroughly Seasoned Lumber at Lowest Rates. Call and be Convinced.

BOOMER & LOOMIS.

Corner Broadway and First Streets.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

[illegible]

NEW YORK, ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.

Time Table Taking Effect July 4th, 1886.

					Station
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Cook's Falls	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	East Branch	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Fish's Eddy	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Hancock	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Walton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	p m		Delhi	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	a m
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]			Franklin	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]			Sidney Centre	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]			Sidney (Depot)	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
....	....	[illegible]			New Berlin	....	....	7 30
....	....	[illegible]			Guilford Centre	....	....	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]			Guilford	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]			Oxford	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	31		Norwich	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	50
....	a m	....	a m			....	p m	....	p m
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	7 30		Norwich	1250	7 20	1040	6 05
....	[illegible]	[illegible]	7 43		North Norwich	....	7 06	1030	5 46
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	7 57		Smyrna	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]		Earlville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	5 10
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]		Randallsville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	4 45
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]		Eaton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	4 20
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]		Morrisville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	4 00
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]		Munnsville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]		Community	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	10		Oneida Castle	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]		Oneida	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	p m	[illegible]	50		Sylvan Beach	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	1210
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]		North Bay	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	1155
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	1010		Cleveland	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	1016		Bernhard's Bay	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]		Constantia	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]		Central Square	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]		Caughdenoy	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	9 40	1100		Pennellville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	9 57	1127		Fulton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	1020	1150		Oswego	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
a m	p m	p m	a m		Arrive Depart	p m	p m	a m	a m

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

[illegible]

SICK

[illegible]

HEAD

[illegible]

NEW STORE

NEW GOODS!

EWELL R. COLE

Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of

Undertaking Goods,

—OF THE—

LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.

And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.

Furniture Rpairing

done on short notice.

Remember the Place.

Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

Scranton Coal!

THOROUGHLY SCREENED,

Promptly Delivered!

At the Following Prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c,

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

O. RUST.

37tf

HART BROS.,

—DEALERS IN—

Vitrified Glazed Stone Ware

—AND—

PORTLAND CEMENT SEWER PIPE

—AND—

DRAIN TILE,

With all necessary Fittings and connections.

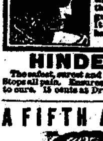
FIRE BRICK, CLAY AND SAND.

Stone Ware, and Cement, Chimneys and Tops.

Fire Bricks of desired shapes, furnished on application.

STONEWARE WATER FILTERS A SPECIALTY.

Also Agents for Stewart's Ready Roofing.



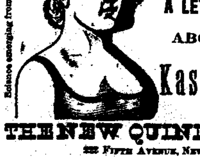
PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

the popular favorite for dressing the hair, Restoring color when gray, and preventing Dandruff. It cleanses the scalp, stops the hair falling, and is sure to please. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

HINDERCORNS.

The safest, surest and best cure for Corns, Bunions, &c. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. Never fails to cure. 15 cents at Druggists. HISCOX & CO., N. Y.

A FIFTH AVENUE LADY WRITES A LETTER ABOUT Kaskine.



Science emerging from Darkness.

THE NEW QUININE.

222 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK.

Kaskine Co.—Dear Sirs: Although always opposed to having my name used publicly, I waive my reluctance in this case. No one can see the vast good done to the suffering that I have seen accomplished by your wonderful medicine and remain silent.

I deem it my pleasant duty, my dear sirs, to express my cordial thanks for the great cure it has accomplished in my family as well as for the many cures it has effected among the suffering poor to whom I have taken it. My son was the greatest sufferer for years from what was first termed by our physician to be dyspepsia and general debility, which was followed by the severest forms of chills and fever, and finally pronounced by several of the most eminent physicians to be malaria, with all its different forms of suffering and organic diseases, including liver and kidney troubles and nervous prostration. You will see that I owe an especial debt of gratitude to you, for my son's health seemed hopelessly lost, as he derived no benefit from medical treatment, although receiving the best that the highest medical talent in America could afford, combined at times with the benefit of travel. His constitution also had been almost undermined and his hearing impaired by the use of quinine. We were influenced to try Kaskine by hearing of its great success from reliable sources, and my son has been completely restored to health by its use. If my testimony of these facts will help to save human life and restore the suffering to health, I should be guilty indeed to remain silent. I am, my dear sirs, yours most gratefully,

June 11th. (Mrs.) J. DeWitt [illegible]

WHAT THE HOSPITALS SAY.

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful.

St. Francis Hospital, N. Y. "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Rev. Jos. [illegible], Chaplain of Charity Hospital, writes: "I will be surely, at every occasion, through conviction a most devoted promoter of Kaskine."

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.: "Its use is considered [illegible]

[illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS., Fine Job Printers, First Street, [illegible] book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters, etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

ELI M. DERUSHA, Repairs all kinds of sewing machines and organs; also agent for the genuine Singer sewing machine. Leave orders at Bristol's, No 2 First street.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON

Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.

OSWEGO, N. Y.

JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.

Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts. Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious Sample Rooms.

GREAT SPRING SPECIAL BARGAINS

—IN—

Drugs, Patent Medicines,

—AND—

DYE STUFFS

—AT—

R. E. PHILLIPS'

Drug Store.

Prices Below all Competition

On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.

IN DYE STUFFS

I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at

R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.

A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.

No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

Remember my motto is strictly first class goods—and prices below all Competition.

48tf R. E. PHILLIPS.

COAL.

—GO TO—

LEWIS' COAL YARD,

OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,

—For the Celebrated—

LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.

Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.

THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

INSURANCE SOLICITORS

New working Fire, Life, Industrial or Assessment insurance, and other solicitors who desire to better themselves, can secure profitable engagements with N. Y. State Relief Association. Large commission and interest in renewals; also premium asked for satisfactory work. Address J. E. ALLANSON, Sec'y., 44 State Street, Albany, N. Y. 14w2

JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.

Save time and labor! Neat and Compac-

Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General as the "best device of the kind that he ever saw."

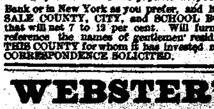
—To be had only at the—

FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.

10 PER CENT, INVESTMENT, SECURITY ABSOLUTE. THE MORTGAGE, Ipswich, Dakota, will loan your money on BOND and MORTGAGE from 8 to 10 per cent. Mortgages made to you direct. Bond payable at your own Bank or in New York as you prefer, and has for SALE COUNTY, CITY, and SCHOOL BONDS, that will net 7 to 12 per cent. Will furnish as reference the names of gentlemen residing in THIS COUNTY for whom it has invested money. CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED. [illegible]

WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED

With or without Patent Index.



The Attention of School Officers, and others, is invited to the fact that in purchasing the latest issue of this work, they get

A DICTIONARY

containing 3000 more words and nearly 2000 more illustrations than any other American Dictionary.

A GAZETTEER OF THE WORLD

containing over 25,000 Titles, with their pronunciation and a vast amount of other information, (just added, 1885) and

A BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY

giving pronunciation of names and brief facts concerning nearly 10,000 Noted Persons; also various tables giving valuable information.

ALL IN ONE BOOK.

[illegible]

[illegible] indemnity and promptly [illegible]
[illegible] Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as [illegible]
[illegible] all communications, on business or [illegible] to The Times.
F. D. VanWagenen,
Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it, and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.
[Thackeray.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

Still They Come.

Farragut, Iowa, Sept. 16 '86

Editor of Times:

Dear Sir—Enclosed find postal order for $1.50 for which, please continue my subscription for one year more and send me the Detroit Free Press as per your offer. With best wishes for The Times, I am

Respectfully yours
W. B. Clark.

The State Fair.

The New York State Fair and Exposition at Utica fair grounds, Sept. 23 to 29th, 1886, will be the most attractive exposition of the resources of the Empire State in all that pertains to agiculture, the mechanic arts, the fine arts, the live stock interests, the farm and the home, ever opened for the instruction and entertainment of the people of the State. The N. Y. O. & W. R. R., announces that excursion tickets will be sold to Utica fair grounds and return from all stations Oswego to Stockbridge inclusive, via. Oneida Castle and West Shore Railway, September 23d to 29th, both inclusive. Excursion tickets, good for return passage until September 30th, 1886, inclusive, will be sold at the following rates:—Oswego $2 30, Fulton $2.25, Pennellville $2.20, Caughdenoy $2.10, Central Square $2.00, West Monroe $1.90, Constantia $1.80, Bernhard's Bay $1.70 and Cleveland $1.50. Trains 1. 2, 31 and 32 makes connection at Oneida Castle with West Shore R. R. direct to and from fair grounds. Trains leave fair grounds, returning, 4:10 p. m. connecting at Oneida Castle for stations south; and 5:15 p. m. for all stations north. Remember your excursion ticket takes you to and from the grounds. Call on or address nearest agent Ontario & Western Railway for tickets, time tables and other information.

J. E. Childs, Gen'l. Manager.
J. C. Anderson, Gen'l. Pass'r. Agt.

COUNTY NEWS

Geo. Patton of South New Haven had a rib broken on last Thursday while leading a colt to the fair at Mexico.

H. L. Cole, an old and respected citizen of Mexico, died at his home in that village last Wednesday of heart disease.

C. Getman owner of all the glass furnaces of Cleveland, has increased the capacity of the furnace at the Union works from eight to ten pots. He has sixteen pots in the two furnaces at the lower works.

William Warren of North Hannibal aged about 70 years was seriously injured Friday morning, by falling through a trap door in his barn to the basement below.

At the Republican district convention held at Pulaski on Friday Hon. N. W. Nutting was allowed to choose delegates to the Congressional convention. Hon. D. E. Ainsworth was nominated for member of Assembly on the first ballot. The vote stood Ainsworth 59, Blodgett 10, W. H. Weed 5. District committee, L. R. Muzzy, of Pulaski; W. H. Weed, Mexico; F. L. Smith, Schrœppel.

Are you going to build or repair old Roofs? If so, it will pay you to examine "Stewart's Ready Roofing" at the Pottery. We put on 40 squares, two years ago, and find it very durable and economical.
Hart Bros.

Try India Pale Ale. It is the best. To be had at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 15tf

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter jars, Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots. &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by 10tf J. Cooley Tucker.

Richard Frasier of Granby Centre now has ready to do work in this county, a lg. Johnsville 3 horse tread, with four horse cleaner, threshing machine. This is the easiest running and best machine on record. It took the first premium at the State fair last year. Leave orders at Phillips' drug store. 18w3

Just received at D. C. Draper's, a large order of imported crockery and China, and a fine line, all new patterns, China tea sets and chamber sets, which I will offer for the next 30 days at $1.00 less on chamber sets and $2.00 to $4.00 less on tea sets than any house in Oswego or Syracuse, to reduce part of over-stock. Call and see goods and prices, at 18 Oneida street. 17tf

Second hand Gas Pipe for sale at McCully's planing mill, from ⅜inch up to 2 inches in diameter. 12tf

Get your laundry work done at Ying [illegible], corner of First and Oneida streets [illegible] has been in Fulton over a year [illegible]

[illegible] society families are very exclusive and wealth is not the sole means of entering their circle. Nevertheless, George Gould was considered a great catch. Aside from his father's great wealth, the major part of which he will in all probability inherit, he has money of his own, made by safe investments in paying securities and his income is estimated at $10,000 per year. He is not unlike his father, and the training he has received from his father and those with whom his father immediately associated will render him fit to manage those great interests. They say of him in Wall street that he makes the eagle scream every time he spends a dollar. His bride is a Brooklyn girl, a graduate of the Elmira Female College and became a member of an amateur dramatic company. She exhibited so much historical ability that she made an engagement with a New Jersey theatrical troupe. When "Youth" a spectacular drama, attracted so much attention at Wallack's, it was mainly through the efforts of Miss Kingdon. She played a leading part and attracted the attention of Augustine Daly. He engaged her with his company and her success has been so marked as to detract from the prominence of the leading lady Ada Rehan. Daly's company went to London and thence to Berlin. Here the acting of Miss Kingdon was so warmly praised that Miss Rehan was displeased. Mr. Daly substituted another for Miss Kingdon and a resignation followed. There was a story floating around that George was married in London but that was false. It is generally believed that Jay Gould was opposed to the match, but on the arrival of Miss Kingdon in the city last week she was married at the Irvington mansion of the Goulds.

⁂

The Chief of the Detectives, Inspector Byrnes, has entered the lists as an author. He is shortly to publish a book giving his experience in managing criminals. The criminal classes of this city are under constant watch and no one perhaps is better prepared to write such a book than the Inspector. Inspector Byrnes owed his promotion to a lucky accident. He was not so many years ago a patrolman with a Fifth avenue beat. A prominent society lady had her earrings torn from her ears. The captain of the thief after a plucky fight paved the way for the Byrnes' advancement. Since his occupancy of the position of chief detective, criminals have been remarkably cautious. Wall street used to be infested, during the regime of Captain Irving, with a gang of counterfeiters, forgers and sneak thieves. The most common kind of robbery was to watch the bank messengers as they were carrying their daily balances from bank to bank or to the Clearing House or Sub-Treasury and steal the satchel. Now, detectives patrol the streets near the money centres and any new face is scrutinized—if considered suspicious, the person is warned to keep away. A criminal in this city is just as well known to the Chief Detective as the Mayor or any prominent official. The most successful piece of work by the Inspector was the Jachne confession of how the Broadway franchise was obtained.

⁂

The death of Asher B. Durand removes the oldest American protest. Mr. Durand is known among the artist fraternity as the founder of the Academy of Design and a very distinguished artist. The cotemporary of Allston, Cole, Cropsey and the friend of Irving Cooper. Bryant, Prescott and other distinguished professional men of the last generation he is not remembered by the rising men of the present except as they see his admirable landscapes. Durand was born in 1796, hence all his works have the benefit of age as will as of merit. Examples are to be found in all the noted private and public galleries of this country. A fine example in particular is in the Museum of Art in Central Park. His pictures commanded prices that ran into the thousands. To Durand perhaps more than to any other artist is the broad scope of the Academy of Design in this city due.

⁂

The regular theatrical season has now fully opened. Shakespearian drama will be the exception and light comedy, interspersed with grand opera by foreign talent, and the American opera company, the rule. There are a score of reputable theatres in this city, and of these half are presenting plays full of the amusing quality, at least so the play wright of some of them intend. To enumerate: Dixey has returned from Europe, had a rousing welcome and is now drawing full houses at the Fifth Avenue. Insipidity characterizes Nat Goodwins' Jack Shepard at the Bijou. At Wallacks and at the Casino, comic opera rules. At the former, some enterprising genius had been reading his bible more industriously than usual and was struck with the usefulness of the story of Joseph. So he remodeled it to suit the nineteenth century and named it "Josephine, Sold by her Sisters." There are some pretty scenic effects, some fine stage pictures; plenty of pretty women and a magnificent tenor, Edwin Oudin by name. Of course it is drawing well. The honors of the season so far are due to Lillian Olcott as "Theodora" that being the title role. Miss Olcott is a Brooklynite who has plenty of pluck and a host of perseverance. The play is by Sardou of Paris and was written, I believe, by him for Sarah Bernhardt. Miss Olcott had the [illegible]

[illegible] Managers are [illegible] thing new. Variety is the [illegible] element to success. A play rests just now more upon personal physique than upon historic ability. A pretty face and a fine form with a little talent in a woman is a godsend to a manager.

The close of the season brings the society people to this city. The summer renovations are going on. Many have come from Europe. In this particular two events have happened together. The return of Mr. Depew after a most successful financial tour and the quickest passage across the Atlantic by the Umbria in six days three hours and a quarter. This is a rather strange way of putting the two together. But the chief thing Mr. Depew accomplished was to relieve the Lake Shore R. R. of the Nickle Plate load. Mr. Depew accomplishes much through his smooth and suave ways. If one will take the trouble to investigate, this fact will be found true that English capital is ready for American investment. The fact of Mr. Depew's success and the new arrangement by which the Reading road is put on a firm basis accounts for the active stock market of the last week.

Wanderer.

81st New York Veterans.

This regiment was the second raised in Oswego, Herkimer, Oneida, and Suffolk counties. The third annual re-union of these veteran volunteers was held at the recent G. A. R. encampment at Oswego Falls, Sept. 9. The following are the names and addresses of the surviving members as far as known:

Lieut Edgar Abeel	Gravesville, N Y
L C Adkins	Oswego, do
*Wm Adams	Arthur, do
*Joseph Albring	Hannibal, do
*Hez Allen	Oswego Falls, do
Wm Angel	Pillar Point, Jeff Co do
Capt H Anderson	Salt Lake, City, Utah
Geo W Anthony	North Easton, N Y
Alonzo Arden	Oswego, do
*D H Austin	Mexico, do
W P Babcock	McDonald's Mills, Coffee Co Ga
F Berraft	Bellevue, Mich
David Brewster	Camden, N Y
*Wm Bennett	Gray, do
*Joshua Bennett	Frankfort, do
*S Berson	Oswego, do
David Brewster	Taberg, do
D D Brewster	Glenmore, do
E E Baker	Canastota, do
Lieut E A Blakely	Fort Scot, Kan
Benjamin Ballard	Taberg, N Y
*Captain Jas J Butler	Sackett's Harbor, do
Jas H Barry	Mohawk, do
Wm F Bennett	Sag Harbor, do
John Bone	Lawrence, Kan
Charles Bechstett	Oswego, N Y
Earnest Bernhart	Schenectady, do
Charles Byam	Rome, do
Erastus Bugley	North Brookfield, do
*Wm H Brackett	Hannibal Centre, do
Capt Geo W Berriman	Chicago Il
Lieut Jas L Belden	Geddes, N Y
Charles Bass	Clayton, do
Lawrence B Burt	Oswego, do
*Charles Burleigh	Phœnix, do
*Arthur Buckingham	Fruit Valley, do
John Brion	Oswego, do
Nelson D Bates	Constantia, do
Lorenzo Barnes	Oswego, do
*Lieut J W Brockway	Watertown, do
John Crawley	Little Falls, do
*Henry W Coy	Camden, do
*Capt Casper I Cook	Vienna, do
Charles C Coseit	15 Fabius-st Syracuse, do
Benjamin Cendall	675 E 24th st Oakland, Cal
A Cunningham	Oswego, N Y
Edmund Comstock	Gray, do
Morris G Conkling	Grant, do
Henry Conkling	Wilmert, do
Jas R Cook	Utica, do
*Charles Comstock	Gray, do
S P Clark	Fruit Valley, do
*Capt E A Cook	Oswego, do
*Capt E C Cook	Gilberts Mills, do
Frank Coon	North Scriba, do
F L Coffinger	Minetto, do
W L Churchill	Lansing, do
Horace Coppins	Hudson Lenawee Co Mich
Wm H Churchill	West Vienna, N Y
James Crumley	Fulton, do
Geo W Cook	New Haven, do
John Close	Oswego, do
Peter Conway	Oswego, do
Ira Cole Public Printing Bureau	Washington, D C
*Lieut E D Cook 123 S Front-st	Philapolphia, Pa
*Wm Danforth	Constantia, N Y
Henry Du Bois	South Scriba, do
David A Davis	Coffeeville, Kan
Isaac Davenport	Ohio, N Y
Thomas DeLancey	Scriba, do
Capt M J DeForest	New York do
Samuel Dutcher	Sag Harbor. do
Wm H DeLong	Emporium Penn
*Bro Brig Gen'l J J DeForest	Duanesburg, N Y
*N R Dines	Fulton, do
Charles Edick	Maynard, do
Horace B Ensworth	Sandy Creek do
Joshua Elion	South Hampton do
Edward Fallen	Wilmurt do
Wm Fomsbee	Gray, do
Wm R Fleming	Victory do
Charles H Fordham	Sag Harbor, do
Orin Fish	Scriba, do
Jas Fitzgerald	Russia, do
Michael Fitzgerald	Ypsilanti, Mich
David H. Fay	Portis, Kan
O S Fish	Oswego N Y
Marshall A Flowers	Scriba, do
Richard Fitzgerald	Gray, do
*A Foster	Pratts Hollow, do
*James Foot	Oswego do
Hirman Garlock	Grant, do
Orson Guile	Scriba, do
*Lieut Newton Gilbert	Fulton, do
H W Greene	Chicago Ill
Geo W Gates	Lansing Oswego Co N Y
James Gibson	Mason City, Iowa
*Lieut Theodore Harter	Ilion, N Y
*James Hane	Ohio, do
Michael Heinig	Gray, do
*L C Hendricks	Oswego Centre, do
*Edward Humphy	Salisbury; do
Thos Hammersly	Newport, do
G Hamilton	Randallsville, do
Wm Horton	North Scriba, do
Chas Hall	South Scriba, do
Orlando J Hawel	Bridgehampton, do
John J Hemstred	Watervale Minn
*Arthur L Hall	Caughdenoy N Y
Geo W Haley	Bradford, Penn
Oscar B Holden	Hudson Lenawee Co Mich
Adam Hess	Bennson, Oneida Co N Y
Lieut D G Harris	West Windfield, d
Lafayette Hanchet	Fulton, do
*L N Holden	Vermillion, do
*Jos Hines	Baldwinsville, do
Charles Hart Hospital Steward	Fall River Mass
Wm H Horton	North Scriba, N Y
Wm F Jones	North Bay, do
*T B Johnson	Volney, do
James R Kent	Oswego, do
M Kelly	Oswego, do
E C Knowlton	Sackets Harbor, do
John R Kingsbury	Lansing, do
*Thomas L Keough	[illegible], Mass
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	Oswego Co N Y
[illegible]	Oswego, do
[illegible]	[illegible], do
[illegible]	South New Haven, do
[illegible]	[illegible], do
Wm F [illegible]	[illegible], do
Pulaski [illegible]	West Winfield, do
W Ryland	Amsterdam, do
*Benjamin F Rodgers	[illegible], do
Col. John B [illegible]	Chicago, Ill
Wm [illegible]	McConnellsville, N Y
John Redden	Bloomington Ill
H H Sanford	Bridgehampton, N Y
*Almond B Smith	Gravesville, do
*[illegible] C Smith	Jamestown, do
*George Smith	Oswego, do
*James H Smith	Syracuse, do
James Sherman	Camden, do
Francis H Sparks	Oswego, do
*Capt Henry Squires	Bridghampton, do
E A Stimson	St Charles, Mich
*Gilbert Stewart	Oswego, N Y
*E D Stowell	Mexico, do
*Wm Sutton	Pennellville, do
*Ord Sarg's David Sears	Oswego, do
*Thos W Smith	Lansing, do
Wm Stuart	Grand Haven Mich
Dexter Sampson	Grand Rapids, do
Geo H Stone	North Scriba, N Y
Capt T D Stow	Fulton, do
*Selah Taylor	Fulton, do
*Remford C Timmerman	Branchport, do
*C B Tenny	New York Mills, do
*Chauncey Towne	Philadelphia, Pa
Rufus Taft	Taberg, do
H B Tomson	Oswego, do
*Robert Todd	Constantia, do
Capt R D S Tyler	Congress, West Detroit, Mich
Lieut Maurace P Tidd	St Paul Minn
*Walter Van Alstine	Oswego, do
Willis VanBuren	Ministee, Mich
*Chas H Vorce	Mexico, N Y
*Jos Weeks	Baldwinsville. do
*Sarg't J E West	Constantia, do
Riley Warner	Red Creek Cayuga Co do
Geo W Warner	Oswego, do
Charles B Wade	Sag Harbor, do
Geo G Warren	Oswego, do
*Geo Wilkinson	Baldwinsville do
*E D Wimple	Mexico, do
*Z P Winn	Oswego, do
B F Wood	Watertown, do
A A Whitney	Wild Rose, Minn
*Riley Wormer	Hannibal, N Y
Arthur Yeomans	Fulton, do
*Lieut John F Youngs	Bridgehampton, do
*Lieut Sewart Zimerman	Ilion do

Those designated with a * attended the Reunion, 1886, at Oswego Falls.

CHEESE MARKETS.

[From the Utica Herald.]

Utica, Sept. 20.

Another strong market, with an advance of ⅜c—so strong that many factories sold all their August cheese, and some of them even one or two days of September. Out of 44 factorymen of whom we made inquiry, 17 sold to Sept. 1, 2 to Aug. 30, 4 to Aug. 29, 4 to Aug. 28, 2 to Aug. 27, 1 to Aug. 26, 3 to Aug. 25, 3 to Aug. 24, 2 to Aug. 22, 2 to Aug. 20, 1 to Aug. 15, and 3 to Sept. 2. Judging from this, the bulk of the cheese marketed here next week will be September stock. The market to-day was active throughout; everybody wanted cheese, even those who hitherto have been bearish in their ideas. In fact they had orders for it, and were bound to have it any price.

Transactions of the day were as follows: 13 lots 1,116 boxes, at 9¾c; 59 lots, 4,700 boxes, at 9⅞c; 21 lots; 2,890 boxes, at 10c; 9 lots 533 boxes at 10⅛c; 9 lots, 1,302 boxes, at 10¼c; 14 lots, 1,277 boxes at 10⅜c; 130 boxes at 10½c; and 150 at p. t. Sales 11,667 boxes; commissions 1,040 boxes; total 12,708 boxes. Ruling price 9⅞c. Transactions one year ago 10,920 boxes; two years ago 9,716 boxes. Ruling prices 7⅜c and 10⅜c respectively.

We understand that 1,200 September and October cheese were contracted for in Lewis county last week at 11c.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

Little Falls, Sept. 20.

Cheese—Another jump in prices to-day has made salesmen in the best of humor, and everybody who has anything to do with the market is pleased to see the upward tendency of the past few weeks well sustained and rates still advancing. The figures to-day show an advance of ⅛ cent in the ruling over that of last week, while four lots to-day have sold for a full cent more than the best last week, and 3 cents above the highest price paid the corresponding week of last year. The weather has continued favorable, and cheese are in fine condition. Following is our usual table:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
1	32	10 cents
57	3,316	10¼ cents
40	3,104	10½ cents
14	916	10¾ cents
4	336	11 cents
8	620	com.
—
121	8,374
Farm dairy	927
Total	9,301

Farm dairy—The prices on farm dairy ranged from 9¼c to 10¾c, the bulk selling at 10¼c.

Butter—The offering of butter to-day was quite large for this market. Fifty-six packages of creamery sold at 23 to 23 cents, the bulk at 22 cents; and 40 packages farm dairy at 19 to 20 cents.

AT FULTON.

At this market last Monday about twenty factories were represented with 1,500 boxes which sold at 10 cents and one small lot above that figure. Utica ruling was 9⅞ cents.

Vienna Bakery.

There is always in stock at the Vienna Bakery the largest, freshest and finest assortment of confectionery, foreign and domestic fruits, to be found in Fulton. Confectionery from 12 cents upward. A fresh supply of crackers, bread and cake constantly on hand. Call and examine my stock. John Barker,
18tf 26 First st.

Job Printing.

—:o:—

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing.

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices.

FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

[illegible] the importance of the capital as the great and permanent news centre of the United States is recognized by the many papers who now keep correspondents here the year around. The capital has grown with the growth of the Nation. The government of the United States, the national life and manners as mirrored in Washington have become a subject of interesting study, not only to the philosopher, the historian and the moralist, but to millions of intelligent citizens throughout the country.

Every year more and more Washington is being selected as the natural rendezvous of all conventions and assemblies that are at all national in their character. Arrangements were proposed the other day for the accomodation of the soldiers to be present next May at the grand competitive drill, for which $20,000 in prizes are offered, and to which every military company in the country will be invited. During the coming winter several national conventions will rendezvous here.

Washington is the most attractive city in the country, especially in Winter. Handsome public buildings, private residences hardly equalled by any American city for number and beauty, broad streets and two hundred miles of asphaltum pavement, almost every street embowered in foliage, and the presence of the most distinguished men of the whole nation in assembly—these are unique features, and they "draw." They have drawn thousands of wealthy men to come from all parts of the Union and build residences, transforming the Capital into our winter Saratoga. If the Knights Templar desire to hold their conclave here during our most entertaining season, we will not only welcome them as an assurance of our regard for their honorable and useful order, but we will take measures to extend to them royal hospitality. Washington is equal to her destiny.

It is expected that Special Envoy Sedgwick, who has completed the mission of investigation of the Cutting matter in Mexico, will reach this city to-day, at which time he will make the Secretary of State his official verbal report. Col. Sedgwick's instructions when appointed special envoy were to the effect that his report should not be made in writing, but delivered in person to the Secretary. This being the case, there will of course, be no record made in the State Department of his mission and its results. The chances are that it will never be made public, as it will be delivered to Mr. Bayard, and under the circumstances it is not at all likely that he will allow it to become the property of the public. The controversy growing out of Cutting's imprisonment has practically settled itself, and it will make but little difference what may be the result of the investigation carried on by the envoy.

The War Department just now is in the midst of a discussion as to the proper disposal of the Apache Indians, whose capture has cost the Government so much blood and treasure. There are a class of military pundits who imagine that the hunt for these murderers and thieves has been warfare and that the Indians are entitled to belligerent rights. When a score or two of Indians, who have been living on a reservation, fed and cared for by the Government, steal, thily leave there and engage in a raid throughout a wide extent of country, not seeking troops to fight, but robbing and murdering peaceable working people men, women and children in their homes; obscenely and fiendishly torturing and mutilating men and ravishing women—is that "war" any more than piracy?

And when these miscreants, incarnations of cruelty and brutish lust, are pursued, and after long pursuit, either caught or compelled to give themselves up because they are out of ammunition, out of food and so surrounded that escape and further devitry is impossible—is that "capitulation" of a hostile force engaged in legitimate warfare? Are they "prisoners of war"? They are simply felons, murderers, assassins, ravishers, brigands, pirates, outlaws, caught red handed by a pursuing force, a military posse, ministers of outraged justice.

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2¼ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms

One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 24 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y.

☞ Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at Fulton, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

SCHOOL OF SHORT HAND
AND
TYPE WRITING.
CLASSES DAY AND EVENING.
Lessons by Mail a Specialty.
[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible], lamp lighting	[illegible]
[illegible], printing	[illegible]
J. H. [illegible], recording deed	.50
H. C. Highriter, Clerk's salary	[illegible]
[illegible], janitor services	[illegible]
M. F. Graham, painting hose carts	20.00

The Chief Engineer came in and invited the President and Board of Trustees to review the Fire Department to-morrow at 3 o'clock p. m.

On motion of Trustee More the invitation was accepted.

Mr. Fred Spafford appeared before the Board, asking them to fix the road leading northerly from his house to the state road. The matter was referred to the Street Committee with power to act.

The Collector of the Village appeared before the Board and asked that his warrant be extended sixty days. On motion the request was granted.

The Clerk was directed to purchase of "The Gutta Percha and Rubber M'f'g Co." two hose play pipes for the use of the new hose companies.

On motion the Chief Engineer was instructed to purchase two lanterns and one axe for the use of the new hose companies.

The representatives of the Thomson-Houston and Schuyler Electric Light Companies being present, they were invited to submit proposals for lighting the village. Upon receipt of a proposal from each, on motion of Trustee Pardee the Board went into executive session for considering the same.

Proposal from the Thompson-Houston Electric Co. is as follows:

Fulton, N. Y., Sept. 15th, 1886.

To the Honorable, the President and Board of Trustees:

Gentlemen:—We the undersigned agree to furnish 37 arc lights to be distributed at such points on the corporation as the village authorities may direct, and to be maintained and lighted each night in the year from dusk until 12 midnight for for $60 per year each light.

Thomson-Houston Electric Co.
Per C. H. Philbrook.

Proposal from the Fulton Schuyler Electric Light Co. is as follows:

To the Honorable, The President and Trustees, Village of Fulton, N. Y.

The Fulton Schuyler Electric Light Company will, until after next annual meeting of taxpayers light the streets of the village at the rate of nine hundred forty-five dollars per annum for thirty arc lamps of 2,000 candle power to burn from dark until midnight excepting such nights as are sufficiently lighted by the moon; and in this particular will be subject to any rule adopted by the Board. The Company agreeing to light up whenever on the dates set apart for the moon that luminary may be obscured by the clouds.

Further will guarantee that the future contract price shall not exceed seventeen cents per night per lamp for any number of lamps that the village may need.

The above is in consideration that during the continuance of any contract the right to do private lighting shall be enjoyed exclusively by this Company. And as a further concession this Company will agree that that the rate to private consumers shall not exceed twenty cents per arc light per night (or the equivalent of such price in incandescent lamps) for contracts covering one year and burning from dark until ten p. m., excepting Saturdays, when they shall burn until midnight.

Said concession to be in force only during the continuance of any contract with the village.

In explanation of the first part of this proposal it is understood that should the trustees determine to place more lights than the thirty mentioned they can be had at pro rata figures.

For thirty-seven lights or more every night in the year until midnight for eleven hundred dollars per annum until next meeting of taxpayers.

After such meeting the matter of lighting every night is covered by our rate of seventeen cents per night. Respectfully submitted.

G. C. Webb, Sec'y.

After a discussion of the proposals, the following resolution was offered by Mr. Johnson and seconded by Mr. Pardee.

Resolved, That the proposal of the Fulton Schuyler Electric Light Co. of Fulton to light the village of Fulton at this date made,—every night at the rate of $1,100 per annum—be and the same is hereby accepted, it being understood that the obligation by reason of such acceptance shall not extend beyond the next annual meeting of the taxable inhabitants of the village or in any manner be binding on the village beyond that date. Conditioned also that the said The Fulton Schuyler Electric Light Co. shall enter into a contract in writing to perform all the obligations of the proposal of said Co. in manner to be approved by this board.

The resolution was adopted by the following vote: Ayes, Trustees Pardee, Johnson and Bradford. Noes, Trustees, Kendrick, Chase and More. The President voting aye provided the amount appropriated does not exceed the appropriation for lighting streets.

On motion the Board adjourned to Saturday next at 7½ p. m. M. C. Highriter, Clerk.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO.,
New York City.

The Sun.

The Best Newspaper in America, and by far the Most Readable.

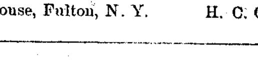
Agents wanted everywhere to earn money in distributing the Sun's Premiums.

The most interesting and advantageous offers ever made by any Newspaper.

No Subscriber ignored or neglected. Something for all.

Beautiful and Substantial Premiums in Standard Gold and [illegible]

We still live and feel healthy. The very disastrous effect of the Oswego county druggists' combination, upon our diet during the past year, seemed so apparent that upon consulting our bank account, and Wilcox's meat scales, we find ourselves yet, quite a ghost. The big guns of the Oswego county drug combination for the prevention of cruelty to fish, are still aimed at our council. Our diet of corn meal and onions enables us to still step heavily upon the necks of the Oswego county poor man's friends. We still hold forth at the beautiful opera house drug store and have increased our stock of Pure Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Wines, Liquors, Fancy Toilet Articles, Oils, Paints, and in fact everything pertaining to a first-class drug line. We desire to sincerely thank our many Fulton and vicinity friends who have stood by us in our past warfare, and thereby enabled us to secure a good fitting out of our clothes. Our Combination Competitors, have acquired such an affection for us that when we chance to pass them upon the streets, they greet us with the following smiling expression:



Remember our place, The Opera House Drug Store, Opposite the Stephens Opera House, Fulton, N. Y. H. C. GIESLER.

—CALL ON—

GEORGE JOHNSTON,

On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of

STOVES AND RANGES,

Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,
ART UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,
and ACORN,
Parlor Stoves.

THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
GRAND UNIVERSAL,
HAPPY THOUGHT,
HAPPY HOME,
and DUCHESS Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the

Howe Ventilating Stove,

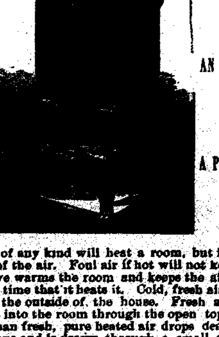
which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.

Yours Respectfully,

GEO. JOHNSTON

—THE—

Howe Ventilating Stove.



A NEW STOVE.
ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE.
AN EXCELENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE.
A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

☞ A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm, The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE

Howe Ventilating Stove Company, Fulton, N. Y.

F. G. [illegible], President.
E. R. Redhead, Vice-President.
Alzo [illegible], Sec'y & Treas.
E. L. [illegible], Gen. Manager.

GEO. JOHNSTON Local Agent
FULTON, N. Y.

PRESERVE YOUR HEALTH. [illegible]
[illegible]S' GRA[illegible]

[illegible] A. H. Bowman, Agt's Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:18 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
[illegible] Express	3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:24 a. m
Oswego Express	11:27 a. m.
Freight and Accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	9:37 p.m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:21	2:16	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	12:34	3:34	6:29

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS.

Marlin Brando of Providence, R. I. is in town.

Miss Eliza Hall is in Boston, Mass., for a few weeks.

Mrs. A. B. Bennett of Washington, D. C., is visiting friends in town.

Miss Jennie Harrison of Vernon is the guest of Miss Gertrude Farrel.

Miss Grace Hibbard of South Bend, Ind., is visiting Mrs. D. E. Spencer.

R. G. Saunderson returned to his home in Brooklyn last Monday night.

Miss Fannie Barnes was the guest of Mrs. J. Bothwell of Hannibal last week.

Prof. Bassett of Rochester has been in town the guest of his sister, Mrs. N. R. Cole.

Mrs. A. R. Loomis of Fort Dodge, Iowa is visiting her aunt, Mrs. H. N. Sabin.

Hon. Richard Sanford, wife and daughter of New York city are the guests of their son.

Miss Ella Graham of Buffalo is visiting friends and relatives in Fulton and Lower Oswego Falls.

Mrs. J. H. Townsend, who has been in town for the past few weeks, returned to Washington Monday.

Dr. W. L. Woodbury was unexpectedly called to Ithaca last week on account of the serious sickness of his sister, Mrs. Mary W. Lacy. He returned Saturday night.

William Fairgrieve, for the past three years schoolmaster of the U. S. Steamship Trenton, stationed in the Japan Sea and other Eastern waters, is visiting at his home in this village.

Are You Consumptive.

Have you Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion? Use Parker's Tonic without delay. It has cured many of the worst cases. Do you suffer from pains in the chest, back or limbs? Have you symptoms of trouble with your Stomach, Liver or Kidneys? Neglect of these warnings leads to the breaking down of the vital powers. Parker's Tonic is the best remedy. Often saves life. Cures when everything else fails. Gives new life and strength to the aged and infirm.

"For 12 years I suffered from a hacking cough that at last disturbed me so much day and night, that I could neither rest nor sleep. Sometimes it seemed as if I would choke. My friends felt sure that consumption had fastened its deadly hold on me. I tried every kind of medicine, but nothing helped me, I grew steadily worse. Hearing at last of Parker's Tonic, I began to use it, and am thankful to say that it completely cured me."—A. PONMETZ, St. Louis, Mo.

"Though prostrated with a varied complication of diseases, and given up to die by the most skillful physicians. Parker's Tonic kept me alive and raised me up after everything else failed."—Mrs. M. D. SHULTZ, Louisville, Kan.

PARKER'S TONIC,

Made by Hiscox & Co., N. Y. Sold by Druggists $1

Golden Medical Discovery.

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established. Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

Rheumatism

It is an established fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven an invaluable remedy in many severe cases of rheumatism, effecting remarkable cures by its powerful action in correcting the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. Wood, [illegible], Ill.

For Twenty Years [illegible]

[illegible] Co. [illegible] tabled and dismissed. A [illegible] was received from the Thomson-Houston Co. asking for the privilege of bidding on the lighting of the village until the next meeting of the tax payers. Some of the trustees thought that they could not entertain the proposition as they had entered into a contract with the Schuyler Co. Trustee Kendrick offered a resolution to grant the Thomson-Houston Co. the privilege of erecting poles to supply private consumers with light; the resolution was seconded but was not put to vote. Mr. Leonard of the Thomson-Houston Co., made some remarks, stating that the thing to consider was light for the village for a long term of years; that at the meeting at which bids were called for his company had no authority to bid for a short term and that they had been forced to bid or lose all chances of lighting here. That the bid that had been submitted and which his company would ratify was lower, than the bid of the Schuyler Co. for a long term, and further that the lighting of the village until next April was a small matter to either company, and his company would necessary light the village to that time for $1. Mr. Mead in behalf of the Schuyler Co. replied, saying that his company had acted in good faith and expected the village board to do the same thing; that if there was to be any further bidding he wanted an equal chance with the other company to make a bid. Mr. H. C. Howe spoke upon the validity of the board's contract with the Schuyler Co. He maintained that it was ultra vires and that the board were not bound by it. Mr. David's suggested that the taxpayer's interests would be best served by the board's making specifications of what it wanted, and get the bids of both companies. President Sharp thought he was bound by the contract and was ready to execute it. It was asked if the Schuyler Co. would waive any claim they had against the village by reason of the contract. Mr. Stranahan, representing the Schuyler Co., said they did not waive anything and were ready to fulfill their part of the agreement. Mr. Leonard of the Thomson-Houston Co., remarked that his company would enter into a bond of any sum to indemnify the village against any suits arising out of the Schuyler contract. Trustee More said that the night the Scuyler was accepted he wanted an adjournment to give both companies a fair show and he was still in the same mood. President Sharp felt bound by the contract, the board could do as they pleased. Trustee Pardee called for the opinion of the village attorney. Mr. Stephens' opinion was that the contract as a whole was not valid and the board were not bound by it, because no board could grant a monopoly; but if the minds of both parties, the board and the company, met upon the second proposition of the contract, then the board was bound by that contract. The acceptance of the board was read and further remarks were made relative thereto. It left it an open question as to whether the village accepted the whole or a part of the contract. This was a puzzler. Brother Bennett thought the Thomson-Houston Co. had enough private lighting to live upon and so it was best to complete the contract with the Schuyler Co., and let them live too until April and then get the companies to bid again. Counsel Geo. S. Dada thought the contract with the Schuyler Co. invalid; Trustee Johnson thought that settled it, and made a motion to adjourn—they adjourned.

The minutes of the last regular meeting of the board of trustees is published in this issue of THE TIMES. Saturday night a special meeting was held. Trustee Bradford offered a resolution to rescind the contract made with the Schuyler Co. at the last meeting. In offering the resolution he stated that he had not fully understood the contract and had supposed he was voting for something different from what he did. The resolution to rescind was put to vote and carried, Trustees Bradford, More, Kendrick and Chase voting in the affirmative. We would ask all taxpayers and voters to investigate very carefully the proceedings at the last regular meeting and satisfy themselves whether there was an attempt to treat either company unfairly or disregard the interests of taxpayers. Such insinuations are floating about and it is only just to the board and to each citizen that he investigate the matter himself. If there has been any attempt to force a contract, with a "monopoly" clause, upon our village, our citizens had better look to it.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Annis Cora Thomson died at her home at the upper landing in this village last Sunday morning, aged 38 years. Interment was made in Rural Cemetary, Oswego Town, yesterday.

YOUNG MEN TAKE NOTICE.

Look to Your Interests.

We are receiving the prettiest and most stylish lot of fine elegant suits, overcoats, ulsters, &c., you ever laid your eyes on. We guarantee the trimming, making and fitting equal to any made by any custom tailor in Syracuse and the prices—oh my—are just one-half as much. Don't forget to look us over before leaving your measure. Central City Clothing Co., 20 East Genesee street, Syracuse, N. Y.

FOR SALE—A very fine road horse, black, safe for a lady to drive.

R. Mead Wells.
Fulton.

Novelty Custom Mill.

[illegible]

[illegible] the factory and very cheap, at

A. E. NETTLETON'S.

The new Ontario and Western freight depot is nearing completion.

A large number of Fultonians attended the Phoenix fair last week.

All of the public schools are closed today and to-morrow on account of the fair.

Post Simons G. A. R. of Parish, held a camp fire at the town hall in that village last evening.

Those wishing to read with the C. L. S. C., during the coming year are invited to meet at the home of Mrs. Dilts, Saturday evening Sept. 25.

Chief Engineer Mosher has received an invitation to attend the annual parade of the Poughkeepsie Fire Department in that place on Oct. 5th.

The Oswego Falls factory closes this and to-morrow afternoon to allow the employes to attend the fair. Overwork is being done to make up for the time lost.

Lack of space prevents us from giving an account of the Mexico and Phoenix fairs which were held during the past week. They were in every way a success.

THE TIMES last week was in error in speaking of Hon. G. M. Case as the delegate to the Congressional Convention from Fulton. W. G. Gage was the delegate named.

The new Dempster Beach hotel on the shore of Lake Onterio was burned to the ground early last Wednesday morning the inmates narrowly escaped with their lives. Loss $7,000; insurance $1,500.

Manager Howard has received a letter from the Alberta company stating that owing to the sickness of their star, Miss Laura Alberta, they were unable to fill their engagement in this village.

The following changes in time took place on the D. L. & W. railroad Monday. Going north the 5:15 p. m. train now leaves at 6:49 and the 7:10 p. m. train at 8:30. Other trains remain the same.

The marriage of Mr. Fred A. Nelson and Miss Mattie A. Randall is announced to take place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Nelson on Ontario street, Thursday evening Sept. 30th.

Henry Humphries, editor and proprietor of the Mexico Independent, returned to Mexico Saturday, Sept. 11 after an absence of about two years in Europe and the Holy Land. Mr. Humphries proposes soon to publish in his paper an account of his visit to Egypt and the Holy Land.

W. H. Hannan of Palermo Center has on exhibition at the fair ground to-day his patent common sense thrill and pole coupling. Mr. Hannan has exhibited this at the Sandy Creek, Phœnix, Mexico and Watertown fairs within the past two weeks and everywhere he has received most flattering praise for his invention. The Spring wagon and Babcock wagon companies of Watertown pronounce it an excellent contrivance and the managers of the Jefferson county fair awarded him a diploma for its excellence. Mr. Hannan leaves to-morrow to place it on exhibition at the State fair at Utica.

One of the chief attractions of the Jefferson county fair last week was the marriage of Charles L. Corey and Carrie B. Clark of Black River. The couple took their position on an elevated platform before 10,000 people that were assembled and were joined in matrimony by the Rev. Mr. Townley of Watertown. A wedding outfit and other articles amounting in value to $500. were given to the couple. Hon. Roswell P. Flower was one of the first to offer congratulations. He gave the bride a kiss and the grom three ten dollar bills. The R. W. & O. railroad company gave as their wedding present, round trip tickets to Niagara Falls and return.

A new lot of Hanging Lamps, Stand Lamps, Bird Cages and Tinware just received at the Boston Bazaar.

Notice to American Express Agents

The New York State Fair will be held his year at Utica, N. Y. Sept. 28—29, We shall have an office on the Fair grounds during the continuance of the Fair and will deliver all matter going to or coming from there without extra charge over regular tariff to Utica, N. Y.

C. W. SELLECK, Supt.

Dancing School.

Persons wishing to take lessons in dancing, please leave their name at J.C. Tucker's crockery store, before the first of October. 19tf

For a few days longer, Draper will sell several patterns of hanging lamps at wholesale prices. 19tf

A new line of 3, 5, 10, 12, 25 and 35 Cent Handkerchiefs at the Boston Bazaar.

To Let—The house at the corner of Sixth and State streets. Enquire of Thomas Carr.

We are having a special sale of Towels and Toweling at the Boston Bazaar. Come and get some bargains.

Look at Salmon's Boot Jack Calf Boot.

This boot is made from Best Calf Stock and [illegible]. It has no equal [illegible]. A Jack [illegible] boots at the [illegible]. 10w2 [illegible]

The Annual Parade.

The boys began to fear last Thursday morning as though a parade on that day would have to be made in the rain, if made at all, and were quite glum accordingly. By noon, however, it had cleared up and in spite of the deplorable condition of the streets, the parade came off and on the whole, was a most commendable and handsome display. Members of the village board reviewed the companies from a point in front of the Lewis House. The procession consisted of the Fulton Band followed by Chief Mosher, 1st Assistant Richardson and Chief Calkin of Oswego Falls; Protection Hook and Ladder company, C. H. Gardner foreman; Steamer No. 1, M. M. Williams, foreman; Mutual Hose No. 1, S. K. McDonough, foreman; Steamer No. 2 in charge of assistant foreman T. Cavanaugh; Johnson Hose No. 2 S. Taylor, foreman. Hannibal Band; Baker Hose of Oswego Falls in charge of assistant foreman W. Parker; Cronyn Hose of Oswego Falls, A. E. Keller, foreman; John Sharp Hose No. 3, F. LaPorte, foreman; Calvin Osgood Hose No. 4, C. Ferris foreman. The line of march was changed somewhat from that published in last week's issue of THE TIMES. The head of the procession was given to the Oswego Falls company on reaching the Broadway bridge. The carriages and steamers were all tastefully decorated with flowers, but in this particular feature the John Sharp Hose company undoubtedly "carried off the palm." Johnson Hose had the largest number of men out. Mutual Hose had "mascottes." young and of a swarthy hue, that attracted considerable attention. After the parade the new Siamese coupling was tested and worked in a most satisfactory manner. On the whole the department never presented a finer appearance, and the two villages may well feel proud of their efficient companies.

Assault in the First Degree.

On last Sunday evening Officer Poole arrested Henry Miller in front of the Lewis House for being intoxicated and obstructing the sidewalk. Miller drew a revolver and threatned to shoot Poole, when officer Conley rushed up and tried to wrench the weapon from his grasp. Miller in the meantime, succeeded in slipping from the officer's arms and ran up First street firing the revolver as he ran. It is quite fortunate that no one was shot by the young desperado as a number of people were on the street, returning from church when the shooting occurred. Miller is reported to us as a worthless fellow and very treacherous when under the influence of liquor. Within the past few years he has lived at Flint, Mich, Rochester, Auburn and Syracuse. A warrant charging him with assault in the first degree has been issued and strenuous efforts are being made to ascertain his whereabouts and bring him to justice.

Temperance Meeting.

A meeting was held at the temperance rooms over Bacon's store last Thursday evening under the auspices of the Father Matthew societies of Fulton and Oswego Falls. The rooms were crowded to their utmost capacity and everything showed the great interest that is being manifested in the temperance work in this locality. Short addresses were made by D. W. Gardner, A. D. Bradt of the Oswego Falls Observer and Dr. Woodbury, Father Early made one of his characteristic speeches and members of the orginazitions rendered selections of temperance songs, duetts, &c. The next public meeting will be held at the opera house on Saturday October 9. The anniversary of the birth of Father Matthew.

New D. L. & W. Office.

The D. L. & W. railroad company has purchased of W. E. & E. A. Waugh the stand previously used as a cigar store at No. 18 First street, and will furnish it up for a regular ticket office and waiting room for the patrons of their road. Through tickets to all principal points East, West, North and South are on sale at this office. Orders are taken for baggage and free street car tickets furnished in connection with railroad tickets. F. E. Rice is the agent.

Marital.

On Monday Sept, 13, Mr. James Hinkley of Syracuse and Miss Florence Knight of Fulton were united in marriage at Syracuse, the Rev. T. F. Clarke D. D. officiating.

They Are on the List.

The following list of firms celebrated for the very finest workmanship and style in ready made clothing supply the C. C.C. C, with their fine goods: Garson, Meyer & Co., Henry Schwarz & Co.; Michaels, Stern & Co.; Rothschild, Hays & Co.; Garson, Kerngwood & Co., of Rochester, N. Y.; A. Levy & Brother; Levy Bros.; Wm. Dawinson & Co. and L. Sinsheimer & Co., of New York. Young men will save heaps of money by looking us over for fine suits and overcoats. Central City Clothing Co. 20 East Genesee street, Syracuse, N. Y. Look for the sign of the 4 Cs. C.C.C.C.

Especially low prices on children's school shoes for the next 30 days at Collins'

For Hosiery, Corsets, Laces, Ribbons, Gloves, &c. the Boston Bazaar's prices are the lowest.

HARPOON FORKS
for $1.00
—at—
Snow & Loomis' Hardware,
and
[illegible]

Almost time to "call in" the straw hat.

There will be a dancing party at the opera house ball room to-night. All are invited.

Rev. Mr. Danforth, presiding elder of this district, preached at Sandy Creek last Sunday forenoon.

The boiler at the water works by means of which water is pumped into the tank is undergoing repairs.

The 17th annual meeting of the open communion Baptists opened in Phœnix on Monday evening and is now in session.

The Redfield G. A. R. post has thirty-five members. Eight of them attended the recent encampment at Oswego Falls.

The two new street cars arrived last week. They are considerably smaller than the other ones and will be used for the regular trips.

The county papers all speak highly of the "great time" that their many citizens had who attended the sham battle at Oswego Falls on the 9th.

Clarence Salisbury of Sandy Creek, a brakeman on the R. W. & O. railroad was instantly killed while coupling cars at Watertown, Monday morning.

Seamer No. 1 wish to return their thanks to Mrs. Isaac Darrow for a lavish supply of flowers which she kindly donated on the day of their annual parade.

Post Schenck G. A. R. of this village has accepted the invitation of Moses Summers Post of Baldwinsville to take part in the parade and review at Baldwinsville on Friday, Oct. 1.

Last Sunday morning about eight o'clock, the house of John Murphy at East Palermo was struck by lightning and burned. Part of the contents were saved. The loss was estimated at $500.

Cards are out announcing that the marriage of Mr. Star Hill and Miss Hattie Patterson will take place at the residence of the bride's parents on Oneida street, Wednesday Sept. 29.

The night express on the New York Ontario & Western railroad leaving Fulton at 9:10 p. m. for New York and the one rriving at New York at 6:20 a. m. has been discontinued on Sunday nights.

Teachers' examinations in the second and third commissioner's district will be held in Pennellville, to-day; Orwell tomorrow; Central Square, Friday; Williamstown, Saturday, Parish, Monday and Redfield Tuesday.

We are in receipt of the Perth Amboy, (N. J.) Republican, of which Fred B. Highriter, formerly local editor of THE TIMES, is now one of the editors. The Republican is a four page weekly, size 26x40 and is published on Fridays. It resembles THE TIMES very much in size and appearance.

On Sunday morning lightning struck a barn belonging to Ichabod Fitch, about two miles west of here and completely destroyed it with its contents. There ten tons of hay, a quantity of grain and some farming utensils that were consumed. There was an insurance of $200.

C. W. McCormick, manager of the Jennings stone quarry, has found a spring at the quary that produces mineral water of a superior quality. The water has been analyzed and is found to contain many of the ingredients common to the well-known Deep Rock mineral water. G. C. Lathrop has it on exhibition at the fair ground this week. It is also on draught at H. C. Giesler's drug store.

On next Wednesday at the opera house Dr. B. G. Northrop of Boston will deliver a lecture upon the needs and necessities of the village of Fulton on invitation of citizens of this village. This lecture is to be free and the ladies are especially invited to attend as help from them is expected in the contemplated improvement of our village. At 3 p. m., at the opera house Dr. Northrop will deliver an address to the teachers and scholars of this village and Oswego Falls, on which afternoon the public schools will be closed.

The largest line of Fall and Winter Underwear to be found in Fulton is at the Boston Bazaar. Call and see their leaders.

Don't miss those bargains at Draper's in Table and Hanging Lamps, China Tea Setts, and those new style (Ribbon Chamber Setts) all new goods and new prices. Call and see. 19tf

J. Cooley Tucker has the sole agency for the celebrated granulated wheat, a food prepared from the best white winter wheat, unleavened, ready cooked for immediate use. It is the best food for invalids and children. As a diet for cases of nervous prostration and debility, constipation and dyspepsia, it is unequaled. It is used in Health Institutions extensively. 10tf

Special Prices For Carpets, Furniture &c.

A. A. Graff & Co., No's 61 & 63 South Salina Street, Syracuse, offer for the next 30 days, as a special bargain, 100 Parlor suits, [illegible] plush, solid walnut frames, 7 pieces for $[illegible]; [illegible] chamber suits, [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] The [illegible] exhibition of the Oswego [illegible] which these fairs have held in past years will be fully maintained if not excelled. The weather thus far has been somewhat cool but pleasant. The attendance yesterday was about the same as the opening day last year. The show of cattle, horses and blooded stock promises to be fine. To attempt to give a description of the exhibits is impossible with our limited space. We have therefore confined ourselves to a brief mention of some of the displays by the principal exhibitors.

F. E. BACON.

Bacon has a large stand on the right in entering the main building from the East, where is displayed a large assortment of carpets, tapesary, curtains and ladies dress goods.

BOSTON BAZAAR.

This enterprising firm have two stands, one up stairs in which is displayed a large assortment of tin ware and below a fine display of hosiery, underwear, lamps, albums and many other articles.

D. C. MORE & CO.

have an elegant line of fine gents' clothing, underwear, mufflers and silk handkerchiefs. K. F. Salmon also has in this stand a display of boots and shoes.

D. C. DRAPER

exhibits a very large quantity of all kinds of crockery, lamps, majolica and plated ware, castors, &c., which are all very tastefully arranged.

A. BRISTOL

exhibits in the main building an assortment of pianos, organs and musical instruments of every description. In addition to this he has a large tent in which are displayed a large number of sleighs and wagons.

M. M. WILLIAMS displays a large number of toilet sets, perfumeries, frames, albums, druggists' fancy goods, combs, brushes, &c.

H. C. BEALS.

This stand is covered with embroidery work executed by the Davis sewing machine also pictures and frames.

W. P. OSBORNE

displays a full assortment of watches, clocks jewlery, &c. Mr. Osborne's display is very fine.

Firms from out of town make some very fine exhibits among which might be mentioned Hayden of Oswego, with his display of crockery; A. W. Palmer of Syracuse, gents' clothing; Merriam & Sebbitt, Oswego, crockery, lamps, &c.; Schilling, Oswego, pianos and organs; Kingsford of Oswego has a very large display of carpets, dress goods, tapestry and upholstered goods; Caleb Green, Oswego, shows rare and beautiful wall paper of foreign and domestic make; A. D. Perry & Co, Syracuse a large variety of seeds. The art department is very fine with miscellanious collections and exhibits by Nagle and Wm. R. Nesbitt both of Oswego. Large displays of of fancy embroidered work of every description are exhibited by Mrs. H. S. Gardner, Mrs. E. C. Talcott of Syracuse, Mrs. M. Soule of the same city and others. J. R. Blanchard of Baldwinsville has a fine assortment of marble and granite monuments.

In the annex to the main building, Geo. Johnson has many first class stoves and ranges, and as agent for the Howe Ventilating Stove works, exhibits these model heaters; Snow & Loomis has a large and varied display of stoves and ranges and two styles of Ventilating stoves. J. J. Wright also gives a fine display in the same line. Up stairs is filled with poultry entirely and attracts considerable attention.

The new agricultusal hall is well stocked with every conceivable kind of grapes, pears, plums, plants, flowers, corn, squashes, cucumbers, onions, tomatoes, beans, beats, &c., &c.

The display of wagons, mowing machines and all kinds of farming machines are very large and among the firms represented are R. K. Harris Sons, Fulton; D. M. Osborne, Auburn; Walter A. Wood, Hoosick Falls; Stringer, Barr & Co. Munsville, and many others.

Oswego Falls.

Miss Lillian Schenck of Harrisburg, Pa., has been home on a visit.

Mrs. Frank Topping of Waterloo has been home visiting her parents.

Building is very active this fall, Many houses are in process of erection.

The Cronyn hose company held their first ball at the opera house hall last Thursday evening.

Miss Milnes and Miss Townsend of Helden Bridge, Eng., are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milnes.

Mrs. Ellis Hartley, Miss Anna Chorley and Miss Anna Dyson have returned from a four months visit to England.

The old Oswego Falls Manufacturing Co. owning the ten houses on the block with the Broadway house and the four on the west side of Fourth street offer them for sale in order to wind up their affairs.

On Wednesday last "Toby" Burden was released from the Oswego jail Jas. Gilhooley and James McDonough went his bondsmen in the sum of $1,200 for his appearance before the grand jury. McDonald is now considered out of danger.

While hunting near Lake Neahtawanta last Saturday afternoon, a boy named Shoesmith accidentially shot himself in the leg with a revolver. His companions carried him to Dr. Well's office in Oswego Falls. At last accounts the ball had not been found and it is impossible to state how serious the wound may prove.

The following were elected officers of the [illegible]

[illegible] clothing in this changeable climate of ours is apparent to every one, but some people will neglect their personal comfort through a stress of business or for reasons of economy (so called), thus endangering health and possibly causing the necessity of a doctor's bill far in excess of what would be required to clothe them in health-protecting garments. The homely old sayings are again applicable "Penny wise and pound foolish," and "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." Don't be foolish but come at once and select a good warm winter suit and overcoat, and don't forget a good rubber overcoat to keep out the damps of this season of the year.

PEEBLES & COOK

Opposite Opera House.

CHILDREN'S CLOTHING A SPECIALTY.

Sam. Jones said he saw a man who said he saw a man, that saw a man, who knew a man, that saw a man, whose wife said her daughter saw a lady, who saw a lady that knew a lady, whose husband saw a man that knew a man who saw a man that said the right place to buy Dry Goods or Clothing is at

H. & A. Rosenbloom's
Double Mammoth Stores.

This was a long time ago; everybody knows it now.

THE TIMES' OFFERS!

$1.25 will give you one year's Subsctiption to THE TIMES and Four months Subscription to the

DETROIT FREE PRESS

The most original, piquant and entertaining of American Newspapers. $1.25 will also give you one year's Subscription to

THE FULTON TIMES

and one year's Subscription to the

AMERICAN FARMER,

A Sixteen page Agricultural Magazine, which is rapidly taking rank as one of the leading Agricultural Publications of this country. The same offers to old Subscribers who pay subscription to date and one year in advance.

SUBSCRIBE! SUBSCRIBE.

DREAMS.

To dream of a balloon ascension indicates that you have "got wind" of our competitors' high prices, and if you make any purchase before seeing our stock and learning of our great bargains, your pocket-book will probably be knocked "higher than Gilroy's kite."

To dream of money represents that you may start a bank savings account with the liberal discounts we make on sales. You should not hesitate a moment to follow the advice of the ORACLE.

To dream of suicide forbodes a calamity apt to befall any one that pays exorbitant prices. Take warning, and purchase not until we have quoted you figures others dare not meet.

To dream of old rags indicates that you have not been careful in buying clothing, and that you have been swindled by unfair dealers. You should come with haste to our establishment and see our new styles and low prices.

To dream of a ring indicates a proposition in matrimony, and that it would be well to order the wedding suit of us.

To dream of a coffin is a sure sign that our storm of low prices will make great havoc among competitors, and that there will be a pestilence of genuine bargains for our customers. It will be "dead against" your interests to forget this.

[illegible] & CO.

[illegible] Dealers.

[illegible] of the [illegible] Orange County [illegible] to raise and [illegible]

A [illegible] western dairyman [illegible] for his cows, [illegible]

[illegible] of clear limewater or [illegible] put in the milk at every feed will cure scours in calves.

Hubbard squashes are more profitable to grow among potatoes or corn than pumpkins, and when cooked make excellent food for stock.

Every farm should be supplied with a flock of guineas. They are prolific layers, the best protection against hawks and a sure exterminator of insects.

The freight for shipping California fruit to Chicago is $4.50 a car load. Grain and all other farm and garden products in proportion. This explains why farming does not pay.

If farmers have safe storage for wheat and corn and do not need the money for it, we should judge, from all we can gather, that they will do quite as well to hold on for a while.

At the Birminham poultry exhibition, lately held in England, prizes were offered for preserved eggs. First price went to eggs packed in dry salt; second, to greesed eggs in lime-water and salt.

A New England dairyman states that he has fed green rye to his cows for three seasons, and the improvement in the quality of milk, cream and butter was very marked. He uses no coloring for his butter, and finds the green rye better than any other kinds.

Straw will soon be used for building purposes. It is claimed that straw may by closely pressed into bales 14 by 16 inches, or of any size desired, and the bales may be used for building walls. The walls can be plastered over, or be arranged to suit the convenience of the builder.

The best cider apple is the old, well-known crab appple. It still holds its place as the best for that purpose and for preserving. It finds a ready sale when marketed, and is being more extensively grown. It is not a very sour apple as many suppose, but is rather tart, though well flavored.

Meadows in Autumn.

Stock has now full possession of the meadows almost without exception. Many of our meadows are picked as close, and trodden as hard, even thus early in the season, as the pastures are.

Where the matter of fences, and other growing crops will allow, the stock is usually turned in upon the meadow soon after the haying is done. This practice is peculiarly trying to the meadow. It has just lost its natural cover in the shape of the season's growth taken off for hay, and the sun and drying winds have free access to its unprotected roots.

Nature seeks to provide for it in this emergency by throwing out a fresh growth. To his own loss man obstructs this natural process by turning his animals in to feed it down. A lot of tender, young feed is very tempting to be sure, especially when the pasture is dry and short; but the ultimate well-fare of the meadow should first be considered.

Stock should not be be turned in until a good growth has again covered the meadow and the dry, hot weahter is past. Better have an acre or two of sowed corn or other soiling crop to help out the pasture than to run the risk of ruining the meadow.

Meadows are too often kept closely picked down even to the time of snow-flying. Such a meadow is sure to be injured to a great extent the succeeding winter. The ground is trodden hard, so that the upheaval of the frost will tear the roots of the grass apart and thus destroy it. Such meadows are said to be winter killed, and the question is asked "What shall we do for our meadows?" The answer should be "Leave 'em alone"—in autumn. Meadows will stand, perhaps, an amount of fall picking, but they should never be closely picked. There is nothing left for the protection of the roots. The light growth of grass itself after it has been killed by frost may not offer any great protection, but offers an obstruction to the snow, which it gathers and holds as a protecting mantle against the alternate freezing and thawing, so fatal to grass roots.—[Indiana Farmer.

Swine on Stubble.

It is very doubtful if it pays to pasture the stubble ground with hogs. It is certainly better to rake the stubble, and feed or thresh the gleanings. There should be little grain left on the ground; and the hogs, wandering around to find it when the weather is warm, will lose nearly, if not quite, as much flesh as they can make from the gleanings. They are subjected, also, to conditions that are decidedly unfavorable. Their nostrils being near the ground, they inhale a great deal of dust from it, and also from the stubbles and weeds which their bodies brush off; and this last, especially, is hurtful to the lungs, throat and nasal passages, and doubtless is often responsible for the diseases of these organs, which prevail in the autumn. Wandering around in the heat and dust, the animals become very thirsty, drink [illegible], and get more disease than [illegible]. Pasturing the stubble with hogs is saving at the spigot to waste at the bung-hole.—[American Agriculturist.

[illegible]

[illegible] society belle? Men may admire her for the moment, when, in brilliantly lighted parlors, her beauty and charms dazzle the eye; but what are the after conclusions? "Silly creature, wrapped up in herself and the world," was the comment of an apparent admirer upon a young belle after an eventful social occasion in New York only a few weeks since. Fashion and folly never gained an ounce of respect worth the possession, and never will. Young women alas! too often mistake adulation for respect, only to find at the end that it was but hollow mockery, and like a pyrotechnic display, prepared for the occasion.

A true young woman's ambitions stretch beyond the ball-room and the milliner's establishment. She wisely strives to make her life grand in womanly virtues, and by her example inspires others to the same priceless crown of womanhood. This is the woman that commands the respect and admiration of the world, not temporily, but permantly. In her, friends recognize a rich store of practical good sense, and a beatiful harmony about her character that at once inspires sincere respect, which soon warms into love.—[Brooklyn Magazine.

The Journalism of To-Day.

I remember many years ago when I was city editor of The New York Times and lived in Brooklyn, my mother wrote me from the country, where she was spending a few months, that a stranger who judged of Brooklyn by what appeared under the head of Brooklyn news would imagine there was nothing in the City of Churches except a city hall, a a few criminal courts, police stations and a morgue. In other words, crime has the call.

No city in the world surpasses New York in intelligence, in love of all that is good and pure and noble and decent and humane, but with the exception of a few idiotic reports of sermons, with now and then a record of some English lecturer or Irish orator, all the upper realm is left untouched. Our reporters are instructed to scent the carrion. They never bring the rose with its perfume, or the lily with its grace, the pansy with its drooping beauty before the public attention but the dead dogs of agitation and the swollen carcasses of crime and the offal of dirt and squalor, these are thrust before the disgusted eyes and under the offended nostrils of an amazed and outraged people.—[Joe Howard's Letter.

Miss Braddon, the Novelist.

Miss Braddon, the novelist, recently told Olive Logan that after she took up writing, to work at it steadily as a profession, she deliberarely changed her chirography, because she found that a large handwriting was much more fatiguing than a small one. Miss Braddon has desks and chairs of different sizes in her literary workroom, and when she gets tired of the sitting posture she takes her manuscript and walks over to a standing desk, where she writes until fatigued of the erect posture. Her writing habits are most methodical. She breakfasts at 9 and is at her desk by 10 a. m. She woks on without intermission for a regular meal until 7 p. m., when she dresses for dinner. If she feels hungry during the day she rings for a cup of tea and a bit of bread, which are brought on a tray to her desk. But at heavy work like this would soon use up a person a good deal younger than is Miss Braddon, she only indulges in three work days a week. The other days she is off horseback, always hunting in the season.—[Boston Transcript.

City Mail Delivery in 1986.

"In 1986 such a thing as a postman or a carrier walking ten or fifteen hours a day delivering mail matter will never be heard of, for the simple reason that there will be none in existence then." remarked a scientific man the other day to a reporter.

"How will the mail be delivered?"

"Everything will be reduced to a fine system, and a letter will be delivered in three seconds after its arrival at the postoffice. Each house in the big city will be connected with the general postoffice or branch station as the case may be, with a pneumatic tube large enough to carry a good-sized package. At present such a system of delivery cannot be put into practice as it would be too expensive. A century hence civilazition will rise to such a high and prosperous point that a system of quick delivery by means of pneumatic tubes will certainly be in vogue. It could be done now only it would bankrupt a city. The tube from Twenty-third street to the Western Union building shows how nicely it works. A letter or a telegraphic message takes just two seconds to go two and a half miles. The quickest means of transit are sure to be adopted in the long run. It is the evolution of progress and nothing can stop it short of the universe. Not only will private houses have these tubes, but all of our large cities will be pneumatically connected. Chicago will be perhaps ten seconds by letter from New York and San Francisco a minute or so. It will change a great many things and do away with the steam cars as a mail carrier. The system is yet in its infancy.—[New York Mail and Express.

Brace Up, Henre.

An Albion, Neb., girl, weary of singleblessedness, dropped the following "open letter" in the postoffice: Dere Henre—Com rit off if yoo cumatall. Ned Gilmore is insistin that i shall hav him and he hugs me so tha i can't holdout much longer." It is to be hoped that "Henre" responded at once and demonstrated his [illegible] as a hugger.

[illegible] to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. And now, after having taken twelve bottles, within the last twelve months, the scrofulous eruptions have entirely ceased, and the [illegible] which [illegible] "I do not know what it may have done for others, but I do know that in my case, Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved an effective specific indeed. As an evidence of my gratitude I send these facts unsolicited, and I am ready to verify the authenticity of this cure, by personal correspondence with any one who doubts it." CHARLES A. ROBERTS, East Wilson, N. Y.

This statement is confirmed by W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, N. Y., who calls the cure a great victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Send for book giving statements of many cures.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

Last year the ribcest American merchant, H. B. Claflin; the richest American railroad man, W. H. Vanderbilt, and the richest American planter, Edmond Richardson, died. Not one of the three died in his bed. One dropped dead at his desk, another in his hall and the other on the street.

Cures His Patients.

If you are afflicted with any chronic disease go and see Dr. Markley at the Lewis House every Thursday. If there is a doctor that can tell what ails you he can. If he says he can cure you he will do it. His terms are very reasonable. 17tf.

There are in Paris 450 lithographic establishments, of which 200 are engaged in color printing. The French lead all others in the lithographic art.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf Crowds still surround the store windows in which are exhibited Mrs. Cleveland's portraits.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

Men love to hear of their power, but have an extreme disrelish to be told of their duty.

Send for Pamphlet on Female Diseases mailed free, securely sealed. Dr. J. B Marchisi, Utica, N. Y. 20tf.

A good word is an easy obligation; but not to speak ill requires only our silence which costs us nothing.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

Let friendship gently creep to a height; if it rushes to it, it may run itself out of breath.

Woman and Her Diseases.

is the title of an interesting illustrated treaties (160 pages) sent post-paid, for 10 cents in stamps. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Professor Winnecke, of Strasburg, the discoverer of the nine comets, has gone mad.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

Whatever you dislike in another person take care to correct in yourself.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

W. W. Reed, of Winchester, Ind., writes: "One of my customers, Mrs. Louisa Pike, Bartonia, Randolph County Ind., was a long sufferer with Consumption, and was given up to die by her physicians. She heard of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption and began buying it of me. In six months time she walked to this city a distance of six miles, and is now so much improved that she has quit using it. She feels she owes her life to it." Free trial bottles at R. E. Phillips' drug store.

Emperor William's 90th birthday falls on March 22d of next year.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Cough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

A machine for drying fish has been invented by a Pensocola man.

Over-worked Women.

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierces Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A [illegible]

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

JAMES COLE,
The Old Reliable
UNDERTAKER
AND
FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St. the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 511

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite
MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium
Stock Lager.

☞ Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

—COAL.—

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.
The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.
Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

ADVERTISERS
can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing
Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,
Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

SCOTT'S
EMULSION
OF PURE COD LIVER OIL
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda
Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvelous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

uy while it is Cheap!
Purest Clanest, Best.
FOR SALE BY
[illegible]

Kaskine Restores Perfect Health.

In Bellevue Hospital, N. Y.: "Universally successful."

In St. Francis Hospital, N. Y.: "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Dr. L. R. White, U. S. Examining Surgeon, says: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Gleessner, has cured over 250 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says: "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, M. D., says: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

IS THE ONLY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD THAT DESTROYS THE GERMS OF DISEASE IN THE BLOOD, and permanently cures all diseases arising therefrom, such as Malaria, Fevers, Rheumatism, Billiousness, &c., and IS THE GRANDEST TONIC EVER DISCOVERED. Removes nervous prostration and premature decay by disinfecting the blood, so that the starving nerves are supplied with life giving nourishment, bringing back the VIGOR AND POWER OF YOUTH.

Send for the great list of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine.

Price $1 per bottle. Sold by Druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price. Agents wanted everywhere.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., New York.

For Sale by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y.

A clock pendulum at Avignon, France—the longest known—measures sixty-seven feet, carries a weight of 132 pounds and swings through an arc of between nine and ten feet in four seconds and a half.

Positive Cure for Piles.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

The Czar has presented the Sultan of Turkey with a set of blue fox furs. They are valued at $35,000.

Best Goods are Put in Smallest Parcels

The old proverb is certainly true in the case of Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets," which are little, sugar-wrapped parcels, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, containing as much cathartic power as is done up in the biggest, most repulsive-looking pill. Unlike the big pills, however, they are mild and pleasant in their operation—do not produce griping pains, nor render the bowels costive after using.

A Swiss scientist estimates that in 1970 there will be 8,600,000,000 people in the world speaking English, 124,000,000 German and 69,500,000 French.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

As a remedy for Pulmonary Afflictions and Scrofulous Diseases.

Where the digestive organs are feeble and ordinary food does not seem to nourish the child, this acts both as food and medicine, giving strength and flesh at once, and almost as palatable as milk. Take no other. 19t4.

Since the outbreak of the disease there have been 45,000 cases of cholera in Italy, of which 14,000 proved fatal.

SAVED HIS LIFE.

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., says he was, for many years badly afflicted with Phthisic, also diabetes; the pains were almost unendurable and would sometimes almost throw him into convulsions. He tried Electric Bitters and got relief from the first bottle and after taking six bottles was entirely cured and had gained in flesh eighteen pounds. Says he positively believes he would have died, had it not been for the relief afforded by Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by R. E. Phillips.

Hats are being made out of wood pulp. They are impervious to water and not wanting in flexibility.

CURE YOURSELF!

Don't pay large doctor's bills. The best medical book published, one hundred pages, elegant colored plates, will be sent you on receipt of three 2 cent stamps to pay the postage. Address A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

$350 PER MONTH.—Salary and commission, to competent Manager for this City or State Agency. A splendid combination. Our AUTOMATIC GAS GOVERNORS save 33 per cent, in gas bills. Our Silves Gas Lights can be attached to any fixture, instantly changing the dull, sickly, yellow flame of any gas to a soft, mellow, luminous white increasing brilliancy 50 per cent. Over 8,000 in service. Address,
THE UNION NATIONAL GAS SAVING CO.
17m3 21 East 14th St., New York.

—:LIVINGSTON COUNTY NURSERIES:—

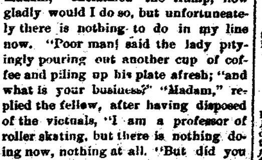
MEN WANTED!
TO SELL FIRST CLASS
Fruit and Ornamental Trees, Shrubs, Roses,
GRAPE VINES and SMALL FRUITS.

PERMANENT EMPLOYMENT on the most favorable terms. Complete outfit furnished free of expense to salesmen. Address

J M EDWARDS, Nurseryman, Dansville, N. Y. 13w4

$10 FOR 50 CENTS—Peerless Silk Hat Polish Send 50c. for a Box. Agents' circular for stamp.
PEERLESS HAT POLISH CO.,
15 Bond St., N. Y. City.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY,
ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopoeia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper.

ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

MAKE HENS

[illegible] Old English Ballad.

Midsummer Rhyme.

The melancholy days have come,
Which make young men look blue,
Saloons display the double sign,
Ice cream and oysters, too.
—[Boston Courier.

A country youth wishes to know "how long girls should be courted." Why the same as short girls, of course.—[Day's Outing.

A good number of jokes are being poked at the earthquake, but the Charleston papers are not copying any of them.—[Detroit Free Press.

The fat woman at a dime museum may not be "all wool" but she is generally "a yard wide or more."—[Noristown Herald.

"Are cigars offensive to you, madam?" he asked. "Them five-cent kind is," she replied, with her nose in the air.—New York Sun.

A Toronto woman proposes a society for the prevention of kissing. Somebody ought to kiss the poor thing and shut her up.—[Philadelphia News.

He slipped quietly in at the door, but catching sight of an inquiring face over the stair-rail said: "Sorry so late, my dear; couldn't get a car before." So the cars were full, too," said the wife; and further remarks were unnecessary.—[Chicago Ledger.

At an early hour this morning 'Squire Bixby's barn, four miles east of town, was consumed by fire. It was supposed to be the work of incendiaries. Four shoats perished in the flames.

Later—Since writing the above we learn that there was no fire.—[Bloomington (Ill) Eye.

A canine with a tin can attached to his tail by a stout cord passed hurriedly down the street. "Is that dog mad?" inquired an anxious pedestrian. "Well," responded another, "I caught a glimpse of his countenance as he passed by, and he didn't look the first bit pleased."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

"Laura," said Mrs. Parvenue, on the hotel piazza, to her daughter—"Laura, go and ask the leader of them orchestra to play 'that 'sympathy from Meddlejohn' over again. It's such an awful favorite of mine and your father's, too!" —[Boston Traveler.

The following notice is posted on a fence in Morris county, Texas: "If any man's or woman's cows or oxen gits in these here oats his or her tail will be cut off, as the case may be. I am a Christian man and pay my taxes, but d——n a man who lets his critters loose, say I."—[New York Tribune.

"Pa," said a young hopeful, "I know what a man who has seen better days is."

"Well, my son, what is he?"

"He's a man who makes you tired talking about himself."—[New Orleans Picayune.

Modern Proverbs From Shakespeare.

All the simple proverbs used in our everyday work and life are drawn from Shakespeare. A few of them are:

Shakespeare—

The sun shines hot, and if we use delay
Cold biting winter mars our hoped for hay.

Modern form—Make hay when the sun shines.

Shakespeare—

What fates impose, that men must needs abide;
It boots not to resist both wind and tide.

Modern form—Wind and tide wait for no man.

Shakespeare—'Tis the more honor, because more dangerous.

Modern form—The place of honor is the post of danger.

Shakespeare—I will arm me, being thus forewarned.

Modern form—Forewarned, forewarned.

Shakespeare—Both of you are birds of selfsame feather.

Modern form—Birds of a feather flock together.

Shakespeare—Strike now or else the iron cools.

Modern form—Strike while the iron is hot.

Shakespeare—

That would be a ten day's wonder at the least;
That's a day longer than a wonder lasts.

Modern form—A nine day's wonder.

Shakespeare—The common people swarm like summer flies.

Modern form—Swarm like flies.

Shakespere—And I forgive, and quite forget old faults.

Modern form—Forgive and forget.
—[Rose Eytinge in New York Graphic.

Why He Did Not Work.

"But why don't you go to work?" asked the lady of the house. Ah! madam," exclaimed the tramp, how gladly would I do so, but unfortunately there is nothing to do in my line now. "Poor man! said the lady pityingly pouring out another cup of coffee and piling up his plate afresh; "and what is your business?" "Madam," replied the fellow, after having disposed of the victuals, "I am a professor of roller skating, but there is nothing doing now, nothing at all. "But did you make money while the business was good?" "Ah! that's just it, madam; my usual luck; I didn't enter the profession until all the rinks were closed. Some men are always a day or two late. Good morning, madam; if you'll be good enough to hold the dog for a few minutes I'll tear myself away and go to some shady spot where I can forget my sorrows in slumber."—[Boston Transcript.

Lincoln's Recipe For Happiness.

An autograph letter that I would like to own was shown me a few days ago. "A. Lincoln" was boldly signed at the end of it, and the wisdom was there paragraphed in this wish:

"Do not worry.
"Eat three square meals a day.
"Say your prayers.
"Think of your wife.
"Be courteous to your creditors.
"Keep your digestion good.
"Steer clear of the biliousness.
"Exercise.
"Go slow and go easy.
[illegible]

[illegible]

Try it for a limp,
Try it for a lameness,
Try it for a pain,
Try it for a strain.

From shoulder to ankle joint, and for three months I had rheumatism which yielded to nothing but Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Thomas' Eclectric Oil did what no physician seemed able to accomplish. It cured me.—John N. Gregg, Supt. of Railway Construction, Niagara Falls.

Try it for a scald,
Try it for a cut,
Try it for a bruise,
Try it for a burn.

Price 50 cts. and $1.00.

FOSTER, MILBURN & CO., Prop's.
BUFFALO, N. Y.

SULPHUR BITTERS
THE GREAT
German Remedy.
TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells, depend on SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.

The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using SULPHUR BITTERS.

Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.

General Debility needs a gentle tonic Use SULPHUR BITTERS, and you will not be troubled.

Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.

Ladies in delicate health, who are all run down, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.

$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.

Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.

SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.

SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

Golden Medical Discovery

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WANTED—I want you to do parlor work for me at your own home; plenty work; good pay; $1 per piece; all materials free.
A. LOVE, CLEVELAND, O.

Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St. N.Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ASTHMA AND CATARRH. Dr. H. W. Reed's Celebrated Asthma and Catarrh Relief, the most effectual and sure cure yet discovered. Samples sent free to all who ask. Fifty cent and dollar boxes sent by mail. A. ETHRIDGE, Proprietor, Rome, N. Y.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure By JOHN H. MCALVIN, Lowell, Mass., 14 years tax collector. Sent free to any address.

MOTH-WAX
KILLS THE MOTH
and the old Moth Miller. Sample cake by mail 6 cents.
W. H. H. CHILDS,
73 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

FRENCH'S HOTEL.
CITY HALL SQUARE, NEW YORK,
Opposite City Hall and the Post Office.

This Hotel is one of the most complete in its appointments and furniture of ANY HOUSE in New York City and is conducted on the European Plan.

Rooms only One Dollar per day. Half minute's walk from Brooklyn Bridge and Elevated R. R. All lines of cars pass the door. Most convenient Hotel in New York for Merchants to stop at. Dining Rooms, Cafes and Lunch Counter replete with all the luxuries at moderate prices. 8y1

WRITE TO N. A. MILLER, Elmira, N. Y. President of the Elmira School of Commerce and ALLEN BUSINESS COLLEGE, for a catalogue of the Leading Business Training Institution of America. Gold Prize $50.

3,000 AGENTS WANTED for the NEW WORK.
GLADSTONE—PARNELL
AND THE GREAT IRISH STRUGGLE.

By the eminent author, HON. T. P. O'CONNOR, M. P. for Liverpool, and R. M. MCWADE, Esq. Endorsed by HON. C. S. PARNELL. A thrilling history of Irish oppression and the mighty struggle for Home Rule that is rocking the British Empire to its centre; also Biographies of the leaders. An entirely new work from high authority, of all absorbing interest, richly illustrated, and an immense demand. ☞ Apply quickly to
W. A. HOUGHTON & CO.,
12 East 14th St., New York.

Are You Consumptive.

Have you Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion? Use Parker's Tonic without delay. It has cured many of the worst cases. Do you suffer from pains in the chest, back or limbs? Have you symptoms of trouble with your Stomach, Liver or Kidneys? Neglect of these warnings leads to the breaking down of the vital powers. Parker's Tonic is the best remedy. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Fulton, on [illegible] July and O[illegible]

[illegible]

Dated [illegible] April 30th, [illegible]

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present the same with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the [illegible] day of Nov., 1886.

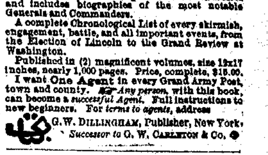
Dated May 13th, 1886. CAROLINE L. ALFRED, Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, [illegible] said county, deceased, to present the same with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence [illegible] Patterson, [illegible] in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, [illegible] benefit of the statute in such cases made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886. LUCY E. HUBBARD, Executrix.

Agents Wanted for the Great War Book Just Published, entitled



THE SOLDIER IN OUR CIVIL WAR,

THE MOST COMPLETE AND INTERESTING PICTORIAL HISTORY of the GREAT CONFLICT

Containing 160 MAMMOTH BATTLE SCENES, each 14x20 inches; 600 FULL-PAGE ILLUSTRATIONS, AND UPWARDS OF 500 PORTRAITS, MAPS, AND BATTLE SCENES. By the great War Artists, Forbes, Waud, Taylor, Becker, Lovie, Schell, Crane, and others.

These Engravings were produced at a cost of over $100,000. The book gives a complete epitome of the Battles, Sieges, and Strategic Movements of the opposing armies, based upon the best authority, northern and southern, making an accumulation of reliable and unbiased historical facts not possible to be obtained in any of the histories written during the progress of or since the War.

The work is carefully edited from data obtained from the most authentic authorities, and the descriptions of battles, incidents, and historical facts, are furnished by the leading Soldiers of both armies and include biographies of the most notable Generals and Commanders.

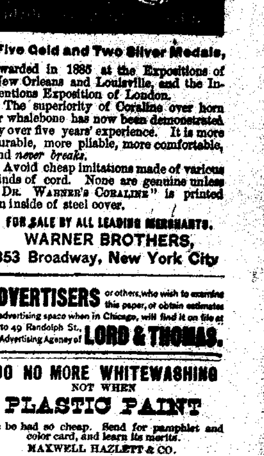
A complete Chronological List of every skirmish, engagement, battle, and all important events, from the Election of Lincoln to the Grand Review at Washington.

Published in (2) magnificent volumes, size 13x17 inches, nearly 1,000 pages. Price, complete, $12.00.

I want One Agent in every Grand Army Post, town and county. Any person, with this book, can become a successful Agent. Full instructions to new beginners. For terms to agents, address

G. W. DILLINGHAM, Publisher, New York.
Successor to G. W. CARLETON & Co.

WARNER BRO'S



Five Gold and Two Silver Medals, awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.

The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks.

Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "DR. WARNER'S CORALINE" is printed on inside of steel cover.

FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING MERCHANTS.
WARNER BROTHERS,
353 Broadway, New York City

ADVERTISERS or others, who wish to examine this paper, or obtain estimates on advertising space when in Chicago, will find it on file at 45 to 49 Randolph St., the Advertising Agency of LORD & THOMAS.

DO NO MORE WHITEWASHING
NOT WHEN
PLASTIC PAINT
Can be had so cheap. Send for pamphlet and color card.
MAXWELL HAZLETT & CO.
109 McElderry's Wharf, Baltimore, Md., or 606 Washington Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

CATARRH ELY'S CREAM BALM was recommended to me for HAY FEVER. I have found it a specific for that dreaded disease. For ten years I have been a great sufferer. [illegible] —of F. B. Ainsworth & Co., Pubs. [illegible]

HAY-FEVER

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price 50 cents by mail, registered, 60 cts. [illegible] Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

NATURE'S [illegible] CURE FOR CONSTIPATION. [illegible]

[illegible] OSWEGO COUNTY [illegible]
VOLUME 15 [illegible]
Single Copies [illegible]

[illegible]
[illegible] betting on it was so reckless and [illegible]
[illegible] of leagues and see the pitcher [illegible]
[illegible] the spinning sphere to make its present course erratical,
The man behind the bat—who now, protected, [illegible] and fingers—
[illegible] went to catch the swiftest balls with unprotected digits,
[illegible] in after [illegible] the least his mien serene and jocular
When madly rushing foul-tips smashed his nose or closed his ocular.

THE PRESENT.

The catcher of the present faces volleys hot and curving.
[illegible] scarcely can be blamed because he finds the work [illegible] serving.
Although I'm no poltroon, I do beseech you don't think that o' me;
I don't like things conducive to an incomplete a-atomy.
The gentleman who now disports behind the bat and willow
Is guarded by an armor like a cushion or a pillow.
Although his mask gives him a look which certainly is comical,
To foul-tips bids him make investigations astronomical.

THE FUTURE.

And now, methinks, we shall behold the catcher of futurity
Cavorting 'round behind the bat in absolute security.
His helmet and his brassets and his other things armorial
Will most assuredly prevent all injuries corporeal.
With iron gauntlets on his hands, a bird cage on his visage,
Oh, happy will the catcher be who plays base ball in his age,
For he cannot be damaged by the spinning missile spherical
Unless by some occurrence less wondrous than a miracle.

—[Chicago News.

A Drinking Man.

BY H. C. DODGE.

We N V not a drinking man;
His habit E Z grows
To an X S do what he can Naught can X L its woes.

'Tis very R D finds to stop,
Though oft he will S A;
Then fall and O K whisky shop
His tortures to L A.

His pocket always M T is,
And C D are his clothes;
He can't attend to N E "biz"
Red doth R A his nose.

Drink holds him in its I N grip;
Soon D P gets in sin;
Sure in the N D down will slip,
Filled with D K within.

Though of no U C often takes
H U of cloves to quell
His breath and then in D D makes
Those C Q know who smell.

His friends all have an I C way
When for their A D goes,
They can't X Q's his vile display
And P T not his woes.

In K C has a wife to slay
Her heart will A K lot;
The debts he O Z makes her pay,
And tears her I I will blot.

S K P can't his doom e right;
Sick eve old A G lies;
The snakes he C Z tries to fight
And without P C dies.

Ode to an Overcoat.

Although upon a summer day
You'll lightly turn from me away,
When autumn leaves are scattered wide
You'll often linger by my side;
But when the snow the earth doth cover
Then you'll be my ardent lover.

THE EIGHTY-FIRST N. Y. VETERANS AT FORT HARRISON.

BY LIEUT. SQUIRES.

WE had been in the entrenchments at Petersburg, under a constant fire for over two months, when one pleasant evening we received orders to move. All changes of troops had to be made in the night, as any movement on our part in the daytime was sure to draw the concentrated fire of the enemy. So before daylight next morning troops of the second corps took our place in the works and we marched silently out. Going perhaps a mile to the rear, we stopped for coffee, while other regiments joined us. Here we learned our destination was Bermuda Hundreds; for a rest it was said, and so it was believed by the recruits; but the vets had long before learned there was no rest on the program for that campaign.

Not being very well, and scarcely able to march, I asked permission of our colonel to jog along ahead on my own account. It was a lovely morning, and having been over the road before, I started off with good cheer. I had not gone far, when I came to a wagon driven by a man from our regiment. I climbed [illegible] and stowed myself away under the [illegible] canvas of the wagon. The sun [illegible] out bright and hot, and as we [illegible] along, I became drowsy 'mid the [illegible] rumble of the wagons and strange [illegible] of the drivers, which no living [illegible] on earth, excepting a mule, could [illegible]stand. After a while I became [illegible] sufficiently to notice that the [illegible] was very thirsty. He often took [illegible] draughts from his canteen and [illegible] gave it a little [illegible] after getting [illegible] he changed it for one which [illegible] full. [illegible]

[illegible] one preceding it had got well on the bridge, and then follow slowly down the bank. About this time it occurred to me that it would be as well to walk over that bridge, so I crawled down and went toward the river. Bob became impatient at the delay, and came down the bank with his mules on the jump. When he came up with the wagon ahead he pulled out to the right and tried to pass, but this flank movement proved a failure. His off mules were crowded off the bridge, dragging down the others, with wagon, driver and all. A tremendous volley of oaths burst from the lips of the quarter-master, teamsters and guards who were fast gathering round the sinking team. This, mingled with the braying of the mules whenever they could get their heads above water, as they struggled and kicked in the harness, together with the cries of the teamster, who was tangled up with them, was the most unearthly din ever set up in that neighborhood. "Cut the harness and free the mules," shouted the quarter-master. At length this was done, but not until three of them were drowned. Bob was hauled out without his hat, half drowned and nearly frightened to death, but he was perfectly sober. The wagon swung round against the bridge, where it became entangled. You could just see the top above water. The colonel came on the bridge, when the quarter-master in charge of the wagons saluted him and said, "Colonel, that drunken vagabond from your regiment has driven off the bridge, drowned three of his mules, and there is the wagon under water. I don't want his services as teamster any longer." The Colonel told Bob he had been guilty of grossness, and could now go to his company and do duty by carrying a musket. I thought the Colonel inclined to be lenient, and that Bob was getting off rather easy; when the regimental quartermaster, who had been gazing down at the wagon with a rueful countenance, looked up and said: "Colonel, all our headquarter baggage, tents, blankets, regimental books, mess chest, commissary stores, both solid and liquid, are in that wagon under water." The Colonel's nostrils expanded, fire shot from his eyes, and a voice of thunder, he shouted: "Bob, you infernal drunken villain! You deserve to be shot. I will teach you better than to drive my headquarters wagon into the river."

We marched on and took our place in the front line of works at Bermuda Hundreds. That night the field and staff of the 81st New York Infantry made a supper on hard tack and coffee and slept in borrowed blankets, while poor Bob, drenched to his skin, for two long hours stood lightly on his toes with a tent cord around his thumbs, and the bight fastened to the limb of a tree.

The night went quietly by; a great contrast to our night experiences at Petersburg. The next day we found we could stand up and walk about without instantly becoming targets for the enemy. The pickets were on friendly terms, and by looking for our works we could see both Yanks and Johnnies walking their beats, with guns at right shoulder-shift. In some places they were not ten rods apart, and during the day the boys managed in some way while not observed by the officers to exchange New York papers for the Richmond Whig and Examiner, and also carried on quite a business by trading coffee for tobacco. This did certainly look more like rest than anything we had seen for months. That night after tattoo we rolled ourselves into our blankets in expectancy of a good night's sleep. I had got well under way in that direction, when I was partly awakened by a shrill shell that screeched over our camp and exploded just to the rear, followed by another and another. In my half consciousness I supposed I was still at Petersburg and wondered why a shell or two should disturb me. But the business was growing lively, and I soon remembered I was not at Petersburg.

By this time officers were shouting to get in line, and in less than five minutes we were in the works 'mid a tempest of shot and shell. At the right of our regiment was a battery of light artillery. We could see them moving their guns, with coats and hats off and soon they opened; sometimes in volleys by battery, and then each gun on its own account. And nobly did they work. But this seemed only to infuriate the enemy and stimulate them to new activity. They rained shot and shell among us in perfect torrents, and of all descriptions. The large missiles came with a howl; shells from their light guns screeched and those from their rifled Whitworth's went by with a hiss. But now our artillerymen were waking up. Just back of us in the second line of works, were a lot of heavy guns, which began to send a shower of shells over our heads, while on to the right, the First Connecticut heavy artillery being stationed with several batteries of thirty-two pounders, soon opened. About the same time our gunboats on the James river commenced with their terrible thunder. They must have had a survey of the country, for they sent their huge missiles over us and landed them safely in the enemy's camp.

Now the ball was at its height. One [illegible] he struck [illegible] and [illegible]

[illegible] manner. A gloom seemed to settle over the enemy's lines, their artillery gradually ceased firing, and ours soon followed their example. Those who were not in the army will naturally conclude that after two hours of this artillery diversion there could have been but few left to tell the tale; but in fact most of us were left. There were very few killed, a few more wounded, some tents knocked down, wagons smashed, and mules pulverized, and this was the extent of the damage. It has always been a mystery to me, how so much lead and iron could thus carelessly be thrown about and do so little damage. The boys got a cup of coffee to settle their nerves and soon were enjoying their tents and blankets.

All was then quiet at Bermuda Hundreds until the afternoon of September 29, when we received orders to move at nine o'clock that evening, in light order, with two days' cooked rations, and sixty rounds of ammunition, which looked like business. I will now speak individually of a few, not that they merited mention above others, but that the part they took in the drama before us came directly under my notice, and seemed peculiar. We had a captain named Rix, who, from the receipt of the order to move, was cast down in spirits. A terrible gloom seemed to steal over him, which defied all his efforts to shake off. He declared to his friends among the officers that in all the battles he had been in with the regiment, he had never had such feelings of depression, and he was fully convinced this was to be his last night on earth. In spite of all his associates could do or say, he remained unshaken in that belief. A young man named Nathaway was affected directly the opposite. I had never before thought him particularly light-hearted, but he certainly was so now. He made all his preparations for the march in a cheerful way, and seemed to anticipate a pleasant time. But a short time before, while on a furlough, he had married, and left his young wife in Albany. A lieutenant's commission had lately come to him, and that day he had been mustered and assigned to duty.

Our camp was lighted up as usual that evening until the tattoo sounded, when our lights went out and we marched away, thinking how it would be with us at reveille. Our road lay directly for the James, where workmen were constructing a pontoon for us to cross. While waiting on the river bank for its completion, regiment after regiment came up until our division, the first of the eighteenth corps, was closely massed in the adjoining woods. Gen. Baldy Smith had command of this corps all summer, but it was now led by Gen. Ord. When the bridge was completed we marched across with that steady cadence step which none but veterans acquired. And just ahead rolled the gloomy waters of another river, which ere long many of the brave men, now so lightly marching, must cross.

But all who passed over the mystic Styx that morning, went to its brink with firm and manly steps. The morning was clear and starlight, the air cool and bracing, imparting vigor and animation in place of that oppression which had so often overpowerep us on our marches that hot and sultry summer. After marching some distance over open fields we could see the outlines of heavy timber, and as we neared it the order was given for regiments to close in mass by divisions. A Vermont regiment, armed with Spencer rifles, was deployed as skirmishers, and advanced toward the wood. We pressed forward close to the skirmish line with stealthy tread. The The orders dropped almost to a whisper as that dusky throng moved silently on. The sharp crack of rifles broke the stillness directly in our front as we struck the rebel pickets. The Vermont boys let themselves out with their seven-shooters and soon had the Johnnies on a jump. One long-haired, lank-sided Johnnie who was a little slow on the retreat, and in consequence was now on his way to the rear as a prisoner, pointed to the front and said, "Them ere skirmishers of you 'uns have got them durned Yankee machines that you kin wind up o' Sunday and shoot all the rest of the week."

Balls were now whizzing among us, cutting off twigs and knocking bark from the trees, when I saw Captain Rix fall in his tracks. I stepped up and bent over him; not a muscle moved; death had been instantaneous. Two of his men bore him away, and in his hat found written instructions in regard to the disposition of his body and personal effects. He was the first officer to fall that morning.

As we came through the woods the sun lighted up the eastern sky with the bright glow of a September morning, revealing to us a scene never to be forgotten. An open country lay before us, with the massive earthworks of the enemy in full view. On an elevation directly in our front stood Fort Harrison, with frowning guns and parapets bristling with steel, while far away to right and left, like great wings, stretched lines of entrenchments. With a quick step we advanced directly for the fort, which was now in a blaze. White puffs of smoke curled from rifles sending [illegible] messengers of death among us, while great volumes rolled from the artillery, and hung like [illegible] clouds until wafted away by the morning breeze. [illegible]

[illegible] of shot and shell, a giant hand suddenly seized me by the collar, lifted me from my feet and turned me around with such force as to nearly dislocate my neck. In a rage I looked to see who could be playing such rude pranks at this critical moment, when to my surprise I could see no one who appeared to have laid hands on me. Some hours after I found what the trouble had been. On leaving camp I had rolled my overcoat inside a rubber blanket, twisted them in a cable, and tied the ends together, slinging it over my shoulder and under my right arm. A rifle ball had struck this roll on the front, over my shoulder, passing through my blouse-collar, grazing the side of my neck, which for some time resembled a burn, both in looks and feeling. And this was the hand which had so surprised and vexed me. Imagine my dismay when, undoing the roll, I found my coat nearly cut in two. It contained sixteen separate holes, some of them three or four inches long, and all made by one ball, which must have been traveling with tremendous velocity. I afterward sent this coat home as a relic.

When within about a hundred yards of the fort we came to a depression in the ground which completely sheltered us from the storm of shot which was passing over us. We halted a moment to catch our breath and close our ranks, which had become considerably broken, when a lieutenant rushed up to me with a canteen of genuine mountain dew, urging me to brace up, and pass it along to the boys; and there in the face of death, we drank his health until the last drop was found. This was the last generous act of that young officer's life, for with many others he went to his death just beyond the frowning walls in front.

Our brigade, division and corps commanders were all with us, and now urged us to advance, and as we came to the crest of the ravine which had just sheltered us, our front ranks fired a volley, and then without regard to order or discipline, the boys gave a yell and made a rush for the fort. A heavy gun, depressed and pointing directly in our faces, rolled out a cloud of smoke and at the same instant leaped from its carriage, turned a somersault and landed among the gunners. It was evidently loaded with shrapnell, for it seemed as if all the old scrap iron in the confederacy went howling and hissing over our heads. We sprang down in the trench and there began to scale the parapets. Some of the boys shoved their rifles over and fired down among the Johnnies. Lieutenant Nathaway and I climbed up side by side. As we neared the top he seized a stake in one hand, gave me a pull with the other, and we sprang on top of the works together. A moment after, as he was waving his sword and cheering, a ball pierced his brain and another his body and without a word, he fell a corpse at my feet.

Our men had now swarmed over the works and were firing on the Johnnies, who were making lively time for the woods just back of the fort. A part of our regiment had been stationed at Fort Macon, and there learned to handle heavy artillery. This knowledge was taken advantage of by turning some of the large guns found in the fort on the enemy with good effect. Just back of the fort stood a lot of log houses which had been used for quarters by the garrison. I started, with a sergeant, to inspect them, and, while on the way, came to one of our men dead on the ground. The sergeant stopped and said: "That is Wiseman; how in the world did he get here?" Wiseman was a German, a good soldier and a great fighter, but possessed a tremendous mouth. Under any excitement, perhaps on dress parade or review, if the display was uncommonly grand or the music thrilling, his jaw would drop and mouth open to a fearful extent. In a jesting way I had told the boys if Wiseman were ever shot it would be in the mouth, as that was the largest part of him. But after seeing him fully exposed at Cold Harbor, calmly loading and firing, with mouth open, in a hurricane of iron and lead, I had concluded he could not be shot at all. But my thoughtless words reproached me, for on examination we found a ball had actually entered his mouth and passed out of the back of his neck. Poor Wiseman! For three years he had toiled and struggled through hardships and exposure, and now had laid down his life for his adopted country.

In the quarters everything was left in confusion; beds and tables stood just as the rebel officers and men had left them. In the cook-houses fires were burning brightly with the dishes for the morning meal over them. In one I found a bake-pan full of splendid hot biscuits, just done to a turn, which I quickly confiscated for the special uses of our mess. On going back to the fort I passed a bomb-proof or gopher-hole, and on looking in saw a fine-looking young man in a bright, new lieutenant's uniform. On every feature was stamped intelligence and manhood, which the terrible pallor that was stealing over him could not efface. He had an ugly wound in the side, from which the blood poured whenever he tried to move. I begged him to be still and called two surgeons who, after an examination, said it would be impossible to move him; so in that pit far from home and friends his life went out. I learned afterward he belonged to a [illegible]

[illegible] they [illegible] great distances and [illegible] to expect the explosion further on. When they exploded the report was terrific. I saw one explode directly under a horse from which an artillery officer had just dismounted. The horse was literally torn in fragments, while the saddle and blanket were thrown fifty feet in the air. The effect of these shells if not very severe in casualties, was certainly somewhat demoralizing. From that day to this I have had sympathy for all erring Johnnies who through valor, misfortune or compulsion got in range of Uncle Sam's gun-boats.

The iron-clades kept up this bombardment without regard to our comfort, until engaged by our shore batteries. In the afternoon when times had become somewhat quiet, I asked two of our men to accompany me for the purpose of burying Lieutenant Nathway. We rolled his body in a blanket, and took him back near the river; and there, in a grove of pines, on a pleasant knoll we made a grave. I wrote on a paper his name and regiment with the date of his death, sealed it in a bottle and laid it on his breast. Then, placing a board at his head, we left him forever. His few personal effects, with his commission saturated with his heart's blood, were sent to his wife. On my way back to our regiment I stopped at the field-hospital which had just been located in the woods we passed through in the morning. Here the wounded were gathering in great numbers, while the surgeons with gleaming instruments were at their horrible work of mercy. My attention was called to a German boy who had his right leg and left arm terribly mangled by an exploding shell. The doctor in charge who seemed to be conscious of the great responsibility resting upon him, after casting many pitiful glances at the lad, said his case was a desperate one; that his only hope lay in having both arm and leg amputated. These crushing words fell upon the poor boy with all the horror of a death-sentence. He expressed a wish to talk the matter over with his father, who was lying wounded, near by. After a few moments' conversation in German they told the doctor he might proceed with the operation. Ether was administered which soon produced unconsciousness, when the surgeons said the chances were few for the boy to survive the operation. Keen instruments severed the arm near the shoulder and the leg above the knee. Arteries were taken up and bandages applied, when to our surprise and delight, the lad came to in good shape. The doctors were very much pleased with their success and said they believed the boy would get well, but I never saw or heard from him again.

In the assault we lost heavily in officers and men. The brigade division and corps commanders were all wounded. Our Colonel was put in command of the brigade, which left our regiment but three officers; the senior one a first lieutenant. Through the afternoon and far into the night, the boys worked like beavers, throwing up a line of entrenchments across what had been the rear the of fort. Bayonets and tin plates were used for moving the earth until picks and shovels were brought up. The long lines on either side of the fort were reversed and artillery planted at different points where it could be worked to advantage. It was well all this was done, for in the gray light of the next morning the enemy, in three splendid lines of battle, made a determined and fearless assault. But the day for driving our boys form their works was passed. The rebel ranks came on in magnificent shape, but under the terrible fire which burst from artillery and infantry they grew thin, wavered and broke, leaving their dead and wounded in our front.

The confederate flag was no longer to float over the stronghold of Fort Harrison. These horrible and bloody scenes with many others not here described, together with the loss of many loved and trusted comrades for a long time filled my heart with sadness. But twenty years have wrought a change to pride and gladness; glad that heroes were ready to lay down life for country in her hour of need; proud of the honor of having worked shoulder to shoulder with brave men for Liberty and Union.—[Watertown Times.

Carter's Little Liver Pills may well be termed "Perfection." Their gentle action and good effect on the system, really make them a perfect little pill. They please them who use them.

Be silent when you can't praise.

Pain from indigestion, dyspepsia, and too hearty eating is relieved at once by taking one of Carter's Little Liver Pills immediately after dinner. Don't forget this.

A [illegible] of Cards.

[Written for the [illegible] by the [illegible]]

During one of my summer noonings I was lounging near the side door of the wholesale house where I am employed, when my attention was attracted to a group of small Italian bootblacks lying flat in a circle on the curb, wrangling over some dirty cards and coppers. One diminutive son of sunny Italy was placed on guard, but as he became interested in the game, did not notice the approach of "der peeler." Down swooped the minion of the law, scattering players and cards in all directions. One had presence of mind enough to grab "the pot," but they left their cards. These fell to my lot, and as I gathered them up, I thought I'd give a little wealth to know their history. I noticed at the time, that although very dirty, they were the kind known to the trade as linen back, gilt edged, triplicates, and also that the ace of hearts was darkly stained on the face. The cards lay on my desk for some days undisturbed until another noon, as I sat looking at the pack I thought I would compare them with some we had in stock. As both were of the same pattern and make, they undoubtedly came from the same press and looked to me like two members of a family. One soiled and travel stained by contact with the world, the other pure and clean, but anxious to battle with the great question of life. Suddenly the clean pack began to move away from its dirty companion. "Don't want anything to do with you, you dirty, good-for-nothing, worn out pack."

"Huh! I was just as fresh as you are and felt just as well, but if you had been through what I have, I think you would offiliate with anyone."

"Why! where have you been and what doing?"

"Now if you will keep quiet a bit and not shuffle any, I'll tell you my story, or what I know of it. My parents are your parents, but I am an older son. A year ago I left New York in company with a dozen of my brothers, consigned to the 'Palace club' of Chicago. We were all in one box together and when I again saw light, it was in a large room resplendant with mirrors, paintings and electric lights. Heavy carpets covered the floors, and the elegant furniture was all furnished in green. A richly dressed man behind one of the tables placed me in a small nickle plated box, where I could see the table and the people around it. The green was covered with bright colored cards, fancy chips and complicated counting racks, and around the board sat several young men. Fine looking fellows they were, with lots of money, and ready to risk it in the game. Soon some misunderstanding arose, hot words passed; 'liar and cheat.' Then came a pistol shot, and the lights went out. I felt something warm surge over my heart, and then came a rush. 'Murder and police!' and almost instantly the place was wrecked. I was gathered up and put in the nickle box again and carted to the station house with all the ruined furniture.

The scene changed, and my blood-stained ace of hearts was a mute witness in one of the most celebrated murder trials of Chicago. The foreman of the jury took me to his home, and in this family I was the indirect cause of a divorce suit. When his home was broken up, I came east with the wretched wife, and while on the train managed to estrange two dear friends.

Back in New York again, but this time in an ash barrell, where I had been dropped by the last owner. Soon a dark, dirty face peeped in on me, and a long hook brought me to the world again. I was transferred to a dirty pocket of a brown velveteen coat, with a lot bones and crusts for company.

In a high tenement house in 'mulberry bend' I was made the companion of a family of strange people who spoke an unfamiliar language, and were dark and dirty like the man who took me from the barrel. Again I witnessed a murder, but this time most malicious and foul. Long knives that flashed and gleamed in the lamplight until one was buried from sight in the body of my rescuer. Total darkness, and in the hub-bub that follows I am tossed out only to be pounced upon by a passing boy. On the street the boys all called him 'The Dago' and while not busy gambling, (with my help) he spent his time in shining the shoes of stray customers. Often from the pavement I have looked up into those sin and dirt begrimmed faces, young—yet old in looks and in the ways of the world—to wonder how their lives would end, and how long I would have to be a party to their quarrels and horrible talk. Then came another rush by 'der peeler' this time, and here I am again awaiting my fate.

Tell you what I'd like to do?"

"Well, what?" said his companion.

"'Tis this: I'd like to be cleansed and be made white again, and then incorporated in the leaves of a bible in order to atone for all the crime and suffering I have caused."

"That would be very nice, but——" A slap on the shoulder, and a voice says: "Well, Doc., you had better wake up and check back these orders." With a yawn I arose, put the new cards back in stock, and as I dropped the old pack into the waste paper box, I wondered if it might not by chance be changed into a page or so of the revised edition, to carry light and gladness to some weary soul.

Be deaf to neighborhood quarrels.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
[illegible]

DR. PARDEE'S REMEDY,
(The only Reliable Blood Purifier.)
A SPECIFIC FOR RHEUMATISM
Scrofula, Salt Rheum,
Neuralgia, Ring Worm
AND ALL OTHER SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASES. IT REGULATES THE LIVER & KIDNEYS
And Cures Indigestion

And all Diseases arising from an enfeebled condition of the system.

It has proven itself to be the most reliable remedy known for Female Weakness, and for diseases peculiar to the sex.

Send for our pamphlet of testimonials, and read of those who have been permanently cured by its use.

☞ Ask your Druggist for DR. PARDEE'S REMEDY and take no other. Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5.

Manufactured by the
PARDEE MEDICINE CO.,
Rochester, N. Y.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

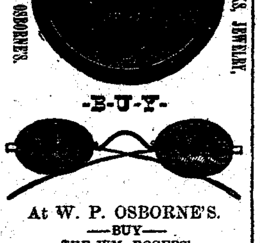
ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

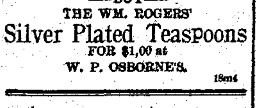
CARTER MEDICINE CO.,
New York City.

-BUY-
Hampden Watches
—AT—
W. P. OSBORNE'S.



REPAIRED AT OSBORNE'S.
WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY.

-B-U-Y-



At W. P. OSBORNE'S.
—BUY—
THE WM. ROGERS'
Silver Plated Teaspoons
FOR $1,00 at
W. P. OSBORNE'S.
18m4

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.

☞ Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS., [illegible]

H. [illegible] Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables [illegible]

DR. [illegible] WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y.
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts.
Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious Sample Rooms.

GREAT SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.

Prices Below all Competition
On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.

IN DYE STUFFS
I beat the World. Everybody will tell you. if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at
R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.
A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.
No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.
Remember my motto is strictly first class goods—and prices below all Competition.
48tf R. E. PHILLIPS.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞ Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.
☞ Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF
Ladies' Kid Button Shoes
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE
SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

LUMBER! LUMBER!
I have the Largest Assortment of
Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER
In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE
SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c,
Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere
O. RUST.
2m4

LUMBER YARD.
We have in Stock a Complete Assortment of
Lumber, Lath, Shingles
&c., and in fact everything pertaining to a
FIRST-CLASS YARD.
[illegible]

[illegible]

F. D. VanWagenen,
Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[Thackeray.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

There was another slight earthquake shock at Charleston last Monday night. Little damage was done.

The number of immigrants to this country this year is 280,000 and at a like rate the number for the whole year will be 420,000.

A piece of land was sold in the city of London recently at the rate of $10,000,000 per acre.

Beach the Australian oarsman and Hanlan met Monday at London with marked coolness. The former called our American representative a gas bag.

On Friday Sept 24th, at the residence of the officiating minister, Rev. A. M. Roe, Isaac Wales and Mrs. Rufina Depuy were united in marriage.

The New York Central road during the last year carried 12,747,801 passengers. The road operates 657 locomotives and 25,828 cars. The 953 miles of railway, with four tracks and sidings, make 2,720 miles of steel tracks. The company employs 15,309 persons, whose annual salaries amount to $8,337,355, an average of $544 each. The locomotive service averages about 25,000,000 miles.

The special delivery system heretofore in effect only in cities or towns with a population of 4,000 and upward will on and after Oct. 1st be in vogue in every postoffice. The law makes it apply also to every mailable article. Previously it was confined to letters or first-class matter. A ten cent delivery stamp put on the matter insures its speedy delivery on the arrival at the postoffice in the place to which it is sent.

Wiggins' prediction that a great earthquake will occur to-day at New Orleans, Galveston and other southern cities has caused great terror among the negroes in those localities. During the past week some of the colored churches have never closed, devotional services being held night and day. An enterprising aeronaut at New Orleans makes a balloon ascension to-day and offers places in it to those that fear an earthquake at $10 a head.

Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" is the debilitated woman's best restorative tonic.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

Fulton, N. Y., Sept. 18th, 1886.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, the president and full board.

W. C. Stephens, attorney for the village, presented and read a contract he had drawn for the village with the Fulton Schuyler Electric Light Company.

No action was taken thereon.

Trustee Bradford made a motion which was seconded by Trustee More that the resolution passed at the last meeting relative to the proposal of the Schuyler Electric Light Co. be rescinded.

The motion was carried by the following vote: Ayes, Trustees Kendrick, Bradford, Chase and More. Nays, Trustees Johnson and Pardee.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

On motion of Trustee Kendrick that the board invite proposals from the Fulton Schuyler Electric Light Company and the Thomson-Houston Electric Light Co. to light the village. The motion was lost.

On motion the Board adjourned to Tuesday evening next at 7½ o'clock.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

Fulton, N. Y., Sept. 21st, 1886.

Board met persuant to adjournment.

Present, the president and full board.

A communication was received from the Thomson-Houston Electric Light Company, asking to amend the proposal submitted by that Company at the meeting of September 15th. No action was taken thereon.

Fulton, N. Y., Sept. 21st, 1886.

To the Honorable President and Board of Trustees, Village of Fulton.

Inasmuch as our bid for lighting our streets by electricity was submitted without the knowledge that a bid for a short term would be entertained and not understanding that you wanted a bid for anything short of a year, we respectfully ask to amend our bid so as to cover the period from the time the lights can be started to the end of the present fiscal year, or until the next tax meeting; therefore:—

We hereby agree to light your streets for the balance of the time to expire before the next tax meeting at the rate of ($1,100) eleven hundred dollars per year, using (37) thirty-seven or more 2,000 candle-power lights as may be desired for one year from time of tax meeting at ($60.00) sixty dollars per light per year. Respectfully submitted,

Thomson-Houston Co.
Per F. H. Leonard jr.

On motion of Trustee Johnson seconded by Trustee Pardee that the President be instructed to execute the contract with the Fulton Schuyler Electric Light Company as submitted by the village attorney. The motion was lost.

On motion the Board adjourned.

M. C. Highriter, Clerk.

The President of the Cambridge, Mass., Binding Co., recommends Hoods Sarsaparilla as a building up and strengthening remedy.

Vienna Bakery.

[illegible] always in stock at the Vienna Bakery the largest, freshest and finest assortment of confectionary, foreign and domestic fruits, to be found in Fulton [illegible] from 12 cents up [illegible]

[illegible] Fulton st.

C. S. EGGLESTON,

[illegible]

[illegible] He has completely recovered.

Charles Pratt, a highly respectable citizen fell from his wagon, dead, last Friday morning. Apoplexy was the cause.

Last Saturday Rev. Ross C. Houghton and wife celebrated their silver wedding. A number of their old friends assembled and presented Mr. Houghton and his wife with a substantial token of their kindly remembrance.

Henry Stevens of Lacona, exhibited fourteen Holstein cattle at the Jefferson county fair held at Watertown recently, receiving thirteen first prizes.

The work will commence in the new shade cloth factory at Minetto this week. This is the only company in the country that manufacture decorated window shades by machinery. When running at their full capicity the work will employ about thirty hands.

Work on the new water works at Pulaski is progressing quite rapidly.

The widow of the late Martin Cox of North Hannibal, had a fatal stroke of paralysis on Saturday. Death was almost instantaneous.

The body of "Bert" Brown, one of the victims of the recent drowning accident at Fair Haven was discovered Monday morning by Henry Jacobs. The body was floating near the shore about a mile east of where the boat capsized and was bloated almost beyond recognition. The body of Ford, the other victim was also found Monday afternoon.

The mutilated body of Geo. W. Davis a laborer 45 years old, who lived in New Haven, was found lying by the side of R. W. & O. tracks about a mile and a quarter east of Scriba station last Sunday morning. He has a wife and five children, and had worked in Pulaski since May last. Saturday evening he boarded the train for New Haven, where he intended spending Sunday with his family, but he passed the New Haven station and was carried to Scriba, where he left the train and started back on the track to walk to New Haven. That was the last seen of him until his remains were found.

South Granby.

Cider apples are worth 20 cents per hundred, and potatoes 35 cents per bushel at our station.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Dutcher of Oswego Falls made a visit to their daughter, Mrs. Charles Smith last Saturday.

Andrew Hodgson and wife of Michigan who have been visiting friends here for some time are now visiting friends in Cold Spring.

Wm. Monroe, Will Smith and N. B. Howe are camping in the North Woods. Mr. Monroe drove his own team out with the intention of returning right away but he is not back yet.

We are having very warm weather efor this time of year, with beautiful rains of late. Fall sown grain is doing finely.

Charles Terpening died Sunday morning of typhoid fever. He was about 30 years of age. Funeral was held at the house Tuesday at 11 o'clock a. m.

John A. Blakeman remained over Saturday night with friends in Cold Spring.

Our butter and cheese factoy are offering $1.05 a hundred for milk. Their butter is bringing 23 cents at Fulton, and the cheese the highest market price.

The Salvationists are doing some good at their meetings in Jacksonville. They have quite a few recruits added to their army. They hold forth at the church very night this week.

B. Palmer is very low with consumption.

Hannibal Centre.

There is no school this week in the senior department, on account of the sickness of the teacher, Miss Fannie Rogers. Dr. Cooley attends her.

Singing school held at the M. E. church Monday and Friday nights of each week, taught by Mr. Graham of Fulton.

There was a spiritual lecture at the school house in this place last Friday night by Dr. J. Bailey of Scranton, Pa.

Miss Ellen Connely attempted to commit suicide by taking Paris Green last Saturday. Dr. Cooly was called and administered antidotes. She is now in a fair way of recovery.

WEBSTER'S
UNABRIDGED
With or without Patent Index.

[illegible]

A DICTIONARY

containing [illegible] more illustrations than any other American Dictionary.

A GAZETTEER OF THE WORLD

[illegible]

A BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY

[illegible]

[illegible] exhibits in the main building, the new agricultural hall and on the grounds were successful throughout. On Wednesday afternoon the Fulton band was present and on Thursday the Brewster Silver band of Hannibal. The races not very exciting as a general thing.

WEDNESDAY'S RACES.

Colt race, purse $50 divided, $25, $15 and $10.

T. G. Thompson, Prince Allen	1	3	2	1	1
G. W. Smith, Capt. George	2	2	1	2	2
J. W. Ivory, Major B.	3	1	4	4	3
R. Leonard, Geranium	4	4	3	3	4

The time was given as 2:59½.

Class 2:40, purse $100 divided, $50, $25 $15 and $10.

B. G. Tappan, Andy Mac	1	1	2	1
S. Sadley, Roscoe	2	2	1	2
A. Knight, Nellie K.	3	3	4	3
S. A. Thayer, Lady Blase	4	4	3	4

The time was given at 2:39½.

THURSDAY'S RACES.

Free-for-all, purse $200, divided, $100, $50, $30, $20.

Little Volunteer	1	1	1
Lysander Girl	2	2	2
Lysander Belle	3	3	3

Slow race—3:10 class, purse $50, divided, $25, $15, $10.

Lynwood	1	1	1
Lady Blase	2	2	3
Gray Dick	6	4	2
Nellie W.	3	3	4
Nina	5	6	6
Flora F.	4	5	5

Best time, 2:59½.

PREMIUM LIST.

CLASS 1, WORKING CATTLE.

Pr oxen, F. Osborne, 2d do, B. Lee, 3d do F. Moore; 4 year old steers, L. Brackett, three year old steers, D. Davis; 2d do, C. S. Fuller; 3d do, F. Cole. Two year old steers, F. Cole; 2d do, O. Gilbert. Yearling steers, M. Chesebro; 2d do, R. C. Thomas. Steer calves, T. Welling. Pr working cattle, W. M. Wallace.

CLASS 2, BULLS.

Durham—3 years old and over, J. Reynolds; 2d do, J. Fones; 2 years old L. Scudder; 2d do, F. Moore; calf, M. Chesebro; 2d do, N. H. Haviland. Jerseys—3 years old and over, H. H. Merriam; 2d do, C. C. Wilcox; 2 years old, R. Slater; 2d do, O. C. Wilcox; 1 year old, F. Wright; calf, F. Moore; 2d do, H. M. Hare. Holstein—3 years old, B. Worden; 1 year old, C. F. Corry; 2d do, A. G. Morse; calf, C. F. Corey; 2d do, J. Gardenier. Devons—1 year old and 2d do, N. Gardner. Ayrshire—2 years old, W. I. Carrier. Holderness—3 years old, H. Brackett. Hereford—3 years old, 2 years old, one year old and calf, N. Gardner.

CLASS 3- COWS.

Native—W. I. Carrier; 2d do, F. Lamson. Durham—H. Somers; 2d do, J. E. Cain; grade, P. Carver; 2d do, N. H. Haviland. Holstein—J. Gardenier; 2d do, B. Worden; 3 years old, C. F. Corey, 2d do, J. Gardenier; grade, N. H. Haviland; 2d do, L. B. Babcock; do special, C. F. Corey; grade 3 years old, J. Gardenier. Devon—R. P. Hall; 2d do N. Gardner; 3 years old and 2d do N. Gardner. Poll Augus—O. R. Parker. Ayrshire—1st and second do, and grade W. I. Carrier; 3 years old and 2d do, W. I. Carrier. Ayrshire and Durham, Willie Dada. Jersey—W. Johnson, 2d do, C. C. Wilcox; grade, W. I. Carrier; 3 years old and 2d do, C. C. Wilcox; grade, Geo. Kellogg; 2d do, J. H. Langdon. Alderney—1st and 2d do, C.C. Wilcox. Holderness grade, 3 years old, T. Welling. Hereford and 2d do, grade and 3 years old N. Gardner. Five dairy cows Jerseys, C. C. Wilcox; Holsteins, A. G. Morse.

CLASS 4—HEIFERS.

Devon—2 years old, grade, 1 year old and calf, N. Gardner. Ayrshere—Grade, 2 years old and 2d do, V. V. Vant; 1 year old, W I. Carrier; grade 1 year, V. V. Vant; 2d do, Z. B. Austin; calf, W. I. Carrier; do grade, W. I. Carrier. Jersey—2 years old, C. C. Wilcox; grade, W. Stewart; 2d do C. C. Wilcox; 1 year old, W. I. Carrier; grade H. Somers; calf, G. F. Spafford; grade, Chas. Brenning; 2d do J. H. Langdon; 5 grade yearlings, C. C. Wilcox. Alderney—2 years old, C. C. Wilcox. Hereford—grade and 2 years old, N. Gardner; Holderness Grade—2 years old T. Welling; 2d do H. Brackett; do 1 yr old T. Welling; 2d H. Brackett; calf and 2d do, H. Brackett. Native—2 years old, Willie Dada; 2d do, A. J. Rogers; 1 year old, C. Stewart; 2d do Z. B. Austin. Durham—2 years old, F. Lamson; 2d do, F. Moore; grade, two years old W. I. Carrier; 2d do, F. Moore; Durham 1 year old, N. H. Haviland, 2d do, J. E. Cain; grade, 1 year old, F. Moore; 2d do, S. A. Williams. Holstein—2 years old, J. Gardenier; 2d do, C. F. Corey; do grade, A. G. Morse; 2d do, N. H. Haviland; 1 year old B. Worden; 2d do J. Gardenier; do grade L. B. Babcock; 2d do, L. Coats; calf and 2d do J. Gardenier.

CLASS 5—FAT CATTLE, SHEEP AND SWINE.

Fat ox, W. M. Wallace; 2d do, W. M. Wallace. Fat cow, W. I. Carrier; 2d do, N. Gardner. Fat steer, L. Shaff. Fat sheep, F. Moore; 2d do L. Shaff; 2d do, L. Coats. Fat hog, L. B. Babcock; 2d do, J. Rogers. 5 fat sheep, F. Moore, 2d do, S. H. Wright.

CLASS 6—STALLIONS.

Norman Percheron—4 years old and over, L. Lewis; 2d do, Geo. Rhodes; ¾ blood, P. Tracy; ½ blood, W. W. Loomis; ½ blood 2 years old, J. H. and G. Baldwin. Road—4 years old or over, Thompson & Shoecraft; 2d do, W. S. Names; 2 years old, H. Althouse; 2 years old R. M. Sharra; over 4 years old, discretionary, B. H. Arthur. Shetland stallion—3 years old, Job Fones. General purposes—4 years old or over, M. A. Thompson; 2d do, C. Goodfellow; 2 years old, A. Palmer; 2d do, E. Robinson. Discretionary—4 years old or over, E. Robinson; A. Palmer; E. Maxon. Brood mare and three of her productions, V. V. Vant; 2d do, G. Palow.

CLASS 7—MARES AND COLTS.

Brood mare, road, A. G. Morse; 2d do Ira Pease. Brood mare, draft, R. M. Smith; 2d do, J. C. Fuller. Sucking horse colt, road, D. Davis; 2d do, C. G. Jones; horse colt draft, E. Robinson; 2d do, J. Farnham; mare colt, road, A. G. Morse; 2d do, J. Seymour; mare colt, draft, Ira Pease; 2d do, Wm. Lamphere.

CLASS 8—COLTS 3 AND 4 YEARS OLD.

Pr geldings 4 years old, D. D. Wells; pr mares 4 years old, J. B. Wadsworth. Pr gelding mares 3 years old, draft, F. Chase; do road, R. Tyler. Pr mares 3 years old, E. Lampman. Single gelding 4 years old, draft, W. R. Cox; do road, A. G. Morse; 2d do, W. A. Palmer; single mare 4 years old, draft, W. R. Cox; 2d road, F. A. Gage; 2d do Arthur Jenkins. Single gelding 3 years old, draft P. Bartlett; do road, George Summerville; 2d do, F. E. Perkins; single mare 3 years old, draft, Geo. Margary; do road, W. C. Rogers; 2d do, Mrs. A. N. Beadle. Single gelding [illegible] F. R. Loftis.

CLASS 9—SINGLE COLTS.

Gelding 2 years old, E. J. Kingsbury; 2 do J. Barnes; do draft, J. Rogers; 2d do P. Bartlett; mare 2 years old, C. Owen; 2d do, L. B. Babcock; do draft, F. Clark; do gelding, L. Pease. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

CLASS 16—POULTRY.

Pekin ducks, L. B. Babcock; 2d do, T. O'Brien; Brown Leghorn, F. A. Lamson; 2d do, L. B. Babcock; Black Java, C. [illegible]; Duckwing Game Bantams, C. Stewart; 2d do, Warner Miller; White Crested Black Polish, S. R. Baldwin; 2d do, E. H. Haviland; Poland Ducks, and chicks, [illegible] C. Clark; White Crested Black Polish (special) P. D. McIntyre; Brahmas, C. H. Lockwood; 2d do, S. H. Wright; do chicks, Guy Chase; Plymouth Rocks, F. A. Lamson; 2d do, C. H. Lockwood; Muscovey ducks, C. H. Lockwood; White Crested Black Polish, D. M. Cox; 2d do, S. A. Graves; Light Brahmas, F. A. Lawson; 2d do, M. Watson; White Leghorn, M. Watson; 2d do, W. Matteson; Pekin ducks, 2d do, Aylesbury ducks, M. Watson; Wayndottes, S. H. Gardner; Bronze turkeys, F. Marsh; Embden geese, Rouean ducks, Pile Game Bantams, F. A. Lamson; 2d do, Game Bantams, J. J. Forte; Seabright Bantams, T. Coles; Toulouse Geese, A. J. Rogers; American Domnicks and C Dorkings, N. Gardner; Black Spanish, Rumplers and Black Hamburg, N. Gardner; Native geese, S. A. Williams; White Bantams, E. Lampman; Brood do, Jamie Bristol; Wyandotte chicks, E. Lampman; Buff Cochin chicks and Light Brahma chicks, C. H. Lockwood; Red Jacket doves, Pouters, and Guinea Hen, J. Green; White Pekin ducks, J. Harvie; Wyandotte chicks, C. H. Lockwood; Plymouth Rocks, G. H. Wright; Light Brahmas and chicks, T. O'Brien; Pearl Guineas, F. A. Dawson; pr doves, A. Mason; coll do, Bert Candee; Silver Spangled Hamburg chicks, Plymouth Rock chicks and Brown Leghorn chicks, C. H. Lockwood; Derby Game, J. J. Forte; White Leghorn chicks, M. Watson; Partridge Cochins, C. Stewart; white and brown ferrets and tame mink, J. P. Sperbick; fox, Homer Marsh; ferrets, A. Bradford.

CLASS 17—PLANTS AND FLOWERS.

Ex. Foliage plants, Mrs. J. Burgess; 2d do, Mrs. J. E. Warner; coll'n plants in pots, J. E. Warner; coll'n Ferns, Mrs. M. E. Matson; 2d do, Mrs. W.F. Law; coll'n cut flowers Mrs. M. E. Matson; pair small bouquets, Mrs. W. A. Palmer; 2d do, Mrs. M. E. Matson; pair large bouquets, Mrs. M. E. Matson; 2d do, Mrs. W. A. Palmer; floral design, Gladiolas, Stocks, Phlox, Astors, Verbenas, Roses, Calandula and Dianthus pinks, Mrs. M. E. Matson; Zinnias, W. H. Woodcock; 2d do, Mrs. M. E. Matson; Dahlias, W. H. Woodcock; Sunflower, Mrs. W. F. Law; Leopard cactus and Sensitive plant, Mrs. C. L. Pratt; White Carnation, L. B. Babcock; Wax plant, J. H. Langdon; Tree Cactus, W. H. Henderson; Lemon tree, L. Hayes; Spotted Calla and Vinca, Mrs. J. E. Warner; Ice plant, Mrs. L. Candee; Pansies, Mrs. M. E. Matson; 2d do, L. Coats; Cypress tree, and Black Prince Fushia, W. H. Henderson.

CLASS 18—FRUITS AND WINES.

Coll'n apples, Dickinson Bros.; 2d do, G. O. Dunmas; 3d do, M. P. Pierce; R. I. greening, J. W. Bohannon; baldwins, M. P. Pierce; north'n spy, J. J. Forte; spitzenburgs, roxbury russett, Seek-no-further, porter, yellow bell flowers, Dickinson Bros.; talman sweet, Tompkins Co. king, lady, C. H. Lockwood; swar, Leroy Pease; golden russet, H. C. Randall; fall pippins, L. D. Beardsley; hubbard nonesuch, Ira Pease; coll'n pears, M. P. Pierce; 2d do, G. O. Dunmas; 3d do, C. H. Lockwood; bartlett, M. V. Connell; flemish beauty, seckle, G. O. Dunmas; dutchess, L. B. DeJersey; buerry de aujon, buerre charique, Lawrence buerre bosc, vargillien, brown beurre, M. P. Pierce; winter nellis, J. W. Bohannan; Buffum, J. J. Forte; quinces, Dickinson Bros.; 2d do, L. Candee; plums, Dickinson Bros.; 2d do, H. C. Randall; Lomberd plums, H. C. Randall; Orleans, G. O. Dunmas; bulmer Washington, M. V. Connell; German prunes, Dickinson Bros.; coll'n plums, Geo. H. Wright; bradshaw plums, W. Matteson; coll'n grapes, W. H. Woodcock; 2d do, Dickinson Bros.; 3d do, G. O. Dunmas; Delaware, Isabella, Concord, Cervaling, Martha and Brighton, Dickinson Bros.; Mary H. Stone; Worden, Hartford, Prolific and Moore's early, A. D. Stowell; Salem, G. O. Dunmas; Israella, Rebecca, Eumelan, W. H. Woodcock; Linsley, Ira Pease; Walter, H. Moss; wine of native grape, W. H. Woodcock; 2d do, Mrs. A. J. Thayer; strawberry and cherry wine, Mrs. L. Coats; crabapples, F. Foster, new variety apple, F. Foster; 4 varieties crab apples, Dickinson Bros.; branch worden grapes, Ira Pease; lovebile de congress, H. Moss.

CLASS 19.—VEGETABLES.

Collection vegetables, V. V. Vant; 2d do, Dickinson Bros.; 3d do, W. H. Woodcock; largest variety potatoes grown by one person, L. B. Babcock; do peppers, do melons, do beans, Dickinson Bros.; extra five varieties early potatoes, H. Sixbury; 2d do, V. V. Vant; five varieties late do, V. V. Vant; 2d do, H. Sixbury; Best new variety potatoes, G. H. Stone; celery, cauliflower, kohl rabi, carrots, parsnips, cucumbers, long red beets, redishes, water melons, musk melons, citrons, summer squashes, V. V. Vant; red cabbage, red onions, white onions, yellow onions, multipline onions, L. B. Babcock; table turnips, S. H. Wright; tomatoes, marrow squashes, turban do, Hubbard do, Butman do, Dickinson Bros.; largest squash, Dickinson Bros. 2d do, Fred Summerville; red turnip beets, L. Candee; large peppers, A. Bradford; sugar beets, V. V. Vant; 2d do, Ira P. Ives; 3d do, A. Bradford; six pumpkins, Mrs. W. F. Dan; largest do, H. Sixbury; lima beans, W. F. Ingell; egg plant, W. H. Woodcock, pearl of savoy, J. W. Bohannon; peanuts, G. H. Stone; pie pumpkin, Mrs. S. D. Gardner; Clarke No. 1, F. Lampson; stalk tall corn, H. Sixbury.

CLASS 20.—GRAIN, ETC.

White winter wheat, A. D. Perry; red do, A.D. Perry; 2d do, Dickinson Bros.; spring wheat, E. Conley; 2d do, Ira R. Carrier; winter rye, A. D. Perry; 2d do, L. B. Babcock; barley, A.D. Perry; 2d do, L. Sharp; oats, C. W. French; 2d do, A.D. Perry; peas, C. H. Lockwood; 2d do, L. Candee; sweet corn, G. O. Dunmas; 2d do, F. A. Lamson; braid yellow corn, A. Carr; 2d do, Cyrus Fisher; do white corn, A. Carr; white dent corn, F. Foster; white red glaze, F. A. Lamson; red corn, L. Candee; pop corn, Z. B. Austin; 2d do, J. Rigley; red rice pop corn, F. Foster; exhl. tobacco, L.D. Beardsley; exhl. hops, W. N. Osborne; exhl. Indian corn, W. Millier; grass seeds, etc., A. D. Perry and Dickinson Bros.

CLASS 21.—DAIRY PRODUCTS.

Five factory cheese, Cusack Bros.; 2d do, W.O. Walrath; do do colored, Cusack Bros.; firkin creamery butter, F. W. Palmer; 2d do, W. I. Carrier; butter private dairy, W. I. Carrier; 2d do, C. C. Wilcox; sample table butter, Mrs. W.O. Walrath; 2d do, F. J. Whitcomb; creamery butter (discretionary) W. O. Walrath.

CLASS 22.—DOMESTIC DEPARTMENT.

Rag carpet, C. Goodfellow; silk quilt, Mrs. J. Heath; pair quilts, Mrs. F. Dines; patch work quilt, Mary J. Slater; berlape rug, Mrs. C. L. Pratt; silk quilt, Mrs. Fred LaPorte; woolen stockings, socks, stocking yarn, dress and apron, Mrs. L. Coats; underwear flannel, Germantown rug, socks and yarn, Mrs. M. M. Jones; hand made shirt, Jennie Fenner; [illegible] rug and calico quilt, A. W. Laws; [illegible] pillow and Afghan, Amy Dean; [illegible] rug, [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

CLASS 24.—MACHINERY AND MANUFACTURED ARTICLES.

(In this class no premiums are offered, but mention is made of meritorious exhibitions.)

[illegible] W. H. Rannus; Pearline J. Pyle, horse hoe, cultivators and plows, H. D. Washburn; Wilson's cob creamery churn and butter worker, P. G. Shaffer; excelsior weather and storm strip, W. W. Wayman; farm wagons, R. K. Harris' sons; wall paper, window shades, and mechanical toys, Caleb Green; boots, shoes, and rubber goods, H. L. Hart; creamery churn and butter worker, J. S. Carter; wind mill, Van Wie and Lester; air heater, George H. Stone; Diamond water filter, S. R. Baldwin; stoves and tin ware, George Johnston; straw cutter and washing machine, S. L. Bragg; exhl. crockery, Merriam & Sibbit; hay loader, Wm. M. Bell; dog power, A. Bradford; stoves, Snow & Loomis; Walter A. Wood, harvester and binder; eureka mower, Wm. VanDuzen; rubber bucket chain pump, D. M. Mills; marble monument, etc., J.R. Blanchard; acme pulverizer, E. Fisher; combination fruit press, W. Matteson; land roller, A. Evarts & Son.; Davis sewing machine, H. C. Beals; exhibition laundry work, Ying Lee; Disk harrow, plow sulkey, and champion cultivator, Ward Southard; common sense washer, D. W. Fox; Osborne mowers, reaper and binder, A. W. Stoneburgh; rubber stamp, iron vice, R.O. Barnes; musical instruments, F. Schilling; Cliff & Righter bolster spring, S.O. Edwards; machine and hand made butter tubs, D. E. Mason; corn basket, O. Fox; coffee urn, John Beer; model wind mill and lever feed cutter, S. E. Lincoln; ex. dry goods, carpets, etc., T. Kingsford; clothing and furnishing goods, D. C. More; stoves, etc., J. J. Wright; toilet articles and fancy goods, M. M. Williams; dry goods, millinery, carpets, F. E. Bacon; crockery and glass ware, D. C. Draper; jewelry, W. P. Osborne; clothing, A. W. Palmer; fancy goods, etc., Ney & Allen; musical instruments, sewing machines, carriages, wagons, etc., A. Bristol; The tara gate, D. Slauson; boots and shoes, K. F. Salmon; jewelry, D. J. Freese, Howe Ventilating Stove, The Howe Ventilating Stove Company.

CLASS 25.—LADIES DEPARTMENT.

Crotchet cape, Mrs. J. Heath; shirt, night dress, drawers, underwaist, pillow shams and underclothes, Mrs. F. W. Gardner; embroidery and ribbon work, Amy Dann; pillow sham, skirt, napkin and scissors holder, Mrs. J. Heath; tidy, handkerchief and lace work, Mrs. C. L. Pratt; tidy, Mrs. L. Coats; pillow shams and foot rest, Mrs. M. M. Jones; mats and ottman, Mrs. F. W. Gardner; table cover, rugs, stand cover, splasher tray cloth and platter cloth, Mary Merriam; stand scarf, rug, drapery, handkerchief, tray cloth, embroidery, skirt and towel, M.V. Connell; Japanese banner, Jenny Harrison; child's dress, F. Dines; embroidered key board, photograph case, drape for mantle and brackett, Mrs. A. J. Thayer; tidy and samples coloring, Mrs. H. D. Perry; fancy wall paper, lace dress and cape, Mrs. Rust; cuckadoo, crazy work tidy, pillow cover and lace, Mrs. Charlotte Peck; hanging basket and brockett, Mrs. A. D. Perry; embroidered apron, Anna Breed; handkerchief, pannel and table spread, Kittie Breed; platter cloth, scarf lambrequin, rug and cake doyle, C. B. Salmon; tidy, Phœbe Fairchild; lambrequin, Mrs. Geo. Thomas; crotchet boots, Mrs. W. F. VanDevers; shoulder cape, Mrs. O. D. Gardner; pillow and sheet shamps, Mrs. W. F. VanDevers; embroidered table scarf and lamp mat, Jessie Burt; piano spread, Mrs. A. T. Loomis; sofa spread, tidy, night dress, Miss A. Morton; lamberquin and scarf, Mrs. H. D. Schenck; night dress, drawers, chemise, underwaist, tidy and sofa pillow, Amy Rogers; tidy, Mrs. L. Sharp; crotchet work and tidy, Mrs. H. Beardsley; net dress, lamberquin, and pin cushion, Mrs. W. F. Ingall; afghan, Mrs. A. R. Ney; sham, splasher and lamp mat, Addie Summerville; quilt, sofa pillow, panel and paper rack, Ada F. Thayer; hand made lace and fancy boots, Miss L. Candee; crotchet edging, M. A. Law; splasher, tidy, lamberquin and banner, Mrs. D. Shattuck; pillow scarf and table spread, Mrs. J. H. Case; plush placque and shawl, Mrs. J. Heath; silk quilt, Mary Butler; tidy, Mrs. L. E. Pease; pillow sham and patchwork silk quilt, Mrs. C.A. Witherby; knit shirt, Mary Hines; machine made rag rug, plush sofa pillow, Mattie Wright; embroidered flannel shirt, set table doylies, handkerchief case, lace tidy, E. G. Adkins; crochet slipper, Miss A. Morton; tidy, D. A. Fuller; daisy tidy, Mrs. L. R. Howser; pillow cases, Addie Summerville; edgings, night socks and tidy, Mrs. C. M. Seeley; towels, Ada Summerville; knit rug and bed spread, A. Williams; banner and lunch cloth, Mrs. A. Putnam; embroidered pannel and banner, Mrs. Ida Kirk; inft's bk't, pillow sham and tidy, W. Welling; kensington embroidery, Mrs. O. J. Jennings.

CLASS 26.—ARTISTS DEPARTMENT.

Oil paintings; portrait, Hattie Edgerton; landscape, Mrs. S. Chaffee; 2d do, Hattie Edgerton; animal, Hattie Edgerton; fruit, Miss E. Morton; flowers, Mrs. F. Chaffee; 2d do, Hattie Edgerton; placque, Hattie Edgerton; pencil drawing, Anna Burt; India ink pen drawings, D. A. Fuller; ivory type portrait, D. A. Fuller; pho'ghs, W. R. Nesbitt; 2d do, J. K. Nagle; oil painting, Clara A. Childs; worsted wreaths, A. W. Laws; frescoe pictures, Mrs. Charlotte Fennie; hand painted placques and tambourine, Jennie Edgerton; picture, Kittie Breed; crayon charts, C. B. Salmon; painted banner and table scarf, Mrs. A. R. Ney; painted toilet set, kensington picture, A. R. Ney; boquet paper flowers, Mrs. John Bristol; painted placque, Mrs. Mary Butler; decorated jugs, birds of paradise and painting, Mrs. O. J. Jennings; pencil drawing, Mrs. F. B. Pease; autumn leaves, Mrs. W. F. Laws; boquet, A. D. Perry.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Hive bees, C. Dines; ex. coral and scroll work, Mrs. L. Sharp; cup and pearl shells, Mrs. L. Candee; horse made of flowers, Mrs. L. Coats; stuffed owl, H. Butler; card album, Ella Summerville; lamp shade, Mrs. A. Putnam; decorated horns and brackets work, bed stead, S. P. Howard; snake and eggs, C. Owen; alligator, Jamie Bristol; goat, Fred LaPurte; 2d do, Floyd Haviland; 3d do, J. Sperbeck.

Women with pale colorless faces who feel weak and discouraged, will receive both mental and bodily vigor by using Carter's Iron Pills, which are made for the blood, nerves and complexion.

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing.

with neatness and despatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CARDS, CIRCULARS,
[illegible]

[illegible] Sales 19,651 boxes [illegible] total 11,978 boxes. Ruling price 11c. [illegible] ruling price 9½c; two years ago 9,786 boxes. Ruling price 11c; three years ago 11,221 boxes, ruling 10½c.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

Little Falls, Sept. 27.

Cheese—Unless fine September cheese is good property, some of our dealers to-day have made mistakes, for we find that three lots sold at 12c. This is exactly one cent above the highest price paid here last week, and many of our best informed men cannot see how it will be possible to realize on the cheese at that price. If the condition of the market warrants such figures, surely dairymen are to be congratulated, and those buyers who have strictly fine goods at 11¾ cents have reason to congratulate themselves. The extreme price was paid at the last moment. So far as we can learn, the shipment this week will be almost wholly of September make, there being but few of Augusts included in the sales. The following table shows the transactions:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
1	68	11 cents
40	2,712	11¼cents
50	2,897	11½cents
1	132	11¾cents
4	415	11⅞cents
3	209	12 cents
14	906	com.
122	8,269
Farm dairy	862
Total	9,131

The prices of farm dairy cheese ranged from 10¼ to 11¾c; but one lot bringing the latter price and the bulk selling at 11¼c.

Butter—The sales of butter amount to 73 packages dairy at 23 to 25 cents, bulk 25c. and 34 packages of creamery at 25 to 27c, bulk at 26c.

AT FULTON.

Eighteen factories were represented at this market on Monday evening and less than 1,500 boxes were sold. They brought generally 11 cents, a few were sold at 11⅛ cents.

NEW COAL FIRM.
REMEMBER THAT HART & CULLEN ARE SELLING THE
Wilkesbarre and Pittston Coal.
THE BEST COAL MINED.
Leave Orders at Hart's Pottery, or Cullen's Meat Market and you will find prices very satisfactory.
Coal Delivered in Fulton or Oswego Falls.
21m3

Scranton Coal!
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,
Promptly Delivered!
At the Following Prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

INSURANCE SOLICITORS
New working Fire, Life, Industrial or Assessment Insurance, and other solicitors who desire to better themselves, can secure profitable engagements with N. Y. State Relief Association. Large commission and interest in renewals; also premium asked for satisfactory work. Address J. E. ALLANSON, Sec'y., 44 State Street, Albany, N.Y
14w2

SCHOOL OF SHORT HAND
—AND—
TYPE WRITING.
CLASSES DAY AND EVENING.
Lessons by Mail a Specialty.
Terms Moderate, For further particulars apply to Miss Mattie G. Ham,
65 and 67 Weiting Block,
18m3 Syracuse, N. Y.

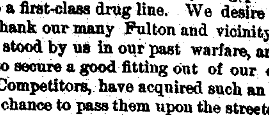
ADVERTISERS by addressing GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., New York, can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of ADVERTISING in American Newspapers. 100 page pamphlet, 10cts.

OUR BABY'S FIRST YEAR, by Marion Harland, also containing much valuable information. 48 page book. Sent on receipt of 2-cent stamp by Reed and Carnrick, Mercantile Exchange Building, N. Y.

3,000 AGENTS WANTED for the NEW WORK.
GLADSTONE—PARNELL
AND THE GREAT IRISH STRUGGLE.
By the eminent author, Hon. T. P. O'Connor, M. P. for Liverpool, and R. M. McWade, Esq. Endorsed by Hon. C. S. Parnell. A thrilling history of Irish oppression and the mighty struggle for Home Rule that is rocking the British Empire to its centre; also Biographies of the leaders. An entirely new work from high authority, of all-absorbing interest, richly illustrated, and an immense demand. Apply quickly to
W. A. HOUGHTON & CO.,
12 East 14th St., New York.

The Sun.
The Best Newspaper in America, and by far the Most Readable.
Agents wanted everywhere to earn money in distributing the Sun's Premiums.
The most interesting and advantageous offers ever made by any Newspaper.
[illegible]

We still live and [illegible]. The very disastrous effect of the Oswego county druggists' combination, upon our diet during the past year, seemed so apparent that upon consulting our bank account, and Wilcox's meat scales, we find ourselves yet, quite a ghost. The big guns of the Oswego county drug combination for the prevention of cruelty to fish, are still aimed at our council. Our diet of corn meal and onions enables us to still step heavily upon the necks of the Oswego county poor man's friends. We still hold forth at the beautiful opera house drug store and have increased our stock of Pure Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Wines, Liquors, Fancy Toilet Articles, Oils, Paints, and in fact everything pertaining to a first-class drug line. We desire to sincerely thank our many Fulton and vicinity friends who have stood by us in our past warfare, and thereby enabled us to secure a good fitting out of our clothes. Our Combination Competitors, have acquired such an affection for us that when we chance to pass them upon the streets, they greet us with the following smiling expression:



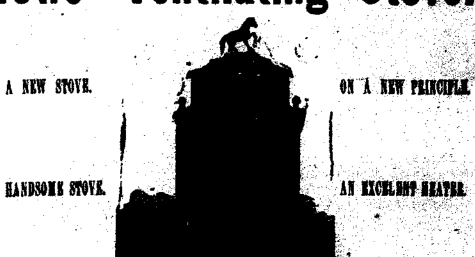
Remember our place, The Opera House Drug Store, Opposite the Stephens Opera House, Fulton, N. Y. H. C. GIESLER.

—CALL ON—
GEORGE JOHNSTON,
On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of
STOVES AND RANGES,
Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,	THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
ART UNIVERSAL,	GRAND UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,	HAPPY THOUGHT,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,	HAPPY HOME,
and ACORN,	and DUCHESS
Parlor Stoves.	Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the
Howe Ventilating Stove,
which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.
Yours Respectfully,
GEO. JOHNSTON

—THE—
Howe Ventilating Stove.



A NEW STOVE.
ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE.
AN EXCELENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE.
A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE
Howe Ventilating Stove Company, Fulton, N. Y.
F.G. [illegible], President.
E. R. [illegible], Vice-President.
Alson [illegible], Sec'y & Treas.
E.L. [illegible], Gen. Manager.
GEO. JOHNSTON [illegible]
FULTON, N. Y.

[illegible] a. m., and 6:15 p. m., [illegible] [illegible] attached to night express for [illegible] and Philadelphia.

[illegible], Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:18 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m.
Norwich Express	3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:24 a. m
Oswego Express	11:27 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	6:37 p.m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:21	2:16	5:31
For Oswego,	9:19	12:54	3:24	6:29

☞Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 5 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS.

Rev. W. F. Markham is in town to-day.

Dr. John Stephens of Washington, D. C., is in town.

Miss Florence Markham has been in town visiting friends.

C. W. Streeter has been in attendance at the state fair at Utica.

Mrs. Frank Brown of Sandy Creek is visiting relatives in town.

Brother Bennett of the Patriot attended the state fair at Utica.

Dana C. Highriter left last Friday to attend the Baltimore medical college.

Mrs. Robert Scott of Baldwinsville, was in town last week visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Connell of Baldwinsville, visited friends here last week.

Chief Warsop of the Oswego fire department was in town last Wednesday.

Frank Holden formerly of Fulton, but now of Buffalo was in town last week.

John Mahon of Wichita, Kan., formerly of this village, is visiting friends in town.

Miss Libbie Osgood leaves to-day for a few week's visit with friends in St. Louis, Mo.

A. Rosenbloom is in New York this week making extensive purchases for the fall trade.

Job Bennett of the "Bee Hive" is in New York this week making purchases for the fall trade.

Mrs. C. K. Howe left Monday for a visit of three or four weeks with friends in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mrs. A. K. Ney went last week to Boston and other eastern localities, to be absent a few weeks.

Miss Ella Graham of Buffalo is the guest of her grandfather, A. Q. Huginin at Lower Oswego Fall.

Mrs. W. A. Warner, of Syracuse, is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Carner.

Mrs. M. A. Clark of Buffalo formerly of Fulton, is visiting friends and relatives in Fulton and Palermo.

Mrs. E. C. Smith and her daughters, Jessie and Stella, of Chenango Forks are in town the guests of Mrs. D. C. More.

A. E. Moore, special agent of the Hamburg-Bremen Fire Insurance Company of New York, was in town yesterday.

Mrs. Helen Harmon, accompanied by her daughter and her daughter's husband, of Paris, are guests of S. N. Kenyon.

The venerable Norman Rowe of New Haven, father of Mrs. Dr. Lee, has been visiting his daughter at her home on Oneida street.

Our old townsman, Samuel Green, left Fulton last evening for New York. He sails to-morrow for London, his old home, where he will remain for a few week.

Miss Matie Mitchael and Alice Glynn of Oswego, and the Misses Anderson of Phoenix, have been spending a few days in town the guests of Miss Kittie McDonald.

Mrs. H. P. Pond and Mrs. C. Williams, who have been in town for a short time the guests of D. W. Gardner, returned to their home in Andover, Mass., this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Cooper of Lansing, Mich., have been in town visiting old friends. Mr. Cooper is the Michigan state agent for the Fireman's Fund Ins. Co. of California.

Dr. Hall of Syracuse, formerly of Fulton, was in the city on Saturday called in consultation in the case of Mrs. Tucker, mother of Mrs. Swits Conde, who is suffering from a fracture of the hip.—[Oswego Times-Express, Monday.

G. M. D.

Walking down Broadway is very pleasant when you feel well, and T—— K—— never felt better than when his friend asked him how he got over that cough of his so speedily. "Ah, my boy," said T——, G. M. D. did it!" And his friend wondered what G. M. D. meant. He knew it did not mean a Good Many Doctors, for T—— K—— had tried a dozen in vain. "I have it," said he, just hitting the nail on the head, "you mean Dr. Pearce's Golden Medical Discovery, or Gold Medal Deserved as my friend J—— S—— always dubs it." Sold by druggists.

Dancing School.

Parties wishing to take lessons in dancing, please leave their names at J. C. [illegible] crockery store, before the first of October. 19tf

[illegible] a few days longer, [illegible] will [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] of his [illegible] and [illegible] for municipal reform. His church membership is largely composed of the working class and this may account for his sympathies. I have often heard him speak, and he is courageous enough to say, notwithstanding his clerical relation, that he esteems Mr. George as his friend and believes thoroughly in the principles of which this man is the chief exponent. I have in some previous letter referred to the possibilities of Mr. George's success. Then he was not fully before the public as a candidate. Then, too, the laboring classes were looking with some degree of favor on Col. Coogan who offered as a special inducement a large sum of money. Now, however, that Mr. George is nominated the fact mentioned above shows how strongly his writings are affecting the people. This clergyman is a leading man in his church—he enjoys the confidence of a great many strong, influential men. Two years ago when the present Mayor was running, this clergyman was a strong Grace man and no doubt this influence helps to the general result. I venture the prediction that the labor societies will accomplish one thing and that very important, too. It will compel the other parties to bring forward their strongest men—men of wealth and sterling integrity. It is only possible that Mr. George will be successful, but his voting strength will I think, surprise the most astute of our local politcians.

Let me give you a list of possible candidates. Cornelius Vanderbilt, W. W. Astor and Levi P. Morton because they have plenty of money. Elihu Root, L. M. Bates—the first because he is and always has been a bitter partizan, and the second, because he got counted out a long while ago. The next Mayor will have absolute power of appointment. That is the reason why no mistakes are expected to be made this year.

I remarked in a previous letter that to be a successful collector of customs the incumbent must be a politician. Since 1860 the collector of this city has been either a merchant or a lawyer, the former knowing nothing else but trade—the latter, appointed solely as a reward for party services. The first has been a success; the other a failure. In applying this opinion to Mr. Magone there is no reason for change. Republicans who filled the various positions expected immunity from removal under the civil service. They have been greatly mistaken. The chief reason for Mr. Hudden's removal lay in the fact that he did not know how to remove legally and Mr. Magone does; The excuses for removals are very frivulous, but they hold good. The civil service examinations continue to be held. It is not difficult to find the right kind of a man from a party stand point from among those examined to fill the vacancy.

⁂

In the educational circles, considerable excitement arises over the election of a Secretary to the Board of School Commissioners. It is a place that pays $7,500 a year and the applicants are numerous. The duties are onerous. The most prominent candidate is Tom. Connery who formerly acted as editor-in-chief of the Herald and afterwards of the Telegram. The opposition to him seems to be on the ground of his religion. He is a Catholic and the friends of the public school system are fearful. Mr. Connery has taken strong ground in their favor and has written much on this subject in the editorial columns of the papers of which he has had charge. I have an opinion that the real fact is he is the candidate of Mayor Grace and the election means a trials of the Mayor's strength in the Board.

⁂

Claimants for property are constantly appealing to the courts for aid. The Trinity corporation has from time to time been troubled by the heirs of Anneke Jans Bogardus. The latest is a sort of stock company under the guidance of a Mrs. Wallace who has, it is claimed, abundant proof of kinship. She is after the Trinity property tooth and nail. This reminds me that a Pennsylvania clergyman has a claim against the Harlem meadows, a section of the city on the east side, between 80th and 100th streets. Then, too, an Irish resident of New York in the years of colonial rule leased a tract of land to the British crown. When the independence was declared, this lease passed to the state government. Now these various heirs are pressing for their rights. It is slow work and involves great expense to say nothing of the tendency to falsify the records, a charge which by the way has been laid to the doors of virtuous old Trinity.

⁂

A huge clock is attracting attention. Its intention is purely advertising. On Broadway near 23d street on the dead wall of a large building, a clock face more than 25 feet in diameter has been painted. Over this great face, the hands revolve. It advertises an electrical clock company and is, perhaps the largest clock in the country. Time regulation by electricity, is no new thing—this, however, is the greatest ever attempted. The clocks on the Elevated R. R. are electrically connected. The time ball on the Western Union building has become an absolute necessity. It is now a common sight on Broadway anywhere near the building about noon to see business men with their heads upraised and watches out observing the ball fall. It is connected with the Washington observatory and gives absolute time.

Wampum.

We accidentally overheard the following dialogue on the street yesterday. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] the factory and very cheap, at A. E. NETTLETON'S.

The leaves begin to drop, and the trees will soon be stripped of their foliage.

Rev. Mr. Earle of Oswego preached at the Universalist church last Sunday.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the new coal firm of Hart & Cullen.

V. Vant displayed the largest and best collection of vegetables at the fair. They covered sixty feet of space and were four shelves high.

The 14th annual fair of the Industrial Association of Northwestern Onondaga county opened at Baldwinsville yesterday and continues until Friday night.

The first meeting of the C. L. S. C. of Lower Oswego Falls will be held at the home of Mrs. Swan next Friday evening. All who are interested are invited to attend.

Rev. Charles Hudson Smith formerly pastor the Presbyerian church in this village, will preach at the First Presbyterian church in Oswego next Sunday.

The Times-Express states that Mrs. G. H. Stone was the only exhibitor of the town of Scriba at the recent Oswego Falls fair. She exhibited a fine lot of grapes, pears and apples.

We have received a sample cluster of the Wilcox seedling grapes. They are as large as any we have seen and have a sweet pleasant taste. They were raised in J. L. Wilcox's farm in Granby.

R. E. Phillips received last week from the Thousand Islands a pleasure row boat, which will be one of the nicest on the river. It is twenty feet long by about four feet wide and is a beauty.

The Republicans of Oswego county have nominated for Justice of Sessions, W. H. Halladay; Special Surrogate, Lewis W. Baker; County Treasurer, Thomas Moore, and Coroners, Drs. G. W. Nelson and E. J. Drury.

Rev. Dr. Tully preached his last sermon at the First Presbyterian church, Oswego, last Sunday evening and has departed to his new field of labor at Media, Pa. Dr. Tully has been pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Oswego for fourteen years.

Hon. Newton W. Nutting of Oswego was nominated as candidate for representative in congress of the 27th district at Lyons, yesterday. An informal ballot resulted in giving 23 votes for Mr. Nutting and 13 votes for Sereno E. Payne of Auburn. The nomination of Mr. Nutting was then made unanimous.

We desire to call attention to the advertisement of Nagle, the artistic photographer, of Oswego, which is to be found in another column. Mr. Nagle has an established reputation and his work is unexcelled in this part of the state. His offer only holds good for two weeks, beginning with next Monday.

Rev. Mr. Griffith of the Methodist Protestant Welsh church in Utica preached at the Methodist church last Sunday morning. Mr. Griffith's church in Utica is the only Methodist Welsh church in this country and is receiving assistance from Methodist churches to build a new edifice. On Sunday about $75 was raised.

Post Schenck, No. 271, G. A. R. of this village, will attend and take part in the parade and review at Baldwinsville next Friday. They will be the guests of Moses Summers Post of that village. They will leave on the 11:22 a. m. train Friday. Trip tickets are furnished free to members of the post.

Dr. Northrup is lecturing this afternoon on "The Memory and How to Train It." The public schools are closed to enable the scholars and teachers to attend. This evening the lecture will be "The Village; Its needs and Posibilities." Everyone is invited and expected to attend. This lecture may be the starting point of many much needed improvements in our village.

Brown. Blue. Red.

Brown Day Oct. 12. Blue Day Oct. 14.
Red Day Oct. 16.
—AT—
F. E. BACON'S
Dry Goods, Carpets and Millinery Stores.
In place of our general Opening Day we will introduce a new feature by displaying Brown Goods of all kinds on Tuesday,
October 12,
From Brown Silks to Brown Wool Goods,
Brown Crash to Brown Cotton, Brown
Hose to Brown Ribbons. Everything in Brown with Combination.
Blue Day on Thursday, Oct. 14.
All articles in Blue will then be shown.
Red Day, Saturday Oct., 16, when we will bring out the Red in all shades and all kinds!
Brown, Blue and Red it shall be.
We Invite Everyone to Come.
F. E. BACON.

D. C. More & Co. have an immense stock of Boys' Clothing at the lowest prices ever heard of.

FOR SALE.

The Coats residence on the North side of Rochester street between Second and Third. For terms enquire on the premises. 21t8

Try India Pale Ale. It is the best. To be had at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 15tf

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter jars, Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots, &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by 18tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

Just received [illegible]

Whiskey the Cause of It.

Mrs. Darwin Bidwell of Hannibal was sitting in her wagon on First street last Wednesday afternoon, when a man considerably under the influence of liquor carelessly run his wagon into the one in which Mrs. Bidwell was sitting, overturning it and throwing her violently to the ground. She was assisted into Watson's drug store when it was found that she was badly bruised but not seriously injured. Mr. Bidwell and others started in pursuit of the drunken man, who in a stupefied manner drove on not waiting to ascertain the amount of the damage he had done. He was captured near Pearman's machine shop and brought back, but released on promise of making good any damage done.

Gamblers Arrested.

District Attorney Mead, Sheriff Beadle and Deputy Sheriff Poole made a raid on the gamblers at the Oswego Falls fair on Thursday capturing a Wheel of Fortune and $4.50 in money and arresting two persons connected with the wheel. They were given an examination before Police Justice VanWagenen and the person managing the wheel was held on $500 bail to appear before the grand jury in October. The other man was discharged by showing that he was only a looker on at the game. The news of the arrest spread quickly and when the officers returned for more game, there was none to be found.

Fulton & Oswego Falls Street Railway.

At a meeting of the stockholders of this company held at Fulton, N. Y. on the 21st day of September, 1886, the following named gentleman were elected directors of the company for the ensuing year: Joseph Walker, Joseph Walker jr., N. N. Stranahan, E. Z. Penfield, Chas. Lyman; R. Bradshaw, Henry Altman. At a meeting of the Board of Directors held Monday, Sept. 27 1886, the former officers of the company were unamiously re-elected.

CHAS. LYMAN, Sec'y.

Reception.

A reception by Hiram lodge No. 144 to Oswego lodge No. 127 F. & A. M. will be given at Masonic hall, Fulton, N. Y. on Wednesday evening, October 6th, 1886. When the third degree will be conferred, after which refreshments will be served. All master Masons in good and regular standing sojourning among us, are hereby cordially and fraternally invited to participate with us on this occasion.

BY ORDER OF COM.

If You Want to Know.

Why you continue to suffer from various "ills that flesh is heir to," why your complaints remain obstinate in spite of efforts to cure by home doctors and patent medicines, you should consult a specialist in chronic diseases. Dr. Foote, of 120 Lexington avenue N. Y., has made a special study of them for thirty-five years, and he may be able to give you some points worth knowing. It will cost you only paper and postage to state your case, and get the opinion of a physician of large experience. Dr. Foote is the author of "Plain Home Talk and Medical Common Sense," of which the Rev. A. H. Bryant has written: "I am positively charmed with it; I have not met before with such a useful and valuable book as yours."

GOING THERE FOR BARGAINS.

Best Place in Syracuse.

The crowds have already commenced to go to the 4 C's for their winter stock of boys' and men's Clothing, Hats, Caps and furnishing goods. No such fine goods at any such low prices can be had of any other house in Central New York. Their men's medium weight Overcoats at $5.00 other houses charge $8.00 for; their splendid business suits at $5.00 for which other houses charge $8.00: their Cassimere Suits at $8.00 beats the world and at $10.00 and $12.00 they show suits which other houses can not sell less than $15.00. Wonderful bargains in light weight overcoats, and our line of elegant neckwear cannot be matched in this country. C. C. C. C., 20 East Genesee street, Syracuse, N. Y.

TO RENT.

Having sold my stock of harness and carriages, I offer my store to rent, also rooms suitable for offices on second floor and a large and commodious hall on third floor.

All accounts due me must be settled at once. WESLEY MCCULLY. 21t2

Especially low prices on children's school shoes for the next 30 days at Collins'

Go to Phillips' or Watson's drug store and get Dr. J. S. Markham's Spavin Cure and Founder Ointment—A sure cure. 20w2.

Special Prices For Carpets, Furniture &c.

A. A. Graff & Co., No's 61 & 63 South Salina Street, Syracuse, offer for the next 30 days, as a special bargain, 100 Parlor Suits embossed plush, solid walnut frame, 7 pieces for $35.00; 75 chamber suits, 10 pieces for $25.00; 50 pieces tapestry carpet 60c a yard and 70 pieces extra super ingrain carpet 50c a yard.

We will deliver all purchases freight, prepaid to any part of the state. Now is the time for Bargains.

Greatly reduced prices on all summer foot wear at Collins'.

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the Novelty Custom Mill, recently run by [illegible]

The stove trade is at its height.

The fall fairs are nearly all over.

Have you felt the Wiggins earthquake yet?

Several of our citizens have been in attendance at the state fair in Utica.

Rev. Mr. Earle will preach in the Universalist church next Sunday evening.

Mrs. Wm. Wallace of Sandy Creek received first prize at the state fair for butter in mold or rolls.

C. C. Marchant is closing out his stock of furniture and will move to Port Jervis, Orange county.

Summer is past and people in general are beginning to settle down for the winter.

W. G. Gage attended the Republican convention at Lyons yesterday as one of the delegates of the first Oswego district.

On last Sunday evening, Edward Terrell and Miss Julia Welsh were married at the Catholic church by Rev. Father Early.

The next meeting of the C. L. S. C. will be held at the home of Mrs. W. L. Woodbury on Monday evening, October 11th.

The annual meeting of the Hop Growers association will be held in Utica, Wednesday, October 13, morning and afternoon.

A lively fall trade is predicted and many of our merchants have been or now are in New York making extensive purchases.

C. P. Tucker secured a large quantity of the prize vegtables of the recent fair many of which are to be seen in front of his store.

Rev. Dempster W. Chase will deliver his lecture, "Want, Wealth, Worth" at the Methodist church in Lansing, next Friday evening.

Ying Lee, our enterprising Chinese laundryman has secured another native assistant and opened a branch laundry in Oswego Falls.

The village board hold their regular meeting to-night when it is expected that something definite will be done in regard to electric lights.

H. M. Hare wishes us to announce that his cider mill on the Whitaker road is now ready for business, and that he is prepared to receive apples.

Remember the free lecture at the opera house this evening by Dr. Northrup. Every progressive man and woman in Fulton should make an effort to attend.

The marriage of Mr. Fred A. Nelson and Miss Matie A. Randall is to take place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Nelson on Ontario street, to-morrow evening.

The contract for carrying the mails between Fulton, Oswego Falls, and the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad station has been awarded to John P. Howe.

The celebrated trotting mare, Kitefoot, will trot against a running horse at the Baldwinsville fair to-morrow afternoon, and against Whitefoot, a five year old mare with a record of 2:25 Friday afternoon.

Mrs. C. Williams, who was for several years a missionary at Constantinople, Turkey, entertained a number of her Fulton friends with a discription of her missionary life there, at the home of Mrs. Dr. Lee last Monday afternoon.

This afternoon at half past three the marriage of Mr. Starr F. Hill and Miss Hattie A. Patterson took place at the commodious residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Patterson, on Oneida street. A large number of invited guests were present from abroad, as well as friends in this village where the contracting parties are well and favorably known.

The Oswego papers announce that on Thursday last Amelia London of this place, was married to Geo. Sharp of Oswego by Rev. A. M. Roe. Having married her, Sharp as promptly deserted and went to Oswego. As he failed to return, Mrs. Sharp went to Oswego and invoked the assistance of the authorities. She was informed that her only course was to swear out a warrant for him in Fulton on the ground of abandonment.

The Temperance societies of this village and Oswego Falls are making active preparations for a great demonstration on Oct. 9th—the anniversary of the birth of Father Matthew. Invitations have been sent to many societies out of town and it is probable that many delegates will be present. The program as at present arranged includes a parade at 5:30 p. m., an address in the opera house by Rev. Father Early and a play by Oswego amateurs.

Buy your Fall Overcoat of D. C. MORE & CO.

Don't miss those bargains at Draper's in Table and Hanging Lamps, China Tea Setts, and those new style (Ribbon Chamber Suits) all new goods and new prices. Call and see. 19tf

J. Cooley Tucker has the sole agency for the celebrated granulated wheat, a food prepared from the best white winter wheat, unleavened, ready cooked for immediate use. It is the best food for invalids and children. As a diet for [illegible] it is invaluable. [illegible] in Health Bottles [illegible] 19tf [illegible] specimens of this stone and saw that it contained qualities not possessed by any brownstone now in the market. A representative was sent here and the right to work the quarry secured. The name of Granby Brownstone Co., was given and about six months ago work would was begun. The quarry is now equiped with all the modern improvements for doing work of this discription, consisting of steam channelers, steam drills, steam derricks, etc, etc. The number of men now employed is about 25 but the capacity of the machinery makes it equal to fully three times that number.

The stone that has been quarried previously in this locality is said to be a surface stone, of a clay formation and considerably impaired by its proximity to the river. The Granby Brownstone is remarkable for its beauty and uniformity of color, its fineness of texture, and ease in working. It is a purely sandstone and very dense, absorbing only one-tenth of one per cent of moisture. It is found in unlimited quantities, quarried in all sizes according to orders and sent to all points north, south, east and west. In spite of the fact that it has been for so short a time on the market there is a greater demand for it than can be supplied this season. We hear that orders have been received from New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Detroit, Syracuse, Cleveland and many other large cities. The facilities for shipment are very good as it is situated by the side of the D. L. & W. railroad a side track of which runs close to the quarry. Some days as many as six or eight car load are shipped. From present indications by next season they will have a capicity of 20 or 25 car loads per day.

OBITUARY.

Mr. Thomas Lomasney of the town of Granby, in this county, died Sept. 23d, after a long and lingering sickness. Mr. Lomasney was a resident of this county for more than forty years, in fact one of the oldest inhabitants, and the high esteem in whice he was held by his neighbors and acquaintances was attested by the large attendance at his funeral which took place last Saturday morning. A high mass requiem for the reposé of his soul, was celebrated the Rev. Father Early officiating. The Rev. gentlemen paid a very glowing and eloquent tribute to the memory of the deceased, holding him up as the true and typical husband and father, who in all his trials and tribulations was always the dutiful and practical Catholic, an honor to our holy faith—an honor to his family—an honor to the community in which he lived so long, and an honor to his God.

Mr. Lomasney was born in County Cork, Ireland, about 65 years ago and emigrated to this country when quite young, being one of the first Irish settlers in the town of Granby. He leaves a widow and nine children. Requiescat in pace.

Wm. M. Warren, who was injured by falling through a door in his barn recently, died on Saturday morning from the injuries received by the fall. Mr. Warren was nearly 74 years old and was a highly respected citizen of Oswego Town. Funeral services were held at the town line church on Sunday afternoon, and the remains interred in Rural cemetery, Oswego Centre.

Mr. Geo. Lanning died at his home in Volney last Thursday aged 92 years. His funeral occurred on Saturday.

J. Wiener until recently with thh C. C. C. C. Co. of Syracuse can now be found at M. Amdursky's, Fulton, N. Y. where he will be pleased to see his old friends. Give him a call. 21tf

Before you put a roof on that building, be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 21tf

Look at this line of
PARLOR STOVES!
WORLD'S JEWEL,
ART ROYAL,
RED CROSS.
GOLD COIN AND BEAVER.
The last two are ventilating
Stoves, and sold exclusively by
SNOW & LOOMIS.

GREAT SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.
Prices Below all Competition
On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.
IN DYE STUFFS
I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at
R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.
A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines [illegible]
[illegible]

Of warmer clothing in this changeable climate of ours is apparent to every one, but some people will neglect their personal comfort through a stress of business or for reasons of economy (so called), thus endangering health and possibly causing the necessity of a doctor's bill far in excess of what would be required to clothe them in health-protecting garments. The homely old sayings are again applicable "Penny wise and pound foolish," and "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." Don't be foolish but come at once and select a good warm winter suit and overcoat, and don't forget a good rubber overcoat to keep out the damps of this season of the year.

PEEBLES & COOK
Opposite Opera House.
CHILDREN'S CLOTHING A SPECIALTY.

PHOTOGRAPHS!
Elegant Cabinets for $1 a Dozen.

Beginning Oct. 4th and continuing until the 16th, inclusive, we will make Cabinet Photographs for $1.00 a dozen of any person over 10 years of age. These pictures are warranted not to fade and the material to be first class in every respect. Remember for 2 weeks only.

This will be the last chance of getting Cabinets for so little money.

These pictures are full length and no babies, groups or copies made at this price.

J. K. NAGLE & CO.
162 West 1st Street,
Oswego, N. Y.

THE TIMES' OFFERS!

$1.25 will give you one year's Subsciption to THE TIMES and Four months Subscription to the

DETROIT FREE PRESS

The most original, piquant and entertaining of American Newspapers. $1.25 will also give you one year's Subscription to

THE FULTON TIMES

and one year's Subscription to the

AMERICAN FARMER,

A Sixteen page Agricultural Magazine, which is rapidly taking rank as one of the leading Agricultural Publications of this country. The same offers to old Subscribers who pay subscription to date and one year in advance.

SUBSCRIBE! SUBSCRIBE.

Largest Stock!
Lowest Prices!
CLOTHING!
MEN'S UNDERWEAR.
OVERCOATS!
HATS AND CAPS.
Don't buy until you have seen our stock.
D. C. MORE & CO.
The Reliable One Price Dealers

... will be benefited by being ... pasture.

If a farm has a good place for geese, he may profit by raising them.

English journals condemn the use of sugar in butter.

American dairying has grown from small beginnings until there now 14,500-000 cows.

Let your onions grow until the tops fall, then pull them up. They should be allowed to become dry and be stored in a cool place.

A crop of buckwheat may be sown now. It will make excellent food for fowls, while the bees will secure late honey from the blossoms.

Every farmer should be supplied with a flock of guineas. They are prolific layers, the best protection against hawks and a sure exterminator of insects.

Farmers are getting out of the habit of washing sheep. It is dangerous to men and sheep, and unless the wool is very clean there is dirt enough in it to more than balance the difference in price.

In trimming trees always try to get one leader up straight allowing the branches to grow from it so as to avoid crotches, which sometimes split off from the trees when heavily loaded with fruit.

Sound potatoes dug in dry weather need little drying, and if it is required let it be in a dry, sandy place, where it is as cool as possible, and as soon as they are dry they should be stored in a cool, dry place. Potatoes should be handled carefully; rough handling is more or less injurious to them.

There are novelties of some kind offered to farmers every year. It may be a new grain, or fruit, or machine, or fence, or what not. It be well for the average farmer to fight shy of these novelties until he can have some assurance of their usefulness. The introducers are usually more or less prejudiced in favor of their debutantes, which is natural. But it is well enough to be skeptical of the alleged improvements.

The Strange Cow.

Some of our contemporaries are going over the old story about sentimental attachments of cows for their native homes, stating it as though it was a well authenticated fact, that when cows are brought into strange herds they rarely, if ever, do as well as they did at their own home. This is used as a strong argument in favor of raising the cow instead of buying her ready made. We always claimed to have a more than ordinary sentimental idea of the cow, and believe so far as her gentle treatment is concerned, she is entitled to all the kindness and even affectionate handling that can be bestowed upon her consistent with the good practical workings of the dairy. So far as beginners in the dairy are concerned, we warn them against too much of this far-fetched sentiment, old dairymen take it for what it is worth and pay no attention to it beyond the proper care with new comers to the herd. We once knew a cow to be killed by the herd even in the presence of the owner and several other men. The usual pushing that occurs when a new comer makes her appearance to settle the question of priority, became a fight and then a frenzy, that nothing but the death of the intruder could stop. This pushing exercise usually settles the priority question without any serious result, but at the same time no careful man will put a new comer, especially if young or in a weak condition, immediately in with the herd, unless it is in a large pasture with plenty of room for her to keep out of the way; a small stable lot would be quite dangerous. If left with one or two young heifers to keep her company for a few days, the average cow will settle down to her work, and before a week has passed she should be perfectly at home with the herd, and if the dairyman is a better manager than her last owner, she should do better at the pail. The trouble generally is that cows with extra reputations have been receiving extra care, and the man who bought her has not made due allowances for that care, but depending more upon her reputation than his management, he fails to get as good results out of her as he had expected. This fact, we believe, will generally explain the milk in the cocoanut, when cows fail in justifying their former reputations.—[American Dairyman.

Selecting Heifers.

Raising heifers sounds well in theory but breeding cattle is a separate art from dairying, and unless followed with great judgment is a losing business, as not every heifer raised becomes a first-class milch cow. The best plan is to buy heifers heavy with their first calves—called "springers;" and in this there is much more room for judgement and skill in making these than most men are willing to admit. The mistakes usually made is in being mislead by a fancy for certain shapes, colors and fashionable points, the neglect of others relating immediately to the usefulness of the matured cow.

The first point to consider is that the heifer is strong, with a deep flank, indicating constitutional vigor; then see that her teats are large and set wide apart. Viewed from behind the twist should be open and wide, with her rudimentary udder well displayed and teats far apart. As secondary and fancy points, a slim neck, and long head with small horns are good features. Above all things, avoid those heifers that show very small rudimentary teats, or those with large ones set close together. Such a heifer never can make a first-class cow. There are enough risks to run because of getting a good one, without starting out with those that never can [illegible] ...

... may be a thing or two ... know ... of which you, my son, may be ignorant. It is customary for the youths of to-day to sneer at us old fellows. I forgive you, my boy, for the discourtesy. I'll ascribe it as the frailties of youth. Things look bright to you of course. I know you are ambitious; but in that aiming business, remember a forty-five degree one is the safest. That is what the laws of projectiles tell us. Climb too high and you fall short of success.

To drop right on the bullseye of success, some where near the forty-fifth degree curve will effect the result. Then too my boy, there is lots of enthusiasm in your breast now. You are just graduated from the high school and I have some idea of how great your enthusiasm. The safest pressure for that is fifty pounds to the square inch. That's a safe working load for the average boiler. These fangled kind stand more, but you my boy, are about on a par with the rest of us, and don't try to carry your enthusiasm beyond a safe working pressure. It is fatal to explode—boilers sometimes do; take warning from their terrible results. That pressure will do the ordinary work of life. Don't push your faculty for work.

Again my son, you may just now be inclined to think that you are a little better than the rest of us. According to Holy Writ, we are all composed of dirt and hence all of us are more or less dirty. Don't imagine my boy, that you are an exception. I have heard of clean dirt, and by a judicious turning of the hose on yourself, I think you may reach that condition. By washing the sands of California river bottoms, they find gold. There may be a big nugget of gold in your make up my boy. Hose yourself thoroughly. The older you get the more you will feel the truth of these remarks. They are not expressed in elegant English. The metaphor may be a little mixed.

You may, perhaps, have a great facility of expression. Your high school training you think, enables you to talk better than these old fellows. They have told you of your great abilities. I heard you hurrah and shout patriotism at the close of your last term at school. In your mind's eye you had Webster for your model orator and Grant for your model soldier. These are praiseworthy things. They look nice and sound prettily on commencement day, but just now you are in search of bread and butter. This necessity of life will knock that sky high and your fine day dream will vanish. Labor, my son, is honorable. Better that you have the hard-hand of toil than the soft hand of idleness and insipidity.

Lastly, my son, they will tell you your wild oats must be sown. Sowing in the ordinary way takes years of practice. I remember I tried it once. The indulgent farmer remarked there was no question of my ability but my way was not profitable. So you my boy, will have a field very much streaked when the oats are grown. As a matter of economy the investment in a first-class drill of any approaved make will enable you to do this so-called necessary work after the most modern style.

But take the advice of an old farme; wild oats are not as profitable as the ordinary domesticated ones. Horses much prefer the latter. So you, if you must sow, obtain sufficient of these latter kind. This advice my boy, is, given to you in a spirit of kindness. My duty is done.

THE PROPER THING.

Gilt and silver braids are still used on blue gowns.

Chintz figures are printed on new silk stockings.

Velvet yokes will be worn in the fronts of new silk dresses.

The newest gowns require from six to ten yards of drapery alone.

Shepherd's plaids and invisible plaids are to be much worn this autumn.

The long, full bouffant black drapery is never omitted from tailor gowns.

The leading colors for autumn are blue, brown, green, dahlia and mulberry.

Black, brown, tan, dark blue and Russian green are the preferred colors for fall hats.

The new designs in braiding represent links of chain armor, fish scales, diamonds, trellis, etc.

The closer the resemblance to men's goods the more fashionable are the cheviots and tweeds.

Ladies' housekeeping aprons are made of fine lawn, and so full and long as to completely cover the skirts.

The postilion basque and trimmed skirt remain in favor for tailor gowns; polonaises will be used for stout figures.

Hats and turbans will correspond to the costumes with which they are worn. They are made of the dress materials.

The fancy for stripes is shown in tinsel embroidery on velvet to be used for crowns of bonnets, or for trimming or for the entire bonnet.

Astrakhan pompons two inches wide are set on cloths and velvets to be used for bonnets, or merely for the crown, with a brim of Astrakhan.

Alpaca is to be worn this fall and is much improved in texture. New colorings are a feature, and the goods drape much better than formerly.

Mottoes.

For a prizefighter: "He that is down need fear no fall."

For a seamstress: "Be what you seem to be."

For a Wall street speculator: "God tempers the wind to a shorn lamb."

For a messenger boy: "He who runs may read."

For a lover whose fiance has a glass eye: "With all thy false eye love thee still."

... and taste. On the occasion of the last of those remarkable musical entertainments given at Washington by Mlle. Nogueiras, daughter of the Portuguese Minister, Miss Nevins took the part of Paul in the opera of "Paul and Virginia." It is hardly necessary to say that a young lady in the upper circles of society did not dress the part as we have seen it dressed by that venerable vocal ruin, Mr. William Castle, but she looked pretty and graceful enough to account for all of Virginia's adoration, and she sang with a sweetness and accuracy that charmed all listeners. Her talent was universally recognized at Washington, where her other attractions made he a favored guest on every hand. Young Mr. Blaine has won a lovely bride, but the lyric stage has lost a brilliant ornament.—[New York Star.

The largest apartment house in the world is soon to be built in Chicago. It will be 318 by 213 feet, seven stories high, and will cost between $700,000 and $800,000.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

The world now uses 40,000 barrels of coal oil daily, and America has enough on hand to keep up the supply for three years.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

There are 561,800 pensioners now on the rolls, and the government has paid on that account nearly $1,000,000,000 since the close of the war.

Send for Pamphlet on Female Diseases mailed free, securely sealed. Dr. J. B Marchisi, Utica, N. Y. 20tf.

Virginia newspapers are calling on northern and western farmers to go down there and build up the state.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

They do not vaccinate women in Burmah, as they are not considered worth the trouble and expense.

Woman and Her Diseases.

is the title of an interesting illustrated treaties (160 pages) sent post-paid, for 10 cents in stamps. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Scientific men are beginning to discuss the sea serpent as a probable creature.

Dr. Marchisi's Italian Cough and Consumption Balm—guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Throat and Lung troubles. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cts. 20tf

President Cleveland is steadily gain in weight.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

W. W. Reed, of Winchester, Ind., writes: "One of my customers, Mrs. Louisa Pike, Bartonia, Randolph County Ind., was a long sufferer with Consumption, and was given up to die by her physicians. She heard of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption and began buying it of me. In six months time she walked to this city a distance of six miles, and is now so much improved that she has quit using it. She feels she owes her life to it." Free trial bottles at R. E. Phillips' drug store.

Cornell University has 750 students, 150 more than ever before.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed a night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 51y1

There are 725,000 more females that males in England.

$350 PER MONTH.—Salary and commission, to competent Manager for this City or State Agency. A splendid combination. Our AUTOMATIC GAS GOVERNORS save 33 per cent. in gas bills. Our Silver Gas Lights can be attached to any fixture, instantly changing the dull, sickly, yellow flame of any gas to a soft, mellow, luminous white increasing brilliancy 50 per cent. Over 8,000 in service. Address,
THE UNION NATIONAL GAS SAVING CO.
17m3 21 East 14th St., New York.

Real Estate and Insurance AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 35 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small ... houses and lots in Fulton ... on easy terms.

... C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

